(a) In state-owned and-leased buildings, community colleges, and public schools, all deficiencies of uniform fire safety standards shall be reported to the State Fire Marshal by the inspecting agencies, and said deficiencies shall be corrected within a reasonable period and within the budget limitation of the agency. All deficiencies which will require extensive renovation or sizable expenditures of moneys shall be reported to the Legislature by the responsible agency for its review and budgeting. Priority shall be given to the more serious deficiencies.

(b) The State Fire Marshal shall cause the uniform fire safety standards to be revised and republished as the need arises. He shall determine the method of distribution and may charge an amount not to exceed the amount reasonably calculated to cover the cost of production and distribution.

(c) This subsection shall apply to the establishment of uniform fire safety standards only and shall not affect the responsibility for conducting fire safety inspections or enforcing fire safety laws.

633.051 Procedures for adoption of regulations.—

(1) Said regulations authorized in s. 633.05 to be made and promulgated by the State Fire Marshal shall be such as are reasonably necessary for the protection of the health, welfare and safety of the public and of persons possessing, handling and using such materials and products, and shall be in substantial conformity with generally accepted standards of safety concerning such several subject matters. In the making and promulgation of such regulations, the State Fire Marshal shall give consideration to rules and standards of safety of reputable national institutes, organizations, or bureaus in relation to any of said materials and products, and which rules and standards have been adopted by such organizations as result of demonstrated credible experience.

(2) The provisions of this section and s. 633.05 are cumulative and shall not be construed as repealing or affecting any other law of this state particularly relating to the regulation of any of the materials or products described herein.

History.—s. 5, ch. 65-216; s. 3, ch. 67-78; ss. 10, 13, 35, ch. 69-106; ss. 2, 3, ch. 70-299; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

633.061 License or permit required of organizations and individuals servicing, recharging, repairing, testing, inspecting, or installing fire extinguishers and systems.—

(1) It shall be unlawful for any organization or individual to engage in the business of servicing, repairing, recharging, testing, inspecting, or installing any fire extinguisher or system in this state except in conformity with the provisions of this chapter. Each organization or individual engaging in such activity must be possessed of a valid and subsisting license issued by the State Fire Marshal. All fire extinguishers and systems required by the State Fire Marshal's rules and regulations must be serviced by an organization or individual licensed under the provisions of this chapter. A further requirement, in the case of multiple locations where such servicing or recharging is taking place, is that each licensee maintaining more than one place of business where actual work is carried on shall possess an additional license, as herein set forth, for each location. Licensees shall be limited as to specific type of work performed dependent upon the class of license held. Licenses and fees therefor are required for the following:

(a) Class A ..... $55
To service, recharge, repair, install, or inspect all types of fire extinguishers and systems, including recharging carbon dioxide units; and to conduct hydrostatic tests on all types of fire extinguishers, including carbon dioxide units.

(b) Class B ..... $45
To service, recharge, repair, install, or inspect all types of fire extinguishers and systems, including recharging carbon dioxide units and conducting hydrostatic tests on water, water chemical, and dry chemical types of extinguishers only.

(c) Class C ..... $40
To service, recharge, repair, install, or inspect all types of fire extinguishers and systems, except recharging carbon dioxide units; and to conduct hydrostatic tests of water, water chemical, and dry chemical types of fire extinguishers only.

(2) Each individual actually performing the work of servicing, recharging, repairing, installing, testing, or inspecting fire extinguishers and systems must be possessed of a valid and subsisting permit issued by the State Fire Marshal. Permittees shall be limited as to specific type of work performed dependent upon the class of permit held. Permits and fees therefor are required for the following:

(a) Class 1 ..... $5
Servicing, recharging, repairing, installing, or inspecting all types of fire extinguishers and systems, including carbon dioxide units, and conducting hydrostatic tests on all types of fire extinguishers, including carbon dioxide units.

(b) Class 2 ..... $5
Servicing, recharging, repairing, installing, or inspecting all types of fire extinguishers and systems, including carbon dioxide units, and conducting hydrostatic tests on water, water chemical, and dry chemical types of fire extinguishers only.

(c) Class 3 ..... $5
Servicing, recharging, repairing, installing, or inspecting all types of fire extinguishers and systems except recharging of carbon dioxide units; also conducting hydrostatic tests on water, water chemical, and dry chemical types of fire extinguishers only.

(3)(a) Said licenses and permits shall be issued by the State Fire Marshal for each license year beginning January 1 and expiring the following December 31. No permit shall be renewed after January 1, 1981, unless the permitholder has successfully completed a continuing education course for fire extinguisher technicians offered by the State Fire College or an equivalent course approved by the State Fire Marshal. The State Fire Marshal shall adopt rules providing a schedule which permitholders shall follow in completing such courses. Each permitholder shall successfully complete an additional continuing education course at least once in every 5-year period following successful completion of the initial continuing education course. The forms of such licenses and permits and applications therefor shall be prescribed by the State Fire Marshal; except that, in addition to such other information and data as that officer shall determine is appropriate and required for said forms, there shall be included in said forms the following matters:

(b) Each of such applications shall be in such form as to provide that the data and other information set forth therein shall be sworn to by the applicant or, if a corporation, by an officer thereof. Application for a permit shall include the name of the licensee employing such permittee, and the permit issued in pursuance thereof shall also set forth the name of such licensee. A permit shall be valid solely for use by the holder thereof in his employment by the licensee named therein.

(c) A license of any class shall not be issued by the State Fire Marshal until:

1. The applicant has submitted to the State Fire Marshal evidence of registration as a Florida corporation or evidence of compliance with the Fictitious Name Statute, s. 865.09;

2. The State Fire Marshal or a person designated by him has by inspection determined that the applicant possesses the equipment required for the class of license sought. The State Fire Marshal shall give an applicant a reasonable opportunity to correct any deficiencies discovered by inspection;

3. The applicant has submitted to the State Fire Marshal proof of insurance providing coverage for comprehensive general liability for bodily injury and property damage, products liability, completed operations, and contractual liability. The State Fire Marshal shall adopt rules providing for the amounts of such coverage, but such amounts shall not be less than $300,000 for Class A licenseholders, $200,000 for Class B licenseholders, and $100,000 for Class C licenseholders, and providing that an insurer providing such coverage shall notify the State Fire Marshal of any change in coverage;

4. The person who signed the application successfully completes a prescribed training course offered by the State Fire College or an equivalent course approved by the State Fire Marshal. This subparagraph shall not apply to any holder of or applicant for a permit under paragraph (d), or a business organization or a governmental entity seeking initial licensure or renewal of an existing license solely for the purpose of inspecting, servicing, repairing, recharging, and maintaining fire extinguishers used and located on the premises of and owned by such organization or entity; and

5. The person who signed the application has passed, with a grade of at least 70 percent, a written and practical examination testing his knowledge of the National Fire Protection Association pamphlet 10, 1970 edition, and testing his ability to perform the tasks required of holders of the class of license sought. Such examinations shall be developed and administered by the State Fire Marshal. This subparagraph shall not apply to any holder of or applicant for a permit under paragraph (d), or a business organization or a governmental entity seeking initial licensure or renewal of an existing license solely for the purpose of inspecting, servicing, repairing, recharging, and maintaining fire extinguishers used and located on the premises of and owned by such organization or entity.

(d) No permit of any class shall be issued to a person for the first time by the State Fire Marshal until the applicant has:

1. Submitted a nonrefundable filing fee in the amount of $10;

2. Successfully completed a training course offered by the State Fire College or an equivalent course approved by the State Fire Marshal; and

3. Passed with a grade of at least 70 percent a written and practical examination testing his knowledge of the National Fire Protection Association pamphlet 10, 1970 edition, and testing his ability to inspect, repair, service, test, refill, and recharge such equipment as is necessary for the class of permit sought. Such examination shall be developed and administered by the State Fire Marshal.

(4) The State Fire Marshal shall adopt rules providing for the time, place, and curriculum of each training course required by this section.

(5) Permittees must have a valid and subsisting permit upon their persons at all times while engaging in the servicing, recharging, repairing, testing, inspecting, or installing of fire extinguishers and systems, and all licensees and permittees must be able to produce said license or permit upon demand.

(6) The fees collected for any such licenses and permits and the filing fees for permit examination are hereby appropriated for the use of the State Fire Marshal in the administration of this chapter and shall be deposited in the State Fire Marshal's Trust Fund.

(7) The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to inspections by fire chiefs, fire inspectors, fire marshals, or insurance company inspectors.

(8) All fire extinguishers covered under this chapter and which are required by the State Fire Marshal's rules and regulations must be serviced, recharged, repaired, tested, inspected, and installed in compliance with the provisions of the National Fire Protection Association's pamphlet 10, 1970 edition; except that the test interval for aluminum shell extinguishers required by paragraph 5321 thereof shall be extended from 5 to 12 years, effective June 30, 1978.

(9) The State Fire Marshal shall adopt rules providing for the gradual elimination by July 1, 1983, of all inverting water type fire extinguishers. Such rules shall provide that when such an extinguisher becomes due for hydrostatic testing, it shall neither be tested nor recharged, but shall be replaced with an extinguisher of such type and size as is required by the State Fire Marshal or a local governing body having jurisdiction.

633.065 Requirements for installation of fire protective equipment.—The requirements for installation of fire protective equipment are as follows:

(1) Contractors of fire safety and fire protective equipment required by the State Fire Marshal's rules and regulations shall be licensed under s. 633.061.

(2) Equipment supplied shall be approved by a nationally recognized testing laboratory, such as Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., or Factory Mutual Laboratories, Inc., and installed in accordance with its procedures.

(3) Equipment shall be installed in accordance with the applicable standards of the National Fire Protection Association and procedures approved by said testing laboratory.

(4) Each piece of equipment supplied shall be guaranteed for a period of 1 year against defects in material or operation.

(5) The contractor shall furnish the user with operating instructions for all equipment installed, together with a diagram of the final installation.

(6) Each manufacturer or supplier of such equipment shall furnish the consumer with descriptive literature concerning equipment sold, together with mechanical drawings and specifications for proper installation and use of the equipment.

History.—s. 4, ch. 75-240.

633.071 Standard service tag required on all fire extinguishers and systems; serial number required on all portable fire extinguishers.—

(1) The State Fire Marshal shall make and promulgate specifications as to the size, shape, color, and information and data contained thereon of service tags to be attached to all fire extinguishers and systems which are required by the State Fire Marshal's rules and regulations, whether they be portable, stationary, or on wheels when they are installed, serviced, repaired, tested, recharged, or inspected. It shall be unlawful to service, test, repair, inspect, install, or recharge any of the above fire extinguishing units without attaching one of these tags completed in detail, including the actual month work was performed, or to use a tag not meeting the specifications set forth by the State Fire Marshal.

(2) All portable fire extinguishers which are required by the State Fire Marshal's rules and regulations must be listed by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. or approved by Factory Mutual and carry an Underwriters' Laboratories or manufacturer's serial number. These listings, approvals, and serial numbers may be stamped on the manufacturer's identification and instructions plate or on a separate Underwriters' Laboratories or Factory Mutual plate soldered or attached to the extinguisher shell in some permanent manner.

633.081 Inspection of buildings and equipment; orders concerning; fire safety coordinators and instructors.—

(1) The State Fire Marshal and his agents shall, at any reasonable hour, when they deem it necessary, inspect any and all buildings, equipment, and vehicular equipment on premises within their jurisdiction. Whenever the State Fire Marshal or his agents find that any of the following conditions exist, they may order the same removed or remedied within a reasonable length of time:

(a) Any building or structure inspected that is in need of repair, in a dilapidated condition, or especially liable to fire from any other cause, and situated so as to endanger life or property.

(b) Any building or structure inspected that lacks sufficient fire escapes, alarm apparatus, or fire extinguishing equipment.

(c) Any building or structure inspected that contains combustible or explosive matter or flammable conditions dangerous to the safety of life or property.

(2) Every fire safety inspection required by law or by regulation of the State Fire Marshal shall be conducted by a person certified as having met the inspection training requirements set by the Division of State Fire Marshal of the Department of Insurance. The State Fire Marshal shall maintain current files on all persons certified by the division to make fire safety inspections.

History.—s. 6, ch. 20671, 1941; s. 8, ch. 65-216; s. 4, ch. 67-78; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 70-299; s. 14, ch. 75-151; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 2, ch. 79-352.

Note.—Former s. 633.06.

633.082 Inspection of fire control systems.—The State Fire Marshal shall have the right to inspect any fire control system during and after construction to determine that such system meets the standards set forth in the laws and rules of the state.

History.—s. 7, ch. 78-141.

633.083 Sale or use of certain types of fire extinguishers prohibited; penalty.—

(1)(a) In public buildings, public places, businesses where there is public occupancy, or any place where the public comes to transact business or seek entertainment, food, etc., it shall be unlawful to have for use any of the following types of fire extinguishers:

1. Carbon tetrachloride;
2. Chlorobromomethane;
3. Dibromodifluoromethane;
4. Dichlorodifluoromethane;
5. Azeotropic chloromethane;
6. 1,2 dibromo-2-chloro-1, 1,2 trifluoroethane;
7. 1,2 dibromo-2, 2-difluoroethane;
8. Methyl bromide;
9. Ethylene dibromide;
10. Hydrogen bromide;
11. Methylene bromide;
12. Bromodifluoromethane; and
13. Any other toxic or poisonous vaporizing liquid fire extinguishers.

(b) It is unlawful to offer for sale, sell, or give in this state any of the types of fire extinguishers listed in paragraph (a).

(2) It is unlawful for any person, directly or through an agent, to sell, offer for sale, or give in this state any make, type, or model of fire extinguisher, either new or used, unless such make, type, or model of extinguisher has first been tested and is currently approved or listed by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., Factory Mutual Laboratories, Inc. or other nationally recognized testing laboratory, and unless such extinguisher carries an Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. or manufacturer's serial number. Such serial number shall be permanently stamped on the manufacturer's identification and instruction plate or on a separate plate permanently affixed to the extinguisher shell.

(3) A person who violates any of the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

History.—ss. 1-3, ch. 70-417; s. 658, ch. 71-136; s. 2, ch. 78-141.

633.085 Inspections of state buildings and premises; building plans to be approved.—

(1) It shall be the duty of the State Fire Marshal and his agents to inspect, or cause to be inspected, each state-owned or state-leased building at least once annually for the purpose of ascertaining and causing to be corrected any conditions liable to cause fire or endanger life from fire and any violations of the fire safety standards for state-owned and state-leased buildings, the provisions of this chapter, or the rules or regulations adopted and promulgated pursuant thereto. The State Fire Marshal shall, within 7 days following an inspection, submit a report of such inspection to the head of the department of state government responsible for the building.

(2) The department head shall be responsible for ensuring that deficiencies noted in the inspection are corrected as soon as practicable.

(3) Each department shall, in its annual budget proposal, include requests for sufficient funds to correct any fire safety deficiencies noted by the State Fire Marshal.

(4) The plans for new construction or major alterations of any state-owned or state-leased building shall comply with the fire safety standards of the State Building Code.

History.—s. 15, ch. 75-151.

633.101 Hearings; investigations; taking testimony, etc., by State Fire Marshal.—

(1) The State Fire Marshal may in his discretion take or cause to be taken the testimony on oath of all persons whom he believes to be cognizant of any facts in relation to matters under investigation.

(2) If he shall be of the opinion that there is sufficient evidence to charge any person with an offense, he shall cause the arrest of such person and shall furnish to the prosecuting officer of any court having jurisdiction of said offense all information obtained by him, including a copy of all pertinent and material testimony taken, together with the names and addresses of all witnesses. In the conduct of such investigations, the Fire Marshal may request such assistance as may reasonably be given by such prosecuting officers and other local officials.

(3) The Fire Marshal may summon and compel the attendance of witnesses before him to testify in relation to any manner which is, by the provisions of this chapter, a subject of inquiry and investigation, and he may require the production of any book, paper or document deemed pertinent thereto by him, and may seize furniture and other personal property to be held for evidence.

(4) All persons so summoned and so testifying shall be entitled to the same witness fees and mileage as provided for witnesses testifying in the Circuit Courts of this state, and officers serving subpoenas or orders of the Fire Marshal shall be paid in like manner for like services in such courts, from the funds herein provided.

History.—s. 7, ch. 20671, 1941; s. 9, ch. 65-216; s. 4, ch. 67-78; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 70-299.

Note.—Former s. 633.08.

633.111 State Fire Marshal to keep records of fires; reports of agents.—

The State Fire Marshal shall keep in his office a record of all fires occurring in this state upon which he had caused an investigation to be made and all facts concerning the same. Such records, documents, papers, letters, maps, diagrams, tapes, photographs, films, sound recordings, and evidence shall be deemed confidential public records and not subject to public inspection under the provisions of s. 119.07(1) for so long as the State Fire Marshal deems reasonably necessary to complete the investigation to protect the person(s) investigated from unwarranted injury or to be in the public interest. Further, such documents, papers, letters, maps, diagrams, tapes, photographs, films, sound recordings, and evidence relative to the subject of an investigation shall not be subject to subpoena until opened for public inspection by the State Fire Marshal, unless the State Fire Marshal consents; or after notice to the State Fire Marshal and a hearing, the court determines the State Fire Marshal would not be unnecessarily hindered by such a subpoena. Such records shall be made daily from the reports furnished him by his agents or others.

History.—s. 8, ch. 20671, 1941; s. 9, ch. 65-216; s. 4, ch. 67-78; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 70-299; s. 1, ch. 78-149.

Note.—Former s. 633.09.

633.121 Fire chiefs, etc., as agents.—When certified by the State Fire Marshal, the chiefs of fire departments and other fire department personnel, and personnel employed by local governments having no organized fire departments, may be designated by the State Fire Marshal as ex officio agents of the State Fire Marshal and shall make similar reports on forms to be furnished by the State Fire Marshal.

History.—s. 9, ch. 20671, 1941; s. 9, ch. 65-216; s. 4, ch. 67-78; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 70-299; s. 5, ch. 78-252.

Note.—Former s. 633.11.

633.13 State Fire Marshal; authority of agents.—The authority given the State Fire Marshal under this law may be exercised by his agents, either individually or in conjunction with any other state or local official charged with similar responsibilities.

History.—s. 1, ch. 21847, 1943; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 70-299.

633.14 Agents; arrests, summonses, arms, etc.—Agents of the State Fire Marshal shall have the same authority to serve summonses, make arrests, carry firearms and make searches and seizures, as the sheriff or his deputies, in the respective counties where such investigations, hearings or inspections may be held; and affidavits necessary to authorize any such arrests, searches or seizures may be made before any magistrate having authority under the law to issue appropriate processes.

History.—s. 1, ch. 21847, 1943; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 70-299.

633.15 State Fire Marshal; rules and regulations; violation.—This law, and all regulations prescribed by the State Fire Marshal hereunder, shall have the same force and effect in each and every incorporated town or city, as the ordinances of such respective municipalities, and shall be enforceable in the county courts in the same manner as such ordinances.

History.—s. 1, ch. 21847, 1943; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 70-299; s. 1, ch. 77-119.

633.161 Cease and desist orders; notice to correct hazardous condition; notice of violation; penalties.—

(1) Whenever the State Fire Marshal shall have reason to believe that any person is or has been violating any provisions of this chapter or any rules or regulations adopted and promulgated pursuant thereto, he or his deputy may issue and deliver to such person an order to cease and desist such violation or to correct such hazardous condition.

(2) Any person who violates or fails to comply with any order under subsection (1) shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be punished as provided for in s. 633.171.

History.—s. 10, ch. 65-216; s. 4, ch. 67-78; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 71-141; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

633.162 Suspension or revocation of license or permit.—The violation of any of the provisions of this chapter or any rules and regulations adopted and promulgated pursuant thereto or failure or refusal to comply with any order to correct or cease and desist order entered pursuant to s. 633.161 by any person possessed of a license or permit shall be cause for revocation or suspension of such license or permit by the State Fire Marshal after such officer shall determine that person is guilty of such violation. An order of suspension shall state the period of time of such suspension, which period shall not be in excess of 1 year from the date of such order. An order of revocation may be entered for a period of not exceeding 2 years. Such order shall effect revocation of license or permit then held by said person, and during such period of time no license or permit shall be issued said person. If, during the period between the beginning of proceedings and entry of an order of suspension or revocation by the State Fire Marshal, a new license or permit has been issued the person so charged, any order of suspension or revocation shall operate effectively with respect to said new license or permit held by such person.

History.—s. 4, ch. 71-141; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

633.163 Administrative fines for violation of cease and desist or corrective order.—If any person violates a cease and desist or corrective order, the State Fire Marshal may impose a civil penalty not to exceed $250 for each offense or suspend or revoke the license or permit issued to such person. The State Fire Marshal may allow the licensee or permittee a reasonable period, not to exceed 30 days, within which to pay to the State Fire Marshal the amount of the penalty so imposed. If the licensee or permittee fails to pay the penalty in its entirety to the State Fire Marshal at his office in Tallahassee within the period so allowed, the licenses or permits of the licensee or permittee shall stand revoked upon expiration of such period.

History.—s. 5, ch. 71-141; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

633.171 Penalty for violations of law, rules and regulations, or order to cease and desist or failure to comply with corrective order.—

(1) The violation of any provision of this law, or any order, rule, or regulation of the State Fire Marshal or order to cease and desist or to correct conditions issued hereunder, shall constitute a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(2) It shall constitute a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084 to intentionally or willfully:

(a) Render a fire extinguisher or system, which is required by the State Fire Marshal's rules and regulations, inoperative except during such time as said extinguisher or system is being serviced, tested, repaired, or recharged.

(b) Obliterate the serial number on a fire extinguisher for purposes of falsifying service records.

(c) Improperly service, recharge, repair, test, or inspect a fire extinguisher or system.

(d) Use the permit number of another person.

(e) Hold a permit and allow another person to use said permit number.

(f) Use, or permit the use of, any license by any individual or organization other than the one to whom the license is issued.

History.—s. 1, ch. 21847, 1943; s. 11, ch. 65-216; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 659, ch. 71-136; s. 7A, ch. 71-141; s. 3, ch. 78-141.

Note.—Former s. 633.16.

633.175 Investigation of fraudulent insurance claims and crimes; immunity of insurance companies supplying information.—

(1) The State Fire Marshal or an agent appointed pursuant to s. 633.02 may request any insurance company investigating a claim under an insurance policy or contract with respect to the fire loss of any real or personal property to release any information in the insurance company's possession relative to that loss. The insurance company shall release the available information to and cooperate with any official authorized to request such information pursuant to this section. The information shall include, but not be limited to:

(a) Any insurance policy relevant to a loss under investigation and any application for such a policy.

(b) Any policy premium payment records.

(c) The history of any previous claims made by the insured with the reporting company.

(d) Material relating to the investigation of the loss, including statements of any person, proof of loss, and other relevant evidence.

(2) If an insurance company has reason to suspect that a fire loss to its insured's real or personal property was caused by incendiary means, the company shall notify the State Fire Marshal and shall furnish him with all relevant material acquired by the company during the course of its investigation. The insurer shall also cooperate with and take such action as may be requested of it by the State Fire Marshal or an agent appointed pursuant to s. 633.02. Such company shall also permit any person to inspect its records pertaining to the policy and to the loss if such person is authorized to do so by law or by an appropriate court order.

(3) In the absence of fraud or malice, no insurance company or person who furnishes information on its behalf shall be liable for damages in a civil action or subject to criminal prosecution for any oral or written statement made or any other action taken that is necessary and required by the provisions of this section.

(4) Official, departmental, or agency personnel receiving any information pursuant to this section shall hold the information in confidence until such time as the release of the information is required pursuant to a criminal or civil proceeding, except that such officials may discuss such matters with other officials if such discussion is necessary to enable the orderly and efficient conduct of the investigation.

(5) Any official described in subsection (1) may be required to testify as to any information in his possession regarding an insurance loss in any civil action in which any person seeks recovery under a policy against an insurance company for an insurance loss.

(6) No person shall intentionally refuse to release any information requested pursuant to this section.

(7) Any person willfully violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

History.—s. 2, ch. 78-149.

633.18 State Fire Marshal; hearings, investigations, subpoenas, etc.—Any agent designated by the State Fire Marshal for such purposes, may hold hearings, sign and issue subpoenas, administer oaths, examine witnesses, receive evidence, and require by subpoena the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of such accounts, records, memoranda or other evidence, as may be material for the determination of any complaint or conducting any inquiry or investigation under this law. In case of disobedience to a subpoena, the State Fire Marshal or his agent may invoke the aid of any court of competent jurisdiction in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of accounts, records, memoranda or other evidence and any such court may in case of contumacy or refusal to obey a subpoena issued to any person, issue an order requiring the person to appear before the State Fire Marshal's agent or produce accounts, records, memoranda or other evidence, as so ordered, or to give evidence touching any matter pertinent to any complaint or the subject of any inquiry or investigation, and any failure to obey such order of the court shall be punished by the court as a contempt thereof.

History.—s. 1, ch. 21847, 1943; s. 12, ch. 65-216; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 70-299.

Note.—Former s. 633.17.

633.30 Standards for firefighting; definitions.—As used in this chapter:

(1) "Firefighter" means any person initially employed as a full-time professional firefighter by any employing agency, as defined herein, whose primary responsibility is the prevention and extinguishment of fires, the protection of life and property, and the enforcement of municipal, county, and state fire prevention codes, as well as of any law pertaining to the prevention and control of fires.

(2) "Employing agency" means any municipality or county, the state, or any political subdivision of the state, including authorities and special districts, employing firefighters as defined in subsection (1).

(3) "Department" means the Department of Insurance.

(5) "Division" means the Division of State Fire Marshal of the Department of Insurance.

History.—ss. 1, 17, ch. 69-323; ss. 18, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 70-110; s. 1, ch. 75-151; s. 4, ch. 78-323.

Note.—Repealed by s. 4, ch. 78-323, effective October 1, 1981, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1633.31 Firefighters Standards and Training Council.—

(1) There shall be within the Department of Insurance a Firefighters Standards and Training Council of nine members appointed by and serving at the pleasure of the State Fire Marshal with the confirmation of the Senate. Two members shall be fire chiefs, two members shall be firefighters who are not officers, and two members shall be firefighter officers who are not fire chiefs. The remaining three members shall be citizens of the state. To be eligible for appointment as a fire chief member, fire officer member, or firefighter member, such person shall have had at least 10 years' experience in the firefighting profession.

(2) Terms of the appointed members shall be 4 years, except that the terms of the first appointments shall be 1 year for one member, 2 years for one member, 3 years for two members, and 4 years for two members, but a member shall hold office until a successor is appointed and qualifies. No appointive member shall serve beyond the time he ceases to hold the office or employment by reason of which he was eligible for appointment to the council. Vacancies shall be filled in the manner of the original appointment for the remaining time of the term.

(3) The State Fire Marshal, in making his appointments, shall take into consideration representation by geography, population, and other relevant factors, in order that the membership on the council will be apportioned to give representation to the state at large rather than to a particular area.

(4) Membership on the council shall not disqualify a member from holding any other public office or being employed by a public entity, except that no member of the Legislature shall serve on the council. The Legislature finds that the council serves a state, county, and municipal purpose and that service on the council is consistent with a member's principal service in a public office of employment.

(5) Effective July 1, 1975, the members of the advisory council of the Florida State Fire College shall serve as additional members of the Fire Fighters Standards and Training Council for the remainder of their terms.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-110; ss. 1, 3, ch. 75-151; s. 3, ch. 77-107; s. 4, ch. 78-323.

Note.—Repealed by s. 4, ch. 78-323, effective October 1, 1981, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

Note.—Former s. 163.471.

1633.32 Organization; meetings.—

(1) The council, at its first meeting, shall elect to 1-year terms its chairman and other officers.

(2) The council shall hold at least 4 regular meetings each year at the call of the chairman or upon the written request by three members of the council. A majority of the members of the council constitutes a quorum.

(3) Members of the council shall serve without compensation but shall be entitled to be reimbursed for per diem and travel expenses as provided by s. 112.061.

(4) The council shall make an annual report of its activities to the State Fire Marshal and include in such report its recommendations for appropriate legislation.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-110; ss. 1, 4, ch. 75-151; s. 9, ch. 77-320; s. 4, ch. 78-323.

Note.—Repealed by s. 4, ch. 78-323, effective October 1, 1981, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

Note.—Former s. 163.472.

1633.33 Special powers; firefighter training.—

The council shall have special powers in connection with the employment and training of firefighters to:

(1) Recommend, for adoption by the division, uniform minimum standards for the employment and training of firefighters.

(2) Recommend, for adoption by the division, minimum curriculum requirements for schools operated by or for any employing agency for the specific purpose of training firefighter recruits or firefighters.

(3) Consult and cooperate with any employing agency, university, college, community college, the Florida State Fire College, or other educational institution concerning the development of firefighter training schools and programs of courses of instruction, including, but not limited to, education and training in the areas of fire science, fire technology, fire administration, and all allied and supporting fields.

(4) Make or support studies on any aspect of firefighting education and training or recruitment.

(5) Make recommendations concerning any matter within its purview pursuant to this part.

History.—ss. 7, 17, ch. 69-323; s. 1, ch. 70-110; s. 70, ch. 72-221; ss. 1, 5, ch. 75-151; s. 4, ch. 78-323.

Note.—Repealed by s. 4, ch. 78-323, effective October 1, 1981, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

Note.—Former s. 163.480.

633.34 Firefighters; qualifications for employment.—Any person initially employed as a firefighter must:

(1) Be a high school graduate or the equivalent, as the term may be determined by the division.

(2) Not have been convicted of a felony or of a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, as the term is defined by law.

(3) Have his fingerprints on file with the division or an agency designated by the division.

(4) Have a good moral character as determined by investigation under procedure established by the division.

(5) Be in good physical condition as determined by a medical examination as prescribed by the division.

History.—ss. 8, 17, ch. 69-323; s. 1, ch. 70-110; ss. 1, 6, ch. 75-151; s. 1, ch. 77-116.

Note.—Former s. 163.490.

cf.—s. 112.011 Felons; removal of disqualifications for employment, exceptions.

633.35 Firefighters training program established.—

(1) The division shall establish a firefighter training program administered by such agencies and institutions as it approves and shall issue, or authorize the issuance of, a certificate of completion to any person satisfactorily completing the training program.

(2) The division shall issue a certificate of compliance to any person satisfactorily complying with the training program established in subsection (1) and the qualifications for employment in s. 633.34. No person shall be employed as a regular or permanent firefighter as defined by the employing agency until he has obtained such certificate of compliance.

(3) The division may issue a certificate to any person who has received training in another state when the division has determined that such training was at least equivalent to that required by the division for approved firefighter education and training programs in this state and when such person has satisfactorily complied with all other requirements of this part.

History.—ss. 9, 17, ch. 69-323; s. 1, ch. 70-110; ss. 1, 6, ch. 75-151.
Note.—Former s. 163.495.

633.36 Reimbursement of employing agency by the division.—The division shall, subject to the availability of funds, reimburse an employing agency in an amount equivalent to 50 percent of the salary, if any, and allowable living expenses of recruit trainees in attendance at approved training programs.

History.—ss. 10, 17, ch. 69-323; s. 1, ch. 70-110; ss. 1, 6, ch. 75-151.
Note.—Former s. 163.500.

633.37 Payment of tuition by employing agency.—An employing agency is authorized to pay part or all of the costs of tuition of trainees in attendance at approved training programs.

History.—s. 11, ch. 69-323; s. 1, ch. 75-151.
Note.—Former s. 163.505.

633.38 Inservice training and promotion; participation, grants.—

(1)(a) The division shall by rules and regulations prescribe curricula and standards for advanced and specialized training courses and training in addition to those prescribed in ss. 633.34 and 633.35.

(b) The standards provided by this section shall not bind any employing agency as to the requirements it may have for promoting personnel.

(2) Fire departments or any fire service participating under the provisions of this section shall adhere to the standards and procedures established by the division.

(3) Institutions and employing agencies offering approved programs of inservice or advanced training may receive grants from the division, subject to the availability of funds, not to exceed 50 percent of the cost of offering approved training courses.

History.—ss. 12, 17, ch. 69-323; s. 1, ch. 70-110; ss. 1, 6, ch. 75-151.
Note.—Former s. 163.510.

633.39 Gifts and grants.—The division may accept for any of its purposes and functions any donations of property and grants of money from any governmental unit, public agency, institution, person, firm, or corporation. Such moneys shall be deposited, disbursed, and administered in a trust fund as provided by law.

History.—ss. 13, 17, ch. 69-323; s. 1, ch. 70-110; ss. 1, 6, ch. 75-151.
Note.—Former s. 163.515.

633.40 Fire protection study, report, recommendations.—The division shall make a comprehensive study of fire protection throughout the state. There shall be a detailed study of all state, county, and municipal laws and ordinances which regulate real property, personal property, and personal protection of the citizens of the state relating to fire protection, together with a study of the level of fire protection provided by the agencies establishing such laws or ordinances.

History.—ss. 14, 17, ch. 69-323; s. 1, ch. 70-110; ss. 1, 7, ch. 75-151; s. 10, ch. 77-320.

Note.—Former s. 163.520.

633.41 Saving clause.—Firefighters employed on the effective date of this part are not required to meet the provisions of ss. 633.34 and 633.33 as a condition of tenure or continued employment; nor shall their failure to fulfill such requirements make them ineligible for any promotional examination for which they are otherwise eligible or affect in any way any pension rights to which they may be entitled on the effective date of this part.

History.—s. 15, ch. 69-323; s. 1, ch. 75-151.
Note.—Former s. 163.525.

633.42 Additional standards authorized.—Nothing herein shall be construed to preclude an employing agency from establishing qualifications and standards for hiring, training, or promoting firefighters that exceed the minimum set by the department.

History.—ss. 16, 17, ch. 69-323; s. 1, ch. 75-151.
Note.—Former s. 163.530.

633.43 Florida State Fire College established.—There is hereby established a state institution to be known as the Florida State Fire College, to be located at or near Ocala, Marion County. The institution shall be operated by the Division of State Fire Marshal of the Department of Insurance.

History.—s. 3, ch. 25097, 1949; ss. 18, 35, ch. 69-106; ss. 1, 8, ch. 75-151.
Note.—Former s. 163.532.

633.44 Purpose of fire college.—The purposes of ss. 633.43-633.49 and of the Florida State Fire College shall be:

(1) To provide professional and volunteer firemen with needful professional instruction and training at a minimum of cost to them and to their employers.

(2) To develop new methods and practices of firefighting and fire prevention.

(3) To assist the state and county, municipal, and other local governments of this state and their agencies and officers in their investigation and determination of the causes of fires.

(4) To provide testing facilities for testing firefighting equipment.

(5) To disseminate useful information on fires, firefighting and fire prevention and other related subjects, to fire departments and others interested in such information.

(6) To do such other needful or useful things necessary to the promotion of public safety in the field of fire hazards and fire prevention work.

It is hereby declared by the Legislature that the above purposes are legitimate state functions and are designed to promote public safety.

History.—s. 4, ch. 25097, 1949; s. 1, ch. 75-151; s. 242, ch. 79-400.
Note.—Former s. 163.533.

633.45 Division of State Fire Marshal; powers, duties.—

(1) The Division of State Fire Marshal of the Department of Insurance shall:

(a) Establish uniform minimum standards for the employment and training of firefighters.

(b) Establish minimum curriculum requirements for schools operated by or for any employing agency for the specific purpose of training firefighter recruits or firefighters.

(c) Approve institutions and facilities for school operation by or for any employing agency for the specific purpose of training firefighters and firefighter recruits.

(d) Issue certificates of competency to persons who, by reason of experience and completion of basic inservice training, advanced education, or specialized training, are especially qualified for particular aspects or classes of firefighter duties.

(e) Establish minimum training qualifications for persons serving as firesafety coordinators for their respective departments of state government and certify all persons who satisfy such qualifications.

(f) Establish a uniform lesson plan to be followed by firesafety instructors in the training of state employees in firesafety and emergency evacuation procedures.

(g) Have complete jurisdiction over, and complete management and control of, the Florida State Fire College and be invested with full power and authority to make all rules and regulations necessary for the governance of said institution.

(h) Appoint a superintendent of the Florida State Fire College and such other instructors, experimental helpers, and laborers as may be necessary and remove the same as in its judgment and discretion may be best, fix their compensation, and provide for their payment.

(i) Have full management, possession, and control of the lands, buildings, structures, and property belonging to the Florida State Fire College.

(j) Provide for the courses of study and curriculum of the Florida State Fire College.

(k) Make rules and regulations for the admission of trainees to the Florida State Fire College.

(l) Visit and inspect the Florida State Fire College and every department thereof and provide for the proper keeping of accounts and records thereof.

(m) Make and prepare all necessary budgets of expenditures for the enlargement, proper furnishing, maintenance, support, and conduct of the Florida State Fire College.

(n) Select and purchase all property, furniture, fixtures, and paraphernalia necessary for the Florida State Fire College.

(o) Build, construct, change, enlarge, repair, and maintain any and all buildings or structures of the Florida State Fire College that may at any time be necessary for said institution and purchase and acquire all lands and property necessary for same, of every nature and description whatsoever.

(p) Care for and maintain the Florida State Fire College and do and perform every other matter or thing requisite to the proper management, maintenance, support, and control of said institution, necessary or requisite to carry out fully the purpose of this act and for raising it to, and maintaining it at, the proper efficiency and standard as required in and by the provisions of ss. 633.43-633.49.

(2) The division, subject to the limitations and restrictions elsewhere herein imposed, may:

(a) Adopt rules and regulations for the administration of ss. 633.30-633.49 pursuant to chapter 120.

(b) Adopt a seal and alter the same at its pleasure.

(c) Sue and be sued.

(d) Acquire any real or personal property by purchase, gift, or donation, and have water rights.

(e) Exercise the right of eminent domain to acquire any property and lands necessary to the establishment, operation, and expansion of the Florida State Fire College.

(f) Make contracts and execute necessary or convenient instruments.

(g) Undertake by contract or contracts, or by its own agent and employees, and otherwise than by contract, any project or projects, and operate and maintain such projects.

(h) Accept grants of money, materials, or property of any kind from a federal agency, private agency, county, city, town, corporation, partnership, or individual upon such terms and conditions as the grantor may impose.

(i) Perform all acts and do all things necessary or convenient to carry out the powers granted herein and the purposes of ss. 633.30-633.49.

(3) The title to all property referred to in ss. 633.43-633.49, however acquired, shall be vested in the department and shall only be transferred and conveyed by it.

History.—ss. 5, 9, ch. 25097, 1949; ss. 18, 35, ch. 69-106; ss. 1, 9, ch. 75-151; s. 1, ch. 77-174.

Note.—Former s. 163.534.

633.46 Fees.—The division may fix and collect admission fees and other fees that it may deem necessary to be charged for training given. All fees so collected shall be deposited in the General Revenue Fund unallocated.

History.—s. 6, ch. 25097, 1949; s. 1, ch. 61-515; ss. 18, 35, ch. 69-106; ss. 1, 10, ch. 75-151.

Note.—Former s. 163.535.

633.47 Procedure for making expenditures.

—No moneys shall be spent for and on behalf of said institution except upon a written voucher drawn by the division, stating the nature of said expenditures and the person to whom the same shall be made payable, which voucher shall be submitted to the Comptroller of the state, and audited for approval by him, and upon such approval, the Comptroller shall draw a warrant upon the State Treasurer for the payment thereof, filing the original voucher in his office; and such warrant or warrants shall be countersigned by the Governor.

History.—s. 7, ch. 25097, 1949; ss. 18, 35, ch. 69-106; ss. 1, 10, ch. 75-151.

Note.—Former s. 163.536.

633.48 Superintendent of college.—The division may employ a superintendent for the Florida State Fire College, who shall be especially trained and qualified in firefighting, fire prevention and fire experimental work, and may employ on the recommendations of said superintendent such other instructors, experimental helpers and laborers as may be necessary to the proper conduct of said institution; and may proceed with the erection and detailed operation of said institution under ss. 633.43-633.49.

History.—s. 10, ch. 25097, 1949; s. 3, ch. 57-401; ss. 18, 35, ch. 69-106; ss. 1, 10, ch. 75-151.

Note.—Former s. 163.538.

633.49 Buildings, equipment, etc.; use.—The division shall have the power to prescribe and shall make the necessary rules and regulations for the use of buildings, equipment and other facilities of the Florida State Fire College when they are not in use for the purposes set forth in ss. 633.43-633.49.

History.—s. 11, ch. 25097, 1949; ss. 18, 35, ch. 69-106; ss. 1, 10, ch. 75-151.

Note.—Former s. 163.539.

633.511 Florida Fire Safety Board; creation; membership.—

(1) The Florida Fire Safety Board is hereby created consisting of five members who are citizens and residents of this state. One shall be the State Fire Marshal or his designated appointee who shall be an administrative employee of said marshal; one shall be an administrative officer from a building department representing an incorporated municipality or a county; one shall be an administrative officer from a fire department representing an incorporated municipality or a county; and two shall be contractors.

(2)(a) To be eligible for appointment, each contractor shall personally hold a current certificate of competency and a current license issued by the State Fire Marshal, together with an unexpired occupational license to operate as a contractor issued by an incorporated municipality or a county; be actively engaged in such business and have been so engaged for a period of not less than 5 consecutive years before the date of his appointment; and be a citizen and resident of the state.

(b) The first two contractor members of the board need not hold a certificate of competency or a license issued by the State Fire Marshal.

(3) Within 30 days after the effective date of this act, the Governor shall appoint the members of the board. The State Fire Marshal's term on the board, or that of his designated administrative employee, shall coincide with the State Fire Marshal's term of office. Of the other four members of the board, one member shall be appointed for a term of 1 year, one member for a term of 2 years, one member for a term of 3 years, and one member for a term of 4 years. All terms expire on June 30 of the last year of the term. As the terms of members expire, the Governor shall appoint a member to fill the vacancy for a term of 4 years. Vacancies in the membership of the board for any cause shall be filled by appointment by the Governor for the balance of the unexpired term.

History.—ss. 6, 7, ch. 75-240; s. 4, ch. 78-323.

Note.—Repealed by s. 4, ch. 78-323, effective October 1, 1981, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

633.514 Board duties; meetings; officers; quorum; compensation; seal.—

(1) The board shall act in an advisory capacity to the State Fire Marshal and shall meet regularly as the need presents itself. As soon as practicable after the effective date of this act, the board shall meet to elect officers from its membership, whose terms shall expire on June 30 and annually thereafter. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum. No member of the advisory board shall be paid a salary as such member, but each shall receive necessary expenses while attending advisory board meetings and reimbursement, including travel in performance of his duties, as provided in s. 112.061.

(2) The board shall adopt a seal for its use containing the words "Florida Fire Safety Board."

History.—s. 7, ch. 75-240.

633.517 State Fire Marshal authority to adopt rules, administer oaths, and take testimony.—

(1) The State Fire Marshal is authorized, with the advice of the board, to adopt rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this act.

(2) The State Fire Marshal or his duly appointed hearing officer may administer oaths and take testimony about all matters within the jurisdiction of this act. Chapter 120 governs hearings conducted by or on behalf of the State Fire Marshal.

History.—s. 7, ch. 75-240.

633.521 Certificate application and issuance; examination and investigation of applicant.—

(1) To obtain a certificate, an applicant shall submit to the State Fire Marshal an application in writing, on a form provided by the State Fire Marshal containing the information prescribed, which shall be accompanied by the fee fixed herein, containing a statement that the applicant desires the issuance of a certificate.

(2)(a) Examinations shall be administered by the State Fire Marshal and held at times and places within the state as the State Fire Marshal determines, but there shall be at least two examinations a year. Each applicant shall take and pass an objective, written examination of his fitness for a certificate as a contractor of fire protection systems. The examination shall test the applicant's ability to design, lay out, fabricate, install, alter, and repair all types of fire protection systems and their appurtenances in compliance with applicable pamphlets of the National Fire Protection Association. It shall be an open-book examination consisting of multiple-choice, fill-in, true-false, or short-answer questions and may include or consist of diagrams, plans, or sketches in connection with which the applicant is required to demonstrate his knowledge of construction by answering questions keyed to such diagrams, plans, or sketches. All such examinations, of which there shall be at least two alternative versions, shall be prepared by an independent professional testing agency, subject to approval of the board.

(b) A passing grade on the examination is 70 percent, and such examinations shall be developed by an independent professional testing agency. The tests shall be prepared, administered, and scored in compliance with accepted professional testing standards.

(3) As a prerequisite to taking the examination, the applicant shall possess 4 years' proven experience in the employment of a contractor or educational equivalent thereto or a combination thereof. Within 30 days from the date of the examination, the State Fire Marshal shall inform the applicant in writing whether he has qualified or not and, if the applicant has qualified, that he is ready to issue a certificate of competency, subject to compliance with the requirements of subsection (4).

(4) As a prerequisite to issuance of a certificate, the State Fire Marshal shall require the applicant to submit satisfactory evidence that he has obtained public liability and property damage insurance, or qualifies as a self-insurer, for the safety and welfare of the public in amounts and in a manner to be determined by the State Fire Marshal. Upon satisfaction of the requirements of subsections (1), (2), (3), and (4), the certificate shall be issued forthwith.

(5) If an applicant for an original certificate, after having been notified to do so, does not appear for examination within 1 year from the date of filing his application, the fee paid by him shall be forfeited. New applications for a certificate shall be accompanied by another application fee fixed by this act. Forfeiture of a fee may be waived by the State Fire Marshal for good cause.

(6) Any certificate holder who has not passed the examination for issuance of a certificate shall be required to take and pass such examination before July 1, 1980. Failure to pass such examination before July 1, 1980, shall preclude renewal of such certificate until the certificate holder passes such examination. However, this provision is not applicable to those certificate holders who can produce before July 1, 1979, satisfactory evidence of having been actively engaged in this occupation prior to June 30, 1978.

History.—ss. 9, 17, ch. 75-240; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 77-457; ss. 4, 8, ch. 78-141.

633.524 Certificate fees; use and deposit of collected funds.—

(1) The initial application fee for a certificate shall be $150. The annual renewal fee shall be $75.

(2) All moneys collected by the State Fire Marshal pursuant to this act are hereby appropriated for the use of the State Fire Marshal in the administration of this act and shall be deposited in the State Fire Marshal's Trust Fund.

History.—ss. 8, 12, ch. 75-240; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 8, ch. 78-141.

633.527 Records concerning applicant; extent of confidentiality.—

(1) All information required by the board or State Fire Marshal of any applicant for certification shall be a public record, except financial information and examination grades which are confidential and shall not be discussed with anyone except members of the board and the State Fire Marshal's staff, but the applicant is entitled to see his examination papers and grades. An applicant may waive in writing the confidentiality of his examination for the purpose of discussion at meetings of the board or the State Fire Marshal.

(2) All examinations shall be retained for a period of 5 years from the date of the examination.

History.—s. 13, ch. 75-240; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 8, ch. 78-141.

633.531 Certificate effective statewide; not transferable.—When a certificate holder desires to engage in contracting in any area of the state, as a prerequisite therefor he shall only be required to exhibit to the local building official, tax collector, or other person in charge of the issuance of licenses and building permits in the area, evidence of holding a current certificate, accompanied by the fee for the occupational license and building permit required of other persons. The certificate shall not be transferable.

History.—s. 9, ch. 75-240; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 8, ch. 78-141.

633.534 Issuance of certificate to individuals and business organizations.—

(1) When an individual proposes to do business in his own name, certifications, when granted, shall be issued only to that individual.

(2) If the applicant proposing to engage in contracting is a business organization, such as a partnership, corporation, business trust, or other legal entity, the application shall state the name of the partnership and its partners, the name of the corporation and its officers and directors, the name of the business trust and its trustees, or the name of such other legal entity and its members and furnish evidence of statutory compliance if a fictitious name is used. Such application shall also show that the person applying for the examination is legally qualified to act for the business organization in all matters connected with its contracting business and that he has authority to supervise construction undertaken by such business organization. The certification, when issued upon application of a business organization, shall be in the name of such business organization, and the name of the qualifying individual or individuals shall be noted thereon.

(3)(a) At least one member or supervising employee of the business organization as designated to the State Fire Marshal by such organization shall be certified under this act in order for the business organization to hold a current certificate as a contractor. If any individual so certified on behalf of such business organization ceases to be affiliated with such business organization, he shall inform the State Fire Marshal as provided in paragraph (b). In addition, if such individual is the only certified individual affiliated with the business organization, the business organization shall notify the State Fire Marshal of the individual's termination and shall have a grace period of 60 days beyond the next examination in which to certify another person under the provisions of this act, failing which the certification of the business organization shall be revoked by the State Fire Marshal.

(b) The certified individual shall also inform the State Fire Marshal in writing when he proposes to engage in contracting in his own name or to affiliate with another business organization, and he or such new business organization shall supply the same information to the State Fire Marshal as required for applicants under this act.

(c) If a certificate holder changes his name, style, address, or employment from that which appears on his current certificate, he shall notify the State Fire Marshal of the change within 30 days after it occurs.

(d) After an investigation of the financial responsibility, credit, and business reputation of the individual or the new business organization, and upon a favorable determination, the State Fire Marshal shall forthwith issue without charge or examination a new certificate in the individual's name or in the name of the new business organization, as provided above.

(e) In the event of the death of a sole proprietor or in the event a business organization has only one certificate holder and that person dies, the individual's estate or personal representative or the business organization, as the case may be, shall notify the State Fire Marshal of the individual's death, and shall have a grace period of 60 days beyond the next examination date in which to certify another person under the provisions of this chapter, failing which the certification of the business organization shall be revoked by the State Fire Marshal.

(f) The State Fire Marshal shall be responsible for approving the design and inspecting the construction of any system installed by a contractor operating under the grace period provided in paragraph (a) or paragraph (e).

(4) When the certified business organization makes application for an occupational license in any municipality or county of this state, the application shall be made with the tax collector in the name of the business organization, and the license, when issued, shall be issued to the business organization upon payment of the appropriate licensing fee and exhibition to the tax collector of a valid certificate issued by the board.

633.537 Certificate; expiration; renewal; inactive status.—Certificates shall expire annually at midnight on June 30. Failure to renew the certificate during June shall cause the certificate to become inoperative, and it is unlawful thereafter for any person to engage, offer to engage, or hold himself out as engaging, in contracting under the certificate unless the certificate is restored or reissued.

(1) A certificate which is inoperative because of failure to renew shall be restored on payment of the proper renewal fee if the application for restoration is made within 90 days after June 30. If the application for restoration is not made within the 90-day period, the fee for restoration shall be equal to the original application fee, and, in addition, the State Fire Marshal may require reexamination of the applicant.

(2) A person who holds a valid certificate from the State Fire Marshal may go on inactive status, during which time he shall not engage in contracting but may retain his certificate on an inactive basis on payment of an annual renewal fee not to exceed $10 per year during the inactive period.

History.—s. 11, ch. 75-240; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; ss. 6, 8, ch. 78-141.

633.541 Contracting without certificate prohibited; violations; penalty.—

(1) It is unlawful for any person to engage in the business or act in the capacity of a contractor without having been duly certified and holding a current annual renewal certificate, except as hereinafter provided.

(2) Any person who violates any provision of this act or commits any of the acts constituting cause for disciplinary action as herein set forth is guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

History.—s. 14, ch. 75-240; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 8, ch. 78-141.

633.547 Disciplinary action; suspension or revocation of certificate; administrative penalty.—

(1) The State Fire Marshal may investigate the illegal action of any contractor certified under this act and hold hearings pursuant to chapter 120.

(2) The following acts constitute cause for disciplinary action:

(a) Willful or deliberate disregard and violation of the applicable building codes or laws of the state or any municipality or county thereof.

(b) Diversion of funds or property received for prosecution or completion of a specified construction project or operation when, as a result of the diversion, the contractor is, or will be, unable to fulfill the terms of his obligation or contract.

(c) Disciplinary action by any municipality or county, which action shall be reviewed by the State Fire Marshal before he takes any disciplinary action of his own.

(d) Failure in any material respect to comply with the provisions of this act.

(3) The State Fire Marshal is authorized to take the following disciplinary action:

(a) Suspend the certificate holder from all operations as a contractor during the period fixed by the State Fire Marshal, but he may permit the certificate holder to complete any contracts then incomplete.

(b) Revoke a certificate.

(c) Impose an administrative fine or penalty not to exceed $500, which shall be recoverable by the State Fire Marshal only in an action at law.

(4) After suspension of the certificate on any grounds set forth in this act, the State Fire Marshal may remove the suspension on proof of compliance by the contractor with all conditions prescribed by him for removal of suspension or, in the absence of such conditions, in the sound discretion of the State Fire Marshal.

(5) After revocation of a certificate, the certificate shall not be renewed or reissued for at least 1 year after revocation, and then only on a showing of rehabilitation of the contractor.

(6) The lapse or suspension of a certificate by operation of law or by order of the State Fire Marshal or a court or its voluntary surrender by a certificate holder does not deprive the State Fire Marshal of jurisdiction to investigate or act in disciplinary proceedings against the certificate holder.

(7) The filing of a petition in bankruptcy, either voluntary or involuntary, or the making of a composition of creditors or the appointment of a receiver for the business of the certificate holder may be considered by the State Fire Marshal as just cause for suspension of a certificate.

633.549 Violations subject to injunction.—

Any person who operates as a contractor without a current certificate or who violates any part of this act or any rule, decision, order, regulation, direction, demand, or requirement of the State Fire Marshal in relation thereto, or any part or provision thereof, may be enjoined by the courts of the state from any such violation or such unauthorized or unlawful contracting at the instance of the State Fire Marshal, the board, or any citizen or taxpayer of the state.

History.—s. 15, ch. 75-240; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 8, ch. 78-141.

633.551 County and municipal powers; effect of chapter 75-240, Laws of Florida.—

(1) Nothing in this act limits the power of a municipality or county to regulate the quality and character of work performed by contractors through a system of permits, fees, and inspections which are designed to secure compliance with, and aid in the implementation of, state and local building laws or to enforce other local laws for the protection of the public health and safety.

(2) Nothing in this act limits the power of a municipality or county to adopt any system of permits requiring submission to and approval by the municipality or county of plans and specifications for work to be performed by contractors before commencement of the work.

(3) Any official authorized to issue building or other related permits shall ascertain that the applicant contractor is duly certified before issuing the permit. The evidence shall consist only of the exhibition to him of current evidence of certification.

(4) The State Fire Marshal shall inform each county and municipal building department, prior to September 1 of each year, of the names of the certified contractors and the status of the certificates.

(5) Notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in s. 235.31 relating to prequalification of bidders, any person holding a certificate shall be deemed qualified to participate in any project contemplated by this act.

633.554 Application of law regulating contracting and contractors.—

(1)(a) This act applies to any contractor performing work for the state or any county or municipality. Officers of the state or any county or municipality are required to determine compliance with this act before awarding any contracts for construction, improvement, remodeling, or repair.

(b) The state or any county or municipality may require that bids submitted for construction, improvement, remodeling, or repair of public buildings be accompanied by evidence that the bidder holds a current certificate.

(2) The provisions of this act relating to certification and contracting as a fire protection systems contractor shall apply to those so engaged in the business of contracting for fire protection systems.

634.011 Definitions.—As used in this act:

(1) "Automobile inspection and warranty association" or "association" means any corporation, sole proprietorship, or partnership (other than an authorized insurer) issuing automobile warranties as herein defined.

(2) "Insurer" means any property or casualty insurer duly authorized to transact such business in this state.

(3) "Automobile warranty" or "warranty" means any contract or agreement indemnifying the warranty holder against loss caused by failure of any mechanical or other component part of the automobile due to the defect in material or workmanship arising out of the ownership, operation, and use of such automobile; however, nothing in this act shall prohibit or affect the giving of usual performance guarantees by manufacturers or dealers in connection with the sale of automobiles.

(4) "Salesman" means any person employed or otherwise retained by an insurer or an automobile inspection and warranty association for the purpose of selling or issuing automobile warranties.

(5) "Rate" means the unit charge by which the measure of exposure in a warranty is multiplied to determine the premium.

(6) "Premium" means the consideration paid, or to be paid, to an insurer, or automobile inspection and warranty association for the issuance and delivery of any binder or warranty.

(7) "Department" means the Department of Insurance.

(8) "Net assets" means the amount by which the total assets of an association exceed the total liabilities of the association. For purposes of this definition, the term "total liabilities" shall not include the capital and surplus of an association.

(9)(a) "Stated capital" means, at any particular time, the sum of:

1. The par value of all shares of the association having a par value that have been issued and have not been canceled;

2. The amount of the consideration received by the association for all shares of the association without par value that have been issued, except such part of the consideration therefor as may have been allocated to capital surplus in a manner permitted by law; and

3. Such amounts, not included in subparagraphs 1. and 2., as have been transferred to stated capital of the association, whether upon the issue of shares as a share dividend or otherwise, minus all reductions from such sum as have been effected in a manner permitted by law.

(b) Irrespective of the manner of designation thereof by the laws under which a foreign corporation is organized, the stated capital of a foreign association shall be determined on the same basis and in the same manner as the stated capital of a domestic association, for the purpose of computing taxes on qualification and other charges imposed by this act.

(10) "Surplus" means the excess of the net assets of an association over its stated capital.

(11) "Earned surplus" means the portion of the surplus of an association that is equal to the balance of its net profits, income, gains, and losses from the date of incorporation, or from the latest date on which a deficit in earned surplus was eliminated by an application of its capital surplus or stated capital or otherwise, after deducting subsequent distributions to shareholders and transfers to stated capital and capital surplus to the extent that such distributions and transfers are made out of earned surplus. "Earned surplus" shall also include any portion of surplus allocated to earned surplus in mergers, consolidations, or acquisitions of all or substantially all of the outstanding shares or of the property and assets of another corporation, domestic or foreign.

(12) "Capital surplus" means the entire surplus of an association other than its earned surplus.

(13) "Insolvent" means the inability of an association to pay its debts as they become due in the usual course of its business.

§634.021 Powers of department; rules.—The department shall administer this act and to that end it may adopt, promulgate, and enforce rules and regulations necessary and proper to effectuate any provisions of this act.

History.—s. 2, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§634.031 License required.—

(1) No automobile inspection and warranty association shall transact, attempt to transact, or in any manner hold itself out as transacting such business in this state unless it is authorized therefor under a subsisting license issued to it by the department. The association shall pay to the department a license tax of $100 for such license, for each license year or part thereof the license is in force.

(2) No automobile inspection and warranty association shall, from officers or by personnel or facilities in this state, solicit warranty applications or otherwise transact warranty sales in another state or country unless it holds a subsisting license issued to it by the department authorizing it to transact the same kind or kinds of warranty business in this state.

History.—s. 3, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 2, ch. 78-231.

§634.041 Qualifications for license.—To qualify for and hold a license to issue warranty contracts in this state, an association shall be otherwise in compliance with this act, with related sections of the Insurance Code, and with its charter powers and shall comply with the following:

(1) The association shall be a solvent corporation formed under the laws of Florida or of another state, district, territory, or possession of the United States and shall meet minimum requirements under this section.

(2) The association shall furnish the department with evidence satisfactory to it that the management of the association is competent and trustworthy and can successfully manage its affairs in compliance with law.

(3) The association shall make the deposit required under s. 634.052.

(4) No association shall be licensed to transact warranty business in this state which does not maintain reserves as required under this section and which does not maintain the ratio of liquid assets to the required reserves as required under this section.

(5) No association shall be licensed to transact warranty business in this state which, during the 3 years immediately preceding its application for a license, has violated any section of this part and which, after being informed of such violation, has failed to correct same; except that, if all other requirements are met, the department may nevertheless issue a license to such association upon the filing by the association of a sworn statement of all such warranty business written in violation of law, and upon payment to the department of a sum of money as an additional licensing fee equivalent to all the premium taxes and other state taxes and fees that would have been payable by the association if such business had been lawfully written by a licensed association under the laws of this state. This fee when collected shall be deposited to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund. The department may also request that, prior to licensing, the association be required to deposit with the department securities in addition to those required under s. 634.052.

(6) Before approving or disapproving the name, proposed name, emblem, or trademark of an association, the department shall notify every other licensed association whose name, trademark, or emblem might be adversely affected, allowing such associations 30 days after the date of notice within which to file objections to it. If a name, trademark, or emblem is so objected to, the department shall disapprove the name, trademark, or emblem, unless the department is of the opinion that the objections are not well founded.

(7) In order to obtain a license, an association commencing business in the state on and after October 1, 1978, shall have and maintain minimum net assets of $300,000. In computing the net asset requirement, receivables from officers, directors, employees, salesmen, and affiliated companies shall be deducted from the net assets of the association in determining the net asset requirement.

(8) An association licensed prior to October 1, 1978, shall have and maintain minimum net assets as follows, in order to obtain a renewal license:

(a) As of October 1, 1978—$100,000.

(b) As of October 1, 1979—$150,000.

(c) As of October 1, 1980—$200,000.

(d) As of October 1, 1981—$300,000.

(9) An association shall be otherwise in compliance with this part.

(10) For those associations which do not obtain contractual liability insurance, an unearned premium reserve equal to 40 percent of the gross premium charged shall be set up on each warranty contract issued. Such reserve shall be maintained until the expiration of the contract. Those contracts issued for a period in excess of 1 year shall adjust the unearned premium reserve annually according to the reserve table furnished by the department.

(11) An association shall not be required to set up an unearned premium reserve if it has purchased contractual liability insurance for 100 percent of its claim exposure. Such contractual liability insurance shall be obtained from an insurer that holds a certificate of authority to do business within the state.

(12) An association that purchases contractual liability insurance on the warranties that it issues shall provide the department with the claims statistics required to be filed by associations not purchasing such insurance.

(13) An association required to maintain the unearned premium reserve shall also maintain at all times unencumbered assets in an amount equal to the required reserve. Such assets shall be held in the form of cash or invested in securities for investments under s. 625.52.

(14) An association may adopt alternative reserve methods approved by the department.

(15) In addition to information called for and furnished with its annual statement, an association shall furnish to the department, as soon as reasonably possible, such information as to its transactions or affairs as the department may from time to time request in writing. All such information furnished pursuant to the department's request shall be verified by the oath of two executive officers of the association.

History.—s. 4, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 3, ch. 78-231.

§634.052 Required deposit.—

(1) To assure the faithful performance of its obligations to its members or subscribers, every automobile inspection and warranty association shall, prior to issuance of its license by the department, deposit with the department securities of the type eligible for deposit by insurers under s. 625.52, and having at all times a market value of not less than $100,000; except as follows:

(a) Any association holding a license to do business in this state on or before July 1, 1978, which had previously deposited securities having a market value of at least $50,000 shall, on or before October 1, 1978, deposit additional securities with a market value of at least $25,000, and shall, on or before October 1, 1979, deposit additional securities having a market value of at least $25,000.

(b) Any association which had filed a surety bond with the department when its license was obtained shall maintain the surety bond in the amount of $50,000 and shall, on or before October 1, 1978, deposit securities with a market value of at least $50,000, and shall, on or before October 1, 1979, deposit additional securities having a market value of at least $50,000, at which time the surety bond may be canceled. The market value of an association's deposits with the department shall not be less than $100,000 as of October 1, 1979.

(2) In addition to the deposits otherwise required pursuant to this section, the department may, after notice and hearing, require any association for good cause shown to deposit and maintain deposited in trust for the protection of the association's contract holders and creditors, for such time as the department deems necessary, securities eligible for such deposit under s. 625.52 having a value of not less than the amount which the department shall determine is necessary, which amount shall be neither less than $100,000, nor more than $500,000, depending on the association's obligation in this state.

(3) The state shall be responsible for the safekeeping of all securities deposited with the department under this act. Such securities shall not, on account of being in this state, be subject to taxation, but shall be held exclusively and solely to guarantee the association's faithful performance of its obligations to its members or subscribers.

(4) The depositing association shall, during its solvency, have the right to exchange or substitute other securities of like quality and value for securities so on deposit, to receive the interest and other income accruing on such securities, and to inspect the deposit at all reasonable times.

(5) Such deposit shall be maintained unimpaired as long as the association continues in business in this state. Whenever the association ceases to do business in this state and furnishes to the department proof satisfactory to it that it has discharged or otherwise adequately provided for all its obligations to its members or subscribers in this state, the department shall release the deposited securities to the parties entitled thereto, on presentation of the department's receipts for such securities.

History.—s. 5, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 4, ch. 78-231.

§634.061 Application for and issuance of license.—

(1) Application for license as an automobile inspection and warranty association shall be made to and filed with the department on printed forms as prescribed and furnished by it.

(2) In addition to information relative to its qualifications as called for under s. 634.041, the application shall show:

(a) Location of applicant's home office.
(b) Name and residence address of each director or officer of applicant.

(c) Other pertinent information as required by the department.

(3) The application when filed shall be accompanied by:

(a) A copy of the applicant's articles of incorporation, certified by the public official having custody of the original and a copy of its bylaws certified by its secretary.

(b) A copy of the most recent financial statement of applicant, verified under the oath of at least two of its principal officers.

(c) License fee in the amount of $100, as required under s. 634.031.

(4) Upon completion of the application for license, the department shall examine the same and make such further investigation of the applicant as it deems advisable. If it finds that the applicant is qualified therefor under this act, it shall issue to the applicant a license as an automobile inspection and warranty association. If the department does not so find, it shall refuse to issue the license. Any such notice of refusal shall be accompanied by refund of the annual license fee theretofore tendered in connection with the application.

History.—s. 6, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

1634.071 License expiration, renewal.—Each license as an automobile inspection and warranty association issued under this act shall expire on the September 30 next following date of issuance. If the association is then qualified therefor under this act, its license may be renewed annually upon its request therefor and payment to the department of license tax in the amount of $100 in advance for each such license year.

History.—s. 7, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1634.081 Suspension, revocation of license for violations and special grounds.—

(1) The department may, in its discretion, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew the license of any automobile inspection and warranty association if it finds that the association has violated any lawful order of the department or any provision of this act.

(2) The department shall suspend or revoke an automobile inspection and warranty association's license if it finds that such association:

(a) Is in unsound condition, or in such condition, or using such methods and practices in the conduct of its business, as to render its further transaction of warranties in this state hazardous or injurious to its warranty holders or to the public.

(b) Has refused to be examined or to produce its accounts, records and files for examination, or if any of its officers have refused to give information with respect to its affairs or to perform any other legal obligation as to such examination, when required by the department.

(c) Has failed to pay any final judgment rendered against it in this state within 90 days after the judgment became final.

(d) With such frequency as to indicate its general business practice in this state, has without just cause refused to pay proper claims arising under its warranties, or without just cause compels warranty holders to accept less than the amount due them or to employ attorneys or to bring suit against the association to secure full payment or settlement of such claims.

(e) Is affiliated with and under the same general management or interlocking directorate or ownership as another automobile inspection and warranty association which transacts direct warranties in this state without having a license therefor.

(3) The department may, in its discretion, suspend the license of any automobile inspection and warranty association as to which proceedings for receivership, conservatorship, rehabilitation, or other delinquency proceedings have been commenced in any state.

(4) Violation of this act by an insurer shall be grounds for suspension or revocation of the insurer's certificate of authority in this state.

(5) The department may, in its discretion, suspend or revoke an association's license if it finds that the ratio of gross premiums written to net assets exceeds 10 to 1 and if the association has less than $1 million of net assets.

History.—s. 8, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95; s. 7, ch. 78-231.

1634.101 Order, notice of suspension or revocation of license; effect; publication.—

(1) Suspension or revocation of an association's license shall be by the department's order mailed to the association by registered or certified mail. The department shall promptly also give notice of such suspension or revocation to the association's salesmen in this state of record in the department's office. The association shall not solicit or write any new warranties in this state during the period of any such suspension or revocation, nor after such revocation renew any business previously written.

(2) In its discretion the department may cause notice of any such revocation to be published in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in this state.

History.—s. 10, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1634.111 Duration of suspension; association's obligations during suspension period; reinstatement.—

(1) Suspension of an association's license shall be for such period not to exceed 1 year, as is fixed by the department in the order of suspension, unless the department shortens or rescinds such suspension or the order upon which the suspension is based is modified, rescinded or reversed.

(2) During the period of suspension the association shall file its annual statement, pay fees, licenses and taxes as required under this chapter as if the license had continued in full force.

(3) Upon expiration of the suspension period (if within such period the license has not otherwise terminated) the association's license shall automatically reinstate unless the department finds that the causes of the suspension have not been removed, or that the association is otherwise not in compliance with the requirements of this chapter, and of which the department shall give the association notice not less than 30 days in advance of the expiration of the suspension period. If not so automatically reinstated the license shall be deemed to have expired as of the end of the suspension period or upon failure of the association to continue the license during the suspension period, whichever event first occurs.

(4) Upon reinstatement of the association license, or reinstatement of the certificate of authority of an insurer following suspension, the authority of its salesmen in this state to represent the association or insurer shall likewise reinstate. The department shall promptly notify the association or insurer and its salesmen in this state of record in its office of such reinstatement.

History.—s. 11, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

634.121 Filing, approval of forms, rate filings.—

(1) No warranty form nor related form shall be issued or used in this state unless it has been filed with and approved by the department.

(2) Every such filing shall be made not less than 30 days in advance of issuance or use. At the expiration of 30 days from date of filing a form so filed shall be deemed approved unless prior thereto it has been affirmatively approved or disapproved by written order of the department. The department may extend by not more than an additional 15 days the period within which it may so affirmatively approve or disapprove any such form by giving notice of such extension before the expiration of the initial 30-day period. At the expiration of any such period as so extended and in the absence of prior affirmative approval or disapproval, any such form shall be deemed approved.

(3) In addition, each insurer and automobile inspection and warranty association shall file with the department the rate to be charged for each warranty and the premium, including all modifications of rates and premiums, to be paid by the warranty holder. Every filing shall state the proposed effective date thereon. Such filing shall be made not less than 30 days prior to its effective date.

(4) All warranty contracts shall contain a cancellation provision. Such contracts shall be cancellable by the purchaser within 60 days of purchase. The refund shall be 100 percent of the gross premium charged, less any claims paid on the contract and a reasonable administrative fee.

History.—s. 12, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 8, ch. 78-231.

634.131 Tax on premiums and assessments.—

(1) In addition to the license taxes provided for in this act for automobile inspection and warranty associations, and license taxes as provided in the Insurance Code as to insurers, each such association and insurer shall annually on or before March 1 file with the department its annual statement, in form as prescribed and furnished by the department, showing all warranty premiums or assessments received by it from warranty holders in this state, during the preceding calendar year, and shall pay to the state treasurer a tax in an amount equal to 2 percent of the gross amount of such premiums or assessments. Provided that the same exemptions and credits as set forth in ss. 624.512 and 624.514 of the Insurance Code allowed to insurers shall apply to insurers and automobile inspection and warranty associations under this act.

(2) Premiums and assessments received by insurers and taxed under this section shall not be subject to any premium tax provided for in the Insurance Code.

(3) Premiums charged for warranties shall not be subject to state sales taxes.

(4) Any association or insurer neglecting to file the annual statement in the form and within the time provided by this section shall forfeit $100 for each day during which the neglect continues, and, upon notice by the department to that effect, the authority of the association or insurer to do business in this state shall cease while such default continues. The department shall deposit all sums collected thereby under the provisions of this section to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

History.—s. 13, ch. 59-110; s. 2, ch. 61-119; s. 30, ch. 65-269; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 9, ch. 78-231.

634.136 Office records required.—Each licensed automobile inspection and warranty association, as a minimum requirement for permanent office records, shall maintain:

(1) A complete set of accounting records, including, but not limited to, a general ledger, cash receipts and disbursements journals, accounts receivable registers, and accounts payable registers.

(2) Memorandum journals showing the blank warranty forms issued to the association's salesmen and recording the delivery of the forms to the dealer.

(3) Memorandum journals showing the warranty forms received by the automobile dealers and indicating the disposition of the forms by the dealer.

(4) A detailed warranty register, in numerical order by warranty number, of warranties in force, which register shall include the following information: Warranty number, date of issue, issuing dealer, name of warranty holder, description of automobile, warranty period and mileage, gross premium, commission to salesmen, commission to dealer, and net premium.

(5) A detailed claims register, in numerical order by warranty number, which register shall include the following information: Warranty number, date of issue, date of claim, type of claim, issuing dealer, amount of claim, date claim paid, and, if applicable, disposition other than payment and reason therefor.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-231.

634.141 Examination of associations.—Automobile inspection and warranty associations licensed under this act shall be subject to periodic examination by the department in the same manner and subject to the same terms and conditions as applies to insurers under part II of chapter 624 of the Insurance Code.

History.—s. 14, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1634.151 Service of process; appointment of commissioner as process agent.—

(1) Each association applying for authority to transact business in this state, whether domestic or foreign, shall file with the department its appointment of the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer and his successors in office, on a form as furnished by the department, as its attorney to receive service of all legal process issued against it in any civil action or proceeding in this state, and agreeing that process so served shall be valid and binding upon the association. The appointment shall be irrevocable, shall bind the association and any successor in interest as to the assets or liabilities of the association, and shall remain in effect as long as there is outstanding in this state any obligation or liability of the association resulting from its warranty transactions therein.

(2) At the time of such appointment of the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer as its process agent the association shall file with the department designation of the name and address of the person to whom process against it served upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer is to be forwarded. The association may change the designation at any time by a new filing.

History.—s. 15, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1634.161 Serving process.—

(1) Service of process upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer as process agent of the association shall be made by serving copies in triplicate of the process upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer or upon his assistant, deputy, or other person in charge of his office. Upon receiving such service the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer shall file one copy with the department, return one copy with his admission of service, and promptly forward one copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the person last designated by the association to receive the same, as provided under s. 634.151.

(2) Process served upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer and copy thereof forwarded as in this section provided shall for all purposes constitute valid and binding service thereof upon the association.

History.—s. 16, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1634.171 Salesman to be registered.—Every automobile inspection and warranty association or insurer shall on forms prescribed by the department register, on or before October 1 of each year, the name and business office address of each salesman employed by it and shall within 30 days after termination of the employment notify the department of such termination. At the time of annual registration, a $20 filing fee for each registered salesman shall be paid by the warranty association or insurer to the department. Any salesman employed subsequent to the October 1 filing date shall be registered with the department within 10 days after such employment. No employee or salesman of an automobile inspection and warranty association or insurer shall directly or indirectly solicit or negotiate insurance contracts, or hold himself out in any manner to be an insurance agent or solicitor, unless so qualified and licensed therefor under the Insurance Code.

History.—s. 17, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 10, ch. 78-231.

1634.181 Grounds for compulsory refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of salesmen.—The department shall deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any such salesman if it finds that as to the salesman, any one or more of the following applicable grounds exist:

(1) Material misstatement, misrepresentation, or fraud in registration.

(2) If the registration is willfully used, or to be used, to circumvent any of the requirements or prohibitions of this act.

(3) Willful misrepresentation of any warranty contract or willful deception with regard to any such contract, done either in person or by any form of dissemination of information or advertising.

(4) If in the adjustment of claims arising out of warranties, he has materially misrepresented to a warranty holder or other interested party the terms and coverage of a contract with intent and for the purpose of effecting settlement of such claim on less favorable terms than those provided in and contemplated by the contract.

(5) For demonstrated lack of fitness or trustworthiness to engage in the business of warranty.

(6) For demonstrated lack of adequate knowledge and technical competence to engage in the transactions authorized by the registration.

(7) Fraudulent or dishonest practices in the conduct of business under the registration.

(8) Misappropriation, conversion or unlawful withholding of moneys belonging to an association, insurer, or warranty holder or to others and received in conduct of business under the registration.

(9) For rebating, or attempt thereat, or for unlawfully dividing or offering to divide his commission with another.

(10) Willful failure to comply with, or willful violation of any proper order, rule, or regulation of the department, or willful violation of any provision of this act.

History.—s. 18, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

1634.191 Grounds for discretionary refusal, suspension, revocation of registration of salesmen.—The department may, in its discretion, deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any salesman if it finds that as to the salesman any one or more of the following applicable grounds exist under circumstances for which such denial, suspension, revocation, or refusal is not mandatory under s. 634.181:

(1) For any cause for which granting of the registration could have been refused had it then existed and been known to the department.

(2) Violation of any provision of this act or of any other law applicable to the business of warranties in the course of dealings under the registration.

(3) Has violated any lawful order or rule or regulation of the department.

(4) Failure or refusal, upon demand, to pay over to any association or insurer he represents or has represented any money coming into his hands belonging to the association or insurer.

(5) If in the conduct of business under the registration he has engaged in unfair methods of competition or in unfair or deceptive acts or practices, as such methods, acts, or practices are or may be defined under part VII of chapter 626, or has otherwise shown himself to be a source of injury or loss to the public or detrimental to the public interest.

(6) Conviction of a felony.

History.—s. 19, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

cf.—s. 112.011 Felons; removal of disqualifications for employment, exceptions.

§634.201 Refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of salesmen.—

(1) If any salesman is convicted by a court of a violation of this act, the registration of such individual shall thereby be deemed to be immediately revoked.

(2) If after an investigation, or upon other evidence, the department has reason to believe that there may exist any one or more grounds therefor, as such grounds are specified in ss. 634.181 and 634.191, the department may suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any salesman.

(3) The department's papers, documents, reports, or evidence relative to a hearing for revocation or suspension of a license pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and chapter 120 shall not be subject to subpoena without the department's consent, except for subpoenas issued pursuant to the hearing for revocation or suspension, until after the same shall have been published at the hearing, unless after notice to the department and hearing the court determines that the department would not be unnecessarily hindered or embarrassed by such subpoenas.

(4) Whenever it appears that any licensed insurance agent has violated the provisions of this act, the department may take such action relative thereto as is authorized by the Insurance Code as for a violation of the Insurance Code by such agent.

History.—s. 20, ch. 59-110; s. 27, ch. 63-512; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

§634.211 Administrative fine in lieu of suspension or revocation of registration.—

(1) If the department finds that one or more grounds exist for the suspension, revocation, or refusal to renew or continue any registration issued under this act, the department may, in its discretion, in lieu of such suspension, revocation, or refusal, on a first offense and except where such suspension, revocation, or refusal is mandatory, impose upon the registrant an administrative penalty in the amount of $100, or if the department has found willful misconduct or willful violation on the part of the registrant, an administrative fine of $500. The administrative penalty may, in the department's discretion, be augmented in amount by an amount equal to any commissions received by or accruing to the credit of the registrant in connection with any transaction as to which the grounds for suspension, revocation, or refusal related.

(2) The department may allow the registrant a reasonable period, not to exceed 30 days, within which to pay to the department the amount of the penalty so imposed. If the registrant fails to pay the penalty in its entirety to the department at its office at Tallahassee within the period so allowed, the registration of the registrant shall stand suspended, revoked, or renewal or continuation refused, as the case may be, upon expiration of such period.

History.—s. 21, ch. 59-110; s. 30, ch. 65-269; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

§634.221 Disposition of taxes and fees.—All license taxes, taxes on premiums and assessments, registration fees, and administrative fines and penalties collected under this act from automobile inspection and warranty associations shall be deposited to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

History.—s. 22, ch. 59-110; s. 2, ch. 61-119; s. 20, ch. 65-269; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

cf.—s. 624.523 Regulatory trust fund.

§634.231 Insurance business not authorized.—Nothing in this act shall be deemed to authorize any automobile inspection and warranty association to transact any business other than that of automobile warranty as herein defined; or otherwise to engage in the business of insurance unless such association is authorized therefor as an insurer under a certificate of authority issued by the department under the Insurance Code of this state.

History.—s. 23, ch. 59-110; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§634.241 Fronting not permitted.—No authorized insurer or licensed automobile inspection and warranty association shall act as a fronting company for any unauthorized insurer or unlicensed automobile inspection and warranty association. A fronting company is an authorized insurer or licensed automobile inspection and warranty association which by reinsurance or otherwise generally transfers to one or more unauthorized insurer or unlicensed automobile inspection and warranty associations substantially all of the risk of loss under warranties written by it in this state.

History.—s. 24, ch. 59-110; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

634.251 Penalty for violation.—Any individual who knowingly makes a false or otherwise fraudulent application for license or registration under this act, or who knowingly violates any provision thereof, shall in addition to any applicable denial, suspension, revocation, or refusal to renew or continue any license or registration, be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083. Each instance of violation shall be considered a separate offense.

History.—s. 25, ch. 59-110; s. 660, ch. 71-136; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

634.2515 Penalty for selling warranty of a nonlicensed association.—Any individual or entity who knowingly offers for sale or sells an auto warranty contract or service contract of an association which has failed to comply with the provisions of this act shall, in addition to any applicable denial, suspension, revocation, or refusal to renew or continue any license or registration, be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. Each instance of violation shall be considered a separate offense.

History.—s. 6, ch. 78-231.

634.252 Acquisition of controlling stock.—No association or entity may merge, consolidate with another association, or acquire more than 5 percent of another association unless it has filed the appropriate documentation with the department in accordance with s. 628.451 or s. 628.461.

History.—s. 11, ch. 78-231.

634.253 Dissolution or liquidation.—Any dissolution or liquidation of a corporation subject to the provisions of this law shall be under the supervision of the Department of Insurance, which shall have all powers with respect thereto granted to it under the laws of the state with respect to the dissolution and liquidation of property and casualty companies pursuant to chapter 631.

History.—s. 12, ch. 78-231.

634.301 Definitions.—As used in this part:

(1) "Home warranty association" or "association" means any corporation or any other organization, other than an authorized insurer, issuing home warranties as herein defined.

(2) "Insurer" means any property or casualty insurer duly authorized to transact such business in this state.

(3) "Home warranty" or "warranty" means any contract or agreement offered in connection with the sale of residential property whereby a person undertakes to indemnify the warranty holder against the cost of repair or replacement, or actually furnishes repair or replacement, of any structural component or appliance of a home, necessitated by wear and tear or inherent defect of any such structural component or appliance or necessitated by the failure of an inspection to detect the likelihood of any such loss. However, nothing in this part shall prohibit the giving of usual performance guarantees by either the builder of a home or the manufacturer or seller of an appliance, as long as no identifiable charge is made for such guarantee. Nothing in this part shall be construed as permitting the provision of indemnification against consequential damages arising from the failure of any structural component or appliance of a home, which practice shall constitute the transaction of insurance subject to all requirements of the Insurance Code. This part shall not apply to service contracts entered into between consumers and nonprofit organizations or cooperatives whose members consist of condominium associations and condominium owners which perform repairs and maintenance for appliances or maintenance of the residential property.

(4) "Structural component" means the roof, plumbing system, electrical system, foundation, basement, walls, ceilings, or floors of a home.

(5) "Contracting sales agent" means any person with whom an insurer or home inspection or warranty association has a contract and who is utilized by such insurer or association for the purpose of selling or issuing home warranties. The term shall include all employees of any insurer or association engaged directly in the sale or issuance of home warranties.

(6) "Premium" means the consideration received, or to be received, by an insurer or home warranty association for the issuance and delivery of any binder or warranty.

(7) "Department" means the Department of Insurance.

(8) "Person" shall include an individual, company, corporation, association, insurer, agent, and every other legal entity.

(9) "Insolvent" means the inability of a corporation to pay its debts as they become due in the usual course of its business.

(10) "Impaired" means having liabilities in excess of assets.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339; s. 1, ch. 78-255.

634.302 Powers of department; rules.—The department shall administer this part, and, to that end, it may adopt, promulgate, and enforce rules necessary and proper to effectuate any provisions of this part.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.303 License required.—

(1) No person in this state shall provide or offer to provide home warranties unless authorized therefor under a subsisting license issued by the department. The home warranty association shall pay to the department a license tax of $200 for such license for each license year, or part thereof, the license is in force.

(2) An insurer, while authorized to transact property or casualty insurance in this state, may also transact a home warranty business without additional qualifications or authority, but shall be otherwise subject to the applicable provisions of this part.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.304 Qualifications for license.—The department shall not issue a license to any home warranty association unless the association is qualified therefor, as follows:

(1) Is a solvent corporation formed under the laws of Florida or of another state, district, territory, or possession of the United States.

(2) Furnishes the department with evidence satisfactory to it that the management of the association is competent and trustworthy and can successfully manage the association's affairs in compliance with law.

(3) Proposes to use and uses in its business a name, together with a trademark or emblem, if any, which is distinctive and not so similar to the name or trademark of any other association, corporation, or organization already doing business in this state as will tend to mislead or confuse the public.

(4) Makes the deposit or files the bond or letter of credit required under s. 634.305.

(5) Is otherwise in compliance with this part.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.305 Required deposit, bond, or letter of credit.—

(1) To assure the faithful performance of its obligations to its members or subscribers in the event of insolvency, every home warranty association shall, prior to the issuance of its license by the department, deposit with the department securities of the type eligible for deposit by insurers under s. 625.52, which securities shall have at all times a market value of not less than $50,000 during the 2 calendar years immediately succeeding October 1, 1977, not less than $75,000 during the next succeeding 2 calendar years, and not less than $100,000 thereafter.

(2) In lieu of any deposit of securities required under subsection (1):

(a) The association may file with the department a surety bond in like amount. The bond shall be one issued by an authorized surety insurer, shall be for the same purpose as the deposit in lieu of which it is filed, and shall be subject to the department's approval. No such bond shall be canceled or be subject to cancellation unless at least 30 days' advance notice thereof in writing is filed with the department.

(b) The association may file with the department an irrevocable letter of credit in like amount. The irrevocable letter of credit shall be issued by a national or state banking association located inside or outside the state, shall be for the same purpose as the deposit in lieu of which it is filed, and shall be subject to the department's approval.

(3) Securities, bonds, and letters of credit posted by an association pursuant to this section shall be for the benefit of, and subject to action thereon in the event of insolvency of any association or insurer by, any person or persons sustaining an actionable injury due to the failure of the association faithfully to perform its obligations to its warranty holders.

(4) The state shall be responsible for the safekeeping of all securities deposited with the department under this part. Such securities shall not, on account of being in this state, be subject to taxation, but shall be held exclusively and solely to guarantee the association's faithful performance of its obligations to its members or subscribers.

(5) The depositing association shall, during its solvency, have the right to exchange or substitute other securities of like quality and value for securities so on deposit, to receive the interest and other income accruing to such securities, and to inspect the deposit at all reasonable times.

(6) Such deposit, bond, or letter of credit shall be maintained unimpaired as long as the association continues in business in this state. Whenever the association ceases to do business in this state and furnishes the department proof satisfactory to the department that it has discharged or otherwise adequately provided for all its obligations to its members or subscribers in this state, the department shall release the deposited securities to the parties entitled thereto, on presentation of the department's receipts for such securities, or shall release any bond or letter of credit filed with it in lieu of such deposit.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.306 Application for and issuance of license.—

(1) Application for license as a home warranty association shall be made to and filed with the department on printed forms prescribed and furnished by it.

(2) In addition to information relative to its qualifications as required under s. 634.304, the application shall show:

- (a) The location of applicant's home office.
- (b) The name and residence address of each director or officer of applicant.
- (c) Such other pertinent information as may be required by the department.

(3) The application when filed shall be accompanied by:

(a) A copy of the applicant's articles of incorporation, certified by the public official having custody of the original, and a copy of the applicant's bylaws, certified by the applicant's secretary.

(b) A copy of the most recent financial statement of the applicant, verified under oath of at least two of its principal officers.

(c) A license fee in the amount of $200, as required under s. 634.303.

(4) Upon completion of the application for license, the department shall examine the same and make such further investigation of the applicant as it deems advisable. If it finds that the applicant is qualified therefor, the department shall issue to the applicant a license as a home warranty association. If the department does not so find, it shall refuse to issue the license and shall give the applicant written notice of such refusal, setting forth the grounds therefor. Any such notice of refusal shall be accompanied by refund of the annual license fee tendered in connection with the application. The department shall act upon any such application within a reasonable period of time after its completion.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.307 License expiration; renewal.—Each license as a home warranty association issued under this part shall expire on September 30 next following the date of issuance. If the association is then qualified therefor under the provisions of this part, its license may be renewed annually, upon its request and upon payment to the department of the license tax in the amount of $200, in advance, for each such license year.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.308 Grounds for suspension or revocation of license.—

(1) The license of any home warranty association may be revoked or suspended, or the department may refuse to renew any such license, if it is determined that:

(a) The association has violated any lawful order of the department or any provision of this part.

(b) The association has not maintained a funded unearned premium reserve account equal to a minimum of 25 percent of the premiums received by it from all warranty contracts in force.

(2) The license of any home warranty association shall be suspended or revoked if it is determined that such association:

(a) Is in unsound condition or is in such condition or using such methods and practices in the conduct of its business as to render its further transaction of warranties in this state hazardous or injurious to its warranty holders or to the public.

(b) Has refused to be examined or to produce its accounts, records, and files for examination, or if any of its officers have refused to give information with respect to its affairs or have refused to perform any other legal obligation as to such examination, when required by the department.

(c) Has failed to pay any final judgment rendered against it in this state within 60 days after the judgment became final.

(d) Has, with such frequency as to indicate its general business practice in this state, and without just cause, refused to pay proper claims arising under its warranties or, without just cause, compels warranty holders to accept less than the amount due them or to employ attorneys or to bring suit against the association to secure full payment or settlement of such claims.

(e) Is affiliated with, and under the same general management, interlocking directorate, or ownership as, another home warranty association which transacts direct warranties in this state without having a license therefor.

(f) Has issued warranty contracts providing coverage for a period in excess of 18 months or has renewed a warranty contract.

(3) The department may, pursuant to s. 120.60, in its discretion and without advance notice or hearing thereon, immediately suspend the license of any home warranty association if it finds that one or more of the following circumstances exist:

- (a) The association is insolvent or impaired.
- (b) The reserve account required by paragraph (1)(b) is not maintained.

(c) Proceedings for receivership, conservatorship, rehabilitation, or other delinquency proceedings regarding the association have been commenced in any state.

(d) The financial condition or business practices of the association otherwise pose an imminent threat to the public health, safety, or welfare of the residents of this state.

(4) Violation of this part by an insurer shall be grounds for suspension or revocation of the insurer's certificate of authority in this state.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339; s. 2, ch. 78-255.

634.309 Procedure to suspend or revoke license.—Except when a hearing is expressly not required under s. 634.308 or s. 120.60, no order suspending or revoking a home warranty association's license shall be effective unless made after notice and hearing pursuant to chapter 120.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.310 Order, notice of suspension or revocation of license; effect; publication.—

(1) Suspension or revocation of a home warranty association's license shall be by order mailed to the association by registered or certified mail. The department shall promptly also give notice of such suspension or revocation to the association's contracting sales agents in this state, of record in the department's office. The association shall not solicit or write any new warranties in this state during the period of any such suspension or revocation.

(2) In its discretion, the department may cause notice of any such revocation or suspension to be published in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in this state.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.311 Duration of suspension; association's obligations during suspension period; reinstatement.—

(1) Suspension of a home warranty association's license shall be for such period, not to exceed 1 year, as is fixed in the order of suspension, unless such suspension, or the order upon which the suspension is based, is modified, rescinded, or reversed.

(2) During the period of suspension, the association shall file its annual statement and pay fees, licenses, and taxes as required under this part as if the license had continued in full force.

(3) Upon expiration of the suspension period, if within such period the license has not otherwise terminated, the association's license shall automatically be reinstated, unless it is determined, upon notice and hearing, that the causes of the suspension have not been removed or that the association is otherwise not in compliance with the requirements of this part.

(4) Upon reinstatement of the association's license, or reinstatement of the certificate of authority of an insurer, following suspension, the authority of the association's contracting sales agents in this state to represent the association or insurer shall likewise be reinstated. The department shall promptly notify the association and its contracting sales agents in this state, of record in its office, of such reinstatement.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.312 Filing, approval of forms.—

(1) No warranty form or related form shall be issued or used in this state unless it has been filed with and approved by the department.

(2) Every such filing shall be made not less than 30 days in advance of issuance or use. At the expiration of 30 days from date of filing, a form so filed shall be deemed approved unless prior thereto it has been affirmatively approved or disapproved by written order of the department.

(3) The department shall not approve any such form unless the warranty contract is limited in duration to no more than 18 months and is not subject to renewal.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.313 Tax on premiums and assessments; annual statement; reports.—

(1) In addition to paying the license taxes provided for in this part for home warranty associations and license taxes provided in the Insurance Code as to insurers, each such association and each such insurer shall, annually on or before March 1, file with the department its annual statement, in the form prescribed by the department, showing all premiums or assessments received by it in connection with the issuance of warranties in this state during the preceding calendar year and using accounting principles which will enable the department to ascertain whether the reserve required by s. 634.308(1)(b) has been maintained. Further, each association and each insurer shall pay to the State Treasurer a tax in an amount equal to 2 percent of the amount of such premiums or assessments so received; however, the same exemptions and credits as set forth in ss. 624.512 and 624.514 of the Insurance Code allowed to insurers shall apply to insurers and home warranty associations under this part.

(2) Premiums and assessments received by insurers and taxed under this section shall not be subject to any premium tax provided for in the Insurance Code.

(3) Any association or insurer neglecting to file the annual statement in the form and within the time provided by this section shall forfeit $100 for each day during which such neglect continues, and, upon notice by the department to that effect, its authority to do business in this state shall cease while such default continues. The department shall deposit all sums collected by it under this section to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

(4) In addition to an annual statement, the department may require of licensees, under oath and in the form prescribed by it, such additional regular or special reports as it may deem necessary to the proper supervision of licensees under this part.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339; s. 243, ch. 79-400.

634.314 Examination of associations.—Home warranty associations licensed under this part shall be subject to periodic examinations by the department, in the same manner and subject to the same terms and conditions as apply to insurers under part II of chapter 624 of the Insurance Code.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.315 Service of process; appointment of Insurance Commissioner as process agent.—

(1) Each association, whether domestic or foreign, applying for authority to transact business in this state shall file with the department, on a form furnished by the department, its appointment of the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer, and his successors in office, as its attorney to receive service of all legal process issued against it in any civil action or proceeding in this state, and agree that process so served shall be valid and binding upon the association. The appointment shall be irrevocable, shall bind the association and any successor in interest as to the assets or liabilities of the association, and shall remain in effect as long as there are outstanding in this state any obligations or liability of the association resulting from its warranty transactions therein.

(2) At the time of appointment of the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer as its process agent, the association shall file with the department a designation of the name and address of the person to whom process against it, served upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer, is to be forwarded. The association may change the designation at any time by a new filing.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.316 Serving process.—

(1) Service of process upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer as process agent of the home warranty association shall be made by serving copies in triplicate of the process upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer or upon his assistant, deputy, or other person in charge of his office. Upon receiving such service, the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer shall file one copy with the department, return one copy with his admission of service, and promptly forward one copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the person last designated by the association to receive the same, as provided under s. 634.315.

(2) Process served upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer, and any copy thereof forwarded as provided in this section, shall for all purposes constitute valid and binding service upon the association.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.317 Registration required.—No person shall solicit, negotiate, advertise, or effectuate home warranty contracts in this state unless such person is registered as a contracting sales agent or is utilized by a contracting sales agent.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.318 Contracting sales agents to be registered.—Every home warranty association or insurer shall, on forms prescribed by the department, register, on or before October 1 of each year, the name and business address of each contracting sales agent utilized by it in Florida and shall, within 30 days after termination of the contract, notify the department of such termination. At the time of said annual registration, a $20 filing fee for each contracting sales agent shall be paid by the warranty association or insurer to the department. Any contracting sales agent utilized subsequent to the October 1 filing date shall be registered with the department within 10 days after such utilization. No employee or contracting sales agent of a home warranty association or insurer shall directly or indirectly solicit or negotiate insurance contracts, or hold himself out in any manner to be an insurance agent or solicitor, unless so qualified and licensed therefor under the Insurance Code.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339; s. 3, ch. 78-255.

634.319 Reporting and accounting for funds.—

(1) All funds belonging to insurers, home warranty associations, or others, received by a contracting sales agent in transactions under his registration shall be trust funds so received by such agent in a fiduciary capacity, and the agent, in the applicable regular course of business, shall account for and pay the same to the insurer, association, warranty holder, or other person entitled thereto.

(2) Any contracting sales agent who, not being entitled thereto, diverts or appropriates such funds or any portion thereof to his own use shall upon conviction be guilty of larceny, punishable as provided in s. 812.021.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.320 Grounds for compulsory refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of contracting sales agents.—The department shall deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any contracting sales agent if it is found that, as to the agent, any one or more of the following applicable grounds exist:

(1) Material misstatement, misrepresentation, or fraud in registration.

(2) The registration is willfully used, or to be used, to circumvent any of the requirements or prohibitions of this part.

(3) Willful misrepresentation of any warranty contract or willful deception with regard to any such contract, done either in person or by any form of dissemination of information or advertising.

(4) In the adjustment of claims arising out of warranties, he has materially misrepresented to a warranty holder or other interested party the terms and coverage of a contract, with the intent and for the purpose of effecting settlement of such claim on less favorable terms than those provided in and contemplated by the contract.

(5) For demonstrated lack of fitness or trustworthiness to engage in the business of warranty.

(6) For demonstrated lack of adequate knowledge and technical competence to engage in the transactions authorized by the registration.

(7) Fraudulent or dishonest practices in the conduct of business under the registration.

(8) Misappropriation, conversion, or unlawful withholding of moneys belonging to an association, insurer, or warranty holder, or to others, and received in the conduct of business under the registration.

(9) For rebating, or attempting to rebate, or for unlawfully dividing, or offering to divide, his commission with another.

(10) Willful failure to comply with, or willful violation of, any proper order or rule of the department or willful violation of any provision of this part.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.321 Grounds for discretionary refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of contracting sales agents.—The department may, in its discretion, deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any contracting sales agent if it is found, after notice and hearing thereon as provided in s. 634.322, that as to the agent any one or more of the following applicable grounds exist under circumstances for which such denial, suspension, revocation, or refusal is not mandatory under s. 634.320:

(1) Any cause for which granting of the registration could have been refused had it then existed and been known to the department.

(2) Violation of any provision of this part, or of any other law applicable to the business of warranties, in the course of dealings under the registration.

(3) Violation of any lawful order or rule of the department.

(4) Failure or refusal to pay over, upon demand, to any home warranty association or insurer he represents or has represented any money coming into his hands, belonging to the association or insurer.

(5) In the conduct of business under the registration, he has engaged in unfair methods of competition or in unfair or deceptive acts or practices, as such methods, acts, or practices are or may be defined under part VII of chapter 626 of the Insurance Code, or has otherwise shown himself to be a source of injury or loss to the public or detrimental to the public interest.

(6) Conviction of a felony.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.322 Procedure for refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of contracting sales agents.—

(1) If any contracting sales agent is convicted by a court of a violation of any provision of this part, the registration of such individual shall thereby be deemed to be immediately revoked without any further procedure relative thereto by the department.

(2) As to a registration denied, suspended, or revoked by the department, the person aggrieved thereby shall have the right to a hearing thereon pursuant to chapter 120.

(3) If, after an investigation or upon other evidence, the department has reason to believe that there may exist any one or more grounds for the suspension or revocation of, or refusal to renew or continue, the registration of any contracting sales agent, as such grounds are specified in ss. 634.320 and 634.321, the department may proceed to suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration, as the case may be.

(4) Whenever it appears that any licensed insurance agent has violated the provisions of this part, the department may take such action relative thereto as is authorized by the Insurance Code as for a violation of the Insurance Code by such agent.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.323 Administrative fine in lieu of suspension or revocation of registration.—

(1) If, pursuant to procedures provided for in this part, it is found that one or more grounds exist for the suspension or revocation of, or refusal to renew or continue, any registration issued under this part, on a first offense, and except when such suspension, revocation, or refusal is mandatory, an order may be entered imposing upon the registrant, in lieu of such suspension, revocation, or refusal, an administrative penalty for each violation in the amount of $100 or, in the event of willful misconduct or willful violation on the part of the registrant, an administrative fine of $500. The administrative penalty may be augmented in amount by an amount equal to any commissions received by or accruing to the credit of the registrant in connection with any transaction to which the grounds for suspension, revocation, or refusal related.

(2) The order may allow the registrant a reasonable period, not to exceed 30 days, within which to pay to the department the amount of the penalty so imposed. If the registrant fails to pay the penalty in its entirety to the department at its office in Tallahassee within the period so allowed, the registration of the registrant shall stand suspended or revoked, or renewal or continuation may be refused, as the case may be, upon expiration of such period and without any further proceedings.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339; s. 244, ch. 79-400.

634.324 Disposition of taxes and fees.—All license taxes, taxes on premiums and assessments, registration fees, and administrative fines and penalties collected under this part from home warranty associations and contracting sales agents shall be deposited to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.325 Insurance business not authorized.—Nothing in this part shall be deemed to authorize any home warranty association to transact any business other than that of home warranty as herein defined or otherwise to engage in the business of insurance, unless such association is authorized therefor as an insurer under a certificate of authority issued by the department under the Insurance Code of this state.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.326 Fronting not permitted.—No authorized insurer or licensed home warranty association shall act as a fronting company for any unauthorized insurer or unlicensed home warranty association. A "fronting company" is an authorized insurer or licensed home warranty association which, by reinsurance or otherwise, generally transfers to one or more unauthorized insurers or unlicensed home warranty associations substantially all of the risk of loss under warranties written by it in this state.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.327 Applicability to warranty on new home.—This part shall not apply to any program offering a warranty on a new home which is underwritten by an insurer licensed to do business in the state when the insurance policy underwriting such program has been filed with and approved by the Department of Insurance as required by law.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.328 Penalty for violation.—Any individual who knowingly makes a false or otherwise fraudulent application for license or registration under this part, or who knowingly violates any provision hereof, shall, in addition to any applicable denial, suspension, or revocation of, or refusal to renew or continue, any license or registration, be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. Each instance of violation shall be considered a separate offense.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-339.

634.329 Dissolution or liquidation.—Any dissolution or liquidation of a corporation subject to the provisions of this part shall be under the supervision of the department, which shall have all powers with respect thereto granted to it under the laws of this state with respect to the dissolution and liquidation of property and casualty insurance companies pursuant to chapter 631.

History.—s. 4, ch. 78-255.

634.401 Definitions.—As used in this part:

(1) "Service warranty association" or "association" means any person, other than an authorized insurer, issuing service warranties.

(2) "Service warranty" means any warranty, guaranty, extended warranty, or extended guaranty, contract agreement, or other written promise under the terms of which there is an undertaking to indemnify against the cost of repair or replacement of a consumer product in return for the payment of a segregated charge by the consumer; however, a maintenance service contract under the terms of which there is no provision for such indemnification and automobile and home warranties subject to regulation under parts I and II of this chapter are expressly excluded from this definition.

(3) "Indemnify" means to undertake repair or replacement of a consumer product, in return for the prepayment of a segregated premium, when such consumer product suffers operational failure.

(4) "Consumer product" means tangible personal property primarily used for personal, family, or household purposes.

(5) "Warrantor" means any person engaged in the sale of service warranties and deriving not more than 50 percent of its gross income from the sale of service warranties.

(6) "Warranty seller" means any person engaged in the sale of service warranties and deriving more than 50 percent of its gross income from the sale of service warranties.

(7) "Insurer" means any property or casualty insurer duly authorized to transact such business in this state.

(8) "Sales representative" means any person utilized by an insurer or service warranty association for the purpose of selling or issuing service warranties and includes any individual possessing a certificate of competency who has the power to legally obligate the insurer or service warranty association or who merely acts as the qualifying agent to qualify the association in instances where a state statute or local ordinance requires a certificate of competency to engage in a particular business. However, in the case of service warranty associations selling service warranties from five or more business locations, the store manager or other person in charge of each such location shall be considered the sales representative.

(9) "Premium" means the consideration received or to be received by an insurer or service warranty association for the issuance and delivery of a service warranty.

(10) "Department" means the Department of Insurance.

(11) "Person" includes an individual, company, corporation, association, insurer, agent, and any other legal entity.

(12) "Insolvent" means unable to pay debts as they become due in the usual course of business.

(13) "Gross written premiums" means the total amount of premiums, inclusive of commissions, for which the association is obligated under service warranties issued in this state.

(14) "Net assets" means the amount by which the total assets of an association exceed the total liabilities of the association. For purposes of this definition, the term "total liabilities" shall not include the capital and surplus of an association.

(15) "Gross income" means the total amount of revenue received in connection with business-related activity.

(16) "Impaired" means having liabilities in excess of assets.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.402 Powers of department; rules.—The department shall administer this part, and to that end it may adopt and enforce rules necessary and proper to effectuate any provision of this part.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.403 License required.—

(1) No person in this state shall provide or offer to provide service warranties unless authorized therefor under a subsisting license issued by the department. The service warranty association shall pay to the department a license fee of $200 for such license for each license year, or part thereof, the license is in force.

(2) An insurer, while authorized to transact property or casualty insurance in this state, may also transact a service warranty business without additional qualifications or authority, but shall be otherwise subject to the applicable provisions of this part.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.404 Qualifications for license.—The department shall not issue a license to any service warranty association unless the association:

(1) Is a solvent association.

(2) Furnishes the department with evidence satisfactory to it that the management of the association is competent and trustworthy and can successfully manage the association's affairs in compliance with law.

(3) Proposes to use and uses in its business a name, together with a trademark or emblem, if any, which is distinctive and not so similar to the name or trademark of any other person already doing business in this state as will tend to mislead or confuse the public.

(4) Makes the deposit or files the bond or letter of credit required under s. 634.405.

(5) Is formed under the laws of Florida or another state, district, territory, or possession of the United States, if the association is other than a natural person.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.405 Required deposit, bond, or letter of credit.—

(1) To assure the faithful performance of its obligations to its members or subscribers in the event of insolvency, each service warranty association shall, prior to the issuance of its license by the department and during such time as the association may have premiums in force in this state, deposit and maintain securities of the type eligible for deposit by insurers under s. 625.52, which securities shall have at all times a market value as follows:

(a) Warrantors.—

1. Any warrantor which has transacted no service warranty business in this state prior to June 14, 1978, shall, prior to the issuance of its license and before receiving any premiums, place in trust with the department an initial amount of $50,000.

2. A warrantor which has less than $300,000 of gross written premiums shall place in trust with the department an amount equal to 50 percent of the gross premiums in force or $50,000, whichever is less.

3. A warrantor which has more than $300,000 but less than $750,000 of gross written premiums in this state shall place in trust with the department an amount not less than $75,000.

4. A warrantor which has $750,000 or more of gross written premiums in this state shall place in trust with the department an amount equal to $100,000.

5. All warrantors, upon receipt of written notice from the department, shall have 30 calendar days in which to make additional deposits.

(b) Warranty sellers.—

1. A warranty seller licensed after June 14, 1978, shall, prior to the issuance of its license, place in trust with the department an amount not less than $100,000.

2. Any warranty seller licensed under part II of this chapter prior to June 14, 1978, shall be required to deposit an amount equal to $75,000 by October 1, 1978, and $100,000 by October 1, 1979.

(2) In lieu of any deposit of securities required under subsection (1) and subject to the department's approval, the service warranty association may file with the department a surety bond issued by an authorized surety insurer or an irrevocable letter of credit from a state or federally chartered bank located in this state. The letter of credit or bond shall be for the same purpose as the deposit in lieu of which it is filed. The department shall not approve any bond or letter of credit under the terms of which the protection afforded against insolvency is not equivalent to the protection afforded by those securities provided for in subsection (1). When a letter of credit or bond is deposited in lieu of the required securities, no warranties may be written which provide coverage for a time period beyond the duration of such letter of credit or bond.

(3) Securities, bonds, and letters of credit posted by an association pursuant to this section shall be for the benefit of and subject to action thereon, in the event of insolvency or impairment of any association or insurer, by any person or persons sustaining an actionable injury due to the failure of the association to faithfully perform its obligations to its warranty holders.

(4) The state shall be responsible for the safekeeping of all securities deposited with the department under this part. Such securities shall not, on account of being in this state, be subject to taxation, but shall be held exclusively and solely to guarantee the association's faithful performance of its obligations to its members or subscribers.

(5) The depositing association shall, during its solvency, have the right to exchange or substitute other securities of like quality and value for securities on deposit, to receive the interest and other income accruing to such securities, and to inspect the deposit at all reasonable times.

(6) Such deposit, bond, or letter of credit shall be maintained unimpaired as long as the association continues in business in this state. Whenever the association ceases to do business in this state and furnishes the department proof satisfactory to the department that it has discharged or otherwise adequately provided for all its obligations to its members or subscribers in this state, the department shall release the deposited securities to the parties entitled thereto, on presentation of the department's receipts for such securities, or shall release any bond or letter of credit filed with it in lieu of such deposit.

634.406 Financial requirements.—

(1) An association licensed under this part shall maintain a funded, unearned premium reserve account equal to a minimum of 25 percent of the gross written premiums. In the case of multi-year contracts offered by associations having net assets of less than $500,000 and for which premiums are collected in advance for coverage in a subsequent year, 100 percent of the premiums for such subsequent years shall be placed in the funded, unearned premium reserve account.

(2) No warrantor shall allow its gross written premiums to exceed a 7 to 1 ratio to net assets.

(3) No warranty seller shall allow its gross written premiums to exceed a 5 to 1 ratio to net assets.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.407 Application for and issuance of license.—

(1) Application for license as a service warranty association shall be made to, and filed with, the department on printed forms as prescribed and furnished by it.

(2) In addition to information relative to its qualifications as required under s. 634.404, the department may require that the application show:

(a) The location of applicant's home office.

(b) The name and residence address of each director or officer of the applicant.

(c) Such other pertinent information as may be required by the department.

(3) The department may require that the application, when filed, be accompanied by:

(a) A copy of the applicant's articles of incorporation, certified by the public official having custody of the original, and a copy of the applicant's bylaws, certified by the applicant's secretary.

(b) A copy of the most recent financial statement of the applicant, verified under oath of at least two of its principal officers.

(c) A license fee in the amount of $200, as required under s. 634.403.

(4) Upon completion of the application for license, the department shall examine the same and make such further investigation of the applicant as it deems advisable. If it finds that the applicant is qualified therefor, the department shall issue to the applicant a license as a service warranty association. If the department does not find the applicant to be qualified, it shall refuse to issue the license and shall give the applicant written notice of such refusal, setting forth the grounds therefor. Any such notice of refusal shall be accompanied by refund of the annual license fee tendered in connection with the application.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.408 License expiration; renewal.—Each license issued to a service warranty association under this part shall expire on September 30 next following the date of issuance. If the association is then qualified therefor under the provisions of this part, its license may be renewed annually, upon its request, and upon payment to the department of the license fee in the amount of $200 in advance for each such license year.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.409 Grounds for suspension or revocation of license.—

(1) The license of any service warranty association may be revoked or suspended, or the department may refuse to renew any such license, if it is determined that the association has violated any lawful order of the department or any provision of this part.

(2) The license of any service warranty association shall be suspended or revoked if it is determined that such association:

(a) Is in an unsound condition, or is in such condition, or using such methods and practices in the conduct of its business, as would render its further transaction of service warranties in this state hazardous or injurious to its warranty holders or to the public.

(b) Has refused to be examined or to produce its accounts, records, and files for examination, or if any of its officers have refused to give information with respect to its affairs or have refused to perform any other legal obligation as to such examination, when required by the department.

(c) Has failed to pay any final judgment rendered against it in this state within 60 days after the judgment became final.

(d) Has, with such frequency as to indicate its general business practice in this state, and without just cause, refused to pay proper claims arising under its service warranties, or, without just cause, has compelled warranty holders to accept less than the amount due them, or to employ attorneys, or to bring suit against the association to secure full payment or settlement of such claims.

(e) Is affiliated with and under the same general management or interlocking directorate or ownership as another service warranty association which transacts direct warranties in this state without having a license therefor.

(3) The department may, pursuant to s. 120.60, in its discretion and without advance notice or hearing thereon, immediately suspend the license of any service warranty association if it finds that one or more of the following circumstances exist:

(a) The association is insolvent or impaired.

(b) The reserve account required by s. 634.406(1) is not maintained.

(c) Proceedings for receivership, conservatorship, rehabilitation, or other delinquency proceedings regarding the association have been commenced in any state.

(d) The financial condition or business practices of the association otherwise pose an imminent threat to the public health, safety, or welfare of the residents of this state.

(4) Violation of this part by an insurer shall be grounds for suspension or revocation of the insurer's certificate of authority in this state.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.410 Procedure to suspend or revoke license.—Unless a hearing is expressly not required under s. 634.409 or s. 120.60, an order suspending or revoking a service warranty association's license shall be effective only after notice and hearing pursuant to chapter 120.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.411 Order; notice of suspension or revocation of license; effect; publication.—

(1) Suspension or revocation of a service warranty association's license shall be by order of the department mailed to the association by registered or certified mail. The department shall also promptly give notice of such suspension or revocation to the association's sales representatives in this state which are of record in the department's office. The association shall not solicit or write any new service warranties in this state during the period of any such suspension or revocation.

(2) In its discretion, the department may cause notice of any such revocation or suspension to be published in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in this state.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.412 Duration of suspension; association's obligations during suspension; reinstatement.—

(1) Suspension of a service warranty association's license shall be for such period, not to exceed 1 year, as is fixed in the order of suspension, unless such suspension or the order upon which the suspension is based is modified, rescinded, or reversed.

(2) During the period of suspension, the association shall file its annual statement and pay fees, licenses, and taxes as required under this part as if the license had continued in full force.

(3) Upon expiration of the suspension period, if within such period the license has not otherwise terminated, the association's license shall automatically be reinstated, unless it is determined, upon notice and hearing, that the causes of the suspension have not been removed, or that the association is otherwise not in compliance with the requirements of this part.

(4) Upon reinstatement of the association's license, or upon reinstatement of the certificate of authority of an insurer, following suspension, the authority of the association's sales representatives in this state to represent the association or insurer shall likewise be reinstated. The department shall promptly notify the association and its sales representatives in this state, which are of record in its office, of such reinstatement.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.413 Administrative fine in lieu of suspension or revocation.—If, upon notice and hearing as provided for in s. 634.410, the department finds that one or more grounds exist for the discretionary revocation or suspension of a certificate of authority issued under this part, the department may, in lieu of such suspension or revocation, impose a fine upon the insurer or service warranty association in an amount not to exceed $1,000 per violation; however, if it is found that an insurer or service warranty association has knowingly and willfully violated a lawful rule or order of the department or a provision of this part, the department may impose a fine upon the insurer or association in an amount not to exceed $10,000 for each violation.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.414 Filing; approval of forms.—

(1) No service warranty form or related form shall be issued or used in this state unless it has been filed with and approved by the department.

(2) Each filing shall be made not less than 30 days in advance of its issuance or use. At the expiration of 30 days from date of filing, a form so filed shall be deemed approved unless prior thereto it has been affirmatively disapproved by written order of the department.

(3) Each service warranty contract shall contain a cancellation provision. In the event the contract is canceled by the warranty holder, return of premium shall be based upon 90 percent of unearned pro-rata premium less any claims that have been paid. In the event the contract is canceled by the association, return of premium shall be based upon 100 percent of unearned pro-rata premium.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.415 Tax on premiums and assessments; annual statement; reports; quarterly statements.—

(1) In addition to the license fees provided in this part for service warranty associations and license taxes as provided in the Insurance Code as to insurers, each such association and insurer shall, annually on or before March 1, file with the department its annual statement, in the form prescribed by the department, showing all premiums or assessments received by it in connection with the issuance of service warranties in this state during the preceding calendar year and using accounting principles which will enable the department to ascertain whether the financial requirements set forth in s. 634.406 have been satisfied. If, after notice and hearing as provided for in chapter 120, the department demonstrates that the income derived from the license fees provided for herein is insufficient to pay the costs of administering this part, the department may impose a premium tax of not more than 0.5 percent of the gross written premiums of all service warranty associations licensed to do business in this state.

(2) Premiums and assessments received by insurers shall be subject to any premium tax provided for in the Insurance Code.

(3) Any association or insurer neglecting to file the annual statement in the form and within the time provided by this section shall forfeit $100 for each day during which such neglect continues, and, upon notice by the department to that effect, its authority to do business in this state shall cease while such default continues. The department shall deposit all sums collected by it under this section to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

(4) In addition to an annual statement, the department may require of licensees, under oath and in the form prescribed by it, quarterly statements or special reports which it deems necessary to the proper supervision of licensees under this part.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.416 Examination of associations.—Service warranty associations licensed under this part shall be subject to periodic examination by the department, in the same manner and subject to the same terms and conditions that apply to insurers under part II of chapter 624.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.417 Service of process; appointment of Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer as process agent.—

(1) Each service warranty association applying for authority to transact business in this state, whether domestic or foreign, shall file with the department, on a form furnished by the department, its appointment of the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer, and his successors in office, as its attorney to receive service of all legal process issued against it in any civil action or proceeding in this state, and shall agree that process so served shall be valid and binding upon the association. The appointment shall be irrevocable, shall bind the association and any successor in interest as to the assets or liabilities of the association, and shall remain in effect as long as there are outstanding in this state any obligations or liabilities of the association resulting from its warranty transactions therein.

(2) At the time of appointment of the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer as its process agent, the association shall file with the department a designation of the name and address of the person to whom process against it, served upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer, is to be forwarded. The association may change the designation at any time by a new filing.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.418 Serving process.—

(1) Service of process upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer as process agent of the service warranty association shall be made by serving copies of the process in triplicate upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer or upon his assistant, deputy, or other person in charge of his office. Upon receiving such service, the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer shall file one copy with the department, return one copy with his admission of service, and promptly forward one copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the person last designated by the association to receive the same, as provided under s. 634.417.

(2) Process served upon the Insurance Commissioner and Treasurer, and any copy thereof forwarded as provided in this section, shall for all purposes constitute valid and binding service upon the association.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.419 Registration required.—No person shall solicit, negotiate, advertise, or effectuate service warranty contracts in this state unless such person is registered as a sales representative or acts under the supervision of a sales representative. Sales representatives shall be responsible for the actions of persons under their supervision.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.420 Sales representatives to be registered.—Each service warranty association or insurer shall, on forms prescribed by the department, register, on or before October 1 of each year, the name and business address of each sales representative utilized by it in Florida and shall, within 30 days after termination of the contract, notify the department of such termination. At the time of said annual registration, a $20 filing fee for each sales representative shall be paid by the service warranty association or insurer to the department. Any sales representative utilized subsequent to the October 1 filing date shall be registered with the department within 10 days after such utilization. No employee or sales representative of a service warranty association or insurer shall directly or indirectly solicit or negotiate insurance contracts, or hold himself out in any manner to be an insurance agent or solicitor, unless so qualified and licensed therefor under the Insurance Code.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.421 Reporting and accounting for funds.—

(1) All funds belonging to insurers, service warranty associations, or others received by a sales representative in transactions under his registration shall be trust funds so received by such agent in a fiduciary capacity, and the agent in the applicable regular course of business shall account for and pay the same to the insurer, association, warranty holder, or other person entitled thereto.

(2) Any sales representative who, not being entitled thereto, diverts or appropriates such funds or any portion thereof to his own use is guilty of larceny, punishable as provided in s. 812.021.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.422 Grounds for compulsory refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of sales representatives.—The department shall deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any sales representative if it is found that, as to the representative, any one or more of the following applicable grounds exist:

(1) Material misstatement, misrepresentation, or fraud in registration.

(2) The registration is willfully used, or to be used, to circumvent any of the requirements or prohibitions of this part.

(3) Willful misrepresentation of any service warranty contract or willful deception with regard to any such contract, done either in person or by any form of dissemination of information or advertising.

(4) In the adjustment of claims arising out of warranties, he has materially misrepresented to a service warranty holder or other interested party the terms and coverage of a contract with the intent and for the purpose of effecting settlement of such claim on less favorable terms than those provided in and contemplated by the contract.

(5) Demonstrated lack of fitness or trustworthiness to engage in the business of service warranty.

(6) Demonstrated lack of adequate knowledge and technical competence to engage in the transactions authorized by the registration.

(7) Fraudulent or dishonest practices in the conduct of business under the registration.

(8) Misappropriation, conversion, or unlawful withholding of moneys belonging to an association, insurer, or warranty holder, or to others and received in the conduct of business under the registration.

(9) Rebating, or attempting to rebate, or unlawfully dividing, or offering to divide, his commission with another.

(10) Willful failure to comply with, or willful violation of, any proper order or rule of the department, or willful violation of any provision of this part.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.423 Grounds for discretionary refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of sales representatives.—The department may deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any sales representative if it is found, after notice and hearing thereon as provided in s. 634.424, that as to the representative any one or more of the following applicable grounds exist under circumstances for which such denial, suspension, revocation, or refusal is not mandatory under s. 634.422:

(1) Any cause for which granting of the registration could have been refused had it then existed and been known to the department.

(2) Violation of any provision of this part, or of any other law applicable to the business of service warranties, in the course of dealings under the registration.

(3) Violation of any lawful order or rule of the department.

(4) Failure or refusal to pay over, upon demand, to any service warranty association or insurer he represents or has represented any money coming into his hands belonging to the association or insurer.

(5) In the conduct of business under the registration, he has engaged in unfair methods of competition or in unfair or deceptive acts or practices, as such methods, acts, or practices are or may be defined under part VII of chapter 626, or has otherwise shown himself to be a source of injury or loss to the public or detrimental to the public interest.

(6) Conviction of a felony.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.424 Procedure for refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of sales representatives.—

(1) If any sales representative is convicted by a court of a violation of any provision of this part, the registration of such individual shall thereby be deemed to be immediately revoked without any further procedure relative thereto by the department.

(2) As to a registration denied, suspended, or revoked by the department, the person aggrieved thereby shall have the right to a hearing thereon pursuant to chapter 120.

(3) If, after an investigation or upon other evidence, the department has reason to believe that there may exist any one or more grounds for the suspension, revocation, or refusal to renew or continue the registration of any sales representative, as such grounds are specified in ss. 634.422 and 634.423, the department may proceed to suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration, as the case may be.

(4) Whenever it appears that any licensed insurance agent has violated the provisions of this part, the department may take such action relative thereto as is authorized by the Insurance Code as for a violation of the Insurance Code by such agent.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.425 Duration of suspension or revocation.—

(1) The department shall, in its order suspending a registration, specify the period during which the suspension is to be in effect, but such period shall not exceed 1 year. The registration shall remain suspended during the period so specified, subject to any rescission or modification of the order by the department prior to expiration of the suspension period. A registration which has been suspended shall not be reinstated except upon request for such reinstatement, but the department shall not grant such reinstatement if it finds that the circumstance or circumstances for which the registration was suspended still exist or are likely to recur.

(2) No person whose registration has been revoked by the department shall have the right to apply for another registration within 2 years from the effective date of such revocation or, if judicial review of such revocation is sought, within 2 years from the date of final court order or decree affirming the revocation. The department, however, shall not grant a new registration if it finds that the circumstance or circumstances for which the previous registration was revoked still exist or are likely to recur.

(3) If registrations as to the same person have been revoked at two separate times, the department shall not thereafter grant or issue any registration as to such person.

(4) During the period of suspension, or after revocation of the registration, the former registrant shall not engage in or attempt to profess to engage in any transaction or business for which a registration is required under this part.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.426 Administrative fine in lieu of suspension or revocation of registration.—

cation, or refusal is mandatory, an order may be entered imposing upon the registrant, in lieu of such suspension, revocation, or refusal, an administrative penalty for each violation in the amount of $100, or in the event of willful misconduct or willful violation on the part of the registrant, an administrative fine of $500 for each violation. The administrative penalty may be augmented by an amount equal to any commissions received by or accruing to the credit of the registrant in connection with any transaction to which the grounds for suspension, revocation, or refusal are related.

(2) The order may allow the registrant a reasonable period, not to exceed 30 days, within which to pay to the department the amount of the penalty so imposed. If the registrant fails to pay the penalty in its entirety to the department at its office in Tallahassee within the period so allowed, the registration of the registrant shall stand suspended or revoked or renewal or continuation may be refused, as the case may be, upon expiration of such period and without any further proceedings.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.427 Disposition of taxes and fees.—All license fees, taxes on premiums and assessments, registration fees, and administrative fines and penalties collected under this part from service warranty associations and sales representatives shall be deposited to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.428 Insurance business not authorized.—Nothing in this part shall be deemed to authorize any service warranty association to transact any business other than that of service warranty as herein defined, or otherwise to engage in the business of insurance unless such association is authorized therefor as an insurer under a certificate of authority issued by the department under the Insurance Code.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.429 Fronting not permitted.—No authorized insurer or licensed service warranty association shall act as a fronting company for any unauthorized insurer or unlicensed service warranty association. A fronting company is an authorized insurer or licensed service warranty association which, by reinsurance or otherwise, generally transfers to one or more unauthorized insurers or unlicensed service warranty associations substantially all of the risk of loss under warranties written by it in this state.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.430 Dissolution or liquidation.—Any dissolution or liquidation of an association subject to the provisions of this part shall be under the supervision of the department, which shall have all powers with respect thereto granted to it under the laws of the state with respect to the dissolution and liquidation of property and casualty companies pursuant to chapter 631.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

634.431 Penalty for violation.—Except as otherwise provided in this part, any person who knowingly makes a false or otherwise fraudulent application for license or registration under this part, or who knowingly violates any provision hereof, in addition to being subject to any applicable denial, suspension, revocation, or refusal to renew or continue any license or registration, is guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. Each instance of violation shall be considered a separate offense.

History.—s. 5, ch. 78-255.

CHAPTER 635

MORTGAGE GUARANTY INSURANCE

- 635.011 Definitions.
- 635.021 Authority to transact business.
- 635.031 Additional limitations.
- 635.041 Contingency reserve.
- 635.051 Licensing of mortgage guaranty insurance agents.
- 635.061 Premium cost.
- 635.071 Filings, approval of forms, rate filings.
- 635.081 Administration and enforcement.

635.011 Definitions.—In this act unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires:

(1) "Mortgage guaranty insurance" means a form of casualty or surety insurance insuring lenders against:

(a) Financial loss by reason of nonpayment of principal, interest, and other sums agreed to be paid under the terms of any note, bond, or other evidence of indebtedness secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument constituting a lien or charge on real estate which contains a residential building or a building designed to be occupied for industrial or commercial purposes.

(b) Financial loss by reason of nonpayment of rent and other sums agreed to be paid under the terms of a written lease for the possession, use, or occupancy of real estate, provided such real estate is designed to be occupied for industrial or commercial purposes.

(2) "Contingency reserve" means an additional premium reserve established for the protection of policyholders against the effect of adverse economic cycles.

(3) "Department" means the Department of Insurance.

History.—s. 1, ch. 59-182; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 71-151; s. 269, ch. 71-377.

635.021 Authority to transact business.—Mortgage guaranty insurance may be transacted by a stock casualty insurer or a stock surety insurer holding a certificate of authority for the transaction of insurance in this state.

History.—s. 2, ch. 59-182.

635.031 Additional limitations.—In addition to laws otherwise applicable, mortgage guaranty insurers shall be subject to the following limitations:

(1) No such insurer shall retain risk as to any one subject of insurance in any amount exceeding 10 percent of its surplus as to policyholders. In determining amount of risk retained, applicable reinsurance in any assuming insurer authorized to transact insurance in this state or approved by the department shall be deducted from the total direct risk insured.

(2) Mortgage guaranty insurance shall be written with respect to real estate loans only on those loans which a bank, a savings and loan association, or an insurance company regulated by this state or an agency of the federal government could make.

History.—s. 3, ch. 59-182; s. 1, ch. 63-428; s. 1, ch. 65-494; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 2, ch. 71-151.

635.041 Contingency reserve.—

(1) Each mortgage guaranty insurer shall establish a special contingency reserve out of net premiums (gross premiums less premiums returned to policyholders) remaining after establishment of the unearned premium reserve. To such contingency reserve the insurer shall contribute an amount equal to 50 percent of such remaining premiums.

(2) Subject to the department's approval, the contingency reserve shall be available for loss payments only when the insurer's incurred losses in any one calendar year exceed the rate formula expected losses by 10 percent of the corresponding earned premiums.

(3) In event of release of the contingency reserve for payment of losses, as approved by the department, the contributions required under subsection (1), shall be treated on a first-in-first-out basis.

(4) The contingency reserve pertaining to a particular insurance policy shall be maintained (subject to prior payment of losses therefrom as provided in subsection (3)) for the term of the policy.

History.—s. 4, ch. 59-182; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

635.051 Licensing of mortgage guaranty insurance agents.—

(1) Agents of mortgage guaranty insurers shall be licensed, and be subject to the same qualifications and requirements, as apply to general lines agents under the laws of this state, except:

(a) That no particular preliminary specialized education or training shall be required of an applicant for such an agent's license if, as part of the application for license, the insurer guarantees that the applicant will receive the necessary training to enable him properly to hold himself out to the public as a mortgage guaranty insurance agent, and if the department, in its discretion, accepts such guaranty;

(b) The agent's license shall be a limited license, limited to the handling of mortgage guaranty insurance only; and

(c) An examination may be required of an applicant for such a license in the discretion of the department.

(2) Any general lines agent shall qualify to represent a mortgage guaranty insurer without additional examination.

(3) The department shall charge and collect the same applicable license taxes and fees for or in connection with such application and license as apply to general lines agents. The department shall deposit such license taxes and fees in such funds and for such uses as is provided by laws applicable to like license taxes and like fees in the case of general lines agents.

History.—s. 5, ch. 59-182; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

635.061 Premium cost.—The premium cost of mortgage guaranty insurance shall not be deemed for any purpose to constitute a part of the cost of or interest upon any mortgage loan.

History.—s. 6, ch. 59-182.

635.071 Filings, approval of forms, rate filings.—

(1) No policy form or related form shall be issued or used in this state unless it has been filed with and approved by the department as provided by laws applicable to casualty or surety insurance.

(2) In addition, each insurer shall file with the department the rate to be charged and the premium including all modifications of rates and premiums to be paid by the policyholder.

History.—s. 7, ch. 59-182; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

635.081 Administration and enforcement.—

The department shall have the same powers of administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act, and to make rules and regulations for the effectuation of any provisions of this act, as it has with respect to casualty or surety insurers in general under the insurance laws of this state.

History.—s. 8, ch. 59-182; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.011 Optometric service plan corporations.—

(1) Any 30 or more persons wishing to form a corporation for the purpose of establishing, maintaining and operating a nonprofit optometric service plan or plans in the state whereby optometric service or care may be provided in whole or in part by the said corporation, or by optometrists participating in such service plan or plans, to such of the public as become subscribers to said plan or plans under a contract or contracts with such corporation may become incorporated under laws of Florida governing the incorporation of benevolent or charitable associations and similar corporations not for profit, and any such corporation heretofore or hereafter incorporated, whose charter or certificate of incorporation has or shall have the consent or approval of the Department of Insurance of the state, shall be governed by this chapter and subject to regulation and supervision by the department and to all provisions of the Laws of Florida applicable to health or disability insurance, except as otherwise provided by this chapter. The term "optometric service plan" as used in this chapter includes the contracting for the payment of fees toward, or the furnishing of, professional services or ophthalmic materials authorized or permitted to be furnished by a duly licensed doctor of optometry.

(2) Every corporation licensed under provisions of this chapter is hereby declared to be a charitable and benevolent institution.

History.—s. 1, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.021 Incorporation.—

(1) Any nonprofit optometric service plan corporation shall be incorporated under the provisions of the laws of the state governing the incorporation of benevolent or charitable associations and similar corporations not for profit, except when such provisions are in conflict with the provisions of this chapter, and every charter or certificate of such corporation shall have endorsed thereon or annexed thereto the consent of the Department of Insurance of the state.

(2) The directors of every such optometric service plan corporation must at all times include representatives of the licensed optometrists and the general public.

(3) At least a majority of the directors of every such optometric service plan corporation must at all times be licensed optometrists.

History.—s. 2, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.031 Contracts.—The rates charged by such corporation to the subscribers for optometric care shall at all times be subject to the approval of the Department of Insurance of the state.

History.—s. 3, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.041 License.—

(1) No corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall issue contracts to subscribers until the Department of Insurance has, by formal certificate or license, authorized it to do so. Application for such certificate of authority or license shall be made on forms to be supplied by the department and containing such information as it shall deem necessary.

(2) Each application for such certificate of authority or license, as a part thereof, shall be accompanied by copies of the following documents, duly certified to by at least two of the executive officers of such corporation:

(a) Charter or certificate of incorporation, with all amendments thereto.

(b) Bylaws, with all amendments thereto.

(c) Proposed contracts between the corporation and any party for the furnishing of or the payment in whole or in part for optometric services furnished the subscribers by duly licensed optometrists.

(d) Proposed contracts to be issued to subscribers to the plan showing the benefits to which they are entitled, together with a table of the rates charged, or proposed to be charged, to subscribers for each form of such contract.

(e) Financial statement of the corporation, which shall include the amounts of each contribution paid or agreed to be paid to the corporation having working capital, the name or names of each contributor, and the terms of each contribution.

(3)(a) The Department of Insurance shall issue a certificate of authority or license to each applicant upon the payment of the fees provided for in s. 624.501 and upon being satisfied as to the following:

1. That the applicant has been organized bona fide for the purpose of establishing, maintaining, and operating a nonprofit optometric service plan.

2. That each contract executed or proposed to be executed by the applicant and the optometrist obligates, or will when executed obligate, each optometrist thereto to render the service or accept payment for the service to which each subscriber may be entitled under the terms of the contract issued to the subscriber.

3. That each contract issued or proposed to be issued to subscribers to the plan is in a form approved by the department and that the rates charged or proposed to be charged for each form of such contract and benefits to be provided are fair and reasonable.

4. That no contributions to the funds of the corporation for working capital are repayable by the corporation except out of earned income over and above operating expenses and optometric expenses and such reserve as the department may deem adequate.

5. That the amount of money actually received by the applicant upon the terms specified in subparagraph 4., for working capital, is sufficient to carry all acquisition costs and operating expenses for a period of at least 3 months from the date of the issuance of the certificate of authority or license.

(b) Such certificate of authority or license shall be effective until revoked by the department as hereinafter provided, and any corporation to which such certificate of authority or license has been issued shall, until revocation thereof, be authorized to issue contracts, in the form or forms filed with the department, to the persons who may become subscribers.

History.—s. 4, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.051 Charter, bylaws, contracts, rates; amendments, approval by Department of Insurance.—No corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall amend its charter or certificate of incorporation, its bylaws, the terms and provisions of contracts executed or to be executed with optometrists, or the terms and provisions of contracts issued or proposed to be issued to subscribers until such proposed amendments have been first submitted to and approved by the Department of Insurance; nor shall any change be made in the table of rates charged or proposed to be charged to subscribers for any form of contract issued or to be issued until such proposed charge has been submitted to and approved by the Department of Insurance. Upon the adoption of any amendment or change, and following its approval by the department, such corporation shall file a copy thereof with the insurance department duly certified by at least two of the executive officers of such corporation.

History.—s. 5, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.061 Annual reports or statements.—Every corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall annually on or before March 1, file in the office of the Department of Insurance a statement verified by at least two of the principal officers of said corporation showing its condition on December 31 next preceding, which shall be in such form and contain such matters as the Department of Insurance shall prescribe.

History.—s. 6, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.071 Examination.—The Department of Insurance, any agent or examiner of the department, or any other person whom the department appoints shall have the power of visitation and examination into the affairs of any such corporation and free access to all of the books, papers, and documents that relate to the business of the corporation, and may summon and qualify witnesses under oath and examine its officers, agents, and employees or other persons in relation to the affairs, transactions, and condition of the corporation. The corporation whose affairs are examined shall pay to the Department of Insurance the traveling and other expenses of examination pursuant to s. 624.320.

History.—s. 7, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.081 Acquisition costs.—All acquisition costs in connection with the solicitation of subscribers to such service plan or plans shall at all times be subject to the approval of the Department of Insurance.

History.—s. 8, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.091 Investments and funds.—The funds of any corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall be invested only in securities permitted by the laws of the state for the investment of assets of life insurance companies.

History.—s. 9, ch. 67-352.

637.101 Review of dispute.—Any dispute arising between a corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter and any optometrist with whom such corporation has a contract as provided herein may be submitted to the Department of Insurance for its decision with respect thereto.

History.—s. 10, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

637.111 Dissolution or liquidation.—Any dissolution or liquidation of a corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall be under the supervision of the Department of Insurance, which shall have all powers with respect thereto granted to it under the laws of the state with respect to the dissolution and liquidation of life insurance companies.

History.—s. 11, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.121 Revocation of license.—Whenever the Department of Insurance shall have reason to believe that any corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter is being operated for profit or fraudulently conducted or is not complying with the provisions of this chapter, it shall be authorized to suspend or revoke the certificate of authority or license theretofore granted and may at any time thereafter institute or cause to be instituted the necessary proceedings under the laws of the state relating to the dissolution of insurance companies, and any dissolution or liquidation of a corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall be under the supervision of the Department of Insurance.

History.—s. 12, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

637.131 Licenses and taxes.—

(1) Every corporation licensed under this chapter, its representatives, and all of its properties and funds shall be exempt from all taxes and license fees; provided, that such corporation shall be subject to the same license fees and premium receipt taxes imposed by general law upon and against and payable by fraternal benefit societies operating under the provisions of chapter 632, and with respect to the computation of such premium receipt taxes and for the purpose of this provision only, the "rates" paid by subscribers as provided herein shall be construed as "premiums" and the "contract" provided herein shall be construed as "policy."

(2) If the charter or certificate of incorporation specifies among its purposes the establishment, maintenance, and operation of an optometric service plan, it shall be referred to the Department of Insurance, and such charter or certificate shall not be filed until the consent of the Department of Insurance shall be endorsed thereon and annexed thereto.

History.—s. 13, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.
cf.—s. 212.08 Sales, rental, storage, use tax; specified exemptions.

637.141 Regulation of employees or representatives of optometric service corporations.—

Every representative or employee of any corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter who sells or writes certificates for optometric service for said corporation shall be registered by said corporation with the Department of Insurance. Said registration shall be on forms prescribed by the Department of Insurance and shall show such information as may be requested by it. Said registration shall be made on or before the date of employment by said corporation of said representative or employee. In addition to the foregoing described registration, the corporation shall pay to the Department of Insurance a permit fee of $6 for each such representative or employee and a like amount October 1 of each year thereafter; provided, that said permit fee shall be only $3 in case the said representative or employee is not employed prior to April 1 of the then current year. No such permit shall be transferable from one person or corporation to another, and such permit shall be revocable by the Department of Insurance for cause.

History.—s. 14, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 21, ch. 78-95; s. 167, ch. 79-164.

637.151 Preexisting service plan corporations.—No nonprofit corporation organized under the laws of this state prior to July 11, 1967, to operate an optometric service plan or plans in the state or any of the counties thereof, whose charter or certificate of incorporation has, prior to July 11, 1967, been approved or consented to by the insurance commissioner of the state, shall be required to incorporate or reincorporate as provided herein, but every such corporation desiring to operate such a plan or plans statewide shall file with the insurance commissioner its acceptance of part I of this chapter within 6 months from July 1, 1967, and every such corporation so accepting part I shall continue and shall have all the powers, authority and exemptions of part I and be subject to all the provisions thereof; provided, however, that the provisions of part I of this chapter shall not apply to organized nonprofit corporations herein defined and heretofore existing whose charter and bylaws have not been filed with, or which have not received a certificate of authority or license from, the insurance commissioner of the state prior to July 11, 1967, nor to such corporations which are now in operation and have heretofore operated within the confines of a single county.

History.—s. 15, ch. 67-352.
cf.—s. 212.08 Sales, rental, storage, use tax; specified exemptions.

637.161 Penalties.—

(1) Any person or corporation engaging in the business of operating a nonprofit optometric service plan without first having procured a license from the Department of Insurance, as required by this part, and any person or corporation violating any of the provisions of this part shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(2) Any person making any willfully false statements in any written documents required by any section of this chapter to be filed with the Department of Insurance or any examiner at any investigation or hearing conducted by said Department of Insurance or examiner shall be guilty of perjury.

History.—s. 16, ch. 67-352; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 661, ch. 71-136.

- 637.311 Preexisting service plan corporation.
- 637.321 Penalties.

637.171 Pharmaceutical service plan corporations.—

(1) Any 30 or more persons wishing to form a corporation for the purpose of establishing, maintaining, and operating a nonprofit pharmaceutical service plan or plans in this state whereby pharmaceutical service or care may be provided in whole or in part by the said corporation, or by pharmacists participating in such service plan or plans, to such of the public as become subscribers to said plan or plans under a contract or contracts with such corporation may become incorporated under laws of Florida governing the incorporation of benevolent or charitable associations and similar corporations not for profit, and any such corporation heretofore or hereafter incorporated, whose charter or certificate of incorporation has or shall have the consent or approval of the Department of Insurance of the state, shall be governed by this chapter and subject to regulation and supervision by the Department of Insurance and to all provisions of the laws of Florida applicable to health or disability insurance, except as otherwise provided by this chapter. The term "pharmaceutical service plan" as used in this chapter includes the contracting for the payment of fees toward, or the furnishing of, professional services and pharmaceutical products authorized or permitted to be furnished or dispensed by a duly licensed pharmacist.

(2) Every corporation licensed under provisions of this chapter is hereby declared to be a charitable and benevolent institution.

History.—s. 1, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.181 Incorporation.—

(1) Any nonprofit pharmaceutical service plan corporation shall be incorporated under the provisions of the laws of the state governing the incorporation of benevolent or charitable associations and similar corporations not for profit, except when such provisions are in conflict with the provisions of this chapter, and every charter or certificate of such corporation shall have endorsed thereon or annexed thereto the consent of the Department of Insurance.

(2) The directors of such pharmaceutical service plan corporation must at all times include representatives of the licensed pharmacists and the general public.

(3) At least a majority of the directors of every such pharmaceutical service plan corporation must at all times be licensed pharmacists.

History.—s. 2, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.191 Contracts.—The rates charged by such corporation to the subscribers for pharmaceutical care shall at all times be subject to the approval of the Department of Insurance of the state.

History.—s. 3, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.201 License.—

(1) No corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall issue contracts to subscribers until the Department of Insurance has, by formal certificate or license, authorized it to do so. Application for such certificate of authority or license shall be made on forms to be supplied by the Department of Insurance and containing such information as it shall deem necessary.

(2) Each application for such certificate of authority or license, as a part thereof, shall be accompanied by copies of the following documents, duly certified to by at least two of the executive officers of such corporation:

(a) Charter or certificate of incorporation, with all amendments thereto.

(b) Bylaws, with all amendments thereto.

(c) Proposed contracts between the corporation and any party for the furnishing of or the payment in whole or in part for pharmaceutical services and pharmaceutical products furnished or dispensed to the subscribers by duly licensed pharmacists.

(d) Proposed contracts to be issued to subscribers to the plan showing the benefits to which they are entitled, together with a table of the rates charged, or proposed to be charged, to subscribers for each form of such contract.

(e) Financial statement of the corporation which shall include the amounts of each contribution paid or agreed to be paid to the corporation having working capital, the name or names of each contributor, and the terms of each contribution.

(3)(a) The Department of Insurance shall issue a certificate of authority or license to each applicant upon the payment of the fees provided for in s. 624.501 and upon being satisfied as to the following:

1. That the applicant has been organized bona fide for the purpose of establishing, maintaining, and operating a nonprofit pharmaceutical service plan.

2. That each contract executed or proposed to be executed by the applicant and the pharmacist obligates, or will when executed obligate, each pharmacist thereto to render the service or accept payment for the service to which each subscriber may be entitled under the terms of the contract issued to the subscriber.

3. That each contract issued or proposed to be issued to subscribers to the plan is in a form approved by the Department of Insurance and that the rates charged or proposed to be charged for each form of such contract and benefits to be provided are fair and reasonable.

4. That no contributions to the funds of the corporation for working capital are repayable by the corporation except out of earned income over and above operating expenses and pharmaceutical expenses and such reserve as the Department of Insurance may deem adequate.

5. That the amount of money actually received by the applicant upon the terms specified in subparagraph 4., for working capital, is sufficient to carry all acquisition costs and operating expenses for a period of at least 3 months from the date of the issuance of the certificate of authority or license.

(b) Such certificate of authority or license shall be effective until revoked by the Department of Insurance as hereinafter provided, and any corporation to which such certificate of authority or license has been issued shall, until revocation thereof, be authorized to issue contracts, in the form or forms filed with the Department of Insurance, to the persons who may become subscribers.

History.—s. 4, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.211 Charter, bylaws, contracts, rates; amendments, approval by Department of Insurance.—No corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall amend its charter or certificate of incorporation, its bylaws, the terms and provisions of contracts executed or to be executed with pharmacists, or the terms and provisions of contracts issued or proposed to be issued to subscribers until such proposed amendments have been first submitted to and approved by the Department of Insurance; nor shall any change be made in the table of rates charged or proposed to be charged to subscribers for any form of contract issued or to be issued until such proposed charge has been submitted to and approved by the Department of Insurance. Upon the adoption of any amendment or charge, and following its approval by the Department of Insurance, such corporation shall file a copy thereof with the Department of Insurance, duly certified by at least two of the executive officers of such corporation.

History.—s. 5, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.221 Annual reports or statements.—Every corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall annually on or before March 1, file in the office of the Department of Insurance a statement verified by at least two of the principal officers of said corporation showing its condition on December 31 next preceding, which shall be in such form and shall contain such matters as the Department of Insurance shall prescribe.

History.—s. 6, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.231 Examination.—The Department of Insurance, any agent or examiner of the department, or any other person whom the department appoints shall have the power of visitation and examination into the affairs of any such corporation and free access to all of the books, papers and documents that relate to the business of the corporation, and may summon and qualify witnesses under oath and examine its officers, agents, and employees or other persons in relation to the affairs, transactions and condition of the corporation. The corporation whose affairs are examined shall pay to the Department of Insurance the traveling and other expenses of examination pursuant to s. 624.320.

History.—s. 7, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.241 Acquisition costs.—All acquisition costs in connection with the solicitation of subscribers to such service plan or plans shall at all times be subject to the approval of the Department of Insurance.

History.—s. 8, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.251 Investments and funds.—The funds of any corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall be invested only in securities permitted by the laws of the state for the investment of assets of life insurance companies.

History.—s. 9, ch. 67-587.

637.261 Review of dispute.—Any dispute arising between a corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter and any pharmacist with whom such corporation has a contract as provided herein may be submitted to the Department of Insurance for its decision with respect thereto.

History.—s. 10, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

637.271 Dissolution or liquidation.—Any dissolution or liquidation of a corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall be under the supervision of the Department of Insurance, which shall have all powers with respect thereto granted to it under the laws of the state with respect to the dissolution and liquidation of life insurance companies.

History.—s. 11, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

637.281 Revocation of license.—Whenever the Department of Insurance shall have reason to believe that any corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter is being operated for profit or fraudulently conducted or is not complying with the provisions of this chapter, it shall be authorized to suspend or revoke the certificate of authority or license theretofore granted and may at any time thereafter institute or cause to be instituted the necessary proceedings under the laws of the state relating to the dissolution of insurance companies, and any dissolution or liquidation of a corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall be under the supervision of the Department of Insurance.

637.291 Licenses and taxes.—

(1) Every corporation licensed under this chapter, its representatives, and all of its properties and funds shall be exempt from all taxes and license fees; provided, that such corporation shall be subject to the same license fees and premium receipt taxes imposed by general law upon and against and payable by fraternal benefit societies operating under the provisions of chapter 632, and with respect to the computation of such premium receipt taxes and for the purpose of this provision only, the "rates" paid by subscribers as provided herein shall be construed as "premiums" and the "contract" provided herein shall be construed as "policy."

(2) If the charter or certificate of incorporation specifies among its purposes the establishment, maintenance, and operation of a pharmaceutical service plan, it shall be referred to the Department of Insurance, and such charter or certificate shall not be filed until the consent of the Department of Insurance shall be endorsed thereon and annexed thereto.

History.—s. 13, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

cf.—s. 212.08 Sales, rental, storage, use tax; specified exemptions.

637.301 Regulation of employees or representatives of pharmaceutical service corporations.—Every representative or employee of any corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter who sells or writes certificates for pharmaceutical service for said corporation shall be registered by said corporation with the Department of Insurance. Said registration shall be on forms prescribed by the Department of Insurance and shall show such information as may be requested by the department. Said registration shall be made on or before the date of employment by said corporation of said representative or employee. In addition to the foregoing described registration, the corporation shall pay to the department a permit fee of $6 for each such representative or employee and a like amount October 1 of each year thereafter; provided, that said permit fee shall be only $3 in case the said representative or employee is not employed prior to April 1 of the then current year. No such permit shall be transferable from one person or corporation to another, and such permit shall be revocable by the department for cause.

History.—s. 14, ch. 67-587; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 21, ch. 78-95; s. 168, ch. 79-164.

637.311 Preexisting service plan corporation.—No nonprofit corporation organized under the laws of this state prior to August 4, 1967, to operate a pharmaceutical service plan or plans in the state or any of the counties thereof, whose charter or certificate of incorporation has, prior to August 4, 1967, been approved or consented to by the Insurance Commissioner of the state, shall be required to incorporate or reincorporate as provided herein, but every such corporation desiring to operate such a plan or plans statewide shall file with the Insurance Commissioner its acceptance of part II of this chapter within 6 months from July 1, 1967, and every such corporation so accepting part II shall continue and shall have all the powers, authority, and exemptions of part II of this chapter and be subject to all the provisions thereof; provided, however, that the provisions of this part shall not apply to organized nonprofit corporations herein defined and heretofore existing whose charter and bylaws have not been filed with, or which have not received a certificate of authority or license from, the Insurance Commissioner of the state prior to August 4, 1967, nor to such corporations which are now in operation and have heretofore operated within the confines of a single county.

History.—s. 15, ch. 67-587.

cf.—s. 212.08 Sales, rental, storage, use tax; specified exemptions.

637.321 Penalties.—

(1) Any person or corporation engaging in the business of operating a nonprofit pharmaceutical service plan without first having procured a license from the Department of Insurance, as required by this part, and any person or corporation violating any of the provisions of this part, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(2) Any person making any willfully false statements in any written documents required by any section of this chapter to be filed with the Department of Insurance or any examiner at any investigation or hearing conducted by said Department of Insurance or examiner shall be guilty of perjury.

638.011 Declaration of policy.—It shall be deemed contrary to public policy if any person receives, holds, controls, or manages funds or proceeds received from the sale of or from a contract to sell preneed ambulance service, whether the payments for same are made outright or on an installment basis, prior to the need of the service by persons so purchasing it, or for whom it is purchased, unless such person holds, controls, or manages such funds, subject to the limitations and regulations prescribed by the following sections.

History.—s. 1, ch. 61-387.

638.021 Definitions.—As used in this act:

(1) "Ambulance service association" or "association" means any person (other than an authorized insurer) issuing ambulance service contracts as herein defined.

(2) "Insurer" means any property or casualty insurer duly authorized to transact such business in this state.

(3) "Ambulance service contract" or "preneed ambulance service contract" means any contract or agreement whereby, for an agreed premium or specified consideration paid in advance or by installments, any person undertakes to compensate or indemnify the contract or agreement holder for any type ambulance service or undertakes to provide any type ambulance service on a preneed basis.

(4) "Salesman" means any person employed or otherwise retained by an insurer or ambulance service association for the purpose of selling or issuing ambulance service contracts.

(5) "Department" means the Department of Insurance.

(6) "Person" includes an individual, insurer, company, association, organization, Lloyds, society, reciprocal insurer or interinsurance, exchange, partnership, syndicate, business trust, corporation, agent, general agent, broker, solicitor, service representative, adjuster and every legal entity.

History.—s. 2, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 270, ch. 71-377.

638.031 Powers of department; rules.—The Department of Insurance shall administer this act and to that end it may adopt, promulgate, and enforce rules and regulations necessary and proper to effectuate any provisions of this act.

History.—s. 3, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.041 Certificate of authority required.—

(1) No person shall receive, hold, control, or manage any funds tendered as payment on any ambulance service contract until such person is possessed of a certificate of authority, or renewal thereof, issued by the Department of Insurance under the circumstances hereinafter stated. An original certificate of authority shall expire on March 1 succeeding its issuance, and annually thereafter, or before March 1, a renewal thereof shall be issued under conditions herein set forth.

(2) An insurer while authorized to transact property or casualty insurance in this state may transact an ambulance service contract business without additional qualification or authority, but otherwise subject to the applicable provisions of this act.

History.—s. 4, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.051 Certificate of authority; annual statement; renewal.—

(1) An application to the Department of Insurance for a certificate of authority shall be accompanied by the statement and other matters described below and by the deposit required by s. 638.081. Annually thereafter on or before March 1, such person shall file said statement, as of January 1 of the calendar year in which it is filed, and such other information and data which may be required by the Department of Insurance.

(2) Such statement shall be in such form as shall evidence to the department the following:

(a) The types of ambulance service contracts proposed to be written; and if a person is bound upon the effective date of this act by any ambulance service contract, or if the statement accompanies an application for a renewal of a certificate of authority, an itemization of all outstanding ambulance service contracts, the dates upon which such contracts were entered, the names of all parties involved in such contracts or having any right thereunder, the amount paid in on each contract, and if payments are not completed, the amounts intended to be paid on each contract.

(b) Name and address of place of business of person offering to write ambulance service contracts.

(c) That such person offering the statement had sufficient funds available during the calendar year to perform his obligations under his contracts; and that he has complied with this act and any rules and regulations of the department.

(d) Such other information as may be considered necessary by the department in order for it to meet its responsibilities under this act.

(3) Any statement presented shall be certified by an independent certified public accountant, except that any insurer required to file statements under chapter 624 may include therein any statement of business written under this act.

(4) The fee payable to the department for issuance of the original certificate and each annual renewal thereof shall be $100, which sum shall accompany each application for original certificate and thereafter each annual statement.

(5) Upon the department's being satisfied that the statement and matters which may accompany it meet the requirements of this act and of its rules and regulations, it shall issue to such person said certificate of authority or renewal thereof.

History.—s. 5, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.061 Capital funds required.—Any person applying for his original certificate of authority in this state after the effective date of this act or continuing such original certificate of authority, shall possess and thereafter maintain unimpaired paid-in capital or paid-in capital stock (if a stock association) or unimpaired surplus (if a foreign mutual or foreign reciprocal association) or a net trust fund (if a business trust association) in amount not less than $25,000, and shall possess when first so authorized such additional surplus as is required under s. 638.071.

History.—s. 6, ch. 61-387.

638.071 Special surplus requirements.—In addition to the paid-in capital funds required in s. 638.061, any person hereafter applying for an initial certificate of authority in this state shall possess a surplus of $20,000, which after the issuance of its initial certificate of authority such person may use the special surplus required under this section in the normal course of business only.

History.—s. 7, ch. 61-387.

638.081 Required deposit or bond.—

(1) To assure the faithful performance of its obligations to its members or subscribers every ambulance service association shall, prior to issuance of its license by the Department of Insurance, deposit with the department securities of the type eligible for deposit by insurers under s. 625.52, of the Insurance Code, and having at all times a market value of not less than $20,000; except that any such association doing such a business in this state on or before April 1, 1961, shall on or before October 1, 1961, so deposit such securities in the value of not less than $10,000, and on or before October 1, 1962, so deposit additional such securities having a value of not less than $10,000, in order to bring its total deposit of securities to a value of not less than $20,000 not later than October 1, 1962.

(2) In lieu of any deposit of securities required under subsection (1), the association may file with the department a surety bond in like amount. The bond shall be one issued by an authorized surety insurer, shall be for the same purpose as the deposit in lieu of which it is filed, and shall be subject to the department's approval. No such bond shall be canceled or subject to cancellation unless at least 30 days' advance notice thereof in writing is filed with the department.

(3) The state shall be responsible for the safekeeping of all securities deposited with the department under this act. Such securities shall not, on account of being in this state, be subject to taxation, but shall be held exclusively and solely to guarantee the association's faithful performance of its obligations to its members or subscribers.

(4) The depositing association shall, during its solvency, have the right to exchange or substitute other securities of like quality and value for securities so on deposit, to receive the interest and other income accruing on such securities, and to inspect the deposit at all reasonable times.

(5) Such deposit or bond shall be maintained unimpaired as long as the association continues in business in this state. Whenever the association ceases to do business in this state and furnishes to the department proof satisfactory to it that it has discharged or otherwise adequately provided for all its obligations to its members or subscribers in this state, the department shall release the deposited securities to the parties entitled thereto, on presentation of the department's receipts for such securities, or release any bond filed with it in lieu of such deposit.

History.—s. 8, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.091 Suspension, revocation of certificate of authority for violations and special grounds.—

(1) The department may, in its discretion, suspend, revoke or refuse to renew the certificate of authority of any ambulance service association if it finds that the association has violated any lawful order of the department or any provision of this act.

(2) The department shall suspend or revoke an ambulance service association's certificate of authority if it finds that such association:

(a) Is in unsound condition, or in such condition, or using such methods and practices in the conduct of its business, as to render its further transaction of contracts in this state hazardous or injurious to the public.

(b) Has refused to be examined or to produce its accounts, records and files for examination, or if any of its officers have refused to give information with respect to its affairs or to perform any other legal obligation as to such examination, when required by the department.

(c) Has failed to pay any final judgment rendered against it in this state within 90 days after the judgment became final.

(d) With such frequency as to indicate its general business practice in this state, has without just cause refused to pay proper claims arising under its contracts, or without just cause compels contract holders to accept less than the amount due them or to employ attorneys or to bring suit against the association to secure full payment or settlement of such claims.

(e) Is affiliated with and under the same general management or interlocking directorate or ownership as another ambulance service association which transacts direct contracts in this state without having a license therefor.

(3) The department may, in its discretion, suspend the certificate of authority of any ambulance service association as to which proceedings for receivership, conservatorship, rehabilitation, or other delinquency proceedings have been commenced in any state.

(4) Violation of this act by an insurer shall be grounds for suspension or revocation of the insurer's certificate of authority in this state.

History.—s. 9, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

638.111 Order, notice of suspension or revocation of certificate of authority; effect; publication.—

(1) The department shall promptly give notice of suspension or revocation of an association's certificate of authority to the association's salesmen in this state of record in the department's office. The association shall not solicit or write any new contracts in this state during the period of any such suspension or revocation, nor after such revocation renew any business previously written.

(2) In its discretion the department may cause notice of any such revocation to be published in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in this state.

History.—s. 11, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

638.121 Duration of suspension; association's obligations during suspension period; reinstatement.—

(1) Suspension of an association's certificate of authority shall be for such period not to exceed 1 year, as is fixed by the department in the order of suspension, unless the department shortens or rescinds such suspension or the order upon which the suspension is based is modified, rescinded or reversed.

(2) During the period of suspension the association shall file its annual statement, pay fees, licenses and taxes as required under this chapter as if the certificate of authority has continued in full force.

(3) Upon expiration of the suspension period (if within such period the certificate of authority has not otherwise terminated) the association's certificate of authority shall automatically reinstate unless the department finds that the causes of the suspension have not been removed, or that the association is otherwise not in compliance with the requirements of this chapter, and of which the department shall give the association notice not less than 30 days in advance of the expiration of the suspension period. If not so automatically reinstated the certificate of authority shall be deemed to have expired as of the end of the suspension period or upon failure of the association to continue the certificate of authority during the suspension period, whichever event first occurs.

(4) Upon reinstatement of the certificate of authority of an insurer or association following suspension, the authority of its salesmen in this state to represent the association or insurer shall likewise reinstate. The department shall promptly notify the association or insurer and its salesmen in this state of record in its office of such reinstatement.

History.—s. 12, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.131 Filing, approval of forms, rate filings.—

(1) No contract form nor related form shall be issued or used in this state unless it has been filed with and approved by the department.

(2) Every such filing shall be made not less than 30 days in advance of issuance or use. At the expiration of 30 days from date of filing a form so filed shall be deemed approved unless prior thereto it has been affirmatively approved or disapproved by written order of the department. The department may extend by not more than an additional 15 days the period within which it may so affirmatively approve or disapprove any such form by giving notice of such extension before the expiration of the initial 30-day period. At the expiration of any such period as so extended and in the absence of prior affirmative approval or disapproval, any such form shall be deemed approved.

(3) In addition, each insurer or ambulance service association shall file with the department the rate to be charged for each contract and the premium, including all modifications of rates and premiums, to be paid by the contract holder. Every filing shall state the proposed effective date thereon. Such filing shall be made not less than 30 days prior to its effective date.

History.—s. 13, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.141 Tax on premiums and assessments.—

(1) In addition to the taxes provided for in this act for ambulance service associations, and license taxes as provided in the insurance code as to insurers, each such association and insurer shall annually on or before March 1 file with the department its annual statement, in form as prescribed and furnished by the department, showing all premiums or assessments received by it from contract holders in this state, during the preceding calendar year, and shall pay to the state treasurer a tax in an amount equal to 2 percent of the gross amount of such premiums or assessments. Provided that the same exemptions and credits as set forth in ss. 624.512 and 624.514 of the Insurance Code allowed to insurers shall apply to insurers and ambulance service associations under this act.

(2) Premiums and assessments received by insurers and taxed under this section shall not be subject to any premium tax provided for in the Insurance Code.

History.—s. 14, ch. 61-387; s. 30, ch. 65-269; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.151 Examination of associations.—Ambulance service associations licensed under this act shall be subject to periodic examination by the department in the same manner and subject to the same terms and conditions as applies to insurers under part II of chapter 624 of the Insurance Code.

History.—s. 15, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.161 Service of process; appointment of commissioner as process agent.—

(1) Each association applying for authority to transact business in this state, whether domestic or foreign, shall file with the department its appointment of the insurance commissioner and treasurer and his successors in office, on a form as furnished by the department, as its attorney to receive service of legal process issued against it in any civil action or proceeding in this state, and agreeing that process so served shall be valid and binding upon the association. The appointment shall be irrevocable, shall bind the association and any successor in interest as to the assets or liabilities of the association, and shall remain in effect as long as there is outstanding in this state any obligation or liability of the association resulting from its contract transactions therein.

(2) At the time of such appointment of the insurance commissioner and treasurer as its process agent the association shall file with the department designation of the name and address of the person to whom process against it served upon the insurance commissioner and treasurer is to be forwarded. The association may change the designation at any time by a new filing.

History.—s. 16, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.171 Serving process.—

(1) Service of process upon the insurance commissioner and treasurer as process agent of the association shall be made by serving copies in triplicate of the process upon him or upon his assistant, deputy, or other person in charge of his office. Upon receiving such service the insurance commissioner and treasurer shall file one copy with the department, return one copy with his admission of service, and promptly forward one copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the person last designated by the association to receive the same, as provided under s. 638.161.

(2) Process served upon the insurance commissioner and treasurer and copy thereof forwarded as in this section provided shall for all purposes constitute valid and binding service thereof upon the association.

History.—s. 17, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.181 Salesmen to be registered.—Every ambulance service association or insurer shall on forms prescribed by the department register on or before October 1 of each year, the name and business office address of each salesman employed by it, and shall within 30 days after termination of the employment notify the department of such termination. Any salesman employed subsequent to the October 1 filing date shall be registered with the department within 10 days after such employment. No employee or salesman of an ambulance service association or insurer shall directly or indirectly solicit or negotiate insurance contracts, or hold himself out in any manner to be an insurance agent or solicitor, unless so qualified and licensed therefor under the Insurance Code.

History.—s. 18, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.191 Grounds for compulsory refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of salesmen.—The department shall deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any such salesman if it finds that as to the salesman, any one or more of the following applicable grounds exist:

(1) Material misstatement, misrepresentation or fraud in registration.

(2) If the registration is willfully used, or to be used, to circumvent any of the requirements or prohibitions of this act.

(3) Willful misrepresentation or willful deception with regard to any contract, done either in person or by any form of dissemination of information or advertising.

(4) If in the adjustment of claims arising out of any contract, he has materially misrepresented to a contract holder or other interested party the terms and coverage of a contract with intent and for the purpose of effecting settlement of such claim on less favorable terms than those provided in and contemplated by the contract.

(5) For demonstrated lack of fitness or trustworthiness to engage in the business of ambulance service contracts.

(6) For demonstrated lack of adequate knowledge and technical competence to engage in the transactions authorized by the registration.

(7) Fraudulent or dishonest practices in the conduct of business under the registration.

(8) Misappropriation, conversion, or unlawful withholding of moneys belonging to an association, insurer, or contract holder or to others, and received in conduct of business under the registration.

(9) For rebating, or attempt thereat, or for unlawfully dividing or offering to divide his commission with another.

(10) Willful failure to comply with, or willful violation of, any proper order, rule, or regulation of the department, or willful violation of any provision of this act.

History.—s. 19, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

638.201 Grounds for discretionary refusal, suspension, revocation of registration of salesmen.—The department may, in its discretion, deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any salesman if it finds that as to the salesman any one or more of the following applicable grounds exist under circumstances for which such denial, suspension, revocation, or refusal is not mandatory under s. 638.191:

(1) For any cause for which granting of the registration could have been refused had it then existed and been known to the department.

(2) Violation of any provision of this act or of any other law applicable to the business of ambulance service contracts in the course of dealings under the registration.

(3) Has violated any lawful order or rule or regulation of the department.

(4) Failure or refusal, upon demand, to pay over to any association or insurer he represents or has represented any money coming into his hands belonging to the association or insurer.

(5) If in the conduct of business under the registration, he has engaged in unfair methods of competition or in unfair or deceptive acts or practices, as such methods, acts, or practices are or may be defined under part VII of chapter 626 of the Insurance Code, or has otherwise shown himself to be a source of injury or loss to the public or detrimental to the public interest.

(6) Conviction of a felony.

History.—s. 20, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 21, ch. 78-95.
cf.—s. 112.011 Felons; removal of disqualifications for employment, exceptions.

638.211 Refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of salesmen.—

(1) If any salesman is convicted by a court of a violation of this act, the registration of such individual shall thereby be deemed to be immediately revoked.

(2) If after an investigation, or upon other evidence, the department has reason to believe that there may exist any one or more grounds therefor, as such grounds are specified in ss. 638.191 and 638.201, the department may suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any salesman.

(3) The department's papers, documents, reports, or evidence relative to a hearing for revocation or suspension of a license pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and chapter 120 shall not be subject to subpoena without the department's consent, except for subpoenas issued pursuant to the hearing for revocation or suspension, until after the same shall have been published at the hearing, unless after notice to the department and hearing the court determines that the department would not be unnecessarily hindered or embarrassed by such subpoenas.

(4) Whenever it appears that any licensed insurance agent has violated the provisions of this act, the department may take such action relative thereto as is authorized by the Insurance Code as for a violation of the Insurance Code by such agent.

History.—s. 21, ch. 61-387; s. 28, ch. 63-512; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

638.221 Administrative fine in lieu of suspension or revocation of registration.—

(1) If the department finds that one or more grounds exist for the suspension, revocation, or refusal to renew or continue any registration issued under this act, the department may, in its discretion, in lieu of such suspension, revocation, or refusal, on a first offense and except where such suspension, revocation, or refusal is mandatory, impose upon the registrant an administrative penalty in the amount of $100, or if the department has found willful misconduct or willful violation on the part of the regis-trant, an administrative fine of $500. The administrative penalty may, in the department's discretion, be augmented in amount by an amount equal to any commissions received by or accruing to the credit of the registrant in connection with any transaction as to which the grounds for suspension, revocation, or refusal related.

(2) The department may allow the registrant a reasonable period, not to exceed 30 days, within which to pay to the department the amount of the penalty so imposed. If the registrant fails to pay the penalty in its entirety to the department at its office at Tallahassee within the period so allowed, the registration of the registrant shall stand suspended, revoked, or renewal or continuation refused, as the case may be, upon expiration of such period.

History.—s. 22, ch. 61-387; s. 2, ch. 61-119; s. 30, ch. 65-269; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

638.231 Disposition of taxes and fees.—All license fees, taxes on premiums and assessments, registration fees, and administrative fines and penalties collected under this act from ambulance service associations shall be deposited to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

History.—s. 23, ch. 61-387; s. 21, ch. 65-269.
cf.—s. 624.523 Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

638.241 Insurance business not authorized.—Nothing in this act shall be deemed to authorize any ambulance service association to transact any business other than that of ambulance service contracts as herein defined; or otherwise to engage in the business of insurance unless such association is authorized therefor as an insurer under a certificate of authority issued by the department under the Insurance Code of this state.

History.—s. 24, ch. 61-387; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106.

638.251 Fronting not permitted.—No authorized insurer or ambulance service association shall act as a fronting company for any unauthorized insurer or ambulance service association. A "fronting company" is an authorized insurer or ambulance service association which by reinsurance or otherwise generally transfers to one or more unauthorized insurer or ambulance service associations substantially all of the risk of loss under contracts written by it in this state.

History.—s. 25, ch. 61-387.

638.261 Certain ambulance service associations' relations with funeral directors prohibited.—

(1) No ambulance service association shall permit any funeral director or undertaker, or any member of his immediate family, to directly or indirectly by association or incorporation to act as its representative, adjuster, claim agent, special claim agent, salesman, or agent for such association in soliciting, negotiating, or effecting ambulance service contracts on any plan or of any nature issued by such association or in collecting premiums from holders of any such contracts.

(2) No ambulance service association shall affix, or permit to be affixed, advertising matter of any kind or character of any funeral director or undertaker to any ambulance service contracts or circulate or permit to be circulated any such advertising matter with such contracts, or attempt in any manner or form to influence contract holders of the association to employ the services of any particular funeral director or undertaker.

(3) No ambulance service association shall maintain an office or place of business, or permit its agent to maintain an office or place of business, in the office, establishment or place of business of any funeral director or undertaker in this state.

History.—s. 26, ch. 61-387.

638.271 Penalty for violation.—Any person who knowingly makes a false or otherwise fraudulent application for certificate of authority or registration under this act, or who knowingly violates any provision of this act, shall, in addition to any applicable denial, suspension, revocation, or refusal to renew or continue any certificate or registration, be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083. Each instance of violation shall be considered a separate offense.

History.—s. 27, ch. 61-387; s. 663, ch. 71-136.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28211, 1953; s. 1, ch. 65-393.

639.07 Definitions.—As used in this chapter:

- (1) "Persons" means and shall include:
  - (a) Natural persons, partnerships, firms, associations, and corporations, including agents and employees thereof, residing in or doing business in the state, which persons must be authorized and licensed by the laws of this state to engage in the profession of funeral directing when such person holds a license to operate a funeral home, chapel, mortuary, or funeral establishment; or
  - (b) Persons who are engaged in the preneed sale of burial supplies, but who are not authorized and licensed under Part IV of chapter 559 to engage in such sale.
- (2) "Preneed funeral service contract" means any contract, other than a contract of insurance, under which, for a specified consideration paid in advance in a lump sum or by installments, a person promises, upon the death of a beneficiary named or implied in the contract, to furnish funeral services or burial supplies and equipment.
- (3) "Funeral service or services" as used in this chapter shall mean those services normally performed by funeral directors including the sale of burial supplies and equipment, but shall not include those services normally performed by a cemetery, including the sale by the cemetery of lands or interests therein, services incidental thereto, markers, memorials, monuments, equipment, crypts or vaults constructed or to be constructed in a mausoleum or columbarium or affixed to the real property.

(4) "Department" means the Department of Insurance.

(5) "Preneed burial supply or services contract" means any contract under which, for specified consideration, paid in advance in a lump sum or by installments, a person promises, upon the death of beneficiary named or implied in the contract, to furnish burial supplies or services.

History.—s. 1, ch. 28211, 1953; ss. 2, 3, ch. 65-393; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 271, ch. 71-377; s. 1, ch. 77-438; s. 245, ch. 79-400.

639.08 Forms and rules.—The administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act are vested in the department which is hereby directed to prepare and furnish all forms necessary under this chapter, including forms for applications for certificates of authority, for renewals thereof, for annual statements, for other required reports, and for preneed funeral service contracts and preneed burial supply contracts. It is directed to promulgate such rules, within the standards of this act, considered by it to be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this chapter.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28211, 1953; s. 24, ch. 57-1; s. 4, ch. 65-393; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 2, ch. 77-438.

639.09 Certificate of authority required.—No person shall receive, hold, control, or manage any funds tendered as payment on any preneed funeral service contract or preneed burial supply contract until such person is possessed of a certificate of authority, or renewal thereof, issued by the department under the circumstances hereinafter stated. An original certificate of authority shall expire on March 1 succeeding its issuance, and annually thereafter, on or before March 1, a renewal thereof shall be issued under conditions herein set forth.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28211, 1953; s. 24, ch. 57-1; s. 5, ch. 65-393; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 77-438.

639.10 Certificate of authority; annual statement; renewal.—

(1) An application to the department for a certificate of authority shall be accompanied by the statement and other matters described below. Annually thereafter on or before March 1, such person shall file said statement, as of January 1 of the calendar year in which it is filed, and such other information and data which may be required by the department.

(2) Such statement shall be in such form as shall evidence to the department the following:

(a) The types of preneed funeral service contracts or preneed burial supply contracts proposed to be written and, if a person is bound upon the effective date of this act by any preneed funeral service contract or any preneed burial supply contract or if the statement accompanies an application for a renewal of a certificate of authority, an itemization of all outstanding preneed funeral service contracts or preneed burial supply contracts, the dates upon which such contracts were entered, the names of all parties involved in such contracts or having any right thereunder, the amount paid in on each contract, and, if payments are not completed, the amounts intended to be paid on each contract.

(b) The name and address of the place of business of the person offering to write preneed funeral service contracts or preneed burial supply contracts.

(c) That the person offering the statement:

1. Had sufficient funds available during the calendar year to perform his obligations under his contract;

2. Has maintained 100 percent of the funds received under contracts issued by himself as herein after described;

3. Has disbursed all interest, dividends, or accretions which have been earned by said funds, in accordance with this act and rules promulgated thereunder; and

4. Has complied with this act and any rules of the department.

(d) Such other information as may be considered necessary by the department in order for it to meet its responsibilities under this act.

(3) If such person is an individual, said statement shall be sworn by him; if a firm or association, by all members thereof; and if a corporation, by the president and secretary thereof.

(4) The fee payable to the department for issuance of the original certificate and each annual renewal thereof shall be $50, which sum shall accompany each application for original certificate and, thereafter, each annual statement. Said fee shall be payable to the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

(5) Upon the department's being satisfied that the statement and matters which may accompany it meet the requirements of this act and of its rules and regulations and if upon investigation by the department it appears that the principals, including directors, officers, stockholders, employees and agents of such person are of good moral character and have a reputation for fair dealing in business matters, it shall issue to such person said certificate of authority or renewal thereof.

cf.—s. 624.523 Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

639.11 Disposition of proceeds received on contracts.—

(1) All of the funds paid to or collected by any person for the preneed sale of, or from a preneed contract to sell, funeral services or burial supplies shall, within 30 days after receipt thereof by such person, be deposited in this state under the terms of a trust instrument entered into with a national or state bank having trust powers or a trust company. Said trust agreement shall be submitted to the Department of Insurance for approval and filing.

(2) Delivery of funeral merchandise or burial supplies prior to death of the person for whom they are purchased shall not constitute performance or fulfillment, either wholly or in part, of any preneed funeral service contract or preneed burial supply contract entered into after July 1, 1977.

(3) At reasonable times, the trustee shall disburse income on, and appreciation of, trust funds to persons certified under this act to issue or write preneed funeral service or burial supply contracts. Such disbursement of income and appreciation shall be made in accordance with the terms of the trust instrument and the preneed contract. The trustee shall make regular valuations of assets it holds in trust. Any person who withdraws appreciation in the value of trust, other than the pro rata portion of such appreciation which may be withdrawn upon the death of a contract beneficiary or upon cancellation of a preneed funeral service or burial supply contract, shall be required to make additional deposits from his own funds to restore the aggregate value of assets to the value of funds deposited in trust, but excluding from the funds deposited those funds paid out upon preneed funeral service or burial supply contracts which such person has fully performed or which have been otherwise withdrawn, as provided for in this act.

639.13 Cancellation of, or default on, contracts.—

(1) Upon the termination by cancellation or default of a preneed funeral service or preneed burial supply contract, the contract purchaser may demand from a person authorized under this chapter to have authority to issue or write such contract a refund of the entire amount actually paid on such contract. Such refund shall be made within 30 days after receipt by the person issuing or writing such contract of the contract purchaser's written request. The seller of a preneed funeral service or preneed burial supply contract may not cancel said contract unless the purchaser is in default.

(2) No preneed funeral service or preneed burial supply contract shall restrict any contract purchaser who is receiving public assistance from making his contract irrevocable in accordance with rules of the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services.

History.—s. 8, ch. 28211, 1953; s. 10, ch. 65-393; s. 6, ch. 77-438; s. 1, ch. 78-276.

639.14 Payment of funds upon death of named beneficiary.—Disbursements of funds discharging any preneed funeral service or preneed burial supply contract shall be made by the trustee to the person issuing or writing such contract upon receipt of a certified photostatic copy of the death certificate of the contract beneficiary and evidence satisfactory to the trustee that the preneed funeral service or preneed burial supply contract has been fully performed. In the event of any contract default by the contract purchaser, or in the event the contract service and supplies are not provided or are not desired by the heirs or personal representative of the contract beneficiary, the trustee shall return, within 30 days after its receipt of a written request therefor, all funds paid on the contract to the contract purchaser or to his assigns, heirs, or personal representative.

History.—s. 9, ch. 28211, 1953; s. 11, ch. 65-393; s. 7, ch. 77-438; s. 2, ch. 78-276.

639.15 Examinations and investigations.—

The department shall have the power, and is required from time to time as it may deem necessary, but at least once every year, to examine the business of any person writing preneed funeral service contracts or preneed burial supply contracts in the same manner as is provided for examination of insurance companies. Such examinations shall be at the expense of the person examined and shall be made by the department's designated representative or examiner. The written reports of all such examinations, when completed, shall be filed in the office of the department, and when so filed shall constitute public records. Any such person being examined shall produce, upon request, all records of the company. The department's designated representative may at any time examine into the records and affairs of any such person, whether in connection with a formal examination or not.

History.—s. 10, ch. 28211, 1953; s. 12, ch. 65-393; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 8, ch. 77-438; s. 3, ch. 78-276.

639.16 Revocation of certificate and liquidation proceedings.—

(1) Whenever the department shall determine that a person holding a certificate of authority to issue preneed funeral service contracts or preneed burial supply contracts:

(a) Has not maintained the funds received from contracts in the unimpaired state, and disbursed income on, and appreciation of, trust or escrowed funds, as described in s. 639.11,

(b) Has failed to cancel a contract, upon proper request, and refund that portion of the amount paid on the contract as required by s. 639.13,

(c) Has not secured the release, upon the death of a beneficiary, of the entire amount received on a contract as required by s. 639.14,

(d) Has refused to produce records in connection with his business, or

(e) Has otherwise failed to comply with the provisions of this chapter or any rule or regulation promulgated by the department in pursuance of this chapter, and if such person shall omit to correct any such failure, refusal, or violation within 30 days after written notice from the department to effect such correction, the department may institute revocation of licensure proceedings or file a complaint in the circuit court of Leon County setting forth the relevant facts and praying for issuance of an order to show cause why the business and affairs of such person should not be liquidated and a receiver appointed by the court to accomplish such purpose.

(2) Upon application for such rule to show cause, the court may, in its discretion, issue an injunction restraining defendant from transacting further business until further order of the court.

(3) Upon return of such order to show cause, the court shall hear and try the issues forthwith. If the court shall determine that the person so charged as defendant in such proceeding has not been guilty of the omission, failure or violation alleged in the complaint by the department, the court shall dismiss such complaint. On the other hand, if the court shall determine that the charges of the department are supported by the evidence, it may enter an order directing the liquidation of such business of said person and shall appoint a receiver who shall, under such conditions as may be prescribed by the court, take into his possession the assets of said person for the purpose of liquidation.

(4) In any such order of liquidation, or in any order or orders thereafter entered, the court shall provide for notice to creditors, filing of claims, and all other details necessary and essential to an estate in receivership.

639.17 Penalty.—Any person, as defined herein:

(1) Who:

(a) Shall receive, hold, manage, or control any funds or proceeds realized from the writing and issuing of a preneed funeral service contract or a preneed burial supply contract, as defined herein; or

(b) Shall disburse such funds or proceeds in any manner other than as required by this act, or

(2) Who has violated any of the provisions of this chapter or the rules and regulations promulgated hereunder shall be guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

History.—s. 12, ch. 28211, 1953; s. 14, ch. 65-393; s. 664, ch. 71-136; s. 10, ch. 77-438; s. 248, ch. 79-400.

639.18 False, fraudulent, and deceptive advertising and selling practices.—

No person or his agent or employees holding a certificate of authority under the provisions of this chapter may make any false or misleading representation with respect to the nature, quality, value, or cost of a funeral service which is the subject matter of a preneed funeral service contract or a preneed burial supply contract. For the purpose of this chapter a false, fraudulent, or deceptive practice shall include, but not be limited to, a representation that the funeral services or supplies being offered have a value in excess of that price at which such funeral services or supplies are being offered to the public at large or any substantial group thereof.

639.19 Legislative intent.—It is the legislative intent that the provisions of this chapter shall be construed as a limitation upon the manner in which a licensed funeral director holding a license to operate a funeral establishment under the provisions of chapter 470 is permitted to accept funds in prepayment of funeral services to be performed in the future, to the end that at all times members of the public may have an opportunity to arrange and pay for funerals for themselves and their families in advance of need while at the same time providing all possible safeguards whereunder such prepaid funds cannot be dissipated, whether intentionally or not, so as to be available for the payment of funeral services arranged for. Further, it is the legislative intent that no person may offer or sell, or negotiate for the sale of, a preneed funeral service contract through anyone who is not licensed to make funeral arrangements or plan details of funeral services in accordance with the provisions of chapter 470, as well as the provisions of this chapter. Further, it is the legislative intent that persons offering or selling, or negotiating for the sale of, a preneed funeral service contract shall be subject to all of the provisions of chapter 470 regulating the ethics and conduct of funeral directors and funeral establishments in this state. However, it shall not be deemed to constitute solicitation as prohibited by Chapter 470 when a person so authorized by the provisions of this law responds to an inquiry precipitated by advertisements by news media or mail relating to making preneed funeral service contracts.

639.20 Provisions not applicable to cemeteries holding certificate of authority under Flori- da Cemetery Act.—The provisions of this chapter shall not be applicable to person holding a certificate of authority to operate a cemetery under the provisions of part IV, chapter 559, as pertains to any transaction coming within the purview of said Cemetery Act.

History.—s. 17, ch. 65-393.

639.21 Acceptability of burial supplies.—

Each person who engages in preneed sales of burial supplies shall determine, and notify the purchaser in writing prior to the completion of the contract, that the merchandise being considered for purchase will be accepted in the cemetery of the purchaser's choice. Failure to comply with this part shall nullify the agreement, and all moneys paid in shall be returned.

641.01 Definition or scope.—Any five or more persons wishing to form a corporation for the purpose of establishing, maintaining, and operating a nonprofit medical, surgical or hospital service plan or plans in the state, whereby medical, surgical, or hospital service or care may be provided in whole or in part by the said corporation, or by physicians, surgeons, or hospitals participating in such service plan or plans, to such of the public as become subscribers to said plan or plans under a contract or contracts with such corporation, may become incorporated under laws of Florida governing the incorporation of benevolent or charitable associations and similar corporations not for profit. Any such corporation heretofore or hereafter incorporated, the charter or certificate of incorporation of which has or shall have the consent or approval of the Department of Insurance, shall be governed by this law and subject to regulation and supervision by the Department of Insurance and all provisions of the laws of Florida applicable to health, sick, or accident insurance, except as otherwise provided by this chapter. The term "medical or surgical service plan" as used in this law includes the contracting for the payment of fees toward, or furnishing of, professional services authorized or permitted to be furnished by a duly licensed doctor of medicine. "Health maintenance organizations" as defined in ss. 641.17-641.38 shall organize under, and be subject to, ss. 641.17-641.38.

History.—s. 1, ch. 22826, 1945; s. 1, ch. 25394, 1949; s. 1, ch. 69-92; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 24, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

641.02 Incorporation.—

(1) Any nonprofit medical, surgical, or hospital service plan corporation shall be incorporated under the provisions of the laws of the state governing the incorporation of benevolent or charitable associations and similar corporations not for profit, except when in conflict with the provisions of this law, and every charter or certificate of such corporation shall have endorsed thereon or annexed thereto the consent of the Department of Insurance.

(2) The directors of every such medical and surgical service and hospital service plan corporation and of every such hospital service plan corporation must at all times include representatives of the following groups: Licensed physicians participating in such medical or surgical service plan, directors, trustees, administrators or superintendents of established hospitals or corporations operating hospitals designated in s. 641.01; the general public, exclusive of physicians and hospital representatives.

(3) At least a majority of the directors of every such medical and surgical service plan corporation must at all times be licensed physicians and/or surgeons.

History.—s. 2, ch. 22826, 1945; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

641.03 Contracts.—

(1) Any corporation subject to the provisions of the law may contract for or secure the rendering of service to any of its subscribers only by hospitals maintained by the state or any of its political subdivisions, by any other regularly operated and recognized hospital, by any hospital approved by the Department of Insurance, and/or by licensed physicians and surgeons.

(2) The rates charged by such corporation to the subscribers for medical, surgical, or hospital care shall at all times be subject to the approval of the Department of Insurance.

(3) All rates of payments made by such corporation pursuant to the contracts provided for in subsection (1) shall be approved by the Department of Insurance.

History.—s. 3, ch. 22826, 1945; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective

July 1, 1982, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1641.04 License.—

(1) No corporation subject to the provisions of this law shall issue contracts to subscribers until the Department of Insurance has, by formal certificate or license, authorized it to do so. Application for such certificate of authority or license shall be made on forms to be supplied by the Department of Insurance, containing such information as it shall deem necessary.

(2) Each application for such certificate of authority or license, as a part thereof, shall be accompanied by copies of the following documents, duly certified to by at least two of the executive officers of such corporation:

(a) Charter or certificate of incorporation, with all amendments thereto.

(b) Bylaws with all amendments thereto.

(c) Proposed contracts between the corporation and any party for the furnishing of, or the payment in whole or in part for, medical or surgical services furnished the subscribers by duly licensed physicians or surgeons, and for the furnishing of hospital service to the subscribers.

(d) Proposed contracts to be issued to subscribers to the plan showing the benefits to which they are entitled, together with a table of the rates charged, or proposed to be charged, to subscribers for each form of such contract.

(e) Financial statement of the corporation which shall include the amounts of each contribution paid or agreed to be paid to the corporation having working capital, the name or names of each contributor and the terms of each contribution.

(3) The Department of Insurance shall issue a certificate of authority or license to each applicant upon the payment of the fees provided for in s. 624.501 and upon being satisfied as to the following:

(a) That the applicant has been organized bona fide for the purpose of establishing, maintaining and operating a nonprofit medical, surgical, or hospital service plan.

(b) That each contract executed or proposed to be executed by the applicant and the physician, surgeon, or hospital obligates, or will when executed, obligate each physician, surgeon, or hospital thereto, to render the service, or accept payment for the service, to which each subscriber may be entitled under the terms of the contract issued to the subscriber.

(c) That each contract issued or proposed to be issued to subscribers to the plan is in a form approved by the Department of Insurance and that the rates charged or proposed to be charged for each form of such contract and benefits to be provided, are fair and reasonable.

(d) That no contributions to the funds of the corporation for working capital are repayable by the corporation except out of earned income over and above operating expenses and medical, surgical, or hospital expenses and such reserve as the Department of Insurance may deem adequate.

(e) That the amount of money actually received by the applicant upon the terms specified in paragraph (d), for working capital, is sufficient to carry all acquisition costs and operating expenses for a period of at least 3 months from the date of the issuance of the certificate of authority or license.

(4) Such certificate of authority or license shall be effective until revoked by the Department of Insurance as hereinafter provided, and any corporation to which such certificate of authority or license has been issued, until revocation thereof, shall be authorized to issue contracts, in the form or forms filed with the Department of Insurance, to the persons who may become subscribers.

History.—s. 4, ch. 22826, 1945; ss. 22, ch. 65-269; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1641.05 Charter, bylaws, contracts, rates; amendments, approval by Department of Insurance.—

No corporation subject to the provisions of this law shall amend its charter or certificate of incorporation, its bylaws, the terms and provisions of contracts executed or to be executed with hospitals, physicians, or surgeons, and the terms and provisions of contracts issued or proposed to be issued to subscribers until such proposed amendments have been first submitted to and approved by the Department of Insurance; nor shall any change be made in the table of rates charged or proposed to be charged to subscribers for any form of contract issued or to be issued until such proposed charge has been submitted to and approved by the department upon the adoption of any amendment or change, and following its approval by the department such corporation shall file a copy thereof with the department duly certified by at least two of the executive officers of such corporation.

History.—s. 5, ch. 22826, 1945; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1641.06 Annual reports or statements.—Every corporation subject to the provisions of this law shall annually, on or before March 1, file in the office of the Department of Insurance a statement verified by at least two of the principal officers of said corporation showing its condition on December 31 then next preceding, which shall be in such form and shall contain such matters as the Department of Insurance shall prescribe.

History.—s. 6, ch. 22826, 1945; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1641.07 Examination.—The Department of Insurance, any examiner of the department, or any other person whom the Department of Insurance shall appoint shall have the power of visitation and examination into the affairs of any such corporation and free access to all of the books, papers and documents that relate to the business of the corporation, and may summon and qualify witnesses under oath and to examine its officers, agents, employees, or other persons in relation to the affairs, transactions and condition of the corporation. The corporation whose affairs are examined shall pay to the Department of Insurance the traveling and other expenses of examination pursuant to s. 624.320.

§641.08 Acquisition costs.—All acquisition costs in connection with the solicitation of subscribers to such service plan or plans shall at all times be subject to the approval of the Department of Insurance.

History.—s. 8, ch. 22826, 1945; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§641.09 Investments and funds.—The funds of any corporation subject to the provisions of this law shall be invested only in securities permitted by the laws of the state for the investment of assets of life insurance companies.

History.—s. 9, ch. 22826, 1945; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

cf.—s. 340.21 Relating to investments.

§641.10 Review of dispute.—Any dispute arising between a corporation subject to the provisions of this law and any hospital, physician, or surgeon with whom such corporation has a contract as provided herein, may be submitted to the Department of Insurance of the state for its decision with respect thereto.

History.—s. 10, ch. 22826, 1945; s. 29, ch. 63-512; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

§641.11 Dissolution or liquidation.—Any dissolution or liquidation of a corporation subject to the provisions of this law shall be under the supervision of the Department of Insurance, which shall have all powers with respect thereto granted to it under the laws of the state with respect to the dissolution and liquidation of life insurance companies.

History.—s. 11, ch. 22826, 1945; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§641.12 Revocation of license.—Whenever the Department of Insurance shall have reason to believe that any corporation subject to the provisions of this law is being operated for profit or fraudulently conducted, or is not complying with the provisions of this law, it shall be authorized to suspend or revoke the certificate of authority or license theretofore granted, and may at any time thereafter institute or cause to be instituted the necessary proceedings under the laws of the state, looking to the dissolution of insurance companies, and any dissolution or liquidation of a corporation subject to the provisions of this law shall be under the supervision of the Department of Insurance.

History.—s. 12, ch. 22826, 1945; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective

July 1, 1982, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

§641.13 Licenses and taxes.—

(1) No corporation licensed under this law, its representatives, or any of its properties or funds shall be exempt from any license fees or taxes, except as provided in chapter 624 for domestic insurance companies. With respect to the computation of such taxes, and for the purpose of this provision only, the rates paid by subscribers as provided herein shall be construed as "premiums," and the "contract" provided herein shall be construed as "policy."

(2) If the charter or certificate of incorporation specifies among its purposes the establishment, maintenance, and operation of a medical, surgical, or hospital service plan, it shall be referred to the Department of Insurance and such charter or certificate shall not be filed until the consent of the Department of Insurance shall be endorsed thereon and annexed thereto.

History.—s. 13, ch. 22826, 1945; s. 2, ch. 69-92; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§641.14 Regulation of employees or representatives.—Every representative or employee of any corporation subject to the provisions of this law who sells or writes certificates for hospital service or contracts with hospitals for said corporation shall be registered by said corporation with the Department of Insurance. Said registration shall be on forms prescribed by the Department of Insurance and shall show such information as may be requested by the department. Said registration shall be made on or before the date of employment by said corporation of said representative or employee. In addition to the foregoing described registration, the corporation shall pay to the Department of Insurance a permit fee of $6 for each such representative or employee and a like amount October 1 of each year thereafter; provided, that said permit fee shall be only $3 in case the said representative or employee is not employed prior to April 1 of the then current year. No such permit shall be transferable from one person or corporation to another and shall be revocable by the Department of Insurance for cause.

History.—s. 14, ch. 22826, 1945; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

cf.—s. 624.523 Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

§641.15 Preexisting service plan corporations.—No nonprofit corporation organized under the laws of this state prior to the effective date of this law, to operate a medical, surgical, or hospital plan or plans in the state or any of the counties thereof, whose charter or certificate of incorporation has, prior to the effective date of this law, been approved or consented to by the insurance commissioner of the state, shall be required to incorporate or reincorporate as provided herein, but every such corporation desiring to operate such a plan or plans statewide shall file with the insurance commissioner its acceptance of this law within 6 months from June 11, 1945, and every such corporation so accepting this law shall continue and shall have all the powers, authority and exemptions of this law, and be subject to all the provisions thereof; provided, however, the provisions of this law shall not apply to organized nonprofit corporations herein defined and heretofore existing whose charter and bylaws have not been filed with, or has not received a certificate of authority or license from, the insurance commissioner of the state prior to the effective date of this law, nor to such corporations which are now in operation and have heretofore operated within the confines of a single county.

History.—s. 15, ch. 22826, 1945; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

641.16 Penalties.—

(1) Any person or corporation engaging in the business of operating a nonprofit medical, surgical, or hospital service plan without first having procured a license from the Department of Insurance, as required by this law, and any person or corporation violating any of the provisions of this law, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(2) Any person making any willfully false statements in any written documents required by any section of this law to be filed with the Department of Insurance or any examiner at any investigation or hearing conducted by said Department of Insurance or examiner shall be guilty of perjury.

641.18 Declaration of legislative intent, findings and purposes.—

(1) Faced with the continuation of mounting costs of health care, coupled with the state's interest in high quality care, the Legislature has determined that there is a need to explore alternative methods for the delivery of health care services, with a view toward achieving greater efficiency and economy in providing these services.

(2) Health maintenance organizations, consisting of prepaid health care plans, are developing rapidly in many communities. Through these organizations, structured in various forms, health care services are provided directly to a group of people who make regular premium payments.

(3) These plans, when properly operated, emphasize effective cost and quality controls. At the present time, there is no effective way to evaluate or control the quality of health care services provided by these organizations in Florida, or to determine their financial or actuarial stability.

(4) It shall be the policy of this state to:

(a) Eliminate legal barriers to the organization, promotion, and expansion of comprehensive prepaid health care plans;

(b) Prescribe regulations for the fiscal aspects of such health care plans by the Department of Insurance.

ance and for the quality of health care by the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services; and

(c) Recognize that prepaid comprehensive health care plans shall be exempt from operation of the insurance laws of this state except in the manner and to the extent set forth in ss. 641.17-641.38.

(5) Although it is the intent of this act to provide an opportunity for the development of health maintenance organizations, there is no intent to impair the present system for the delivery of health services.

History.—s. 2, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

641.19 Definitions.—As used in ss. 641.17-641.38:

(1) "Department" means the Department of Insurance or a person properly designated to act in its place.

(2) "Health maintenance organization" means any organization authorized under ss. 641.17-641.38 which:

(a) Provides, either directly or through arrangements with others, health care services to persons enrolled with such organization, on a prepaid per capita or prepaid aggregate fixed sum basis;

(b) Provides, either directly or through arrangements with other persons, corporations, institutions, associations, or entities, those health care services which subscribers might reasonably require in order to be maintained in good health;

(c) Provides physician services directly through physicians who are either employees or partners of such organization or under arrangements with a physician or any group of physicians.

(3) "Minimum services" shall include, but not be limited to, emergency care, inpatient hospital and physician care, ambulatory diagnostic treatment, and preventive health care services.

(4) "Comprehensive health care services" means services, medical equipment, and supplies furnished by a provider which may include, but are not limited to, medical, surgical, and dental care; psychological, optometric, optic, chiropractic, podiatric, nursing, physical therapy and pharmaceutical services; health education, preventive medical, rehabilitative, and home health services; inpatient and outpatient hospital services, extended care, nursing home care, convalescent institutional care, laboratory and ambulance services, appliances, drugs, medicines and supplies; and any other care, service, or treatment of disease, the correction of defects, or the maintenance of the physical and mental well-being of human beings.

(5) "Health maintenance contract" means any contract entered into by a health maintenance organization authorized under ss. 641.17-641.38 with a subscriber or group of subscribers to provide comprehensive health care services in exchange for a prepaid per capita or prepaid aggregate fixed sum.

(6) "Subscriber" means an individual who has contracted, or on whose behalf a contract has been entered into, with a health maintenance organization for health care services.

(7) "Entity" means any legal entity with continuing existence, including but not limited to, corporations, associations, trusts, and partnerships.

(8) "Provider" means any physician, hospital, or other institution, organization, or person that furnishes health care services and who is licensed or otherwise authorized to practice in the state.

History.—s. 3, ch. 72-264; s. 1, ch. 76-33; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

641.20 Health maintenance organizations authorized.—Any entity qualified under the provisions of ss. 641.17-641.38, upon obtaining a certificate of authority as required in ss. 641.17-641.38, may operate a health maintenance organization.

History.—s. 4, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

641.21 Application for certificate.—Before any entity may operate a health maintenance organization, it must obtain a certificate of authority from the department. Each application to the department for such certificate shall be on such form as the department shall prescribe and shall set forth or be accompanied by the following:

(1) A copy of the basic organizational document of the applicant, if any, such as the articles of incorporation, articles of association, partnership agreement, trust agreement, or other applicable document, and all amendments thereto;

(2) A copy of the bylaws, rules and regulations, or similar form of document, if any, regulating the conduct of the affairs of the applicant;

(3) A list of the names, addresses, and official capacity with the organization of the persons who are to be responsible for the conduct of the health maintenance organization's affairs, including all members of the governing body, the officers and directors, in the case of a corporation, and the partners or associates in the case of a partnership or association. Such persons shall fully disclose to the department and the governing body of the health maintenance organization the extent and nature of any contracts or arrangements between them and the health maintenance organization, including any possible conflicts of interest;

(4) A statement generally describing the health maintenance organization, its operations, the location of the facilities at which comprehensive health care services will be regularly available to subscribers, the type of health care personnel engaged to provide the comprehensive health care services, and the quantity of personnel of each type;

(5) Forms of all health maintenance contracts the applicant proposes to offer the subscribers, showing the benefits to which they are entitled, together with a table of the rates charged, or proposed to be charged, for each form of such contract;

(6) A statement describing with reasonable certainty the geographic area or areas to be served by the health maintenance organization;

(7) A statement of the assets and liabilities of the entity.

History.—s. 5, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1641.22 Issuance of certificate of authority.—The department shall issue a certificate of authority within 60 days of the filing of the application to any entity filing an application in conformity with s. 641.21, upon payment of the prescribed fees and upon being satisfied that:

(1) Such entity proposes to establish and operate a bona fide health maintenance organization having the capability to provide comprehensive health care services in the geographic area proposed. In this connection, the department shall receive, as a condition precedent to the issuance of any certificate of authority, a report from the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services favorably recommending the establishment of the health maintenance organization, with sufficient documentary evidence to establish the need for the health maintenance organization's services in the area proposed.

(2) Based upon accounting procedures acceptable to it, the proposed health care delivery plan is actuarially sound and the health maintenance organization has adequate working capital. These requirements may be satisfied by a finding of the department that the health maintenance organization has made acceptable arrangements to provide all health care services offered.

(3) The terms of the contracts such entity proposes to offer to subscribers will in fact assure that the comprehensive health care services required by such subscribers will be rendered under reasonable standards of quality of care, as certified by the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services.

(4) The procedures for offering comprehensive health care services and offering and terminating contracts to subscribers will not unfairly discriminate on the basis of age, sex, race, health, or economic status. However, this section shall not prohibit reasonable underwriting classifications for the purposes of establishing contract rates, nor shall it prohibit experience rating.

(5) The entity furnishes evidence of adequate insurance coverage or an adequate plan for self-insurance to respond to claims for injuries arising out of the furnishing of comprehensive health care.

(6) The entity has provided, through contract or otherwise, for periodic review of its medical facilities and services.

History.—s. 6, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1641.23 Revocation of certificate of authority.—The department may revoke any certificate issued pursuant to ss. 641.17-641.38 if it finds that any one of the following conditions exists:

(1) A health maintenance organization is not operating in compliance with ss. 641.17-641.38 or is in substantial violation of its health maintenance contracts as certified by the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services;

(2) Such organization is unable to fulfill its obligations under outstanding health maintenance contracts entered into with its subscribers, as certified by the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services;

(3) Based upon accounting procedures acceptable to the department, the plan is no longer actuarially sound or the health maintenance organization does not have adequate working capital;

(4) The existing contract rates are excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory; or

(5) The health maintenance organization has advertised, merchandised, or attempted to merchandise its services in such a manner as to misrepresent its services or capacity for service, or has engaged in deceptive, misleading, or unfair practices with respect to advertising or merchandising.

History.—s. 7, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1641.24 Denial and revocation proceedings; Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services participation.—A representative of the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services shall participate in any proceedings for denial or revocation of a certificate. In connection with any decision regarding denial or revocation of a charter, the recommendations and findings of the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services with respect to matters relating to the quality and nature of health care services being provided shall be conclusive and binding upon the department.

History.—s. 8, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

1641.25 Administrative fine in lieu of revocation.—The department may, in lieu of revocation, levy an administrative penalty in an amount not less than $100 or more than $10,000, provided the organization is given a reasonable time within which to remedy the defect in its operations which gave rise to the penalty citation. The department may augment this penalty by an amount equal to the sum that the department calculates to be the damages suffered by subscribers or other members of the public.

History.—s. 9, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

1641.26 Annual report.—Every health maintenance organization authorized under ss. 641.17-641.38 shall, annually on or before March 1, on forms prescribed by the department, file a verified report with the department, with a copy to the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, showing its condition on the last day of the preceding calendar year. Such report shall include:

(1) A financial statement of the organization, including its balance sheet and receipts and disbursements for the preceding year;

(2) A list of the names and residence addresses of all persons responsible for the conduct of its affairs, together with a disclosure of the extent and nature of any contracts or arrangements between such persons and the health maintenance organization, including any possible conflicts of interest;

(3) The number of health maintenance contracts issued and outstanding and the number of health maintenance contracts terminated and a compilation of the reasons for such terminations in each case;

(4) A description by location and specialty of the providers retained or otherwise engaged by the organization to satisfy its contractual obligations with its subscribers;

(5) Such statistical information as shall be requested by the department reflecting the health maintenance organization's rates for all comprehensive health care services provided under health maintenance contracts;

(6) The number and amount of damage claims for medical injury initiated against the health maintenance organization and any of the providers engaged by it during the reporting year, broken down into claims with and without formal legal process, and the disposition, if any, of each such claim; and

(7) Such other information relating to the performance of health maintenance organizations as shall be required by the department.

History.—s. 10, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§641.27 Examination by the department.—The department may make an examination of the fiscal affairs of any health maintenance organization subject to ss. 641.17-641.38 as often as it deems it expedient for the protection of the interests of the people of this state, but not less frequently than once every 3 years. The Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services may conduct periodic examinations regarding the quality of health care services being provided by the organization. Every health maintenance organization, its officers, and its agents shall submit their books and records relating to the health maintenance organization to such examinations and in every way facilitate them. However, medical records of individuals and records of physicians providing service under contract to the health maintenance organization shall not be subject to audit, although they may be subject to subpoena by court order upon a showing of good cause. For the purpose of examinations, the respective departments may administer oaths to and examine the officers and agents of a health maintenance organization concerning its business and affairs. The expenses of examination of each health maintenance organization by the department or by the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services shall be paid by the organization. In no event shall expenses of examination exceed a maximum of $10,000 per year. Any rehabilitation, liquidation, conservation, or dissolution of a health maintenance organization shall be conducted under the supervision of the department, which shall have all power with respect thereto granted to it under the laws governing the rehabilitation, liquidation, conservation, or dissolution of life insurance companies.

History.—s. 11, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§641.28 Liability of officers.—Any person who is an officer or principal managing director of the affairs of a health maintenance organization shall be fully and personally liable and accountable for any violations of the provisions of ss. 641.17-641.38 by himself or by persons under his control. However, it is not intended through this legislation to modify the existing law of Florida regarding personal or corporate liability for negligence or medical malpractice.

History.—s. 12, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§641.29 Fees.—Every organization subject to the provisions of ss. 641.17-641.38 shall pay to the department the following fees:

- (1) For filing a copy of its application for a certificate of authority or amendment thereto, $150.
- (2) For filing each annual report, $150.

Fees charged under this section shall be distributed as follows: one-third to the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services and two-thirds to the Department of Insurance.

History.—s. 13, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§641.30 Construction and relationship to other laws.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in ss. 641.17-641.38, the Florida Insurance Code shall not apply to health maintenance organizations, and health maintenance organizations certificated under the provisions of ss. 641.17-641.38 shall not be subject to part I of this chapter.

(2) Solicitation of subscribers by a duly certificated health maintenance organization or its representatives shall not be construed to be violative of any provisions of law relating to solicitation or advertising by health professionals.

History.—s. 14, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§641.31 Health maintenance contracts.—

(1) Any entity issued a certificate and otherwise in compliance with ss. 641.17-641.38 may enter into contracts in this state to provide an agreed-upon set of comprehensive health care services to subscribers or groups of subscribers in exchange for a prepaid per capita, or prepaid aggregate fixed, sum.

(2) The rates charged by any health maintenance organization to its subscribers shall not be excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory. The department may define by rule and regulation what constitutes excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory rates and may require whatever information it deems necessary to determine that a rate or proposed rate meets the requirements of this subsection.

(3) If a health maintenance organization desires to amend any contract with its subscribers or desires to change any rate charged therefor it may do so, upon filing with the department any such proposed amendments or change in rates. Any such proposed change shall be effective immediately, subject to disapproval by the department. However, it is not the intent of this subsection to restrict unduly the right to modify rates in the exercise of reasonable business judgment.

(4) Every health maintenance contract must clearly state all of the services to which a subscriber is entitled under the contract, and must include a clear and understandable statement of any limitations on the services or kinds of services to be provided, including any copayment feature required by the contract or by any insurer or entity which is underwriting any of the services offered by the health maintenance organization. The contract shall also state where and in what manner the comprehensive health care services may be obtained.

(5) Every subscriber shall receive a clear and understandable description of the health maintenance organization's method for resolving subscriber grievances.

(6) The rate of payment for a health maintenance contract shall be a part of the contract and shall be stated in individual contracts issued to subscribers.

History.—s. 15, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

641.32 Acceptable payments.—Each health maintenance organization subject to ss. 641.17-641.38 may accept from governmental agencies, corporations, associations, groups, or individuals payments covering all or part of the cost of contracts entered into between the health maintenance organization and its subscribers.

History.—s. 16, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

641.33 Certain words prohibited in name of organization.—

(1) No entity certificated as a health maintenance organization, other than a licensed insurer insofar as its name is concerned, shall use in its name, contracts, or literature any of the words "insurance," "casualty," "surety," "mutual," or any other words descriptive of the insurance, casualty, or surety business or deceptively similar to the name or description of any insurance or surety corporation doing business in the state.

(2) No person, entity, or health care plan not certificated under the provisions of ss. 641.17-641.38 shall use in its name, logo, contracts, or literature the phrase "health maintenance organization" or the initials "HMO."

History.—s. 17, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

641.34 Open enrollment.—

(1) The requirement of an open-enrollment period is intended to provide the benefits of health maintenance organizations to the general public or to all members of the class of persons the organization serves; such requirement is not intended to restrict a health maintenance organization from establishing administrative procedures that protect the quality of service to its subscribers or the financial condition of such an organization. However, during periods of open enrollment, the organization shall not establish any administrative procedure that arbitrarily restricts enrollment.

(2) After the initial 24 months of operation a health maintenance organization shall have an annual open-enrollment period of at least 1 month during which it accepts up to the limits of its capacity, and without restrictions, individuals in the order in which they apply for enrollment. Health maintenance organizations organized to provide services to a specified group of individuals may limit such open enrollment to all members of said group.

(3) During annual periods of open enrollment the health maintenance organization shall afford the opportunity of membership to new subscribers in an amount up to a maximum of 10 percent of the total number of subscribers as at the end of the previous calendar year.

641.36 Promulgation of rules and regulations.—The Department of Insurance, together with the Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, on a joint basis, shall promulgate rules and regulations necessary to carry out the provisions of ss. 641.17-641.38. The approval of both said departments is required as a condition to the implementation of any rule or regulation governing health maintenance organizations. The Department of Insurance shall collect and make available in a single volume all health maintenance organization rules and regulations promulgated by the departments.

History.—s. 20, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

641.37 Penalty.—Any person who violates the provisions of ss. 641.17-641.38 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding 1 year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

History.—s. 21, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

641.38 Operational health maintenance organizations; issuance of certificate.—

(1) Any health maintenance organization in existence and operating as of January 1, 1972 in the state shall apply for, and be entitled as of right to, the issuance of a certificate. Such organization shall apply for said certificate within 120 days after the effective date of ss. 641.17-641.38, submitting with such application the information required under s. 641.21, together with a filing fee in the amount of $150.

(2) The provisions of this part shall not apply to those organizations providing the services defined in ss. 641.17-641.38 which have been engaged in providing said services for a period of 25 years or more. Such exemption, however, shall terminate upon a change in controlling ownership of the organization.

History.—s. 23, ch. 72-264; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

641.39 Hospital and medical and surgical service plans and health maintenance organizations; discrimination on basis of sickle-cell trait prohibited.—

(1) No hospital, medical, or surgical service plan or health maintenance organization regulated under this chapter shall refuse to issue and deliver any individual or group hospital, medical, or surgical service or health care service contract in this state which plan or organization is currently issuing for delivery in this state and which affords benefits and coverage for any service authorized or permitted to be furnished by a hospital, medical, or surgical plan or a health maintenance organization solely because the person to be covered by the contract has the sickle-cell trait.

(2) No service contract issued by a hospital, medical, or surgical service plan or by a health maintenance organization for delivery in this state shall carry a higher rate or charge solely because the person covered by the contract has the sickle-cell trait.

642.011 Short title.—Sections 642.011-642.049 may be cited as the "Legal Expense Insurance Act."

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.013 Purpose.—The purpose of ss. 642.011-642.049 is to authorize certification and regulation of certain organizations which provide programs for the payment of the costs of legal services or provide legal services.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.015 Definitions.—As used in ss. 642.011-642.049:

(1) "Department" means the Department of Insurance.

(2) "Insurer" means any person authorized to conduct a casualty insurance business in this state or a legal service insurance corporation authorized under ss. 642.011-642.049.

(3) "Legal expense insurance" means a contractual obligation to provide specific legal services, or to reimburse for specific legal expenses, in consideration of a specified payment for an interval of time, regardless of whether the payment is made by the beneficiaries individually or by a third person for them, but does not include the provision of, or reimbursement for, legal services incidental to other insurance coverages.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.017 Exemptions.—The insurance laws of this state, including ss. 642.011-642.049, shall not apply to:

- (1) Retainer contracts made by attorneys-at-law with individual clients with fees based on estimates of the nature and amount of services to be provided to the specific client and similar contracts made with a group of clients involved in the same or closely related legal matters.

(2) Any lawyer referral service authorized by The Florida Bar.

(3) The furnishing of legal assistance by labor unions or other employee organizations to their members in matters relating to employment or occupation.

(4) The furnishing of legal assistance to members, or their dependents, by a church, cooperative, educational institution, credit union, or organization of employees, in which the organization contracts directly with a lawyer or law firm for the provision of legal services and the administration and marketing of such legal services is conducted wholly by the organization.

(5) Employee welfare benefit plans to the extent that state laws are superseded by the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 U.S.C. s. 1144, provided evidence of exemption from state laws is shown to the department.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.019 Organization of legal service insurance corporations.—

(1) Any number of corporations or adult natural persons may organize a legal service insurance corporation under the law of this state relating to corporations generally.

(2) The articles of incorporation shall conform to the requirements applicable to corporations, and, in addition:

(a) The name of the corporation shall indicate that legal services or indemnity for legal expenses is to be provided; and

(b) The purposes of the corporation shall be limited to providing legal services or indemnity for legal expenses and business reasonably related thereto.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.021 Certificate of authority.—

(1) It is unlawful for any person to engage in a legal expense insurance business in this state without a valid certificate of authority issued by the department, pursuant to ss. 642.011-642.049, except that a domestic, foreign, or alien insurer authorized to transact casualty insurance in this state may transact legal expense insurance provided it complies with the applicable provisions of ss. 642.011-642.049. A certificate of authority under ss. 642.011-642.049 may be issued only to a legal service insurance corporation.

(2) The corporation shall file with the department an application for a certificate of authority upon a form to be furnished by the department, which shall include or have attached the following:

(a) The names, and for the preceding 10 years, all addresses and all occupations of all incorporators and proposed directors and officers.

(b) A certified copy of the corporate articles and bylaws and a list of the names, addresses, and occupations of all directors and principal officers and, for the 3 most recent years, the corporation's annual statements and reports.

(c) Each agreement relating to the corporation to which any incorporator or proposed director or officer is a party.

(d) A statement of the amount and sources of the funds available for organization expenses and the proposed arrangements for reimbursement and compensation of incorporators or other persons.

(e) A statement of compensation to be provided directors and officers.

(f) The forms to be used for any proposed contracts between the corporation and participating attorneys, between the corporation and corporations which perform administration, marketing, or management services, and forms relating to the provision of services to insureds.

(g) The plan for conducting the insurance business, which plan shall include all of the following:

1. The geographical area in which business is intended to be conducted in the first 5 years.

2. The types of insurance intended to be written in the first 5 years, including specification whether and to what extent indemnity rather than service benefits are to be provided.

3. The proposed marketing methods.

(h) A current statement of the assets and liabilities of the corporate applicant.

(i) Forms of all legal service contracts the applicant proposes to offer showing the rates to be charged for each form of contract.

(j) Such other documents and information as the department may reasonably require.

(3) Copies of the documents filed pursuant to paragraphs (f) and (i) of subsection (2) shall be filed with The Florida Bar within 5 days after filing with the department.

(4) The department shall issue a certificate of authority only to a legal service insurance corporation, provided it is satisfied that:

(a) All requirements of law have been met;

(b) All natural persons who are incorporators, the directors and principal officers of corporate incorporators, and the proposed directors and officers of the corporation being formed are trustworthy and collectively have the competence and experience to engage in the particular insurance business proposed; and

(c) The business plan is consistent with the interests of potential insureds and of the public.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.023 Required deposit or bond.—

(1) To assure the faithful performance of its obligations in the event of insolvency, each legal service insurance corporation, prior to the issuance of its certificate of authority, shall deposit and maintain with the department securities of the type eligible for deposit by insurers under s. 625.52, which securities shall be held in trust and shall have at all times a market value in the amount specified. The initial deposit for a corporation shall be in the amount of $50,000 for at least the first full year of operation; except that the initial deposit for any organization applying for a certificate of authority and having previously been engaged in the sale of legal expense insurance under the supervision of The Florida Bar prior to October 1, 1979, shall be in the amount of $50,000 or 50 percent of its gross written premiums in force, whichever is less. The amount of the initial deposit shall be adjusted annually thereafter on October 1 as follows:

(a) Each corporation having in force less than $300,000 of gross written premiums shall deposit with the department an amount equal to 50 percent of such premiums in force or $50,000, whichever is less.

(b) Each corporation having in force more than $300,000 of gross written premiums, but less than $750,000, shall deposit with the department an amount not less than $75,000.

(c) Each corporation having in force more than $750,000 of gross written premiums shall deposit with the department an amount equal to $100,000.

(2) In lieu of any deposit of securities required under subsection (1) and subject to the approval of the department, a legal service insurance corporation may file with the department a surety bond issued by an authorized surety insurer. The bond shall be for the same purpose as the deposit in lieu of which it is filed. The department shall not approve any bond under the terms of which the protection afforded against insolvency is not equivalent to the protection afforded by those securities provided for in subsection (1).

(3) Securities or bonds deposited pursuant to this section shall be for the benefit of, and subject to, action thereon by any person sustaining an actionable injury due to the failure of the corporation to faithfully perform its obligations to its insureds in the event of insolvency or impairment of any legal service insurance corporation.

(4) The state shall be responsible for the safekeeping of all securities deposited with the department under ss. 642.011-642.049. Such securities shall not, on account of being in this state, be subject to taxation, but shall be held exclusively and solely to guarantee the performance by the legal service insurance corporation of its obligations to its insureds.

(5) Such deposit or bond shall be maintained unimpaired as long as the legal service insurance corporation continues to do business in this state. Whenever the corporation ceases to do business in this state and furnishes proof satisfactory to the department that it has discharged or otherwise adequately provided for all its obligations to its insureds in this state, the department shall release the deposited securities to the parties entitled thereto, on presentation of the department's receipts for such securities, or shall release the bond filed with it in lieu of such deposit.

(6) The department may reduce the amount of deposit or bond required under subsections (1) and (2) if it finds that the reduction is justified by:

(a) The terms and number of existing contracts with subscribers;

(b) Support by financially sound public or private organizations or agencies;

(c) Other reliable financial guarantees;

(d) A pressing social need in the community to be served for the benefits to be provided;

(e) Plan attorney agreements that provide for full plan benefits to subscribers without additional payments by the subscribers if the plan terminates; or

(f) Other special circumstances.

(7) The department may at any time enter an order modifying the amount of the deposit or bond specified under subsections (1) and (2) if it finds that there has been a substantial change in the facts on which the determination was based. The department shall hold a hearing within 30 days after receiving a request from the corporation which shall be submitted within 30 days after notification of the modification order. Failure to meet the new requirements within 30 days after final decision or after the expiration of the 30-day period for submitting the hearing request constitutes a ground for rehabilitation.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.025 Policy and certificate forms.—

(1) Legal expense insurance may be written as individual, group, blanket, or franchise insurance. Each contractual obligation for legal expense insurance shall be evidenced by a policy. Each person insured under a group policy shall be issued a certificate of coverage.

(2) No policy or certificate of legal expense insurance may be issued in this state unless a copy of the form has been filed with and approved by the department.

(3) The department shall not approve any policy or certificate form which does not meet the following requirements:

(a) Policies shall contain a list and description of the legal services to be supplied or the legal matters for which expenses are to be reimbursed and any limits on the amounts to be reimbursed.

(b) Policies and certificates shall indicate the name of the insurer and the full address of its principal place of business.

(c) Certificates issued under group policies shall contain a full statement of the benefits provided and exceptions thereto but may summarize the other terms of the master policy.

(d) Policies providing for legal services to be supplied by a limited number of attorneys who have executed provider contracts with the insurer, whether the attorney in an individual case is to be selected by the insured or by the insurer, shall provide for alternative benefits if the insured is unable to find a participating attorney willing to perform the services or the attorney selected by the insurer is disqualified or otherwise unable to perform the services. The alternative benefit may consist of furnishing the services of an attorney selected and paid by the insurer or paying the fee of an attorney selected by the insured. The policy shall also provide a procedure that includes impartial review for settling disagreements concerning the grounds for demanding an alternative benefit.

(e) No policy, except one issued by a mutual or reciprocal insurance company, may provide for assessments on policyholders or for reduction of benefits for the purpose of maintaining the insurer's solvency.

(f) Policies shall contain a statement that the subscriber has a right to file a complaint with The Florida Bar concerning attorney conduct pursuant to the plan.

(g) Policies shall contain a statement that the individual beneficiary has the right to retain, at his own expense, except when the policy provides otherwise, any attorney authorized to practice law in this state.

(4) The department may disapprove a policy or certificate form if it finds that the form:

(a) Is unfair, unfairly discriminatory, misleading, ambiguous, or encourages misrepresentation or misunderstanding of the contract;

(b) Provides coverage or benefits or contains other provisions that would endanger the solvency of the insurer; or

(c) Is contrary to law.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.027 Premium rates.—No policy of legal expense insurance may be issued in this state unless the premium rates for the insurance have been filed with and approved by the department. Premium rates shall be established and justified in accordance with generally accepted insurance principles, including, but not limited to, the experience or judgment of the insurer making the rate filing or actuarial computations. The department may disapprove rates that are excessive, inadequate, or unfairly discriminatory. Rates are not unfairly discriminatory because they are averaged broadly among persons insured under group, blanket, or franchise policies. The department may require the submission of any other information reasonably necessary in determining whether to approve or disapprove a filing made under this section or s. 642.025.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.029 Contracts by insurers.—

(1) Contracts made between the insurer and participating attorneys, management contracts, or contracts with providers of other services by the legal expense insurance policy shall be filed with and approved by the department.

(2) Insurers shall annually report to the department, in such detail as is reasonably required, the number and geographical distribution of attorneys and providers of other services covered by the legal expense insurance policy with whom it maintains contractual relations and the nature of the relations. The department may require more frequent reports from an insurer or group of insurers.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.032 Provisions of general insurance law applicable to legal service insurance corporations.—

(1) The following provisions of the insurance laws of this state shall apply to legal service insurance corporations, to the extent that they are not inconsistent with the provisions of ss. 642.011-642.049:

(a) Chapter 624, Administration and General Provisions.

(b) Chapter 625, Accounting, Investments, and Deposits.

(c) Chapter 626, part VII, Unfair Insurance Trade Practices.

(d) Chapter 627, part I, Rates and Rating Organizations, and part II, The Insurance Contract.

(e) Chapter 631, Insurer Insolvency; Guaranty of Payment.

(2) The department may, by rule, modify or waive any requirement of the law referred to in subsection (1) to avoid unreasonable hardship, expense, or inconvenience to a legal service insurance corporation if the interests of policyholders continue to be adequately protected.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.034 Registration required.—No person shall solicit, negotiate, advertise, or execute legal expense insurance contracts in this state unless such person is registered as a sales agent or is commissioned for that purpose by a sales agent, except a person who is licensed as a general lines agent or solicitor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.036 Sales agents to be registered.—Each legal service insurance corporation shall, on forms prescribed by the department, register, on or before October 1 of each year, the name and business address of each sales agent under contract with it in this state and shall, within 30 days after termination of the contract, notify the department of such termination. At the time of the annual registration, a $10 filing fee for each sales agent shall be paid by the legal service insurance corporation to the department. Any sales agent employed after the October 1 filing date shall be registered with the department within 10 days after such employment. No employee or sales agent of a legal service insurance corporation shall directly or indirectly solicit or negotiate insurance contracts, or hold himself out in any manner to be an insurance agent or solicitor, unless so qualified and licensed therefor under the Insurance Code.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.038 Reporting and accounting for funds.—

(1) All funds belonging to legal service insurance corporations or others received by a sales agent in transactions under his registration shall be trust funds so received by such agent in a fiduciary capacity, and the agent, in the applicable regular course of business, shall account for and pay the same to the legal service insurance corporation or other person entitled thereto.

(2) Any sales agent who, not being entitled thereto, diverts or appropriates such funds or any portion thereof to his own use is guilty of larceny as provided in s. 812.021.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.041 Grounds for compulsory refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of contracting sales agents.—The department shall deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any sales agent if it finds that, as to the agent, any one or more of the following applicable grounds exist:

(1) Material misstatement, misrepresentation, or fraud in registration.

(2) The registration is willfully used, or to be used, to circumvent any of the requirements or prohibitions of ss. 642.011-642.049.

(3) Willful misrepresentation of any legal service expense contract or willful deception with regard to any such contract, performed either in person or by any form of dissemination of information or advertising.

(4) In the adjustment of claims, material misrepresentation to a contract holder or other interested party of the terms and coverage of a contract, with the intent and for the purpose of settling such claim on less favorable terms than those provided in and contemplated by the contract.

(5) Demonstrated lack of fitness or trustworthiness to engage in the business of legal expense insurance.

(6) Demonstrated lack of adequate knowledge and technical competence to engage in the transactions authorized by the registration.

(7) Fraudulent or dishonest practices in the conduct of business under the registration.

(8) Misappropriation, conversion, or unlawful withholding of moneys belonging to a legal service insurance corporation or to others and received in the conduct of business under the registration.

(9) Rebating, or attempting to rebate, or unlawfully dividing, or offering to divide, his commission with another.

(10) Willful failure to comply with, or willful violation of, any proper order or rule of the department or willful violation of any provision of ss. 642.011-642.049.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.043 Grounds for discretionary refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of sales agents.—The department may, in its discretion, deny, suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration of any sales agent if it finds, after notice and hearing thereon as provided in s. 642.045, that, as to the agent, any one or more of the following applicable grounds exist under circumstances for which such denial, suspension, revocation, or refusal is not mandatory under s. 642.041:

(1) Any cause for which granting of the registration could have been refused had it been known to the department at the time of application.

(2) Violation of any provision of ss. 642.011-642.049, or of any other law applicable to the business of legal expense insurance in the course of dealings under the registration.

(3) Violation of any lawful order or rule of the department.

(4) Failure or refusal to pay over, upon demand, to any legal service insurer he represents, or has represented, any money coming into his hands which belongs to the legal service insurance corporation.

(5) In the conduct of business under the registration, he has engaged in unfair methods of competition or in unfair or deceptive acts or practices, as such methods, acts, or practices are defined under part VII of chapter 626, or has otherwise shown himself to be a source of injury or loss to the public or detrimental to the public interest.

(6) Conviction of a felony.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.045 Procedure for refusal, suspension, or revocation of registration of sales agent.—

(1) If any sales agent is convicted by a court of a violation of any provision of ss. 642.011-642.049, the registration of such individual shall thereby be deemed to be immediately revoked without any further procedure relative thereto by the department.

(2) As to a registration denied, suspended, or revoked by the department, the person aggrieved thereby shall have the right to a hearing thereon.

(3) If, after an investigation or upon other evidence, the department has reason to believe that grounds may exist for the suspension or revocation of, or refusal to renew or continue, the registration of any sales agent, as such grounds are specified in ss. 642.041 and 642.043, the department may proceed to suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the registration.

(4) Whenever it appears that any licensed insurance agent has violated the provisions of ss. 642.011-642.049, the department may take such action relative thereto as is authorized by the Insurance Code for a violation of the Insurance Code by such agent.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-103.

642.047 Administrative fine in lieu of suspension or revocation of registration.—

(1) If, pursuant to procedures provided for in ss. 642.011-642.049, it is found that one or more grounds exist for the suspension or revocation of, or refusal to renew or continue, any registration issued under ss. 642.011-642.049, and except when such suspension, revocation, or refusal is mandatory, an order may be entered imposing upon the registrant, in lieu of such suspension, revocation, or refusal, an administrative penalty for each violation in the amount of $100 or, in the event of willful misconduct or willful violation on the part of the registrant, an administrative fine of $500. The administrative penalty may be augmented in amount by an amount equal to any commissions received by or accruing to the credit of the registrant in connection with any transaction to which the grounds for suspension, revocation, or refusal related.

(2) The order may allow the registrant a reasonable period not to exceed 30 days, within which to pay to the department the amount of the penalty so imposed. If the registrant fails to pay the penalty in its entirety to the department at its office in Tallahassee within the period so allowed, the registration of the registrant shall stand suspended or revoked, or renewal or continuation may be refused, as the case may be, upon expiration of such period and without any further proceedings.

(1) "Department" shall mean the Department of Insurance.

(2) "Insurer" shall mean any domestic, foreign or alien surety company which has qualified to transact surety business in this state.

(3) "Bail bondsman" shall mean a limited surety agent or a professional bail bondsman as hereafter defined.

(4) "Limited surety agent" shall mean any individual appointed by an insurer by power of attorney to execute or countersign bail bonds in connection with judicial proceedings and receives or is promised money or other things of value therefor.

(5) "Professional bondsman" shall mean any person who pledges United States currency, United States postal money orders, or cashier's checks or other property as security for a bail bond in connection with a judicial proceeding and receives or is promised therefor money or other things of value.

(6) "Runner" shall mean a person employed by a bail bondsman for the purpose of assisting the bail bondsman in presenting the defendant in court when required, or employed by the bail bondsman to assist in the apprehension and surrender of defendant to the court, or keeping the defendant under necessary surveillance. This does not affect the right of a bail bondsman to hire counsel, or to ask assistance of law enforcement officers.

(7) "General agent" shall mean any individual, partnership, association or corporation appointed or employed by an insurer to supervise or manage the bail bond business written by limited surety agents of such insurer.

History.—s. 1, ch. 29621, 1955; s. 2, ch. 57-63; s. 6, ch. 65-492; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 272, ch. 71-377; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1982, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

(1) The department shall have full power and authority to administer the provisions of ss. 648.25-648.57, which regulate bail bondsmen and runners, and to that end, to adopt and promulgate rules and regulations pursuant to s. 624.308 of the insurance code, and enforce rules and regulations necessary and proper to effectuate and enforce the purposes and provisions of said sections. The department may employ and discharge such employees, examiners, counsel, and such other assistants as shall be deemed necessary, and it shall prescribe their duties, and their compensation shall be the same as other state employees receive for similar services.

(2) The department shall adopt a seal by which its proceedings are authenticated. Any written instrument purporting to be a copy of any action, proceeding, or finding of fact by the department, or any record of the department authenticated by the seal, shall be accepted by all the courts of this state as prima facie evidence of the contents thereof.

(3) The department's papers, documents, reports or evidence shall not be subject to subpoena without its consent until after the same shall have been published at a hearing held under said sections, unless after notice to the department and hearing, the court shall determine that the department shall not be unnecessarily hindered or embarrassed.

History.—s. 2, ch. 29621, 1955; s. 7, ch. 61-406; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1982, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

(1) No license shall be issued except in compliance with this chapter and none shall be issued except to an individual. A firm, partnership, association, or corporation, as such, shall not be licensed.

(2) For the protection of the people of this state, the department shall not issue, renew, or permit to exist any license except in compliance with this chapter. The department shall not issue, renew, or permit to exist a license for any individual found to be untrustworthy or incompetent who has had his eligibility to hold a license revoked, or who has not established to the satisfaction of the department that he is qualified therefor in accordance with this chapter.

(3) The department may propound any reasonable interrogatories to an applicant for a license under this chapter or on any renewal thereof, relating to his qualifications, residence, prospective place of business, and any other matters which are deemed necessary or expedient in order to protect the public and ascertain the qualifications of the applicant. The department may also conduct any reasonable inquiry or investigation it sees fit, relative to the determination of the applicant's fitness to be licensed or to continue to be licensed. Upon the request of the department, a law enforcement agency shall inform the department of any specific criminal charge filed against any applicant and the final disposition of such charge.

(4) If upon the basis of the completed application for a license and such further inquiry or investigation the department deems the applicant to be unfit as to character and background or lacking in one or more of the required qualifications for the license, the department shall disapprove the application.

(5)(a) The license of a limited surety agent and a professional bail bondsman shall continue in force, without further examination unless deemed necessary by the department, until suspended, revoked or otherwise terminated but subject to annual continuation by the insurer or professional bondsman named therein on or before September 1 by payment of the fee and license taxes for renewal or continuation of the license as prescribed in s. 648.31 and miscellaneous fees as prescribed in s. 624.501 of the insurance code.

(b) The license of a bail bond runner shall continue in force until expired, suspended, revoked or otherwise terminated but subject to annual continuation by the appointing limited surety agent or professional bondsman named therein on or before September 1 by payment of the fee and license taxes for renewal or continuation of the license as prescribed in s. 648.31 and miscellaneous fees as prescribed in s. 624.501 of the insurance code.

(6) Any such license as to which request for renewal or continuation is not received by the department at its offices at Tallahassee as required by subsection (5), shall be deemed to have expired as at midnight on September 30 next following such failure. Request for renewal or continuation of any such license or payment of fee and license taxes therefor which is received by the department after such September 1 but on or before the next following October 15 may be accepted and effectuated by the department, in its discretion, and any such request and payment received by the department after such October 15 and on or before the next following November 15, may be accepted and effectuated by the department, in its discretion, only if accompanied by an additional license continuation fee in the amount of $5. Such continuation fees to be deposited to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

(7) The original license certificate issued to any such licensee shall remain outstanding and in effect for so long as the license represented thereby continues in force as hereinabove provided.

(8) Any person who represents a surety company and whose duties are restricted to bail bonds only but who comes under the definition of service representative as provided in s. 626.081 of the insurance code may be licensed as a bail bondsman provided such person meets the qualification requirements of this chapter. Provided further, such person must either be licensed as a bail bondsman or qualify as a service representative and shall engage in such activities as provided in ss. 626.081, 626.744 and 626.745.

§648.28 Bondsman and general agent deposit or bond.—

(1) When the department shall be satisfied that the applicant for a bail bondsman's license had qualified for such a license and met the requirements provided in ss. 648.27, 648.34, 648.35, and 648.38, it shall notify the applicant that a license will be issued upon the applicant's posting a deposit or bond.

(2) Prior to the issuance of a license or continuation of an existing license the applicant or licensee shall deposit with the department securities of the type eligible for deposit by insurers under s. 625.52, and having at all times a market value of not less than $5,000; except that a general lines agent as defined in s. 626.041, shall not make such deposit unless the majority of his premium volume is derived from the bail bond business.

(3) No insurer shall appoint or allow to be represented in this state by a general agent unless first the general agent shall have deposited with the department securities of the type eligible for deposit by insurers under s. 625.52, and having at all times a market value of not less than $25,000.

(4) In lieu of any deposit of securities the bail bondsman or general agent may file with the department a surety bond in the penal sum of like amount. The bond shall be issued and continued by an authorized surety insurer not represented by said bail bondsman or general agent. The bond shall be for the same purpose as the deposit in lieu of which it is filed, shall be in favor of the department and shall specifically authorize recovery by the department of the damages obtained in case the bail bondsman or general agent fails to faithfully perform his obligations in the conduct of the bail bond business. No such bond shall be canceled or subject to cancellation unless at least 60 days advance notice thereof in writing is filed with the department.

(5) The state shall be responsible for the safekeeping of all securities deposited with the department under this chapter. Such securities shall not, on account of being in this state, be subject to taxation, but shall be held exclusively and solely to guarantee the bail bondsman's or general agent's faithful performance of his obligations in the conduct of the bail bond business.

(6) The depositing bail bondsman or general agent shall, during his solvency, have the right to exchange or substitute other securities of like quality and value for securities so on deposit to receive the interest and other income accruing on such securities, and to inspect the deposit at all reasonable times.

(7) Such deposit or bond shall be maintained unimpaired as long as the bail bondsman or general agent continues in business in this state. Whenever the bail bondsman or general agent ceases to do business in this state and furnishes to the department proof satisfactory to it that such bail bondsman or general agent has discharged or otherwise adequately provided for all his obligations in this state in the conduct of his business, the department shall release the deposited securities to the bail bondsman or general agent entitled thereto, on presentation of the department's receipts for such securities, or release any bond filed with it in lieu of such deposit.

History.—s. 7, ch. 65-492; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.391.

648.29 Bondsman, build-up funds.—All deposits or build-up funds posted by a bail bondsman or general agent, either with the insurer or general agent representing such insurer, must be maintained by the insurer or the general agent in a bank or savings and loan association in this state.

History.—s. 8, ch. 65-492; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.392.

648.30 License required.—No person shall act in the capacity of a professional bail bondsman, limited surety agent, or runner, or perform any of the functions, duties or powers prescribed for bail bondsmen or runners under the provisions of this chapter unless that person shall be qualified and licensed as provided in this chapter.

History.—s. 4, ch. 29621, 1955; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.40.

648.31 License tax and fee.—

(1) The department shall collect in advance all license taxes and fees for the issuance of any license to a bail bondsman, limited surety agent, or runner, as follows:

(a) Original license:
Appointment fee .....	$1.00
State license tax .....	$6.00
County license tax .....	$3.00
Total .....	$10.00

(b) Annual renewal or continuation of license:

Appointment fee .....	$1.00
State license tax .....	$6.00
County license tax .....	$3.00
Total .....	$10.00

(2) The department shall deposit all license taxes and fees in such funds and for such uses as is provided by laws applicable to like license taxes and like fees in the case of general lines agents.

History.—s. 5, ch. 29621, 1955; s. 2, ch. 59-326; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.41.

648.32 Effective date and initial period of license.—

(1) All licenses as to which all requisite applications, payment of fees and taxes, passing of examinations, and waiting periods have been completed and evidence thereof in the customary form received by the department at its office in Tallahassee within 1 calendar month prior to the expiration of the applicable license year then current or within 1 calendar month after the commencement of the next following new license year, shall be dated and be effective as of the first day of such new license year and shall be as for the entire such license year (subject to suspension, revocation, renewal, continuation, or termination as otherwise provided for in this chapter); but such a license, if issued pursuant to qualification therefor during the last calendar month of the preceding license year as hereinabove provided, shall be deemed to relate back in effectiveness to the date within such calendar month on which the last of such qualifying requirements was received by the department at its offices in Tallahassee.

(2) All other licenses shall be dated and become effective as of the date of issue.

History.—s. 3, ch. 59-326; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.411.

648.33 Bail bond rates.—Bail bond rates shall be subject to the provisions of part I of chapter 627 of the insurance code. It shall be unlawful for a bail bondsman to execute a bail bond without charging a premium therefor and the premium rate shall not exceed nor be less than the premium rate as filed with and approved by the department.

History.—s. 6, ch. 29621, 1955; s. 4, ch. 59-326; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1982, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

Note.—Former s. 903.42.

648.34 Bail bondsmen; qualifications.—

(1) Application for filing for examination for bail bondsmen shall be submitted on forms furnished by the department.

(2) To qualify as a bail bondsman it must affirmatively appear:

(a) That the applicant is a natural person who has reached the age of 18 years.

(b) That the applicant has been a bona fide resident of the state for 1 year last past and will actually reside in this state at least 6 months out of each year.

(c) That the place of business of the applicant will be located in this state and that such applicant will be actively engaged in the bail bond business and maintain a place of business accessible to the public.

(d) That no applicant for a license as a limited surety agent or professional bondsman shall be qualified therefor or be so licensed unless, within the 2 years immediately preceding the date his application for license is filed with the department, he has:

1. Successfully completed a basic certification course in the criminal justice system, consisting of not less than 80 hours, approved by the department; and

2.a. Successfully completed a correspondence course for bail bondsmen approved by the department;

b. Been engaged as a licensed runner for a period of 1 year;

c. Held a valid general lines agent's license for 1 year; or

d. Had at least 1 year with responsible duties as a substantially full-time bona fide employee of a licensed agent or professional bondsman or an insurer engaged in writing bail bonds in which field he has specialized.

(e) That the applicant is vouched for and recommended upon sworn statements by at least three bail bondsmen licensed by the department, or three other reputable citizens who are residents of the same counties in which applicant proposes to engage in the bail bond business.

(f) That the applicant is a person of high character and approved integrity.

(3) A fee of $10 shall be submitted to the department with each application, such fee to be deposited to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

(4) Applicant shall furnish with his application, a complete set of his fingerprints and a recent credential-size fullface photograph of himself. The applicant's fingerprints shall be certified by an authorized law enforcement officer.

(5) Any limited surety agent or professional bondsman who holds a license on October 1, 1977, issued under the provisions of this chapter shall be exempt from the provisions of this section.

History.—s. 7, ch. 29621, 1955; s. 5, ch. 59-326; s. 9, ch. 61-406; s. 2, ch. 61-119; s. 24, ch. 65-269; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-96; s. 1, ch. 77-116; s. 61, ch. 77-121, s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.43.

§648.35 Professional bondsmen; qualifications.—In addition to the qualifications prescribed in s. 648.34, to qualify as a professional bondsman an applicant shall:

(1) File with his application for filing for examination and with each application for renewal or continuation of his license a detailed financial statement under oath; and

(2) File with his application for filing for examination the rating plan he proposes to use in writing bail bonds; such rating plan must be approved prior to issuance of the license.

History.—s. 8, ch. 29621, 1955; s. 10, ch. 61-406; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1982, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

Note.—Former s. 903.44.

§648.36 Bail bondsman's records.—

(1) Every bail bondsman must maintain in his office such records of bail bonds executed or countersigned by him to enable the public to obtain all necessary information concerning such bail bonds for at least 1 year after the liability of the surety has been terminated.

(2) On or before August 15 of each year, a sworn statement on a form furnished by the department shall be filed with the department by:

(a) Every bail bondsman listing his assets and liabilities, and

(b) Every bail bondsman or every firm or agency if the bail bondsman is employed by, associated with or is a member of such firm or agency, listing every outstanding or unpaid forfeiture, estreature and judgment, together with the name of the court in which such forfeiture, estreature and judgment is recorded, and submitting all other pertinent information requested by the department.

History.—s. 11, ch. 61-406; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.441.

§648.37 Runners; qualifications.—To qualify as a runner:

(1) It must affirmatively appear from the application:

(a) That the applicant is a natural person who has reached the age of 18 years.

(b) That the applicant has been a bona fide resident of this state for more than 6 months last past.

(c) That the applicant will be employed by only one bail bondsman, who will supervise the work of the applicant, and be responsible for the runner's conduct in the bail bond business.

(d) The application must be endorsed by the appointing bail bondsman, who shall obligate himself to supervise the runner's activities in his behalf.

(2) A fee of $10 shall be submitted to the department with each application, such fee to be deposited to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

(3) Applicant shall furnish with his application, a complete set of his fingerprints and a recent credential-size fullface photograph of himself. The applicant's fingerprints shall be certified by an authorized law enforcement officer.

History.—s. 9, ch. 29621, 1955; s. 6, ch. 59-326; s. 2, ch. 61-119; s. 12, ch. 61-406; s. 25, ch. 65-269; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-116; s. 62, ch. 77-121; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.45.

§648.38 Examination; time; place; fee; scope.—

(1)(a) If upon the basis of the completed application for examination and such further inquiry or investigation as the department may make concerning the fitness and qualifications of the applicant, the department is satisfied that, subject to any examination required to be taken and passed by the applicant for a license, the applicant is qualified to take the examination applied for and that all pertinent taxes and fees have been paid, it shall approve the application.

(b) If upon the basis of the completed application for examination and such further inquiry or investigation as to the fitness and qualifications of the applicant, the department deems the applicant to be unfit or lacking in any one or more of the required qualifications as specified in s. 648.34 as to limited surety agent, and ss. 648.34 and 648.35 as to professional bondsmen, the department shall disapprove the application.

(2) Upon approval by the department the applicant shall be required to appear in person at a place hereinafter designated to take a written examination prepared by the department, testing his ability and qualifications to be a bail bondsman.

(3) Each applicant shall become eligible for examination 60 days after the date the application is received by the department in Tallahassee provided the department is satisfied as to the applicant's fitness to take the examination. Examinations shall be held in the department's offices where an adequate and designated examination room is available. Each applicant shall be entitled to take the examination at such of the said offices which is located closest to his place of residence, and he shall be entitled to notice of the time and place not less than 15 days prior to taking the examination.

(4) A fee of $10 shall be submitted to the department with each application, such fee to be deposited to the credit of the Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund. The fee for filing application for examination shall not be subject to refund.

(5) The failure of the applicant to secure approval of the department shall not preclude him from applying as many times as he desires, but no application will be considered by the department within 60 days subsequent to the date upon which the department denied the last application.

(6) The failure of an applicant to pass an examination, after having been approved by the department to take the examination, shall not preclude him from taking subsequent examinations. A separate and additional application and fee for filing application for examination shall be filed with the department for each subsequent examination; provided, however, that at least 60 days must intervene between examinations.

(7) The $10 fee for filing application for examination shall apply to each examination, but once an applicant has been approved by the department he will not have to file another application as set forth in ss. 648.34 and 648.35 unless specifically so ordered by the department. Any bail bondsman who successfully passes an examination must be licensed within 24 months from date of examination or be subject to another examination unless failure to be so licensed was due to military service, in which event the period within which another examination is not required may, in the department's discretion, be extended to 12 months following the date of discharge from military service, if the military service does not exceed 3 years, but in no event to extend under this clause for a period of more than 4 years.

(8) The scope of the examination shall be as broad as the bail bond business.

§648.39 Notice of appointment of limited surety agents; termination.—

(1) The insurer shall annually prior to September 1 file with the department an alphabetical list of all limited surety agents appointed, giving the type and class of license, names and addresses of each licensee whose appointment and license in this state is being renewed or is to be continued in effect, accompanied by payment of the applicable renewal or continuation fees and taxes. Every such insurer who shall, subsequent to the filing of this list expect to appoint a limited surety agent in this state, shall give notice thereof to the department along with a written application for license for said agents. All such appointments shall be subject to the issuance of a license to such agents.

(2) The department shall promptly notify any applicant who has passed the limited surety agent's examination. Upon receipt of application for license and proper taxes and fees, the department shall issue a license in the name of the individual to the insurer.

(3) An insurer terminating the appointment of a limited surety agent shall, within 30 days after such termination, file written notice thereof with the department, together with a statement that it has given or mailed notice to the limited surety agent. Such notice filed with the department shall state the reasons, if any, for such termination. Information so furnished the department shall be privileged and shall not be used as evidence in or basis for any action against the insurer or any of its representatives.

(4) Every insurer shall within 5 days after terminating appointment of any limited surety agent give written notice thereof to any clerk of the circuit court and sheriff with which the agent is registered.

History.—s. 11, ch. 29621, 1955; s. 8, ch. 59-326; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.47.

§648.40 Notice of appointment of professional bondsmen; termination.—

(1) Any person applying to qualify as a professional bondsman shall at the time of filing his application for examination also file with the department an application for license and upon the applicant's passing the examination for bail bondsmen the department shall promptly issue proper license.

(2) Any professional bail bondsman who discontinues writing bail bonds during the period for which he is licensed shall notify the clerks of the circuit court and the sheriffs with whom he is registered and return his license to the department for cancellation within 30 days from such discontinuance.

Note.—Former s. 903.48.

§648.41 Notice of appointment of runners; termination.—

(1) Every person duly licensed as a bail bondsman may appoint as runner any person who holds or has qualified for a runner's license. Each bail bondsman shall annually prior to September 1 file with the department an alphabetical list of all runners appointed, giving the type and class of license, names and addresses of each licensee whose appointment and license in this state is being renewed or is to be continued in effect, accompanied by payment of the applicable renewal or continuation fees and taxes. Each such bail bondsman who shall, subsequent to the filing of this list, expect to appoint additional persons as runners shall file written notice with the department and request a license for the said runner.

(2) A bail bondsman terminating the appointment of a runner shall within 30 days file written notice thereof with the department, together with a statement that he has given or mailed notice to the runner. Such notice filed with the department shall state the reasons, if any, for such termination. Information so furnished the department shall be privileged and shall not be used as evidence in any action against the bail bondsman.

History.—s. 13, ch. 29621, 1955; s. 10, ch. 59-326; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.49.

§648.42 Registration of bail bondsmen.—No bail bondsman shall become a surety on an undertaking unless he has registered in the office of the sheriff and with the clerk of the circuit court in the county in which the bondsman resides and he may register in a like manner in any other county and any limited surety agent shall file a certified copy of his appointment by power of attorney from each insurer which he represents as agent with each of said officers. Registration and filing of certified copy of renewed power of attorney shall be performed annually on October 1. The clerk of the circuit court and the sheriff shall not permit the registration of a bail bondsman unless such bondsman is currently licensed by the department.

History.—s. 14, ch. 29621, 1955; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339, s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.50.

§648.43 Power of attorney; to be approved by department; filing of copies.—

(1) Every insurer engaged in the writing of bail bonds through limited surety agents in this state shall submit and have approved by the department a sample power of attorney which will be the only form of power of attorney the insurer will issue to limited surety agents in Florida.

(2) Every professional bondsman who authorizes a licensed professional bondsman directly employed by him to sign his name to bonds must file copy of the power of attorney given to such licensed bondsman with the sheriff and the clerk of the circuit court in the county in which he resides and with the department. Such power of attorney shall remain in full force and effect until written notice revoking the power of attorney has been received by the above-named officials.

Note.—Former s. 903.51.

§648.44 Prohibitions.—

(1) No bail bondsman or runner shall:

(a) Suggest or advise the employment of or name for employment any particular attorney to represent his principal.

(b) Solicit business in or about any place where prisoners are confined or in or about any court.

(c) Pay a fee or rebate or give or promise anything of value to a jailer, policeman, peace officer, committing magistrate, or any other person who has power to arrest or to hold in custody; or to any public official or public employee in order to secure a settlement, compromise, remission or reduction of the amount of any bail bond or estreatment thereof.

(d) Pay a fee or rebate or give anything of value to an attorney in bail bond matters, except in defense of any action on a bond.

(e) Pay a fee or rebate or give or promise anything of value to the principal or anyone in his behalf.

(f) Participate in the capacity of an attorney at a trial or hearing of one on whose bond he is surety.

(g) Accept anything of value from a principal except the premium, provided that the bondsman shall be permitted to accept collateral security or other indemnity from the principal which shall be returned upon final termination of liability on the bond. Such collateral security or other indemnity required by the bondsman must be reasonable in relation to the amount of the bond.

(2) When a bail bondsman accepts collateral he shall give a written receipt for same, and this receipt shall give in detail a full account of the collateral received.

(3) The following persons or classes shall not be bail bondsmen or runners and shall not directly or indirectly receive any benefits from the execution of any bail bond:

(a) Jailers.

(b) Police officers.

(c) Committing magistrates.

(d) Sheriffs and deputy sheriffs.

(e) Any person having the power to arrest or having anything to do with the control of federal, state, county or municipal prisoners.

(4) A bail bondsman shall not sign nor countersign in blank any bond, nor shall he give a power of attorney to, or otherwise authorize, anyone to countersign his name to bonds unless the person so authorized is a licensed bondsman directly employed by the bondsman giving such power of attorney.

(5) No bail bond agency shall advertise as or hold itself out to be a bail bond or surety company.

Note.—Former s. 903.52.

§648.45 Denial, suspension, refusal to renew, or revocation of license or eligibility to hold same.—

(1) The department may deny, suspend, revoke or refuse to renew any license issued under this law, or it may suspend or revoke the eligibility of any person to hold a license under this law, for any of the following causes or for any violation of the laws of this state relating to bail:

(a) For any cause for which issuance of the license could have been refused had it then existed and been known to the department.

(b) Violation of any law relating to the business of bail bond insurance in the course of dealings under the license issued him by the department.

(c) Material misstatement, misrepresentation or fraud in obtaining the license, or failure to pass any examination required under this chapter.

(d) Misappropriation, conversion or unlawful withholding of moneys belonging to insurers or others and received in the conduct of business under the license.

(e) Conviction of a felony.

(f) Fraudulent or dishonest practices in the conduct of business under the license.

(g) Willful failure to comply with, or willful violation of any proper order, rule or regulation of the department.

(h) Failure or refusal, upon demand, to pay over to any insurer he represents or has represented, any money coming into his hands belonging to the insurer.

(i) Willful failure to return collateral security to the principal when the principal is entitled thereto.

(j) When, in the judgment of the department, the licensee has, in the conduct of affairs under the license, demonstrated incompetency, or untrustworthiness, or conduct or practices rendering him unfit to carry on the bail bond business, or making his continuance in such business detrimental to the public interest, or when the department finds that he is no longer in good faith carrying on the bail bond business, or that he is guilty of rebating, or offering to rebate, or unlawfully dividing, or offering to divide his commissions in the case of limited surety agents, or premiums in the case of professional bondsmen, and for such reasons is found by the department to be a source of detriment, injury or loss to the public.

(2) In case of the suspension or revocation of license or the eligibility to hold such license of any bail bondsman, the license or eligibility to hold same of any or all other bail bondsmen who are members of the same agency, whether incorporated or unincorporated, any or all runners employed by such agency who knowingly were parties to the act which formed the ground for the suspension or revocation shall likewise be suspended or revoked for the same period as that of the offending bail bondsman, but this shall not prevent the licensing or reinstatement of eligibility of any bail bondsman or runner except the one whose license was first suspended or revoked and those persons who knowingly were parties to the act, from being licensed as a member of, or bail bondsman or runner for some other agency.

(3) No license under this chapter shall be issued, renewed, or permitted to exist when the same is used directly or indirectly to circumvent any of the provisions of this law.

§648.46 Procedure for suspension or revocation of eligibility or for denial, revocation, suspension, or refusal to renew license.—

(1) If any bail bondsman or runner is convicted by a court of a violation of any of the provisions of this chapter, the license or eligibility to hold a license of such individual shall thereby be deemed to be immediately revoked.

(2) If after an investigation or upon other evidence the department has reason to believe that there may exist any one or more causes for suspension of, revocation of, or refusal to renew or continue the license of any bail bondsman or runner as such causes are specified in s. 648.45 or that a bail bondsman or runner has been guilty of violating any of the laws of this state relating to bail bonds, or that any licensee is no longer eligible to hold a license, the department may suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue such license.

History.—s. 18, ch. 29621, 1955; s. 16, ch. 61-406; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 26, ch. 71-86; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

Note.—Former s. 903.54.

§648.48 Witnesses and evidence.—

(1) As to the subject of any examination or investigation being conducted by him, the agent or examiner appointed by the department may administer oaths, examine and cross-examine witnesses, receive oral and documentary evidence, and shall have the power to subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance and testimony, and require by subpoena the production of books, papers, records, files, correspondence, documents, or other evidence which he deems relevant to the inquiry.

(2) If any person refuses to comply with any such subpoena or to testify as to any matter concerning which he may be lawfully interrogated, the Circuit Court of Leon County or of the county wherein such examination or investigation is being conducted, or of the county wherein such person resides, on the department's application may issue an order requiring such person to comply with the subpoena and to testify; and any failure to obey such an order of the court may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof.

(3) Subpoenas shall be served and proof of such service made in the same manner as if issued by a circuit court. Witness fees and mileage, if claimed, shall be allowed the same as for testimony in a circuit court.

(4) Any person willfully testifying falsely under oath as to any matter material to any such examination, investigation or hearing shall upon conviction thereof be guilty of perjury and shall be punished accordingly.

(5) If any person asks to be excused from attending or testifying or from producing any books, papers, records, contracts, documents, or other evidence in connection with any examination, hearing or investigation being conducted by the department or its examiner, on the ground that the testimony or evidence required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture, and shall notwithstanding be directed to give such testimony or produce such evidence, he must, if so directed by the department and the Department of Legal Affairs, nonetheless comply with such direction, but he shall not thereafter be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may have so testified or produced evidence, and no testimony so given or evidence produced shall be received against him upon any criminal action, investigation or proceeding; except, however, that no such person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for any perjury committed by him in such testimony, and the testimony or evidence so given or produced shall be admissible against him upon any criminal action, investigation or proceeding concerning such perjury; nor shall he be exempt from the refusal, suspension, or revocation of any license, permission, or authority conferred, or to be conferred, pursuant to this chapter.

(6) Any such individual may execute, acknowledge and file in the office of the department a statement expressly waiving such immunity or privilege in respect to any transaction, matter or thing specified in such statement, and thereupon the testimony of such individual or such evidence in relation to such transaction, matter or thing may be received or produced before any judge or justice, court, tribunal, grand jury or otherwise, and if so received or produced such individual shall not be entitled to any immunity or privileges on account of any testimony he may so give or evidence so produced.

(7) Any person who refuses or fails, without lawful cause, to testify relative to the affairs of any person when subpoenaed and requested by the department to so testify shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

Note.—Former s. 903.542.

§648.49 Duration of suspension or revocation.—

(1) The department shall, in its order suspending a license or the eligibility to hold same, specify the period during which the suspension is to be in effect, but such period shall not exceed 1 year. The license and eligibility to hold same shall remain suspended during the period so specified, subject, however, to any rescission or modification of the order by the department, or modification or reversal thereof by the court, prior to expiration of the suspension period. A license which has been suspended shall not be reinstated, nor shall the eligibility to hold such license be reinstated, except upon request for such reinstatement, but the department shall not grant such reinstatement if it finds that the circumstances for which the license was suspended still exist or are likely to recur.

(2) No individual licensed under any license which has been revoked or who has had his eligibility to hold same revoked by the department, shall have the right to apply for another license under this chapter within 2 years from the effective date of such revocation, or, if judicial review of such revocation is sought, within two years from the date of final court order or decree affirming the revocation. The department shall not, however, grant a new license to any individual if it finds that the circumstances for which the previous license was revoked still exist or are likely to recur.

(3) If licenses or the eligibility to hold licenses as bail bondsman or runner as to the same individual have been revoked at two separate times, the department shall not thereafter grant or issue any license under this chapter as to such individual.

(4) During the period of suspension, or after revocation of the license, the former licensee shall not engage in or attempt to profess to engage in any transaction or business for which a license is required under this chapter.

History.—s. 19, ch. 61-406; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 27, ch. 71-86; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.543.

§648.50 Effect of suspension, revocation upon associated licenses and licensees.—

(1) Upon suspension, revocation or refusal to renew or continue any license or the eligibility to hold same of a bail bondsman or runner the department shall at the same time likewise suspend or revoke all other licenses and the eligibility to hold any other such licenses which may be held by the licensee under the Florida Insurance Code.

(2) In case of the suspension or revocation of license or eligibility to hold same of any bail bondsman, the license or eligibility of any and all bail bondsmen who are members of a bail bond agency, whether incorporated or unincorporated, and any and all runners employed by such bail bond agency, who knowingly are parties to the act which formed the ground for the suspension or revocation may likewise be suspended or revoked for the same period as that of the offending bail bondsman; but this shall not prevent any bail bondsman or runner, except the one whose license was first suspended or revoked, from being licensed as a member of or a runner for some other bail bond agency.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective

July 1, 1982, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

Note.—Former s. 903.544.

§648.51 Surrender of license or permit.—

(1) Though issued to a licensee all certificates of licenses issued under this chapter are at all times the property of the state, and upon notice of any suspension, revocation, refusal to renew, expiration or other termination of the license, the licensee or other person having either the original or copy of the license shall promptly deliver the certificate of license or copy thereof to the department for cancellation.

(2) As to any certificate of license lost, stolen or destroyed while in the possession of any such licensee or person, the department may accept in lieu of return of the certificate the affidavit of the licensee or other person responsible for or involved in the safekeeping of such certificate, concerning the facts of such loss, theft, or destruction. Willful falsification of any such affidavit shall, upon conviction, be subject to punishment as for perjury.

(3) This section shall not be deemed to require the delivery to the department of any certificate of license which, as shown by specific date of expiration on the face of the license, has already expired, unless such delivery has been requested by the department.

History.—s. 21, ch. 61-406; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 903.545.

§648.52 Administrative fine in lieu of suspension, revocation, or refusal to renew.—

(1) If the department finds that one or more causes exist for the suspension of, revocation of, or refusal to renew or continue any license issued under this chapter, the department may, in its discretion, in lieu of such suspension, revocation, or refusal, and except on a second offense, impose upon the licensee an administrative penalty in the amount of $100, or if the department has found willful misconduct or willful violation on the part of the licensee, $500. The administrative penalty may, in the department's discretion, be augmented in amount by an amount equal to any commissions received by or accruing to the credit of the licensee in connection with any transaction as to which the grounds for suspension, revocation, or refusal related.

(2) The department may allow the licensee a reasonable period, not to exceed 30 days, within which to pay to the department the amount of the penalty so imposed. If the licensee fails to pay the penalty in its entirety to the department at its office at Tallahassee within the period so allowed, the licenses of the licensee shall stand suspended, revoked, or renewal or continuation refused, as the case may be, upon expiration of such period.

History.—s. 22, ch. 61-406; s. 2, ch. 61-119; s. 30, ch. 65-269; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

Note.—Former s. 903.546.

§648.53 Probation.—

(1) If the department finds that one or more causes exist for the suspension of, revocation of, or refusal to renew or continue any license issued under this chapter, the department may, in its discretion, in lieu of such suspension, revocation, or refusal, or in connection with any administrative monetary penalty imposed under s. 648.52, place the offending licensee on probation for a period, not to exceed 2 years, as specified by the department in its order.

(2) As a condition to such probation or in connection therewith, the department may specify in its order reasonable terms and conditions to be fulfilled by the probationer during the probation period. If during the probation period the department has good cause to believe that the probationer has violated such terms and conditions or any of them, it shall forthwith suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew or continue the license of the probationer, as upon the original causes referred to in subsection (1).

History.—s. 23, ch. 61-406; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 177, ch. 70-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 21, ch. 78-95.

Note.—Former s. 903.547.

§648.55 All bondsmen of same agency; licensed by same companies.—

All bail bondsmen who are members of the same agency, partnership, corporation or association shall be licensed for the same companies. If any member of such agency, partnership, corporation or association is licensed as a professional bondsman, all members thereof shall be so licensed. It shall be the responsibility of each company to see that each agent in an agency is licensed to represent that particular company.

CHAPTER 649

AUTOMOBILE CLUBS

- 649.011 Definitions.
- 649.021 License required.
- 649.031 Evidence of qualification for licensing.
- 649.041 Deposit required or surety bond.
- 649.051 Salesmen to be registered.
- 649.061 Powers of department; rules.
- 649.071 Penalty.

(1) "Automobile club" shall mean a legal entity which, in consideration of dues, assessments, or periodic payments of money, promises its members or subscribers to assist them in matters relating to the ownership, operation, use or maintenance of a motor vehicle; provided, however, that the definition of automobile clubs shall not include persons, associations, or corporations which are organized and operated solely for the purpose of conducting, sponsoring or sanctioning motor vehicle races, exhibitions or contests upon race tracks, or upon race courses established and marked as such for the duration of such particular event. The words "motor vehicles" used herein shall be the same as defined in chapter 320.

(2) "Department" shall mean the Department of Insurance.

History.—s. 1, ch. 57-65; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 273, ch. 71-377; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

<sup>1</sup>649.021 License required.—No automobile club shall do, or offer to do, business in the state unless the same shall be organized as a domestic or foreign corporation and shall be licensed by the Department of Insurance.

History.—s. 2, ch. 57-65; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

(1) An applicant seeking to do business as or engage in the operation of an automobile club shall be required to furnish the department with evidence of the competency and trustworthiness of its management and their professional ability to perform the services to be offered. The applicant shall pay a license fee of $100 annually. All licenses shall expire on September 30 of each year and may be renewed on application and payment of the same fee. Nothing in this act shall be construed as authorizing a licensed automobile club to provide or furnish insurance coverage unless such club shall have complied with all the laws and regulations required of insurance companies authorized to do business in this state.

(2) The actual or proposed name by which the automobile club is, or will be known, and the trademark and emblem which it is using, or proposed to use, shall be submitted to the department for its approval, providing such name, emblem or trademark is distinctive and not likely to mislead the public as to the nature or identity of the corporation using it, or interfere with the transactions of any other automobile club already doing business in the state, it shall be entitled to be approved.

History.—s. 3, ch. 57-65; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

cf.—s. 624.523 Insurance Commissioner's Regulatory Trust Fund.

(1) Except as provided by this act, every automobile club, to assure the faithful performance of its obligations to its members or subscribers, shall deposit with the department securities of the type, in which by the laws of this state an insurance company may invest its funds, the sum of $50,000 before the department may issue it a license to do business; or in lieu thereof such clubs may file with the department a surety bond in the amount of $50,000 of a surety company authorized to do business in this state. The bond shall be approved by the department and shall not be canceled without a 30-day notice to the department.

(2) Any automobile club doing business in this state on April 1, 1957, shall, on or before October 1, 1957, deposit $25,000 in securities with the commissioner, as set forth in subsection (1), and on or before October 1, 1958, deposit with the commissioner an additional $25,000 in such securities, or in lieu thereof such clubs may file with the commissioner a surety bond in the same amounts, of a surety company authorized to do business in this state. The bond shall be approved by the commissioner and shall not be canceled without 30 days' notice to the commissioner.

(3) The state shall be responsible for the safekeeping of all securities deposited with the department under this act. Securities deposited with the department under this act shall not, on account of such securities being in the state, be subject to taxation but shall be held exclusively and solely to insure the automobile club's faithful performance of its obligations to its members or subscribers.

(4) Automobile clubs depositing securities as required in this act shall have the right to draw the interest on such securities as the same accrues; and should coupon bonds be deposited under this act, the department, upon demand of the automobile club shall surrender the coupons as the same shall become due from any or all such bonds deposited by the said automobile clubs.

(5) Whenever an automobile club ceases to do business in this state and has satisfactorily satisfied its obligations to its members or subscribers, securities so deposited under this act shall be delivered up to the proper parties on presentation of the department's receipt for said securities.

History.—s. 4, ch. 57-65; ss. 13, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

'649.051 Salesmen to be registered.—Every automobile club shall on forms prescribed by the department register, on or before October 1 of each year, the names of, and home office address of each salesman, and shall within 30 days of termination of employment notify the department of such termination. Any salesman employed subsequent to the October 1 filing shall be registered with the department within 10 days of such employment. No employee or salesman of an automobile club shall directly or indirectly be licensed to solicit, negotiate, or hold himself out in any manner to be an insurance agent or solicitor, to effect insurance contracts unless it is in accordance with the provisions of the insurance laws.

SOCIAL SECURITY FOR PUBLIC EMPLOYEES

- 650.01 Declaration of policy.
- 650.02 Definitions.
- 650.03 Federal-state agreement; interstate instrumentalities.
- 650.04 Contributions by state employees.
- 650.05 Plans for coverage of employees of political subdivisions.
- 650.06 Social Security Contribution Trust Fund.
- 650.07 Rules and regulations.
- 650.08 Studies and reports.
- 650.09 Liberal construction.
- 650.10 Referenda and certification.

650.01 Declaration of policy.—In order to extend to employees of the state and its political subdivisions and to the dependents and survivors of such employees, the basic protection accorded to others by the Old-age and Survivors Insurance System embodied in the Social Security Act, it is hereby declared to be the policy of the Legislature, subject to the limitations of this chapter, that such steps as are necessary be taken to provide such protection to employees of the state and its political subdivisions on as broad a basis as is permitted under the Social Security Act. It is also the policy of the Legislature that the protection afforded employees in positions covered by a retirement system on the date an agreement under this act is made applicable to service performed in such positions, or receiving periodic benefits under such retirement system at such time, will not be impaired as a result of making the agreement so applicable or as a result of legislative enactment in anticipation thereof.

History.—s. 1, ch. 26841, 1951; s. 2, ch. 29824, 1955.

650.02 Definitions.—For the purpose of this chapter:

(1) The term "wages" means all remuneration for employment as defined herein, including the cash value of all remuneration paid in any medium other than cash, except that such term shall not include that part of such remuneration which, even if it were for "employment" within the meaning of the Federal Insurance Contributions Act, would not constitute "wages" within the meaning of that act;

(2) The term "employment" means any services performed by an employee in the employ of the state, or any political subdivision thereof, including hospital or drainage taxing districts, for such employer, except:

(a) Service which in the absence of an agreement entered into under this chapter would constitute "employment" as defined in the Social Security Act.

(b) Service which under the Social Security Act may not be included in an agreement between this state and the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare entered into under this chapter. Service which under the Social Security Act may be included in an agreement only upon certification by the Governor in accordance with s. 218(d)(3) of that act shall be included in the term "employment" if and when the Governor issues, with respect to such services, a certificate to the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, pursuant to said section.

(c) At the option of the employer, and when so provided in its agreement, any one or more of the following:

1. Service in any class or classes of elective positions.

2. Service in any class or classes of part-time positions.

3. Service in any class or classes of positions the compensation for which is on a fee basis.

4. Service performed by individuals as members of a coverage group (as defined in s. 218(b) of the Social Security Act, as amended) in positions covered by a retirement system on the date the federal-state agreement is made applicable to such coverage group, but only in the case of individuals who, on such date (or, if later, the date on which they first occupy such positions), are not eligible to become members of such system and whose services in such positions have not already been included under such agreement.

5. Agricultural labor, as defined in s. 210 of the Social Security Act, as amended.

6. Service performed by a student for the school in which he is enrolled.

(3) The term "employee" includes an officer of the state or political subdivision thereof;

(4) The term "state agency" means the Division of Retirement of the Department of Administration.

(5) The term "Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare" includes any individual to whom the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare has delegated any of the secretary's functions under the Social Security Act with respect to coverage under such act of employees of states and their political subdivisions, and with respect to any action taken prior to April 11, 1953, includes the Federal Security Administrator and any individual to whom such administrator had delegated any such function.

(6) The term "political subdivision" includes an instrumentality of the state, or of one or more of its political subdivisions, but only if such instrumentality is a juristic entity which is legally separate and distinct from the state or subdivision and only if its employees are not by virtue of their relation to such juristic entity employees of the state or subdivision;

(7) The term "Social Security Act" means the Act of Congress approved August 14, 1935, Chapter 531, 49 Stat. 620, officially cited as the "Social Security Act," (including regulations and requirements issued pursuant thereto), as such act has been and may from time to time be amended; and

(8) The term "Federal Insurance Contributions Act" means subchapter A of chapter 9 of the Federal Internal Revenue Code of 1939 and subchapters A and B of chapter 21 of the Federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as such codes have been and may from time to time be amended; and the term "employee tax" means the tax imposed by s. 1400 of such code of 1939 and s. 3101 of such code of 1954.

History.—s. 2, ch. 26841, 1951; ss. 1-3, ch. 28246, 1953; ss. 1, 3-5, ch. 29824, 1955; s. 1, ch. 65-151; ss. 31, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 70-127; s. 1, ch. 73-326.

(1) The state agency with the approval of the Governor, is hereby authorized to enter on behalf of the state into an agreement with the Federal Security Administrator, consistent with the terms and provisions of this chapter, for the purpose of extending the benefits of the Federal Old-age and Survivors Insurance System to employees of the state or any political subdivision thereof with respect to services specified in such agreement which constitutes "employment" as defined in s. 650.02. Such agreement may contain such provisions relating to coverage, benefits, contributions, effective date, modification and termination of the agreement, administration, and other appropriate provisions as the state agency and the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare shall agree upon, but, except as may be otherwise required by or under the Social Security Act as to the services to be covered, such agreement shall provide in effect that:

(a) Benefits will be provided for employees whose services are covered by the agreement (and their dependents and survivors) on the same basis as though such services constituted employment within the meaning of Title II of the Social Security Act;

(b) The state will pay to the Secretary of the Treasury, at such time or times as may be prescribed under the Social Security Act, contributions with respect to wages (as defined in s. 650.02), equal to the sum of the taxes which would be imposed by the Federal Insurance Contributions Act if the services covered by the agreement constituted employment within the meaning of that act.

(c) Such agreement shall be effective with respect to services in employment covered by the agreement performed after January 1, 1951;

(d) All services which constitute employment as defined in s. 650.02 and are performed in the employ of the state by employees of the state, shall be covered by the agreement.

(e) All services which:

1. Constitute employment as defined in s. 650.02;
2. Are performed in the employ of a political subdivision of the state; and
3. Are covered by a plan which is in conformity with the terms of the agreement and has been approved by the state agency under s. 650.05, shall be covered by the agreement.

(f) As modified, the agreement shall include all services described in either paragraph (d) or paragraph (e) of this subsection and performed by individuals to whom s. 218(c)(3)(C) of the Social Security Act is applicable, and shall provide for election by the employer as to whether the service of any such individual shall continue to be covered by the agreement in case he thereafter becomes eligible to be a member of a retirement system.

(g) As modified, the agreement shall include all services described in either paragraph (d) or paragraph (e) of this subsection and performed by individuals in positions covered by a retirement system with respect to which the Governor has issued a certificate to the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare pursuant to s. 218(d)(3) of the Social Security Act, as amended.

(2) Any instrumentality jointly created by this state and any other state or states is hereby authorized, upon the granting of like authority by such other state or states,

(a) To enter into an agreement with the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare whereby the benefits of the Federal Old-age and Survivors Insurance System shall be extended to employees of such instrumentality.

(b) To require its employees to pay (and for that purpose to deduct from their wages) contributions equal to the amounts which they would be required to pay under s. 650.04(1) if they were covered by an agreement made pursuant to subsection (1) of this section, and

(c) To make payments to the Secretary of the Treasury in accordance with such agreement, including payments from its own funds, and otherwise to comply with such agreements. Such agreement shall, to the extent practicable, be consistent with the terms and provisions of subsection (1) and other provisions of this chapter.

(3) Where a retirement system established by the state or any political subdivision thereof covers positions of policemen or firemen, or both, and whether or not other positions are covered by such system, there shall, for the purposes of this chapter, be deemed to be a separate retirement system with respect to the positions of policemen and a separate retirement system with respect to the positions of firemen.

(4) For the purposes of this chapter any retirement system established by the state or any political subdivision thereof, which, on, before, or after the date of enactment of this subsection is divided into two divisions or parts, one of which is composed of positions of members of such system who desire coverage under an agreement under this chapter and the other of which is composed of positions of members of such system who do not desire such coverage, shall, upon the governor's authorization of a referendum for either division or part, be deemed to be a separate retirement system with respect to each such division or part. The positions of individuals who become members of such system after such coverage is extended shall be included in such division or part composed of members desiring such coverage. The position of any individual which is covered by any retirement system to which the preceding two sentences are applicable shall, if such individual is ineligible to become a member of such system on the date of enactment of this subsection or, if later, the day he first occupies such position, be deemed to be covered by the separate retirement system consisting of the positions of members of the division or part who do not desire coverage under this chapter.

(5) For purposes of this chapter employees of the institutions of higher learning under the Board of Regents who are covered by the Teachers' Retirement System shall be deemed to be covered by a separate retirement system for each institution.

(6) If a retirement system covers positions of employees of a hospital which is an integral part of a municipal political subdivision, then, for the purposes of this chapter, there shall be deemed to be a separate retirement system for the employees of such hospital.

History.—s. 3, ch. 26841, 1951; s. 4, ch. 28246, 1953; ss. 6-9, ch. 29824, 1955; s. 1, ch. 57-226; s. 1, ch. 57-780; s. 1, ch. 61-138; s. 2, ch. 63-204.

650.04 Contributions by state employees.—

(1) Every employee of the state whose services are covered by an agreement entered into under s. 650.03 shall be required to pay for the period of such coverage, into the Social Security Contribution Trust Fund established by s. 650.06, contributions, with respect to wages as defined in s. 650.02, equal to the amount of the employee tax which would be imposed by the Federal Insurance Contributions Act if such services constituted employment within the meaning of that act. Such liability shall arise in consideration of the employee's retention in the service of the state, or his entry upon such service, after the enactment of this chapter.

(2) The contribution imposed by this section shall be collected by deducting the amount of the contribution from wages as and when paid, but failure to make such deduction shall not relieve the employee from liability for such contribution.

(3) If more or less than the correct amount of the contribution imposed by this section is paid or deducted with respect to any remuneration, proper adjustments, or refund if adjustment is impracticable, shall be made, without interest, in such manner and at such times as the state agency shall prescribe.

History.—s. 4, ch. 26841, 1951; s. 10, ch. 29824, 1955; s. 2, ch. 61-119.

650.05 Plans for coverage of employees of political subdivisions.—

(1) Each political subdivision of the state is hereby authorized to submit for approval by the state agency a plan for extending the benefits of Title II of the Social Security Act, in conformity with the applicable provisions of such act, to employees of such political subdivisions. Each such plan and any amendment thereof shall be approved by the state agency if it is found that such plan, or such plan as amended, is in conformity with such requirements as are provided in regulations of the state agency, except that no such plan shall be approved unless:

(a) It is in conformity with the requirements of the Social Security Act and with the agreement entered into under s. 650.03;

(b) It provides that all services which constitute employment as defined in s. 650.02 are performed in the employ of the political subdivisions by employees thereof, shall be covered by the plan, except such of those services set forth in s. 650.02(2)(c) as the political subdivision specifically elects to exclude.

(c) It specifies the source or sources from which the funds necessary to make the payments required by paragraph (a) of subsection (3) and by subsection (4) are expected to be derived and contains reasonable assurance that such sources will be adequate for such purpose;

(d) It provides for such methods of administration of the plan by the political subdivision as are found by the state agency to be necessary for the proper and efficient administration of the plan;

(e) It provides that the political subdivision will make such reports, in such form and containing such information, as the state agency may from time to time require, and comply with such provisions as the state agency or the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare may from time to time find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of such reports; and

(f) It authorizes the state agency to terminate the plan in its entirety, in the discretion of the state agency, if it finds that there has been a failure to comply substantially with any provisions contained in such plan, such termination to take effect at the expiration of such notice and on such conditions as may be provided by regulations of the state agency and may be consistent with the provisions of the Social Security Act.

(2) The state agency shall not finally refuse to approve a plan submitted by a political subdivision under subsection (1), and shall not terminate an approved plan, without reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing to the political subdivision affected thereby. Any final decision of the state agency shall be subject to proper judicial review.

(3)(a) Each political subdivision as to which a plan has been approved under this section shall pay into the Social Security Contribution Trust Fund, with respect to wages (as defined in s. 650.02), at such time or times as the state agency may by regulation prescribe, contributions in the amounts and at the rates specified in the applicable agreement entered into by the state agency under s. 650.03.

(b) Each political subdivision required to make payments under paragraph (a) is authorized, in consideration of the employee's retention in, or entry upon, employment after enactment of this chapter, to impose upon each of its employees, as to services which are covered by an approved plan, a contribution with respect to his wages as defined in s. 650.02 not exceeding the amount of the employee tax which would be imposed by the Federal Insurance Contributions Act if such services constituted employment within the meaning of that act, and to deduct the amount of such contribution from his wages as and when paid. Contributions so collected shall be paid into the Social Security Contribution Trust Fund in partial discharge of the liability of such political subdivision or instrumentality under paragraph (a). Failure to deduct such contribution shall not relieve the employee or employer of liability therefor.

(4) Delinquent payments due under subsection (3)(a) may, with interest of one-half of 1 percent for each calendar month or part thereof past the due date, be recovered by action in a court of competent jurisdiction against the political subdivision liable therefor or shall, at the request of the state agency, be deducted from any other moneys payable to such subdivision by any department or agency of the state.

(5) Each political subdivision as to which a plan has been approved shall be liable to the state agency for a proportionate part of the cost of administering this chapter. Such proportionate cost shall be computed and paid in accordance with such regulations relating thereto as may be adopted by the state agency, and shall be deposited in the Social Security Administration Trust Fund, and if any such payment be not made when due, the amount thereof, with interest of one-half of 1 percent for each calendar month or part thereof past the due date, shall, upon request of the state agency, be deducted from any other moneys payable to such political subdivision by any officer, department, or agency of the state, and forthwith paid to the state agency. Withdrawals from the Social Security Administration Trust Fund shall be made solely for the payment of costs of administering this chapter, and any balance in excess of the amount necessary for administering this chapter shall be transferred to the State Retirement System Trust Funds established pursuant to chapter 121 to make up the actuarial deficit in any of the state retirement systems consolidated thereunder, and the necessary amounts are hereby appropriated from said funds for these purposes.

(6)(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, effective January 1, 1972, all state political subdivisions receiving financial aid, that provide social security coverage for their employees pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and the provisions of the various retirement systems as authorized by law, shall, in addition to other purposes, utilize all grants-in-aid and other revenue received from the state to pay the employer's share of social security cost.

(b) The grants-in-aid and other revenue referred to in paragraph (a) specifically include, but are not limited to, minimum foundation program grants to public school districts and community colleges; gasoline, motor fuel, intangible, cigarette, racing, and insurance premium taxes distributed to political subdivisions; and amounts specifically appropriated as grants-in-aid for mental health, mental retardation, and mosquito control programs.

650.06 Social Security Contribution Trust Fund.—

(1) There is hereby established a special fund to be known as the "Social Security Contribution Trust Fund." Such fund shall consist of and there shall be deposited in such fund:

(a) All contributions, interest, and penalties collected under ss. 650.04 and 650.05;

(b) All moneys appropriated thereto under this chapter;

(c) Any property or securities and earnings thereof acquired through the use of moneys belonging to the fund;

(d) Interest earned upon any moneys in the fund, and

(e) All sums recovered upon the bond of the custodian or otherwise for losses sustained by the fund and all other moneys received for the fund from any other source. All moneys in the fund shall be mingled and undivided. Subject to the provisions of this chapter, the state agency is vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction over the fund, including all moneys and property or securities belonging thereto, and may perform any and all acts whether or not specifically designated, which are necessary to the administration thereof and are consistent with the provisions of this chapter.

(2) The Social Security Contribution Trust Fund

shall be established and held separate and apart from any other funds or moneys of the state and shall be used and administered exclusively for the purpose of this chapter. Withdrawals from such fund shall be made for, and solely for:

(a) Payments of amounts required to be paid to the Secretary of the Treasury pursuant to an agreement entered into under s. 650.03;

(b) Payments of refunds provided for in s. 650.04(3);

(c) Refunds of overpayments, not otherwise admissible, made by a political subdivision or instrumentality; and

(d) Investments of idle funds and the transfer of interest earned on such investments to the Social Security Administration Trust Fund.

(3) From the Social Security Contribution Trust Fund the custodian of the fund shall pay to the Secretary of the Treasury such amounts and at such time or times as may be directed by the state agency in accordance with any agreement entered into under s. 650.03 and the Social Security Act.

(4) The Treasurer of the state shall be ex officio treasurer and custodian of the Social Security Contribution Trust Fund and shall administer such fund in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and the directions of the state agency. The Treasurer shall pay all warrants drawn by the Comptroller and countersigned by the Governor upon the fund in accordance with the provisions of this section and with such regulations as the state agency may prescribe pursuant thereto.

(5) There are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Social Security Contribution Trust Fund, out of the general funds of this state not otherwise appropriated, such additional sums as are found to be necessary to make the payments to the Secretary of the Treasury which the state is required to make pursuant to an agreement entered into under s. 650.03.

History.—s. 6, ch. 26841, 1951; s. 2, ch. 61-119; s. 2, ch. 72-342.

650.07 Rules and regulations.—The state agency shall make and publish such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, as it finds necessary or appropriate to the efficient administration of the functions with which it is charged under this chapter.

History.—s. 7, ch. 26841, 1951.

650.08 Studies and reports.—The state agency shall make studies concerning the problem of old-age and survivors insurance protection for employees of the state and local governments and their instrumentalities and concerning the operation of agreements made and plans approved under this chapter and shall submit a report to the legislature at the beginning of each regular session, covering the administration and operation of this chapter during the preceding calendar year, including such recommendations for amendments to this chapter as it considers proper.

History.—s. 8, ch. 26841, 1951.

650.09 Liberal construction.—The provisions of this chapter shall be liberally construed in order to effectively carry out the purposes of the chapter as set forth in the declaration of public policy.

History.—s. 9, ch. 26841, 1951.

650.10 Referenda and certification.—

(1) The governor, or an official of the state designated by him for the purpose, is empowered to authorize and supervise the conduct of employee referenda prescribed by s. 213(d)(3) of the Social Security Act, on the question of whether service in positions covered by a retirement system established by the state or by a political subdivision thereof should be excluded from or included under an agreement under this chapter. The notice of referendum required by s. 218(d)(3)(C) of the Social Security Act to be given to employees shall contain or shall be accompanied by a statement, in such form and such detail as the agency or individual designated to supervise the referendum shall deem necessary and sufficient, to inform the employees of the rights which will accrue to them and their dependents and survivors, and the liabilities to which they will be subject, if their services are included under an agreement under this chapter.

(2) Upon receiving evidence satisfactory to him that with respect to any such referendum the conditions specified in s. 218(d)(3) of the Social Security Act have been met, the governor, or an official of the state designated by him for the purpose, shall so certify to the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

651.011 Definitions.—For the purposes of this chapter:

- (1) "Department" means the Department of Insurance.
- (2) "Continuing care" or "care" means furnishing shelter, food, and nursing care, whether the nursing care is provided in the facility or in another setting designated by the agreement for continuing care, to an individual not related by consanguinity or affinity to the provider furnishing such care. Other personal services provided shall be designated in the continuing care agreement. "Continuing care" shall include only life care, care for life, or care for a term of years.
- (3) "Facility" means a place in which it is undertaken to provide continuing care to an individual for a term of years or for life.
- (4) "Provider" means the owner or operator, whether a natural person, partnership or other unincorporated association, however organized, trust, or corporation, of an institution, building, residence, or other place, whether operated for profit or not, which owner or operator undertakes to provide continuing care for a fixed or variable fee, or for any other remuneration of any type, whether fixed or variable, for the period of care, payable in a lump sum or lump sum and monthly maintenance charges or in installments.

(5) "Member" means a purchaser of, nominee of, or a subscriber to, a continuing care agreement. Such an agreement shall not be construed to give the member a part ownership of the facility in which the member is to reside or voting rights in the operation of the facility.

(6) "Life care" or "care for life" means a life lease, life membership, life estate, or similar agreement between a member and a provider by which the member pays a fee for the right to occupy a space in a designated facility and to receive continuing care for life.

(7) "Care for a term of years" means an agreement between a member and a provider whereby the member pays a fee for the right to occupy space in a designated facility, and to receive continuing care, for at least 1 year, but for less than the life of the member. "Care for a term of years" also refers to a contract or agreement for continuing care for an indefinite term.

(8) "Entrance fee" means an initial or deferred payment of a sum of money or property which assures the member a place in a facility for a term of years or for life. An accommodation fee, admission fee, or other fee of similar form and application shall be considered to be an entrance fee.

(9) "Records" means the permanent financial, directory, and personnel information and data maintained by a provider pursuant to this chapter.

(10) "Personnel records" means information pertaining to an employee's employment, including education, training, experience, salary or wages, and performance of duties of employment.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323; s. 170, ch. 79-164.

651.015 Administration; forms; fees; rules; fines.—The administration of this chapter is vested in the Department of Insurance, which shall:

- (1) Prepare and furnish all forms necessary under the provisions of this chapter in relation to applications for certificates of authority or renewals thereof, statements, examinations, and other required reports.
- (2) Collect in advance, and the applicant so served shall pay to it in advance, the following fees:
  - (a) At the time of filing an application for a certificate of authority, an application fee in the amount of $75 for each facility.
  - (b) At the time of renewal of a certificate of authority, a renewal fee in the amount of $75 for each year or part thereof for each facility where continuing care is provided.
  - (c) A late fee in an amount equal to 50 percent of the renewal fee in effect on the last preceding regular renewal date.
  - (d) An investigation fee, to be paid upon original application, in the amount of $100 for each facility where continuing care is provided. Upon application subsequent to the denial of an earlier application or to the revocation, suspension, or surrender of a certificate of authority, a second investigation fee in the amount of $100.

(e) For the issuance of the provisional certificate of authority, a fee in the amount of $50.

(3) Adopt rules, within the standards of this chapter, necessary to effect the purposes of this chapter. Specific provisions in this chapter relating to any subject shall not preclude the department from adopting rules concerning such subject if such rules are within the standards and purposes of this chapter.

(4) Impose administrative fines pursuant to this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323; s. 249, ch. 79-400.

(1) No provider shall engage in the business of providing continuing care in this state without a certificate of authority therefor obtained from the Department of Insurance as provided in this chapter. Every provider holding a certificate of authority under the provisions of this chapter shall maintain at all times a net worth in an amount to be determined by the department, based upon the number of continuing care agreements entered into by the provider and the types and levels of services provided by the provider under the agreements. Any provider in the business of offering continuing care within 1 year from the date of the adoption of the rules under this chapter and not having a net worth as determined necessary by the department shall have 3 years from such date to attain the required net worth. The increase in net worth during each year of such 3-year period shall not be less than one-third of the total required to meet the designated amount of net worth. However, in lieu of having a net worth in the amount designated by the department, a provider shall file a surety bond, letters of credit, surplus debentures as provided for in s. 628.401, or any other acceptable collateral with the department, as approved by it, in the amount of the designated net worth.

(2) Every applicant shall provide proof, on a form prescribed by the department, of a net worth as provided in subsection (1). Assets to be used in computing the required net worth shall be determined by rules adopted by the department.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.026 Certificate of authority; application; annual statements; renewals.—

(1) A provider shall file an application for a certificate of authority on a form prescribed by the Department of Insurance, and the application shall be accompanied by the annual statement and other matters as provided in this section and in s. 651.021. Annually thereafter, on or before July 1, such provider shall file the annual statement and such other information and data, showing its condition on the last day of the preceding calendar year, as may be required by the department. If the department does not receive the required information on or before July 1, a late fee shall be charged in an amount equal to 50 percent of the renewal fee in effect on the last preceding regular renewal date.

(2) When an applicant has more than one facility offering continuing care, a separate application for a certificate of authority shall be made for each facility.

(3) If the provider is a corporation, the original application for the certificate of authority shall be accompanied by a copy of the charter; if the provider is a partnership or other unincorporated association, the original application shall be accompanied by a copy of the partnership agreement, articles of association, or other membership agreement; and if the provider is a trust, the original application shall be accompanied by a copy of the trust agreement or instrument.

(4) The annual statement shall be in such form as the department shall elect and shall contain at least the following:

(a) The name and address of the facility in which the continuing care is to be offered and the name and address of any affiliated parent or subsidiary corporation or partnership.

(b) The full name, residence, and business address of:

1. The proprietor, if the provider is an individual.

2. Every partner or member, if the provider is a partnership or other unincorporated association, however organized, having less than 50 partners or members, together with the business name and address of the partnership or other organization.

3. The principal partners or members, if the provider is a partnership or an unincorporated organization, however organized, having 50 or more partners or members, together with the business name and business address of the partnership or other organization. If such unincorporated organization has officers and a board of directors, the full name and business address of each officer and director may be set forth in lieu of the full name and business address of its principal members.

4. The corporation and each officer and director thereof, if the provider is a corporation.

5. Every trustee and officer, if the provider is a trust.

6. Any stockholder holding at least a 10 percent interest in the operations of the facility in which the care is to be offered.

7. Any person whose name is required to be provided in the application under the provisions of this paragraph and who owns at least a 10 percent interest in any professional service firm, association, trust, partnership, or corporation providing goods, leases, or services to the facility for which the application is made, and the name and address of the professional service firm, association, trust, partnership, or corporation in which such interest is held.

(c) A statement of whether or not the facility of an affiliate, parent, or subsidiary is a religious, nonprofit, or proprietary organization.

(d) Personnel records.

(e) The types of agreements for continuing care to be entered into by the provider and, if such provider is engaged in the business of furnishing care on July 1, 1977, a listing of each member for each type of agreement.

(f) For annual statements submitted after the issuance of an original certificate, a listing of each member for each type of agreement.

(g) Financial information, updated at least annually, including the following, as certified by an independent auditor who is at least a certified public accountant:

1. A balance sheet;
2. A narrative explaining material facts relating to the balance sheet;
3. An income statement and a pro forma income statement;
4. A statement of use of proceeds;
5. A pro forma balance sheet;
6. The level of participation in Medicare or Medicaid programs, or both;
7. A statement of all fees required of members, including, but not limited to, a statement of the entrance fee charged, the monthly service charges, the proposed application of the proceeds of the entrance fee by the provider, and the plan by which the amount of the entrance fee is determined if the entrance fee is not the same in all cases; and
8. Changes or increases in fees when the provider changes either the scope of, or the rates for, care or services, regardless of whether the change involves the basic rate or only those services available at additional costs to the member, except those changes required by state or federal assistance programs.

(h) Location and description of physical property or properties essential for, and proposed to be used, or being used, in connection with, the agreements of the provider to furnish continuing care.

(i) Such other reasonable data, financial statements, and pertinent information as the department may require with respect to the provider or the facility, its directors, trustees, members, branches, subsidiaries, or affiliates.

(5) The application for original certificate of authority shall be accompanied by forms of agreements proposed to be used by the provider in the furnishing of care. If the department finds that the agreements comply with s. 651.055, it shall approve them. Thereafter, no other form of agreement shall be used by the provider until it has been submitted to, and approved by, the department.

(6) In addition to any other information which is required with respect to an application for a certificate of authority, the application shall require:

(a) Evidence that the provider is of reputable and responsible character. If the provider is a firm, association, organization, partnership, business trust, corporation, or company, the form shall require evidence that the members or shareholders are reputable and of responsible character, and the person in charge of providing care under a certificate of authority shall likewise be required to produce evidence of reputable and responsible character.

(b) Evidence satisfactory to the department of the ability of the provider to comply with the provisions of this chapter and with rules adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter.

(c) A statement of whether a person identified in the application for a certificate of authority or the administrator or manager of the facility, if such person has been designated, or any such person living in the same location:

1. Has been convicted of a felony or has pleaded nolo contendere to a felony charge, or has been held liable or enjoined in a civil action by final judgment, if the felony or civil action involved fraud, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion, or misappropriation of property.

2. Is subject to a currently effective injunctive or restrictive order or federal or state administrative order relating to business activity or health care as a result of an action brought by a public agency or department, including, without limitation, an action affecting a license under chapter 400.

The statement shall set forth the court or agency, date of conviction or judgment, the penalty imposed or damages assessed, or the date, nature, and issuer of the order. Prior to issuing a certificate of authority, the department shall verify such statement with the assistance of local law enforcement agencies.

(7) Upon the department being satisfied that such statement and other accompanying materials meet the requirements of this chapter; that there has been evidenced the information required; that the net worth requirement or requirement for the purchase of a sufficient surety bond or for provision of letters of credit, surplus debentures as provided in s. 628.401, or any other acceptable collateral has been met in accordance with s. 651.021; and that the fees as set forth in s. 651.015(2) have been paid, the certificate of authority shall be issued. If the annual statement of each subsequent year meets the requirements as set forth in this chapter; if the sufficient net worth or a sufficient surety bond, letters of credit, surplus debentures as provided in s. 628.401, or any other acceptable collateral is maintained; and if the fee is paid, a renewal certificate shall be issued. If the annual statement fails to meet the requirements as set forth in this chapter or to demonstrate sufficient net worth or maintenance of a sufficient surety bond, letters of credit, surplus debentures as provided in s. 628.401, or any other acceptable collateral, the department may issue a renewal certificate upon payment of the renewal fee, but shall advise the provider of the noted deficiencies, and shall require the provider to correct such deficiencies within a period to be determined by the department. Such period may be extended. If such deficiencies have not been cleared by the expiration of such time period, as extended, then the department shall petition for delinquency proceedings or pursue such other relief as is provided for under s. 651.114, as the circumstances may require.

(8) If the provider is an individual, the annual statement shall be sworn to by him; if a partnership or other unincorporated association having less than 50 partners or members, by all members thereof; if a partnership or other unincorporated association having 50 or more partners or members, by all its principal partners or members or by all its officers and directors; if a trust, by all its trustees and officers; and if a corporation, by the president and secretary thereof.

(9) All certificates of authority and renewals thereof shall expire on September 30 of each year.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323; s. 250, ch. 79-400.

651.031 Provisional certificate of authority; feasibility study.—

(1) All persons intending to enter into the offering of continuing care agreements who have not acquired the necessary facilities for providing such care or have not acquired land or begun preliminary construction of the necessary facilities by the date of the adoption of the rules under this chapter shall apply to the Department of Insurance for a provisional certificate of authority before proceeding.

(2) Such persons shall file with the department a statement of intent to provide continuing care and shall provide the following information to the department:

(a) The same information as required under s. 651.026(4)(b) for application for a certificate of authority.

(b) A statement as to the proposed location and size of the facility.

(c) Submission of any advertisement to be used.

(3) Upon receipt of such information, the department shall, if satisfied with the information submitted, issue a provisional certificate of authority which shall entitle the person to engage in a feasibility study which shall be submitted to the department prior to a request for an application for a certificate of authority. The feasibility study shall include at least the following information:

(a) A statement of the purpose and need for the project and the reasons for the proposed construction, expansion, or renovation.

(b) A statement of the financial resources of the provider.

(c) A statement of the capital expenditures necessary to accomplish the project.

(d) A statement of financial feasibility for the proposed project, which shall include a statement of future funding sources.

(e) A statement of manpower requirements and availability to support the proposed project.

(4) Such person may collect deposits from prospective members, provided the funds collected are maintained in an escrow account.

(5) Upon submission of the feasibility study, the department shall determine whether such operation will be able to provide continuing care as proposed and whether the proposed operation appears to be financially solvent. If the decision of the department is favorable, the department shall permit the person to apply for a certificate of authority to begin its operation. Once the certificate of authority has been issued, the provider may use the funds held in escrow, unless otherwise prohibited by this chapter. If the decision of the department is not favorable, the department shall require the person to refund all deposits and to cease in its attempts to offer continuing care at the location specified in the feasibility study.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.035 Reserve requirements.—

(1) A provider shall maintain reserves covering obligations assumed under all agreements entered into and maintained. Reserves shall be in an amount not less than the sum computed in accordance with the standard of valuation based upon a modern and up-to-date table of mortality selected by the department. The interest assumption for that computation shall be determined by the department.

(2) Failure to maintain reserves as provided in this chapter shall be deemed a breach of all agreements to furnish care.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.041 Use of reserves; investment purposes.—Reserves may be used for investment purposes. Such investments shall be maintained in forms as prescribed in chapter 625, where applicable, with the following exceptions:

(1) A percentage of the investments, to be determined by the Department of Insurance, shall be in bonds, stocks, commercial and savings accounts, or building and loan certificates.

(2) A percentage of the investments, to be determined by the department, may be in real property used to provide care and housing for persons under continuing care agreements, or equities therein, owned by the provider. Valuation shall be based on the net equity, which shall be the appraised value less any depreciation and encumbrances.

(3) Investments may be in equipment situated in property used to provide care and housing for members, to the extent of the percentage of net value to be determined by the department. The types of equipment and amortization rate for such equipment to be used for this determination shall be determined by the department.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.045 Conversion of property.—When the consideration received by any provider to furnish care in pursuance of an agreement is in a form other than money or securities, the provider shall convert the property into money within 1 year of the date of the agreement, unless an extension is granted by the Department of Insurance; however, an extension shall be granted whenever such a conversion would result in a financial loss. During the 1-year period and any extension prior to conversion of the property into money, the value thereof as set forth in the agreement is an admissible asset of the provider for the purpose of available funds or reserve in relation to the agreement. The requirement for conversion of property shall not apply when proof satisfactory to the department is submitted indicating that such property is to be utilized for the future expansion of the continuing care operation.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.051 Maintenance of assets and records in state.—No records or assets shall be removed from this state by a provider unless the Department of Insurance consents in writing to such removal. Such consent shall be based upon the provider's submitting satisfactory evidence that the removal will facilitate and make more economical the operations of the provider and will not diminish the service or protection thereafter to be given the provider's members in this state.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.055 Agreements; right to rescind.—

(1) In addition to such other provisions as may be considered proper to effectuate the purpose of any continuing care agreement, each agreement executed on and after the date of the adoption of the rules under this chapter shall:

(a) Provide for the continuing care of only one member, or for two persons occupying space designed for double occupancy, under appropriate regulations established by the provider and shall show the value of all property transferred, including donations, subscriptions, fees, and any other amounts paid or payable by, or on behalf of, the member or members.

(b) Specify all services which are to be provided by the provider to each member, including, in detail, all items which each member will receive and whether the items will be provided for a designated time period or for life, and the estimated monthly cost to the provider of providing the care. Such items shall include, but not be limited to, food, shelter, nursing care, drugs, burial, and incidentals.

(c) Describe the health and financial conditions upon which the provider may have the member relinquish his space in the designated facility.

(d) Describe the health and financial conditions required for a person to continue as a member.

(e) Describe the circumstances under which the member will be permitted to remain in the facility in the event of financial difficulties of the member.

(f) State the fees that will be charged if the member marries while at the designated facility, the terms concerning the entry of a spouse to the facility, and the consequences if the spouse does not meet the requirements for entry.

(g) Provide that the agreement may be canceled upon the giving of notice of cancellation of at least 30 days by the provider, the member, or the person who provided the transfer of property or funds for the care of such member; however, if an agreement is canceled because there has been a good faith determination that a member is a danger to himself or others, only such notice as is reasonable under the circumstances shall be required. The agreement shall further provide in clear and understandable language, in print no smaller than the largest type used in the body of said agreement, the terms governing the refund of any portion of the entrance fee.

(h) State the terms under which an agreement is canceled by the death of the member. The agreement may contain a provision to the effect that, upon the death of the member, the moneys paid for the continuing care of such member shall be considered earned, and become the property of the provider.

(i) Provide for advance notice to the member, of not less than 60 days, before any change in fees or charges or the scope of care or services may be effective, except for changes required by state or federal assistance programs.

(j) Provide that charges for care paid in one lump sum shall not be increased or changed during the duration of the agreed upon care, except for changes required by state or federal assistance programs.

(2) A member shall have the right to rescind a continuing care agreement, without penalty or forfeiture, within 7 days after making an initial deposit or executing the agreement. During the 7-day period, the member's funds shall be retained in a separate escrow account under terms approved by the Department of Insurance. A member shall not be required to move into the facility designated in the agreement before the expiration of the 7-day period.

(3) If a member dies before occupying the facility, or through illness, injury, or incapacity would be precluded from becoming a resident under the terms of the continuing care agreement, the agreement is automatically canceled, and the member or his legal representative shall receive a full refund of all moneys paid to the facility, except those costs specifically incurred by the facility at the request of the member and set forth in writing in a separate addendum, signed by both parties, to the agreement.

(4) Those agreements entered into subsequent to July 1, 1977, and prior to the issuance of a certificate of authority to the provider shall be valid and binding upon both parties in accordance with their terms.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.061 Dismissal or discharge of member; refund.—No agreement for care shall permit dismissal or discharge of the member from the facility providing care prior to the expiration of the agreement, without just cause for such a removal. "Just cause" shall include, but not be limited to, a good faith determination that a member is a danger to himself or others while remaining in the facility. If a facility terminates a member for just cause, the facility shall pay to the member any refund due in the same manner as if the member had provided notice pursuant to s. 651.055(1)(g).

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.065 Waiver of statutory protection.—No act, agreement, or statement of any member, or of an individual purchasing care for a member, under any agreement to furnish care to the member shall constitute a valid waiver of any provision of this chapter intended for the benefit or protection of the member or the individual purchasing care for the member.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.071 Agreements as preferred claims on liquidation.—

(1) In the event of liquidation of the provider, all care agreements executed by a provider shall be deemed preferred claims against all assets owned by the provider; however, such claims shall be subordinate to those priority claims set forth in s. 631.271 and any secured claim as defined in s. 631.011(16).

(2) Any other claims not set forth in subsection (1) above shall be considered as general creditors' claims.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed to impair the priority of mortgages and security agreements, with respect to the lien property, duly recorded at least 4 months prior to the institution of liquidation proceedings.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.081 Continuing care facilities members' organizations.—Members living in a facility holding a valid certificate of authority under this chapter shall have the right of self-organization, the right to be represented by an individual of their own choosing, and the right to engage in concerted activities for the purpose of keeping informed on the operation of the facility which is caring for them or for the purpose of other mutual aid or protection.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323; s. 251, ch. 79-400.

651.085 Quarterly meetings between members and the governing body of the facility.—The board of directors or other such governing body of a continuing care facility shall hold quarterly meetings with the members of the continuing care facility for the purpose of free discussion of subjects including, but not limited to, income, expenditures, and financial trends and problems as they apply to the facility, as well as a discussion on proposed changes in policies, programs, and services.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323; s. 252, ch. 79-400.

651.091 Availability, distribution, and posting of reports and records; requirement of full disclosure.—

(1) Each continuing care facility shall maintain as public information, available upon request, records of all cost and inspection reports pertaining to that facility that have been filed with or issued by any governmental agency. A copy of each such report shall be retained in said records for not less than 5 years from the date said report is filed or issued. Each facility shall also maintain as public information, available upon request, all annual statements that have been filed with the Department of Insurance.

(2) Any records, reports, or documents which by state or federal law or regulation are deemed confidential shall not be distributed or made available for purposes of compliance with this section unless and until such confidential status has expired.

(3) Every continuing care facility shall:

(a) Display the certificate of authority in a conspicuous place inside the facility.

(b) Post in a sufficient number of prominent positions in the facility so as to be accessible to all members and to the general public a concise summary of the last inspection report issued by the department, with references to the page numbers of the full report noting any deficiencies found by the department, and the actions taken by the provider to rectify such deficiencies, indicating in such summaries where the full report may be inspected in the facility.

(c) Post in a sufficient number of prominent positions in the facility so as to be accessible to all members and to the general public a summary by the department of the latest annual statement, indicating in the summary where the full annual statement may be inspected in the facility. A listing of any proposed changes in policies, programs, and services shall also be posted.

(4) Prior to entering into an agreement to furnish continuing care, the provider undertaking to furnish the care, or the agent of the provider, shall make full disclosure, and provide copies to the prospective member or his legal representative, of the following information relative to the undertaking:

(a) The agreement to furnish continuing care.

(b) A copy of the summaries listed in paragraphs (b) and (c) of subsection (3).

The prospective member or his legal representative shall be permitted to inspect the full reports referenced in paragraphs (b) and (c) of subsection (3); the charter or other agreement or instrument required to be filed with the department pursuant to s. 651.026(3), together with all amendments thereto; and the bylaws of the corporation or association, if any. Upon request, copies of the reports and information shall be provided to the individual requesting them if the individual agrees to pay a reasonable charge to cover copying costs.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.095 Advertisements; requirements; penalties.—

(1) The Department of Insurance shall require each provider to submit for approval each financial statement, pamphlet, circular, form letter, advertisement, or other sales literature or advertising communication addressed or intended for distribution to prospective members. Within 15 business days after the date of receipt of the documents listed in this section, the department shall enter an order approving or rejecting the documents. If an order of rejection is not entered within 15 business days after the date of receipt, the documents shall be deemed approved, unless the applicant has consented in writing to a further delay.

(2) A provider shall not have published, and a person shall not publish, an advertisement offering continuing care agreements subject to the registration requirements of this chapter unless a true copy of the advertisement has been filed with the department at least 15 business days before the first publication, or a shorter period as the department may allow, or unless the advertisement has been exempted by rule of the department. The department may require that the advertising be registered and that the advertising display a registration number.

(3) Any report, circular, public announcement, certificate, financial statement, or other printed matter or advertising material which is designed or used to solicit or induce persons to enter into any agreement providing for the transfer of property, conditioned upon an agreement to furnish continuing care for life or for a term of years, and which lists or refers to the name of any individual or organization as being interested in, or connected with, the person, association, or corporation that is to perform the contract, shall clearly state the extent of financial responsibility assumed by that individual or organization for the person, association, or corporation and the fulfillment of its agreements.

(4) This chapter does not impose liability, civil or criminal, upon a person or publisher who is regularly engaged in the business of publishing a bona fide newspaper or operating a radio or television station and who, acting solely in his official capacity, publishes an advertisement in good faith and without knowledge that the advertisement or publication constitutes a violation of this chapter.

(5) Any violation of this section is subject to the provisions of the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323; s. 253, ch. 79-400.

651.101 Reasonable time to comply with rules and standards.—Any provider who is offering continuing care may be given a reasonable time, not to exceed 1 year from the date of publication of any applicable rules or standards adopted pursuant to this chapter, within which to comply with the rules and standards and to obtain a certificate of authority.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.105 Examination and inspections; fines.—

(1) The Department of Insurance shall have power, and is required from time to time as it may deem necessary, to examine the business of any provider engaged in the execution of care agreements or engaged in the performance of obligations under such agreements, in the same manner as is provided for examination of insurance companies. Such examinations shall be made by a representative or examiner designated by the department, whose compensation shall be fixed by the department. Routine examinations may be made by having the necessary documents submitted to the department, and, for this purpose, financial documents and records conforming to commonly accepted accounting principles and practices, as required under s. 651.026, shall be deemed adequate. The final written report of each such examination shall be filed in the office of the department and, when so filed, shall constitute a public record. Any provider being examined shall, upon request, give reasonable and timely access to all of its records. The representative or examiner designated by the department may at any time examine the records and affairs and inspect the physical property of any provider, whether in connection with a formal examination or not.

(2) Any duly authorized officer, employee, or agent of the department may, upon presentation of proper identification, have access to, and inspect, any records, with or without advance notice, to secure compliance with, or to prevent a violation of, any provision of this chapter.

(3) Every provider operating under a valid certificate of authority shall be examined periodically and evaluated as to its financial condition by a representative or representatives designated by the department. Such examinations and evaluations shall be conducted as often as necessary to ensure the financial stability of the facility. Reports of the results of such financial examinations and evaluations shall be kept on file by the department and shall be open to public inspection in the facility providing care. Any records, reports, or documents which by state or federal law or regulation are deemed confidential shall not be distributed or made available for purposes of compliance with this subsection unless and until such confidential status has expired.

(4) The department shall notify the provider in writing of all deficiencies in its compliance with the provisions of this chapter and the rules adopted pursuant to this chapter and shall set a reasonable length of time for compliance by the provider. Upon a finding of noncompliance, the department may levy an administrative fine, not to exceed $50 per day, which shall be paid to the department each day until the department finds the provider in compliance. If the provider fails to comply within the established length of time, then the amount collected from the provider shall be forfeited to the department. In such case, the department may also initiate action against the provider in accordance with the provisions of s. 651.125.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.111 Requests for inspections.—

(1) Any interested party may request an inspection of the records and related financial affairs of a provider providing care in accordance with the provisions of this chapter by transmitting to the Department of Insurance notice of an alleged violation of applicable requirements prescribed by statute or by rule, specifying to a reasonable extent the details of the alleged violation, which shall be signed by the complainant.

(2) The substance of the complaint shall be given to the provider no earlier than at the time of the inspection. Unless the complainant specifically requests otherwise, neither the substance of the complaint provided the provider nor any copy of the complaint or any record published, released, or otherwise made available to the provider shall disclose the name of any person mentioned in the complaint except the name of any duly authorized officer, employee, or agent of the department conducting the investigation or inspection pursuant to this chapter.

(3) Upon receipt of a complaint, the department shall make a preliminary review, and, unless the department determines that the complaint is willfully intended to harass a provider or is without any reasonable basis, the department shall make an on-site inspection within 10 business days after receiving the complaint. In either event, the complainant shall be informed, within 30 days of the receipt of the complaint by the department, what the proposed course of action of the department is.

(4) No provider operating under a certificate of authority under this chapter shall discriminate or retaliate in any manner against a member or an employee of a facility providing care because such member or employee or any other person has initiated a complaint pursuant to this section.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.114 Delinquency proceedings.—

(1) If any of the grounds for rehabilitation, liquidation, conservation, reorganization, seizure, or summary proceedings of an insurer as set forth in ss. 631.051, 631.061, and 631.071 exist as to a provider, the Department of Insurance may petition for an appropriate court order or may pursue such other relief as is afforded in part I of chapter 631.

(2) In the event an order of rehabilitation, liquidation, conservation, reorganization, seizure, or summary proceeding has been entered against a provider, the department shall be vested with all of the powers and duties it has under the provisions of part I of chapter 631 in regard to delinquency proceedings of insurance companies.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.121 Advisory council.—

(1) An advisory council to the Department of Insurance is created to consist of seven members appointed by the Governor, each of whom shall be a resident of, and geographically representative of, this state. Three members shall be holders of certificates of authority under this chapter, except that with respect to the initial appointments, these three members are required only to have been actively engaged in the offering of continuing care agreements in this state for 5 years prior to appointment. The remaining members shall include:

(a) A representative of the business community whose expertise is in the area of management.

(b) A certified public accountant.

(c) A representative of the field of insurance.

(d) A consumer representative.

(2) The term of office for each member shall be 3 years, or until his successor has been appointed and qualifies, except that of the members first appointed, two shall be appointed for terms of 1 year each, two for terms of 2 years each, and three for terms of 3 years each.

(3) The council members shall serve without pay.

(4) The council shall:

(a) Meet within 30 days after the members' appointment and elect a chairman from their number and elect or appoint a secretary, each of whom shall hold office for 1 year and thereafter until his successor is elected and qualified.

(b) Hold an annual meeting each year and hold other meetings at such times and places as the department or the chairman of the council may direct.

(c) Keep a record of its proceedings. The books and records of the council shall be prima facie evidence of all matters reported therein and shall be open to inspection by the department at all times.

(d) Act in an advisory capacity to the department.

(e) Recommend to the department needed changes in rules.

(f) Upon the request of the department, assist in the rehabilitation of continuing care operations.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323; s. 171, ch. 79-164.

651.125 Criminal penalties; injunctive relief.—

(1) Any person who maintains, enters into, or, as manager, officer, or in any other administrative capacity, assists in entering into, maintaining, or performing any continuing care agreement subject to this chapter without doing so in pursuance of a valid certificate of authority or renewal thereof, as contemplated by or provided in this chapter, or who otherwise violates any provision of this chapter or rule adopted in pursuance of this chapter, is guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083. Each violation of this chapter constitutes a separate offense.

(2) The State Attorney for a circuit shall, upon application of the Department of Insurance or its authorized representative, institute and conduct the prosecution of an action for violation, within such circuit, of any provision of this chapter.

(3) The department may bring an action to enjoin a violation, threatened violation, or continued violation of this chapter in the circuit court in and for the county in which the violation occurred, is occurring, or is about to occur.

(4) Any action brought by the department against a provider shall not abate by reason of a sale or other transfer of ownership of the facility used to provide care, which provider is a party to the action, except with the express written consent of the Treasurer and Insurance Commissioner.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.13 Civil action.—Any member injured by a violation of this chapter may bring an action for the recovery of damages plus reasonable attorney's fees.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-323.

651.131 Actions under prior law.—

(1) With respect to any proceedings hereafter instituted by any person believing himself to be aggrieved by a violation of any of the provisions of former s. 651.01, s. 651.02, s. 651.03, s. 651.04, s. 651.05, s. 651.06, s. 651.07, s. 651.072, s. 651.074, s. 651.076, s. 651.08, s. 651.09, s. 651.10, s. 651.11, s. 651.115, or s. 651.12, any resulting judgment shall be limited to the actual monetary loss suffered by such person plus reasonable attorney's fees.

(2) with respect to the provisions of former s. 651.12, any prosecution hereafter instituted under the provisions of said section shall require an affirmative finding of intent to defraud.

History.—s. 4(3), (4), ch. 77-323.

651.132 Amendment or renewal of existing contracts.—Any contract or agreement executed prior to July 1, 1977, which is amended or renewed, subsequent to July 1, 1977, shall be subject to this act.

History.—s. 6, ch. 77-323.

BANKS AND BANKING

CHAPTER 654

SAVINGS BANKS

- 654.001 Incorporation under general banking laws.
- 654.01 Limitation of deposits by one individual.
- 654.02 Notice of withdrawal of deposits.
- 654.03 Withdrawal of deposit by married woman or infant.
- 654.04 Withdrawal of deposit of deceased person.
- 654.05 Investment of funds.
- 654.06 Application for loan.
- 654.07 Certain officers prohibited from borrowing, etc.
- 654.08 Company or agent not to receive commission for loan; penalty.
- 654.09 Department's supervision and control.

1654.001 Incorporation under general banking laws.—Savings banks shall be incorporated in accordance with the general laws of this state prescribing the manner and regulating the incorporation of banks and trust companies.

History.—s. 1, ch. 28012, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

cf.—s. 659.01 Creation of banking or trust corporation.

1654.01 Limitation of deposits by one individual.—Every savings bank may receive deposits from any person until the same amounts to $2,000, and may allow interest upon such deposits, and upon the interest accumulated thereon, until the principal with accrued interest amounts to $3,000, but the limitation contained in this section shall not apply to deposits by religious and charitable associations or corporations.

History.—s. 40, ch. 3864, 1889; RS 2197; s. 1, ch. 4427, 1895; GS 2729; RGS 4175; CGL 6116; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1654.02 Notice of withdrawal of deposits.—No savings bank or institution for savings organized under this chapter shall be required to pay any deposit with such company until the depositor shall have first given it 60 days' notice that he intends to require payment of such deposits.

History.—s. 45, ch. 3864, 1889; RS 2198; GS 2730; RGS 4176; CGL 6117; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1654.03 Withdrawal of deposit by married woman or infant.—Every person, not under guardianship, who may make a deposit personally in any savings bank or institution for savings may control, transfer or withdraw the money so deposited and the dividends or interest that have accrued or may accrue thereon, notwithstanding such person at the time of exercising such control or of making transfer or withdrawal may be a married woman or minor.

History.—s. 47, ch. 3864, 1889; RS 2199; GS 2731; RGS 4177; CGL 6118; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1654.04 Withdrawal of deposit of deceased person.—Every savings bank or institution for savings organized under this chapter having money on deposit belonging to the estate of any deceased person whose residence at the time of his decease was in another state shall, if a foreign personal representative of such deceased person has been appointed by a court of any other state, pay the same at any time after 3 months from the issuance to such foreign personal representative of his letters of authority, if at such time such savings bank or institution for savings organized under this chapter has not received written notice of the appointment of a personal representative in this state, and the payment to such foreign personal representative shall be a valid discharge for money so paid. Such foreign personal representative shall furnish the savings bank or institution for savings organized under this chapter with an affidavit setting forth facts showing the domicile of the deceased person to be other than this state, and stating that there are no unpaid creditors of the deceased person in this state, together with a certified copy of his letters of authority. Such savings bank or institution for savings organized under this chapter shall maintain in its files a receipt executed by such foreign personal representative for the money so paid to him.

History.—s. 46, ch. 3864, 1889; RS 2200; GS 2732; RGS 4178; CGL 6119; s. 1, ch. 65-107; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1654.05 Investment of funds.—The capital and deposits and the income derived therefrom shall be invested only as follows:

- (1) On the first mortgages of real estate situated in this state to an amount not to exceed 60 percent of the valuation of such real estate, but not exceeding 75 percent of the whole amount of deposits shall be so invested; and no loan on mortgage shall be made except upon the report of not less than two members of the board of investment, who shall certify to the value of the premises to be mortgaged, according to their best judgment, and such report shall be filed and preserved with the records of the corporation.

(2) In the public funds of the United States, or bonds of any of the United States, or in the bonds or notes of any city, county or town of the United States whose actual indebtedness does not exceed 5 percent of the last preceding valuation of the property therein for the assessment of taxes, or in the notes of any citizen of this state with a pledge of any of the aforesaid securities at no more than the par value thereof.

(3) In the first mortgage bonds of any railroad company incorporated under authority of any of the United States, and whose road is located wholly in the same, and which is in possession of and operating its own road, and has earned and paid regular dividends for the 2 years next preceding such investment; or in the first mortgage bonds guaranteed by any such railroad company of any railroad company so incorporated whose road is thus located; or in the bonds or notes of any railroad company incorporated under the laws of this state which is unencumbered by mortgage, and which has paid a dividend of not less than 5 percent per annum for the 2 years next preceding such investment; or in the notes of any citizen of this state, with a pledge as collateral of any of the aforesaid securities at no more than 80 percent of the par value thereof.

(4) In the stock of any bank incorporated under the authority of this state, or the stock of any banking association incorporated under the authority of the United States, or in the notes of any citizen of this state with a pledge as collateral of any of the aforesaid securities at no more than 80 percent of the market value and not exceeding the par value thereof. Savings banks may deposit sums not exceeding 30 percent of the amount of their deposits on call in such banks, banking associations or in any trust company incorporated under the laws of this state or the United States, and may receive interest for the same.

(5) In loans upon the personal notes of the depositors of the company, but not exceeding three-fourths of the amount of his deposit to a depositor, and in each such case the deposit and the book of the depositor shall be held by the company as collateral security for the payment of such loan.

(6) If such deposits and income cannot be conveniently invested in the mode hereinbefore prescribed, not exceeding one-third part thereof may be invested in bonds or other personal security, payable at a time not exceeding one year, with at least two sureties, if the principal and sureties are all citizens of this state and resident therein.

(7) Ten percent of the deposits of any such corporation, but not exceeding $25,000, may be invested in the purchase of a suitable site and the erection or preparation of a suitable building for the convenient transaction of its business.

History.—s. 41, ch. 3864, 1889; RS 2201; GS 2733; RGS 4179; CGL 6120; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1654.06 Application for loan.—All applications for loans shall be made in writing to the treasurer of the corporation, who shall keep a record thereof, showing date, name of applicant, amount asked for and the security offered, and he shall cause the same to be presented to the board of investment.

History.—s. 44, ch. 3864, 1889; RS 2202; GS 2734; RGS 4180; CGL 6121; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1654.07 Certain officers prohibited from borrowing, etc.—No member of a committee or board of investment, or officer of such company, charged with the duty of investing its funds, shall borrow or use any portion thereof, be surety for loans to others, or in any manner, directly or indirectly, be an obligor for money borrowed from the company, and if such member or officer becomes the owner of real estate upon which a mortgage is held by the company, his office shall become vacant at the expiration of 60 days thereafter, unless he has ceased to be the owner thereof or has caused said mortgage to be discharged. Only one of the persons holding offices of president, vice president and treasurer shall at the time be a member of the investment committee.

History.—s. 42, ch. 3864, 1889; RS 2203; GS 2735; RGS 4181; CGL 6122; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1654.08 Company or agent not to receive commission for loan; penalty.—No such company, nor any person acting in its behalf, shall negotiate, take or receive a fee, brokerage commission, gift or other consideration for or on account of a loan made by or on behalf of such corporation, other than appears on the face of the note or contract by which such loan purports to be made; but nothing herein contained shall apply to any reasonable charge for services in the examination of title and preparation of conveyances to such corporation as security for its loans. Whoever violates provisions of this section shall be subject to a penalty of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, to be recovered by the state in any court of competent jurisdiction.

History.—s. 43, ch. 3864, 1889; RS 2204; GS 2736; RGS 4182; CGL 6123; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1654.09 Department's supervision and control.—

(1) The Department of Banking and Finance shall make examinations at least once each year of each savings bank, at which time it will satisfy itself that the bank is in a solvent condition and is complying with the requirements of this chapter. In order to enforce its actions in this connection, the said department is vested with the same supervision and control in its examination of savings banks as it now has under the statutes of this state regarding the examination and regulation of state banks, and should the department find the capital stock of any such savings bank impaired, it may give notice of such impairment to the directors of such bank, and if such impairment is not made good to the satisfaction of the department within a reasonable period of time, as may be determined by the department, the said department may proceed with the appointment of a liquidator in the same manner as liquidators are provided by state banks.

(2) The cost of examination shall be borne by the bank at the rate which is now charged for the examination of state banks.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28012, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

656.021 Creation of an industrial savings bank.—When authorized by the department, as provided herein, a corporation may be formed under the laws of the state by five or more persons for the purpose of conducting an industrial savings banking business.

History.—s. 2, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

656.031 Application for authority to organize an industrial savings bank.—

(1) A written application for authority to establish a corporation, as provided in s. 656.021, shall be filed with the department, and shall include:

(a) The name, residence and occupation of each incorporator and stock subscriber and the amount of stock subscribed for by each, together with a statement under oath of each subscriber that he subscribes in good faith in his own right and not as agent or attorney for any undisclosed person.

(b) The proposed name.

(c) The total capital, the number of shares of each class, and the par value of the shares of each class.

(d) The community, including the street and number, if known, and if not known, the area within the community where the proposed bank is to be located.

(2) Application shall be in such form and contain such additional information as the department shall reasonably require, and shall be accompanied by the required fee.

History.—s. 3, ch. 57-351; s. 1, ch. 67-382; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 70-262; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1656.041 Investigation by department.—

(1) Upon the filing of an application, the department shall make an investigation of:

(a) The character, reputation, financial standing and motives of the organizers, incorporators and subscribers in organizing the proposed bank.

(b) The need for banking facilities or additional banking facilities, as the case may be, in the community where the proposed bank is to be located, giving particular consideration to the adequacy of existing banking facilities and the need for further banking facilities in the locality.

(c) The present and future ability of the community to support the proposed bank and all other existing banking facilities in the community.

(d) The character, financial responsibility, banking experience and business qualifications of the proposed officers.

(e) The character, financial responsibility, business experience and standing of the proposed stockholders and directors.

(2) The department shall approve or disapprove the application, in its discretion, but it shall not approve such application until, in its opinion:

(a) Public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the establishment of the proposed bank.

(b) Local conditions assure reasonable promise of successful operation for the proposed bank and those banks already established in the community.

(c) The proposed capital structure is adequate.

(d) The proposed officers and directors have sufficient banking experience, ability and standing to assure reasonable promise of successful operation.

(e) The name of the proposed bank is not so similar as to cause confusion with the name of an existing bank.

(f) Provision has been made for suitable banking house quarters in the area specified in the application.

History.—s. 4, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1656.051 Capital structure.—

(1) The capital stock of an industrial savings bank hereafter organized shall be in such amount as the department shall deem adequate, but not less than the following aggregate amounts, based upon population of the community in which the bank will be located according to the latest official census:

(a) Twenty-five thousand dollars, if the population of the community in which the bank will be located does not exceed 5,000 and $50,000 if the population of the community in which the bank will be located does not exceed 10,000.

(b) One hundred thousand dollars if the population of the community in which the bank will be located exceeds 10,000, but does not exceed 50,000.

(c) Two hundred thousand dollars if the population of the community in which the bank will be located exceeds 50,000, but does not exceed 200,000.

(d) Three hundred thousand dollars if the population of the community in which the bank will be located exceeds 200,000.

(2) Every bank hereafter organized shall, upon its organization, establish, in addition to the capital required by subsection (1), a paid-in surplus equal in amount to not less than 20 percent of its paid-up capital, and a fund to be designated as undivided profits equal to 5 percent of its paid-up capital.

(3) Each subscriber at the time he subscribes to the stock of a proposed bank shall pay an additional sum at least equal to 5 percent of the par value of such stock into a fund to be used to defray the expenses of organization, such additional sum to be paid in cash. No organizational expense shall be paid out of any other funds of the bank. Upon the granting of a charter, any unexpended balance in such fund shall be transferred to undivided profits. If the application has been finally denied during said period, such balance shall be distributed among the contributors in proportion to their respective payments. The department may require an accounting of disbursements from the fund and may order the incorporators to restore any sum which has been expended for other than proper organizational expenses.

(4) No bank shall apply any part of the funds collected under this section for the payment of commissions or fees for obtaining subscriptions or selling shares or to the payment of compensation for services in connection with the organization of a proposed bank, or in connection with securing authority to transact business, other than the payment of fees for legal services and of other usual and ordinary expenses incidental and necessary for the organization of a bank.

History.—s. 5, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

cf.—s. 11.031 Official census.

1656.061 Authorization to engage in industrial savings banking business.—

(1) Upon approval of the application for authority to organize by the department, the proposed articles of incorporation shall be submitted to the department for its written approval before filing pursuant to chapter 607. After such approval and certification by the department, the proposed bank shall:

(a) File with the department a copy of its articles of incorporation duly certified by the Department of State.

(b) File with the department a statement in such form and with such supporting data and proof as it may require, showing that the entire capital, surplus and undivided profits have been fully paid in lawful money unconditionally and that the funds representing such capital, surplus and undivided profits, less sums spent with the approval of the department for land, building, supplies, fixtures and equipment, are on hand.

(2) If the department finds that the proposed bank has in good faith complied with all the requirements of law, it shall within 30 days after the filing of the statement specified in subsection (1)(b), issue, in duplicate, under its official seal, a certificate of authorization to transact an industrial banking business, transmitting one copy to the bank and placing one copy in the department file. Said certificate shall state that the corporation named therein is authorized to transact an industrial savings banking business, and the bank shall cause said certificate to be published one time in some newspaper of general circulation published in the city or county where the bank is located.

(3) No bank shall, until it has received its certificates of authorization:

(a) Transact any banking business.

(b) Incur any indebtedness except that allowed under subsection (1)(b).

(4) Upon the failure to comply with subsection (1) (a) and (b) within 6 months after the approval of the application for authority to organize, such right shall automatically terminate and the charter be revoked. The department, however, for good cause, on written application filed before the expiration of said 6-month period, may extend the time within which the bank may be organized for a period not exceeding 6 months.

(5) Upon the failure to open for business with 30 days after the issuance of the certificate of authorization, the right to transact business shall automatically terminate and the charter be revoked.

History.—s. 6, ch. 57-351; ss. 10, 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 14, ch. 79-9.

1656.071 Place of transacting business; drive-in facilities.—

(1)(a) Any bank heretofore or hereafter incorporated pursuant to this chapter shall have one principal place of doing business, as designated in its articles of incorporation; in addition, with the approval of the department and upon such conditions as the department shall prescribe, including a satisfactory showing by the bank that public convenience and necessity will be served thereby, any bank may establish up to two branches per calendar year within the limits of the county in which the parent bank is located and, in addition, may establish branches by merger with other banks located within the county in which the parent bank is located. The location of a parent bank or of a branch bank may be moved if the department determines that public convenience and necessity will be served by such move, but the location of a parent bank or of a branch bank may not be moved beyond the limits of the county in which it is located. The term "parent bank" shall be construed to mean the bank or banking office at which the principal functions of the bank are conducted.

(b) An application for a branch bank shall be in writing in such form as the department prescribes, supported by such information, data, and records as the department may require to make findings necessary for approval. The department shall not act upon a branch application until it has completed consideration of any bank application pending when the branch application was filed, if the proposed locations for such branch and bank are within 1 mile of each other. However, action upon a branch application shall not be delayed more than 6 months after its filing due to the pendency of such a prior bank application. When the department has approved an application, it shall issue a certificate authorizing the operation of the branch bank and specifying the date on which it may be opened and the place where it will be located.

(c) This subsection shall be construed to allow the merger of banks within the same county and the operation by the merged company of such banks and to allow the sale of any bank to, and the purchase thereof through merger by, any other bank in the same county and the operation of such banks by the merged bank, provided that the Department of Banking and Finance shall be of the opinion and shall first determine that public convenience and necessity will be served by such operation.

(2) A bank may operate a drive-in facility, providing one or more tellers to serve patrons in motor vehicles in the following manner:

(a) The facility will be a part of or adjacent to the main banking room.

(b) There will be a physical connection of the main banking room and the facility.

(c) There will be a private connecting doorway or private enclosed secure passageway connecting the main banking room and the facility enabling tellers to pass between the facility and main banking room without coming in contact with the public. The operation of any drive-in facility not complying with these requirements shall constitute a violation of subsection (1).

History.—s. 7, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 76-142; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1656.081 Changes in articles of incorporation.

—A bank shall not amend its articles of incorporation without the written approval of the department, and if any amendment requests a change in name of the bank, the department shall not approve such change if the new name is so similar as to cause confusion with the name of an existing bank.

History.—s. 8, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1656.091 Shares of stock.—

(1) A bank shall issue its capital stock with par value of not less than $5 or more than $100 per share.

(2) No bank hereafter shall issue any shares before they are fully paid for.

(3) A bank pursuant to action taken by its board of directors, and after obtaining the written approval of the department and the approval of stockholders holding a majority of the voting stock of the bank evidenced either in a writing signed by the stockholders or by a vote at a stockholders' meeting called for such stated purpose after giving 10 days' notice by registered mail, may issue preferred stock of one or more classes in an amount and with a par value as approved by the department and may make amendments to its articles of incorporation which may be necessary to accomplish this purpose. The holders of the preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the bank and shall not be liable for assessment.

History.—s. 9, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 70-408; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§656.101 Dividends and surplus.—The directors of any bank, after charging off bad debts, depreciation and other worthless assets if any, may quarter-annually, semiannually, or annually, declare a dividend of so much of the net profits of the bank as they shall judge expedient, but each bank shall, before the declaration of a dividend on its common stock carry 10 percent of its net profits for such preceding period as is covered by the dividend to its surplus fund, until the same shall at least equal the amount of its common and preferred stock. Whenever the surplus becomes impaired or reduced below the aggregate amount of common and preferred stock, it shall be reimbursed in the manner provided for its accumulation.

History.—s. 10, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§656.111 Changes in capital.—

(1) No bank shall reduce its outstanding capital stock without first obtaining the consent of the department, and such consent shall be withheld if the reduction will cause the outstanding capital stock to be less than the minimum required hereunder.

(2) Any bank, may with the approval of the department, provide for an increase in its capital as may be deemed expedient.

History.—s. 11, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§656.121 Directors, number, qualifications, oath, officers.—

(1) The board of directors of the bank shall consist of not less than five nor more than 25 directors, and shall be elected at the annual meeting of stockholders.

(2) Every director must during his whole term of service be a citizen of the United States, and at least three-fifths of the directors must have resided in this state for at least 1 year preceding their election, and must be residents therein during their continuance in office. Every director of a bank hereafter chartered must own in his own right, free of lien or pledge agreement, voting common stock of the bank of which he is a director of not less than $1,000 par value; any director who ceases to be the owner of such amount of voting common stock, or who becomes in any other manner disqualified, shall thereby vacate his place as such director; provided that as to those banks having an authorized capital of $25,- 000 or less, such director must own in his own right capital stock in such bank of not less than $500 par value in the manner above provided for other banks.

(3) Each director, upon assuming office, shall take an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves on him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of such bank and will not knowingly violate, or willfully permit to be violated, any of the provisions of this chapter, and that he is the owner in good faith and in his own right of shares of voting common stock in the amount required by subsection (2) subscribed by him or standing in his name on the books of the bank and that the same is not hypothecated or in any way pledged as security for any loan or debt. Such oath shall be immediately filed with the department.

(4) The board of directors of each bank shall manage the affairs of the bank and hold a meeting at least once every 2 months at the banking house of the bank.

History.—s. 12, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 71-171; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§656.131 Deposit insurance; membership in Federal Reserve System.—A bank is authorized to do any act necessary to obtain insurance of its deposits by the United States, or any agency thereof, and to acquire and hold membership in the Federal Reserve System.

History.—s. 13, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§656.141 Liability of stockholders.—Holders of voting common stock of banks shall be held individually responsible equally and ratable and not for one another for all contracts, debts, and engagements of such banks to the extent of the amount of their stock therein at the par value thereof in addition to the amount invested in such shares. Persons holding stock as executors, administrators, guardians or trustees shall not be personally subject to any liability as stockholders, but the estates and funds in their hands shall be liable in like manner and to the same extent as the testator, intestate, ward or person interested in trust funds would be, if living and competent to hold the stock in his own name. Such stockholders who have transferred their shares or registered the transfer thereof within 6 months next before the date of the failure of such bank to meet its obligations, or with knowledge of such impending failure, shall be liable to the same extent as if they had made no such transfer, to the extent that the subsequent transferee fails to meet such liability; but this provision shall not be construed to affect in any way any recourse which such stockholders might otherwise have against those in whose names such shares are registered at the time of such failure, provided that this section shall not apply to stockholders in a bank which is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, a corporation under laws of the United States, or which has an unimpaired surplus equalling the amount of its capital stock.

History.—s. 14, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

656.15 Acquisition of majority stock in existing bank.—In any case where a person, a group of persons, or a corporation proposes to purchase or acquire the majority of the outstanding capital stock of any bank and thereby to change the control of said bank, such person, shall first make application to the department for a certificate of approval of such proposed change of control of said bank and said application shall contain the name and address of the proposed new owner or owners of the controlling stock and the said department shall issue said certificate of approval only after it has become satisfied that the proposed new owner or owners of the controlling stock is qualified by character, experience and financial responsibility to control and operate the said bank in a legal and proper manner, and that the interests of the stockholders, depositors and creditors of the bank and the interest of the public generally will not be jeopardized by the proposed change in ownership and management.

History.—s. 15, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

656.16 Cash reserves.—

(1) Every bank shall at all times have available in cash an amount equal to at least 15 percent of the aggregate amount of its deposits. Such portion of said reserve as the bank may desire may be invested in bonds and securities of the United States and bonds and securities guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States, owned and unpledged by the bank, or which are in excess of the total deposits which they are pledged to secure, and balances payable on demand, due to the company from banks with whom such company may keep in current account.

(2) Whenever the lawful reserve of any such bank as defined in subsection (1) shall be below the amount of 15 percent of its deposits, such bank shall not increase its liabilities by making any new loans or discounts otherwise than by discounting or purchasing of bills of exchange payable at sight, nor making any dividends of its profits until the required proportion between its deposits and its lawful money of the United States has been restored. The department may notify any bank whose lawful money reserves shall be below the amount above required to be maintained to make good such reserve, and if such bank shall fail in 30 days thereafter so to make good its reserve of lawful money, the department may appoint a liquidator to wind up the business of the bank as provided in s. 661.10.

History.—s. 16, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

656.17 Special powers.—Industrial savings banks in addition to the general and usual powers incidental to ordinary corporations for profit in this state, which are not specifically restricted in this law, shall have the following special powers, to wit:

<sup>2</sup>(1) LOANS; SECURITY REQUIRED, INTEREST AND CHARGES.—The right to lend money, secured or unsecured, at an interest rate not to exceed the equivalent of 18 percent per annum simple interest calculated on the assumption that the loan will be paid in accordance with its agreed terms, whether or not the loan may be paid or collected prior to stated maturity, plus an additional charge not to exceed 2 percent of the principal amount of any loan or $50, whichever is less, which additional charge shall be for investigating the character of the individual applying for the loan, the security submitted, and all other costs in connection with the making of such loans. No other charge of any kind or nature whatsoever, by whatsoever purpose or name designated, shall be made; however, when a loan is of such character as to necessitate the filing or recording of a legal instrument, an additional charge may be made for such filing or recording, providing such charge is actually paid to the proper public officials; also, a borrower may be required to pay abstract costs, reasonable attorney's fees, documentary stamp taxes, other taxes, premiums on insurance, and other similar charges, if the bank deems the same necessary for the protection and security of said loan.

<sup>2</sup>(2) COLLECTION OF CHARGES.—The right to require payment of the charges permitted in subsection (1) at the time the loan is made.

<sup>3</sup>(3) ACCEPT DEPOSITS AND ISSUE INVESTMENT CERTIFICATES, CONTRACTS, ETC.—The right to accept deposits and issue as evidence therefor investment certificates, contracts, or agreements, under any descriptive name which may bear such interest, if any, as their terms may provide and which may require the payment to the bank of such amounts from time to time as their terms may provide, and permit the withdrawal or cancellation of amounts paid upon the same in whole or in part from time to time and the credit of amounts thereon upon such condition as may be set forth therein.

<sup>3</sup>(4) PLANS ON WHICH LOANS MAY BE MADE.—The right to lend money on any combination of any of the foregoing plans or the elements thereof, including the right to lend money upon the collateral deposits of and the compliance of the borrowers with the terms of any deposit, investment certificate, contract or agreement issued under subsection (3).

<sup>3</sup>(5) LATE CHARGES.—To impose a late charge not exceeding 5 percent of the amount of any principal payment, installment payment, or payments in default on any evidence of debt given to secure payment of a loan made pursuant to subsection (1) or at the time any periodical installment upon a certificate assigned as collateral security for the payment of a loan made pursuant to subsection (1) becomes due. However, such late charges shall not be cumulative.

History.—s. 17, ch. 57-351; s. 2, ch. 70-408; s. 1, ch. 71-200; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 1, ch. 78-182; s. 7, ch. 79-274.

Note.—These subsections as amended by ch. 79-274 "apply only to loans or advances of credit made on or subsequent to" July 1, 1979, "and shall not be construed as diminishing the force and effect of any laws applying to loans or advances of credit completed prior to that date."

Note.—Section 7, ch. 79-274 purported to amend the entire section, but did not republish subsections (3)-(5). Subsections (3)-(5) are republished here, however, as the apparent legislative intent was not to repeal them.

1656.18 Prohibited powers.—No industrial savings bank may, however, do any of the following, to wit:

(1) CARRY COMMERCIAL OR DEMAND ACCOUNTS.—Carry commercial or demand banking accounts.

(2) UNSECURED LOANS, EXCESSIVE AMOUNTS.—

(a) Unsecured loans exceeding 10 percent of the aggregate unimpaired capital and surplus shall not be made to any person; however, when approved by the board of directors, or an authorized committee therefrom, said 10 percent limitation may be increased to 25 percent of the aggregate unimpaired capital and surplus when such loans are amply and entirely secured.

(b) No bank shall lend directly or indirectly an amount exceeding 10 percent of the aggregate unimpaired capital and surplus of said bank to any director or officer of said bank, individually or to any copartnership or incorporated company in which a director or officer may be directly or indirectly interested. No such loans shall be made unless the same shall be first approved by the board of directors of such bank.

(c) No loan or discount shall be made by an industrial savings bank on the security of the shares of its own capital stock.

(3) ACCEPT TRUSTS, ETC.—Accept trusts or act as guardian, administrator, or judicial trustee in any form.

(4) DEPOSIT FUNDS IN OTHER BANKS.—Deposit any of its funds in any banking corporation, unless such corporation has been designated by vote of a majority of directors or of the executive committee present at a meeting duly called, at which a quorum was in attendance.

(5) REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES.—Banks may carry in their assets first mortgages on real property and certain second mortgages on real estate as hereinafter provided. Secondary liens may be taken and carried to secure further any debt previously contracted in good faith and owing to the bank or as additional security to loans made under provisions of Title I of the Federal Housing Administration Act. Secondary liens made under the provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as amended, when fully guaranteed under the provisions of and meeting the requirements of said act, will not be considered secondary liens subject to the prohibitions of this subsection, but as acceptable assets for the bank. Secondary liens may also be taken at any time to further secure a loan if the loan is otherwise adequately secured, and second mortgages on real estate may be taken and carried as an asset if the principal amount secured by the first and second mortgages, in the aggregate, does not exceed 75 percent of the appraised value of the encumbered real estate.

1656.19 Powers of department.—In addition to other powers conferred by this act, the department shall have power to:

(1) Implement by regulation any provision of this chapter.

(2) Restrict the withdrawal of deposits from all or one or more industrial banks where the department finds that extraordinary circumstances make such restriction necessary for the proper protection of depositors in the affected institutions.

(3) From time to time formulate and promulgate reasonable rules and regulations governing the conduct of industrial banks doing business in this state which rules and regulations shall have the force of law.

History.—s. 19, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 215, ch. 77-104; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 7, ch. 78-95.

1656.20 Liability when acting upon department's order or regulation.—No person shall be subject to any civil or criminal liability for any act or omission to act in good faith in reliance upon a subsisting order or regulation issued by the department notwithstanding a subsequent decision by a court of competent jurisdiction invalidating the order or regulation.

History.—s. 20, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1656.21 Examinations and reports.—The department shall:

(1) Examine the condition of each bank at least twice in each calendar year. The department may accept a Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or Federal Reserve examination in lieu of one of said bank examinations and may furnish a copy of all examinations made of such banks to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or its representatives or the Federal Reserve Board or its representatives.

(2) Require each bank to submit a report of its condition as of such date as it may fix at least twice in each calendar year or as often as ordered by the department, verified by the oaths or affirmations of the officer or officers authorized to do so by the by-laws of such corporation. Within 10 days after such report shall have been called for, the bank shall publish in a newspaper published in the county in which said bank is located a statement of its assets and liabilities as of the date of said report, and copies of said publication, with an affidavit of the publication, shall be filed with the department and the county property appraiser.

(3) Require each bank to submit a report of its income and dividends on a calendar year basis on such date as it may fix at least once each year, or as often as ordered by the department, verified by the oaths or affirmations of the officer or officers authorized to do so by the bylaws of such corporation. Every such bank which fails to transmit any report required under this section shall be subject to a penalty of $100 for each day of delinquency after the due date of the report.

1656.211 Confidentiality of records of division.—All reports of examination and investigation conducted therewith, including any duly authorized copies in possession of any banking organization, foreign banking corporation, or any other person or agency, shall be confidential communications, other than such documents as are required by law to be published, and shall not be made public unless with the consent of the department or pursuant to a court order. All reports of examination or investigation of any bank shall be the sole property of the division of banking, Department of Banking and Finance, and under no circumstances shall the bank or any of its directors, officials, or employees disclose or otherwise make public in any manner such reports or any portion thereof, except in compliance with a court order.

History.—s. 2, ch. 71-200; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1656.22 Examination fees and assessments.—The amount, kind, and disposition of the fees and assessments set forth in s. 658.08 shall also apply to industrial savings banks.

History.—s. 22, ch. 57-351; s. 1, ch. 63-254; s. 3, ch. 67-382; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 2, ch. 70-262; s. 3, ch. 73-69; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1656.23 Destruction of certain bank records.—

(1) Banks shall not be required to preserve, or keep their records, or files, or photographic, or microphotographic copies thereof for a longer period than 10 years next after January 1 of the year following the time of the making or filing of such records or files, provided, however, that ledger sheets shall not be destroyed unless photographic copies of such ledger sheets are retained.

(2) No liability shall accrue against any bank destroying any such records after the expiration of the period provided in subsection (1), and any cause or proceedings in which any such records or files may be called in question or be demanded of the bank or any officer or employee thereof, a showing that such records or files have been destroyed in accordance with the terms of this section shall be a sufficient excuse for the failure to produce them.

(3) Any bank may photograph, microphotograph, or reproduce on film in such manner that each page is exposed in its entirety any or all of its journals, ledgers, statements, account books, or other books, or any or all of its internal records of every description, made or received in the regular course of its business, and the photographs, microphotographs, or reproductions on film, or in the form of film or prints, or enlarged prints, or any duly certified or authenticated copy or reproduction thereof, duly certified or authenticated by a responsible officer of the bank under whose supervision the records are kept, shall in all cases, and in all courts and places, be admitted and received as evidence with a like force and effect as the original general ledger, voucher, statement, account book, or other record.

History.—s. 23, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1656.24 Investments.—An industrial savings bank may invest its funds, subject to the following definitions, restrictions, and limitations:

(1) Bonds and securities not subject to limitation:

(a) Direct obligations of the United States Government.

(b) Obligations of agencies created by act of the United States Congress and authorized thereby to issue securities or evidences of indebtedness, regardless of guarantee of repayment by the United States Government.

(c) Public housing authority obligations.

(d) General obligations of states of the United States, of Puerto Rico, and of the political subdivisions and municipalities thereof.

(e) Obligations issued by the Florida State Board of Education under authority of the State Constitution or applicable statutes.

(f) Tax anticipation certificates or warrants of counties or municipalities having maturities not exceeding 1 year.

(2) Bonds and securities subject to a limitation of 25 percent of unimpaired capital and surplus of the purchasing bank. Any single issue of revenue bonds or certificates of states of the United States, of Puerto Rico, or of the political subdivisions and municipalities thereof.

(3) Bonds and securities subject to a limitation of 10 percent of unimpaired capital and surplus of the purchasing bank:

(a) Corporate obligations of any one corporation which is not an affiliate or subsidiary of the banking corporation.

(b) Savings shares or certificates issued by any one savings and loan association having its principal office in Florida.

(c) Any single issue of industrial development bonds issued by a county or municipality for the benefit of a specified corporation.

(4) None of the bonds or securities described in this section shall be eligible for investment in any amount unless current as to all payments of principal and interest and unless rated in one of the four highest investment grades by a recognized investment rating service or otherwise supported as to investment quality and marketability by a credit rating file compiled and maintained in current status by the purchasing industrial savings bank.

(5) An industrial savings bank may invest in the stock of incorporated companies to the extent hereinafter defined:

(a) Stock of the federal reserve bank of this district may be purchased and retained as required to maintain membership in the federal reserve system.

(b) Stock of the Federal National Mortgage Association may be purchased and retained as required in connection with mortgage transactions with the said association.

(c) Up to 2 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the industrial savings bank may be invested in small business investment companies which are organized under the provisions of the United States Code.

(d) Up to 10 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the industrial savings bank may be invested in a bank service corporation, organized and operated as defined in this chapter.

(e) With the prior written approval of the department, an industrial savings bank may invest an aggregate amount up to 20 percent of its unimpaired capital and surplus in the stock of one or more operating subsidiary corporations organized for any of the following purposes: Owning and servicing real estate mortgages, owning and leasing real and personal property, issuing credit cards, operating a credit bureau, or such other purposes as the department may authorize.

(6) Investment securities shall be entered on the books of the industrial savings bank at the fair market value on the date of acquisition. Premiums paid in excess of par value shall be amortized over the life of the security; discount may be accreted.

(7) An industrial savings bank may invest in real estate to the extent hereinafter defined:

(a) Up to 50 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank may be invested in the direct ownership, or in leasehold improvements, of land and buildings utilized by the bank in the transaction of its business. In lieu thereof, with the prior written approval of the department, up to 50 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank may be invested in the stock of a corporation which owns the land and buildings within which the business of the bank is transacted.

(b) An additional investment up to 10 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank may be made for the acquisition of land or buildings for future banking use or as a protection against undesirable encroachment of the banking premises or abandonment or deterioration of property in the immediate vicinity of the banking house. The bank may hold, improve, sell, lease, operate, or otherwise exercise the rights of an owner of any such property.

(c) The real estate investment limitations provided by this subsection may not be exceeded except with the prior written approval of the department.

(8) An industrial savings bank may own or lease furniture, fixtures, machinery, and equipment such as may be necessary to the transaction of its banking business, and may be the owner and lessor of personal property which is acquired pursuant to a written contract with a specified lessee.

(9) An industrial savings bank may acquire property of any kind to secure, protect, or satisfy a loan or investment previously made in good faith, and such property shall be entered on the bank's books, held, and disposed of subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) The book entry shall be the lesser of the balance of the loan or investment plus acquisition costs and accrued interest or the appraisal value or market value of the property acquired which shall be determined as near as possible to the date of acquisition.

(b) The bank shall have evidence of ownership of all property acquired and shall maintain subsidiary ledgers adequate to the separate recording of all income and expense attributable to its ownership of such property.

(c) Unless an extension of time is approved in writing by the department, real estate shall be sold or charged off within 5 years of the date of acquisition, and personal property shall be sold or charged off within 6 months of the date of acquisition.

(10) Special provisions:

(a) An industrial savings bank may invest up to 1 percent of its unimpaired capital and surplus in the stock of the Florida industrial development corporation, and may thereafter deal in the securities or other evidences of debt of that corporation as provided for in chapter 289.

(b) An industrial savings bank may invest in the stock or securities of a community corporation organized to promote the physical, social, or moral well-being of the members of the community in which the bank is located. However, the total of all such investments carried as assets of the bank may not exceed 2 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank.

'656.28 Depositories of public moneys and pledge of assets.—

(1) Banks shall be depositories of public moneys under such regulations as may be prescribed by the department and they may also be employed as financial agents of the state and they shall perform such reasonable duties as depositories of public moneys and financial agents of the state as may be required of them. The department shall require banks so designated to give satisfactory security by the deposit of bonds of the United States, the state or political subdivisions or other satisfactory security for the safekeeping and prompt payment of the public moneys deposited with them and for the faithful performance of their duties as financial agents of the state. A bank or trust company may also pledge its assets to:

- (a) Enable it to act as agent for the sale of obligations of the United States.
- (b) Secure borrowed funds.
- (c) Secure deposits when the depositor is required to obtain such security by the laws of the United States or the laws of this state.

(2) Notwithstanding any provisions of law of this state or any political subdivision thereof requiring security of deposits in the form of collateral, surety bond, or in any other form, security for such deposits shall not be required to the extent that such deposits are insured under the provisions of Federal Deposit Insurance, as amended, or any amendments thereto.

History.—s. 28, ch. 57-351; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'656.29 Rights of minority stockholders.—No bank and no director, officer or employee thereof, shall permit any stockholder other than a qualified director, officer or employee thereof to have access to or to examine or inspect any of the books or records of such bank other than its general statement book showing its general assets and liabilities.

History.—s. 29, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'656.32 Deposit of minors.—Bank deposits by a minor or made in his name, other than by a court-appointed guardian, may be withdrawn by the minor in the absence of an agreement to the contrary made between the bank and the depositor at the time the account is opened, and in case of any such agreement, such moneys, until the minor's disabilities are removed, may be withdrawn by the person or persons designated in such agreement.

History.—s. 32, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'656.33 Deposits in two or more names.—Bank deposits, or any part thereof, or any interest therein made in the names of two or more persons, payable to either, or payable to either or the survivor, may be paid to either of said persons whether the other be living or not; and the receipt or acquittance of the person so paid shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to the bank for any payment so made.

History.—s. 33, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.
Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

'656.34 Deposits in trust.—Bank deposits made by any person describing himself and making such deposit as trustee for another, and no other or further notice of the existence and terms of a legal and valid trust than such description shall have been given in writing to such bank, in the event of the death of the person so described as trustee, such deposit, or any part thereof, together with the interest thereon may be paid to the person for whom the deposit was thus stated to have been made.

History.—s. 34, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'656.35 Adverse claim to bank deposit.—Notice to bank of an adverse claim to a deposit standing on its books to the credit of any person shall not be effectual to cause said bank to recognize said adverse claimant unless said adverse claimant shall also either:

- (1) Procure a restraining order, injunction or other appropriate process against said bank from a court in a cause therein instituted by him wherein the person to whose credit the deposit stands is made a party and served with process, or

- (2) Execute to said bank in form and with sureties acceptable to it, a bond, indemnifying said bank from any and all liability, loss, damage, costs and expenses, for and on account of the payment of such adverse claim or the dishonor of the check or other order of the person to whose credit the deposit stands on the books of said bank.

History.—s. 35, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'656.36 Death or incompetency of depositor.—Any bank may pay any item made, drawn or accepted by a person who has funds on deposit to meet the same, notwithstanding the death or incompetency of the drawer, if presentation is made within 30 days after receipt of notice of the death or adjudication of incompetency of said depositor, and at any time if the bank has not received the written notice of the death or adjudication of incompetency of said depositor. No bank shall be liable for damages, or penalty, by reason of any payment made pursuant to this section.

History.—s. 36, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'656.37 Powers of attorney.—

- (1) A bank may continue to recognize the authority of an attorney authorized in writing to operate, in whole or in part, the account of a depositor, until it receives written notice of the revocation of his authority.

- (2) Written notice of the death or adjudication of incompetency of such depositor shall constitute written notice of revocation of the authority of his attorney.

ney; provided, however, bank may, until 30 days after receipt of such notice, pay any item made, drawn, accepted or endorsed by such attorney prior to such death or incompetency, provided that such item is otherwise properly payable.

History.—s. 37, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

656.38 Definitions, ss. 656.38-656.46.—As used in ss. 656.38-656.46:

(1) "Lessee" means a person contracting with a lessor for the use of a safe-deposit box.

(2) "Lessor" means a bank renting safe-deposit facilities.

(3) "Safe-deposit box" means a safe-deposit box, vault, or other safe-deposit receptacle maintained by a lessor and the rules relating thereto apply to property or documents kept in safekeeping in the bank's vault.

History.—s. 38, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

656.39 Authority to engage in leasing safe-deposit facilities.—An industrial savings bank may maintain and lease safe-deposit boxes and may accept property or documents for safekeeping if, except in the case of night depositories it issues a receipt therefor.

History.—s. 39, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

656.40 Access by fiduciaries.—Where a safe-deposit box is made available by a lessor to one or more persons acting as fiduciaries, the lessor may, except as otherwise expressly provided in the lease or the writings pursuant to which such fiduciaries are acting, allow access thereto as follows:

(1) By any one or more of the persons acting as executors or administrators.

(2) By any one or more of the persons otherwise acting as fiduciaries when authorized in writing signed by all other persons so acting.

(3) By any agent authorized in writing signed by all of the persons acting as fiduciaries.

History.—s. 40, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

656.41 Effect of lessee's death or incompetence.—Where a lessor without knowledge of the death or of an adjudication of legal incompetence of the lessee, deals with his agent pursuant to a written power of attorney signed by such lessee, the transaction binds the lessee's estate and the lessee.

History.—s. 41, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

656.42 Search procedure on death of lessee.—Provided satisfactory proof of the death of the lessee is presented, a lessor shall permit the person named in a court order for the purpose, or if no order has been served upon the lessor, the spouse, a parent, an adult descendant, or a person named as an executor in a copy of a purported will procured by him, to open and examine the contents of a safe-deposit box leased by a decedent, or any documents delivered by a decedent for safekeeping, in the presence of an officer of the lessor; and the lessor if so requested by such person, must deliver:

(1) Any writing purporting to be a will of the decedent to the court having probate jurisdiction in the county wherein the bank is located.

(2) Any writing purporting to be a deed to a burial plot or to give burial instructions to the person making the request for a search; and

(3) Any document purporting to be an insurance policy on the life of the decedent to the beneficiary named therein; but no other contents shall be removed pursuant to this section.

History.—s. 42, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

656.43 Lease to minor.—A bank may lease a safe-deposit box to and in connection therewith deal with a minor with the same effect as if leasing to and dealing with a person of full legal capacity.

History.—s. 43, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

656.44 Delivery of safe-deposit box contents or property held in safekeeping to personal representative.—

(1) The lessor shall immediately deliver to a resident personal representative, upon presentation of a certified copy of his letters of authority, all property deposited with it by the decedent for safekeeping, and shall grant him access to any safe-deposit box in the decedent's name and permit him to remove from such box any part or all of the contents thereof.

(2) After 3 months from the death of a lessee, if a personal foreign representative of such lessee has been appointed by a court of any other state and the lessor has not received written notice of the appointment of a personal representative in this state, a lessor may, in its discretion, deliver to a foreign personal representative all properties deposited with it for safekeeping and the contents of any safe-deposit box in the name of the decedent. Such a foreign personal representative shall furnish the lessor with an affidavit setting forth facts showing the domicile of the deceased lessee to be other than this state, and stating that there are no unpaid creditors of the deceased lessee in this state, together with a certified copy of his letters of authority. A lessor making delivery pursuant to this subsection shall maintain in its files a receipt executed by such foreign personal representative which itemizes in detail all property so delivered.

(3) No lessor shall be liable for damages or penalty by reason of any delivery made pursuant to this section.

1656.45 Access to safe-deposit boxes leased in two or more names.—

(1) When specifically provided in the lease or rental agreement covering safe-deposit boxes heretofore or hereafter rented or leased in the names of two or more persons that access to said safe-deposit box shall be granted to either lessee or to either or the survivor, access to said safe-deposit box shall be granted by lessor to either of said persons, whether the other person or persons be living or not, and the receipt or acquittance of such person so granted access shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to the lessor for granting access thereto.

(2) No lessor shall be liable for damages or penalty by reason of any delivery made pursuant to this section.

History.—s. 45, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1656.46 Adverse claims to contents of safe-deposit box.—

(1) An adverse claim to the contents of a safe-deposit box, or to property held in safekeeping, is not sufficient to require the lessor to deny access to its lessee unless:

(a) The lessor is directed to do so by a court order issued in an action in which the lessee is served with process and named as a party by a name which identifies him with the name in which the safe-deposit box is leased or the property held; or

(b) The safe-deposit box is leased or the property is held in the name of a lessee with the addition of words indicating that the contents or property are held in a fiduciary capacity, and the adverse claim is supported by a written statement of facts disclosing that it is made by or on behalf of a beneficiary and that there is reason to know that the fiduciary will misappropriate the trust property.

(2) A claim is also an adverse claim where one of several lessees claims, contrary to the terms of the lease, an exclusive right of access, or where one or more persons claim a right of access as agents, or officers of a lessee to the exclusion of others as agents, or officers, or where it is claimed that a lessee is the same person as one using another name.

History.—s. 46, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1656.47 Special remedies for nonpayment of rent.—

(1) If the rental due on a safe-deposit box has not been paid for 6 months, the lessor may send a notice by registered mail to the last known address of the lessee stating that the safe-deposit box will be opened and its contents stored at the expense of the lessee unless payment of the rental is made within 30 days. If the rental is not paid within 30 days from the mailing of the notice, the box may be opened in the presence of an officer of the lessor and of a notary public who is not a director, officer, employee or stockholder of the lessor. The contents shall be sealed in a package by a notary public who shall write on the outside the name of the lessee and the date of the opening. The notary public shall execute a certificate reciting the name of the lessee, the date of the opening of the box and a list of its contents. The certificate shall be included in the package and a copy of the certificate shall be sent by registered mail to the last known address of the lessee. The package shall then be placed in the general vaults of the lessor at a rental not exceeding the rental previously charged for the box.

(2)(a) If the contents of the safe-deposit box have not been claimed within 1 year of the mailing of the certificate, the lessor may send a further notice to the last known address of the lessee stating that, unless the accumulated charges are paid within 30 days, the contents of the box will be sold at public auction at a specified time and place, or in the case of securities listed on a stock exchange, will be sold upon the exchange on or after a specified date and that unsalable items will be destroyed. The time, place and manner of sale shall also be posted conspicuously on the premises of the lessor and advertised once in a newspaper of general circulation in the community. If the articles are not claimed, they may then be sold in accordance with the notice.

(b) The balance of the proceeds, after deducting accumulated charges, including the expenses of advertising and conducting the sale, shall be deposited to the credit of the lessee in any account maintained by him, or if none, shall be deemed a deposit account with the bank operating the safe-deposit facility, and shall be identified on the books of the bank as arising from the sale of contents of a safe-deposit box.

(3) Any documents or writings of a private nature, and having little or no apparent value need not be offered for sale, but shall be retained, unless claimed by the owner, for the period specified for unclaimed contents, after which they may be destroyed.

(4) The remedies provided for in this section shall apply to rental accrued or contents of safe-deposit boxes held by banks prior to the enactment of chapter 28016, Laws of Florida, 1953, chs. 656-661, Florida Statutes.

History.—s. 47, ch. 57-351; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

cf.—s. 1.01 Defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

1656.48 Miscellaneous offenses.—

(1) Any director, officer or employee of a bank who asks for or receives, consents or agrees to receive any commission, emolument or gratuity or any money, property or things of value for his own personal benefit, or of personal advantage for procuring or endeavoring to procure for any person any loan from such bank or the purchase or discount of any note, draft, check, bill of exchange or other obligation by such bank or for permitting any person to overdraw any account with such bank shall be guilty of a felony.

(2) Any director, officer, agent, or employee of any bank who knowingly receives or possesses himself of any of its property otherwise than in payment of a just demand, and with intent to defraud, omits to make or cause to be made a full and true entry thereof in its books and accounts, or concurs in omitting to make any material entry thereof, shall be guilty of a felony.

(3) Any director, officer, agent or employee of a bank who without authority from the board of directors of such bank makes, draws, issues, puts forth or assigns any certificate of deposit, draft, order, bill of exchange, acceptance, note, debenture, bond or other obligation, or mortgage, judgment or decree or makes any false entry in any book, report or statement of such bank with intent to defraud such bank or any other person, firm, or corporation, or to deceive any officer of such bank, or the department or any examiner appointed to examine the affairs of such bank shall be guilty of a felony.

(4) No bank shall purchase any real property or any contract arising from the sale of real property, or any note or bond in which any director, officer, or controlling stockholders of such bank, is personally or financially interested, directly or indirectly for his own account, for himself, or as a partner or agent of others without first obtaining the approval of the majority of the board of directors, excluding his own vote.

(5) No officer or director without prior approval of the board of a bank shall purchase directly or indirectly or be interested in the purchase of any of the bank's assets.

cf.—s. 775.081 Classifications of felonies.

656.49 Unlawful service as an officer.—It shall be unlawful for any person to serve as an officer or director of a bank who:

(1) Has been convicted of an offense constituting a violation of the banking laws, involving moral turpitude, or a breach of trust.

(2) Is indebted to the bank for more than 30 days upon a judgment that has become final.

(3) Has any interest adverse to the bank unless such interest is promptly and fully disclosed in writing to the board of directors of the bank.

656.52 Fictitious or fraudulent assets; past due paper.—

(1) Any bank shall not carry as an asset of said company any note, obligation, or security which it does not own absolutely or which is known by the bank to be fraudulent or otherwise worthless, and no bank shall carry as an asset in any report to the department or any published report any note or other obligation which is past due or upon which no interest has been paid for 1 year or longer, provided, however, that such past due paper may be carried to the extent of the reasonable value of any lien or other collateral given to secure such obligation; and provided further that if suit has been filed to enforce the collection of any such past due obligation, it may be carried at its reasonable value as determined by the board of directors. The department may after investigation order the revision of any value so determined hereunder.

(2) Any officer of a bank who knowingly places among the assets of said bank any note, obligation or security which it does not own or which to his knowledge is fraudulent or otherwise worthless or who represents to the department or an examiner that any note, obligation, or security carried, or an asset of such bank is the property of the bank and is genuine when it is known to such officers that such representation is false or that such note, obligation or security is fraudulent or otherwise worthless, such officer shall be guilty of a felony.

(1) Any seven resident persons of the state who represent a potential membership of at least 200 persons having a common bond, as defined in this chapter, may apply to the Department of Banking and Finance for permission to organize a credit union. A "credit union" is a cooperative society incorporated for the twofold purpose of promoting thrift among its members and creating a source of credit for them at legitimate rates of interest for provident purposes. A credit union is organized in the following manner:

(a) The applicants execute in duplicate a certificate of organization by the terms of which they agree to be bound. The certificate shall state:

1. The name and location of the proposed credit union.

2. The names and addresses of the subscribers to the certificate and the number of shares subscribed by each.

3. The par value of the shares of the credit union which shall not exceed $10 each.

(b) They next prepare and adopt bylaws for the general governance of the credit union consistent with the provisions of this chapter, and execute the same in duplicate.

(c) The certificate and the bylaws, both executed in duplicate, are forwarded to the department with a filing fee of $5 and an investigation fee of $15 for the use of the state.

(d) The department shall, within 30 days of the receipt of the certificate and bylaws, determine whether they conform with the provisions of this chapter, and whether or not the organization of the credit union in question would benefit the members of it and be consistent with the purposes of this chapter.

(e) Thereupon the department shall notify the applicants of its decision. If it is favorable the department shall issue a certificate of approval, attached to the duplicate certificate of organization and return the same, together with the duplicate bylaws, to the applicants.

(f) The applicants shall thereupon file the duplicate of the certificate of organization, with the certificate of approval attached thereto, with the clerk of the circuit court of the county within which the credit union is to do business, who shall make a record of the certificate and return it, with his certificate of record attached thereto, to the Department of Banking and Finance for permanent record.

(g) Thereupon the applicants shall become and be a credit union, incorporated in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

(2) In order to simplify the organization of credit unions the department shall cause to be prepared an approved form of certificate of organization and a form of bylaws, consistent with this chapter which may be used by credit union incorporators for their guidance, and on written application of any seven resident persons of the state, shall supply them without charge with a blank certificate of organization and a copy of said form of suggested bylaws.

to that date.

1657.02 Amendments.—Any and all amendments to the bylaws must be approved by the Department of Banking and Finance before they become operative.

History.—s. 2, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(2); ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1657.03 Use of name "credit union."—It shall be a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083, for any person, association, copartnership or corporation (except corporations organized in accordance with the provisions of this chapter) to use the words "credit union" in its name or title. Associations organized under the provisions of this chapter shall include in their corporate names or titles the words "credit union."

History.—s. 3, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(3), 7977(1); s. 671, ch. 71-136; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1657.04 Powers.—A credit union shall have the following powers:

(1) To receive the savings of its members either as payment on shares or as deposits (including the right to conduct Christmas clubs, vacation clubs, and other such thrift organizations within the membership.)

(2) To make loans to members for provident or productive purposes.

(3) To make loans to a cooperative society or other organization having membership in the credit union.

(4) To deposit its funds in state and national banks.

(5) To invest its funds as hereinafter in this chapter provided.

(6) To borrow money as hereinafter in this chapter indicated.

(7) To make contracts, to sue and be sued, and to incur and pay such operating expenses as are necessary or incidental to the operation thereof, including such membership fees in organizations of credit unions as may be approved by the board of directors, such expenses to be borne by the credit union from current earnings and unallocated surplus.

(8) To exercise such incidental powers as shall be deemed necessary or requisite to carry on effectively the business for which it is incorporated, pursuant to rules of the department.

(9) To purchase reasonable disability insurance, including accidental death benefits, for directors and committee members through insurance companies licensed to do business in this state.

(10) To reimburse directors and committee members for reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties, under a policy to be determined by a majority vote of the membership at any annual or special meeting.

(11) To amend its bylaws to accept into the field of membership individuals of a similar common bond of a liquidating credit union.

History.—s. 4, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(4); s. 1, ch. 29739, 1955; s. 2, ch. 59-56; s. 1, ch. 67-186; s. 2, ch. 75-171; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 78-457.

1657.05 Membership.—Credit union membership shall consist of the incorporators and such other persons as may be elected to membership and subscribe to at least one share, pay the initial installment thereon, and the entrance fee. Organizations (incorporated or otherwise) composed for the most part of the same general group as the credit union membership may be members. Credit union organization shall be limited to groups (of both large and small membership) having a common bond of occupation, or association or to groups within a well-defined neighborhood, community or rural district.

History.—s. 5, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(5); s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1657.06 Reports to department; examinations; fees; revocation of certificate of approval.—

(1) Credit unions shall be under the supervision of the Department of Banking and Finance, hereinafter referred to as the department. They shall report to it at least annually on or before January 31 on blanks supplied by the said department for that purpose. Additional reports may be required. For failure to file reports when due, unless excused for cause, the credit union shall pay to the treasurer of the state $5 for each day of its delinquency. If the department determines that the credit union is violating the provisions of this chapter or is insolvent, the department may suspend the operation of the credit union or may serve notice on the credit union of its intention to revoke the certificate of approval. If, for a period of 15 days after said notice, the violation continues, the department may revoke the certificate and take possession of the business and property of said credit union and maintain possession until such time as the department shall permit it to continue business or its affairs are finally liquidated in the same manner as state banks are liquidated. It may take similar action if the report remains in arrears for more than 15 days.

(2) Credit unions shall be examined at least annually by the department or its agent, except that if a credit union has assets of less than $25,000, it may accept the audit of a practicing public accountant in place of such examination. The board of directors and supervisory committee shall review the examination report. The recommendations to the board to eliminate violations or exceptions noted therein shall be enforced by the board.

(3)(a) An examination fee shall be paid to the department based on the total amount of resources held by the credit union as follows:

1. With resources up to $10,000, $25;
2. With resources up to $15,000, $50;
3. With resources up to $25,000, $75;
4. With resources up to $50,000, $100;
5. With resources up to $75,000, $125;
6. With resources up to $100,000, $150;

7. With resources over $100,000 but less than $1,000,000, $150 plus $50 for each additional $100,000 or fractional part thereof;

8. With resources over $1,000,000 but less than $5,000,000, $600 plus $45 on each additional $100,000 or fractional part thereof;

9. With resources over $5,000,000, $2,400 plus $40 on each additional $100,000 or fractional part thereof.

(b) Fees collected under part I of this chapter shall be deposited in the state treasury in a special Bank and Trust Company Trust Fund under the Department of Banking and Finance, and the same are hereby appropriated to the department to be used in administering this chapter. The department shall from time to time formulate and promulgate reasonable rules and regulations governing the conduct of state credit unions doing business in this state.

657.061 Disclosure of credit union records.—

(1) All credit union charter applications filed with the department pursuant to chapter 657, including related information obtained or prepared by the department, shall be open to the public pursuant to chapter 119 and the rules of the department. However, the classes of records and information mentioned in subsection (3) shall be confidential and shall not be disclosed by the department or any of its officials, employees, or agents, except pursuant to an order of a court or a hearing officer under chapter 120, or legislative subpoena, as provided by law. Materials supplied to the department by other governmental agencies, federal or state, shall remain the property of the submitting agency and shall be made public only with the consent of such agency or pursuant to appropriate court order or legislative subpoena, as provided by law.

(2)(a) Orders of courts or of hearing officers for the production of confidential records and information shall provide for in camera inspection by the court or the hearing officer and shall be subject to further orders by the court or the hearing officer to protect the confidentiality thereof, except to the extent deemed necessary by the court or the hearing officer to protect the interests of all parties and affected persons or the soundness of individual credit unions or the credit union movement. However, any such order directing the release of information relating to the soundness of individual credit unions or the credit union movement shall be immediately reviewable. A petition filed by the department for review of such order directing the release of information relating to the soundness of individual credit unions or the credit union movement shall automatically stay further proceedings in the trial court or the administrative hearing until the disposition of said petition by the reviewing court; if any other party files such a petition for review, it shall operate as a stay of such proceedings only upon order of the reviewing court.

(b) Confidential records and information furnished in compliance with or in response to a legislative subpoena shall be confidential communications and shall retain their confidential status while in the possession of any legislative body or committee receiving the same and shall not be made public, and such confidential status shall continue after the legislative body or committee has returned such records and information to the department or other source from which they came. No member of the Legislature or member of the legislative body or committee, or any employee thereof, or any other person shall disclose or make public any of the information found in such records and information furnished in compliance with, or in response to, any such subpoena, except in cases involving investigation or charges against an officer subject to impeachment, and then only to the extent determined by the legislative body or committee to be necessary.

(3) The following records and information of the department are confidential, except such portions thereof which are otherwise matters of public record or general public knowledge:

(a) Personal financial statements or information; personnel, medical, or similar records or information; records or information obtained or prepared by the department with reference to the character or reputation of any person; transaction and application records of a person's share, deposit, or loan accounts; and any record or information which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

(b) Investigatory records compiled for civil or criminal law enforcement purposes, including investigatory records relating to the process of involuntary liquidation under s. 657.20(2), but only to the extent that the disclosure of such records would:

1. Interfere with enforcement proceedings;
2. Deprive a person or an institution of a right to a fair trial or an impartial adjudication;
3. Tend to impair the safety or soundness of any credit union;
4. Constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy;
5. Disclose the identity of a confidential source, or, in the case of a record compiled by a criminal law enforcement authority in the course of a criminal investigation, confidential information furnished only by the confidential source;
6. Disclose investigative techniques or procedures; or
7. Endanger the life or physical safety of law enforcement or department personnel.

(c) Reports of examination or operation and records, or a portion thereof, containing or relating to an examination, operation, or condition report prepared by, or on behalf of or for the use of, the department or any other agency, state or federal, responsible for the regulation or supervision of credit unions, relating to the affairs of any credit union. Reports of examination and operation prepared by, or on behalf of or for the use of, the department shall be the property of the department, but copies thereof may be furnished to the credit union examined for its confidential use. No credit union director, officer, committee members, or employee or any other person, shall disclose in any manner such report or any portion thereof, except such portions thereof which are otherwise matters of public record or general public knowledge, to any person or organization not officially connected with the credit union as an officer, director, committee member, employee, attorney, auditor, or independent auditor.

(4) This section shall not prevent or restrict:

(a) The publication of reports required to be submitted to the department by s. 657.06(1), or required to be published by applicable federal statutes or regulations.

(b) The furnishing of records or information to any federal agency responsible for the regulation, supervision, or insuring of credit unions.

(c) The disclosure or publication of summaries of condition of the financial institutions and the disclosure or publication of general economic and similar statistics and data, provided any of the foregoing are in such form that the identity of particular financial institutions cannot reasonably be expected to be ascertained therefrom.

(d) The reporting of any suspected criminal activity to appropriate law enforcement agencies.

(5) Every credit union shall cause to be kept, at all times, full and correct records of the names and residences of all the members of the credit union, in the principal office where its business is transacted. Such records shall be subject to the inspection of all the members of the credit union and the officers authorized to assess taxes under state authority, during business hours of each business day. A current list of members shall be made available to the department's examiners for their inspection and, upon the request of the department, shall be transmitted to the department, but the department shall not disclose or make public said list or any part thereof.

(6) Willful violation of any of the provisions of this section relating to an unlawful disclosure of confidential information is a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

(7) Reports of examinations, investigations, and related information of existing credit unions made by the department, or photographic copies thereof, shall be retained for a period of at least 10 years.

(8) A copy of any document on file with the department which is certified by the department as being a true copy may be introduced in evidence as if it were the original. The department shall establish a schedule of fees for preparing copies of documents.

(9) The department shall have the authority to adopt rules pursuant to this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-156; s. 254, ch. 79-400.

657.07 Fiscal year; meetings.—The financial year of all credit unions shall end December 31. Special meetings may be held in the manner indicated in the bylaws. At all meetings a member shall have but a single vote whatever his share holdings. There shall be no voting by proxy, and a member other than a natural person shall cast a single vote through a delegated agent. Any amendment to the bylaws of a credit union shall be approved by the department before such amendment shall be effective.

History.—s. 7, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(7); s. 2, ch. 20312, 1941; s. 3, ch. 67-186; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.08 Board of directors and committees.—

At the annual meeting (the organization meeting shall be the first annual meeting) the credit union shall elect a board of directors of not less than five members, a credit committee of not less than three members and a supervisory committee of three members, all to hold office for such terms respectively as the bylaws provide and until successors qualify. However, the board of directors may appoint the credit committee if authorized by the bylaws of the credit union. A record of the names and addresses of the members of the board and committees and the officers shall be filed with the department within 10 days of their election.

History.—s. 8, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(8); ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 71-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.09 Election of officers; duties of directors.—

At their first meeting the directors shall elect from their own number a president, vice president, treasurer and clerk, of whom the last two named may be the same individual. The directors shall have general management of the affairs of the credit union, particularly:

(1) To act upon all applications for membership, except to the extent that it may have authorized the approval of such applications by an executive committee or by a membership officer.

(2) To determine interest rates on loans and on deposits.

(3) To fix the amount of the surety bond which shall be required of all officers, directors, committeemen and employees handling or having access to money, bank accounts or securities owned by or pledged with the credit union, or having power to disburse, or, power to authorize disbursement of funds of the credit union; such bond for each such officer, director, committeeman and employee, or blanket bond for all such officers, directors, committeemen and employees, shall not be less than that shown in the following schedule, based upon the assets of the credit union:

With assets up to $	5,000	bond of $	1,000
" " " "	10,000	" "	2,000
" " " "	20,000	" "	4,000
" " " "	35,000	" "	7,000
" " " "	50,000	" "	10,000
" " " "	75,000	" "	15,000
" " " "	100,000	" "	20,000
" " " "	150,000	" "	30,000
" " " "	200,000	" "	40,000
with assets up to $	300,000	bond of $	60,000
" " " "	500,000	" "	80,000
" " " "	750,000	" "	90,000
" " " "	1,000,000	" "	100,000
" " " over 1,000,000		" "	100,000

plus $5,000 for each additional $100,000 of assets.

(4) To declare dividends, as provided under s. 657.18.

(5) To fill vacancies in the board and in the credit committee until successors are chosen and qualify.

(6) To determine the maximum individual share holdings and the maximum individual loan which can be made with and without security.

(7) To have charge of investments other than loans to members.

(8) To appoint an executive committee of not less than three directors to act for it in the purchase and sale of securities or the making of loans to other credit unions, or both.

The duties of the officers shall be as determined in the bylaws, except that the treasurer shall be the general manager. No member of the board or of either committee shall, as such, be compensated.

History.—s. 9, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(9); s. 2, ch. 28232, 1953; s. 3, ch. 29739, 1955; s. 4, ch. 59-56; ss. 2, 3, ch. 63-289; s. 4, ch. 67-186; s. 3, ch. 75-171; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.10 Credit committee.

(1) The credit committee shall have the general supervision of all loans to members. Applications for loans shall be on a form prepared by the credit committee, and all applications shall set forth the purpose for which the loan is desired, the security, if any, offered, and such other data as may be required. Within the meaning of this section an assignment of shares or deposits or the endorsement of a note may be deemed security. At least a majority of the members of the credit committee shall pass on all loans and approval must be unanimous. The credit committee shall meet as often as may be necessary after due notice to each member.

(2) The credit committee may appoint one or more loan officers and delegate to them the power to approve loans. Each loan officer shall furnish the credit committee a record of each loan approved or not approved within 7 days after the filing of the application therefor. All loans not acted upon by the loan officer shall be acted upon by the credit committee. No individual shall have authority to disburse funds of the credit union for any loan which has been approved by him in his capacity as a loan officer. Not more than one member of the credit committee may be appointed a loan officer.

History.—s. 10, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(10); s. 4, ch. 63-289; s. 1, ch. 73-22; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.11 Supervisory committee.

(1) The supervisory committee shall:

(a) Make an examination of the affairs of the credit union at least quarterly, including an audit of its books and, in the event said committee feels such action to be necessary, it shall call the members together thereafter and submit to them its report.

(b) Make an annual audit and report and submit the same at the annual meeting of the members; such audits shall include verification of accounts of members from time to time and not less than every 2 years.

(c) By unanimous vote, if it deem such action to be necessary to the proper conduct of the credit union, suspend any officer, director or member of the committee and call the members together to act on such suspension. The members at said meeting may sustain such suspension and remove such officer permanently or may reinstate said officer.

(2) By majority vote the supervisory committee may call a special meeting of the members to consider any matter submitted to it by said committee. The said committee shall fill vacancies in its own membership.

History.—s. 11, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(11); s. 5, ch. 63-289; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.12 Capital.—The capital of a credit union shall consist of the payments that have been made to it by several members thereof on shares. The credit union shall have a lien on the shares and deposits of a member for any sum due to the credit union from said member or for any loan endorsed by him. A credit union may charge an entrance fee as may be provided by the bylaws.

History.—s. 12, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(12); s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.13 Minors.—Shares may be issued and deposits received in the name of a minor or in trust in such manner as the bylaws may provide. The name of the beneficiary must be disclosed to the credit union.

History.—s. 13, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(13); s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.14 Interest rates.—Interest rates on loans made by a credit union shall not exceed 1.5 percent a month on unpaid balances.

History.—s. 14, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(14); s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 8, ch. 79-274.

657.15 Borrowing power.—A credit union may borrow from any source in total a sum not exceeding 50 percent of its unimpaired capital.

History.—s. 15, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(15); s. 4, ch. 29737, 1955; s. 6, ch. 63-289; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.16 Loans.—A credit union may loan to members, subject to the conditions contained in the bylaws. Loans may be secured by a first or a second mortgage on real property. A borrower may repay his loan in whole or in part any day the office of the credit union is open for business. A director, officer, or committeeman may borrow from the credit union in which he holds office, provided the combined loans to all directors, officers, and committeemen, except share loans, shall not exceed 10 percent of the capital and deposits of the credit union, and provided, further, that all loans to directors, officers, and committeemen (except share loans) must be approved by the credit committee and the board of directors without said director, officer, or committeeman having a vote on his loan. No directors, officers, or committeemen may be comakers or endorsers on loans obtained from the credit union in which they hold office. The department shall have the authority to adopt rules pursuant to this section. Such rules shall be designed to promote and preserve the liquidity and soundness of the credit union.

History.—s. 16, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(16); s. 7, ch. 63-289; s. 1, ch. 69-30; s. 4, ch. 75-171; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-151; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§657.161 Investments.—A credit union, after taking care of the provident and productive borrowing needs of its members, may invest its surplus funds in only the following:

(1)(a) Obligations of the United States, including bonds and securities upon which payment of principal and interest is fully guaranteed by the United States;

(b) In loans to other credit unions in the state provided that no such loan may exceed 25 percent of the unimpaired capital of the lending credit union nor be made for a period in excess of 1 year.

(2) General obligations of states and general obligations of counties, municipalities or county road, school, hospital and other public purpose districts of the state; provided, that such securities shall not be eligible for investment if they have been in default either as to principal or interest within 5 years prior to date of purchase.

(3) First mortgage bonds of railroad and public service corporations; provided, that the investment in bonds of any such corporations shall not exceed $15,000, or 1 percent of the assets of the credit union, whichever is greater; and provided further that such securities shall not be eligible for investment if they have been in default either as to principal or interest within 5 years prior to date of purchase.

(4) Shares of building and loan associations, savings and loan associations and other credit unions; provided that the investment in any credit union shall not exceed $15,000 or 1 percent of the assets of the credit union, whichever is greater, and that the aggregate of all such investments shall not exceed 25 percent of the unimpaired capital of the investing credit union.

(5) Real estate and improvements thereon that may be required for its accommodation in the transaction of its business; provided, that before any such investment is made, the proposal to make it shall be submitted to the Department of Banking and Finance and its approval obtained and, provided further that it shall not grant such approval until it is satisfied that the proposed investment is necessary, that the amount thereof is commensurate with the size and needs of the credit union, and that it will be beneficial to the members.

(6) Furniture, fixtures, and equipment that may be required in the transaction of its business.

(7) With the approval of the department, credit unions may invest in corporation bonds with a fixed maturity of any corporation within the United States if such bonds are rated by at least two nationally recognized rating services in any one of the three highest classifications approved by the department of the currency for the investment of the funds of national banks; provided, however, that if only one nationally recognized rating service shall rate such obligations, then such rating service must have rated such obligations in any one of the two highest classifications heretofore mentioned. Not more than 10 percent of the total assets of the credit union shall be so invested, and not more than $15,000 or 1 percent of the total assets of the credit union, whichever is greater, shall be invested in any one corporation's bonds.

(8) A credit union may invest in securities, obligations, participations, or other instruments of, issued by, or fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the United States Government or any agency thereof or any trust or trusts established for investing directly or collectively in the same.

(9) Certificates of deposit or time deposits of other credit unions, state and national banks, and savings and loan associations.

(10) Capital stock of credit union services corporations in an amount not to exceed 3 percent of their unimpaired capital and surplus. For the purposes of this subsection, "credit union services corporation" means a corporation organized to perform only business administration services for two or more credit unions, at least one of which is subject to supervision by the department.

(11) The assets of liquidating credit unions within the state.

(12) Shares and other savings accounts of the United States Central Credit Union and the Southeast Corporate Federal Credit Union.

§657.17 Reserves.—

(1) All entrance fees (which may be provided by the bylaws), and, each year, before the declaration of a dividend, but after an interest refund, if any, is declared, 20 percent of the net earnings, shall be set aside as a reserve fund, which reservation of earnings shall continue until the reserve fund equals $3,000. After the reserve has reached $3,000 the credit union shall continue each year, before the declaration of a dividend, but after an interest refund, if any, is declared, to place 10 percent of the net earnings in a reserve fund, which reservation of earnings shall continue until the reserve fund equals 10 percent of the total of the outstanding loans of the credit union.

(2) A credit union which purchases federal share insurance may elect to use the following reserve requirement. Immediately before the payment of each dividend, the gross earnings of the credit union shall be determined. From this amount there shall be set aside, as a regular reserve against losses on loans and against such other losses as may be specified in regulations prescribed under this chapter, sums in accordance with the following schedule: 10 percent of gross income until the regular reserve shall equal 7.5 percent of the total of outstanding loans and risk assets, then 5 percent of gross income until the regular reserve shall equal 10 percent of the total of outstanding loans and risk assets. Whenever the regular reserve falls below 10 percent or 7.5 percent of the total of outstanding loans and risk assets, as the case may be, it shall be replenished by regular contributions in such amounts as may be needed to maintain the reserve goals of 7.5 percent or 10 percent.

(3) Moneys acquired through the building up of this reserve fund may be invested under the terms of s. 657.04. The reserve fund herein provided for shall be held by the corporation as a reserve against bad debts of any nature owing to it; and said fund shall not be distributed or reduced except in cases of liquidation of the credit union or for the charging out of bad debts, and any such charge to this account must be first approved by the board of directors.

History.—s. 17, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(17); s. 3, ch. 20312, 1941; s. 3, ch. 28232, 1953; s. 3, ch. 69-30; s. 4, ch. 71-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.18 Dividends.—The directors of a credit union, after provision has been made for transfers to the reserve fund in accordance with the provisions of s. 657.17, may declare a dividend from undivided earnings not to exceed 7.5 percent per annum, which dividend shall be paid on all shares outstanding at the end of the period covered by such dividend. Shares which become fully paid up during the period covered by such dividend shall be entitled to a proportional part of such dividend, calculated from the first day of the month following such payments in full, or, if the bylaws so provide, dividends may be calculated from the first day of the month during which they are paid in full on or before the 10th of such month.

History.—s. 18, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(18); s. 4, ch. 28232, 1953; s. 6, ch. 29739, 1955; s. 2, ch. 57-346; s. 4, ch. 69-30; s. 2, ch. 71-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.19 Expulsion; withdrawal.—A member may be expelled by a two-thirds' vote of the members present at a special meeting called to consider the matter but only after a hearing. Any member may withdraw from the credit union at any time, but notice of withdrawal may be required. All amounts paid on shares or as deposits of an expelled or withdrawing member, with any dividends or interest accredited thereto, to the date thereof, shall, as funds become available and after deducting all amounts due from the member to the credit union, be paid to him. If funds are not then available, sums due expelled or withdrawing member shall be paid in the order filed out of one-half of receipts. The credit union may require 60 days' notice of intention to withdraw shares and 30 days' notice of intention to withdraw deposits. Withdrawing or expelled members shall have no further rights in the credit union but are not, by such expulsion or withdrawal, released from any remaining liability to the credit union.

History.—s. 19, ch. 14499, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 6494(19); s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.20 Dissolution.—A credit union established and operating under the provision of this chapter may be dissolved in one of the following ways:

(1) VOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION.—The process of voluntary liquidation shall be as follows:

(a) Approval of liquidation.—A state credit union may go into voluntary liquidation by a vote in favor of such liquidation by a majority of the members of the credit union in attendance at a regular meeting of the members, or at a special meeting called for that purpose. Where authorization for liquidation is to be obtained at a meeting of members, notice in writing shall be given to each member at least 7 days before such meeting, and the minutes of the meeting shall show the number of members present and the number that voted for and against liquidation.

(b) Notice of liquidation to department.—Within 10 days after the decision of the board of directors to submit the question of liquidation to the members, the president shall notify the department thereof in writing, setting forth in detail the reasons for the proposed action. Within 10 days after the action of the members on the question of liquidation, the president shall notify the department in writing as to whether or not a majority of the members approved the proposed liquidation.

(c) Transaction of business during liquidation.—Immediately on decision by the board of directors of a state credit union to seek approval of the members for liquidation, payments on shares, withdrawal of shares (including any transfer of shares to loans and interest), making investments of any kind, and granting of loans shall be suspended, pending action by members on the proposal to liquidate. On approval by a majority of the members of such proposal, payments on shares, withdrawal of shares (including any transfer of shares to loans and interest), making investments of any kind except with the approval of the department, and the making of loans shall be permanently discontinued. Necessary expenses of operation shall, however, continue to be paid on authorization by the board of directors or liquidating agent during the period of the liquidation.

(d) Notice of liquidation to members.—Immediately on decision by the board of directors, a notice of such decision shall be handed to each member or mailed to his last-known address together with a request that the member furnish his passbook or confirm in writing the shares held by him in the state credit union and the loans owed by him to the credit union.

(e) Notice of liquidation to creditors.—On approval of a majority of the members of a state credit union of a proposal to liquidate, the board of directors of the state credit union shall immediately have prepared and mailed to all creditors a notice of liquidation containing instructions to them to present their claims to the state credit union within 90 days for payment.

(f) Report at commencement of liquidation.—At the commencement of voluntary liquidation of a state credit union, the treasurer or agent conducting the liquidation shall file with the department a financial and statistical report, and a schedule showing the name, book number, share balance, and loan balance of each member.

(g) Reports during period of liquidation.—State credit unions in the process of voluntary liquidation shall file with the department a financial and statistical report as of December 31 within 10 days after such date. Additional reports, as determined by the department to be necessary, shall be furnished promptly on written request.

(h) Examinations of state credit unions in voluntary liquidation.—When deemed advisable by the department, an examination of the books and records of a state credit union may be made prior to, during, or following completion of voluntary liquidation. The fee for each such examination shall be waived by the department.

(i) Responsibility for conduct of voluntary liquidation.—The board of directors of a state credit union in voluntary liquidation shall be responsible for conserving the assets, for expediting the liquidation, and for equitably distributing the assets to members. The board of directors shall determine that all persons handling or having access to funds of the state credit union are adequately covered by surety bond. The board of directors shall appoint a custodian for the state credit union's records that are to be retained for 5 years after the charter is canceled. The board of directors may appoint a liquidating agent and delegate part or all of these responsibilities to him and may authorize reasonable compensation for his services. Any such liquidating agent shall be bonded for faithful performance of his duties.

(j) Partial distribution.—Upon the request of the board of directors or liquidating agent and with written approval of the department, a partial distribution of the credit union's assets may be made to its members from cash funds available.

(k) Completion of liquidation.—When all assets of the state credit union have been converted to cash or found to be worthless and all loans and debts owing to it have been collected or found to be uncollectible and all obligations of the state credit union have been paid, with the exception of amounts due its members, the books shall be closed and the pro rata distribution to members computed. The amount of gain or loss shall be entered in each member's share account and should be entered in his passbook or statement of account.

(l) Distribution of assets.—Promptly after the pro rata distribution to members has been computed, checks shall be drawn for the amounts to be distributed to each member who has surrendered his passbook or has given a written confirmation of his balance. The checks shall be mailed to such members at their last known address or handed to them in person. The passbooks or written confirmations submitted by members to verify balances shall be retained with the credit union records. The department shall be notified promptly of the date final distribution of assets to the members is started. Unclaimed share accounts which have been dormant for the period which makes them subject to the escheat or abandoned property laws of the state, shall be paid to the state as required by such laws.

(m) Final report.—Within 120 days after the final distribution to members is started, the state credit union shall furnish to the department's office the following:

1. A schedule, on an official form, of unpaid claims, if any, due members who failed to surrender their passbooks or confirm their balances in writing during liquidation whose share accounts are not payable to the state under applicable escheat or abandoned property laws and of unpaid claims, if any, due members or creditors who failed to cash final distribution checks within the said 120 days. This schedule shall be accompanied by a certified check or money order payable to the department in the exact amount of the total of these unpaid claims. The department shall deposit said funds in a special account with the state treasury where they will be held for the account of the individuals named on said schedule. Each such individual, or any authorized person on his behalf, may submit to the department a written claim for the amount of such funds held for him.

2. A schedule, on an official form, showing the name, book number, share balance at the commencement of liquidation, pro rata share of gain or loss, and amount of each unclaimed share account paid to the state under applicable escheat or abandoned property laws. The check number and date of payment to the state should be included in the schedule.

3. A schedule, on an official form, showing the name, book number, share balance at the commencement of liquidation, pro rata share of gain or loss, and amount distributed to each member.

4. A summary report on liquidation in duplicate, on an official form.

5. The certificate of dissolution and liquidation, on an official form, signed under oath by the board of directors or agent who conducted the liquidation and made the final distribution of assets to the members.

6. The name and address of the custodian of the state credit union's records.

7. The charter of the state credit union.

(n) Retention of records.—All records of the liquidated credit union necessary to establish that creditors were paid and that members' share holdings were equitably distributed shall be retained by a custodian appointed by the department, for a period of 5 years following the date of cancellation of the charter.

(o) Cancellation of charter.—On proof that distribution of assets has been made to members and within 1 year after receipt of the certificate of dissolution and liquidation, the department shall cancel the charter of the state credit union concerned.

(2) INVOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION.—The process of involuntary liquidation shall be as follows:

(a) Basis for suspension or revocation of charter and involuntary liquidation.—The charter of any state credit union may be suspended or revoked, the state credit union placed in involuntary liquidation, and a liquidating agent therefor appointed, upon the finding by the department that the organization is bankrupt or insolvent or has violated any provisions of its charter, its bylaws, or any regulation issued by the department or that such suspension or revocation and liquidation is in the best interests of the membership of the state credit union concerned.

(b) Immediate suspension or liquidation.—In any case when the department shall find that a state credit union is insolvent or that the interests of its members require immediate action, the department may order the suspension or revocation of the charter and the involuntary liquidation of the state credit union and the appointment of a liquidating agent therefor, without prior notice to the state credit union of such action.

(c) Involuntary liquidation and appointment of liquidating agent.—On receipt of a copy of the order placing the state credit union in involuntary liquidation, the officers and directors of the state credit union concerned shall deliver to the liquidating agent possession and control of all books, records, assets, and property of every description of the state credit union, and the liquidating agent shall proceed to convert said assets to cash, collect all debts due to said state credit union, and to wind up its affairs in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and the instructions and procedures issued to said liquidating agent by the department.

(d) Cancellation of charter.—On the completion of the liquidation and certification by the liquidating agent that the distribution of the assets of the state credit union has been completed, the department shall cancel the charter of the state credit union concerned.

§657.22 Destruction of certain credit union records.—

(1) Credit unions shall preserve the following records, if used, or files or photographic or microphotographic copies thereof, for a period of not less than 5 years next after January 1 of the year following the time of making or filing of such records or files:

- (a) Cash-received voucher.
- (b) Balance sheet and statement of income and expense.
- (c) General ledger.
- (d) Individual share and loan ledger.
- (e) Journal and cash record.
- (f) Bank reconciliation.
- (g) Dividend record.
- (h) Expense record.

Except that ledger sheets or photographic or microphotographic copies of such ledger sheets shall not be destroyed and shall be retained in an accessible location.

(2) No liability shall accrue against any credit union destroying any such records after the expiration of the period provided in subsection (1), and in any cause or proceedings in which any such records or files may be called in question or be demanded of the credit union or an employee thereof, a showing that such records or files have been destroyed in accordance with the terms of this section shall be a sufficient excuse for the failure to produce them.

(3) Any credit union may photograph, microphotograph, or reproduce on film, in such manner that each page is exposed in its entirety, any of its journals, ledgers, statements, account books, other books, or internal records of every description, made or received in the regular course of its business, and the photographs, microphotographs, or reproductions on film in the form of film, prints, enlarged prints, or any duly certified or authenticated copy or reproduction thereof, duly certified or authenticated by a responsible officer of the credit union under whose supervision the records are kept, shall, in all cases and in all courts and places, be admitted and received as evidence with a like force and effect as the original general ledger, voucher, statement, account book, or other record.

(4) This section shall, so far as applicable, apply to the records of federal credit unions operating in this state.

History.—s. 5, ch. 28232, 1953; s. 6, ch. 69-30; s. 1, ch. 74-40; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§657.23 Conversion of credit unions from state to federal and vice versa.—Any state-chartered credit union operating in the state may convert into a federal-chartered credit union and any federal-chartered credit union may convert into a state-chartered credit union upon approval of the authority under whose supervision the converted credit union will operate and upon compliance with applicable federal laws as to a converted federal credit union, and upon compliance with applicable state laws as to a converted state credit union. The procedure for obtaining such approval and effecting the conversion shall be as follows:

(1) A meeting of the board of directors, either regular or special, shall be called for the purpose of voting on converting from a federal credit union to a state credit union, or from a state credit union to a federal credit union. A majority of the board of directors shall adopt a resolution approving the contemplated conversion.

(2) A meeting, either regular or special, of the shareholders shall then be called for voting on the proposed conversion. Notice of said meeting shall be given in the manner prescribed in the bylaws, and it shall be given not more than 30 days nor less than 10 days prior to the date of the meeting. Proof of giving of the notice shall be by the affidavit of the president of the credit union. A majority of the members present at this meeting shall then approve the proposed conversion.

(3) The credit union shall then obtain, in writing, the approval of a majority of the shareholders on record as of the date of the resolution by the board of directors.

(4) Within 10 days after the approval of the conversion by the majority of the shareholders, as provided in subsection (3), the president or vice president and treasurer shall file a verified copy of the resolution adopted by the board of directors with the state or federal authority, under whose supervision the converting credit union is to operate.

(5) Upon the filing of the articles of incorporation with the proper state or federal authorities; and with the written approval of the state authorities for credit unions applying for conversion to state credit unions; and with the written approval of the federal authorities for credit unions applying for conversion to federal credit unions, the converting credit union shall, upon compliance with all other applicable state or federal laws, become a credit union under the laws of this state or the United States, as the case may be; and thereupon all assets shall become the property of the new state or federal credit union, as the case may be, subject to all existing liabilities against the credit union, and every person who was a shareholder, or member of the converting credit union, shall be a shareholder in the new state or federal chartered credit union in like amount.

(6) In consummation of the conversion, the old credit union may execute, acknowledge and deliver to the newly chartered credit union, instruments of transfer necessary to accomplish the transfer of any property and all right, title or interest therein.

History.—s. 1, ch. 57-413; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.24 Rental of office space in government-owned buildings.—Any credit union organized under state law, or any federal credit union organized under federal law, the members of which are presently, or were, at the time of admission into the credit union, employees of the state or a political subdivision thereof, or members of the immediate families of such employees, residing in the same households, may apply for space in any building owned or leased by the state or respective political subdivision in the community or district in which the credit union does business. The application shall be addressed to the officer charged with the allotment of space in such building. If space is available, the officer may, in his own discretion, allot space to the credit union at a reasonable charge for rent or services. If the public board having jurisdiction over the building determines by official action that the services rendered by the credit union to the employees of the board are equivalent to a reasonable charge for rent or services, available space may be allotted to the credit union without charge for rent or services. The officer charged with the allotment of space in such building shall report annually any space allocated pursuant to this section and the charge made for rent or services to the auditor general on a form prescribed by the auditor general.

657.245 Central credit unions; definition.—A central credit union shall be chartered primarily to serve elected officials and employees of credit unions, associations and organizations serving credit unions, individuals within the common bond of a liquidating credit union within this state, and select groups with a common bond of employment of not more than 250 employees and not less than 7 employees, provided they are approved by the board of directors of the central credit union and reviewed by the department. Common bond groups that exceed 250 employees shall not be taken into the field of membership of a central credit union unless they are approved by both the department and the board of directors of the central credit union. Central credit unions that now exist, or that may be chartered in the future, shall use the word "central" in their name.

History.—s. 6, ch. 75-171; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.246 Powers of central credit unions.—A central credit union shall have all the rights and powers of any credit union chartered within the state and such incidental powers and rights as deemed necessary or requisite to enable it to carry out effectively the business for which it is incorporated, pursuant to rules promulgated by the department.

History.—s. 7, ch. 75-171; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.25 Title.—This part shall be known and may be cited as the "Florida Credit Union Guaranty Corporation Act."

History.—s. 1, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 1, ch. 78-123.

657.251 Purposes.—The purposes of this part are to:

(1) Provide a mechanism whereby the shares and deposits of any member of a member credit union shall be protected or guaranteed up to amounts which are established by the corporation and to avoid excessive delay in payment of such shares and deposits.

(2) Avoid financial loss to members of credit unions because of the insolvency or liquidation of a member credit union.

(3) Assist in the detection and prevention of credit union insolvencies or liquidations.

(4) Provide for a corporation to administer, implement, and supervise the plan of operation provided for under this part.

(5) Provide for the equitable apportionment among member credit unions and to assess the cost of such protection.

History.—s. 2, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 2, ch. 78-123.

657.252 Scope; construction.—This act shall apply to all credit unions chartered and existing under the laws of this state, except as specifically exempted herein, and shall be liberally construed to accomplish the purposes set forth in s. 657.251, which shall constitute an aid and guide to interpretation.

History.—ss. 3, 4, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.253 Definitions.—As used in this part:

(1) "Account" means any account of any member of a member credit union into which are deposited shares or deposits of that member.

(2) "Corporation" means the Florida Credit Union Guaranty Corporation, Inc.

(3) "Department" means the Department of Banking and Finance.

(4) "Covered claim" means any unpaid shares or deposits of a member of a member credit union not in excess of the applicable amounts to which this act applies, as established by the plan of operation of the corporation, if such credit union becomes insolvent and goes into voluntary liquidation or is placed in involuntary liquidation by order of the department after January 1, 1975.

(5) "Insolvent credit union" means a member credit union which has become insolvent and has gone into voluntary liquidation, or which has been placed in involuntary liquidation by order of the department. "Insolvent" means that all the assets of the credit union, if made immediately available or if made available within a reasonable time, would not be sufficient to discharge all the liabilities, shares, or deposits or that the credit union is unable to pay its debts as they become due in the ordinary course of business.

(6) "Member credit union" means any credit union authorized and chartered under the laws of this state, except those state-chartered credit unions whose accounts are insured by share-insurance provided through the National Credit Union Administration on January 1, 1975. Such excepted credit unions shall not be deemed to be "member credit unions" hereunder so long as they maintain such share-insurance in full force and effect.

(7) "Shares and deposit capital" means the aggregate total of shares and deposits held by the member credit union as of December 31 of the preceding year.

History.—s. 5, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 3, ch. 78-123.

657.254 Creation of the corporation.—The original enactment of part II of chapter 657 as set forth in chapter 74-183, Laws of Florida, created a corporation to be known as the Florida Credit Union Guaranty Corporation, Inc. The corporation shall perform its functions under a plan of operation established and approved under this part and shall exercise its powers through a board of directors established under this part. Said corporation shall have all of those powers granted or permitted corporations for profit, as provided in chapter 607 and as provided under this act.

History.—s. 6, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 4, ch. 78-123.

657.256 Board of directors.—

(1) The board of directors of the corporation shall consist of not less than five or more than nine persons serving terms as established in the plan of operation. The number of persons comprising the board of directors shall be fixed by the board of directors as established in the plan of operation.

(2) Vacancies created by expiration of a term of office shall be filled by annual election of the member credit unions. The election shall be in the manner provided by the plan of operation and may be by ballot at an annual meeting or by mail ballot. The annual meeting of the corporation shall be held each year at a time and place fixed by the board of directors in accordance with the plan of operation, and each term of office shall commence immediately following the annual meeting. Vacancies occurring during a term of office shall be filled for the remaining period of the term by election by a majority of the remaining directors.

(3) In order to be eligible for appointment or selection to the board of directors and for continuing service as a director, a person must have served for at least 2 years as an officer or in a managerial position of a member credit union and must meet such other criteria and qualifications as established in the plan of operation.

(4) Members of the board may be reimbursed from the assets of the corporation for reasonable and necessary expenses incurred by them as members of the board of directors, but no members of the board shall be compensated for their services.

(5) All corporate powers shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation shall be managed under the direction of, the board of directors.

(6) The board of directors may elect such officers as the board may determine to be necessary. Officers need not be members of the board.

History.—s. 8, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 5, ch. 78-123.

657.257 Membership and eligibility provision.—

(1) Every member credit union shall maintain membership in the corporation and shall maintain a guaranty certificate issued by the corporation. All state-chartered credit unions, which are organized or converted to a state-chartered credit union after the effective date of this act, and those state-chartered credit unions presently exempt who terminate the maintenance of the share-insurance through the National Credit Union Administration, shall apply for membership in the corporation on forms prescribed by the corporation.

(a) With respect to applications from newly organized credit unions, the corporation shall review the application and within 30 days after receiving the application, notify the department of the recommendation by the corporation with respect to conformity of the application with the requirements of part I of this chapter, adoption of lending, savings, investment, and management policies and practices consistent with this act and establishment of qualified management and operation personnel. Such action by the corporation will be advisory to the department.

(b) With respect to applications from any other credit union, the corporation, before approving the application for guarantee of its accounts, shall consider:

1. The history, financial condition, and lending, savings, investment, and management policies and practices of the applicant.

2. The economic advisability of guaranteeing the applicant's accounts without undue risk to the corporation.

3. Such other reasonable standards and qualifications not inconsistent with this act as may be established by the corporation and set forth in the plan of operation.

(c) The corporation shall either approve or disapprove the application of any credit union within 90 days of receipt of a completed application for membership.

(2) Upon the approval of any application for membership, the corporation shall notify the department and the applicant and, upon issuance of a certificate of organization by the department, shall issue to the applicant a guaranty certificate evidencing the fact that it is, as of the date of issuance of the certificate, a member credit union under the provisions of this part.

(3) The corporation shall disapprove the application of any credit union for guarantee of its account if it finds that the credit union's reserves are inadequate, that its financial condition and policies are unsafe or unsound, or that the guarantee of its accounts would otherwise involve undue risk to the corporation.

(4) The guaranty certificate issued by the corporation shall evidence the undertaking by the corporation to guarantee accounts of member credit unions to the extent of covered claims subject to such terms and conditions as the board of directors may from time to time prescribe. Guaranty certificates may be regular or provisional.

(a) Provisional guaranty certificates shall be issued for a period determined by the board of directors, but not less than 6 months nor more than 2 years. A provisional certificate may be renewed for an additional period not to exceed 12 months. There may be only one such renewal period.

(b) A regular guaranty certificate shall be issued for a continuing and indefinite period.

(c) The board of directors may cancel any certificate if the board of directors finds that there has been a deterioration since the issuance of the guaranty certificate in the financial condition, adequacy of reserves, application of financial and loan policies, or extent of delinquencies of the member credit union. In the event of cancellation of a regular guaranty certificate, the corporation shall issue to such member credit union a provisional guaranty certificate unless, at the time of such cancellation, the credit union is insolvent and, in such event, the corporation may decline to issue a provisional guaranty certificate.

(5) If, during the term of a provisional certificate, including any renewal thereof, the member credit union fails to qualify for a regular guarantee of its accounts and full membership in the corporation, the corporation will notify the department stating, with particularity, the deficiency which prevents the issuance of the regular guaranty certificate, and, thereupon, the department shall institute proceedings to revoke the certificate of organization of such credit union.

History.—s. 9, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 6, ch. 78-123.

657.258 Powers and duties of the corporation; assessments.—

(1) The corporation shall, in addition to the powers and duties enumerated in other sections of this part:

(a) Be obligated to the extent of the covered claims existing as of the date that a member credit union adopts a resolution of voluntary liquidation, or as of the date the department enters the order that a member credit union be placed in involuntary liquidation, but such obligation shall include only that amount of each covered claim which is not greater than the maximum amount established by the corporation, which maximum amount shall in no event be less than $40,000.

(b) Be deemed the guarantor to the extent of its obligation on covered claims and, to such extent, shall have all of the rights, duties, and obligations of the insolvent credit union as if the credit union had not become insolvent.

(2) The corporation may:

(a) Employ or retain such persons as are necessary to handle claims and perform other duties of the corporation.

(b) Borrow funds necessary to effect the purposes of this act in accordance with the plan of operation.

(c) Sue or be sued.

(d) Negotiate, and become a party to, such contracts as are necessary to carry out the purposes of this act.

(e) Adopt, use, and display a corporate seal.

(f) Advance funds, with or without interest, in accordance with agreed terms and conditions to aid member credit unions to continue to operate and to maintain solvency or to maintain account balances with a financial institution in connection with the assumption of receivables from a member credit union, or to provide liquidity for payment of shares and deposits following a determination of voluntary or involuntary liquidation.

(g) Upon the written request of the department, assume control of the property, assets, and business of any member credit union and operate the credit union in accordance with the recommendations of the department. The corporation shall have all the powers, duties, and authorities of the board of directors of such credit union, specifically including the power and authority to elect or designate directors, officers, and committee members, who need not be members of the member credit union, to sell assets, and to terminate and employ personnel for the credit union.

(h) Assist in the merger, consolidation, or liquidation of member credit unions with written notice to the department. In the event of liquidation of a member credit union, whether voluntary or involuntary, the corporation may be designated as the liquidating agent and, as such, the corporation shall have all the duties, powers, and authorities of the board of directors of such liquidating credit union, specifically including, but not limited to, power and authority to elect and designate directors, officers, and committee members, who need not be members of the member credit union, to sell assets, and to terminate and employ personnel for the liquidating credit union. The corporation shall have the right and authority to participate in negotiations for any contemplated merger, consolidation, or liquidation of a member credit union and to approve the terms of any sales of assets in order to minimize potential loss which might result in a covered claim to be paid by the corporation.

(i) Receive money or other property from its member credit union or from any corporation, association, or person.

(j) Invest its funds in bonds, notes, securities, obligations, participations, or other instruments of, issued by, or fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the U.S. Government or any agencies thereof, or in any trust or trusts established for investing directly or collectively in the same, and in such other investments, other than investments in credit unions which are members of the corporation, as are deemed prudent by the directors, but these other investments shall not exceed 25 percent of the funds of the corporation.

(k) Purchase in its own name, hold, and convey property of any nature.

(1) Receive by assignment or purchase from its member credit unions any property of any nature owned by those member credit unions, including securities.

(m) Sell, assign, mortgage, encumber, or transfer property of any nature.

(n) Adopt and amend a plan of operation and bylaws for carrying out the purposes of this part.

(o) Purchase or acquire by assignment loans due and owing to credit unions, along with the right to receive payments thereon.

(p) Pay dividends to member credit unions.

(q) Have access to and make audit or examination of all records and information concerning the affairs of a member credit union.

(3) To obtain funds for the fulfillment of the purposes of the corporation, for the provision of reserves for the protection of potential claimants, and for the payment of costs of operating the corporation, the corporation shall be authorized and empowered to levy and collect from member credit unions fees and assessments as follows:

(a) The corporation shall levy and collect from each member credit union an initial membership fee in an amount equal to 0.5 percent of its guaranteed shares and deposits as of the date of application for membership.

(b) The corporation shall levy and collect from each member credit union an annual growth fee in an amount equal to 0.5 percent of the annual increase in its guaranteed shares and deposits as determined as of December 31 of each year.

(c) In addition to the fees set forth above, the corporation may levy and collect a uniform annual assessment from each member credit union in an amount to be determined by the board of directors not to exceed 0.05 percent of its guaranteed shares and deposits determined as of December 31 of the preceding year.

(d) In addition to the fees and annual assessment, the corporation, in the event of potential impairment of the corporation's capital assets, may levy and collect from the member credit unions uniform special assessments in amounts to be determined by the board of directors, subject to approval by the department. If the board of directors determines that a special assessment is necessary, then such determination shall be submitted in writing to the department, and the special assessment shall be approved, modified, or disapproved within 60 days after it is received by the department.

(e) The initial membership fee and the growth membership fee shall be considered as an investment of the member credit union in the corporation. Such investment shall not be transferable except to another member credit union as a result of a merger approved by the department; and, in such event, the amount of such investment which may be transferred to the acquiring credit union shall not exceed 0.5 percent of the guaranteed shares and deposits of the acquired member credit union as of the preceding December 31 or the date of merger, whichever amount is the lower. If a member credit union ceases to operate under a valid certificate of organization under part I, the corporation may refund to the withdrawing member an amount not to exceed 90 percent of the member's investment in the corporation; however, no refund shall be made to such withdrawing member unless it elects to convert and does convert to a federal credit union or unless the withdrawing member goes into voluntary liquidation, is not insolvent, and the corporation is not obligated in any manner for any loss, cost, expense, or claim arising out of the voluntary liquidation. In no event shall a withdrawing member be entitled to a refund of any portion of its investment under this section if the total assets of the corporation are less than 1 percent of the aggregate of all guaranteed shares and deposits of all member credit unions, excluding those of the members requesting such refund. Entitlement to any such refund shall be determined as of the date the withdrawing member converts to a federal credit union or the time when voluntary liquidation procedures have progressed to a state where final distribution in payment of shares and deposits is to be made to the members.

(f) Annual and special assessments hereunder shall be considered as an expense item of the member credit union on which no dividends will be payable and no portion of which will be refundable upon withdrawal from the corporation.

(g) All fees and assessments shall be paid in the manner established by the plan of operation.

(h) In the event the capital assets of the corporation fall below 0.5 percent of the total aggregate guaranteed shares and deposits of all member credit unions, the corporation may determine the proportionate amount of reduction of the investment of each member credit union, and this amount shall be treated as an expense item by the member credit union.

(i) Upon application, in writing, the corporation, for good cause shown, may exempt or defer any member credit union from an assessment if such assessment would result in such credit union being forced into insolvency, liquidation, or an unsound financial condition.

(j) No state funds of any kind shall be allocated or paid to the corporation.

(4) The corporation shall, upon proper verification, as provided by the plan of operation, reimburse a member credit union for necessary and proper expenses incurred by the member credit union in the investigation, adjustment, compromise, settlement, denial, or handling of covered claims at the request of the corporation.

History.—s. 10, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 7, ch. 78-123.

to that date.

1657.259 Plan of operation.—

(1) The corporation shall establish the plan of operation to assure the fair, reasonable, expeditious, and equitable administration of the corporation. The plan of operation, and any amendments thereto, shall be approved by the board of directors and submitted to the department. The plan of operation, and any amendments thereto, shall become effective upon approval in writing by the department, which shall approve or disapprove any proposal within 60 days after the proposal is received by the department.

(2) All member credit unions shall comply with the plan of operation, amendments thereto, and any rules adopted by the department under this part.

(3) The plan of operation shall:

(a) Require that every credit union authorized by certificate of organization by the department, excepting only those specifically exempted by statute, shall maintain membership in the corporation. Failure to meet the standards and qualifications of full membership within the terms of a provisional guaranty certificate shall constitute a ground for revocation of the certificate of organization by the department.

(b) Establish the procedure whereby all of the powers and duties of the corporation will be performed.

(c) Establish the procedures for handling assets of the corporation.

(d) Establish the amount and method of reimbursing members of the board of directors for reasonable and necessary expenses incurred by them as members of the board of directors.

(e) Establish procedures by which claims against insolvent credit unions, which are required to be filed with the receiver or liquidator, are to be referred to the corporation. No claim shall be filed with the corporation unless the same is properly filed with the liquidator. The liquidator shall periodically submit a list of all claims filed to the corporation for its consideration, approval, and payment.

(f) Establish the terms of office of members of the board of directors and the places and times for meetings of the board.

(g) Establish procedures for records to be kept of all financial transactions of the corporation and its agents and the board of directors.

(h) Contain any additional provisions necessary or proper for the execution of the powers, functions, and duties of the corporation consistent with this part.

History.—s. 11, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 7, ch. 78-95; s. 8, ch. 78-123.

1657.260 Duties and powers of the department.—

(1) The department shall:

(a) Notify the corporation not later than 3 days after the taking of action or the finding by the department that a member credit union is bankrupt or insolvent, or of the filing of a complaint against a member credit union or of the issuance of a cease and desist order against a member credit union, or of an order placing a member credit union in involuntary liquidation.

(b) Promptly notify the corporation of the existence of any material deviation from accepted and established practices, policies, and rules which may have an adverse effect on the financial condition of a member credit union.

(c) Designate and appoint the corporation as liquidating agent for any member credit union.

(d) Upon the request of the board of directors, provide the corporation, at not more than cost and at the corporation's expense, a copy of the most recent examination report by the department of each member credit union.

(2) The department may:

(a) Require that the corporation notify the individual members of the liquidating member credit union and any other interested parties of the determination of liquidation and of their rights and duties under this act. Such notification shall be by mail to their last known address, when available, but if sufficient information for notification by mail is not available, notice by publication at least one time in a newspaper of general circulation shall be sufficient.

(b) Suspend or revoke the certificate of organization or authority to transact business as a credit union in this state of any member credit union as defined by this act which fails:

1. To become a member of the corporation.
2. To pay an assessment when due.
3. Otherwise to comply with the plan of operation, with any rules promulgated by the department hereunder, or with this part.

As an alternative to suspension or revocation, the department may levy a delinquency charge on any member credit union which fails to pay an assessment when due. Such charge shall not exceed 5 percent of the unpaid assessment per month, except that no charge shall be less than $100 per month. All such delinquent charges levied and collected shall be deposited in the bank and trust company trust funds of the department.

(c) Revoke, terminate, or cancel the designation of any service or claims facility being utilized by the corporation, or of any liquidating agent or receiver, if it finds claims are being handled unsatisfactorily.

History.—s. 12, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-117; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 7, ch. 78-95; s. 9, ch. 78-123.

§657.261 Effect of paid claims.—

(1) Any claimant recovering under this part shall be deemed to have assigned all of his rights or interest in his shares or deposits with the insolvent member credit union to the corporation, to the extent of his recovery from the corporation. Every claimant seeking the protection of this act shall fully cooperate with the corporation and the receiver or liquidator to the same extent as such person would have been required to cooperate with the insolvent credit union. The corporation shall have the same cause of action as the insolvent credit union would have had if such sums had been paid by the insolvent credit union.

(2) The receiver, liquidator, or statutory successor of an insolvent credit union shall be bound by settlements of covered claims paid by the corporation. The court, department, or liquidator having jurisdiction shall grant such claims a priority equal to that, and in an amount, to which the claimant would have been entitled in the absence of this act against the assets of the insolvent credit union. The administrative expenses of the corporation in handling claims shall be accorded the same priority as the liquidator's administrative expenses. Such administrative expenses of the corporation and of the liquidator shall be accorded first priority in the settlement of all claims against any credit union which goes into voluntary liquidation or which is placed in involuntary liquidation by order of the department.

(3) The corporation shall periodically file with the receiver or liquidator of the insolvent credit union statements of all of the covered claims paid by the corporation, along with estimates of anticipated claims on the corporation, which shall preserve the rights of the corporation against the assets of the insolvent credit union.

History.—s. 13, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 10, ch. 78-123.

§657.262 Detection and prevention of insolvencies.—To aid in the detection and prevention of credit union insolvencies or liquidations:

(1) It shall be the duty of the board of directors of the corporation to promptly notify the department of any information it has indicating that any member credit union may be insolvent or in an unsound financial condition that might jeopardize the safety of shares and deposits of the members or potential members of the credit union.

(2) The board of directors may request that the department order an examination of any member credit union which the board in good faith believes may be in an unsound financial condition that might jeopardize the safety of the shares and deposits in the credit union. Within a reasonable time after receipt of such request, the department shall commence such examination. The cost of such examination shall be $75 per day per man, which shall be paid by the corporation to the department, and the examination report shall be treated as are other examination reports under part I. The department shall notify the corporation when the examination is completed in writing and forthwith furnish the corporation with a copy of the report.

(3) It shall be the duty of the department to report immediately in writing to the corporation when it has reasonable cause to believe that any member credit union examined, or which is being examined at the request of the corporation, may be insolvent or in an unsound financial condition.

(4) The corporation may make reports and recommendations to the department upon any matter which is relevant to the solvency, liquidation, rehabilitation, or conservation of any member credit union. In order to protect the integrity and financial reputation of the credit union involved and the privacy of the members of that credit union, such reports and recommendations under subsection (3) and this subsection shall not be considered to be public records or documents.

(5) The corporation may make recommendations to the department for the detection and prevention of member credit union insolvencies or to enhance the financial soundness of member credit unions.

(6) The corporation shall, within 6 months after the conclusion of any credit union liquidation proceedings in which the corporation was obligated to pay covered claims, prepare a report of the history and the causes of such insolvency, based on the information available to the corporation. Such report shall be submitted to the department.

History.—s. 14, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 11, ch. 78-123.

657.263 Examination of the corporation.

The books, records, and accounts of the corporation shall be subject to an examination at least annually by the department at a cost of $75 per day per man. The corporation shall submit, not later than January 31 of each year, a financial report for the preceding calendar year in a format approved by the department. Such report shall be prepared in accordance with generally acceptable accounting practices.

History.—s. 15, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 12, ch. 78-123.

657.264 Immunity.—There shall be no liability for damages on the part of, and no cause of action in tort of any nature shall arise against:

- (1) Any member credit union;
- (2) The corporation or its agents, employees, or board of directors; or
- (3) The department or any of its representatives or employees; for any action taken by any of them in the performance of its powers and duties under this act, unless such action is willful, wanton, or fraudulent.

History.—s. 16, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.265 Stay of proceedings; reopening of default judgments.—All proceedings in which an insolvent member credit union may be a party in any court in this state shall be stayed for 60 days from the date the insolvency is determined by order of the department, by the board of directors in a voluntary liquidation, or by a court, in order to permit any proper defenses by the corporation to all pending causes of action with respect to any covered claims arising against such credit union. In the event of a finding by any such court based on the default of the member credit union, the corporation, either on its own behalf or on behalf of such member credit union, may apply to the court to have any such judgment, order, decision, verdict, or finding set aside and shall be permitted to defend promptly against such claim on the merits.

History.—s. 17, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 13, ch. 78-123.

657.266 Cooperation by liquidator and the corporation.

Any order of liquidation issued by the department or any directive issued by the board of directors of a member credit union under voluntary liquidation under part I shall authorize and direct the receiver or liquidator to coordinate the operation of liquidation proceedings with the operation of the guaranty fund corporation created by this act. Such cooperation shall include, but not be limited to, access to, and the furnishing of, necessary copies of all claims files, records, or documents pertaining to claims on file with the liquidator. The guaranty fund corporation shall also coordinate the operation of its handling and payment of covered claims with said receiver or liquidator.

History.—s. 18, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

657.267 Advertising or displays.—Every credit union which has its shares and deposits protected by the corporation shall display at each place of business maintained by it a sign or signs indicating that its member accounts are protected by the corporation and shall include in all of its advertisements a statement to the effect that its member accounts are protected by the guaranty corporation. The corporation may exempt from this requirement advertisements which do not relate to member accounts or advertisements in which it is impractical to include such a statement.

History.—s. 19, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 14, ch. 78-123.

657.268 Rules.—The department may promulgate any reasonable rules for the purpose of carrying out the intent and purposes of this part.

History.—s. 20, ch. 74-183; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 15, ch. 78-123.

CHAPTER 658

BANKING CODE, FIRST PART

- 658.01 Short title.
- 658.02 Definitions.
- 658.03 Effect on existing banks.
- 658.05 Powers of department.
- 658.051 State banks; competitive equality with national banks.
- 658.06 Liability when acting upon department's order or regulation.
- 658.07 Examinations, reports, and internal audits.
- 658.08 Examination fees and assessments.
- 658.09 Annual report to governor.
- 658.10 Banking records to be public.
- 658.11 Destruction of certain bank and trust company records.

'658.01 Short title.—Chapters 658-661 may be cited as the "Florida Banking Code."

History.—s. 1, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'658.02 Definitions.—As used in chapters 658-661:

(1) "Bank" means any person doing a banking business whether subject to the laws of this or any other jurisdiction other than industrial or Morris Plan banks operating under the provisions of chapter 656, and savings banks operating under the provisions of chapter 654.

(2) "State bank" means any state bank chartered by this state.

(3) "Commercial bank" means any state bank chartered to do a general commercial banking business.

(4) "Action" in the sense of a judicial proceeding includes, but is not limited to, recoupment, counterclaim, setoff, suit in equity and any other proceedings in which rights are determined.

(5) "Community" means a city, town or incorporated village, or, where not within any of the foregoing, a trade area.

(6) "Court" means a court of competent jurisdiction.

(7) "Department" means the Department of Banking and Finance.

(8) "Fiduciary" means trustee, agent, executor, administrator, committee, guardian or conservator for a minor or other incompetent person, receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, assignee for creditors or any holder of a similar position of trust.

(9) "Item" means any instrument for the payment of money even though not negotiable, but does not include money.

(10) "Officer," when referring to a bank, means any person designated as such in the bylaws and includes, whether or not so designated, any executive officer, the chairman of the board of directors, the chairman of the executive committee, and any trust officer, assistant vice president, assistant treasurer, assistant cashier, assistant comptroller, or any person who performs the duties appropriate to those offices.

(11) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust estate, business trust, or unincorporated association.

(12) "Trust business" means the business of acting as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, assignee, receiver, depository or trustee under the appointment of any court, or by authority of any law of this or any other state or of the United States, or as trustee for any purpose permitted by law.

(13) "Trust company" means a corporation or the trust department of a bank which is authorized to engage in the trust business.

History.—s. 1, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 276, ch. 71-377; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

'658.03 Effect on existing banks.—The charters of state banks and trust companies existing at the time of the adoption of chapters 658-661 shall continue in full force and effect, but all state banks and trust companies and, to the extent applicable, all banks, shall hereafter be operated in accordance with the provisions of chapters 658-661.

History.—s. 1, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'658.05 Powers of department.—In addition to other powers conferred by this act, the department shall have power to:

(1) Implement by regulation any provision of this code.

(2) Restrict the withdrawal of deposits from all or one or more state banks where the department finds that extraordinary circumstances make such restriction necessary for the proper protection of depositors in the affected institution.

(3) Employ examiners or other employees necessary to operate the department and fix their compensation.

(4) From time to time formulate and promulgate reasonable rules and regulations governing the conduct of state banks and trust companies doing business in this state which shall have the force of law.

History.—s. 1, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 7, ch. 78-95.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

'658.051 State banks; competitive equality with national banks.—With the approval of the department, state banks subject to the Florida Banking Code may make any loan or investment or exercise any power which they could make or exercise if they were incorporated and operating in Florida as national banks under federal statutes and regulations. The provisions of this section may take priority over, and be given effect over, any other general or specific provisions of the banking code to the contrary, except for s. 659.062, and any other state statute governing the electronic transfer of funds. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to grant the power or right to establish any branch not otherwise specifically authorized by this code.

(1)(a) Examine the condition of each state bank at least two times in each 18 months from July 1, 1978 and of each trust company at least once in each calendar year. The department may accept a Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or Federal Reserve examination in lieu of one of said bank examinations and may furnish a copy of all examinations made of such banks to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or its representatives or the Federal Reserve Board or its representatives.

(b) Require each bank or trust company to submit a report of its condition as of such date as it may fix, at least twice in each calendar year or as often as ordered by the department, verified by the oaths or affirmations of the officer or officers authorized to do so by the bylaws of such corporation. Within 10 days after such report shall have been called for, the bank shall publish in a newspaper published in the county in which said bank is located a statement of its assets and liabilities as of the date of said report, and a copy of said publication, with an affidavit of the publication, shall be filed with the department, and a copy of said publication shall also be filed with the county property appraiser.

(c) Require each bank or trust company to submit a report of its income and dividends on a calendar year basis on such date as it may fix, at least once each year or as often as ordered by the department, verified by the oaths or affirmations of the officer or officers authorized to do so by the bylaws of such corporation. Every such bank or trust company which fails to transmit any report required under this subsection shall be subject to a penalty of $100 for each day of delinquency after the due date of the report. The provisions of this subsection shall not apply to national banks and trust departments of national banks.

(2)(a) Each state bank and trust company shall perform an internal audit annually and file a copy of such audit with the department, through one of the following means:

1. Under the supervision of the board of directors, in each state bank and trust company in which there is an internal audit department;

2. By the board of directors, acting as an audit committee; or

3. By an independent certified public accountant approved by the board of directors.

(b) The department may, in its discretion, require an independent certified public accountant audit.

1658.08 Examination fees and assessments.—

(1) Each state bank or trust company shall pay to the Department of Banking and Finance examination fees and assessments as follows:

(a) A semiannual fee of $250; and

(b) A semiannual assessment of 6 cents per $1,000 of total assets, computed on total assets as shown on the report of condition of the bank as of the last business days in June and December in each year.

(2) The fee and assessment shall be due and payable within 30 days of the date of the semiannual report of condition.

(3) Applications required to be filed with the Department of Banking and Finance shall bear the following fees:

(a) Three thousand dollars for applications for authority to organize a new bank or trust company;

(b) One thousand dollars for applications for authority to exercise trust powers in an existing bank;

(c) Two thousand dollars for applications for authority to acquire a majority or controlling interest in an existing bank or trust company;

(d) One thousand dollars for applications for authority to relocate a banking house;

(e) The application for conversion of a national or industrial savings bank to a state bank will be accompanied by a fee which shall be the sum of $250 plus an additional amount computed at the rate of 6 cents per $1,000 of total assets. Total assets will be determined from the report of condition of the bank as of the date of application for conversion. If the conversion occurs, this fee will be credited to and reduce the first semiannual assessment;

(f) Applications to operate a facility, branch, or branch trust company authorized by s. 659.06 or s. 659.061 shall be accompanied by an application fee of $1,000;

(g) Two hundred fifty dollars for application for authority to establish a trust service office of a trust company; and

(h) Two thousand five hundred dollars for investigating and processing each application for a merger, consolidation, or purchase of assets and assumption of liabilities. If three or more banks are involved in the aforesaid transaction, the fee is $1,000 for each participating institution.

(i) Applications for license for international banking agencies shall be accompanied by an application fee of $10,000. Annual license renewal fees for such agencies shall be $1,000. Applications for representative offices shall be accompanied by an application fee of $1,000. Annual license renewal fees for such offices shall be $250.

(4) There is hereby imposed a fee for the examination of trust companies, including the trust departments of commercial banks, which shall be $125 per day for the examiner-in-charge plus $90 per day per examiner participating in the examination.

(5) There is hereby imposed a fee for the examination of international bank agencies, which shall be the department's cost of conducting such examination, but in no event less than $100 per day per examiner participating in the examination.

(6) Examination fees and assessments shall, in all cases, be paid by the bank or trust company directly to the State Treasurer, who shall deposit all of the amount collected hereunder in a special bank and trust company trust fund, such fund to be used by the Department of Banking and Finance for the administration of the State Banking Law.

1658.09 Annual report to governor.—The department shall submit an annual report to the governor, which shall include:

(1) The text of all regulations of the department of general application adopted or altered since its last previous report.

(2) A statement of the general condition and affairs of existing state banks.

(3) A statement of the status and remaining assets and liabilities of all banking or trust organizations in the possession of the department for liquidation.

(4) A summary of all changes occurring since its last previous report by reason of the opening of new state banks or trust companies, mergers and conversions, increases and decreases in capital, and the like.

History.—s. 1, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1658.10 Banking records to be public.—

(1) All bank or trust company license applications filed with the department pursuant to the Florida Banking Code, including related information obtained or prepared by the department, shall be open to the public pursuant to chapter 119, and the rules of the department. However, the classes of records and information mentioned in subsection (3) shall be confidential and shall not be disclosed by the department or any of its officials, employees, or agents, except pursuant to an order of a court or a hearing officer under chapter 120, or legislative subpoena, as provided by law. Materials supplied to the department by other governmental agencies, federal or state, shall remain the property of the submitting agency and shall be made public only with the consent of such agency or pursuant to appropriate court order or legislative subpoena, as provided by law.

(2)(a) Orders of courts or of hearing officers for the production of confidential records and information shall provide for in camera inspection by the court or the hearing officer and shall be subject to further orders by the court or the hearing officer to protect the confidentiality thereof, except to the extent deemed necessary by the court or the hearing officer to protect the interests of all parties or affected persons or the soundness of individual banks or the banking industry. However, any such order directing the release of information relating to the soundness of individual banks or the banking industry shall be immediately reviewable. A petition for review of such order directing the release of information relating to the soundness of individual banks or the banking industry filed by the department shall automatically stay further proceedings in the trial court or the administrative hearing until the disposition of said petition by the reviewing court. If any other party files such a petition for review, it shall operate as a stay of such proceedings only upon order of the reviewing court.

(b) Confidential records and information furnished in compliance with, or in response to, a legislative subpoena shall be confidential communications and shall retain their confidential status while in the possession of any legislative body or committee receiving the same and shall not be made public, and such confidential status shall continue after the legislative body or committee has returned such records and information to the department or other source from which they came. No member of the Legislature or member of the legislative body or committee, or any employee thereof, or any other person shall disclose or make public any of the information found in such records and information furnished in compliance with, or in response to, any such subpoena, except in cases involving investigation of charges against an officer subject to impeachment, and then only to the extent determined by the legislative body or committee to be necessary.

(3) The following records and information of the department are confidential, except such portions thereof which are otherwise matters of public record or general public knowledge:

(a) Personal financial statements or information; personnel, medical, or similar records or information; records or information obtained or prepared by the department with reference to the character or reputation of any person; and any record or information which would constitute a clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.

(b) Investigatory records compiled for civil or criminal law enforcement purposes, including investigatory records relating to a proceeding or the issuance of a cease and desist order or order of suspension or removal under ss. 659.561 and 659.562, but only to the extent that the disclosure of such records would:

1. Interfere with enforcement proceedings;
2. Deprive a person or an institution of a right to a fair trial or an impartial adjudication;
3. Tend to impair the safety or soundness of any bank or trust company;
4. Constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy;
5. Disclose the identity of a confidential source, or, in the case of a record compiled by a criminal law enforcement authority in the course of a criminal investigation, confidential information furnished only by the confidential source;
6. Disclose investigative techniques or procedures; or

7. Endanger the life or physical safety of law enforcement or department personnel.

(c) Reports of examinations or operations and records, or a portion thereof, containing or relating to an examination, operation, or condition report prepared by, or on behalf of or for the use of, the department or any other agency, state or federal, responsible for the regulation or supervision of banks or trust companies, relating to the affairs of any bank, trust company, or affiliate thereof, bank holding company, or subsidiary thereof. Reports of examination and operation prepared by, or on behalf of or for the use of, the department shall be the property of the department, but copies thereof may be furnished to the bank or trust company examined, for its confidential use. No bank or trust company director, officer, or employee or any other person shall disclose in any manner such report or any portion thereof, except such portions thereof which are otherwise matters of public record of general public knowledge, to any person or organization not officially connected with the bank or trust company as an officer, director, employee, attorney, auditor, or independent auditor, except that the same may be furnished to any bank holding company of which the bank or trust company is a subsidiary.

(4) This section shall not prevent or restrict:

(a) The publication of reports required to be submitted to the department by s. 658.07(1)(b) and (c) or required to be published by applicable federal statutes or regulations.

(b) The furnishing of records or information to any federal agency responsible for the regulation or supervision of banks or trust companies.

(c) The disclosure or publication of summaries of the condition of financial institutions, and the disclosure or publication of general economic and similar statistics and data, provided any of the foregoing are in such form that the identity of particular financial institutions cannot reasonably be expected to be ascertained therefrom.

(d) The reporting of any suspected criminal activity to appropriate law enforcement agencies.

(5) Every state bank and trust company shall cause to be kept at all times full and correct records of the names and residences of all the shareholders of the bank or trust company and the number of shares held by each in the principal office where its business is transacted. Such records shall be subject to the inspection of all the shareholders of the bank or trust company, and the officers authorized to assess taxes under state authority, during business hours of each banking day. A current list of shareholders shall be made available to the department examiners for their inspection and, upon the request of the department, shall be transmitted to the department, but the department shall not disclose or make public said list or any part thereof.

(6) Willful violation of the provisions of this section, relating to an unlawful disclosure of confidential information, is a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

(7) Reports of examinations, investigations, and related information of existing banks and trust companies made by the department, or a photographic copy thereof, shall be retained for a period of at least 10 years.

(8) A copy of any document on file with the department, which is certified by the department as being a true copy, may be introduced in evidence as if it were the original. The department shall establish a schedule of fees for preparing copies of documents.

(9) The department shall have the authority to adopt rules pursuant to this chapter.

§658.11 Destruction of certain bank and trust company records.—

(1) Banks or trust companies shall not be required to preserve or keep their records or files or copies thereof for a longer period than 10 years following the time of the making or filing of such records or files, provided, however, that ledger sheets shall not be destroyed unless copies of such ledger sheets are retained.

(2) No liability shall accrue against any bank or trust company destroying any such records or files or copies thereof after the expiration of the period provided in subsection (1), and in any cause or proceedings in which any such records or files or copies thereof may be called in question or be demanded of the bank or trust company or any officer or employee thereof, a showing that such records or files or copies thereof have been destroyed in accordance with the terms of this section shall be a sufficient excuse for the failure to produce them.

(3) Any bank or trust company may make, or cause to be made, a copy or copies of any or all of its journals, ledgers, statements, account books, or other books, or any or all of its internal or other records or files of every description, made or received in the regular course of its business (all of which, in this subsection and in subsections (4) and (5), are included in the term "records"), and any such copy, duly certified, authenticated, or identified by a responsible officer of the bank or trust company under whose supervision the records or copies are kept, shall in all cases, and in all courts and places, be admitted and received as evidence with a like force and effect as the original record, whether or not the original is in existence.

(4) The original of any record of a bank or trust company includes the data or other information comprising a record stored in an electronic, computerized, mechanized, or other information storage or retrieval system or device which can upon request generate or regenerate the precise data or other information comprising the record; and an original also includes the visible data or other information so generated or regenerated if it is legible or can be made legible by enlargement or other process.

(5) Copies of records of a bank or trust company, heretofore or hereafter made, include: Duplicates or counterparts of an original produced from the same impression as the original by carbon or other chemical or substance; negative and positive film and prints of an original and reproductions and facsimiles of an original, whether or not the same size, produced by photographic, microphotographic, photostatic, xerographic, or other process, and enlargements thereof; and the data or other information comprising a record stored as provided in subsection (4), and the visible data or other information generated or regenerated by such information storage or retrieval system if it is legible or can be made legible by enlargement or other process.

- 659.01 Creation of banking or trust corporation.—When authorized by the department, as provided herein, a corporation may be formed under the laws of the state by five or more persons for the purpose of conducting a general banking or trust business.
History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.
- 659.02 Application for authority to organize bank.—
 (1) A written application for authority to establish a corporation, as provided in s. 659.01, shall be filed with the department, and shall include:

(a) The name, residence and occupation of each incorporator and stock subscriber and the amount of stock subscribed for by each, together with a statement under oath of each subscriber that he subscribes in good faith in his own right and not as agent or attorney for any undisclosed person.

(b) The proposed name.

(c) The total capital, the number of shares of each class, and the par value of the shares of each class.

(d) The community, including the street, and number, if known, and if not known, the area within the community where the proposed bank or the principal office of the proposed trust company is to be located.

(e) Request for trust powers, if desired.

(2) Said application shall be in such form and contain such additional information as the department shall reasonably require, and shall be accompanied by the required fee.

(3) All organizers, proposed directors, proposed chief executive and operational officers, and each person subscribing to 5 percent or more of the voting stock shall file with the department a complete set of fingerprints taken by an authorized law enforcement officer, and such fingerprints shall be submitted by the department to appropriate law enforcement agencies for processing.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 63-181; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 2, ch. 70-263; s. 2, ch. 73-119; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 1, ch. 79-144.

cf.—s. 661.08 Conversion from state bank to national bank and reverse.

1659.03 Investigation by department.—

(1) Upon the filing of an application, the department shall make an investigation of:

(a) The character, reputation, financial standing and motives of the organizers, incorporators and subscribers in organizing the proposed bank or trust company.

(b) The need for banking or trust facilities or additional banking or trust facilities, as the case may be, in the community where the proposed bank or the principal office of the proposed trust company is to be located, giving particular consideration to the adequacy of existing banking or trust facilities and the need for further banking or trust facilities in the locality.

(c) The present and future ability of the community to support the proposed bank or the principal office of the proposed trust company and all other existing banking or trust facilities in the community.

(d) The character, financial responsibility, banking experience, and business qualifications of the proposed officers.

(e) The character, financial responsibility, business experience, and standing of the proposed stockholders and directors.

(2) The department shall approve or disapprove the application, in its discretion, but it shall not approve such application until, in its opinion:

(a) Public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the establishment of the proposed bank or trust company.

(b) Local conditions assure reasonable promise of successful operation for the proposed bank or the principal office of the proposed trust company and those banks or trust companies already established in the community.

(c) The proposed capital structure is adequate.

(d) The proposed officers and directors have sufficient banking or trust experience, ability and standing to assure reasonable promise of successful operation.

(e) The name of the proposed bank or trust company is not so similar as to cause confusion with the name of an existing bank.

(f) Provision has been made for suitable banking house quarters in the area specified in the application.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 73-119; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

cf.—s. 661.08 Conversion from state bank to national bank and reverse.

1659.04 Capital structure.—

(1) The capital stock of a state bank or trust company shall be in such amount as the department shall deem adequate, but not less than the following aggregate amounts, based upon population of the community in which the bank or trust company will be located according to the latest official census:

(a) Twenty-five thousand dollars, if the population of the community in which the bank or trust company will be located does not exceed 5,000, and $50,000 if the population of the community in which the bank will be located does not exceed 10,000.

(b) One hundred thousand dollars if the population of the community in which the bank or trust company will be located exceeds 10,000, but does not exceed 50,000.

(c) Two hundred thousand dollars if the population of the community in which the bank or trust company will be located exceeds 50,000, but does not exceed 200,000.

(d) Three hundred thousand dollars if the population of the community in which the bank or trust company will be located exceeds 200,000.

(2) Unless the department determines that a trust company has adequate capital to enable it to meet the additional responsibilities it assumes upon opening each trust service office in addition to its principal office, the trust company, with respect to each trust service office so established, shall increase its capital by the amount required by the department.

(3) Every state bank or trust company hereafter organized shall, upon its organization, establish, in addition to the capital required by subsection (1), a paid-in surplus equal in amount to not less than 20 percent of its paid-up capital, and a fund to be designated as undivided profits equal to 5 percent of its paid-up capital.

(4) Each subscriber at the time he subscribes to the stock of a proposed state bank or trust company shall pay an additional sum at least equal to 5 percent of the par value of such stock into a fund to be used to defray the expenses of organization, such additional sum to be paid in cash. No organizational expense shall be paid out of any other funds of the bank. Upon the granting of a charter, any unexpended ed balance in such fund shall be transferred to undivided profits. If the application has been finally denied during said period, such balance shall be distributed among the contributors in proportion to their respective payments. The department may require an accounting of disbursements from the fund and may order the incorporators to restore any sum which has been expended for other than proper organizational expenses.

(5) No bank or trust company shall apply any part of the funds collected under this section for the payment of commissions or fees for obtaining subscriptions or selling shares or to the payment of compensation for services in connection with the organization of a proposed bank, or in connection with securing authority to transact business, other than the payment of fees for legal services and of other usual and ordinary expenses incidental and necessary for the organization of a bank or trust company.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 4, ch. 73-119; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

cf.—s. 11.031 Official census.

1659.05 Authorization to engage in banking or trust business.—

(1) Upon approval of the application for authority to organize by the department, the proposed articles of incorporation shall be submitted to the department for its written approval before filing pursuant to chapter 607. After such approval and certification by the department, the proposed bank or trust company shall:

(a) File with the department a copy of its articles of incorporation duly certified by the Department of State.

(b) File with the department a statement in such form and with such supporting data and proof as it may require, showing that the entire capital, surplus and undivided profits have been fully paid in lawful money unconditionally, and that the funds representing such capital, surplus and undivided profits, less sums spent with the approval of the department for land, building, supplies, fixtures and equipment, are on hand.

(2) If the department finds that the proposed bank or trust company has in good faith complied with all the requirements of law, it shall within 30 days after the filing of the statement specified in subsection (1)(b), issue, in duplicate, under its official seal, a certificate of authorization to transact a general banking or trust business, transmitting one copy to the bank or trust company and placing one copy in the department file. Said certificate shall state that the corporation named therein is authorized to transact a general banking or trust business, and the bank or trust company shall cause said certificate to be published one time in some newspaper of general circulation published in the city or county where the bank or trust company is located.

(3) No bank or trust company shall, until it has received its certificates of authorization:

(a) Transact any banking or trust business.

(b) Incur any indebtedness except that allowed under subsection (1)(b).

(4) Upon the failure to comply with subsection

(1)(a) and (b) within 6 months after the approval of the application for authority to organize, such right shall automatically terminate and the charter be revoked. The department, however, for good cause, on written application filed before the expiration of said 6-month period, may extend the time within which the bank may be organized for a period not exceeding 6 months.

(5) Upon the failure to open for business within 30 days after the issuance of the certificate of authorization, the right to transact business shall automatically terminate and the charter be revoked.

(6) Upon opening for business a bank or trust company shall have power to engage in a general banking or trust business and to exercise, subject to law and the approval of the department, all such incidental powers as may reasonably promote its general banking or trust business.

1659.06 Place of transacting business; school savings; facilities.—

(1)(a)1. Any bank heretofore or hereafter incorporated pursuant to this chapter shall have one principal place of doing business as designated in its articles of incorporation. In addition, with the approval of the department and upon such conditions as the department shall prescribe, including a satisfactory showing by the bank that public convenience and necessity will be served thereby, any bank may establish up to two branches per calendar year within the limits of the county in which the parent bank is located and, in addition, may establish branches by merger with other banks located within the county in which the parent bank is located. The location of a parent bank or of a branch bank may be moved if the department determines that public convenience and necessity will be served by such move, but the location of a parent bank or of a branch bank may not be moved beyond the limits of the county in which it is located. The term "parent bank" shall be construed to mean the bank or banking office at which the principal functions of the bank are conducted. An application for a branch bank shall be in writing in such form as the department prescribes and supported by such information, data, and records as the department may require to make findings necessary for approval. When the department has approved an application, it shall issue a certificate authorizing the operation of the branch bank and specifying the date on which it may be opened and the place where it will be located.

2. This section shall be construed to allow the merger of banks within the same county and the operation by the merged company of such banks and to allow the sale of any bank to, and the purchase thereof through merger by, any other bank in the same county and the operation of such banks by the merged bank, provided the Department of Banking and Finance shall be of the opinion, and shall first determine, that public convenience and necessity will be served by such operation.

(b) A bank may contract with proper authorities of any elementary or secondary school or institution caring for minors for the participation by the bank in any school or institutional thrift or savings plan, and it may accept deposits at such school or institution, either by its own collector or by any representative of the school or institution who becomes the agent of the bank for such purposes. Withdrawal from any account carried with the bank by any such school or institution shall be made only at the banking house of said bank.

(2) With the prior written approval of the department, and in order to relieve some of the burdens on the public caused by congestion of public streets, roadways, and parking facilities, promote safety of pedestrians on public ways, or otherwise serve the needs or convenience of the public, a bank may:

(a) Operate facilities providing services to customers. It shall not be necessary that any such facility be a part of, or physically connected to, the main banking room or building of the parent or branch bank if the facility is located on the property on which the main banking house of the parent or branch bank is situated or on property contiguous thereto. Property which is separated from the property on which the main banking house of the parent or branch bank is situated only by a street and one or more walkways and alleyways shall, for the purposes of this subsection, be deemed contiguous to the property on which said main banking house is situated. The operation of any such facility which is not located on the property on which the main banking house of the parent or branch bank is situated or on property contiguous thereto, except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b), shall constitute a violation of subsection (1), unless otherwise approved as provided in said subsection (1).

(b) Notwithstanding s. 656.071, an industrial savings bank may operate the facilities authorized by this subsection. However, nothing in this subsection shall be construed to expand the powers of an industrial savings bank organized pursuant to chapter 656.

§659.061 Place of transacting trust business; trust service offices.—

as the department shall prescribe, including a satisfactory showing by the trust company that public convenience and necessity will be served thereby, any trust company may establish branches within the limits of the county in which the parent trust company is located. The location of a parent trust company or of a branch trust company may be moved if the department determines the public convenience and necessity will be served by such move, but the location of a parent trust company or of a branch trust company may not be moved beyond the limits of the county in which it is located. The term "parent trust company" shall be construed to mean the trust company office at which the principal functions of the trust company are conducted. An application for a branch trust company shall be in writing in such form as the department prescribes and supported by such information, data, and records as the department may require to make findings necessary for approval. When the department has approved an application, it shall issue a certificate authorizing the operation of the branch trust company and specifying the date on which it may be opened and the place where it will be located. In addition to transacting business at its principal place of doing business or at a branch trust company, a trust company may transact its business as hereinafter set forth in this section.

(2) In addition to its principal office and any branch trust company authorized under subsection (1), a trust company as defined in subsection 658.02(13), organized under the laws of Florida or organized under the laws of the United States with its principal place of doing business in Florida may maintain one or more trust service offices at the location of any bank which is organized under the laws of Florida or under the laws of the United States with its principal place of doing business in Florida. However, a trust service office may be established at such bank only after the trust company has secured the consent of a majority of the stockholders entitled to vote at a meeting of stockholders, and a majority of the board of directors, of the bank at which a trust service office is proposed to be maintained and a certificate of authorization has been issued to the trust company by the department.

(3)(a) An application for approval to establish a trust service office shall be in such form and contain such information as the department may reasonably require and be accompanied by the required fee.

(b) The department shall issue a certificate approving the establishment of a trust service office by a trust company if the department determines that:

1. The trust company has complied with the capital requirements of s. 659.04;

2. Provision has been made for suitable quarters and staffing for the trust service; and

3. If the trust service office is to be established at a bank without existing trust powers, the establishment of the proposed trust service office will not unduly injure any existing trust companies in the community where the trust service office is to be located.

(4) Upon the failure of the trust service office to open for business within 60 days after receipt of the certificate of authorization from the department, the certificate shall be deemed void.

(5) The trust company shall have the power to conduct any trust business at a trust service office which it is permitted to conduct at its principal office unless limited by the provisions of any agreement between the bank and the trust company.

(6)(a) Unless an election has been made pursuant to paragraph (b), when a trust service office is established by a trust company at the location of a bank which has trust powers, the bank may retain and continue to exercise its trust powers following the establishment of the trust service office.

(b) If the bank and trust company so elect in the application for approval to establish a trust service office at the location of a bank that has trust powers, and if the department is satisfied that the interests of beneficiaries of the estates, trusts, and other fiduciary relationships being serviced by the bank will be adequately protected, the department shall issue an order authorizing the following:

1. The trust company shall be substituted for, succeed to, and replace the bank as fiduciary. The trust company, as the successor fiduciary, shall succeed to all the powers, rights, duties, and privileges of the bank as fiduciary of all estates, trusts, guardianships, and other fiduciary relationships in which the bank is serving.

2. During the time the trust company maintains a trust service office at the location of the bank, the trust company shall be deemed to be named the fiduciary in all instruments in which the bank is named the fiduciary, even if the bank is not serving as fiduciary at the time the trust service office is established.

3. The bank shall be relieved from all of its fiduciary duties, and the bank shall not exercise its trust powers so long as there is a trust service office transacting business at the bank. The substitution of the trust company for the bank as fiduciary shall occur and be effective on the day the trust company opens the trust service office for business.

(c) When a trust service office is established at a bank that has retained its trust powers, the trust company may at any time be substituted as fiduciary as provided in paragraph (b) by filing an election with the department. The election to substitute the trust company for the bank as fiduciary must contain the consent of a majority of the stockholders entitled to vote at a meeting of stockholders, and a majority of the board of directors, of the bank at which the trust service office has been established.

(d) This subsection shall not affect any substitution of fiduciaries made under this subsection prior to May 31, 1976.

(e) This subsection shall not be construed as permitting a trust company to transfer the administration of any estate or any trust to a county outside the county wherein the bank is located.

(7) Nothing in the banking laws of this state shall be construed to prohibit a person from serving in a dual capacity as an officer or director of a bank at which a trust service office is located and an officer or director of the trust company which has a trust service office at that bank.

(8) A trust company may terminate a trust service office only with the prior approval of the department, which shall only grant its approval after being satisfied that the interests of all beneficiaries of the estates, trusts, and other fiduciary relationships being serviced by the trust company as fiduciary at that trust service office will be adequately protected. Upon termination of the trust service office, the trust company shall continue to exercise its fiduciary powers, rights, duties, and privileges as fiduciary of the estates, trusts, and other fiduciary relationships being serviced at that trust service office and shall continue to be deemed the named fiduciary of all instruments naming the bank as fiduciary which became effective and operative prior to the termination of the trust service office at that bank. However, any beneficiary of an estate or trust which is being serviced at the trust service office at the time of the termination of the trust service office may petition the court of competent jurisdiction in the county where the trust service office is located for removal of the trust company as fiduciary and for appointment of a successor fiduciary. The court shall grant the petition upon being satisfied that such action is in the best interests of the beneficiaries of the trust or estate.

§659.062 Remote financial service units.—

(1) As used in this section:

(a) "Bank" means any person authorized under the laws of this state or of the United States to do a banking business and having his principal office and main banking house in this state and also includes an industrial savings bank organized and operating under the provisions of chapter 656 and a savings bank organized and operating under the provisions of chapter 654. For the purposes of this section, the foregoing definition of the term "bank" shall control over the definition of said term as contained in subsection 658.02(1); however, the foregoing definition of the term "bank" shall be limited to the application of the provisions of this section.

(b) "Credit union" means a credit union as defined in s. 657.01 and a credit union organized and existing under the laws of the United States having its principal office in this state.

(c) The "owner" of a remote financial service unit is the person having the right to determine the banks, savings and loan associations, or credit unions which will be permitted to use, or participate in the usage of, the remote financial service unit.

(d) "Point of sale terminal" means an information processing device by which transactions by a person with, among, or involving one or more banks are accomplished through or by means of electronic or automated signals or impulses, which may include the human voice. A point of sale terminal shall be located at a place of business other than the place of business of a bank, at the location thereof shall not be operated by an agent or employee of a bank, and shall not be located on any premises having a pari-mutuel license. For the purposes of this section and for the purposes of all other statutes and rules of law, an agent or employee of the place of business where the point of sale terminal is located who operates the point of sale terminal shall not be deemed to be the agent or employee of any bank using the point of sale terminal or with which transactions are accomplished by means of the point of sale terminal.

(e) "Remote service terminal" means an information processing device, including associated structures, for the operation of which at its location an agent or employee of a bank is not required and by which, through or by means of electronic, automated, or mechanical signals or impulses generated through the use of electronic, automated, or mechanical equipment, transactions by a person are accomplished with, among, or involving one or more banks, including, but not limited to, the dispensing of cash. A bank utilizing a remote service terminal shall not cause any agent or employee of the bank to be stationed at the location of the remote service terminal for the operation thereof.

(f) "Remote financial service units" means and includes point of sale terminals and remote service terminals.

(g) "Savings and loan association" means an association as defined in subsection 665.021(1) and a savings and loan association organized and existing under the laws of the United States having its principal office in this state.

(2) A bank may use the facilities of, or participate in the use of, such number of remote financial service units at such locations as the bank may determine. It shall not be necessary that any remote financial service unit or any associated equipment, structures, or systems by which it is operated be a part of, or physically connected to, the main banking room or building of the bank, on the property on which the main banking house is situated, or on property contiguous thereto. It shall not be necessary that a bank using the facilities of a remote financial service unit hold the legal title to, or otherwise be the owner of, the remote financial service unit or any associated equipment, structures, or systems, but the owner of any remote financial service unit shall be subject to the provisions of this section.

(3)(a) As to any and each remote service terminal which a bank or savings and loan association chartered by the state proposes to use, the bank or savings and loan association shall give not less than 30 days' written notice to the department of its intention to use the same. Each written notice shall be in such form as the department shall require and shall include the following information with regard to the remote financial service unit:

1. The name of the bank or savings and loan association giving notice.
2. The owner of the remote financial service unit.
3. The exact location and a description of the surrounding area, including a description of any business establishment in or on which the remote financial service unit will be located.
4. Any other additional information as the department shall require.

(b) The department shall require that each bank or savings and loan association provide the department with a written periodic update of the information required in the written notice.

(4) The owner of a point of sale terminal, other than a retail merchant, a savings and loan association, or a credit union or a subsidiary at least 50 percent of the equity ownership of which is owned by one or more savings and loan associations or credit unions, shall make the same available, on a nondiscriminatory basis, for use by any other bank or banks and the customers thereof upon the request of said bank or banks to pay a fair and equitable amount for such right to use the same; but the owner of the point of sale terminal shall have the right to retain the control thereof. The owner of a point of sale terminal may make the same available for use by one or more savings and loan associations and credit unions and the customers thereof and a bank may participate upon contractual agreement in the use of a point of sale terminal owned or operated by one or more savings and loan associations and credit unions.

(5) The owner of a remote service terminal may share the use of any remote service terminal with one or more banks, one or more savings and loan associations, or one or more credit unions, and a bank may share, upon contractual agreement with one or more savings and loan associations and credit unions, the use of a remote service terminal operated by one or more savings and loan associations and credit unions.

(6) It is the intent of this section to provide and authorize more convenient methods of implementing and performing the functions which banks, savings and loan associations, and credit unions, respectively, are permitted to perform and render. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to enlarge the powers, services, or activities which banks or any category of banks, savings and loan associations, or credit unions are permitted to perform, render, or engage in by applicable law other than the provisions of this section.

(7) In considering any application for authority to organize a new bank or to establish any other banking facility, whether manned or unmanned, the department shall disregard the existence of remote financial service units in considering and determining the need for banking facilities in the community where the proposed new bank or other banking facility is to be located, in considering the adequacy of existing banking facilities and the need for further banking facilities in the locality, and in considering the present and future ability of the community to support the proposed new bank or other banking facility and all other existing banking facilities in the community.

(8) Neither a remote financial service unit nor any associated equipment or systems by which it is operated as provided for in this section shall be considered to be a branch of any bank using or participating in the use thereof, and such use shall not be deemed to be a violation of paragraph 659.06(1)(a). The provisions of this section are cumulative and in addition to the provisions of subsection 659.06(2).

(9) The provisions of this section shall not be available to any bank which does not have its principal office and place of business in this state, and any bank which does not have its principal office and place of business in this state is prohibited from using in this state any remote financial service unit or any associated system by which a remote financial service unit is operated. However, nothing herein contained shall prohibit any Federal Reserve Bank or branch thereof from operating any electronic funds transfer system in this state.

(10) Every owner of a remote financial service unit and every bank using a remote financial service unit shall adopt and maintain safeguards to insure the safety of funds, items, and other information, which safeguards shall include security devices consistent with the minimum requirements specified under the Federal Bank Protection Act or such alternative security precautions as are approved by the department.

(11) The department shall have the authority by rule to require each bank operating pursuant to this section to supply information to customers using remote financial service units concerning the bank's consumer protection policies, including the rights and liabilities of consumers and protection against wrongful or accidental disclosure of confidential information.

(12) Each bank and each savings and loan association which participates in or establishes, maintains, or uses a remote financial service unit shall, for a period of 5 years from the effective date of this act, report annually to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and President of the Senate. Such report shall be submitted no later than August 1 of each year, commencing August 1, 1976, covering the annual period ending on the preceding July 1. Also, a preliminary report containing the identical information as the annual report shall be submitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and President of the Senate before February 1, 1976. In the annual report, each bank and each savings and loan association shall:

(a) Provide all the information required to be contained in the notice to the department under subsection (3).

(b) Present a step-by-step analysis of how a person uses the remote financial service unit and describe how the transactions are recorded in the remote financial service unit, if they are so recorded, and how frequently the system is updated.

(c) Discuss the procedures for the protection of a customer's privacy and confidentiality of account information and discuss who has access to a customer's account information and under what circumstances.

(d) State how the card or device used to activate the remote financial service unit is issued and discuss, in general terms, experiences with such cards or devices that are lost by, or stolen from, customers and the customer's liability thereon.

(e) Discuss, in general terms, customer complaints relating to the use of remote financial service units and the manner in which complaints are resolved, including the final disposition of complaints.

(f) Provide any other reasonable information that is considered relevant by the reporting bank or savings and loan association or is requested by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and President of the Senate.

(13)(a) Each bank and each savings and loan association shall maintain reasonable procedures to minimize losses to its customers from unauthorized withdrawals from its customers' accounts by use of a remote financial service unit. Any bank or savings and loan association failing to maintain such reasonable procedures shall be liable to its customer for the amount of any unauthorized withdrawal plus any interest lost on the unauthorized drawn amount directly resulting from the failure to maintain such reasonable procedures, unless the customer, by his negligence, contributes to such unauthorized withdrawal. For the purposes of this paragraph "unauthorized withdrawal" means a withdrawal by a person other than the customer who does not have actual, implied, or apparent authority for such withdrawal and from which withdrawal the customer receives no benefit.

(b) A cardholder's federal social security number shall not be used as the personal identification number or as any code to activate any remote financial service unit.

(c) Information received through, or by means of, any remote financial service unit shall be treated and used in accordance with applicable law relating to the dissemination or disclosure of such information.

(d) A customer may bring a civil action against a person violating the provisions of this subsection in the Circuit Court of the county in which the alleged violator resides or has his principal place of business or in the county wherein the alleged violation occurred. Upon adverse adjudication, the defendant shall be liable for actual damages or $500, whichever is greater, together with court costs and reasonable attorney's fees incurred by the plaintiff. The court may provide such equitable relief as it deems necessary or proper, including enjoining the defendant from further violations of this subsection. If it appears to the court that the suit brought by the plaintiff was ill-founded or brought for purposes of harassment, the plaintiff shall be liable for court costs and reasonable attorney's fees incurred by the defendant.

(14)(a) Whenever the department has reason to believe that a person has been or is violating this act or is engaging in unsafe and unsound banking practices with regard to the use of remote financial service units, and if it appears to the department that a proceeding by it against the person would be in the interest of the public, it shall issue and serve upon the person a complaint or notice stating its charges and containing a notice of opportunity for a hearing pursuant to chapter 120. The person so complained against shall have the right to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by the department requiring him to cease and desist from the violation of this act as charged in the complaint. If no hearing is held, or if a hearing is held and it still appears that the person is in violation of this act, the department shall enter a final administrative order pursuant to chapter 120 requiring the person to cease and desist from engaging in the act or practice that has been found to be in violation of this act.

(b) The department may modify or set aside its order at any time by rehearing upon its own motion when the rehearing is in the interest of the public welfare.

(c) Judicial review of orders of the department shall be as provided by chapter 120.

(d) An order of the department to cease and desist is effective 10 days after notice of its entry is sent by certified mail to the person complained against.

(e) A cease and desist order is not a limitation upon any other action or remedy available to the department or any person under any provision of this or any other act.

(f) The department is authorized to impose a civil penalty of not more than $500 for each violation against any person who violates a cease and desist order of the department after it has become effective, which shall accrue to the department and may be recovered in a civil action by the department. Each day of a continuing violation shall constitute a separate violation.

(15) It is the intent of the Legislature that no person shall be deprived of any rights and protections now offered by existing law due to the effect of this act becoming law.

(16) The department shall have the power to promulgate any rule to implement any provision of this section.

659.07 Changes in articles of incorporation.

—A bank or trust company shall not amend its articles of incorporation without the written approval of the department, and if any amendment requests a change in name of the bank or trust company, the department shall not approve such change if the new name is so similar as to cause confusion with the name of an existing bank.

659.08 Shares of stock.—

(1) A state bank or trust company shall issue its capital stock with par value of not less than $5 or more than $100 per share.

(2) No bank or trust company hereafter shall issue any shares before they are fully paid for.

(3) A bank or trust company, pursuant to action taken by its board of directors and after obtaining the written approval of the department and the approval of stockholders holding a majority of the voting stock of the bank or trust company evidenced either in a writing signed by the stockholders or by a vote at a stockholders' meeting called for such stated purpose after giving 10 days' notice by registered mail, may issue preferred stock of one or more classes in an amount and with a par value as approved by the department and may make amendments to its articles of incorporation which may be necessary to accomplish this purpose. The holders of the preferred stock shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the bank or trust company, and shall not be liable for assessment.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 70-409; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective

July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

659.085 Stock options.—

(1) For the stated purpose of providing stock options for one or more of its officers or employees, any bank or trust company may, pursuant to action taken by its board of directors and after obtaining the written approval of the department and the approval of stockholders holding a majority of the common capital stock of the bank or trust company, evidenced either in a writing signed by the stockholders or by vote at a stockholders' meeting called for such stated purpose after 10 days' notice and after issuance of the shares of stock representing the entire original organizational capital of such bank or trust company, hold unissued from the amount of any authorized increase in its capital, other than an increase authorized solely for the purpose of declaring and paying a stock dividend, or purchase or otherwise acquire and hold, shares of its own common capital stock in an aggregate par value amount not to exceed at any one time 10 percent of the par value of its total authorized common capital stock.

(2) Any such bank or trust company may thereafter from time to time, without first offering such shares of stock to its stockholders, grant options to such of its officers and employees as may be authorized by the board of directors, at a price of the fair market value of such shares as determined by the board of directors, but not less than the par value thereof.

(3) Upon the exercise of any such option by the optionee, the bank or trust company may sell and issue such shares to the optionee.

659.09 Dividends and surplus.—The directors of any bank or trust company, after charging off bad debts, depreciation, and other worthless assets if any, may quarter-annually, semiannually, or annually, declare a dividend of so much of the net profits of the company as they shall judge expedient, but each company shall, before the declaration of a dividend on its common stock carry 20 percent of its net profits for such preceding period as is covered by the dividend to its surplus fund, until the same shall at least equal the amount of its common and preferred stock. Whenever the surplus becomes impaired or reduced below the aggregate amount of common and preferred stock, it shall be reimbursed in the manner provided for its accumulation.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.10 Changes in capital.—

(1) No state bank or trust company shall reduce its outstanding capital stock without first obtaining the consent of the department, and such consent shall be withheld if the reduction will cause the outstanding capital stock to be less than the minimum required hereunder.

(2) Any state bank or trust company may, with the approval of the department, provide for an increase in its capital as may be deemed expedient.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1659.11 Directors, number, qualifications, oath, officers.—

(1) The board of directors of a state bank or trust company shall consist of not less than 5 nor more than 25 directors, and shall be elected at the annual meeting of stockholders; provided, however, that if so authorized by the articles of incorporation and by a majority of the shareholders by appropriate action of the shareholders at the next preceding annual meeting, a majority of the full board of directors of a state bank or trust company may, at any time during the year following the annual meeting of shareholders in which such action has been authorized, increase the number of directors of such state bank or trust company within the limits specified above, and appoint persons to fill the resulting vacancies, provided further, that in any one year not more than two such additional directors shall be authorized pursuant to this provision.

(2) Not less than a majority of the directors must, during their whole term of service, be citizens of the United States, and at least three-fifths of the directors must have resided in this state for at least 1 year preceding their election and must be residents therein during their continuance in office.

(3) Each director, upon assuming office, shall take an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves on him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of such bank or trust company and will not knowingly violate, or willfully permit to be violated, any of the provisions of this chapter. Such oath shall be immediately filed with the department.

(4) The board of directors of each state bank or trust company shall manage the affairs of the bank or trust company and hold a meeting at least once every 2 months at the banking house of the bank or trust company.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 65-34; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 71-168; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 2, ch. 76-177; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 1, ch. 79-53.

1659.12 Deposit insurance; membership in Federal Reserve System.—A state bank or trust company is authorized to do any act necessary to obtain insurance of its deposits by the United States, or any agency thereof, and to acquire and hold membership in the Federal Reserve System.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1659.13 Liability of stockholders.—Holders of voting common stock of state banks or trust companies shall be held individually responsible equally and ratably and not for one another for all contracts, debts, and engagements of such banks or trust companies to the extent of the amount of their stock

therein at the par value thereof in addition to the amount invested in such shares. Persons holding stock as executors, administrators, guardians or trustees shall not be personally subject to any liability as stockholders, but the estates and funds in their hands shall be liable in like manner and to the same extent as the testator, intestate, ward or person interested in trust funds would be, if living and competent to hold the stock in his own name. Such stockholders who have transferred their shares or registered the transfer thereof within 6 months next before the date of the failure of such bank or trust company to meet its obligations, or with knowledge of such impending failure, shall be liable to the same extent as if they had made no such transfer, to the extent that the subsequent transferee fails to meet such liability; but this provision shall not be construed to affect in any way any recourse which such stockholders might otherwise have against those in whose names such shares are registered at the time of such failure, provided that this section shall not apply to stockholders in a banking, savings or trust company which is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, a corporation under the laws of the United States, or which has an unimpaired surplus equalling the amount of its capital stock.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1659.14 Acquisition of majority stock or control in existing bank or trust company.—

(1) In any case in which a person, a group of persons, or a corporation proposes to purchase or acquire a majority of the outstanding capital stock of, or a controlling interest in, any state bank or trust company and thereby to change the control of said bank or trust company, such person shall first make application to the department for a certificate of approval of such proposed change of control of said bank or trust company, and said application shall contain the name and address of the proposed new owner or owners of the controlling stock or controlling interest, and the department shall issue said certificate of approval only after it has become satisfied that the proposed new owner or owners of the controlling stock or interest are qualified by character, experience, and financial responsibility to control and operate the said bank or trust company in a legal and proper manner and that the interests of the stockholders, depositors, and creditors of the bank or trust company and the interests of the public generally will not be jeopardized by the proposed change in ownership, interest, and management. The proposed new owner or owners of the controlling stock or controlling interest shall file with the department a complete set of fingerprints taken by an authorized law enforcement officer, and such fingerprints shall be submitted by the department to appropriate law enforcement agencies for processing.

(2) For the purpose of this section, any person, group of persons, or corporation shall be deemed to be purchasing or acquiring, or to have purchased or acquired, a "controlling interest" if:

(a) Such person, group of persons, or company, directly, indirectly, or acting through one or more persons or corporations, owns, controls, or will own or control, or has power or will have power to vote, 25 percent or more of any class of voting securities of the bank or trust company; or

(b) Such person, group of persons, or company controls or will control in any manner the election of a majority of the directors or trustees of the bank or trust company.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, no person or company will be considered to be purchasing or acquiring a controlling interest by virtue of its ownership or control of shares in a fiduciary capacity. For the purposes of the preceding sentence, bank or trust company shares shall not be deemed to have been acquired in a fiduciary capacity if the acquiring person or company has sole discretionary authority to exercise voting rights with respect thereto. Further, no person or company shall be subject to the requirements of this section by virtue of its ownership or control of shares acquired in securing or collecting a debt contracted in good faith until 2 years after the date of acquisition.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 3, ch. 76-178; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 2, ch. 79-144.

§659.141 Control; ownership.—

(1) Except as provided in subsection (3), no bank, trust company, or holding company, the operations of which are principally conducted outside this state, shall acquire, retain, or own, directly or indirectly, all, or substantially all the assets of, or control over, any bank or trust company having a place of business in this state where the business of banking or trust business or functions are conducted, or acquire, retain, or own all, or substantially all, of the assets of, or control over, any business organization having a place of business in this state where or from which it furnishes investment advisory services in this state. However, if a bank, trust company, or holding company directly or indirectly owning all, or substantially all, the assets of, or having control over, a bank or a trust company or business organization to which the restrictions and prohibitions of this section apply, having acquired such assets or control prior to becoming disqualified hereunder, shall, on or after the effective date of this section, be or become disqualified hereunder to acquire, retain, or own the same, the restrictions and prohibitions of this section shall not be enforced against it for a period which, under all the circumstances, is determined by the department to be reasonable, not exceeding 2 years from the effective date of this act or from the date it becomes disqualified hereunder, whichever is later, unless said period of 2 years is extended by the department as herein provided. The department is authorized, upon a showing of undue hardship, to extend said period of 2 years from time to time if it determines that any such extension would not be detrimental to the public interest, but any such extension shall not exceed 1 year and all thereof shall not in the aggregate exceed 3 years.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), for the purposes of this section:

(a) "Holding company" means any business organization which has control over any bank, trust company, or holding company, the operations of any of which are principally conducted inside or outside of the state.

(b) Any business organization has control over a bank, trust company, or holding company if:

1. The business organization, directly or indirectly or acting through one or more persons, owns, controls, or has power to vote 25 percent or more of the shares of any class of voting securities of the bank, trust company, or holding company;

2. The business organization controls in any manner the election of a majority of the directors or trustees of the bank, trust company, or holding company; or

3. The department determines that the business organization directly or indirectly exercises a controlling influence over the management or policies of the bank, trust company, or holding company.

(c) A business organization provides investment advisory services if, in this state, for compensation, it engages in the business of advising persons, as defined in s. 1.01, either directly or indirectly, or through publications or writings, as to the value of securities or as to the advisability of investment in or purchasing securities, or if, not being a certified public accountant, in this state and for compensation, it issues or distributes to persons, as defined in s. 1.01, analyses or reports concerning securities.

(d) The operations of a bank, trust company, or holding company are principally conducted outside this state if:

1. In the case of a bank, the largest amount of its total deposits are held outside this state;

2. In the case of a trust company, the largest amount of its total trust assets are held or administered outside this state; and

3. In the case of a holding company, the largest amount of the total deposits of all banks controlled by the holding company is held outside this state, or the largest amount of the total trust assets held by all trust companies controlled by the holding company is held or administered outside this state.

(e) "Business organization" means and includes any corporation, partnership, business trust, association, or similar organization, or any other trust unless by its terms it must terminate within 25 years or not later than 21 years and 10 months after the death of individuals living on the effective date of the trust, but shall not include any corporation the majority of the shares of which are owned by the United States or by this state.

(f) Shares of any kind or class of voting securities of a bank, trust company, or holding company shall be deemed to be indirectly owned or controlled by a business organization if:

1. The shares are owned or controlled by any bank, trust company, or holding company over which the business organization has control; or

2. The shares are held or controlled directly or indirectly by trustees for the benefit of:

a. The business organization;

b. The shareholders or members of the business organization; or

c. The employees of the business organization, whether exclusively or not.

(g) Shares of any kind or class of the voting securities of any bank, trust company, or holding company which are transferred directly or indirectly to any transferee that is indebted to the transferor, or has one or more officers, directors, trustees, or beneficiaries in common with, or subject to control by, the transferor, shall be deemed to be indirectly owned or controlled by the transferor unless the department, after opportunity for hearing, determines that the transferor is not in fact capable of controlling the transferee.

(h) "Trust company" means any bank, corporation, or other business organization, whether organized or existing under the laws of this state or any other state or jurisdiction, which engages in, or is authorized to engage in, trust business.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the restrictions and prohibitions of this section shall not apply:

(a) To the acquisition and retention of shares of the voting securities of a bank, trust company, or holding company by a bank or trust company acquiring or holding the same in a fiduciary capacity, except as provided in subparagraph (2)(f)2. and paragraph (2)(g). For the purpose of the preceding sentence, shares of a bank, trust company, or holding company shall not be deemed to have been acquired in a fiduciary capacity if the acquiring bank or trust company has sole discretionary authority to exercise voting rights with respect thereto; except that this limitation is applicable in the case of a bank or trust company acquiring such shares prior to the effective date of this act only if the bank or trust company has the right, consistent with its obligations under the instrument, agreement, or other arrangement establishing the fiduciary relationship, to divest itself of such voting rights and fails to exercise that right to divest within a reasonable period not to exceed 1 year after the effective date of this act.

(b) To the ownership or control of shares acquired by a bank, trust company, or holding company in connection with its underwriting of securities, if such shares are held only for such period of time as will permit the sale thereof on a reasonable basis.

(c) To ownership, control, or retention of shares acquired in securing or collecting a debt contracted in good faith, until 2 years after the date of acquisition or the effective date of this act [March 28, 1972], whichever is later.

(d) To the ownership or control of shares acquired by a bank, trust company, or holding company prior to January 1, 1972.

(e) To any acquisition of a bank, trust company, or investment advisory business organization if an application for approval of such acquisition or notice of proposed investment advisory activities was filed with the Department of Banking and Finance or the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or other appropriate federal regulatory agency having jurisdiction prior to June 1, 1972.

(f) To the establishment of one office in this state by a business organization which, on March 1, 1972, and for a period of 1 year prior thereto, rendered investment advisory services to trust companies or banks in this state from an office outside the state.

(g) To any bank, trust company, or holding company the operations of which are principally conducted outside this state, which, upon December 20, 1972, owned all the assets of, or control over, a bank or trust company located within and doing business within this state.

(h) To any bank authorized under 12 U.S.C.A. ss. 611-632, commonly referred to as "Edge Act Banks," when performing functions authorized under said act.

History.—s. 1, ch. 72-96; ss. 1-7, ch. 72-726; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 3, ch. 76-177; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§659.15 Filing fees.—On filing any charters or other papers relative to banks or trust companies with the Department of State, fees as prescribed in s. 607.361 shall be paid to the Department of State for the use of the state.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 57-23; ss. 10, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 16, ch. 79-9.

§659.16 Cash reserves.—

(1) Every bank shall maintain a cash reserve equal to at least 20 percent of its total deposit liability, less those deposits of public funds for which security has been pledged as provided by law. Said cash reserve shall be maintained as cash on hand, as cash on demand deposit with other banks, or as investments in securities which are direct obligations of the United States or which are fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States. Eligible securities must be owned by the bank free of pledge or encumbrance, and their par value will represent their cash reserve value. The par value of eligible securities which are owned by the bank free of pledge or encumbrance, and that portion of the par value of eligible securities which is in excess of the deposit to which pledged, may be utilized in meeting reserve requirements.

(2) Whenever the lawful reserve of any such bank as defined in subsection (1) shall be below the amount of 20 percent of its deposits, such bank shall not increase its liabilities by making any new loans or discounts otherwise than by discounting or purchasing of bills of exchange payable at sight, nor making any dividends of its profits until the required proportion between its deposits and its lawful money of the United States has been restored. The department may notify any bank whose lawful money reserves shall be below the amount above required to be maintained to make good such reserve, and if such bank shall fail in 30 days thereafter so to make good its reserve of lawful money, the department may appoint a liquidator to wind up the business of the bank as provided in s. 661.10.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 69-191; s. 1, ch. 71-169; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§659.17 Loans.—A state bank may make loans with or without security subject to the following limitations:

(1) LOANS TO OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS.—

(a) No bank shall lend in excess of 10 percent of its unimpaired capital and surplus to any one of its officers or directors, and no such loan shall be made in any amount unless previously approved by the board of directors or funded pursuant to a line of credit previously approved by the board of directors at least annually.

(b) In computing the total liabilities of any officer or director subject to the said 10 percent limitation, there shall be included:

1. Loans to any corporations in which a stock interest of 10 percent or more is held by the officer or director, excepting corporations the stock of which is listed and traded on a recognized stock exchange;

2. Loans to any partnership in which the officer or director is a general partner or in which he has an interest of 10 percent or more as a limited partner; and

3. Loans endorsed or guaranteed as to repayment by the officer or director, or by any corporation or partnership in which he holds an interest as defined herein.

(c) The loan limitation stated shall not be enlarged by the provisions of any other section of this chapter except as provided in subsection (4).

(2) LOANS TO OTHER PERSONS.—

(a) Loans and lines of credit which are unsecured shall be limited to 10 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the lending bank. However, when approved in advance by the board of directors or an authorized committee therefrom, loans and lines of credit all components of which are amply and entirely secured may be granted up to 25 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the lending bank. When outstanding loans consist of both secured and unsecured portions, the secured and unsecured portions of the loans together may not exceed 25 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the lending bank, and the unsecured portion of the loan may not exceed 10 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the lending bank. However, a first mortgage on the home of the borrower shall not be included in the 25 percent limitation.

(b) In computing the total liabilities of any person, firm, partnership, or corporation subject to the said limitations, there shall be included:

1. Loans to any corporation in which a stock interest of 50 percent or more is held;

2. Loans to any partnership in which the person is a general partner or in which he has an interest of 50 percent or more as a limited partner; and

3. Loans endorsed or guaranteed as to repayment.

(c) The department may provide by rule for security margin requirements which shall be observed by banks in complying with the ample and entire security provisions of this section.

(d) The loan limitations stated shall not be enlarged by the provisions of any other section of this chapter except as provided in subsection (4).

(3) SPECIAL PROVISIONS.—

(a) A limitation of 25 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the lending bank shall apply to the aggregate total of loans made to a corporation and upon the security of the shares of stock, bonds or other obligations of the corporation, unless the stocks or bonds are listed and traded on a recognized stock exchange, in which case no aggregate loan limit shall apply.

(b) A limitation of 10 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the lending bank shall apply to loans made to any one borrower on the security of shares of capital stock of the obligations subordinate to deposits of another bank. No aggregate limits shall apply to loans secured by the stock of another bank, or to the total number of shares of stock of another bank held as collateral by the lending bank.

(c) No loan shall be made by a bank on the security of the shares of its own capital stock or of its obligations subordinate to deposits.

(d) Loans based upon the security of real estate mortgages shall be documented as first liens, except that secondary liens may be taken:

1. To protect a loan previously made in good faith;

2. To further secure a loan otherwise amply and entirely secured;

3. As additional security for Federal Housing Administration Title 1 loans or loans made with participation or guaranty by the Small Business Administration; or

4. As security to a home improvement loan the principal amount of which does not exceed $10,000.

(4) APPLICABILITY OF LOAN LIMITATIONS.—The loan limitations otherwise provided in this section shall not apply:

(a) To loans which are fully secured by assignment of a savings account or certificate of deposit of the lending bank;

(b) To loans which are fully secured by notes, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness issued by the United States Government or fully guaranteed as to repayment by the United States Government, its agencies, bureaus, boards, or commissions;

(c) To loans made to district school boards when said loans are secured by the assignment of revenues reasonably expected to be received from the state and are otherwise made in compliance with statutes governing borrowings by such boards.

(5) APPROVAL BY BOARD.—The requirements of this section concerning approval of lending activities by the board of directors or an authorized committee therefrom shall have been met only when such approvals are recorded in the formal minutes of the actions of the board and its committees by name of borrower, amount of loan, maturity of loan, and general type of collateral.

(6) LIABILITY OF OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS.—Officers and directors shall be personally liable, jointly or severally, for any loss that may be occasioned by any willful violation of this section.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 57-42; s. 1, ch. 63-322; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 69-297; s. 1, ch. 69-300; s. 164, ch. 71-355; s. 1, ch. 74-164; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 4, ch. 76-177; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§659.18 Loans by banks where not in excess of $50,000.—

(1) Any bank shall have power, in addition to such other powers as it may have, to make loans, secured or unsecured, to any person, firm, or corporation in an amount not exceeding $50,000, at a rate of interest not to exceed the equivalent of 18 percent per annum, simple interest.

(2) No further interest or discount charge, or any other charge whatsoever, shall be made directly or indirectly on any such loan or discount of such note by such bank or trust company in addition to the charges herein expressly provided for, except that there may be charged to the borrower:

(a) A penalty not exceeding 5 percent of the amount of any payment or payments in default;

(b) The premiums on any credit life or disability insurance, in an amount not to exceed the full amount of the loan, in case such bank or trust company insures the borrower under a group insurance policy;

(c) An additional charge not to exceed the lesser of $50 or 2 percent of the principal amount of any loan, which additional charge shall be for investigating the character of the individual applying for the loan, the security submitted, and all other costs connected with making such loan;

(d) Any premiums on insurance necessary for the protection and preservation of the collateral; and

(e) Any fees or taxes paid to public officials.

Provided, however, that such banks may make a minimum interest or discount charge of $10 on any single payment loan, or $15 on any installment loan, notwithstanding such sum shall exceed the contract rate otherwise fixed by law.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 57-132; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 76-125; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 9, ch. 79-274.

§659.181 Bank loans; credit cards.—Any bank shall have the power to make loans or extensions of credit to any person, firm, or corporation, not exceeding $10,000 for each such loan or extension of credit, on a credit card or overdraft financing arrangement and to charge interest of not more than 1.5 percent per month, simple interest, on the unpaid balance of any such loans or extensions of credit computed on a monthly cycle.

History.—s. 1, ch. 69-339; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 10, ch. 79-274.

§659.19 Banks authorized to make commodity loans.—

(1) Banks may make loans known and described as "commodity loans" on the obligations of any person, firm, copartnership, association or corporation, in the form of notes or drafts secured by shipping documents, warehouse receipts or other such documents transferring or securing title covering readily marketable nonperishable staples when such property is fully covered by insurance if it is customary to insure such staples in the following percentages of the bank's capital and surplus:

(a) Twenty-five percent when the market value of such staples securing such obligation is not at any time less than 115 percent of the face amount of such obligation.

(b) Thirty percent when the market value of such staples securing such obligation is not at any time less than 120 percent of the face amount of such obligation.

(c) Thirty-five percent when the market value of such staples securing such obligation is not at any time less than 125 percent of the face amount of such obligation.

(d) Forty percent when the market value of such staples securing such obligation is not at any time less than 130 percent of the face amount of such obligation.

(e) Forty-five percent when the market value of such staples securing such obligation is not at any time less than 135 percent of the face amount of such obligation.

(f) Fifty percent when the market value of such staples securing such obligation is not at any time less than 140 percent of the face amount of such obligation.

(2) The increased loan limitation provided by this section shall not apply to obligations of any one person, firm, copartnership, association or corporation arising from the same transaction or secured upon the identical staples for more than 10 months.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§659.20 Investments.—A bank or trust company may invest its funds subject to the following definitions, restrictions, and limitations:

(1) Bonds and securities not subject to limitation:

(a) Direct obligations of the United States Government.

(b) Obligations of agencies created by act of the United States Congress and authorized thereby to issue securities or evidences of indebtedness, regardless of guarantee of repayment by the United States Government.

(c) Public Housing Authority obligations.

(d) General obligations of states of the United States and of Puerto Rico and of the political subdivisions and municipalities thereof.

(e) Obligations issued by the Florida State Board of Education under authority of the state constitution or applicable statutes.

(f) Tax anticipation certificates or warrants of counties or municipalities having maturities not exceeding 1 year.

(2) Any single issue of revenue bonds or certificates of states of the United States and of Puerto Rico and of the political subdivisions and municipalities thereof may be invested in subject to a limitation of 25 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the purchasing bank.

(3) Bonds and securities subject to a limitation of 10 percent of unimpaired capital and surplus of the purchasing bank:

(a) Corporate obligations of any one corporation which is not an affiliate or subsidiary of the banking corporation.

(b) Savings shares or certificates issued by any one savings and loan association having its principal office in Florida.

(c) Any single issue of industrial development bonds issued by a county or municipality for the benefit of a specified corporation.

(4) Up to 5 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the purchasing bank may be used to invest in or purchase bonds or other evidences of indebtedness of the State of Israel.

(5) None of the bonds or securities described in this section shall be eligible for investment in any amount unless current as to all payments of principal and interest and unless rated in one of the four highest investment grades by a recognized investment rating service or otherwise supported as to investment quality and marketability by a credit rating file compiled and maintained in current status by the purchasing bank or trust company.

(6) A bank or trust company may invest in the stock of incorporated companies to the extent hereinafter defined:

(a) Stock of the Federal Reserve Bank of this district may be purchased and retained as required to maintain membership in the Federal Reserve System.

(b) Stock of the Federal National Mortgage Association may be purchased and retained as required in connection with mortgage transactions with the said association.

(c) Up to 5 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank or trust company may be invested in small business investment companies which are organized under the provisions of the United States Code.

(d) Up to 10 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank or trust company may be invested in a bank service corporation, organized and operated as defined in this chapter.

(e) With the prior written approval of the department, a bank or trust company may invest an aggregate amount up to 20 percent of its unimpaired capital and surplus in the stock of one or more operating subsidiary corporations organized for any of the following purposes: Owning and servicing real estate mortgages, owning and leasing real and personal property, issuing credit cards, operating a credit bureau, or for such other purposes as the department may authorize.

(f) Up to 10 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank or trust company may be invested in a clearing corporation as defined in subsection 678.102(3).

(7) Investment securities shall be entered on the books of the bank or trust company at the fair market value on the date of acquisition. Premiums paid in excess of par value shall be amortized over the life of the security; discount may be accreted.

(8) A bank or trust company may invest in real estate to the extent hereinafter defined:

(a) Up to 50 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank may be invested in the direct ownership, or in leasehold improvements, of land and buildings utilized by the bank in the transaction of its business. In lieu thereof, with the prior written approval of the department, up to 50 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank may be invested in the stock of a corporation which owns the land and buildings within which the business of the bank is transacted.

(b) An additional investment up to 10 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank may be made for the acquisition of land or buildings for future banking use, or as a protection against undesirable encroachment of the banking premises or abandonment or deterioration of property in the immediate vicinity of the banking house. The bank may hold, improve, sell, lease, operate, or otherwise exercise the rights of an owner of any such property.

(c) The real estate investment limitations provided by this subsection may not be exceeded except with the prior written approval of the department.

(9) A bank or trust company may own or lease furniture, fixtures, machinery, and equipment such as may be necessary to the transaction of its banking business, and may be the owner and lessor of personal property which is acquired pursuant to a written contract with a specified lessee.

(10) A bank or trust company may acquire property of any kind to secure, protect, or satisfy a loan or investment previously made in good faith, and such property shall be entered on the bank's books and held and disposed of subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(a) The book entry shall be the lesser of the balance of the loan or investment plus acquisition costs and accrued interest or the appraisal value or market value of the property acquired which shall be determined as near as possible to the date of acquisition.

(b) The bank shall have evidence of ownership of all property acquired and shall maintain subsidiary ledgers adequate to the separate recording of all income and expense attributable to its ownership of such property.

(c) Unless an extension of time is approved in writing by the department, real estate shall be sold or charged off within 5 years of the date of acquisition, and personal property shall be sold or charged off within 6 months of the date of acquisition.

(11) Special provisions:

(a) A bank or trust company may invest up to 1 percent of its unimpaired capital and surplus in the stock of the Florida Industrial Development Corporation, and may thereafter deal in the securities or other evidences of debt of that corporation as provided for in chapter 289.

(b) A bank or trust company may invest in the stock or securities of a community corporation organized to promote the physical, social, or moral well-being of the members of the community in which the bank is located. However, the total of all such investments carried as assets of the bank may not exceed 2 percent of the unimpaired capital and surplus of the bank.

(1) A bank or trust company may borrow money and issue evidences of indebtedness for a loan for temporary purposes in the usual course of its business.

(2) A state bank may at any time, pursuant to action taken by its board of directors, and after obtaining the written approval of the department and the approval of stockholders holding not less than two-thirds of the outstanding voting stock of the bank evidenced either in a writing signed by the stockholders or by vote at a legally called and held meeting of the stockholders, issue and sell convertible and nonconvertible capital notes and convertible and nonconvertible capital debentures having a final maturity of not more than 25 years from the date of issue, in such amounts and under such terms and conditions as shall be approved by the department subject, with respect to the principal amount thereof, to the limitations imposed by this chapter on indebtedness of state banks and trust companies. If the capital notes or capital debentures are not subject to obligatory prepayments of principal at least annually, the issuing bank shall, at the end of the third year from the date of issue of the capital notes or debentures, establish and maintain a suitable sinking fund for the amortization of the principal amount thereof. Capital notes and capital debentures issued pursuant to the provisions of this subsection, and claims of holders thereof, shall be subordinate to the claims of depositors and all other creditors of the issuing state bank, regardless of whether the claims of, or the liability of the issuing bank to, the depositors arose before or after the issuance of such capital notes or debentures, but shall be superior to the claims of shareholders for dividends, reserve profits, or other claims on account of shares of capital stock held by them. The holders of the capital notes and the holders of the capital debentures shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of the issuing state bank, and shall not be liable for assessments.

(3) No state bank or trust company shall at any time be indebted, or in any way liable, to an amount exceeding the amount of its capital stock at such time actually paid in and remaining undiminished by losses or otherwise plus 50 percent of the amount of its unimpaired surplus fund, except on account of demands of the nature following:

(a) Moneys deposited with or collected by the bank.

(b) Bills of exchange or drafts drawn against money actually on deposit to the credit of the state bank or due thereto.

(c) Liabilities to the stockholders of the state bank or trust company for dividends and reserve profits.

(d) Liabilities incurred under the provisions of the Federal Reserve Act.

(e) Liabilities incurred under the provisions of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act.

(f) Liabilities created by the endorsement of accepted bills of exchange payable abroad actually owned by the endorsing bank and discounted at home or abroad.

(g) Liabilities incurred under the provisions of s. 202 of Title II of the Federal Farm Loan Act, approved July 17, 1916, as amended by the Agricultural Credits Act of 1923.

(h) Liabilities incurred for moneys borrowed from a bank when such borrowing is made with the express written approval of the department.

(4) Unrepaid proceeds of sales of capital notes and capital debentures, as provided herein, shall be considered as a part of the aggregate amount of capital and surplus in computing loan and investment limitations and in evaluating adequacy of capital of the issuing bank.

(5) The department may promulgate reasonable rules and regulations implementing the provisions of this section or otherwise relating to the borrowing and the capital notes and capital debentures authorized by this section.

1659.24 Depositories of public moneys and pledge of assets.—

(1) Banks shall be depositories of public moneys under such regulations as may be prescribed by the department and they may also be employed as financial agents of the state and they shall perform such reasonable duties as depositories of public moneys and financial agents of the state as may be required of them. The department shall require banks so designated to give satisfactory security by the deposit of bonds of the United States, the state or political subdivisions or other satisfactory security for the safekeeping and prompt payment of the public moneys deposited with them and for the faithful performance of their duties as financial agents of the state. A bank or trust company may also pledge its assets to:

(a) Enable it to act as agent for the sale of obligations of the United States.

(b) Secure borrowed funds.

(c) Secure deposits when the depositor is required to obtain such security by the laws of the United States or the laws of this state.

(2) Notwithstanding any rule of law, the provisions of any statute of the state, whether by general or special act of the Legislature, or the provisions of any law, ordinance, rule, or regulation of the state or any political subdivision thereof or of any municipality, commission, board or body, whether corporate or otherwise, created by or pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution or any statute of the state, or of any of the officers of any thereof requiring security for deposits of funds in the form of surety bond, or in any other form, security for such deposits shall not be required to the extent that such deposits are insured under the provisions of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, as amended, or any amendments thereto.

(3) Any notes, bonds, or other securities, other than shares of stock in which a state bank is authorized by applicable law or regulation to invest any of its funds shall be accepted as satisfactory security for the deposit of funds, for the safekeeping and prompt payment of moneys deposited, and for the faithful performance of duties as financial agents, whether such moneys so deposited be funds of, or under the control of, the state or any political subdivision thereof, any municipality, or of any district, commission, board, or body, whether corporate or otherwise, created by or pursuant to the provisions of the constitution or any statute of the state, or of any officer of any of the foregoing. The provisions of this subsection shall be cumulative and shall not be subject to the restrictions or the provisions of any other statute, regulation, or ordinance relating to the type, characteristics, or form of securities acceptable or required in connection with deposits of any public funds or the qualification of depositories therefor.

cf.—s. 659.21 Security of deposits.

659.25 Rights of minority stockholders.—No bank or trust company and no director, officer, or employee thereof shall permit any stockholder, other than a qualified director, officer, or employee thereof, to have access to, or to examine or inspect, any of the books or records of such bank or trust company, other than its general statement book showing its general assets and liabilities and a list of shareholders as provided in s. 658.10(5).

659.27 Transactions outside of regular banking hours or on holidays.—No other law shall affect the validity of, or render void or voidable, the acceptance of deposits, the payment, certification, or acceptance of a check or other negotiable instrument, or any other transaction by a bank or trust company because done or performed on any holiday, or half-holiday, or during any time other than regular banking hours; provided that nothing herein shall be construed to compel any bank or trust company which by law or custom closes at its usual designated time on any Saturday or for the whole, or any part of any legal holiday, to keep open for the transaction of business, or to perform any of the acts or transactions aforesaid on any Saturday after such hour, or on any legal holiday, except at its own option.

659.271 Permissive legal holidays; Wednesdays, Thursdays, or Saturdays.—

(1) Any bank or trust company lawfully doing business in the state may be closed on any one or more Wednesdays, Thursdays, or Saturdays upon the adoption of a resolution to such effect by a majority vote of the board of directors, or the board of trustees thereof. Any one or more of such Wednesdays, Thursdays, or Saturdays shall with respect to any such bank or trust company, which shall be closed thereon in accordance with the provisions of this section, constitute a holiday for all purposes whatsoever, as regards the time payable, the presenting for payment, or acceptance, and of the protesting and giving notice of a protest and notice of dishonor of bills of exchange, bank checks and promissory notes drawn on and payable at such bank or trust company, so closed and any other banking business of whatsoever character. All such bills of exchange, checks and notes otherwise presentable for acceptance or payment at any such bank on any Wednesdays, Thursdays or Saturdays when such bank shall in accordance with the provisions hereof be closed, shall be deemed to be payable and presentable for acceptance or payment on the next succeeding business day.

(2) For the purpose of this section the term "bank" shall include any banking organization as defined in the banking law whether chartered under state or federal statutes, any national bank or federal reserve bank. The term "trust company" shall mean any company authorized by federal or state law to carry on a trust business as defined in the statutes of the state.

(3) Whenever any legal holiday shall fall upon a Wednesday, Thursday, or Saturday the next following day which, except for the provisions of this subsection, would otherwise be a business day shall, with respect to any bank or trust company which shall be closed on any one or more Wednesdays, Thursdays, or Saturdays, in accordance with the provisions of subsection (1), be deemed a legal holiday for all and any of the purposes and business mentioned in subsection (1); provided, however, that any such bank or trust company may elect to treat any such next following business day as a business day and open its doors for the transaction of its general banking business; and provided further that any such bank or trust company may, on any day which by the provisions hereof is deemed and declared to be a legal holiday, open its doors or facilities for the transaction or conduct of a limited banking business by the operation of one or more, but less than all, its departments, sections, or functions, and at the election of such bank or trust company, the limited business transacted or conducted on such day shall be deemed for all purposes as transacted or conducted on the next following business day.

History.—ss. 1, 2, ch. 29847, 1955; s. 1, ch. 57-394; s. 1, ch. 65-36; s. 2, ch. 71-160; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1659.272 Closing during emergencies and other special days.—

(1) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Bank" includes commercial banks, savings banks, industrial savings banks, trust companies, any agency of a foreign banking organization authorized by law to conduct its business in the state, any person or association of persons authorized by law to carry on the business of banking in the state, and, to the extent that the provisions hereof are not inconsistent with, and do not infringe upon, paramount federal law, national banks.

(b) "Commissioner" means the officer of this state designated by law to exercise supervision over banks chartered by this state, and any other person lawfully exercising such powers, whether as a deputy to such officer, or as the head of the department of the state designated by law to exercise supervision over banks chartered by this state or his deputy, or as a division director or bureau chief or section administrator of or within such department, or otherwise.

(c) "Emergency" means any condition or occurrence, actual or threatened, which may interfere physically with the conduct of normal business operations of a bank or of one or more or all of the departments, sections, functions, offices or facilities of a bank, or which poses an imminent or existing threat to the safety or security of persons or property, or both. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, an emergency may exist, arise, or be imminent as the result of any one or more, actual or threatened, of the following: fire; flood; earthquake; tornadoes; hurricanes; wind, rain or other storms; labor disputes and strikes; power failures; transportation failures; interruption of communication facilities; shortages of fuel, food, transportation, or labor; robbery or burglary or attempted robbery or burglary; actual or threatened enemy attacks; epidemics or other catastrophes; explosions; and riots, civil commotions, and other acts of lawlessness or violence, actual or threatened.

(d) "Office" means any place at which a bank transacts its business or conducts operations relating to its business. However, this section shall not be deemed or construed to authorize a bank to conduct its banking business at any place or places not otherwise authorized or permitted by law.

(e) "Officers" means the person or persons designated by the board of directors, board of trustees, or other governing body of a bank to act for the bank in carrying out the provisions of this section or, in the absence of any such designation or in the absence of the officers so designated, the president or any other officer currently in charge of the bank or of the office or offices in question.

(f) The authorizations herein provided for a bank "to close" in case of an emergency shall mean and include the authority not to open on any business or banking day and, if having opened, to close and suspend business.

(2) POWERS OF COMMISSIONER.—Whenever the commissioner is of the opinion that an emergency exists, or is impending, in this state or in any part of this state, he may, by proclamation, authorize banks located in the affected area or areas to close or to close any or all the departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities thereof. In addition, if the commissioner is of the opinion that an emergency exists, or is impending, which affects, or may affect, a particular bank or banks, or one or more particular departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities thereof, but not banks located in the area generally, he may authorize the particular bank or banks to close or to close one or more of the departments, sections, functions, offices or facilities thereof. The bank or banks affected by any such proclamation or authorization may close in accordance therewith. Such banks and such of the departments, sections, functions, offices or facilities thereof so closed may remain closed until the commissioner proclaims that the emergency has ended, or until such earlier time as the officers of the bank determine that the bank or any of its departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities, theretofore closed because of the emergency, should reopen, and, in either event, for such further time thereafter as may reasonably be required to reopen.

(3) POWERS OF OFFICERS.—

(a) Whenever the officers of a bank are of the opinion that an emergency exists, or is impending, which affects, or may affect, the bank or one or more or all of its departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities, they shall have the authority, in the reasonable exercise of their discretion, to close the bank or any one or more or all of the departments, sections, functions, offices or facilities thereof on any business or banking day or days during the continuation of such emergency, even if the commissioner has not issued and does not issue a proclamation of emergency. The office or offices so closed may remain closed until such time as the officers determine that the emergency has ended and for such further time thereafter as may reasonably be required to reopen. However, in no case shall such bank or any department, section, function, office, or facility thereof remain closed pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph for more than 48 consecutive hours, excluding other legal holidays, without requesting the approval of the commissioner.

(b) The officers of a bank may close the bank or any one or more or all of the bank's departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities on any day or days designated, by proclamation of the President of the United States or the governor of this state, as a day or days of mourning, rejoicing, or other special observance.

(4) NOTICE TO BE GIVEN.—

(a) A bank chartered under the laws of this state closing or closing any of its departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities, pursuant to the authority granted under subsection (3), shall give notice of its action to the commissioner as promptly as conditions reasonably will permit and by any means reasonably available.

(b) A national bank closing, or closing any of its departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities, pursuant to the authority granted by this section shall give notice of its action to the comptroller of the currency as promptly as conditions reasonably will permit and by any means reasonably available.

(5) EFFECT OF CLOSING AND PARTIAL CLOSING.—

(a) Any day on which a bank, or any one or more of its departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities, is closed during all or any part of its normal banking hours pursuant to the authorization granted in this section shall be, with respect to said bank or, if not all its departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities are closed, then with respect to any of its departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities which are closed, a legal holiday for all purposes with respect to any business of any kind or character of the bank, or of any of its departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities, so closed, including, but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, matters relating to the time payable, the presenting for payment, or acceptance, and the protesting and giving notice of protest and notice of dishonor of bills of exchange, bank checks, promissory notes, and other items drawn on or payable at such bank, and any other banking business of any kind or character. No liability or loss of rights of any kind on the part of any bank or director, officer, or employee thereof shall accrue or result by virtue of any closing authorized by this section.

(b) On any day which by the provisions of this section is deemed or declared to be a legal holiday with respect to any bank or banks or office or offices thereof, the officers thereof may, in the exercise of their discretion, cause such bank or any office thereof to open its doors or facilities for the transaction or conduct of a limited business by the operation of one or more, but less than all, of its departments, sections, offices, functions, or facilities. On any day when, pursuant to the provisions of this section, less than all the departments, sections, functions, offices, or facilities are open, at the election of such bank the limited business transacted or conducted on such day shall be deemed for all purposes as transacted or conducted on the next following business day which is not deemed or declared as a legal holiday pursuant to the provisions of this section or of any other provision of law.

(6) PROVISIONS CUMULATIVE.—The provisions of this section shall be construed and applied as being in addition to, and not in substitution for or limitation of, any other law of this state or of the United States authorizing the closing of a bank or excusing the delay by a bank in the performance of its duties and obligations because of emergencies or conditions beyond the bank's control, or otherwise.

1659.29 Deposits in two or more names.—Bank or trust company deposits, or any part thereof, or any interest therein made in the names of two or more persons, payable to either, or payable to either or the survivor, and deposits made to an account standing in the names of two or more persons payable as hereinabove-mentioned, may be paid to, or pursuant to the order of, either or any of said persons or to, or pursuant to the order of, the guardian of the property of any such person who is incompetent, whether the other or others be living or not and whether the other or others be competent or not; and the check or other order for payment of any such person, or the receipt or acquittance of the person so paid, shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to the bank or trust company for any payment so made.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 2, ch. 29939, 1955; s. 1, ch. 63-472; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1659.291 Deposits and accounts in two or more names; presumption as to vesting on death.—

(1) Unless otherwise expressly provided in the signature contract card or other similar instrument delivered to and accepted by a bank in connection with the opening or maintenance of an account, including a certificate of deposit, in the names of two or more persons, whether minor or adult, payable to or on the order of one or more of them or the surviving account holder or holders, all such persons and each person depositing funds in any such account shall be presumed to have intended that upon the death of any such person all rights, title, interest and claim in, to, and in respect of, said deposits and account and the additions thereto, and the obligation of the bank created thereby, less all proper setoffs and charges in favor of the bank, shall vest in the surviving account holder or holders.

(2) The presumption herein created may be overcome only by proof of fraud or undue influence or clear and convincing proof of a contrary intent. In the absence of such proof, all rights, title, interest and claims in, to, and in respect of, said deposits and account and the additions thereto, and the obligation of the bank created thereby, less all proper setoffs and charges in favor of the bank against any one or more of such persons, shall, upon the death of any such person, vest in the surviving account holder or holders, notwithstanding the absence of proof of any donative intent or delivery, possession, dominion, control, or acceptance on the part of any person, and notwithstanding the provisions hereof may constitute or cause a vesting or disposition of property or rights or interests therein, testamentary in nature, which, except for the provisions of this section, would or might otherwise be void or voidable.

(3) Nothing herein contained shall abridge, impair, or affect the validity, effectiveness, or operation of any of the provisions of ss. 659.29 and 674.405 or the rights of banks to make payments as therein provided.

History.—s. 1, ch. 71-205; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 256, ch. 79-400.

659.292 Convenience accounts.—

(1) "Convenience account" means a deposit account, other than a certificate of deposit, in the name of one individual (principal), in which one or more other individuals have been designated as agent with the right to make deposits to and to withdraw funds from or draw checks on such account. The designation of agents, the substitution or removal of agents, or any other change in the contractual terms or provisions governing a convenience account may be made only by the principal. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the agency relationship created under this account shall not be affected by the subsequent death or incompetence of the principal.

(2) All rights, interest, and claims in, to, and in respect of, said deposits and convenience account and the additions thereto shall be that of the principal only.

(3) Any balance standing to the credit of a convenience account shall be paid to the guardian of the property of the principal, to any person designated in a court order entered pursuant to s. 735.206, to any person designated by letter or other writing as authorized by s. 735.301, or to the personal representative of the deceased principal's estate, upon presentation of effective written notice and, if applicable, proof of judicial appointment of such guardian or personal representative by a court of competent jurisdiction. No such court order or letter, written notice, or proof of judicial appointment shall be effective until it is served upon and received by an officer of the bank at the banking house during regular banking hours and in such time and in such manner as to afford the bank a reasonable opportunity to act on it prior to the happening of any of the events described in s. 674.303. No other notice, knowledge, or any other information shown to have been available to a bank shall affect its right to the protection provided in this section.

(4) Payment by a bank pursuant to this section shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to the bank from all claims for payments so paid.

(5) Without qualifying any other right to setoff or lien, and subject to any contractual provision, if the principal is indebted to the bank, the bank has a right to setoff against the account.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-160; s. 1, ch. 79-22.

659.30 Deposits in trust.—Bank or trust company deposits made by any person describing himself and making such deposit as trustee for another, and no other or further notice of the existence and terms of a legal and valid trust than such description shall have been given in writing to such bank, in the event of the death of the person so described as trustee, such deposit, or any part thereof, together with the dividends or interest thereon may be paid to the person for whom the deposit was thus stated to have been made.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.35 Limitations; statements as correct.—

(1) Unless written objection thereto shall have been theretofore delivered by the depositor to the bank, a statement of account rendered by any bank or trust company in this state to a depositor, accompanied by vouchers which are the basis of debit entries in such account, shall, after the expiration of 3 years from the date rendered, be conclusively presumed to be correct and the depositor shall thereafter be barred from questioning same.

(2) In the absence of written contract between a bank and a depositor providing otherwise, a statement of account of a depositor, with accompanying vouchers, shall be deemed to have been rendered to the depositor within the meaning of this section when prepared and lodged by the bank at its statement window or other customary place for delivery to the depositor. Any such statement and vouchers, either or both, which are not demanded by the depositor within 3 years may be destroyed by the bank without accountability or liability therefor to anyone.

(3) Nothing herein contained shall be construed to relieve a depositor from any duty or obligation imposed by law or by contract heretofore or hereafter made to examine such account and vouchers and to report any errors or irregularities within a shorter period of time than herein mentioned, nor from the legal consequences of the depositor's failure to perform any such duty or obligation.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.36 Issuance of postdated checks.—It shall be the duty of the person drawing a postdated check to notify, in writing, the bank or trust company upon which such check is drawn, giving a complete description thereof, including the name of the payee, the date, the number and amount thereof, otherwise the bank or trust company shall not be liable for erroneously paying such check.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.38 Adverse claim to bank or trust company deposit.—Notice to any bank or trust company of an adverse claim to a deposit standing on its books to the credit of any person shall not be effectual to cause said bank or trust company to recognize said adverse claimant unless said adverse claimant shall also either:

(1) Procure a restraining order, injunction or other appropriate process against said bank or trust company from a court in a cause therein instituted by him wherein the person to whose credit the deposit stands is made a party and served with process, or

(2) Execute to said bank or trust company in form and with sureties acceptable to it, a bond, indemnifying said bank or trust company from any and all liability, loss, damage, costs and expenses, for and on account of the payment of such adverse claim or the dishonor of the check or other order of the person to whose credit the deposit stands on the books of said bank or trust company.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.41 Transmitting money; foreign exchange.—

(1) A bank may accept money for transmission and may transmit money.

(2) A bank may buy and sell foreign exchange to the extent necessary to meet the needs of customers.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.411 Exchange rates.—Whenever a check or checks are forwarded or presented to a bank for a payment, except when presented by the payee in person, the paying bank or remitting bank may pay or remit the same, at its option, either in money or in exchange drawn on its reserve agent or agents in the City of New York or in any reserve city within the Sixth Federal Reserve District; provided, however, no bank or trust company organized under the laws of this state shall settle any check drawn on it otherwise than at par. The provisions of this section shall not apply with respect to the settlement of a check sent to such bank or trust company as a special collection item.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 29939, 1955; s. 1, ch. 67-480; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.412 Exchange collection not ground for protest.—It is unlawful for any person or notary public, or other official in this state, knowingly, to protest any check for nonpayment, when payment is declined solely on the ground that the paying bank exercises its option to collect exchange on such check, not exceeding one-eighth of 1 percent of the amount of such check, or the minimum charge of not less than 10 cents, as set forth in s. 659.411 and any person, notary public, or other official knowingly violating this section shall be responsible for all damages to all interested persons or corporations and his official bond shall be liable therefor.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

659.42 Definitions for ss. 659.43-659.51.—As used in ss. 659.43-659.51:

(1) "Lessee" means a person contracting with a lessor for the use of a safe-deposit box.

(2) "Lessor" means a bank or trust company, renting safe-deposit facilities.

(3) "Safe-deposit box" means a safe-deposit box, vault, or other safe-deposit receptacle maintained by a lessor and the rules relating thereto apply to property or documents kept in safekeeping in the bank's vault.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.43 Authority to engage in leasing safe-deposit facilities.—A state bank or trust company may maintain and lease safe-deposit boxes and may accept property or documents for safekeeping if, except in the case of night depositories, it issues a receipt therefor.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.44 Access by fiduciaries.—Where a safe-deposit box is made available by a lessor to one or more persons acting as fiduciaries, the lessor may, except as otherwise expressly provided in the lease or the writings pursuant to which such fiduciaries are acting, allow access thereto as follows:

(1) By any one or more of the persons acting as executors or administrators.

(2) By any one or more of the persons otherwise acting as fiduciaries when authorized in writing signed by all other persons so acting.

(3) By any agent authorized in writing signed by all of the persons acting as fiduciaries.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.45 Effect of lessee's death or incompetence.—Where a lessor without knowledge of the death or of an adjudication of legal incompetence of the lessee deals with his agent pursuant to a written power of attorney signed by such lessee, the transaction binds the lessee's estate and the lessee.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.46 Search procedure on death of lessee.—Provided satisfactory proof of the death of the lessee is presented, a lessor shall permit the person named in a court order for the purpose, or if no order has been served upon the lessor, the spouse, a parent, an adult descendant or a person named as an executor in a copy of a purported will produced by him, to open and examine the contents of a safe-deposit box leased by a decedent, or any documents delivered by a decedent for safekeeping, in the presence of an officer of the lessor; and the lessor, if so requested by such person, must deliver:

(1) Any writing purporting to be a will of the decedent to the court having probate jurisdiction in the county wherein the bank is located.

(2) Any writing purporting to be a deed to a burial plot or to give burial instructions to the person making the request for a search; and

(3) Any document purporting to be an insurance policy on the life of the decedent to the beneficiary named therein; but no other contents shall be removed pursuant to this section.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.47 Lease to minor.—A bank may lease a safe-deposit box to and in connection therewith deal with a minor with the same effect as if leasing to and dealing with a person of full legal capacity.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.48 Delivery of safe-deposit box contents or property held in safekeeping to personal representative.—

(1) The lessor shall immediately deliver to a resident personal representative, upon presentation of a certified copy of his letters of authority, all property deposited with it by the decedent for safekeeping, and shall grant him access to any safe-deposit box in the decedent's name and permit him to remove from such box any part or all of the contents thereof.

(2) If a foreign personal representative of a deceased lessee has been appointed by a court of any other state, a lessor may, at its discretion, after 3 months from the issuance to such foreign personal representative of his letters of authority, deliver to such foreign personal representative all properties deposited with it for safekeeping and the contents of any safe-deposit box in the name of the decedent if at such time the lessor has not received written notice of the appointment of a personal representative in this state, and such delivery shall be a valid discharge of the lessor for all property or contents so delivered. Such foreign personal representative shall furnish the lessor with an affidavit setting forth facts showing the domicile of the deceased lessee to be other than this state, and stating that there are no unpaid creditors of the deceased lessee in this state, together with a certified copy of his letters of authority. A lessor making delivery pursuant to this subsection shall maintain in its files a receipt executed by such foreign personal representative which itemizes in detail all property so delivered.

(3) No lessor shall be liable for damages or penalty by reason of any delivery made pursuant to this section.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 65-108; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.49 Access to safe-deposit boxes leased in two or more names.—

(1) When specifically provided in the lease or rental agreement covering safe-deposit boxes heretofore or hereafter rented or leased in the names of two or more lessees, that access to said safe-deposit box shall be granted to either lessee, or to either or the survivor, access to said safe-deposit box shall be granted to:

(a) Either or any of said lessees, regardless of whether or not the other lessee or lessees or any of them be living or be competent, or

(b) The executor or administrator of the estate of either or any of said lessees who is deceased, or the guardian of the property of either or any of said lessees who is incompetent, and in either such case, the provisions of s. 659.44, shall apply, and the signature on the safe-deposit entry or access record (or the receipt or acquittance, in the case of property or documents otherwise held for safekeeping) shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to the lessor for granting access to such safe-deposit box, or for the delivery of such property or documents otherwise held for safekeeping.

(2) No lessor shall be held liable for damages or penalty by reason of any access granted or delivery made pursuant to this section.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 63-110; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.50 Adverse claims to contents of safe-deposit box.—

(1) An adverse claim to the contents of a safe-deposit box, or to property held in safekeeping, is not sufficient to require the lessor to deny access to its lessee unless:

(a) The lessor is directed to do so by a court order issued in an action in which the lessee is served with process and named as a party by a name which identifies him with the name in which the safe-deposit box is leased or the property held; or

(b) The safe-deposit box is leased or the property is held in the name of a lessee with the addition of words indicating that the contents or property are held in a fiduciary capacity, and the adverse claim is supported by a written statement of facts disclosing that it is made by, or on behalf of, a beneficiary and that there is reason to know that the fiduciary will misappropriate the trust property.

(2) A claim is also an adverse claim where one of several lessees claims, contrary to the terms of the lease, an exclusive right of access, or where one or more persons claim a right of access as agents or officers of a lessee to the exclusion of others as agents or officers, or where it is claimed that a lessee is the same person as one using another name.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.51 Special remedies for nonpayment of rent.—

(1) If the rental due on a safe-deposit box has not been paid for 6 months, the lessor may send a notice by registered mail to the last known address of the lessee stating that the safe-deposit box will be opened and its contents stored at the expense of the lessee unless payment of the rental is made within 30 days. If the rental is not paid within 30 days from the mailing of the notice, the box may be opened in the presence of an officer of the lessor and of a notary public who is not a director, officer, employee or stockholder of the lessor. The contents shall be sealed in a package by a notary public who shall write on the outside the name of the lessee and the date of the opening. The notary public shall execute a certificate reciting the name of the lessee, the date of the opening of the box and a list of its contents. The certificate shall be included in the package and a copy of the certificate shall be sent by registered mail to the last-known address of the lessee. The package shall then be placed in the general vaults of the lessor at a rental not exceeding the rental previously charged for the box.

(2) If the contents of the safe-deposit box have not been claimed within 1 year of the mailing of the certificate, the lessor may send a further notice to the last known address of the lessee stating that, unless the accumulated charges are paid within 30 days, the contents of the box will be sold at public auction at a specified time and place, or, in the case of securities listed on a stock exchange, will be sold upon the exchange on or after a specified date and that unsalable items will be destroyed. The time, place and manner of sale shall also be posted conspicuously on the premises of the lessor and advertised once in a newspaper of general circulation in the community. If the articles are not claimed, they may then be sold in accordance with the notice. The balance of the proceeds, after deducting accumulated charges, including the expenses of advertising and conducting the sale, shall be deposited to the credit of the lessee in any account maintained by him, or if none, shall be deemed a deposit account with the bank or trust company operating the safe-deposit facility, and shall be identified on the books of the bank as arising from the sale of contents of a safe-deposit box.

(3) Any documents or writings of a private nature, and having little or no apparent value need not be offered for sale, but shall be retained, unless claimed by the owner, for the period specified for unclaimed contents, after which they may be destroyed.

(4) The remedies provided for in this section shall apply to rental accrued or contents of safe-deposit boxes held by banks prior to the enactment of chapter 28016, Laws of Florida, 1953, chs. 658-661.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 4, ch. 29939, 1955; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

cf.—s. 1.01 Defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

§659.52 Banking business by unauthorized persons.—

(1) No person other than banks shall:

(a) Solicit or receive deposits, issue certificates of deposit, with or without provision for interest, make payments on checks, issue or sell travelers checks, or money orders, or transact business in the way or manner of a commercial bank or trust company; provided, however, that the provisions of this paragraph prohibiting persons other than banks from issuing or selling travelers checks and money orders shall not apply to the travelers checks or money orders issued by any person expressly authorized so to do by the laws of this state providing for the licensing of a person to engage in the business of selling and issuing travelers checks and money orders. The issuance or sale by banks of travelers checks, money orders, or other instruments for the transmission or payment of money, by or through employees or agents of the bank off the bank premises shall not be deemed a violation of or inconsistent with the provisions of s. 659.06, relating to the place of transacting business by banks.

(b) Advertise that it is accepting deposits and issuing notes or certificates therefor, or making use of any office sign at the place where its business is transacted having thereon any artificial or corporate name or other words indicating that such place or office is the place or office of a bank or trust company, that deposits are received there or payments made on checks or any other form of banking business transacted, nor shall any such persons make use of or circulate any letterheads, billheads, blank notes, blank receipts, certificates or circulars, or any written or printed paper whatever having thereon any article or corporate name or other words indicating that such business is the business of a bank, commercial bank or trust company, or transact business in such a way or manner as to lead the public to believe that its business is that of a bank or trust company, except to the extent expressly authorized by this code.

(c) Transact business under any name or title which contains the word "bank," "banker," "banking," or "trust company," or which indicates that such business is the business of a bank or trust company; provided, however, that any bank holding company registered under the United States Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, 12 United States Code, ss. 1841 through 1849, as amended, may utilize a name or title which contains the word "bank," "banker," or "banking," or any plural thereof. Any building and loan association or savings and loan association having in its corporate name words not clearly indicating the nature of its business shall state in or on all signs, letterheads, and advertising, "This is a building and loan association," or "This is a savings and loan association," or words to that effect. This paragraph, as amended by chapter 61-164, Laws of Florida, shall not apply to any corporation or business using such words as herein defined on the effective date of said chapter 61-164.

(2) This subsection shall in no wise restrict or impair any right, authority or power granted savings banks, Morris Plan or industrial banks or credit unions organized and operated under the laws of the state.

(3) Any building and loan association may issue shares and investment certificates and do such other business as may be authorized by the laws of the state relating to building and loan associations, but no building and loan association shall advertise or hold itself out to the public as a bank.

(4) Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall be liable for a fine in the amount of $100 per day, or part thereof, during which such violation continues. Any court, in a proceeding brought by the commissioner or any interested person affected thereby, may enjoin any person from using words in violation of the provisions of this section, or from transacting business in violation of this code, or in such a way or manner as to lead the public to believe that its business is that of a bank, commercial bank or trust company.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 59-129; ss. 1, 2, ch. 61-164; s. 1, ch. 65-418; s. 1, ch. 69-227; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1659.53 Miscellaneous offenses.—

(1) Any director, officer or employee of a bank or trust company who asks for or receives, consents or agrees to receive any commission, emolument or gratuity or any money, property or things of value for his own personal benefit, or of personal advantage for procuring or endeavoring to procure for any person any loan from such bank or trust company or the purchase or discount of any note, draft, check, bill of exchange or other obligation by such bank or trust company, or for permitting any person to overdraw any account with such bank shall be guilty of a felony.

(2) Any director, officer, agent or employee of any bank or trust company who knowingly receives or possesses himself of any of its property otherwise than in payment of a just demand, and with intent to defraud, omits to make or cause to be made a full and true entry thereof in its books and accounts, or concurs in omitting to make any material entry thereof, shall be guilty of a felony.

(3) Any director, officer, agent or employee of a bank or trust company who without authority from the board of directors of such bank, makes, draws, issues, puts forth or assigns any certificate of deposit, draft, order, bill of exchange, acceptance, note, debenture, bond or other obligation, or mortgage, judgment or decree or who makes any false entry in any book, report or statement of such bank or trust company with intent to defraud such bank, or any other person, firm, or corporation, or to deceive any officer of such bank, or the commissioner or any examiner appointed to examine the affairs of such bank or trust company, shall be guilty of a felony.

(4) It shall be unlawful for any director, officer, agent, or employee of a bank or trust company willfully to violate any of the provisions of this Banking Code.

(5) It shall be unlawful for any director, officer, agent, or employee of a state bank or trust company to deliver or disclose to the department or any of its employees any examination report, report of condition, report of income and dividends, internal audit, account, statement, or document known by him to be fraudulent or to be false as to any material matter.

(6) No bank or trust company shall purchase any real property or any contract arising from the sale of real property, or any note or bond in which any director, officer, or controlling stockholders of such bank, is personally or financially interested, directly or indirectly for his own account, for himself, or as a partner or agent of others without first obtaining the approval of the majority of the board of directors, excluding his own vote.

(7) No officer or director without prior approval of the board of a bank or trust company shall purchase directly or indirectly or be interested in the purchase of any of the bank's assets.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 5, ch. 76-177; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1659.54 Unlawful service as an officer.—It shall be unlawful for any person to serve as an officer or director of a bank who:

(1) Has been convicted of an offense constituting a violation of the banking laws, involving moral turpitude, or a breach of trust.

(2) Is indebted to the bank for more than 30 days upon a judgment that has become final.

(3) Has any interest adverse to the bank unless such interest is promptly and fully disclosed in writing to the board of directors of the bank.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1659.55 Criminal penalties.—Any person responsible for an act or omission expressly declared to be unlawful or a criminal offense by this code shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083, or, if the act or omission was intended to defraud, of a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 672, ch. 71-136; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1659.56 Injunction.—Whenever a violation of this code is threatened or impending, and will cause substantial injury to a bank or trust company or to the depositors, creditors, or stockholders thereof, the circuit court is hereby granted jurisdiction to hear any complaint filed by the department or any interested party, and, upon proper showing, to issue an injunction restraining such violation or granting such other appropriate relief.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1659.561 Cease and desist orders.—

(1) The department may issue and serve upon a bank or trust company a complaint stating charges whenever the department has reason to believe that the bank or trust company is engaging in any of the following conduct:

(a) The bank or trust company is engaging, or has engaged, in an unsafe or unsound banking practice; or

(b) The bank or trust company is violating, or has violated, any law, department rule, department order, or written agreement entered into with the department.

(2) The complaint shall contain the statement of facts and notice of opportunity for a hearing pursuant to s. 120.57.

(3) If no hearing is requested within the time allowed by s. 120.57, or if a hearing is held and the department finds that any of the charges in the complaint are true, the department may enter an order directing the bank or trust company to cease and desist from engaging in the conduct complained of and to take corrective action.

(4) If the bank or trust company fails to respond to the complaint within the time allowed in s. 120.57, its failure constitutes a default and justifies the entry of the cease and desist order.

(5) A contested or default cease and desist order is effective when reduced to writing and served upon the bank or trust company. A consent order is effective as agreed.

(6) Whenever the department finds that conduct described in subsection (1) is likely to cause insolvency, substantial dissipation of assets or earnings of the bank or trust company, or substantial prejudice to the depositors or shareholders, it may issue an emergency cease and desist order, pursuant to s. 120.59, requiring the bank or trust company immediately to cease and desist from engaging in the conduct complained of. The emergency order is effective immediately upon service of a copy of the order on the bank or trust company and remains effective for 90 days. However, if the department begins non-emergency cease and desist proceedings under subsection (1), the emergency order remains effective until the conclusion of the proceedings under s. 120.57.

History.—s. 4, ch. 76-178; s. 1, ch. 77-174.

Note.—This section was created subsequent to the enactment of ch. 76-168, and is therefore presumed to be excluded from the blanket repeal of ch. 659 by that act.

§659.562 Officer, director, and employee removal by department.—

(1) The department may issue and serve upon any officer, director, or employee of a bank or trust company, and upon the bank or trust company involved, a complaint stating charges whenever the department has reason to believe that the officer, director, or employee is engaging, or has engaged, in any of the following conduct:

(a) Violating any law or department rule or order;

(b) Engaging or participating in any unsafe or unsound banking practice; or

(c) Performing any act of commission or omission or practice which is a breach of trust or breach of fiduciary duty.

(2) The complaint shall contain the statement of facts and notice of opportunity for a hearing pursuant to s. 120.57.

(3) If no hearing is requested within the time allowed by s. 120.57, or if a hearing is held and the department finds that any of the charges in the complaint are true, and if the department finds that the bank or trust company has suffered or will probably suffer substantial loss or other substantial damage or that the interests of its depositors or shareholders could be seriously prejudiced, it may enter an order removing the officer, director, or employee.

(4) If the officer, director, or employee fails to respond to the complaint within the time allowed in s. 120.57, his failure constitutes a default and justifies the entry of the order removing him from office.

(5) A contested or default removal order is effective when reduced to writing and served upon the bank or trust company and the officer, director, or employee. A consent order is effective as agreed.

(6) Any officer or director removed from office pursuant to this section shall not be eligible for reelection to such position or to any official position in any bank or trust company in this state for a period not exceeding 3 years from the date of such removal.

(7) Whenever any officer, director, employee, or other person participating in the conduct of the affairs of a bank or trust company is charged with a felony in a state or federal court, involving violation of s. 659.53 or s. 659.54, the department may immediately suspend him from office or prohibit him from any further participation in the bank or trust company's affairs. The order is effective upon service of the order on the bank or trust company and the person charged, and it remains in effect until the criminal charge is disposed of or until modified by the department. If a judgment of conviction is entered, the department may order that the suspension or prohibition be permanent. A finding of not guilty or other disposition of the charge does not preclude the department from pursuing administrative or civil remedies.

History.—s. 4, ch. 76-178; s. 1, ch. 77-174.

Note.—This section was created subsequent to the enactment of ch. 76-168, and is therefore presumed to be excluded from the blanket repeal of ch. 659 by that act.

§659.563 Certain hearings to be public, method of service.—

(1) All hearings under ss. 659.561 and 659.562 shall be public, unless the department, in its discretion, after considering the views of the party afforded the hearing, determines that a private hearing is necessary to protect the public interest; the depositors, creditors, or stockholders of the bank; or the solvency of the bank. Any emergency order entered under s. 659.561 shall be confidential until it is made permanent.

(2) All administrative proceedings under ss. 659.561 and 659.562 shall be conducted in accordance with chapter 120. Any service required or authorized to be made by the department under those sections may be made by certified mail, return receipt requested, delivered to addressee only; by personal delivery; or in accordance with chapter 48. The service provided for herein shall be effective from date of delivery.

History.—s. 4, ch. 76-178.

Note.—This section was created subsequent to the enactment of ch. 76-168, and is therefore presumed to be excluded from the blanket repeal of ch. 659 by that act.

§659.564 Administrative fines.—The department may impose an administrative fine not to exceed $1,000 against any person found to have violated any cease and desist order of the department. No fine may be imposed under these provisions until such person is notified in writing of the nature of the violation and has been afforded a reasonable period of time, as set forth in the notice, to correct the violation and has failed to do so. All fines collected under this section shall be paid to the department's Bank and Trust Company Trust Fund.

History.—s. 4, ch. 76-178.

Note.—This section was created subsequent to the enactment of ch. 76-168, and is therefore presumed to be excluded from the blanket repeal of ch. 659 by that act.

by that act.

659.565 Investigations; subpoenas, hearings, witnesses.—

(1)(a) The department may make investigations within or outside of this state as it deems necessary to determine whether a person has engaged or is about to engage in an unlicensed banking act or practice.

(b) The department may require or permit a person to file a statement in writing, under oath or otherwise as the department determines, as to all the facts and circumstances concerning the matter to be investigated.

(2) In the course of conducting an investigation, the department may gather evidence in the matter and shall have, but shall not be limited to, the following powers:

- (a) Administering oaths;
- (b) Examining witnesses; and
- (c) Issuing subpoenas.

(3) Subpoenas for witnesses whose evidence is deemed material to any investigation made pursuant to paragraph (1)(a) may be issued by the department under the seal of the department, or by any county court judge or clerk of the circuit court or county court, commanding such witnesses to be or appear before the department at a time and place to be therein named and to bring such books, records, and documents for inspection; and such subpoenas may be served by an authorized representative of the department.

(4)(a) In the event of substantial noncompliance with a subpoena issued by the department pursuant to this section, the department may apply to the circuit court of the county in which the person subpoenaed resides or has its principal place of business for an order requiring the subpoenaed person to appear and produce such documents or things that were specified in such subpoena.

(b) The application shall show that the subpoena has been properly served and issued pursuant to the powers granted in this section and shall show actions or inactions constituting substantial noncompliance.

(c) A copy of the application shall be served upon the person subpoenaed by a person authorized by the department, who shall file an affidavit showing the time, place, and date of service.

(d) A hearing on the application may be heard 7 days after service, and any person showing that he will be substantially affected by the investigation may appear and object to the subpoena. The court may grant or deny the application, in whole or part, under such conditions as it deems appropriate.

(e) Subject to the applicant's fifth amendment rights, failure to comply with an order granting an application for enforcement of a subpoena shall be a contempt of court.

(5) Witnesses shall be entitled to the same fees and mileage as they may be entitled by law for attending as witnesses in the circuit court, except when such examination or investigation is held at the place of business or residence of the witness.

(6) In addition to the provisions of s. 658.10, the records and material compiled by the department in an investigation under this chapter are confidential until such investigation is complete. Such records and material shall remain confidential until the department's investigation is complete or, if the department has submitted the material or any part of it to any law enforcement agency for further investigation or for the filing of a criminal prosecution, until that agency has completed its investigation or prosecution.

History.—s. 6, ch. 79-144.

1659.57 Transaction of business by out-of-state banking corporations; exempt transactions in Banking Code.—

(1) Nothing in this code shall be construed to prohibit a foreign bank from:

(a) Contracting in this state with any person to acquire from such person a part or the entire interest in a loan which such person proposes to make, has heretofore made or hereafter makes, together with a like interest in any security instrument covering real or personal property in the state proposed to be given or hereafter or heretofore given to such person to secure or evidence such loan;

(b) Entering into mortgage servicing contracts with persons authorized to transact business in Florida, and enforcing in this state the obligations heretofore or hereafter acquired by it in the transaction of business outside of this state or in the transaction of any business authorized by this section;

(c) Acquiring, holding, leasing, mortgaging, contracting with respect to, or otherwise, protecting, managing, or conveying property in this state which has heretofore or may hereafter be assigned, transferred, mortgaged or conveyed to it as security for, or in whole or in part in satisfaction of, a loan or loans made by it or obligations acquired by it in the transaction of any business authorized by this section.

(2) No such foreign bank shall be deemed to be transacting business in this state, or be required to qualify so to do, solely by reason of the performance of any of the acts or business hereinbefore authorized in this section. Nothing in this section shall be construed as authorizing or permitting any foreign bank to maintain an office within the state.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 71-336; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1659.58 Fictitious or fraudulent assets; past due paper.—

(1) Any bank or trust company shall not carry as an asset of said company any note, obligation or security which it does not own absolutely or which is known by the bank or trust company to be fraudulent or otherwise worthless, and no bank or trust company shall carry as an asset in any report to the department or any published report any note or other obligation which is past due or upon which no interest has been paid for 1 year or longer, provided, however, that such past due paper may be carried to the extent of the reasonable value of any lien or other collateral given to secure such obligation; and provided further that if suit has been filed to enforce the collection of any such past due obligation, it may be carried at its reasonable value as determined by the board of directors. The department may after investigation order the revision of any value so determined hereunder.

(2) Any officer of a bank or trust company who knowingly places among the assets of said bank or trust company any note, obligation or security which it does not own or which to his knowledge is fraudulent or otherwise worthless or who represents to the department or an examiner that any note, obligation or security carried or an asset of such bank or trust company is the property of the bank and is genuine when it is known to such officer that such representation is false or that such note, obligation or security is fraudulent or otherwise worthless, such officer shall be guilty of a felony.

History.—s. 2, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§659.59 Short title.—This law may be cited as the "Florida Bank Service Corporation Act."

History.—s. 1, ch. 63-113; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§659.60 Definitions.—As used in ss. 659.59-659.66:

(1) "Bank" means any person, whether subject to the laws of this or any other jurisdiction, authorized to engage in the business of banking, or authorized to engage in the trust business, including the trust department of a bank.

(2) "Bank services" means services such as check and deposit sorting and posting, computation and posting of interest and other credits and charges, preparation and mailing of checks, statements, notices, and similar items, or any other clerical, book-keeping, accounting, statistical, or similar functions performed for a bank.

(3) "Bank service corporation" means a corporation organized to perform bank services for two or more banks, each of which owns part of the capital stock of such corporation.

(4) The words and terms "department," "person," and "trust business," shall have the meaning ascribed to said words and terms, respectively, in s. 658.02.

(5) "Invest" includes any advance of funds to a bank service corporation, whether by the purchase of stock, the making of a loan, or otherwise, except a payment for rent earned, goods sold and delivered, or services rendered prior to the making of such payment.

(6) "State bank" means a bank, as defined in subsection (1), chartered by this state.

History.—s. 2, ch. 63-113; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§659.61 Banks authorized to invest.—

(1) No limitation or prohibition otherwise imposed by any provision of the laws of this state exclusively relating to banks or any kind or class of banks shall prevent any two or more banks from investing not more than 10 percent of the paid-in and unimpaired capital and unimpaired surplus of each of them in a bank service corporation; and each of any two or more banks may invest not more than 10 percent of its paid-in and unimpaired capital and unimpaired surplus in a bank service corporation.

(2) If stock in a bank service corporation has been held by two or more banks, and one or more banks ceases to utilize the services of the bank service corporation and ceases to hold stock in it, and leaves only one bank as the sole stockholding bank, the bank service corporation may nevertheless continue to function as such and the sole remaining stockholding bank may continue to hold stock in it.

History.—s. 2, ch. 63-113; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§659.62 Banks authorized to use services.—No limitation or prohibition otherwise imposed by any provision of the laws of this state, other than ss. 659.59-659.66, exclusively relating to banks or any kind or class of banks or exclusively relating to persons performing services for banks or any kind or class of banks, shall prevent:

(1) Any bank from causing bank services to be performed for itself at or away from its banking house or on or off its premises; and a bank may cause to be performed, by contract or otherwise, any bank services for itself, either at or away from its banking house or on or off its premises;

(2) Any bank from providing space and facilities, or either, in its banking house or on its premises for a bank service corporation or for a person performing bank services for such bank.

History.—s. 3, ch. 63-113; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§659.63 Requirement to furnish services.—Whenever a state bank, referred to in this section as an applying bank, applies for a type of bank services for itself from a bank service corporation which supplies the same type of bank services to another bank, and the applying bank is competitive with any bank, referred to in this section as a stockholding bank, which holds stock in such corporation, the bank service corporation must offer to supply such services by either:

(1) Issuing stock to the applying bank and furnishing bank services to it on the same basis as to the other banks holding stock in the bank service corporation, or

(2) Furnishing bank services to the applying bank at rates no higher than necessary to fairly reflect the cost of such services, including the reasonable cost of the capital provided to the bank service corporation by its stockholders, at the option of the bank service corporation, unless comparable services at competitive overall cost are available to the applying bank from another source, or unless the furnishing of the services sought by the applying bank would be beyond the practical capacity of the bank service corporation. In any action or proceeding to enforce the duty imposed by this section, or for damages for the breach thereof, the burden shall be upon the bank service corporation to show such availability.

History.—s. 4, ch. 63-113; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1659.64 Prohibited activities.—No bank service corporation may engage in any activity other than the performance of bank services for banks and the furnishing of goods and materials incidental thereto.

History.—s. 5, ch. 63-113; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1659.65 Retention of supervision by department.—No state bank may cause to be performed, by contract or otherwise, any bank services for itself, whether at or away from its banking house or on or off its premises, unless assurances satisfactory to the department are furnished to the department by both the state bank and the person performing such services that the performance thereof will be subject to regulation and examination by the department to the same extent as if such services were being performed by the bank itself on its own premises.

History.—s. 6, ch. 63-113; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1659.66 Legislative intent.—In enacting ss. 659.59-659.66, the Legislature of Florida takes cognizance of the enactment by the Congress of the United States of Public Law 87-856, 87th Congress, H.R. 8874, approved October 23, 1962 (76 Stat. 1132), entitled "An Act to authorize certain banks to invest in corporations whose purpose is to provide clerical services for them, and for other purposes," and the legislature takes cognizance of the legislative history of said Act of Congress (House Report 2062, 87th Congress on H.R. 8874, July 30, 1962; Senate Report 2105, 87th Congress on H.R. 8874, September 18, 1962), and it is intended that banks in this state shall have the authority to enjoy the benefits made available by said Act of Congress; and by the enactment of ss. 659.59-659.66 it is not intended to regulate services performed for state banks such as legal services, services of independent accountants, public relations and advertising, armored car and other transportation services, guard services, mechanical services in connection with the operation of equipment in buildings, or other services of similar nature, the bank services to which the regulatory requirements of ss. 659.59-659.66 relate being intended to be limited to banking functions as such.

History.—s. 7, ch. 63-113; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

659.67 International banking corporations and agencies.—

(1) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section:

(a) "Department" means the Department of Banking and Finance.

(b) "International banking corporation" means a banking corporation organized and licensed under the laws of some foreign country or a political subdivision thereof, other than the United States of America or any of the states within the United States of America.

(c) "International bank agency" means the international banking corporation with respect to all business or activities conducted in this state or through an office located in this state.

(d) "Representative office" means the location of an international banking corporation's representative residing in the State of Florida, which exists for the purpose of acting in a liaison capacity with existing and potential customers of such international banking corporation and to generate new loans and other activities for such international banking corporation which is operating outside of the state.

(2) APPLICATION OF CODE.—

(a) International bank agencies shall be subject to all the provisions of the Florida Banking Code, except where it may appear, from the context or otherwise, that such provisions are clearly applicable only to banks or trust companies organized under the laws of this state or the United States. Without limiting the foregoing general provisions, it is the intent of the Legislature that the following provisions shall be applicable to such banks or agencies: ss. 659.18, 659.53, 659.54, 659.561, 659.562, 659.563, and 659.564. International bank agencies shall not have the powers conferred on domestic banks by the provisions of s. 659.06, relating to branches and facilities, s. 659.062, relating to remote financial service units, and s. 659.24, relating to deposits of public funds. The provisions of chapter 687, relating to interest and usury shall apply to all loans not subject to s. 659.18. An international bank agency shall have no greater right under, or by virtue of, this section than is granted to banks organized under the laws of this state. Legal and financial terms used herein shall be deemed to refer to equivalent terms used by the country in which the international banking corporation is organized. However, all contracts or agreements which are negotiated in this state with Florida residents shall be construed under Florida law.

(b) International bank agencies with regard to assets located within this state shall be subject specifically to the liquidation and conservation provisions of chapter 661.

(3) PROVISIONS OF CHAPTER 607 APPLICABLE.—Notwithstanding the definition of the term "foreign corporation" appearing in s. 607.004(2), all of the provisions of chapter 607 not in conflict with the Florida Banking Code relating to foreign corporations shall apply to all international bank agencies and representative offices doing business in this state.

(4) REQUIREMENTS FOR CARRYING ON BANKING BUSINESS.—

(a) No international banking corporation shall transact a banking business, or maintain in this state any office for carrying on such business, or any part thereof, unless such corporation shall have:

1. Been authorized by its charter to carry on such business and shall have complied with the laws of the country under which it is chartered.

2. Furnished to the Department of Banking and Finance such proof as to the nature and character of its business and as to its financial condition as the Department of Banking and Finance may require.

3. Filed with the Department of Banking and Finance a certified copy of that information required to be supplied to the Department of State by those provisions of chapter 607 applicable to foreign corporations.

4. Paid to the Department of Banking and Finance the fee established in accordance with s. 658.08.

5. Received a license duly issued to it by the Department of Banking and Finance.

(b) The Department of Banking and Finance shall not issue a license to an international banking corporation unless it is chartered in a country which permits any bank having its principal place of business in the State of Florida to establish similar facilities therein or exercise similar powers.

(5) APPLICATION FOR LICENSE.—

(a) Every international banking corporation, before being licensed by the Department of Banking and Finance to act in a liaison capacity or to transact a banking business in this state, or before maintaining in this state any office to carry on such business or any part thereof, shall subscribe and acknowledge, and submit to the Department of Banking and Finance, a separate application which shall state:

1. The name of such international banking corporation.

2. The location by street and post office address and county where its business is to be transacted in this state, and the name of the person who shall be in charge of the business and affairs of such agency.

3. The place where its initial registered office will be located in this state.

4. The amount of its capital actually paid in and the amount subscribed for and unpaid.

5. The actual value of the assets of such international banking corporation, which must be at least $25,000,000 in excess of its liabilities for the establishment of an international bank agency and $10,000,000 in excess of its liabilities for the establishment of a representative office; and a complete and detailed statement of its financial condition as of a date within 60 days prior to the date of such application, except that the department in its discretion may, when necessary or expedient, accept such statement of financial condition as of a date within 120 days prior to the date of such application. The Department of Banking and Finance in its discretion may, when necessary or expedient, require an opinion audit or the equivalent.

(b) At the time such application is submitted to the Department of Banking and Finance, such corporation shall also submit a duly authenticated copy of its articles and an authenticated copy of its bylaws, or an equivalent thereof satisfactory to the Department of Banking and Finance, and pay an investigation and supervision fee as set forth in s. 658.08.

(c) Application shall be made on the form prescribed by the department and shall contain such information as the department may require. The department may, in its discretion, approve or disapprove the application, but it shall not approve such application unless, in its opinion, the applicant meets each and every requirement of this section and any other applicable provision of the Florida Banking Code. In the processing of applications, the time limitations under the Administrative Procedure Act shall not apply as to approval or disapproval of the application.

(6) LICENSES; PERMISSIBLE ACTIVITIES.—

(a) When the Department of Banking and Finance shall have issued a license to any international banking corporation, it may engage in the business authorized by this chapter at the office specified in such license for a period not exceeding 1 year from the date of such license or until such license is suspended or revoked. Said corporation shall have only one place of doing business as specified. No such license shall be transferable or assignable. Every such license shall be, at all times, conspicuously displayed in the place of business specified therein.

(b) Such license may be renewed annually upon application to the Department of Banking and Finance upon forms available for that purpose, within 30 days prior to the expiration of such license. Such license may be renewed by the Department of Banking and Finance, in its discretion, upon its determination, with or without examination, that the international banking corporation is in a safe and sound condition and has complied with all requirements of law with respect to the international bank agency and that such renewal of the license will not be detrimental to the public interest and the same has been duly authorized by proper corporate action. Each renewal application shall be accompanied by an annual renewal fee in an amount equivalent to the fees set forth in s. 658.08.

(c) Such license may be suspended or revoked by the Department of Banking and Finance, with or without examination, upon its determination that the international banking corporation does not meet all requirements for original licensing or any of the criteria established by paragraph (b) for renewal of licenses.

(d) In the event any such license shall be suspended or revoked by the Department of Banking and Finance, or the renewal thereof refused by the Department of Banking and Finance, all rights and privileges of such international banking corporation to transact the business thus licensed shall forthwith cease, and such license shall be surrendered to the Department of Banking and Finance within 24 hours after the department has mailed or personally delivered written notice of such decision. Such notice may be personally delivered to any officer, director, employee, or agent of the corporation physically present in this state.

(e) An international banking corporation licensed under the terms of this act is authorized to transact only such limited business in this state as is clearly related to, and is usual in, international or foreign business and financing international commerce. No such international banking corporation shall exercise fiduciary powers or receive deposits, but it may maintain for the account of others credit balances necessarily incidental to, or arising out of, the exercise of its lawful powers.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section to the contrary, an international banking corporation licensed under this section as an international bank agency may, if authorized by rules of the department, make any loan or investment or exercise any power which it could make or exercise if it were operating in this state as a federal agency under the federal International Banking Act of 1978. The department shall, when promulgating such rules, consider the public interest and convenience and the need to maintain a sound and competitive state banking system. Unless otherwise provided by statute, an international bank agency shall not exercise any powers that a federal agency is not authorized to exercise.

(g) It is the intent of this section that an international bank agency shall not be a "state branch" nor a "federal branch," as those terms are defined in the federal International Banking Act of 1978, and neither a foreign bank as defined in such federal act nor an international banking corporation shall establish or operate any such branch in this state.

(7) SECURITIES.—

(a) Each international banking corporation shall hold, in this state, currency, bonds, notes, debentures, drafts, bills of exchange or other evidence of indebtedness or other obligations payable in the United States or in United States funds or, with the prior approval of the Department of Banking and Finance, in funds freely convertible into United States funds, in an amount which shall be not less than 108 percent of the aggregate amount of liabilities of such international banking corporation, payable at or through its office in this state or as a result of the operations of the international bank agency, including acceptances, but excluding accrued expenses, and amounts due and other liabilities to other offices or branches of, and wholly owned (except for a nominal number of directors' shares) subsidiaries of, such international banking corporation. In lieu of holding such securities, the department may, by rule, permit an international bank agency to:

1. Maintain reserves similar to those required for agencies under the federal International Banking Act of 1978; or

2. Maintain other appropriate reserves, taking into consideration the nature of the business being conducted by the international bank agency.

The securities or reserves shall be held, to the extent feasible, in a state or national bank located in this state.

(b) For the purpose of this section, the Department of Banking and Finance shall value marketable securities at principal amount or market value, whichever is lower; shall have the right to determine the value of any nonmarketable bond, note, debenture, draft, bill of exchange, other evidence of indebtedness, or of any other obligation held by or owed to the international banking corporation in this state; and, in determining the amount of assets for the purpose of computing the above ratio of assets to liabilities, shall have the power to exclude any particular assets, but may give credit, subject to such rules as the Department of Banking and Finance may from time to time promulgate, to deposits and credit balances with unaffiliated banking institutions outside this state, if such deposits or credit balances are payable in United States funds or in currencies freely convertible into United States funds. Credit given for such deposits and credit balances shall not exceed in aggregate amounts such percentage, but not less than 8 percent, as the Department of Banking and Finance may from time to time prescribe, of the aggregate amount of liabilities of such international banking corporation, determined as hereinabove provided.

(c) If, by reason of the existence, or the potential occurrence, of unusual or extraordinary circumstances, the Department of Banking and Finance deems it necessary or desirable for the maintenance of a sound financial condition, the protection of creditors and the public interest, and the maintenance of public confidence in the business of the international bank agency of the international banking corporation, it may reduce the credit balances with unaffiliated banking institutions outside this state, and it may require such international banking corporation to deposit, in accordance with such rules as the Department of Banking and Finance shall from time to time promulgate, the assets required to be held in this state pursuant to this section with such bank or trust company existing under the laws of this state as such international banking corporation may designate and the Department of Banking and Finance may approve.

(8) FINANCIAL CERTIFICATIONS; RESTRICTIONS.—

(a) Before opening an office in this state, and annually thereafter so long as a bank office is maintained in this state, an international banking corporation, licensed pursuant to this chapter, shall certify to the Department of Banking and Finance the amount of its paid-in capital, surplus, and undivided profits, each expressed in the currency of the country of its incorporation. The dollar equivalent of these amounts, as determined by the Department of Banking and Finance, shall be deemed to be the amount of its capital, surplus, and undivided profits.

(b) Purchases and discounts of bills of exchange, bonds, debentures and other obligations, and extensions of credit and acceptances by an international bank agency within this state shall be subject to the same limitations as to amount in relation to unimpaired capital and surplus and undivided profits as are applicable to banks organized under the laws of this state. With the prior approval of the department, the capital notes and capital debentures of such international banking corporation may be treated as capital in computing such limitations.

(9) REPORTS.—

(a) Every international banking corporation doing business in this state shall, at such times and in such form as the Department of Banking and Finance shall prescribe, make written reports in the English language to the Department of Banking and Finance under the oath of one of its officers, managers, or agents transacting business in this state, showing the amount of its assets and liabilities and containing such other matters as the Department of Banking and Finance shall prescribe. If any such international banking corporation shall fail to make any such report, as directed by the Department of Banking and Finance, or if any such report shall contain any false statement knowingly made, the same shall be grounds for revocation of the license of the international banking corporation.

(b) Section 658.07(1)(b) and (c) shall not apply to international banking corporations or international bank agencies.

(c) Each international banking corporation which operates an international bank agency licensed under this section shall cause to be kept, at its place of business in this state, correct and complete books and records of account of its business operations transacted by such agency, pursuant to s. 658.11. Such agencies shall also keep current copies of the charter and bylaws of the international banking corporation, relative to the operations of the agency, and minutes of the proceedings of its directors or committees relative to the agency business. Such records shall be kept pursuant to s. 658.11 and shall be made available to the department, upon request, at any time during regular business hours of the agency. Any failure to keep such records as aforesaid or any refusal to produce such records upon request by the department shall be grounds for suspension or revocation of any license issued under this section.

(10) DISSOLUTION.—In the event an international banking corporation, licensed to maintain an international bank agency in this state, is dissolved, or its authority or existence is otherwise terminated or canceled in the jurisdiction of its incorporation, a certificate of the official responsible for records of banking corporations of the jurisdiction of incorporation of such international banking corporation, attesting to the occurrence of any such event, or a certified copy of an order or decree of a court of such jurisdiction directing the dissolution of such international banking corporation or the termination of its existence or the cancellation of its authority shall be delivered by the corporation or its surviving officers and directors to the department. The filing of the certificate, order, or decree shall have the same effect as the revocation of such international banking corporation's license as hereinabove provided.

(11) REPRESENTATIVE OFFICE LIMITATIONS.—No representative office shall conduct any banking business in this state. Each representative office shall be registered with the department, shall provide the department with such information as the department, by rule, deems necessary, and shall pay the annual fee provided in s. 658.08.

(12) RULES.—In addition to any other rulemaking authority it has under the Florida Banking Code, the department is authorized to promulgate reasonable rules which it deems advisable for the administration of international banking corporations under this section, in the interest of protecting depositors, creditors, borrowers, or the public interest, and in the interest of maintaining a sound banking system in this state. Because of the difficulty in obtaining economic data with regard to such banks, no economic impact statement shall be required in connection with said rules.

660.01 Trust powers enumerated.—Trust companies or banks heretofore or hereafter granted trust powers shall have power:

(1) To act as the fiscal or transfer agent of any state, municipality, body politic or corporation, and in such capacity to receive and disburse money.

(2) To transfer, register and countersign certificates of stock, bonds or other evidence of indebtedness, and to act as agent of any corporation, foreign or domestic, for any purpose now or hereafter required by statute or otherwise.

(3) To receive deposits of trust moneys, securities or other personal property from any person or corporation.

(4) To act as trustee under any mortgage or bond issued by any municipality, body politic or corporation, and to accept and execute any other municipal or corporate trust not inconsistent with the laws of this state.

(5) To accept trusts from and execute trusts for married women in respect to their separate equitable property, and to be their agent in the management of such property, or to transact any business in relation thereto.

(6) To act under the order or appointment of any court of record, as guardian, receiver or trustee of the estate of any minor, and as depository of any moneys paid into court, whether for the benefit of any such minor or other person, corporation or party.

(7) To take, accept and execute any and all such legal trusts, duties and powers in regard to the holding, management and disposition of any estate, real or personal, and the rents and profits thereof, or the sale thereof, as may be granted or confided to it by any court of record, or by any person, corporation, municipal or other authority, and it shall be accountable to all parties in interest for the faithful discharge of every such trust, duty or power which it may so accept.

(8) To take, accept and execute any and all trusts and powers of whatever nature or description that may be conferred upon or intrusted or committed to it by any person or persons, or any body politic, corporation or other authority by grant, assignment, transfer, devise, bequest, or otherwise, or which may be intrusted or committed or transferred to it or vested in it by order of any court of record, or any probate court, and to receive, take and hold any property or estate, real or personal, which may be the subject of any such trust.

(9) To be appointed and accept the appointment of assignee or trustee under any assignment for the benefit of creditors of any debtor made pursuant to any statute or otherwise.

(10) To act under the order of the appointment of any court or otherwise as receiver or trustee of the estate or property of any person, firm, association or corporation.

(11) To be appointed and to accept the appointment of executor of or trustee under the last will and testament, or administrator, with or without the will annexed, of the estate of any deceased person, and to be appointed and to act as the curator or guardian of the property of any minor, habitual drunkard, or person judicially declared physically or mentally incompetent.

(12) To collect coupons on or interest upon all manner of securities when authorized so to do by the parties depositing the same.

(13) To receive and manage any sinking fund of any corporation upon such terms as may be agreed upon between said corporation and those dealing with it.

(14) Generally to execute trusts of every description and to act and serve in any and all fiduciary capacities not inconsistent with the laws of this state or of the United States.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

660.011 Trust agency contracts.—Any trust company acting in a fiduciary capacity may employ any other trust company as an agent to advise or assist in the performance of its administrative duties and to render investment advice. Instead of acting personally, any trust company may employ any other trust company to perform any act of administration, whether or not discretionary, provided that the trust company serving as such agent shall observe the same standard of care as is required of the fiduciary trust company with respect to each fiduciary or other relationship affected by such agency. The establishment of such agency relationship shall neither diminish nor increase the standard by which the fiduciary trust company's performance as a fiduciary is governed. In any suit or other proceeding involving an evaluation of fiduciary performance, such agent's performance shall be deemed that of the fiduciary trust company.

History.—s. 1, ch. 76-37; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.012 Substitution of fiduciaries.—Any trust company may agree with any other trust company to seek the transfer of fiduciary relationships between them as follows:

(1) Any trust company may, with respect to estates, trusts, or other fiduciary relationships as it and the proposed successor fiduciary shall jointly select, petition the Circuit Court of the county in which the original fiduciary is located for the substitution of the proposed successor fiduciary for the original fiduciary as to such fiduciary relationships. If a fiduciary relationship is then the subject of a pending proceeding before a state court, such petition shall be filed in such proceeding.

(2) Notice of each such petition shall, unless waived in writing, be given pursuant to the provisions of s. 731.301(1) to all cofiduciaries, to the persons entitled under the governing instrument to appoint a successor fiduciary, to all named successor fiduciaries, to all vested beneficiaries of the fiduciary relationship, and to the creator of each such relationship. All contingent beneficiaries shall be given notice pursuant to the provisions of s. 731.301(2). If, after diligent search and inquiry, the whereabouts of any person or entity to be given notice is not known, notice of each such petition in the form provided in s. 49.08 shall be published in the manner prescribed in ss. 49.10 or 49.11, as the case may be.

(3) All persons to whom notice hereunder is to be given who are not sui juris or who only receive notice by publication shall be represented by a guardian ad litem appointed by the court, unless such person has a court-appointed guardian of the property, in which case such person shall be represented by the appointed guardian. In the absence of a conflict of interest, one guardian ad litem shall be appointed to represent all such persons.

(4) All notices shall be accompanied by a copy of the petition and shall specify a date as of which objection in writing must be filed with the clerk of the court to be effective. Such date shall be at least 30 days after all notices have been given or published.

(5) If no objection by any person to whom notice under subsection (2) is to be given is filed with the Clerk of the Circuit Court by such date specified in the petition, the trust company may, ex parte, submit the petition to the court. If an objection is timely filed with the Clerk of the Circuit Court, then the trust company may, upon notice given pursuant to s. 731.301(2) to all persons or entities originally given notice of the petition, bring the petition on for hearing. The court, after consideration of the interest of the parties, shall either grant the petition and order the proposed successor fiduciary to be substituted as fiduciary or deny the petition, in which case the original fiduciary shall remain the fiduciary. The court shall order the requested substitution unless the court determines that the requested substitution of fiduciaries would be of material detriment to the estate, trust, or other fiduciary relationship or to the beneficiaries thereof.

(6) All court costs and the fees of guardians ad litem arising in connection with any proceeding hereunder shall be paid by the petitioner, and shall not be charged to any fiduciary relationship.

(7) Within 30 days after the entry of an order of substitution of fiduciaries hereunder, the original fiduciary shall file a final account with the court and shall send a copy thereof to each person or entity to whom notice under subsection (2) is to be given, together with a notice of filing thereof. Objections to a final account must be filed within 60 days after the final account is filed with the court. Objections shall be tried and determined by the court upon the application of any person or entity to whom notice under subsection (2) is to be given. After the time for filing objections has expired, or at the hearing on any objections, the court may enter an appropriate order on such final account and on all unapproved annual or periodic accounts previously filed. If consents to a final account are filed with the court by all persons or entities to whom a copy of the final account is to be sent, then the court shall enter an order approving such account and all unapproved annual accounts previously filed. Unless otherwise barred, any claim against a trust company for breach of trust relating to such accounts shall be barred in accordance with s. 737.307.

(8) The filing of a petition hereunder or the substitution of fiduciaries pursuant to law shall not be deemed as the resignation by any trust company of any fiduciary relationship.

History.—s. 1, ch. 76-37; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.02 Securities described for investment of trust funds.—No trust company shall have power to invest funds derived under subsections (5), (6) and (11) of s. 660.01, except only as provided by chapters 518 and 691.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.03 Trust funds separate and not liable.—No money, property or securities held or received by any trust company, in its capacity as assignee, receiver, executor, administrator, guardian or trustee shall be mingled with the investments of the capital stock or other moneys or property belonging to or deposited with such corporation or shall be liable for the debts or obligations of such corporation.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1660.04 Security required before trust company may deposit uninvested trust funds in its banking department or any other bank.—It is unlawful for any officer, director or employee of any trust company doing business in this state to deposit the uninvested funds belonging to any particular trust, for which said trust company shall be trustee, in the banking department of the trust company itself, or with any other bank or trust company, without first taking full and adequate security therefor in one or more of the securities which are at that time legal investments of funds held by executors, administrators, trustees and guardians. No security shall be required, however, to the extent that any such deposit is insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 29871, 1955; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1660.05 Disposition of security required for trust funds.—When the uninvested funds of a particular trust are deposited in the banking side of the trust company acting as trustee, such trust company shall set aside, under proper resolution of the board of directors, securities of the class mentioned in s. 660.04, and hold the same in trust as security for the benefit of the uninvested funds mentioned. Security to be given as aforesaid, for uninvested funds of trusts that may be deposited in the banking side of the trust company acting as trustee, need not be segregated as to each particular trust for which uninvested funds are deposited but may be held in bulk for all of the trust funds so deposited.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.06 Penalty for violation of ss. 660.04 and 660.05.—Any officer, director or employee of any trust company violating the provisions of ss. 660.04 and 660.05 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 673, ch. 71-136; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1660.07 Trust company not required to give security as trustee, etc.—No trust company of this state having deposited securities with the State Treasurer as provided in s. 660.08, and authorized to act as assignee, receiver, administrator, guardian or trustee, shall be required by any officer or court of this state to give security upon appointment to, or acceptance of, any office of trust which it is by law authorized to execute.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1660.08 Deposit of securities with State Treasurer.—Every trust company shall deposit with the State Treasurer a sum equal to 25 percent of its paid-in capital stock; provided, that in no event shall such deposit be less than $25,000, such deposits to be in cash or bonds, stocks, or other securities of equal market value, which shall include approved mortgages or deeds of trust of real estate to be kept by the State Treasurer in trust for said company, and for which he shall issue his official receipt or receipts, which receipt or receipts shall show the par value of securities so deposited, and the Treasurer shall not be required to embrace in one receipt all of such securities so deposited by a trust company; provided, the values of such securities shall be fixed by the Treasurer, the Department of Legal Affairs and the Department of Banking and Finance at the time such securities are so deposited; and provided, further, that in lieu of the actual depositing of such securities with the State Treasurer by any such trust company, the State Treasurer may accept a safekeeping receipt or safekeeping receipts therefor, issued by any Federal Reserve bank or national or state bank; provided, such national or state bank shall have been previously approved for such purposes by the Department of Legal Affairs, the Department of Banking and Finance and the State Treasurer, such safekeeping receipt to substantially comply with the form and provisions of the safekeeping receipt provided for and set forth in s. 18.11. Said securities shall be held subject to the payment of any judgment or decree which may be rendered against said company. Should the aggregate market value of the securities so held, at any time, exceed in value the said sum required to be deposited, said company may withdraw with the consent of the Department of Banking and Finance such excess, and should the aggregate market value of such securities fall below said sum required to be deposited, said company shall within 30 days thereafter, deliver to the State Treasurer additional securities sufficient to make good said sum. The State Treasurer shall at all times keep prepared and ready for inspection a record of securities so held by him, and he shall allow said records to be, at all reasonable times, inspected by any person to whom said company is liable absolutely or conditionally, or by any court or officer who shall have appointed said company to any still existing obligation upon which said company is surety. Said company may at any time withdraw any part of the securities in the hands of the State Treasurer, but before doing so must, except in cases of excess, as hereinbefore provided, deliver to said State Treasurer other securities of equal market value to those to be withdrawn. The Department of Banking and Finance, Treasurer and the Department of Legal Affairs shall determine the value of all such substituted securities.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 11, 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1660.09 Corporation officers authorized to make oath as trustee, etc.—In all cases where any corporation of this state authorized by its charter to act as trustee, executor, administrator or guardian, shall be appointed executor, administrator or trustee of any estate or guardian of any infant, the president, or vice president, or trust officer, or assistant trust officer or cashier, or secretary or treasurer, of such corporation shall make and subscribe for such corporation any and all oaths or affirmations required to be taken or subscribed by such executor, administrator, trustee, or guardian.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.10 Trust powers and duties.—All corporations except banks and trust companies incorporated under the laws of this state and having trust powers and except national banking associations located in this state and having trust powers, are prohibited from exercising any of the powers or duties and from acting in any of the capacities, within this state, as follows:

(1) As executor or administrator of the estate of any decedent, whether such decedent was a resident of this state or not, and whether the administration of the estate of such decedent be original or ancillary; provided, that if the executor or administrator of the estate of a nonresident decedent be a corporation duly authorized, qualified and acting as such executor or administrator in the jurisdiction of the domicile of the decedent, it may, as a foreign executor or administrator perform such duties and exercise such powers and privileges as are required, authorized or permitted by s. 734.30.

(2) As guardian of any infant, insane person or person physically or mentally incompetent whether domiciled in this state or not.

(3) As trustee under any will or other testamentary instrument, provided any corporation that is authorized to act as trustee under the laws of the place where it has its principal place of business may receive bequests as trustee of money or intangible personal property and devise of real property located in Florida and may sell, transfer and convey the property.

(4) As trustee of any real estate in this state or any interest therein under any agreement whereby the beneficial interest in such property is vested in others.

(5) As trustee under any deed of trust or other instrument executed after June 10, 1937, conveying or encumbering any real or tangible personal property in this state given to secure bonds or other evidence of indebtedness unless in such deed of trust or other instrument a trust company or bank having trust powers and located in this state or an individual residing in this state shall be named as cotrustee; and no suit shall be brought to foreclose any such deed of trust or other instrument unless such cotrustee or successor cotrustees of like qualifications be a party plaintiff.

(6) As receiver or trustee under appointment of any court in this state.

(7) As assignee, receiver or trustee of any insolvent person or corporation or under any assignment for the benefit of creditors.

(8) As fiscal agent, transfer agent or registrar of any municipal or private corporation, provided that this prohibition shall not be so construed as to prevent banks and trust companies not located in this state from acting within the state where located as fiscal agent, transfer agent or registrar of municipal or private corporations of this state; provided further, however, that nothing herein shall prevent any Florida corporation not a bank or trust company and not having trust powers from being its own fiscal agent, transfer agent or registrar concerning its own affairs, stock or securities. Provided, however, that nothing in this section or in any other law of this state shall be construed to prohibit a foreign bank or foreign trust company as trustee of any charitable foundation or endowment, employees' pension, retirement or profit-sharing trust, alone or together with a cotrustee from: Contracting in this state or elsewhere with any person to acquire from such person a part or the entire interest in a loan which such person proposes to make, has heretofore made or hereafter makes, together with a like interest in any security instrument covering real or personal property in the state proposed to be given or hereafter or heretofore given to such person to secure or evidence such loan; servicing directly or entering into servicing contracts with persons, and enforcing in this state the obligations heretofore or hereafter acquired by it in the transaction of business outside of this state or in the transaction of any business authorized or permitted hereby; or acquiring, holding, leasing, mortgaging, contracting with respect to, or otherwise, protecting, managing, or conveying property in this state which has heretofore or may hereafter be assigned, transferred, mortgaged or conveyed to it as security for, or in whole or in part in satisfaction of, a loan or loans made by it or obligations acquired by it in the transaction of any business authorized or permitted hereby; provided, further, that no such foreign bank or trust company shall be deemed to be transacting business in this state, or be required to qualify so to do, or to be unlawfully exercising powers or duties or acting in an unlawful or prohibited capacity or to be violating any of the provisions of this section or of any other law of this state, solely by reason of the performance of any of the acts or business hereinbefore permitted or authorized hereby; and provided, further, that nothing herein shall be construed as authorizing or permitting any foreign bank or trust company to maintain an office within this state.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 57-409; s. 1, ch. 71-55; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.11 Establishment of common trust funds.

(1) Any bank or trust company qualified to act as fiduciary in this state may establish one or more common trust funds for the exclusive purpose of furnishing investments to itself as fiduciary, including estates, guardianships, managing agencies, and all other fiduciary relationships, now in existence or hereafter created, requiring or authorizing investment of funds held as fiduciary including managing agencies, or to itself and others, as cofiduciaries. It may, as such fiduciary or cofiduciary, invest funds which it lawfully holds for investment in interests in such common trust funds if such investment is not prohibited by the instrument, judgment, decree, or order creating such fiduciary relationship and if, in the case of cofiduciaries, the bank or trust company procures the consent of its cofiduciary or cofiduciaries to such investment, which consent such cofiduciary is hereby authorized to grant. The full management of the fund shall at all times be in full charge of such bank and trust company, and no cofiduciary shall have any right to interfere in the management of such common trust funds.

(2) For the purposes of this section, the term "bank or trust company" shall include two or more banks or trust companies which are members of the same affiliated group as defined in s. 1504 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, with respect to any fund established pursuant to this section of which any of such banks or trust companies is trustee, or two or more of such banks or trust companies are cotrustees. The fiduciary relationship that exists between an individual bank or trust company and its customer shall not be altered due to the fact of the enactment of this subsection.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 67-365; s. 3, ch. 76-168; ss. 1, 2, ch. 77-42; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1660.12 Common trust fund investments.—No bank or trust company shall mingle its own funds with any common trust fund managed by such bank or trust company, and every investment of a common trust fund shall, at all times, be such as would be a proper investment for each fiduciary account owning an interest in such common trust fund.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 67-336; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.13 Common trust fund to be audited annually.—A bank administering a common trust fund shall keep proper records, which in addition to all other necessary and proper matters shall show at all times the proportionate interest of each trust in the common trust fund, and at least once during each period of 12 months, cause an audit to be made of the common trust fund by auditors responsible only to the board of directors of the bank. The report of such audit shall include a list of the investments comprising the common trust fund at the time of the audit, which shall show the valuation placed on each item on such list by the trust investment committee of the bank as of the date of the audit, a statement of purchases, sales and any other investment changes, and of income and disbursements since the last audit, and appropriate comments as to any investment in default as to payment of principal or interest. The reasonable expenses of any such audit made by independent public accountants may be charged to the common trust fund. The bank shall manage such common trust funds without charge, save necessary expenses, and shall send a copy of the latest report of such audit annually to each person to whom a regular periodic accounting of the trusts participating in the common trust fund ordinarily would be rendered or shall send advice to each such person annually that the report is available and that a copy will be furnished without charge upon request.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1660.14 Common trust fund court accountings.—Unless ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction, the bank or trust company operating such common trust funds is not required to render a court accounting with regard to such funds; but it may, by application to the circuit court, secure approval of such an accounting after such notice, and on such conditions as the court may establish.

History.—s. 3, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.15 Short title.—Sections 660.16-660.23 may be cited as the "Mutual Trust Investment Company Act."

History.—s. 1, ch. 74-212; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.16 Definitions.—For the purpose of ss. 660.16-660.23:

(1) "Mutual trust investment company" means a corporation which is:

(a) An investment company as defined by an Act of Congress entitled "Investment Company Act of 1940," approved August 22, 1940, as amended.

(b) Incorporated in compliance with the provisions of ss. 660.16-660.23 to constitute a medium for the common investment of trust funds held in a fiduciary capacity and for true fiduciary purposes, either alone or with one or more cofiduciaries, by state banks with trust powers, trust companies, and national banks with trust powers which are located in this state.

(2) "Corporate fiduciary" means a state bank with trust powers, a trust company, or a national bank with trust powers which is located in this state.

History.—s. 1, ch. 74-212; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.17 Authority to incorporate.—Any three or more corporate fiduciaries are authorized, subject to the approval of the Department of Banking and Finance and subject to such regulations as the department may from time to time prescribe, to cause a mutual trust investment company to be organized and incorporated.

History.—s. 1, ch. 74-212; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.18 Application of general corporation law; articles of incorporation.—Such a mutual trust investment company shall be incorporated under, and be subject to, the general corporation laws of this state except as herein otherwise provided. The incorporators subscribing and acknowledging the articles of incorporation shall consist of three or more persons who are officers or directors of the corporate fiduciaries causing such mutual trust investment company to be incorporated, and the articles of incorporation shall set forth, in addition to the facts specified in the general corporation laws, the name of each corporate fiduciary causing such corporation to be incorporated and the amount of stock originally subscribed for by each. Not more than 40 percent of the board of directors shall be officers or directors of any one corporate fiduciary.

History.—s. 1, ch. 74-212; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.19 Corporate powers; ownership of stock.—

(1) The stock of a mutual trust investment company shall be owned only by corporate fiduciaries acting as fiduciaries and their individual cofiduciaries, if any, but may be registered in the name of their nominee or nominees.

(2) The stock of a mutual trust investment company shall not be subject to transfer or assignment except to the mutual trust investment company or to a fiduciary or cofiduciary which becomes successor to the stockholder and which is also a bank or trust company qualified to hold such stock under the provisions of ss. 660.16-660.23.

(3) A mutual trust investment company shall have not less than five directors who shall be officers or directors of corporate fiduciaries owning stock of the mutual trust investment company.

(4) A mutual trust investment company may invest its assets only in those investments in which a trustee may invest under the laws of this state. In addition to the foregoing restrictions, it shall make no investment in:

(a) The note of an individual or individuals, whether or not it is secured.

(b) The note, bond, or other obligation of any firm, corporation, or other issuer if the total original issue of such notes, bonds, or other obligations is less than $500,000.

(c) Any stocks, bonds, or other obligations issued or guaranteed by any one firm, corporation, or other issuer if, as a result of such investment, the total amount invested in stocks, bonds, or other obligations issued or guaranteed by such firm, corporation, or other issuer would aggregate in excess of 10 percent of the then market value of the total assets of the mutual trust investment company. However, this limitation shall not apply to investments in direct obligations of the United States or other obligations fully guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest.

(d) Shares of stock of one class of any one corporation which would cause the total number of such shares held by the mutual trust investment company to exceed 5 percent of the number of such shares outstanding.

(e) Stocks, bonds, or other obligations issued by any corporate fiduciary owning stock of the mutual trust investment company or by any affiliate of such corporate fiduciary.

(5) A mutual trust investment company may acquire, purchase, or redeem its own stock and shall, by means of contract or by means of its bylaws, bind itself to acquire, purchase, or redeem its own stock, but it shall not vote upon shares of its own stock.

(6) A mutual trust investment company shall not be responsible for ascertaining the investment powers of any fiduciary who may purchase its stock and shall not be liable for accepting funds from a fiduciary in violation of the restrictions of the will, trust indenture, or other instrument under which such fiduciary is acting, in the absence of actual knowledge of such violation and shall be accountable only to the Department of Banking and Finance and the fiduciaries who are the owners of its stock.

History.—s. 1, ch. 74-212; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.20 Purchase of stock by fiduciaries; authority and restrictions.—

(1) Corporate fiduciaries acting in a fiduciary capacity and for true fiduciary purposes, either alone or with one or more individual cofiduciaries, may, if exercising the care of a prudent investor, and with the consent of such individual cofiduciary or cofiduciaries, if any, invest and reinvest funds held in such fiduciary capacity in the shares of stock of a mutual trust investment company except when the will, trust indenture, or other instrument under which such fiduciary is acting specifically prohibits such investment. However, no investment in the stock of a mutual trust investment company may be made on behalf of any estate, trust, or fund which would result in such estate, trust, or fund having a total investment therein in excess of the maximum amount or percentage that might be invested by such estate, trust, or fund, under regulations of the comptroller of the currency in effect at the time of such investment, in a common trust fund having total assets equal to the total assets of the mutual trust investment company, as increased by the proposed investment. No purchases of stock of a mutual trust investment company shall be made other than for cash.

(2) A mutual trust investment company shall be permitted to rely on the written statement of any bank or trust company purchasing its stock that the purchase complies with the foregoing requirements.

History.—s. 1, ch. 74-212; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.21 Audits and reports.—

(1) A mutual trust investment company shall, at least once during each period of 12 months, cause an adequate audit to be made of the company by auditors responsible only to the board of directors of the company.

(2)(a) A mutual trust investment company shall, at least once during each period of 12 months, prepare a financial report of the company which shall be filed with the Department of Banking and Finance. This report, based upon the above audit, shall contain:

1. A list of investments of the company showing the cost and current market value of each investment.

2. A statement for the period since the previous report, showing purchases, with cost.
3. Sales, with profit or loss.
4. Any other investment changes.
5. Income and disbursements.
6. An appropriate notation as to any investments in default.

(b) A copy of the report shall be sent by each corporate fiduciary owning stock in the mutual trust investment company annually to each person to whom a regular periodic accounting of the trusts for whose accounts the stock was acquired ordinarily would be rendered or shall send advice to each such person annually that the report is available and that a copy will be furnished without charge upon request.

(3) The reasonable expenses of any such annual audits made by independent public accountants and the cost of preparing the reports shall be borne and paid for by the mutual trust investment company.

History.—s. 1, ch. 74-212; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.22 Powers of the Department of Banking and Finance.—

(1) The department shall have authority to adopt and issue reasonable and uniform rules and regulations to govern the conduct and management of all mutual trust investment companies formed pursuant to ss. 660.16-660.23 and to prescribe, among other things:

(a) The records and accounts to be kept by the mutual trust investment company.

(b) The methods and standards to be employed in establishing the value of the shares of stock in the mutual trust investment company and of its assets.

(c) The procedure to be followed in the sale and redemption of its stock.

(2) The department shall, at least once in each calendar year and whenever the department deems it necessary or expedient, examine every such mutual trust investment company. On every such examination of a mutual trust investment company the department shall make inquiry as to its financial condition, the policies of its management, whether it is complying with the laws of this state, and such other matters as the department may prescribe. The reasonable expenses of such examination of a mutual trust investment company pursuant to this section shall be borne and paid for by such company.

(3) In the enforcement of ss. 660.16-660.23 and the fulfillment of its responsibilities hereunder, the department shall have the same powers and authorities over, and with respect to, mutual trust investment companies and their directors, officers, and employees as are given the department by the laws of this state with respect to banks and trust companies, in the same manner and with like effect as if mutual trust investment companies were expressly named therein.

History.—s. 1, ch. 74-212; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1660.23 Exemptions.—

(1) The intangible personal property owned by a mutual trust investment company shall be subject to the tax imposed by s. 199.032(1), and the tax due upon such intangibles shall be paid by the company. The stock of the mutual trust investment company, issued and outstanding, shall not be subject to the tax imposed by s. 199.032(1), provided the company pays the annual tax due on the intangibles it owns.

(2) The stock of a mutual trust investment company shall be subject to the tax imposed by chapter 201, provided all purchasers of such stock, upon redemption of such shares, shall have a credit equal to the tax paid pursuant to chapter 201 on such redeemed shares. Such credit shall be applied against the tax due under chapter 201 upon subsequent repurchases of stock of the same mutual trust investment company.

History.—s. 1, ch. 74-212; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

(5) Provisions governing the manner of disposing of the shares of the resulting state bank not taken by dissenting shareholders of constituent banks.

(6) Such other provisions as the department requires to enable it to discharge its duties with respect to the merger.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.04 Approval by department; valuation of assets.—

(1) After approval by the board of directors of each constituent bank, the merger agreement shall be submitted to the department for approval, together with certified copies of the authorizing resolutions of the several boards of directors showing approval by a majority of the entire board and evidence of proper action by the board of directors of any constituent national bank.

(2) Without approval by the department, no asset shall be carried on the books of the resulting bank at a valuation higher than that on the books of the constituent bank at the time of the last examination by a state or national bank examiner before the effective date of the merger.

(3) Within 30 days after receipt by the department of the papers specified in subsection (1), the department shall approve or disapprove the merger agreement. The department shall approve the agreement if it appears that:

(a) The resulting state bank meets all the requirements of state law as to the formation of a new state bank.

(b) The agreement provides an adequate capital structure including surplus in relation to the deposit liabilities of the resulting state bank and its other activities which are to continue or are to be undertaken.

(c) The agreement is fair.

(d) The merger is not contrary to the public interest.

If the department disapproves an agreement, it shall state its objections and give an opportunity to the constituent banks to amend the merger agreement to obviate such objections.

(4) Where the resulting state bank is not to exercise trust powers, the department shall not approve a merger until satisfied that adequate provision has been made for successors to fiduciary positions held by constituent banks.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.05 Approval by stockholders; rights of dissenters.—

(1) To be effective, a merger must be approved by the stockholders of each constituent state bank by a vote of two-thirds of the outstanding voting stock at a meeting called to consider such action, which vote shall constitute the adoption of the charter and bylaws of the resulting state bank, including the amendments set forth in the merger agreement.

(2) The notice of the meeting of the stockholders shall state that dissenting stockholders will be entitled to a payment of the value of only those shares which are voted against approval of the plan.

(3) The owner of shares which were voted against the approval of the merger shall be entitled to receive their value in cash, if and when the merger becomes effective, upon written demand, made to the resulting state bank at any time within 30 days after the effective date of the merger, accompanied by the surrender of the stock certificates. The value of such shares shall be determined as of the date of the shareholders' meeting approving the merger by three appraisers, one to be selected by the owners of two-thirds of the shares involved, one by the board of directors of the resulting state bank, and the third by the two so chosen. The valuation agreed upon by any two appraisers shall govern. If the appraisal is not completed within 90 days after the merger becomes effective, the department shall cause an appraisal to be made.

(4) The expenses of appraisal shall be paid by the resulting state bank.

(5) The resulting state bank may fix an amount which it considers to be not more than the fair market value of the shares of a constituent bank at the time of the stockholders' meeting approving the merger, which it will pay dissenting shareholders of that constituent bank entitled to payment in cash. The amount due under such accepted offer or under the appraisal shall constitute a debt of the resulting state bank.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.06 Effective date of merger; filing of approved agreement; certificate of merger as evidence.—

(1) A merger shall, unless a later date is specified in the agreement, become effective upon the filing with the department of the executed agreement together with copies of the resolutions of the stockholders of each constituent bank approving it, certified by such bank's president or vice president and a secretary. The charters of the constituent banks, other than the resulting bank, shall thereupon be deemed surrendered.

(2) The department shall thereupon issue to the resulting bank a certificate of merger setting forth the name of each constituent bank and the name of the resulting state bank. Such certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the merger and of the correctness of all proceedings therefor in all courts and places, and may be recorded in any office for the recording of deeds to evidence the new name in which the property of the constituent bank is held.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.07 Continuation of corporate entity; use of old names.—

(1) The resulting state bank shall be considered the same business and corporate entity as each constituent bank with all of the rights, powers, and duties of each constituent bank except as limited by the charter and bylaws of the resulting state bank.

(2) The resulting state bank shall have the right to use the name of any constituent bank whenever it can do any act under such name more conveniently.

(3) Any reference to any constituent bank in any writing, whether executed or taking effect before or after the merger, shall be deemed a reference to the resulting state bank if not inconsistent with the other provisions of such writing.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.08 Conversion from state bank to national bank and the reverse.—

(1) Nothing in the law of this state shall restrict the right of a state bank to convert into a national bank upon compliance with the laws of the United States, and upon completion of such conversion it shall surrender its charter as a state bank.

(2) A national bank located in this state which follows the procedure prescribed by federal law to convert into a state bank, may be granted a state charter if it meets the requirements for the incorporation of a state bank. Any requirement of state law that shares must be paid for in cash may be satisfied by the exchange of shares of the converted state bank for those of the converting national bank, which may be valued at not more than their fair cash market value. The procedure for incorporation of a state bank may be modified to the extent made necessary by the difference between an ordinary incorporation and a conversion.

(3) The converted bank shall be considered the same business and corporate entity as the converting bank with all of the rights, powers and duties of the converting bank except as limited by the charter and bylaws of the resulting bank. It may use the name of the converting bank whenever it can do any act under such name more conveniently.

(4) Any reference to the converting bank in any writing, whether executed or taking effect before or after the conversion, shall be deemed a reference to the converted bank if not inconsistent with the other provisions of such writing.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1661.09 Nonconforming assets of business.—If a constituent bank has assets which do not conform to the requirements of state law for the resulting bank or if a converting national bank has assets which do not conform to the requirements of state law for the converted state bank, or in either case there are business activities which are not permitted for the resulting or converted state bank, the department may permit a reasonable time to conform with state law.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.10 Insolvency; appointment of liquidator.—On becoming satisfied from the reports furnished to it by a state bank examiner, or upon other satisfactory evidence thereof, that any state bank or trust company has become insolvent and is in default, or that the affairs of any bank or trust company chartered under the laws of this state are in an unsound condition, or threatened with insolvency because of illegal or unsafe investments, or that its liabilities exceed its assets, or that it is transacting business without authority of law, or in violation of law, or if the directors of any bank or trust company chartered under the laws of this state shall knowingly violate or knowingly permit any of its officers, agents or servants to violate any of the provisions of law relative to such bank or trust company, the rights, privileges and franchises shall be subject to be forfeited, and the department may, in its discretion, forthwith designate and appoint a liquidator to take charge of the assets and affairs of such bank, and require of him such bond and security as the department deems proper, not exceeding double the amount that may come into his hands, and such liquidator shall be subject to dismissal by the department whenever in its judgment such dismissal is deemed necessary or advisable. When one liquidator is dismissed, another may be duly designated and appointed.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.11 Liquidation procedure.—Such liquidator, under the direction and supervision of the department, shall take possession of the books, records and assets of every description of such bank or trust company, and in his name shall sue for and collect all debts, dues and claims belonging to it, and upon the order of a court may sell or compound all bad or doubtful debts and, on a like order, may sell all the real and personal property of such bank or trust company on such terms as the court shall direct, and may, if necessary to pay the debts of such bank or trust company, sue for and enforce the individual liability of the stockholders. Such liquidator shall pay all money received by him to the state treasurer to be held as a special deposit for the use and benefit of the creditors subject to the order of the department, and shall also make quarterly reports, or when called upon, to the department of all of his acts and proceedings. The department immediately, upon appointing such liquidator, shall serve notice upon the president, or upon any vice president or cashier, or upon any director, or other person having the charge or management of any such bank or trust company, informing him or them in such notice of its action in appointing such liquidator, and notifying him or them, or it, that the department would apply on a date therein named not to exceed 10 days from the date of service of such notice to some circuit judge having jurisdiction over the same for an order confirming its action, and the appointment of a liquidator for such banking institution or trust company; and such bank or trust company, at such hearing, may contest before such circuit judge the rightfulness and legality of such action of the department in appointing such liquidator; provided that this section shall not apply to stockholders in a bank or trust company which is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, a corporation under the laws of the United States, or which has an unimpaired surplus equalling the amount of its capital stock.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§661.12 General liquidator.—The department may provide for the administration of the affairs of institutions under s. 661.11 and this section by one general liquidator, who shall be designated by the department as a general liquidator for the administration of the affairs of several or all of the institutions in liquidation, whose compensation shall be paid by the department to be paid in such proportions out of the assets of the institution whose affairs are being administered as the department may determine, not exceeding in the aggregate $7,500 per annum. The department may provide for the transfer at any time to the general liquidator of the affairs of any institution for which a particular liquidator, or receiver, has been heretofore, or shall hereafter, be designated, and the general liquidator shall thereupon be vested with all the rights conferred by law on such general liquidator as if he had been designated in the first instance to act as such.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§661.13 Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, as liquidator.—The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, created under the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, upon appointment by the department, may be and act without bond as receiver or liquidator of any banking institution, the deposits in which are to any extent insured by the corporation, and which shall have been closed by the department. The department may, in its discretion, in the event of such closing, tender to the corporation the appointment as receiver or liquidator of such banking institution, and if the corporation accepts the appointment, the corporation shall have and possess all the powers and privileges provided by the laws of this state with respect to a receiver or liquidator, respectively, of a banking institution, its depositors and other creditors.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 67-247; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§661.14 Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, subrogated.—Whenever any bank or trust company shall have been closed by the department and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation shall pay, or make available for payment, the insured deposit liabilities of the closed institution, the corporation, whether or not it shall have become receiver or liquidator of the closed bank or trust company, as provided in s. 661.13, shall be and become subrogated by operation of law to all rights against the closed bank or trust company of each owner of a claim for deposit, to the extent now or hereafter necessary to enable the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, under federal law, to make insurance payments available to depositors of closed insured banks or trust companies.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 2, ch. 67-247; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§661.15 Department's procedure as to unsound banks.—If, from any examination made by the department, or any state bank examiner acting under its authority, of any bank or trust company, the department shall have reason to conclude that any such bank or trust company is in an unsound or unsafe condition, it shall forthwith take possession of the property and business of such bank or trust company and retain such possession until its affairs are placed in a sound and safe condition, or until a receiver or liquidator is appointed, as provided by law, and, pending such possession by the department, all the remedies at law or in equity of any creditor or stockholder against any such bank or trust company shall be suspended; however, the department may, upon conditions as may be approved by it, surrender possession of such bank or trust company for the purpose of permitting such bank or trust company to resume business, and the department shall have authority to authorize a reduction of capital in such suspended bank or trust company if found necessary for the resumption of business, and, upon consent in writing of the representatives of an amount of the deposits of any such bank or trust company aggregating 75 percent or more of the total deposits of such bank or trust company, the department shall, by order, freeze all deposits of such bank or trust company upon such reasonable terms and conditions as it may fix, as one of the terms of such resumption of business, and the public officers of any town, city, county, state, special road and bridge district, special school district, or other municipal corporation of the state having control over any unsecured public moneys on deposit with any such bank or trust company may sign and execute such consent to the freezing of such deposits of public money for the purpose herein contemplated for and in behalf of the municipality, state, county, special road and bridge district, or special school district represented.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1661.16 Transfer of nonliquid assets.—In all cases where any bank or trust company has resumed or continued business under the provisions of s. 661.15 and a "freezing" order obtained as to all deposits, such bank or trust company may set aside, transfer and convey to a trustee, corporation or liquidating agent, by and with the consent of the department, a part or all of the nonliquidating assets of said bank or trust company and held by such bank or trust company at the time of such "freezing" order, and responsible for the payment of all deposits included within such "freezing" order, for and in consideration of the surrender to such bank or trust company of all of the special certificates of deposit issued pursuant to the freezing order theretofore obtained; provided, however, that the consent in writing of the representatives of an amount of such frozen deposits representing 75 percent or more of the total unpaid frozen deposits shall first be had and obtained.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1661.17 Issue of stock certificates for pro rata share in frozen assets.—When the representatives of an amount of the frozen or unpaid deposits representing 75 percent, or more, of the total unpaid or frozen deposits, shall have agreed in writing to the setting aside, transferring or conveying to a trustee, corporation or other liquidating agent selected by the creditors, the frozen assets of such bank, or trust company, then such trustee, corporation or other liquidating agent may issue to the holder or holders of such certificates of deposit, or other evidence of indebtedness, who have not consented in writing to such transfer, a stock certificate or other evidence showing the pro rata interest of the holder of such certificate of deposit or other evidence of indebtedness in the frozen assets so set aside, transferred or conveyed, as above set out, and such trustee, corporation or other liquidating agent so selected by 75 percent, or more, of the creditors shall be responsible for the pro rata and equal distribution of such unpaid or frozen assets among all holders of such certificates of deposit or other evidence of indebtedness; provided that any such plan of settlement with the frozen certificate of deposit holders shall be confirmed by the circuit court.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.18 Notice of publication of department's approval of segregation and settlement plan, and date set for court confirmation.—Upon becoming satisfied that the plan of segregation is just and fair, and for the best interest of the bank and creditors, the department may give its approval to the plan and shall give 10 days' notice by publication in a newspaper located in the county in which the bank is located, and if there is no newspaper published in the county, said notice shall be caused to appear in a newspaper published in an adjoining county, and said publication shall give notice of the department's action in approving the plan of segregation, and shall designate a certain date for appearing before the court to ask for confirmation of its action in approving the said plan of segregation and settlement.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.19 Liability after transfer of certificates of deposit.—Any bank or trust company, upon the setting aside, transferring and conveying of the assets of such bank or trust company, as provided herein, and upon the surrender to such bank or trust company, or other liquidating agent, of the certificates of deposit, or other evidence of indebtedness issued by such bank or trust company, or liquidating agent, aggregating 75 percent, or more, of the total unpaid deposits, such bank or trust company, or liquidating agent, shall thereupon cancel all such certificates of deposit, or other evidences of indebtedness, and such bank or trust company, or liquidating agent, appointed by, acting under the authority of the department, shall thereafter be relieved and discharged from any and all liability for the payment of any money to the holder of such certificates of deposit or other evidences of indebtedness.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1661.20 Transfers, etc., void after act of insolvency.—Any and all transfers of the notes, bonds, bills of exchange, or other evidences of debt owing to any bank or trust company, or of deposits to its credit, all assignments of mortgages, securities or real estate, or of any judgments or decrees in its favor, all deposits of money, bullion or other valuable thing for its use, or for the use of any of its stockholders or creditors, and all payments of money to either, made after the commission of an act of insolvency or in contemplation thereof made with a view to the preference of one creditor to another, shall be utterly null and void.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.21 Notice to present claims.—The department shall, upon appointing a liquidator, cause notice to be given, by advertisement in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the bank is located, once each week for 9 consecutive weeks, calling on all persons, firms, or corporations who may have claims against such bank or trust company, to present the same and to make legal proof thereof.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective

July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1661.22 Claims, unclaimed dividends and undistributed funds.—All claims of every kind and nature against a state bank or trust company which has been placed in the hands of a liquidator must be properly sworn to and filed with the liquidator thereof within 1 year from the date of the qualification of the liquidator thereof of the bank or trust company, and no claim not so filed within 1 year from the date of the qualification of the liquidator thereof or prior to the expiration of any additional period for which the time for filing claims may be extended by the department shall be included by the liquidator or department in the distribution of the assets. The department may, in its discretion, extend the time for filing claims for an additional period not exceeding 1 year, and may, for good cause shown, permit a claim to be filed after the time for filing same has elapsed. Any secured claim filed within the said 1 year or such time as the time for the filing of claims has been extended, may be amended at any time prior to the final distribution of the assets in the hands of the liquidator. The liquidator, with the approval of the department and the circuit court, may value any security held by a claimant and allow as a common claim any balance of the claim remaining beyond such value of the security, and it shall not be necessary for such claimant to liquidate such security prior to such valuation, nor shall such valuation in anywise affect or impair the right of such claimant to liquidate such security. Any dividend check not called for within 2 years after the same is issued shall be canceled, and the money represented thereby shall be put back into the general account for distribution to depositors and creditors who may have claimed their dividends; provided, however, that before the cancellation of any such dividend warrant the department shall give notice of its intention so to do in a newspaper published in the county in which the insolvent bank is located and if no newspaper is located within said county, then the notice shall be run in a newspaper of general circulation in an adjoining county, and for good cause shown the department may issue to a claimant a dividend check representing any prior dividend checks canceled. Whenever the depositors and other creditors of any such bank or trust company have been paid dividends representing 100 percent of all claims which have been duly proved against any such bank or trust company, the undistributed funds then on hand for the account of such bank or trust company not represented by dividend warrants shall be paid to such bank or trust company at the expiration of a period of 2 years from the time of the closing out of any such receivership.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.23 Disposition of unclaimed dividend checks.—Whenever dividends representing 100 percent of all claims which have been duly proved against any state bank or trust company which has heretofore been placed or will hereafter be placed in the hands of a receiver or liquidator, or the liquidation of the assets of which has been handled under the supervision of the department have been declared and there is any dividend check or warrant not called for within 2 years after the final dividend, making the total of 100 percent of dividends, is declared, any such dividend check or warrant, final or otherwise, shall be canceled and the moneys represented thereby shall be paid to the state bank or trust company upon whose account such dividend check or warrant was issued. Undistributed funds on hand at the time of closing out any such receivership or liquidation not represented by dividend checks or warrants shall be paid to such state bank or trust company at the expiration of a period of 2 years from the time of such closing out of any such receivership or liquidation.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.24 Expenses and compensation of liquidators; disposition of remainder of proceeds after payment of all claims.—All expenses of any liquidator shall be paid out of the assets of such bank, or trust company, before distribution of the proceeds thereof. The compensation of the liquidator shall be fixed by the department, and shall be based upon the amount of work actually necessary and performed, and shall in no case exceed 5 percent of the cash collections. From time to time, after full provisions having first been made for the expenses of the liquidating agency, and the payment of liens for taxes and preferred claims, the department shall make ratable dividend of the money in the hands of the state treasurer on all such claims as may have been proved to its satisfaction or adjudicated in a court of competent jurisdiction, and as the proceeds of the assets of such bank, or trust company, are paid over to the liquidator, shall make further dividends on all claims previously proved or adjudicated; and the remainder of the proceeds, if any, after all claims have been paid, shall be paid over to the shareholders of such bank, or trust company, or their legal representatives, in proportion to the stock by them respectively held, or their interest therein as appearing.

1661.25 Purchase of property by department to protect liquidator's trust.—Whenever any liquidator, duly appointed by the department, and who shall have qualified and entered upon the discharge of his trust, shall find it in his opinion necessary to fully protect and benefit his said trust, to the extent that said trust may have in any property, real or personal, by reason of any bond, mortgage, lien, assignment, equity or other proper legal claim attaching thereto, and which said property is to be sold under execution, decree of foreclosure, or any proper order of any court of competent jurisdiction, or reclaimed or repossessed by any person having title opposed to such equity of his trust, he may certify the facts in the case, together with his opinion as to the value of the property, and the value of the equity his trust may have in same, and the amount that may be necessary to purchase such property, to the department, and if the department shall, in its judgment, deem it to the best interest of the said trust, it may draw upon the funds to the credit of said trust in the hands of the state treasurer to the amount necessary for the purchase of said property for the said trust.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1661.26 Receivers under supervision of department.—The provisions of this chapter shall apply to all receivers of any bank, or trust company, heretofore appointed by the order of any circuit court, and all such receivers, both those hereunder and those hereafter appointed by the circuit court, shall at all times be under the supervision and control of the department, and subject at all times to summary discharge and dismissal by it, and any vacancy in such receivership may be filled by the department at any time.

1661.27 Liquidator may borrow money and pledge securities with the approval of department; fees.—Any liquidator or receiver of an insolvent bank or trust company and any conservator appointed for any bank or trust company may borrow money from any person, and pledge or mortgage any part or all of the assets of such insolvent bank or trust company in conservatorship to secure the payment of such moneys borrowed, upon such terms and conditions as the department may approve, and such conditions may, in addition to any other terms and conditions, also include restriction, either in whole or in part, of the payment of any money to depositors or other creditors of insolvent banks and trust companies until the money so borrowed shall have been repaid in full, provided that any such pledge or mortgage shall be confirmed by the circuit court. The holder of any such pledge or mortgage shall have the right to enforce such pledge or mortgage as any other pledgee or mortgagee, and may exercise any rights given by such agreement or pledge or mortgage, providing further that a conservator may renew and extend notes or other obligations held by the bank in his custody from time to time, and may offer as substitution to the pledgee such renewed obligations. No commissions or fees shall be paid to any liquidator or receiver on account of any money received by him through the pledge of any assets of any bank or trust company provided for herein.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1661.28 Department may conserve assets by appointment of conservator; duties, rights, powers, expenses and salary.—Whenever the department shall deem it necessary, in order to conserve the assets of any bank for the benefit of the depositors and other creditors thereof, it may appoint a conservator for such bank or trust company, and require of him such bond and security as the department deems proper. The conservator, under the directions of the department, shall take possession of the books, records and assets of every description of such bank and take such action as may be necessary to conserve the assets of such bank pending further disposition of its business, as provided by law. Such conservator shall have all the rights, powers, and privileges now possessed by or hereafter given receivers or liquidators of insolvent state banks, and shall be subject to the obligations and penalties not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, to which the receivers or liquidators are now and may hereafter become subject. During the time that such conservator remains in possession of such bank, the rights of all parties with respect thereto shall, subject to the other provisions of this article, be the same as if a receiver or liquidator had been appointed therefor. All expenses of any such conservator shall be paid out of the assets of such bank and shall be a lien thereon which shall be prior to any other liens provided by this law, or otherwise. The conservator shall receive as salary an amount to be fixed by the department, but in no case greater than that paid to liquidators performing a similar service.

1661.29 Examiner's report to department.—The department shall cause to be made such examinations of the affairs of such bank or trust company as shall be necessary to inform it as to the financial condition of such bank or trust company, and the examiner designated for this purpose shall make a report thereon to the department at the earliest practicable date.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1661.30 Termination of conservatorship.—After the department becomes satisfied that it may be safely done and that it would be in the public interest, it may, in its discretion, terminate the conservatorship and permit such bank to resume the transaction of its business subject to such terms and conditions, restrictions and limitations as it may prescribe.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1661.31 Banking business of bank in hands of a conservator.—While a bank is in the hands of a conservator appointed by the department, the department may require the conservator to set aside and make available for withdrawal by depositors in payment to such other creditors, on a ratable basis, such amounts as in the opinion of the said department may safely be used for the purpose and the department may, in its discretion, permit the conservator to receive deposits but deposits received by the bank in the hands of the conservator shall not be subject to any limitations as to payment or withdrawal, and such deposits shall be segregated and shall not be used to liquidate any indebtedness of such bank or trust company existing at the time that a conservator was appointed for it, or any subsequent indebtedness incurred for the purpose of liquidating any indebtedness existing at the time such conservator was appointed. Such deposits received while the bank is in the hands of the conservator shall be kept on hand, in cash, invested in the direct obligations of the United States or deposited with the correspondent bank to be selected by the conservator and subject to his withdrawal.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

661.32 Reorganization.—Any reorganization of any bank or trust company shall be effective only after "creditors," which term shall include depositors representing 75 percent or more of the institution's debts in aggregate amount, have agreed to such plan of reorganization, only after such plan has been approved by the department and confirmed by a judge of a circuit court within whose jurisdiction said bank is located. When the required number of creditors have signified their willingness to enter into the plan of reorganization, said fact shall be made known to the department which shall thereupon give 10 days' notice by publication in a newspaper located in the city or county in which the institution to be reorganized is situated, and if there is no newspaper within said city or county, publication may be made in such newspaper as shall be designated by the department; such notice of publication to state the exact date that the matter will be presented to the court for confirmation. When such confirmation has been given by a court, all depositors and creditors not a party to said agreement shall be bound by and made a party to the said plan of reorganization, and shall be treated in all respects as though they had joined in said agreement; provided, however, that claims of depositors or other creditors which will be satisfied in full under the provisions of the plan of reorganization shall not be included among the total deposits and other liabilities of the bank or trust company in determining the 75 percent thereof, as hereinabove provided. When such reorganization becomes effective by confirmation of the court, as provided herein, the affairs of the bank or trust company shall be conducted by its board of directors in the manner provided by the plan under the conditions, restrictions and limitations which may have been prescribed by the department.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective

July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

661.33 Notice of publication of conservator's return of banking business to board of directors.—Within 15 days after the date that such bank or trust company has been turned back to its board of directors by the conservator, such bank or trust company shall give notice, by registered letter, to each such depositor having made deposits under the provisions of s. 661.31, and such conservator, upon the termination of his conservatorship and turning the affairs of such bank or trust company back to its board of directors shall cause to be published in a newspaper in the city or town or county in which such bank is located, and if no newspaper is published in such city, town or county, then in a newspaper in an adjoining county to be selected by the department, the notice to be in form approved by the department stating the date on which the affairs of the bank were returned to its board of directors, and that the said provisions of s. 661.31 will not be effective after 15 days from the date of such notice.

cf.—s. 1.01 Defines registered mail to include certified mail with return receipt requested.

661.34 Penalty for embezzlement of funds by conservator; removal.—Any conservator appointed under the provisions of this law for any bank or trust company who embezzles, abstracts or willfully misapplies any moneys, funds or credits coming into his hands as such conservator shall be guilty of a felony of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. Any person selected as conservator by the department shall be subject to removal at any time. Any vacancy in such conservatorship by removal or resignation may be filled by the department, as provided for the appointment of a conservator in the first instance.

661.35 Powers of department unimpaired.—Nothing in ss. 661.28-661.34 shall be construed to impair in any manner any powers now vested in the department in the supervision of banking institutions operating under a state charter.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

661.36 Preservation of records of insolvent banks.—The general ledger of any insolvent bank in use at the time of its failure, any subsequent general ledger used in the course of its liquidation, and the records of claims as filed with the liquidator, shall be preserved by the department.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective

July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

'661.37 Destruction of records of insolvent bank by liquidator.—The liquidator of any insolvent state bank in liquidation under the laws of the state, with the consent of the department, in writing, and upon court order, may destroy or cause to be destroyed such records other than those mentioned in s. 661.39 of any solvent state bank in liquidation or which may hereafter be in liquidation under the laws of the state, as in the judgment of the department and the court are not necessary to the liquidation of said insolvent state bank.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

'661.38 Prima facie evidence.—The general ledger, list of claimants, examiner's final report made at the time of the failure of the bank and such other records of the department's office relating to any closed bank, or any duly authenticated copy thereof, shall be prima facie evidence of the subject matter therein set forth.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

'661.39 Voluntary liquidation.—Any bank or trust company may go into liquidation and be closed by a vote of its stockholders owning two-thirds of its stock. Whenever a vote is taken to go into liquidation, the board of directors shall cause this fact to be certified to the department and publication thereof to be made for a period of 2 months in a newspaper of general circulation located in the county in which the bank is closing up its affairs and notifying its creditors to present their claims against the bank for payment.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

'661.40 Procedure in voluntary liquidation.—When a bank or trust company decides to go into voluntary liquidation, the president and cashier, or other appropriate officers, shall, before beginning publication of the notice required by law furnish the department with a full and complete detailed statement of the affairs of the bank or trust company, and shall thereafter forward to the department on the first Monday in each month a like detailed statement until all of the liabilities of the bank or trust company shall have been settled in full, provided that if the department is not satisfied with the report of any bank or trust company intending to go into voluntary liquidation, or if at any time it is not satisfied with the progress of such liquidation, it shall have full authority to proceed under s. 661.29, or otherwise, as the law directs.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective

July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

'661.41 Department may direct examination.—When it shall appear to the department that it is necessary or advisable to do so, it shall direct the person employed under this act to make a thorough examination, reporting to it the condition of the business of the bank or trust company, and the directors shall make good any losses or irregularities to the satisfaction of the department, and if not done at once, a liquidator may be appointed.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

'661.42 Disposition of unclaimed funds of bank in voluntary liquidation.—In all cases of voluntary liquidation of any bank or trust company, when after 3 years from the notice of liquidation duly given or published, there are any unclaimed funds due to the depositors of said bank or trust company that cannot be distributed by reason of the inability to find claimants, or by reason of there being no claimants, and after all other depositors who have filed claims or presented demands for payment have been fully paid, then such funds shall inure to and for the benefit of the stockholders of said bank or trust company. Said bank or trust company shall certify to the department in a list of such unclaimed funds showing the amount of same and the name or names of the person or persons in which said deposits were made, or for whose benefit said funds appear, as shown by the books and records of said bank or trust company. The department, if it shall be satisfied that the matters so certified are true and correct and that the requirements of this section have been complied with, shall thereupon certify its approval for the distribution of such unclaimed funds for the benefit of the stockholders of said bank or trust company, and thereafter all such claims shall be forever barred.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'661.43 County, municipality, school board, drainage district, etc., authorized to settle, compromise or adjust frozen deposits.—Any county, municipality, school board, drainage district, or other taxing district or public body corporate, or any division of same, existing under the laws of the state having deposits of money which said deposits are frozen in any banking institution in the state, or having deposits in any banking institution in said state, which banking institution is in the hands of a liquidator, conservator or receiver, may compromise, settle and adjust such deposits by accepting as satisfaction thereof any real or personal property or monetary consideration, provided that such settlement, compromise or adjustment shall be approved in writing by the judge of the circuit court having jurisdiction. The compromise settlement or adjustment of deposits shall be made by the governing board as constituted under the laws of Florida having custody and control of such deposits, and upon the making of such settlement, compromise or adjustment, the governing board making the same shall be authorized to surrender to the banking institution having such deposit, or to the person in charge thereof, any certificate of deposit or other evidence of such deposit. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any deposits which are liquid and subject to withdrawal or which are fully secured by collateral.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 1, ch. 69-300; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

661.44 Unclaimed dividends; disposition.—

(1) Whenever there are any dividend checks or warrants which have been issued under the provisions of ss. 661.15-661.17, inclusive, and which have not been called for or delivered within 2 years from the date of such dividend distribution, such dividend checks or warrants shall be canceled and the moneys represented thereby shall be put back into the general account and redistributed to those depositors and claimants who have claimed their dividends; provided, that where dividends or distribution to depositors or claimants have equaled 100 percent of their original claim, or will by this distribution equal 100 percent of their original claim, then all funds in excess of 100 percent of the original claim shall be paid to the bank or trust company; provided, further, that before the cancellation of any such dividend checks or warrants, 30 days' notice of intention so to do

shall be published in the county in which the bank or trust company is or was located, and if no newspaper is located within said county, then the notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in an adjoining county, and before such cancellation an order from the circuit court shall be obtained approving the disposition of the unclaimed dividends.

(2) Whenever there are any redistributed dividend checks or warrants which have been issued under subsection (1) hereof, and which have not been called for or delivered within 2 years from such redistribution, such redistributed dividend checks or warrants shall be canceled, and the moneys represented thereby shall be paid into the general revenue fund of the state, provided that before the cancellation of any such redistributed dividend checks or warrants 30 days' notice of intention so to do shall be published in the county in which the bank or trust company is or was located, and if no newspaper is located within said county, then the notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in an adjoining county and before such cancellation an order from the circuit court shall be obtained approving the disposition of the unclaimed redistributed dividends.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28016, 1953; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

665.011 Short title.—This chapter may be cited as the "Savings Association Act."

History.—s. 1, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

665.021 Definitions.—When used in this chapter, the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings, except to the extent that any such word or phrase specifically is qualified by its context:

(1) "Association" shall mean a savings association or savings and loan association subject to the provisions of this chapter.

(2) "Department" shall mean the Department of Banking and Finance.

(3) "Community" shall mean a centralized area or locality in which a body of inhabitants is gathered in one group having common residential, social or business interests. The term does not necessarily mean a municipal corporation or other political subdivision; a community need not be limited by lines and boundaries. A village, town, or other governmental unit, either incorporated or unincorporated, may constitute one community, but a large, populous area under one or more forms of government may be composed of several communities.

(4) "Direct-reduction loan" shall mean a loan or other obligation repayable in consecutive monthly installments, equal or unequal, beginning not later than 90 days after the date of the advance, sufficient to retire the debt, interest, and principal within 30 years, the initial contract of which shall not provide for any subsequent monthly installment of interest and principal of an amount larger than any previous monthly installment, except that provisions may be contained in such contract which specify that one or more consecutive monthly installments may be lapsed to the extent that monthly installments have been made ahead of schedule or, in the event of an emergency to the borrower affecting his ability to pay, to the extent of no more than 6 monthly installments but that nevertheless the full amount of principal and interest shall be paid within the scheduled term of the loan. In the case of construction loans, the first installment under said contract shall be payable not later than 18 months after the date of the first advance. Any such loan or obligation is an amortized loan.

(5) "Dwelling unit" shall mean a single, unified combination of rooms designed for residential use by one family in a multiple dwelling unit structure, and which is not "home property."

(6) "Earnings" shall mean that part of the sources available for payment of earnings of an association which is declared payable on savings accounts from time to time by the board of directors, and is the cost of savings money to the association. Earnings also may be referred to as "interest."

(7) "Financial institution" shall mean a thrift institution, commercial bank, or trust company.

(8) "Home property" shall mean real estate on which there is located, or will be located pursuant to a real estate loan, either a structure designed for residential use by one family or a single condominium unit, including common elements pertinent thereto, designed for residential use by one family in a multiple dwelling unit structure or complex, and shall include fixtures and home furnishings and equipment.

(9) "Impaired condition" shall mean a condition in which the assets of an association in the aggregate do not have a fair value equal to the aggregate amount of liabilities of the association to its creditors, including its members and all other persons.

(10) "Improved real estate" shall mean real estate on which there is a structure or an enclosure, or which is cultivated, reclaimed, used for the purpose of agriculture in any form, prepared as building lots or sites, or otherwise occupied, made better, more useful, or of greater value by care so as to produce an enjoyment thereof.

(11) "Insured association" shall mean an association the savings accounts of which are insured wholly or in part in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

(12) "Liquid assets" shall mean:

(a) Cash on hand;

(b) Cash on deposit in federal home loan banks, state banks performing similar reserve functions, or in commercial banks, which is withdrawable upon not more than 30 days' notice and which is not pledged as security for indebtedness, except that any deposits in a bank under the control or in the possession of any supervisory authority shall not be considered as liquid assets; and

(c) Obligations of, or obligations which are fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the United States or this state.

(13) "Member" shall mean a person holding a savings account of an association or a person borrowing from or assuming or obligated upon a loan or interest therein held by an association, or purchasing property securing a loan or interest therein held by an association. A joint and survivorship relationship, whether of savers or borrowers, constitutes a single membership. Neither a savings account holder, depositor, nor borrower is a member of an association capitalized solely on a capital stock basis as authorized by s. 665.701.

(14) "Net income" shall mean gross revenues for an accounting period less all expenses paid or incurred, taxes, and losses sustained as shall not have been charged to reserves pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

(15) "One borrower" shall mean:

(a) Any person or entity which is, or which upon the making of a loan will become, obligor on a real estate loan;

(b) Nominees of such obligor;

(c) All persons, trusts, partnerships, syndicates, and corporations of which such obligor is a nominee or a beneficiary, partner, member, or record or beneficial stockholder owning 10 percent or more of the capital stock; and

(d) If such obligor is a trust, partnership, syndicate, or corporation, all trusts, partnerships, syndicates, and corporations of which any beneficiary, partner, member or record or beneficial stockholder owning 10 percent or more of the capital stock, is also a beneficiary, partner, member, or record or beneficial stockholder owning 10 percent or more of the capital stock of such obligor.

(16) "Primarily residential property" shall mean real estate on which there is located, or will be located pursuant to a real estate loan, any of the following:

(a) A structure or structures designed or used primarily for residential rather than nonresidential purposes and consisting of more than one dwelling unit;

(b) A structure or structures designed or used primarily for residential rather than nonresidential purposes for students, residents and persons under care, employees or members of the staff of an educational, health or welfare institution or facility; and

(c) A structure or structures which are used in part for residential purposes for not more than one family and in part for business purposes provided that the residential use of such structure or structures must be substantial and permanent, not merely transitory.

(17) "Primary lending area" shall mean this state and any additional area within 100 miles from the home office of an association.

(18) "Real estate loan" shall mean any loan or other obligation secured by a first lien on real estate in any state held in fee or in a leasehold extending or renewable automatically for a period of at least 15 years beyond the date scheduled for the final principal payment of such loan or obligation, or any transaction out of which a first lien or claim is created against such real estate, including inter alia the purchase of such real estate in fee by an association and the concurrent or immediate sale thereof on installment contract.

(19) "Savings account" shall mean that part of the savings liability of the association which is credited to the account of the holder thereof. A savings account also may be referred to as a savings deposit.

(20) "Savings liability" shall mean the aggregate amount of savings accounts of members, including earnings credited to such accounts, less redemptions and withdrawals.

(21) "Service organization" shall mean an organization substantially all the activities of which consist of originating, purchasing, selling, and servicing loans upon real estate and participating interest therein, or clerical, bookkeeping, accounting, statistical, or similar functions performed primarily for financial institutions, plus such other activities as the department may approve.

(22) "Sources available for payment of earnings" shall mean net income for an accounting period less amounts transferred to reserves as provided in or permitted by this chapter, plus any balance of undivided profits from preceding accounting periods.

(23) "Thrift institution" shall mean an association, a savings and loan association, a building and loan association, a federal savings association, a federal savings and loan association, and a supervised thrift and residential financing institution of a substantially similar nature.

(24) "Withdrawal value" shall mean the amount credited to a savings account of a member, less lawful deductions therefrom, as shown by the records of the association.

(25) "Net worth" shall mean the sum of all reserve accounts, except specific or valuation reserves, retained earnings, capital stock, any other nonwithdrawable accounts of an association, and the principal amount of any subordinated debt securities to the extent authorized by the department.

History.—s. 2, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 278, ch. 71-377; s. 1, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.031 Incorporation.—

(1) CREATION OF THRIFT INSTITUTIONS.—When authorized by the Department of Banking and Finance as provided herein, a corporation may be formed under the laws of this state by five or more natural persons, a majority of whom are residents of this state, for the purpose of promoting thrift and home financing.

(2) APPLICATION FOR AUTHORITY TO ORGANIZE.—A written application for authority to organize a corporation as provided in subsection (1) shall be filed with the department and shall include:

(a) The name and address of the exact site at which the association is to be located;

(b) Such detailed financial and biographical information for each incorporator and subscriber as the department may require;

(c) The total amount of the savings account capital and organization expense fund subscribed, together with the name and address of each subscriber thereto;

(d) Such economic data, projections of business volume, income, expense, and other information as the department may require; and

(e) A complete set of fingerprints taken by an authorized law enforcement officer of each organizing incorporator, proposed director, and proposed managing officer. Such fingerprints shall be submitted by the department to appropriate law enforcement agencies for processing.

(3) INVESTIGATION BY DEPARTMENT.—Upon the filing of an application the department shall make an investigation of:

(a) The character, financial standing, responsibility, and experience of the persons named in the application to conduct the affairs of the thrift institution,

(b) The public need for a thrift institution or additional thrift institution, as the case may be, in the community where the proposed thrift institution is to be located, giving particular consideration to the present and future ability of the community to support both the proposed and all other existing thrift institutions in the community in the conduct of profitable operations.

(4) DECISION BY DEPARTMENT.—The department shall approve the application upon such terms and conditions as it determines necessary to protect the public interest or disapprove the application at its discretion, but it shall not approve such application unless, in its opinion:

(a) Public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the establishment of the proposed thrift institution;

(b) Local conditions assure reasonable promise of the successful operation of the proposed thrift institution and of those thrift institutions already established in the community;

(c) The proposed officers and directors have good character, sufficient financial standing, and adequate experience and responsibility to assure reasonable promise of the successful operation of the thrift institution; and

(d) The proposed savings account capital and organization expense fund or capital stock subscriptions comply with the requirements of this chapter.

(5) ACTION BY DEPARTMENT.—If the department approves the application for authority to organize, the applicant may apply for insurance of accounts as provided for in s. 665.214(6). Upon notice to the department that said insurance of accounts has been approved by the insurer, the department shall furnish to the applicant form articles of incorporation and bylaws for execution and adoption. The executed and adopted articles of incorporation and bylaws shall be returned to the department for approval and filing with the Department of State. The corporate existence of a thrift institution shall begin on the date that the Department of State records the approved articles of incorporation. However, no thrift institution shall commence business before it is in possession of a certificate of authorization to transact business as provided in s. 665.041(3). Corporate existence shall be perpetual unless terminated in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

History.—s. 3, ch. 69-39; ss. 10, 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 72-369; s. 1, ch. 73-49; s. 1, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 7, ch. 78-95; s. 3, ch. 79-144.

1665.032 Examination fees and assessments.—

(1) Each state savings and loan association shall pay to the Department of Banking and Finance application and examination fees and assessments as follows:

(a) A semiannual fee of $250; plus

(b) A semiannual assessment of 5 cents per $1,000 of total assets up to $50 million, plus 3 cents per $1,000 in excess of $50 million, computed on total assets as shown on the report of condition of the association as of the last business day in June and December of each year. The department is authorized to fix a fee or assessment which is less than the maximum herein. Said assessment may be based upon a per-man per-day cost of examination. In fixing said cost, consideration shall be given to the qualifications of each man, and the rate may vary accordingly.

(2) The fee and assessment shall be due and payable within 30 days following the date of the semiannual report of condition.

(3) Applications required to be filed with the department by this chapter shall bear the following fees:

(a) The application to organize a new association shall be accompanied by a fee of $2,000.

(b) The application to change the location of the home office or branch office shall be accompanied by a fee of $1,000.

(c) The application to establish a branch office shall be accompanied by a fee of $1,500.

(d) The application to convert from a federal association to a state association shall be accompanied by a fee which shall not exceed an amount which is the sum of $250 plus an amount to be computed at the rate of 5 cents per $1,000 of total assets up to $50 million, plus 3 cents per $1,000 of total assets in excess of $50 million. Total assets shall be determined from the report of condition of the association as of the last business day in June or December immediately preceding the date of application for conversion. The department is authorized to fix a fee which is less than the maximum authorized herein. Said fee may be based upon a per-man per-day cost to process the application. In determining the per-man cost, consideration shall be given to the qualifications of each man, and the rate may vary accordingly. If the conversion occurs, this fee will be credited to, and reduce, the first semiannual assessment.

(4) All fees and assessments imposed by this chapter shall be paid to the state treasurer who shall deposit all of the amount collected hereunder in a special bank and trust company trust fund. The funds so deposited are to be used by the department to administer this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 73-49; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.041 Capitalization and organization.—

(1) BASIS FOR INCORPORATION; MINIMUM SAVINGS ACCOUNT CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS.—Except as provided in s. 665.704, associations may be incorporated on a mutual basis with savings accounts only. Said capital shall be in the following minimum amounts:

(a) In communities having a population of 10,000 or less ..... $100,000;

(b) In communities having a population of more than 10,000 but less than 100,000 ..... 300,000;

(c) In communities having a population of more than 100,000 ..... 500,000;

except that the department may, in its discretion, require a larger amount. The population of the community shall be determined by the department based upon the latest Federal Census.

(2) ORGANIZATION EXPENSE FUND.—The incorporators shall create an organization expense fund equal to 10 percent of the total savings account capital required by the department and shall, at the time of filing the application for authority to organize an association, pay to their designated escrow agent a minimum of 10 percent of said fund in cash. Organization expenses may be paid from the expense fund, and the amounts expended will not thereafter be recoverable to the contributors.

(3) AUTHORIZATION TO COMMENCE BUSINESS.—Within 6 months of the date upon which approved articles of incorporation are filed, the association shall file with the department a statement, in such form and with such supporting data and proof as it may require, showing that the entire savings account capital and the organization expense fund have been fully paid in cash and that the funds represented thereby, less sums expended for organization expenses and for fixed assets and supplies, are on hand. Upon determination that the association has in good faith complied with all the requirements of law, and within 30 days of receipt of the statement specified herein, the department shall issue, in duplicate, under its official seal, a certificate of authorization to transact the business of a savings and loan association, transmitting one copy to the association and placing one copy in the department file. The association shall cause said certificate to be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation published in the city or county where the association is located.

(4) RETENTION AND REPAYMENT OF ORGANIZATION EXPENSE FUND.—The balance remaining in the organization expense fund on the date the association commences business shall be retained by the association as a source from which to pay operating expenses until such time as its net income is sufficient to pay such earnings as may be declared and paid or credited to its savings account holders. Said fund shall be paid earnings at the same rate as savings accounts of the association. The fund shall be reimbursed for payment of operating expenses as the net income of the association permits. It may be refunded to the original contributors when the net income of the association, after provision for statutory reserves and declaration of earnings on savings accounts, warrants and when such refund is approved by the department.

cf.—s. 11.031 Official census.

1665.051 Name; office, forfeiture of charter for nonuse.

(1) CORPORATE NAME.—The name of every association shall include either the words "savings association," or "savings and loan association." These words shall be preceded by an appropriate descriptive word or words approved by the department. An ordinal number may not be used as a single descriptive word preceding the words "savings association," or "savings and loan association," unless such words are followed by the words "of .....", the blank being filled by the name of the community, town, city, or county in which the association has its home office. An ordinal number may be used together with another descriptive word preceding the words, "savings association" or "savings and loan association," provided the other descriptive word has not been used in the corporate name of any other association in the state, in which case the suffix mentioned above is not required to be used. An ordinal number may be used, together with another descriptive word preceding the words "savings association" or "savings and loan association," even when such other descriptive word has been used in the corporate name of an association in the state, provided the suffix "of .....", as provided above, is also used. The suffix provided above may be used in any corporate name. The use of the words, "National," "Federal," "United States," "insured," "guaranteed," or any form thereof, separately or in any combination thereof with other words or syllables, is prohibited as part of the corporate name of an association. No certificate of incorporation of a proposed association having the same name as a corporation authorized to do business under the laws of this state or a name so nearly resembling it as to be likely to deceive shall be issued by the department, except to an association formed by the reincorporation, reorganization, or consolidation of the association with other associations, or upon the sale of the property or franchise of an association.

(2) EXCLUSIVENESS OF NAME.—No person, firm, company, association, fiduciary, partnership, or corporation, either domestic or foreign, unless he or it is lawfully authorized to do business in this state under the provisions of this chapter and actually is engaged in carrying on a savings association business shall do business under any name or title which contains the terms "savings association," "savings and loan association," "building and loan association," "building association," or any combination employing either or both of the words "building" or "loan" with one or more of the words "saving," "savings," "thrift," or words of similar import, or any combination employing one or more of the words "saving," "savings," "thrift," or words of similar import with one or more of the words "association," "institution," "society," "company," "fund," "corporation," or words of similar import, or use any name or sign or circulate or use any letterhead, billhead, circular or paper whatever, or advertise or represent in any manner which indicates or reasonably implies that his or its business is the character or kind of business carried on or transacted by an association or which is likely to lead any person to believe that his or its business is that of an association. Upon application by the department or any association, a court of competent jurisdiction may issue an injunction to restrain any such entity from violating or continuing to violate any of the foregoing provisions of this subsection. Any person who violates any provision of this subsection shall be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000, and each day of violation shall constitute a separate offense. The prohibitions of this subsection shall not apply to any corporation or association formed for the purpose of promoting the interests of thrift institutions, the membership of which is comprised of thrift institutions, their officers or other representatives.

(3) CORPORATE OFFICE.—Without the prior approval of the department, as provided in this chapter, no association shall establish any office other than its home office, which shall be in the location named in the certificate of incorporation. No office of an association shall be moved from its immediate vicinity unless approved by the department.

(4) CHANGE OF NAME OR OFFICE.—The name or the location of the home office or branch office of any association fixed in the certificate of incorporation or other certificate of approval may be changed in the following manner: The proposed new name or the new location of the home office or branch office of the association shall be approved by a resolution adopted by the board of directors. Immediately preceding application to the department for approval, notice of intention to change the name or the location of the home office or branch office, signed by two officers, shall be published once a week for 2 successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the home office is located, and a copy of such notice shall be displayed during such consecutive 2 weeks' period in a conspicuous public place in the home office and in the branch office, if the branch location of the association is sought to be changed. Five copies of an application to the department for approval shall be signed by two officers of the association, acknowledged before an officer competent to take acknowledgments of deeds and filed with the department. Upon approval of an application for change of name, the department shall endorse on each copy of the application therefor a certificate of approval thereof, and the change of name of such association shall be effective immediately. Whenever the department shall receive from any association an application for change of location of its home office or a branch office, it shall make a determination based upon the criteria set out in s. 665.031(3) and (5) in the case of establishment of a newly chartered association, and, acting in its sole discretion, may hold a hearing as provided for in that section. Upon its approval of such application, the department shall endorse on each copy of such application a certificate of approval. When the department shall have endorsed such approval upon the copies of an application for approval of change of name or change of location of home office or branch office, it shall file one copy thereof with the Department of State, two copies with the Federal Home Loan Bank of which the association is a member, return one copy to the applicant association and retain the original copy in the permanent files of the department.

(5) FORFEITURE OF CHARTER FOR NONUSE.—Any association which shall not commence business within 6 months after the date upon which its corporate existence shall have begun, shall forfeit its corporate existence, unless the department, before the expiration of such 6-month period, shall have approved the extension of time within which it may commence business, upon a written application stating the reasons for such delay. Upon such forfeiture the certificate of incorporation shall expire, and all action taken in connection with the incorporation thereof except the payment of the incorporation fee shall become void. Amounts credited on savings accounts, less expenditures authorized by law, shall be returned pro rata to the respective holders thereof.

History.—s. 5, ch. 69-39; ss. 10, 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 74-290; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.061 Conversion without change of business form.—

(1) CONVERSION INTO FEDERAL SAVINGS ASSOCIATION.—At an annual meeting or at any special meeting of the members or stockholders called to consider such action, any association or corporation of this state doing a home-financing business may convert itself into a federal savings association or federal savings and loan association, hereinafter called "Federal Association," in accordance with the laws of the United States, as now or hereafter amended, upon a vote of 51 percent or more of the total number of votes of the members or stockholders eligible to be cast. A copy of the minutes of the proceedings of such meeting of the members or stockholders, verified by the affidavit of the secretary or an assistant secretary, shall be filed with the department within 10 days after the date of such meeting. A sworn copy of the proceedings of such meeting, when so filed, shall be presumptive evidence of the holding and action of such meeting. Within 3 months after the date of such meeting, the association shall take such action in the manner prescribed and authorized by the laws of the United States as shall make it a federal association. There shall be filed with the department a copy of the charter issued to such federal association by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board or a certificate showing the organization of such association as a federal association, certified by the secretary or assistant secretary of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. A similar copy of the charter, or of such certificate, shall be filed by the association with the Department of State. No failure to file any such instruments with either the Department of Banking and Finance or the Department of State shall affect the validity of such conversion. Upon the grant to any association of a charter by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the association receiving such charter shall cease to be an association incorporated under this chapter and shall no longer be subject to the supervision and control of the department. Upon the conversion of any association into a federal association, the corporate existence of such association shall not terminate, but such federal association shall be deemed to be a continuation of the entity of the association so converted and all property of the converted association, including its rights, titles, and interest in all and to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal, or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest, and asset of any conceivable value or benefit then existing, or pertaining to it, or which would inure to it, shall immediately by operation of law and without any conveyance or transfer and without any further act or deed remain and be vested in and continue and be the property of such federal association into which the state association has converted itself, and such federal association shall have, hold, and enjoy the same in its own right as fully and to the same extent as the same was possessed, held, and enjoyed by the converting association. Such federal association as of the time of the taking effect of such conversion shall continue to have and succeed to all the rights, obligations, and relations of the converting association. All pending actions and other judicial proceedings to which the converting state association is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of such conversion, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order, or decree in the same manner as if such conversion into such federal association had not been made and such federal association resulting from such conversion may continue such action in its corporate name as a federal association, and any judgment, order, or decree may be rendered for or against it which might have been rendered for or against the converting state association theretofore involved in such judicial proceedings. Any association or corporation, which has heretofore converted itself into a federal association under the provisions of the Laws of the United States and has received a charter from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, shall hereafter be recognized as a federal association, and its federal charter shall be given full recognition by the courts of this state to the same extent as if such conversion had taken place under the provisions of this section; provided, however, that there shall have been compliance with the foregoing requirements with respect to the filing with the department of a copy of the federal charter or a certificate showing the organization of such association as a federal association. All such conversions are hereby ratified and confirmed, and all the obligations of such an association which has so converted shall continue as valid and subsisting obligations of such federal association, and the title to all of the property of such an association shall be deemed to have continued and vested, as of the date of issuance of such federal charter, in such federal association as fully and completely as if such conversion had taken place since the enactment of this chapter pursuant to this section.

(2) CONVERSION INTO STATE-CHARTERED ASSOCIATION.—At an annual meeting or at any special meeting of the members or stockholders called to consider such action, any federal association may convert itself into an association under this chapter upon a vote of 51 percent or more of the total number of votes of the members or stockholders of such federal association eligible to be cast. Copies of the minutes of the proceedings of such meeting of members or stockholders, verified by the affidavit of the secretary or an assistant secretary, shall be filed in the office of the department and mailed to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Washington, D.C., within 10 days after such meeting. Such verified copies of the proceedings of the meeting when so filed shall be presumptive evidence of the holding and action of such meeting. At the meeting at which conversion is voted upon, the members or stockholders shall also vote upon the directors who shall be the directors of the state-chartered association after conversion takes effect. Such directors shall then execute two copies of the petition for certificate of incorporation and two copies of the bylaws. The department shall insert in the certificate of incorporation, at the end of the paragraph preceding the testimony clause, the following: "This association is incorporated by conversion from a federal association." All of the directors who are chosen for the association shall sign and acknowledge the petition for certificate of incorporation as subscribers thereto and the proposed bylaws as incorporators of the association. The provisions of this chapter shall, so far as applicable, apply to such conversion under this section. The department may provide, by rule, for the procedure to be followed by any federal association converting into a state-chartered association. All the applicable provisions regarding property and other rights contained in the preceding subsection shall apply to the conversion of a federal association into an association incorporated under this chapter, so that the state-chartered association shall be a continuation of the corporate entity of the converting federal association and continue to have all of its property and rights.

(3) LIMITATION.—No conversion of an association or a federal association, direct or indirect, shall be permitted except as specifically authorized by this chapter.

History.—s. 6, ch. 69-39; ss. 10, 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 1, ch. 78-234.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

§665.073 Power to reorganize, merge or consolidate.—Pursuant to a plan adopted by the board of directors and approved by the department as equitable to the members of the association and as not impairing the usefulness and success of other properly conducted associations in the community, an association shall have power to reorganize or merge or consolidate with another association or federal association within its primary lending area, provided that the plan of such reorganization, merger or consolidation shall be approved at an annual meeting or at any special meeting of the members called to consider such action by a vote of 51 percent or more of the total number of votes of the members eligible to be cast. In all cases the corporate continuity of the resulting corporation shall possess the same incidents as that of an association which has converted in accordance with this chapter. No association, directly or indirectly, shall convert or reorganize, or merge, consolidate, assume liability to pay savings accounts or other liabilities of, transfer assets in consideration of the assumption of liabilities for any portion of the savings accounts, deposits made in, or other liabilities of such association to, or acquire the assets of or assume liability to pay any liabilities of, any financial institution or any other organization, person, or entity, except as specifically authorized by this chapter.

History.—s. 7, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.081 Dissolution.—

(1) DISSOLUTION.—Subject to the limitations of s. 665.073, any association may, at any special meeting of the members called to consider such action, terminate its existence in accordance with the provisions of this section upon a vote of 51 percent or more of the total number of votes of members eligible to be cast.

(2) CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION.—Upon such vote, five copies of a certificate of dissolution, which shall state the vote cast in favor of dissolution, shall be signed by two officers and acknowledged before an officer competent to take acknowledgments of deeds. Five copies of such certificate shall be filed with the department, which shall examine such association, and, if it finds that the association is not in an impaired condition, shall so note, together with its approval of such dissolution, upon all the copies of the certificate of dissolution. The department shall place a copy in its permanent files, file a copy with the Department of State, and return the remaining copies to the parties filing the same.

(3) CONTINUATION AS CORPORATE ENTITY FOR SOLE PURPOSE OF WINDING UP AFFAIRS.—Upon such approval the association shall be dissolved and shall cease to carry on business but nevertheless shall continue as a corporate entity for the sole purpose of paying, satisfying, and discharging existing liabilities and obligations, collecting and distributing assets, and doing all other acts required to adjust, wind up, and dissolve its business and affairs.

(4) DIRECTORS AS LIQUIDATING TRUSTEES.—The board of directors shall act as trustees for liquidation. It shall proceed as quickly as may be practicable to wind up the affairs of the association and, to the extent necessary or expedient to that end, shall exercise all the powers of such dissolved association and, without prejudice to the generality of such authority, may fill vacancies, elect officers, carry out the contracts, make new contracts, borrow money, mortgage or pledge the property, sell its assets at public or private sale, or compromise claims in favor of or against the association, apply assets to the discharge of liabilities, distribute assets either in cash or in kind among savings account members according to their respective pro rata interests after paying or adequately providing for the payment of other liabilities, and perform all acts necessary or expedient to the winding up of the association. All deeds or other instruments shall be in the name of the association and executed by the president or a vice president and the secretary or an assistant secretary. The board of directors shall also have power to exchange or otherwise dispose of or put in trust all, or substantially all, or any part of the assets, upon such terms and conditions and for such considerations, which may be money, stock, bonds, shares, or accounts of any insured association, or of any federal association, or other instruments for the payment of money, or other property, or other considerations, as the board of directors may deem reasonable or expedient, and may distribute such considerations or the proceeds thereof, or trust receipts, or certificates of beneficial interest among the savings account members in proportion to their pro rata interests therein. In the absence of fraud, any determination of value made by the board of directors for any such purposes shall be conclusive.

(5) SUPERVISION BY DEPARTMENT DURING LIQUIDATION.—The association, during the liquidation of the assets of the association by the board of directors, shall continue to be subject to the supervision of the department, and the board of directors shall report the progress of such liquidation to the department from time to time as it may require. Upon completion of liquidation, the board of directors shall file with the department a final report and accounting of such liquidation. The approval of such report by the department shall operate as a complete and final discharge of the board of directors and each member thereof in connection with the liquidation of such association. No such dissolution or any action of the board of directors in connection therewith shall impair any contract right between such association and any borrower or other person or persons or the vested rights of any member of such association.

History.—s. 8, ch. 69-39; ss. 10, 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.091 Meetings of members.—

(1) ANNUAL AND SPECIAL MEETINGS.—The annual meeting of the members of each association shall be held during the first 4 months of the fiscal year, as fixed in the bylaws of such association. Special meetings may be called as provided in the bylaws.

(2) MEMBERS ENTITLED TO VOTE.—The members who shall be entitled to vote at any meeting of the members shall be those who are members of record at the end of the calendar month next preceding the date of the meeting, except those who have ceased to be members. The number of votes which members shall be entitled to cast shall be in accordance with the books on the said date determinative of entitlement to vote.

(3) VOTING RIGHTS.—In the determination of all questions requiring action by the members, each member shall be entitled to cast one vote for each $100 of the withdrawal value of savings accounts, if any, held by such member. No member however, shall cast more than 50 votes.

(4) VOTING BY PROXY.—At any meeting of the members, voting may be in person or by proxy, provided that no proxy shall be eligible to be voted at any meeting unless such proxy shall have been filed with the secretary of the association, for verification, at least 5 days prior to the date of such meeting. Every proxy shall be in writing and signed by the member or his duly authorized attorney-in-fact and, when filed with the secretary, shall unless otherwise specified in the proxy, continue in force from year to year until revoked by a writing duly delivered to the secretary or until superseded by subsequent proxies.

(5) QUORUM.—At an annual meeting or at any special meeting of the members, 25 members present in person or by proxy eligible to be voted constitutes a quorum. A majority of all votes cast at any meeting of members shall determine any question unless this chapter specifically provides otherwise.

History.—s. 9, ch. 69-39; s. 1, ch. 71-91; s. 1, ch. 73-168; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 1, ch. 78-40.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective

July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

'665.101 Membership charges prohibited.—The association shall not directly or indirectly charge any membership, admission, withdrawal, or any other fee or sum of money for the privilege of becoming, remaining, or ceasing to be a member of the association, except reasonable charges upon the making or modification of a loan or the withdrawal of savings accounts classified pursuant to s. 665.331 prior to the contract terms of the account. Except as authorized by this chapter, the association shall not charge any member any sum of money by way of fine or penalty for any cause, except that a reasonable charge may be made against borrowers for defaults or prepayments.

History.—s. 10, ch. 69-39; s. 5, ch. 73-285; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'665.111 Access to books and records; communication with members.—

(1) EXCLUSIVENESS OF ACCESS.—Every member shall have the right to inspect the books and records of an association which pertain to his loan or savings account. Otherwise, the right of inspection and examination of the books and records shall be limited:

(a) To the department or its duly authorized representatives;

(b) To persons duly authorized to act for the association; and

(c) To any federal or state instrumentality or agency authorized to inspect or examine the books and records of an insured association.

The books and records pertaining to the accounts and loans of members shall be kept confidential by the association, its directors, officers and employees, and by the department, its examiners and representatives, except where the disclosure thereof shall be compelled by a court of competent jurisdiction or by legislative subpoena as provided by law. All such books and records which have been produced or furnished to any legislative body or committee pursuant to legislative subpoena, as described herein, shall be kept confidential by the legislative body or committee and shall not be made public. The confidential status of such books and records and information obtained therefrom shall exist while the books and records are in the possession of the legislative body or committee and shall continue after the legislative body or committee has returned the books and records to the association from whence they came. No member of the legislature, member of the legislative body or committee, or other person shall make public or disclose any of the information found in the books and records which are subpoenaed, except in cases involving investigation of charges against any officer subject to impeachment. No member or any other person shall have access to the books and records or be furnished or possessed of a partial or complete list of the members except upon express action and authority of the board of directors. Any violation of the provisions of this section relating to an unlawful disclosure of confidential information is a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

(2) COMMUNICATION WITH MEMBERS.—In the event, however, that any member or members desire to communicate with the other members of the association with reference to any question pending or to be presented for consideration at a meeting of the members, the association shall furnish upon request a statement of the approximate number of members of the association at the time of such request, and an estimate of the cost of forwarding such communication. The requesting member or members shall then submit the communication, together with a sworn statement that the proposed communication is not for any reason other than the business welfare of the association, to the department, which, if it finds it to be appropriate, truthful, and in the best interest of the association and its members, shall forward the communication to the association, together with its order directing that the communication be prepared and mailed by the association to the members upon the requesting member's or members' payment to it of the expenses of such preparation and mailing. If the department finds such proposed communication to be inappropriate, untruthful, or contrary to the best interests of the association and its members, it shall have the discretion to make any disposition of the request to communicate which it deems proper, and it shall execute its order making disposition of the request.

(3) APPLICABILITY OF SECTION TO FEDERAL ASSOCIATIONS.—Insofar as the provisions of this section are not inconsistent with federal law, such provisions shall apply to federal associations whose home offices are located in this state, and to the members thereof, except that the communication and statement provided for in subsection (2) shall be tendered to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Washington, D.C., in the case of a federal association and forwarded only upon the board's certificate and direction.

History.—s. 11, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 74-83; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 7, ch. 78-95.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

'665.121 Financial statement.—Every association shall prepare and publish annually no later than the second month of the fiscal year in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the home office of such association is located a statement of its financial condition in the form prescribed or approved by the department. The association shall deliver a copy of such statement to each of its members upon application.

History.—s. 12, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 2, ch. 78-40.

'665.131 Board of directors.—

(1) ASSOCIATION UNDER DIRECTION OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS.—The business of the association shall be directed by a board of directors of not less than 5 nor more than 15 as determined by, and elected by ballot from among, the members by a plurality of the votes of the members present, or represented by proxy. If authorized by vote of the members the directors may elect all directors. At all times at least two-thirds of the directors shall be bona fide residents of this state.

(2) QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED OF DIRECTORS.—In order to qualify as a director, a member of an association must hold individually, or jointly with his spouse, a savings account, the withdrawal value of which is at least $500; however, if the assets of the association exceed $5 million, the withdrawal value of such account must be at least $1,000. Except with the written consent of the department, no member shall be eligible for election or shall serve as a director or officer of an association who has been adjudicated a bankrupt or convicted of a criminal offense involving dishonesty or a breach of trust. A director shall automatically cease to be a director when he ceases to be a member, or when he is adjudicated a bankrupt, or is convicted of a criminal offense, or when the net equity above loans of all savings accounts in the association held by him aggregates less than the minimum required to be eligible for election as a director. No action of the board of directors shall be invalidated through the participation of such director in such action. If a director becomes ineligible under the terms of this subsection by reason of the exercise by the association of the right of redemption of savings accounts provided for in s. 665.351 he shall remain validly in office until the expiration of his term or until he otherwise becomes ineligible, resigns, or is removed, whichever may occur first.

(3) CLASSIFICATION OF DIRECTORS.—At the first annual meeting, the members shall by majority vote divide the directors into three classes of as nearly equal numbers as possible. The term of office of directors of the first class shall expire at the annual meeting next after the first election; of the second class, 1 year thereafter; and of the third class, 2 years thereafter; and at each annual election thereafter directors shall be chosen for a full term of 3 years to succeed those whose terms expire.

(4) NUMBER OF DIRECTORS.—The authorized number of directors determined by the members within the limits hereinabove specified may subsequently be increased or decreased only by vote of the members.

(5) VACANCY ON BOARD OF DIRECTORS CAUSED BY INCREASE IN NUMBER.—If the members fail to elect a director to fill each vacancy created by any such increase, the directors may fill such vacancy by electing a director to serve until the next annual meeting of the members, at which time a director shall be elected to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term for the class of director in which such vacancy exists.

(6) CLASSIFICATION OF NEW DIRECTORS ELECTED TO FILL VACANCIES.—Whenever the number of directors is changed and vacancies caused by such change are filled, the directors so elected shall be classified so that each of the three classes shall always contain numbers as nearly equal as possible.

(7) VACANCY ON BOARD OF DIRECTORS FILLED BY DIRECTORS.—Any vacancy among directors, not so filled by the members, may be filled by a majority vote of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum, by electing a director to serve until the next annual meeting of the members, at which time a director shall be elected to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term for the class of director in which such vacancy exists. In event of a vacancy on the board of directors from any cause, the remaining directors shall have full power and authority to continue direction of the association until such vacancy is filled.

History.—s. 13, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

665.141 Indemnity bonds.—All directors, officers, and employees of an association shall, before entering upon the performance of any of their duties, execute their individual bonds with adequate corporate surety payable to the association as an indemnity for any loss the association may sustain of money or other property by or through any fraud, dishonesty, forgery or alteration, larceny, theft, embezzlement, robbery, burglary, holdup, wrongful or unlawful abstraction, misapplication, misplacement, destruction or misappropriation, or any other dishonest or criminal act or omission by any such director, officer, employee, or agent. Associations which employ collection agents, who for any reason are not covered by a bond as hereinabove required, shall provide for the bonding of each such agent in an amount equal to at least twice the average monthly collection of such agent. Such agents shall be required to make settlement with the association at least monthly. No bond coverage will be required of any agent which is a financial institution insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. The amounts and form of such bonds and sufficiency of the surety thereon shall be approved by the board of directors and by the department. In lieu of individual bonds, a blanket bond in an amount and form approved by the department protecting the association from loss through any such act or acts on the part of any such director, officer, or employee, may be obtained. A true copy of every such indemnity bond shall be filed at all times with the department. Such bonds shall provide that a cancellation thereof either by the surety or by the insured shall not become effective unless and until 10 days' notice in writing first shall have been given to the department, unless it shall have approved such cancellation earlier.

History.—s. 14, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

665.151 Transactions of officers and directors.—

(1) CONFLICT OF INTEREST.—Directors and officers occupy a fiduciary relationship to the association of which they are directors or officers, and no director or officer shall engage or participate, directly or indirectly, in any business or transaction conducted on behalf of or involving the association, which would result in a conflict of his own personal interests with those of the association which he serves, unless:

(a) Such business or transactions are conducted in good faith and are honest, fair and reasonable to the association;

(b) A full disclosure of such business or transaction and the nature of the director's or officer's interest is made to the board of directors;

(c) Such business or transactions are approved in good faith by the board of directors, any interested director abstaining, and such approval is recorded in the minutes;

(d) Any profits inuring to the officer or director are not at the expense of the association and do not prejudice the best interests of the association in any way; and such business or transactions do not represent a breach of the officer's or director's fiduciary duty and are not fraudulent, illegal or ultra vires.

(2) DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL INTEREST.—Without limitation by any of the specific provisions of this section, the department may require the disclosure by directors, officers, and employees of their personal interest, directly or indirectly, in any business or transactions on behalf of or involving the association and of their control of or active participation in enterprises having activities related to the business of the association.

(3) SPECIFIED RESTRICTIONS.—The following restrictions governing the conduct of directors and officers expressly are specified, but such specification is not to be construed in any manner as excusing such persons from the observance of any other aspect of the general fiduciary duty owed by them to the association which they serve:

(a) Dual status.—No officer or director of an association shall hold office or status as a director or officer of another thrift institution the principal office of which is located in the association's primary lending area.

(b) Remuneration.—No director shall receive remuneration as director except reasonable fees for service as a director or for service as a member of a committee of directors, except that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to prohibit or in any way to limit any right of a director who is also an officer or employee of or attorney for the association to receive compensation for service as an officer, employee or attorney.

(c) Loans.—No director or officer shall have any interest, directly or indirectly, in the proceeds of a loan or investment or of a purchase or sale made by the association, unless such loan, investment, purchase or sale is authorized expressly by resolution of the board of directors, and unless such resolution is approved by vote of at least two-thirds of the directors authorized of the association, any interested director taking no part in such vote.

(d) Savings.—No director or officer shall have any interest, direct or indirect, in the purchase at less than its face value of any evidence of a savings account, deposit or other indebtedness issued by the association.

(e) Coercion.—No director, association, or officer thereof shall require, as a condition to the granting of any loan or the extension of any other service by the association, that the borrower or any other person undertake a contract of insurance or any other agreement, or understanding with respect to the furnishing of any other goods or services, with any specific company, agency or individual.

(f) Voting rights; office.—No officer or director acting as proxy for a member of an association shall exercise, transfer, or delegate such vote or votes in any consideration of a private benefit or advantage, direct or indirect. The voting rights of members and directors shall not be the subject of sale, barter, exchange or similar transaction, either directly or indirectly. Any officer or director who violates the provisions of this section shall be held accountable to the association for any increment.

(g) Inducements.—No director or officer shall solicit, accept or agree to accept, directly or indirectly, from any person other than the association any gratuity, compensation or other personal benefit for any action taken by the association or for endeavoring to procure any such action.

(4) PENALTY.—Any violation of the provisions of this section shall be punishable as a misdemeanor.

History.—s. 15, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.
Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

665.162 Depositories.—No association shall deposit any of its funds except with a depository approved by a vote of a majority of the directors authorized of the association. No director who is an officer, partner, director, or trustee of the depository so designated shall take part in such vote.

History.—s. 16, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

665.171 Indemnification of officers, directors, and employees.—Any person shall be indemnified or reimbursed by the association for reasonable expenses, including but not limited to attorney fees, actually incurred by him in connection with any action, suit or proceeding, instituted or threatened, judicial or administrative, civil or criminal, to which he is made a party by reason of his being or having been a director, officer or employee of an association; provided, however, that no person shall be so indemnified or reimbursed, nor shall he retain any advancement or allowance for indemnification which may have been made by the association in advance of final disposition, in relation to such action, suit or proceeding in which and to the extent that he finally shall be adjudicated to have been guilty of a breach of good faith, to have been negligent in the performance of his duties or to have committed an action or failed to perform a duty for which there is a common law or a statutory liability; and provided further, that a person may, with the approval of the department, be so indemnified or reimbursed for amounts paid in compromise or settlement of any action, suit or proceeding, including reasonable expenses incurred in connection therewith, or reasonable expenses including fines and penalties incurred in connection with a criminal or civil action, suit or proceeding in which such person has been adjudicated guilty, negligent or liable if it shall be determined by the board of directors and by the department that such person was acting in good faith and in what he believed to be the best interests of the association and without knowledge that the action was illegal, and if such indemnification or reimbursement is approved at an annual or special meeting of the members by a majority of the votes eligible to be cast. Amounts paid to the association, whether pursuant to judgment or settlement by any person within the meaning of this section shall not be indemnified or reimbursed in any case.

History.—s. 17, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

665.181 Approval of operating contracts.—

No association shall make any operating or management contract with any person or persons extending for more than 1 year, except with the approval of the department.

History.—s. 18, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

665.191 Records.—

(1) RECORDS AT HOME OFFICE.—Every association shall keep at the home office correct and complete books of account and minutes of the proceedings of members, directors, and the executive committee. Complete records of all business transacted at the home office shall be maintained at the home office. Control records of all business transacted at each branch office or agency shall be maintained at the home office.

(2) RECORDS AT BRANCH OFFICE.—Each branch office shall keep detailed records of all transactions at such branch office and shall furnish full control records to the home office.

(3) FORMS AND ACCOUNTING; APPROVAL.—Every association shall use such forms and observe such accounting principles and practices as the department may require from time to time.

(4) CLOSING OF BOOKS.—Every association shall close its books at the end of its fiscal year or calendar year, or more often if authorized or required by the department.

(5) INACCURATE DESIGNATION OF ASSETS.—No association by any system of accounting or any device of bookkeeping shall, either directly or indirectly, enter any of its assets upon its books in the name of any other person, partnership, association or corporation or under any title or designation that is not truly descriptive of such assets.

(6) OVERVALUED ASSETS; SPECIAL RESERVES.—The department, after a determination of value made in accordance with s. 665.451(6), may order that assets, individually or in the aggregate, to the extent that such assets are overvalued on an association's books, be charged off, or that a special reserve or reserves equal to such overvaluation be set up by transfers from undivided profits or reserves.

(7) BONDS AND OTHER OBLIGATIONS.—The bonds or other interest-bearing obligations purchased by an association shall not be carried on its books at more than the cost thereof.

(8) REAL ESTATE INVESTMENTS.—An association shall not carry any real estate on its books at a sum in excess of the total amount invested by such association on account of such real estate, including advances, costs, and improvements but excluding ac-rued but uncollected interest.

(9) APPRAISAL OF REAL ESTATE.—Every association shall have appraised each parcel of real estate at the time of acquisition thereof. The report of each such appraisal shall be submitted in writing to the board of directors and shall be kept in the records of the association. In addition to its powers under s. 665.451(6), the department may require the appraisal of real estate securing loans which are delinquent more than four months.

(10) MAINTENANCE OF LOAN AND INVESTMENT RECORDS.—Every association shall maintain complete loan and investment records, and shall do so in a manner satisfactory to the department. Detailed records necessary to make determinations of compliance by an association with the requirements of ss. 665.351-665.391 and other provisions of this chapter shall be maintained consistently and at all times, the record of each real estate loan or other secured loan or investment containing documentation to the satisfaction of the department of the type, adequacy and complexion of the security.

(11) MAINTENANCE OF MEMBERSHIP RECORDS.—Every association shall maintain membership records, which shall show the name and address of the member, the status of the member as a savings account holder, or an obligor, or a savings account holder and obligor, and the date of membership thereof. In the case of members holding a savings account the association shall obtain a savings account contract containing the signatures of each holder of such account or his duly authorized representative, and shall preserve such contract in the records of the association.

(12) REPRODUCTION AND DESTRUCTION OF RECORDS.—Any association may cause any or all records kept by such association to be copied or reproduced by a photostatic, photographic or micro-filming process which correctly and permanently copies, reproduces or forms a medium for copying or reproducing the original record on a film or other durable material, and such association may thereafter dispose of the original record. Any such copy or reproduction shall be deemed to be an original record for all purposes and shall be treated as an original record in all courts or administrative agencies for the purpose of its admissibility in evidence. A facsimile, exemplification or certified copy of any such copy or reproduction reproduced from a film record shall, for all purposes, be deemed a facsimile, exemplification or certified copy of the original record.

History.—s. 19, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 2, ch. 73-285; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

665.201 Reserve accounts.—

(1) GENERAL RESERVE.—Every association shall set up and maintain adequate reserves satisfactory to the department, in accordance with rules promulgated by the department, for the sole purpose of absorbing losses. Such rules shall require the building up of reserves to at least 5 percent of all savings accounts within a period not exceeding 20 years and shall prohibit the payment of dividends or interest on savings accounts from such reserves.

However, the department may in its discretion extend the 20-year limitation period hereinabove prescribed by not more than 20 years for any association if it determines that such action is in the interests of the savings account holders therein.

(2) GENERAL RESERVES OF CONVERTED ASSOCIATION.—In the case of conversion of a federal mutual association to a state mutual or state stock association, the 20-year period referred to in subsection (1) shall begin as of the first year that said association acquired insurance of savings accounts. However, a federal association is deemed to meet the requirements of this section if, at the time it converts to a state mutual or stock association, it meets the reserve requirements of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

History.—s. 20, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 2, ch. 74-55; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

665.214 Powers of association generally.—Every association incorporated pursuant to or operating under the provisions of this chapter shall have all the powers enumerated, authorized, and permitted by this chapter and such other rights, privileges, and powers as may be incidental to or reasonably necessary or appropriate for the accomplishment of the objects and purposes of the association. Among others, and except as otherwise limited by the provisions of this chapter, every association shall have the following powers:

(1) EXISTENCE; SEAL; BYLAWS.—To have perpetual existence; to adopt and use a corporate seal, which may be affixed by imprint, facsimile, or otherwise; and to adopt and amend bylaws as provided in this chapter;

(2) PLAINTIFF; DEFENDANT.—To sue and be sued, complain and defend in any court of law or equity;

(3) PROPERTY TRANSFERS.—To acquire, hold, sell, dispose of and convey real and personal estate consistent with its objects and powers; to mortgage, pledge, or lease any real or personal estate; and to take property by gifts, devise, or bequest;

(4) BORROWING.—If and when an association is not a member of a Federal Home Loan Bank, to borrow from sources, individual or corporate, not more than an aggregate amount equal to one-fourth of its savings liability on the date of borrowing and such additional sums as the department may approve. If and when an association is a member of a Federal Home Loan Bank, to secure advances of not more than an aggregate amount equal to one-half of its savings liability; within such amount equal to one-half of its savings liability, the association may borrow from sources individual or corporate, other than such Federal Home Loan Bank an aggregate amount not in excess of 20 percent of its savings liability. Sources of borrowing other than financial institutions or Federal Home Loan Banks shall require advance written approval of the department, acting in its sole discretion. A subsequent reduction of savings liability shall not affect in any way outstanding obligations for borrowed money. All such loans and advances may be secured by property of the association, and may be evidenced by such notes, bonds, debentures, or other obligations or securities, except capital stock, as the department may authorize for all associations; provided that authorization by the department shall not be required in the case of securities guaranteed pursuant to s. 306(g) of the National Housing Act of 1934, as amended.

(5) SALE OF LOANS.—To sell with or without recourse any loan, including any participating interests therein, at any time, provided that the total dollar amount of such loans sold, including such sale, within the calendar year beginning January 1 immediately preceding the date of such sale, does not exceed a sum equivalent to 25 percent of the dollar amount of all loans and participating interests in loans held by such association at the beginning of such calendar year; provided, further, that the department, upon application of the association showing good cause, may authorize the sale of a greater amount during a calendar year. Notwithstanding the limitations of this subsection, loans may be assigned for collateral purposes with recourse to any Federal Home Loan Bank of which the association is a member.

(6) INSURANCE OF ACCOUNTS.—To obtain and maintain insurance of its savings accounts by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, any agency of this state or other federal agency established for the purpose of insuring savings accounts in associations, or with any other insurer approved by the department and meeting the qualifications prescribed in this subsection; provided that no association subject to the provisions of this chapter shall have the power to obtain insurance of accounts from, or represent in any way that its accounts are insured by, any insurer other than the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, or other federal agency or a state agency as herein defined, unless the department, after application to the department for approval has been submitted by the association, shall have determined that:

(a) The contract of insurance contemplated is written upon substantially the same basis as to form, amount, coverage, maturity, voluntary and involuntary termination and other provisions as the insurance contract provided at that time by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and complies with such further requirements for protection as the department in its discretion may deem reasonably necessary; and

(b) The contract is underwritten by an insurer having a net worth reasonably commensurate with the risks underwritten, but in no event less than $25 million, which is licensed in this state and authorized to do business in this state, and which is admitted and authorized by law to write such insurance in all of the states of the union, and shall have issued its certificate of approval of such application. The aforesaid requirements shall apply to all revisions or modifications of such contracts of insurance. Associations and foreign associations insured as provided in this subsection may make representations as to such insurance of savings accounts, provided that any such representations shall set forth the name of the insurer. Excepting banks, no association or foreign association or any other person shall advertise or represent or accept or offer to accept any savings accounts in this state as insured or guaranteed accounts or as the savings accounts of an insured or guaranteed institution unless the same are insured as provided in this subsection, any violation of this provision shall be a separate offense for each day of such violation and shall be a misdemeanor and shall be enjoined upon the application of the Department of Legal Affairs, the Department of Banking and Finance, or other state prosecuting official, or by an association in this state. The requirements of this subsection are in the exercise of the police power of this state and are enacted to protect the people of the state from misrepresentation, misunderstanding and loss.

(7) FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK MEMBERSHIP.—To qualify as and become a member of a Federal Home Loan Bank;

(8) EMPLOYEES.—

(a) To appoint officers, agents, and employees as its business shall require and to provide them suitable compensation;

(b) To provide for life, health and casualty insurance for officers and employees;

(c) To adopt and operate reasonable bonus plans and retirement benefits for such officers and employees; and

(d) To provide for indemnification of its officers, employees and directors as prescribed or permitted in this chapter whether by insurance or otherwise;

(9) FACILITATING ORGANIZATIONS.—To become a member of, deal with, or make reasonable payments or contributions to any organization to the extent that such organization assists in furthering or facilitating the association's purposes, powers or community responsibilities, and to comply with any reasonable condition of eligibility;

(10) FISCAL AGENT.—If and when an association is a member of a Federal Home Loan Bank, to act as fiscal agent of the United States, and, when so designated by the Secretary of the Treasury, to perform, under such regulations as he may prescribe, all such reasonable duties as fiscal agent of the United States as he may require; and to act as agent for any instrumentality of the United States and as agent of this state or any instrumentality thereof;

(11) SERVICING.—To service loans and investments for others, provided that the maximum principal amount of loans and investments serviced for others at any one time shall not exceed 75 percent of the amount of the savings liability of such association;

(12) AGENCY.—To act as agent for others in any transaction incidental to the operation of its business;

(13) SAVINGS, INVESTMENTS.—To acquire savings and pay earnings thereon, and to lend and invest its funds as provided in this chapter.

(14) MEMBERS OF A FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK.—Notwithstanding and without regard to any other provisions of this chapter, if and when an association is a member of a Federal Home Loan Bank, to raise capital in the form of such savings deposits or other accounts as are authorized by regulations made by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, and the holders of such deposits or accounts shall, to such extent as may be provided by such regulations, be members of the association and shall have such voting rights and such other rights as are thereby provided, and the association may, to such extent as said board may authorize by regulation or by other action authorized by or under Federal Statute, exercise any authority to borrow money, to give security, or to issue notes, bonds, debentures, or other obligations, or other securities, provided by or under provisions of Federal Statute as from time to time in effect.

History.—s. 21, ch. 69-39; ss. 11, 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 71-92; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1665.215 Competitive equality.—As regulated by the department, any association incorporated pursuant to the provisions of this chapter or otherwise subject to this chapter may make any loan or investment or exercise any power which it could make or exercise if it were incorporated and operating as a federal savings and loan association. This section is a continuing grant of authority to both the department and to associations subject to this chapter, which power is in addition to, and in excess of, the authority and power heretofore granted. It is not a limitation of power or authority heretofore granted and may take priority and be given effect over any other general or specific provisions of this chapter to the contrary.

History.—s. 1, ch. 73-225; s. 3, ch. 74-55; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.221 Savings liability.—The savings liability of an association is not limited, but shall consist only of the aggregate amount of savings accounts of its members, plus earnings credited to such accounts, less redemption and withdrawal payments. Except as limited by the board of directors from time to time, a member may make additions to his savings accounts in such amounts and at such times as he may elect. Savings accounts may be opened for cash or property in which the association is authorized to invest, and, in the absence of fraud in the transaction, the value of the property taken in payment therefor as determined by the board of directors shall be conclusive. The members of an association shall not be responsible for any losses which its savings liability shall not be sufficient to satisfy, and savings accounts shall not be subject to assessment, nor shall the holders thereof be liable for any unpaid installments on their accounts. Earnings shall be declared in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. Except as provided in s. 665.331, no association shall prefer one of its savings accounts over any other savings account as to the right to participate in earnings. No preference between savings account members shall be created with respect to the distribution of assets upon voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of an association. No association shall issue, sell, negotiate, or advertise for issuance or sale to members any type of savings or investment media other than savings accounts or savings deposits, nor shall it contract with respect to the savings liability in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

History.—s. 22, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.231 Savings accounts.—

(1) OWNERSHIP.—Savings accounts or savings deposits may be opened and held solely and absolutely in his own right by, or in trust or other fiduciary capacity for, any person, including an adult or minor individual, male, or female, single or married, partnership, association, fiduciary, corporation, or political subdivision or public or governmental unit. Savings accounts shall be represented only by the account of each savings account or savings deposit holder on the books of the association, and such accounts or any interest therein shall be transferable only on the books of the association and upon proper written application by the transferee and upon acceptance by the association of the transferee as a member upon terms approved by the board of directors. The association may treat the holder of record of a savings account as the owner thereof for all purposes without being affected by any notice to the contrary unless the association has acknowledged in writing notice of a pledge of such savings account.

(2) SAVINGS ACCOUNT CONTRACT.—Each holder of a savings account shall execute a savings account contract setting forth any special terms and provisions applicable to such savings account and the ownership thereof and the conditions upon which withdrawals may be made not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

(3) EVIDENCE OF OWNERSHIP.—An account book may be issued to each savings account holder of record as shown by the books of the association, and such account book shall, if issued, indicate the withdrawal value of the savings account. A separate certificate for a savings account may be issued in lieu of an account book, entitled "Certificate of Savings Account," and if issued shall be on the following form:

This certifies that ..... is a member of the undersigned savings association and holds a ..... dollar savings account therein, subject to the Savings Association Act, the certificate of incorporation, and bylaws of the association.

(4) DUPLICATE ACCOUNT BOOKS AND CERTIFICATES.—Upon the filing with an association by the holder of record as shown by the books of the association, or by his legal representative, of an affidavit to the effect that the account book or certificate evidencing his savings account with the association has been lost or destroyed, and that such account book or certificate has not been pledged or assigned in whole or in part, such association shall issue a new account book or certificate in the name of the holder of record, such evidence stating that it is issued in lieu of the one lost or destroyed, and the association shall in no way be liable thereafter on account of the original account book or certificate, provided that the board of directors shall, if in its judgment it is necessary, require a bond in an amount it deems sufficient to indemnify the association against any loss which might result from the issuance of such new account book or certificate.

(5) INDUCEMENTS.—No association shall, directly, or indirectly, for the opening or increasing of any savings account, give, sell, dispose of, or permit the giving, selling or disposition of, for any one such opening or increase anything having a cost or value in excess of $2.50, except that the department in its sole discretion may by rule or regulation authorize a cost or value up to, but not in excess of, $15, based upon the amount of the deposit required to open or increase the savings account, and may limit the frequency of offering inducements. However, the amount of the inducement shall not exceed the amount of inducements which may be offered by federally chartered associations.

History.—s. 23, ch. 69-39; s. 6, ch. 73-285; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.241 Contracts for savings programs.—

(1) SCHOOL SAVINGS.—An association may contract with the proper authorities of any public or nonpublic elementary or secondary school or institution of higher learning, or any public or charitable institution caring for minors, for the participation and implementation by the association in any school or institutional thrift or savings plan, and it may accept savings accounts at such a school or institution, either by its own collector or by any representatives of the school or institution, which becomes the agent of the association for such purpose.

(2) PAYROLL SAVINGS.—An association may contract with any employer with respect to the solicitation, collection and receipt of savings by payroll deduction to be credited to a designated account or accounts of his or its employee or employees who voluntarily may participate.

History.—s. 24, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1665.251 Powers of attorney on savings accounts.—Any association or federal association may continue to recognize the authority of an attorney-in-fact authorized in writing to manage or to make withdrawals either in whole or in part from the savings account of a member, whether minor or adult, until it receives written notice or is on actual notice of the revocation of his authority. For the purposes of this section, written notice of the death or adjudication of incompetency of such member shall constitute written notice of revocation of the authority of his attorney. No such institution shall be liable for damages, penalty or tax by reason of any payment made pursuant to this section.

History.—s. 25, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.262 Married women and minors.—Any association operating under this law and any federal savings and loan association doing business in this state may accept savings accounts from any married woman or minor as the sole and absolute owner of such savings account, and receive payments thereon by or for such owner, and pay withdrawals, accept pledges to the association, and act in any other matter with respect to such accounts in the order of such married woman or minor. Any payment or delivery of rights to a married woman or to any minor, or a receipt or acquittance signed by a married woman or by a minor who holds a savings account, shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of such institution for any payment so made or delivery of rights to such married woman or minor. In the case of a minor, the receipt, acquittance, pledge or other action required by the institution to be taken by the minor shall be binding upon such minor with like effect as if he were of full age and legal capacity; provided, if any parent or guardian of such minor should not desire the minor to have authority to pledge, hypothecate, control, transfer or make withdrawals from his savings account, such fact may be made known to the association in writing by such parent or guardian, in which event the right of the minor to pledge, hypothecate, control, transfer and make withdrawals from the account during the minority of such minor shall not be exercised by him except with the joinder of such parent or guardian. In the event of the death of such minor, the receipt or acquittance of either parent or guardian of such minor shall be valid and sufficient discharge of such institution for any sum or sums not exceeding in the aggregate $1,000.

History.—s. 26, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.271 Accounts in two or more names.—

When a savings account, other than a convenience account as provided in s. 665.272, is maintained in any association or federal association in the names of two or more persons, whether minor or adult, in such form that the moneys in the account are payable to either or the survivor or survivors, then, in the absence of fraud or undue influence, such account and all additions thereto shall be the property of such persons as joint tenants. The moneys in the account may be paid to or on the order of any one of such persons during their lifetimes or to or on the order of any one of the survivors of them after the death of any one or more of them. The opening of the account in such form shall, in the absence of fraud or undue influence, be conclusive evidence in any action or proceeding to which either the association or the survivor or survivors is a party of the intention of all of the parties to the account to vest title to such account and the additions thereto in such survivor or survivors. By written instructions given to the association by all the parties to the account, the signatures of more than one of such persons during their lifetime or of more than one of the survivors after the death of any one of them may be required on any check, receipt, or withdrawal order, in which case the association shall pay the moneys in the account only in accordance with such instructions, but no such instructions shall limit the right of the survivor or survivors to receive the moneys in the account. Payment of all or any of the moneys in such account as provided in this section shall discharge the association from liability with respect to the moneys so paid, prior to receipt by the association of a written notice from any one of them directing the association not to permit withdrawals in accordance with the terms of the account or the instructions. After receipt of such notice, an association may refuse, without liability, to honor any check, receipt, or withdrawal order on the account pending determination of the rights of the parties. No association paying any survivor in accordance with the provisions of this section shall thereby be liable for any estate, inheritance, or succession taxes which may be due this state.

History.—s. 27, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 1, ch. 79-21.

665.272 Convenience accounts.—

(1) "Convenience account" means a savings account in the name of one individual, who is the principal, in which one or more other individuals have been designated as agents with only the right to make deposits to and to withdraw funds from such account. The designation of agents, the substitution or removal of agents, or any other change in the contractual terms or provisions governing a convenience account may be made only by the principal. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the agency relationship created under this account shall not be affected by the subsequent death or incompetence of the principal.

(2) All rights, interests, and claims in, to, and in respect of said convenience account and the additions thereto shall be that of the principal only.

(3) Any balance standing to the credit of a convenience account shall be paid to the guardian of the property of the principal, to any person designated in a court order entered pursuant to s. 735.206, to any person designated by letter or other writing as authorized by s. 735.301, or to the personal representative of the deceased principal's estate. No such court order or letter, written notice, or proof of judicial appointment shall take priority over any withdrawal as provided in s. 665.341, unless it is served upon and received by an officer of the savings and loan association at the association's office during regular business hours and at such time and in such manner as to afford the association a reasonable opportunity to act on it prior to any withdrawals authorized in s. 665.341.

(4) Payment by a savings and loan association pursuant to this section shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to the association from all claims for payments so paid.

(5) Without qualifying any other right to setoff or lien, and subject to any contractual provision, if the principal is indebted to the association, the association has a right to setoff against the account.

History.—s. 2, ch. 79-21.

1665.281 Pledge to association of savings accounts in joint tenancy.—The pledge or hypothecation to any association or federal association of all or part of a savings account in joint tenancy signed by any tenant or tenants whether minor or adult, upon whose signature or signatures withdrawals may be made from the account shall, unless the terms of the savings account provide specifically to the contrary, be a valid pledge and transfer to the association of that part of the account pledged or hypothecated, and shall not operate to sever or terminate the joint and survivorship ownership of all or any part of the account.

History.—s. 28, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.291 Accounts of administrators, executors, guardians, custodians, trustees, and other fiduciaries.—Any association or federal association may accept savings accounts in the name of any administrator, executor, custodian, conservator, guardian, trustee, or other fiduciary for a named beneficiary or beneficiaries. Any such fiduciary shall have power to vote as a member as if the membership were held absolutely, to open and to make additions to, and to withdraw any such account in whole or in part. The withdrawal value of any such account, and earnings thereon, or other rights relating thereto may be paid or delivered, in whole or in part, to such fiduciary without regard to any notice to the contrary as long as such fiduciary is living. The payment or delivery to any such fiduciary or a receipt or acquittance signed by any such fiduciary to whom any such payment or any such delivery of right is made shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of an association for the payment or delivery so made. Whenever a person holding an account in a fiduciary capacity dies and no written notice of the revocation or termination of the fiduciary relationship shall have been given to an association and the association has no written notice of any other disposition of the beneficial estate, the withdrawal value of such account, and earnings thereon, or other rights relating thereto may, at the option of an association, be paid or delivered, in whole or in part, to the beneficiary or beneficiaries. Whenever an account shall be opened by any person, describing himself in opening such account as trustee for another and no other or further notice of the existence and terms of a legal and valid trust than such description shall have been given in writing to such association, in the event of the death of the person so described as trustee, the withdrawal value of such account or any part thereof, together with the earnings thereon, may be paid to the person for whom the account was thus described to have been opened. The payment or delivery to any such beneficiary, beneficiaries or designated person, or a receipt or acquittance signed by any such beneficiary, beneficiaries or designated person for any such payment or delivery shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of an association for the payment or delivery so made. No association paying any such fiduciary, beneficiary or designated person in accordance with the provisions of this section shall thereby be liable for any estate, inheritance or succession taxes which may be due this state.

History.—s. 29, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.301 Accounts of incompetents.—When a savings account is held in any association or federal association by a person who becomes incompetent and an adjudication of incompetency has been made by a court of competent jurisdiction, such an association may pay or deliver the withdrawal value of such savings account and any earnings that may have accrued thereon to the guardian for such person upon proof of his appointment and qualification; provided that if such association has received no written notice and is not on actual notice that such savings account holder has been adjudicated incompetent, it may pay or deliver such funds to such holder in accordance with the provisions of the savings account contract, and the receipt or acquittance of such holder therefor shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of the association for the payment or delivery so made.

History.—s. 30, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.311 Accounts of deceased nonresidents.—When a savings account is held in any association or federal association by a person residing in another state or country, the account, together with additions thereto and earnings thereon, or any part thereof, shall be exempt from any taxation otherwise imposed by this state and may be paid to the administrator or executor appointed in the state or country where the account holder resided at the time of death, provided such administrator or executor has furnished the association with authenticated copies of his letters and of the order of the court which issued the letters to him authorizing him to collect, receive, and remove the personal estate, and an affidavit by the administrator or executor that to his knowledge no letters then are outstanding in this state and no petition for letters by an heir, legatee, devisee or creditor of the decedent is pending on the estate in this state, and that there are no creditors of the estate in this state. Upon payment or delivery to such representative after receipt of the affidavit and authenticated copies, the association is released and discharged to the same extent as if the payment or delivery had been made to a legally qualified resident executor or administrator, and is not required to see to the application or disposition of the property. No action at law or in equity shall be maintained against the association for payment made in accordance with this section.

History.—s. 31, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.321 Savings accounts as legal investments.—

(1) LEGAL INVESTMENTS.—Administrators, executors, custodians, conservators, guardians, trustees and other fiduciaries of every kind and nature, insurance companies, business and manufacturing companies, banks, trust companies, credit unions and other types of similar financial organizations, charitable, educational, eleemosynary and public corporations, funds and organizations, and municipalities and other public corporations and bodies, and public officials hereby are specifically authorized and empowered to invest funds held by them without any order of any court, in savings accounts of savings associations which are under state supervision and in accounts of federal associations organized under the laws of the United States and under federal supervision, and such investments shall be deemed and held to be legal investments for such funds. However, the investment of public funds and the funds of municipalities and other public corporations and bodies and public officials shall be subject to the same requirements relating to the deposit and pledge of securities to secure such investments as may be provided from time to time by law or regulation with respect to the deposit of such funds in banks, except to the extent that said savings accounts may be insured by the United States or an agency or instrumentality thereof.

(2) SECURITY.—Whenever, under the laws of this state or otherwise, a deposit of securities is required for any purpose, the savings accounts and accounts made legal investments by this section shall be acceptable for such deposits to the extent such savings accounts and accounts made legal by this section are insured by the United States or an agency or instrumentality thereof, and whenever, under the laws of this state or otherwise, a bond is required with security, such bond may be furnished, and the savings accounts and accounts made legal investments by this section in the amount of such bond, when deposited therewith, shall be acceptable as security without other security.

(3) PROVISIONS SUPPLEMENTAL.—The provisions of this section are supplemental to any and all other laws relating to and declaring what shall be legal investments for the persons, fiduciaries, corporations, organizations and officials referred to in this section, and the laws relating to the deposit of securities and the making and filing of bonds for any purpose.

History.—s. 32, ch. 69-39; s. 1, ch. 72-226; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

665.331 Earnings.—An association may pay earnings on its savings accounts from sources available for payment of earnings at such rate and at such times as shall be determined by resolution of its board of directors. All savings account holders shall participate equally in earnings pro rata to the withdrawal value of their respective accounts, except that an association may classify its savings accounts according to the character, amount, or duration thereof, or regularity of additions thereto, and may agree in advance to pay an additional or different rate of earnings as authorized by the department which shall not exceed 3 percent over and above the rate of earnings paid on all savings accounts based on such classification, and shall regulate such earnings in such manner that each savings account in the same classification shall receive the same ratable portion of such additional earnings. Earnings shall be declared on the withdrawal value of each savings account at the beginning of the account period, plus additions thereto made during the period (less amounts previously withdrawn and noticed for withdrawal, which for earnings purposes shall be deducted from the latest previous additions thereto) computed at the declared rate for the time the funds have been invested, determined as next provided. The date of investment shall be the date of actual receipt by the association of an account or an addition to an account, except that if the board of directors shall so determine, accounts in one or more classifications or additions thereto received by the association on or before a date not later than the 20th day of the month (unless the day determined is not a business day, in which case it may be the next succeeding business day) shall receive earnings as if invested on the first day of the month in which such payments were received; if the board shall make such determination, it also shall determine that payments received subsequent to such determination date shall either receive earnings as if invested on the first day of the next succeeding month, or receive earnings from the date of actual receipt by the association. Unless the department shall issue its approval in writing, no earnings shall be declared or paid for an accounting period unless the allocation to the general reserve for the preceding accounting period required by s. 665.201 or approved by the department thereunder has been made. Notwithstanding the provisions of the second sentence of this section, the board of directors, by resolution, may determine that earnings shall not be paid on any savings account which has a withdrawal value of a specified amount less than $50 or which by written agreement is intended to be closed within a specified period less than 15 months from the date on which such savings account is opened, provided that an exception may be made and earnings paid on savings accounts opened pursuant to s. 665.231. The directors shall determine by resolution the method of calculating the amount of any earnings on savings accounts as herein provided, and the time or times when earnings are to be declared, paid or credited.

History.—s. 33, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

665.341 Withdrawal.—Any savings account member or his authorized representative may at any time present a written application for withdrawal of all or any part of his savings accounts. No member shall have on file in any one association more than one application at a time. Every application shall request immediate withdrawal of a stated amount in accordance with this section. Any member may cancel his application at any time in whole or in part by a writing. Every association shall pay or number, date, and file in the order of actual receipt every withdrawal application. Withdrawals shall be paid in the order of actual receipt of applications, except as provided in this section. Upon receipt of a withdrawal request signed by the person or persons authorized to withdraw by the savings account contract or by operation of law, an association shall pay such amount in the form of cash, one or more checks or similar instruments payable to the order of such person or persons or to the order of others as directed, or transfer of credits to the account or accounts of others in the institution as directed, but not in excess of the withdrawal value of such savings account or accounts, together with any earnings which may have been declared and may have accrued thereon for the current period. If an association so elects, it may at any time pay in full each and every application as presented. It shall not, however, pay some in full unless it pays every application on file in full, except by paying all applications on file on the rotation system prescribed in this section. The board of directors, however, shall have an absolute right to pay upon any application not exceeding $200 to any one savings account member in any 1 month in any order. No association can obligate itself to pay withdrawals on any plan other than as provided in this chapter. Savings account holders who have filed written applications for withdrawal shall remain savings account members so long as their applications remain on file. No earnings shall be declared upon that portion of an account which has been noticed for withdrawal, which for earnings purposes is required to be deducted from the latest previous additions to such account, so long as such application is on file. The rotation system for payment of withdrawals is as follows: On the first day of each month, each application which has been on file since the first day of the preceding month and which is reached in order shall be paid $1,000 on account, or in full if the amount noticed for withdrawal or the unpaid balance of such application is less than $1,000. Each such application for more than $1,000 so paid shall be deemed refiled as if filed on that day. Such limited payment on the first day of each month and such renumbering shall take place on the first day of each subsequent month as long as there are applications unpaid. At least one-third of the receipts of an association from its members during the preceding calendar month shall be applied on the first day of each month to the payment of applications which have been on file since the first day of the preceding month. Any association may apply to withdrawals an amount larger than one-third of such receipts, but cannot obligate itself to do so. When an application to withdraw is reached for payment as above provided, a written notice shall be sent to the applicant by mail at his last address recorded on the books and unless the applicant shall apply in person or in writing for such withdrawal within 30 days from the date of such notice, no payment on account of such application shall be made and such application shall be canceled. In no event shall an association voluntarily or involuntarily delay or postpone the whole or partial payment of the value of any savings account pursuant to a written withdrawal application by a savings account member for a period exceeding 30 days following the receipt of such application without first securing written permission, in the case of an association the accounts of which are not insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, from the department, or in the case of an association the accounts of which are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, from the said corporation.

§665.351 Redemption.—At any time funds are on hand for the purpose, the association shall have the right to redeem by lot or otherwise, as the board of directors may determine, all or any part of any of its savings accounts on an earnings date by giving 30 days' notice by registered mail addressed to each affected account holder at his last address as recorded on the books of the association. No association shall redeem any of its savings accounts when the association is in an impaired condition or when it has applications for withdrawal which have been on file more than 30 days and have not been reached for payment. The redemption price of savings accounts redeemed shall be the full value of the account redeemed, as determined by the board of directors, but in no event shall the redemption price be less than the withdrawal value. If the aforesaid notice of redemption shall have been duly given, and if on or before the redemption date the funds necessary for such redemption shall have been set aside so as to be and continue to be available therefor, earnings upon the accounts called for redemption shall cease to accrue from and after the earnings date specified as the redemption date, and all rights with respect to such accounts shall forthwith, after such redemption date, terminate, except only any right of account holder of record to receive the redemption price without interest. All savings account books or certificates evidencing former savings accounts which have been validly called for redemption must be tendered for payment within 10 years from the date of redemption designated in the redemption notice, otherwise they shall be canceled, the funds set aside for such accounts shall become the property of the association, and all claims of such former account holders against the association shall be barred forever.

History.—s. 35, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.361 Investments.—Savings associations shall have power to invest in securities as follows:

(1) INVESTMENTS NOT SUBJECT TO LIMITATION.—Direct obligations of the United States and obligations of federal agencies which are fully guaranteed as to payment of principal and interest by the United States; stock or obligations of any Federal Home Loan Bank, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, the Federal National Mortgage Association, the Government National Mortgage Association, or any successor thereto; obligations issued or guaranteed by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development or by the Inter-American Development Bank; demand, time or savings deposits, shares or accounts of any financial institution the accounts of which are insured by a federal agency; and banker's acceptances which are eligible for purchase by federal reserve banks;

(2) INVESTMENTS SUBJECT TO AN AGGREGATE LIMITATION OF 25 PERCENT OF TOTAL ASSETS OF THE INVESTING ASSOCIATION.—Obligations of federal agencies which are not guaranteed by the United States; general obligations and revenue obligations of any state of the United States or their political subdivisions and municipalities; corporate obligations of any corporation which is not an affiliate of the investing association, provided such obligations are nonconvertible and are issued by a corporation which is listed on a recognized exchange;

(3) INVESTMENTS SUBJECT TO AN AGGREGATE LIMITATION OF 1 PERCENT OF TOTAL ASSETS OF THE INVESTING ASSOCIATION.—

Stock, obligations, or other securities of service organizations which assist in furthering or facilitating the association's purposes, powers, or community responsibilities;

(4) INVESTMENTS SUBJECT TO AN AGGREGATE LIMITATION OF 5 PERCENT OF THE NET WORTH OF THE INVESTING ASSOCIATION.—Up to 5 percent of the new worth of the investing association may be used to invest in or purchase bonds or other evidences of indebtedness of the State of Israel;

(5) SPECIAL PROVISION.—None of the securities or obligations described shall be eligible for investment in any amount unless current as to all payments of principal and interest, and unless rated in one of the four highest investment grades by a recognized investment rating service or otherwise supported as to investment quality and marketability by a credit rating file compiled and maintained in current status by the investing association.

History.—s. 36, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 71-90; s. 1, ch. 73-285; s. 1, ch. 76-154; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

665.371 Required liquidity.—No association shall invest in any security, other than in liquid assets, or in any loan at any time when its liquid assets are less than 5 percent of its savings liability unless the department shall have issued written approval.

History.—s. 37, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

665.381 Investment in loans.—Every savings association shall have power to invest in loans and other investments as follows:

(1) SAVINGS ACCOUNT LOANS.—Loans secured by its savings accounts to the extent of the withdrawal value thereof.

(2) REAL ESTATE LOANS.—Real estate loans in an amount not exceeding the value of the security, subject to the following conditions:

(a) No association shall make a real estate loan to one borrower if the sum of:

1. The amount of such loan; and
2. The total balances of all outstanding real estate loans owed to such association by such borrower exceeds an amount equal to 10 percent of such association's savings liability or an amount equal to the sum of such association's reserves for losses and undivided profits, whichever amount is less, except that any such loan may be made if the sum of 1. and 2. does not exceed $100,000;

(b) An association may:

1. Participate with one or more financial institutions, entities having a tax exemption under s. 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, or approved Federal Housing Administration mortgagees, in any real estate loan of the type in which such association is authorized to invest on its own account, provided that the participating interest of such association is not subordinated or inferior to any other participating interest; and

2. Participate in such real estate loans with other than financial institutions or those entities described, provided that the participating interest of such association is superior to the participating interests of such other participants;

(c) The aggregate balances outstanding of real estate loans on real estate located outside the primary lending area of an association shall at no time exceed 20 percent of the assets of the association, except that loans insured or guaranteed in whole or in part by the United States, the president or a federal agency and loans in which an association owns or has purchased no more than 75 percent participation interest shall not be subject to this restriction; and

(d) As an annual average, based on monthly computations, at least 60 percent of assets other than liquid assets shall be invested in either direct reduction real estate loans on home property or direct reduction real estate loans on primarily residential property, or both. In determining whether 60 percent of assets are invested in direct reduction real estate loans on home property, only those direct reduction real estate loans on home property which do not exceed a maximum of $75,000 and which do not exceed 90 percent of the security value will be considered in the computation. In the case of direct reduction real estate loans on primarily residential property, only loans amounting to 80 percent or less of the value of the security, including participating interest in such loans, will be considered in the computation.

(3) LOANS SECURED BY LOANS.—Loans secured by the pledge of loans or investments, the assignment of which need not be recorded, of a type in which the association is authorized to invest, provided that the loans and investments so pledged shall be subject to all restrictions and requirements which would be applicable were the association to invest directly in such loans or investments.

<sup>2</sup>(4) IMPROVEMENT LOANS.—Property improvement loans made pursuant to the provisions of any title of the National Housing Act, and, subject to any limitation as to maximum loan amount which may be prescribed by the department for all associations, other loans, secured or unsecured, to home owners and other property owners for the maintenance, repair, alteration, modernization, landscaping, improvement, including new construction, furnishing, or equipment of their properties, at an interest rate not exceeding 18 percent simple interest per annum. Such interest shall not be precomputed.

<sup>2</sup>(5) MOBILE HOME LOANS.—Loans made for the purpose of mobile home financing, subject to any limitation as to maximum loan amount which may be prescribed by the department for all associations, at an interest rate not exceeding 18 percent simple interest per annum. Such interest shall not be precomputed. For the purposes of this subsection, "mobile home" shall mean a movable accommodation used or designed for use as living quarters.

(6) BUSINESS PROPERTY.—Such real property or interests therein as the directors may deem necessary or convenient for the conduct of the business of the association, which for the purposes of this chapter shall be deemed to include the ownership of stock of a wholly owned subsidiary corporation having as its exclusive activity the ownership and management of such property or interests, but the amount so invested shall not exceed the sum of the reserves and undivided profits of the association, provided that the department may authorize a greater amount to be so invested.

(7) PURCHASE OF REAL ESTATE.—An amount not exceeding the lesser of the sum of its reserves and undivided profits or 5 percent of its assets, in the purchase of real estate within its primary lending area for the purpose of producing income or for inventory and sale or for improvement including the erection of buildings thereon, for sale or rental purposes, and such an association may hold, sell, lease, operate or otherwise exercise the rights of an owner of any such property. Merchantable title to all real estate acquired under this subsection shall be taken and held in the name of the association and such title immediately shall be recorded in accordance with the laws of this state.

History.—s. 38, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 71-93; s. 1, ch. 74-55; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-179; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 4, ch. 78-40; s. 11, ch. 79-274.

2Note.—This subsection as amended by ch. 79-274 applies "only to loans or advances of credit made on or subsequent to" July 1, 1979, "and shall not be construed as diminishing the force and effect of any laws applying to loans or advances of credit completed prior to that date."

1665.391 Loan plans.—Real estate loans eligible for investment by an association under this chapter may be written upon the following plan, or upon any other loan plan approved by the department:

(1) APPRAISAL.—No investment in a real estate loan shall be made until a qualified person or persons approved by the board of directors shall have made a physical inspection and submitted a signed appraisal of the value of the real estate securing such loan.

(2) PAYMENTS.—Payments on real estate loans shall be applied first to the payment of interest on the unpaid balance of the loan and the remainder on the reduction of principal; provided that if the loan is in default in any manner, payments may be applied by the association as provided in the loan contract. All real estate loans may be prepaid in part or in full, at any time. On loans to occupants of home property or to borrowers who intend to occupy home property and on any loan of less than $100,000, the association shall not charge for such privilege of anticipatory payment an amount greater than 2 percent of the amount of such anticipatory payment. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, any prepayment of principal may, at the option of the association, be applied on the final installment of the note or other obligation until fully paid, and thereafter on the installments in the inverse order of their maturity.

(3) EVIDENCE OF LOAN.—Every loan shall be evidenced by a note or instrument of obligation for the amount of the loan. The note or instrument shall specify the amount, rate of interest and terms of repayment including any penalty or charge for late payment, and may contain all other terms of the loan contract.

(4) SECURITY INSTRUMENT.—Every real estate loan shall be secured by a mortgage, deed of trust or other transaction or instrument constituting a first lien or claim, or the full equivalent thereof, upon the real estate securing the loan, according to any lawful and recognized practice which is suited to the transaction. Any such instrument or transaction constituting a first lien or claim is herein termed a "mortgage." Such mortgage shall provide specifically for full protection to the association with respect to such loan and additional advances and the usual insurance risks, ground rents, taxes, assessments, other governmental levies, maintenance, and repairs. It may provide for an assignment of rents, and if such assignment is made, any such assignment shall be absolute upon the borrower's default, becoming operative upon written demand made by the association. All such mortgages shall be recorded in accordance with the law of this state.

(5) LIEN OF MORTGAGE.—Any mortgage that can be made by an association under the provisions of this chapter may be made to secure existing debts or obligations, to secure debts or obligations created simultaneously with the execution of the mortgage, or to secure future advances pursuant to s. 697.04. All such debts, obligations, and future advances shall, from and as of the time the mortgage is filed for record as provided by the law of this state, be secured by such mortgage equally with, and have the same priority over the rights of all persons who subsequent to the recording of such mortgage acquire any rights in or liens upon the mortgaged real estate as, the debts and obligations secured thereby at the time of the filing of the mortgage for record; except that the mortgagor or his successor in title is authorized to file for record, and the same shall be recorded, a notice limiting the amount of optional future advances secured by such mortgage to not less than the amount actually advanced at the time of such filing, provided a copy of such filing is also filed with the mortgagee.

(6) ADVANCES FOR TAXES, ETC.—An association may pay taxes, assessments, ground rents, insurance premiums, and other similar charges for the protection of its real estate loans. All such payments shall be added to the unpaid balance of the loan and shall be equally secured by the first lien on the property as provided above. An association may require life insurance to be assigned as additional collateral upon any real estate loan. In such event, the association shall obtain a first lien upon such policy and may advance premiums thereon. Such premium advances shall be added to the unpaid balance of the loan and shall be equally secured by the first lien on the property as provided above.

(7) PROVISIONS FOR TAXES, INSURANCE, ETC.—An association may require the borrower to pay monthly in advance, in addition to interest or interest and principal payments, the equivalent of one-twelfth of the estimated annual taxes, assessments, insurance premiums, ground rents, and other charges upon the real estate securing a loan, or any of such charges, so as to enable the association to pay such charges as they become due from the funds so received. The amount of such monthly charges may be increased or decreased so as to provide reasonably for the payment of the estimated annual taxes, assessments, insurance premiums, and other charges. The association at its option may hold such funds in trust and commingle them with other such funds and use the same for such purposes, or place such funds in savings accounts and withdraw and use the same for such purposes, or hold such funds in open account and commingle them with its own funds and advance like amounts for such purposes, or credit such funds as received to the mortgage account and advance a like amount for the purposes stated. If such funds are held in trust or invested in savings accounts, the amounts shall be pledged to further secure the indebtedness and, if held in open account or credited to the loan account, the amounts when advanced for the purposes stated shall be secured by the mortgage with the same priority as the original amount advanced under the mortgage. The association shall have no obligation to pay interest, earnings or other increment to the borrower upon such monthly payments, nor to invest the same for the benefit of the borrower, unless such funds have been placed in a savings account or accounts. Every association shall keep a record of the status of taxes, assessments, insurance premiums, ground rents, and other charges on all real estate securing its loans and on all real and other property owned by it.

1665.395 Collection of fines, interest or premiums on loans made by building and loan associations.—No fines, interest or premiums paid on loans made by any building and loan association shall be deemed usurious, and the same may be collected as debts of like amount are now collected by law in this state, and according to the terms and stipulations of the agreement between the association and the borrower.

1665.401 Loan expenses.—

(1) FEES AND CHARGES.—Every association may require borrowing members to pay all reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the making, closing, disbursing, extending, readjusting, or renewing of real estate loans. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such expenses may include appraisal, attorney, abstract, recording, and registration fees, title examination, title insurance, loan insurance, credit report, survey, drawing of papers, escrow services, loan closing costs, and taxes or charges imposed upon or in connection with the making and recording of any loan. Every association also may require borrowing members to pay the cost of all other necessary and incidental services rendered by the association or by others in connection with real estate and other loans in such reasonable amounts as may be fixed by the board of directors. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such costs may include the costs of services of inspectors, engineers, and architects. Such initial charges may be collected by the association from the borrower and paid to any persons, including any director, officer, or employee of the association rendering such services, or paid directly by the borrower. In lieu of such initial charges to cover such expenses and costs, an association may make a reasonable charge, part or all of which may be retained by the association which renders such service, or part or all of which may be paid to others who render such services. The fees and charges authorized by s. 665.391 and this section shall be in addition to interest authorized by law, and shall not be deemed to be a part of the interest collected or agreed to be paid on such loans within the meaning of any law of this state which limits the rate of interest which may be exacted in any transaction. No director, officer, or employee of an association shall receive any fee or other compensation of any kind in connection with procuring any loan for an association, except for services actually rendered as above provided.

(2) SETTLEMENT STATEMENT.—The association shall furnish a loan settlement statement to each borrower upon the closing of the loan, indicating in detail the charges and fees such borrower has paid or obligated himself to pay to the association or to any other person in connection with such loan. A copy of such statement shall be retained in the records of the association.

1665.411 Dealing with successors in interest.

—In the case of any investment made by an association in a real estate loan, in the event the ownership of the real estate security or any part thereof becomes vested in a person other than the party or parties originally executing the security instruments, and provided there is not an agreement in writing to the contrary, an association may, without notice to such party or parties, deal with such successor or successors in interest with reference to said mortgage and the debt thereby secured in the same manner as with such party or parties, and may forbear to sue or may extend time for payment of or otherwise modify the terms of the debt secured thereby, without discharging or in any way affecting the original liability of such party or parties thereunder or upon the debt thereby secured.

History.—s. 41, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.421 Right to act to avoid loss.—Nothing in this chapter or the statute law of the state shall be construed as denying to an association the right to invest its funds, operate a business, manage or deal in property, or take any other action over whatever period of time may reasonably be necessary to avoid loss on a loan or investment theretofore made or an obligation created in good faith.

History.—s. 42, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.431 Supervisory power of department.—

The department shall have general supervision over all associations, service organizations the principal offices of which are located in this state and which are principally owned by one or more thrift institutions, and corporations which are subject to the provisions of this chapter. It shall enforce the purposes of this chapter by use of the powers herein conferred and by reference to the court when required.

History.—s. 43, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.441 Branch offices.—

(1) DEFINITION.—A “branch office” is a legally established place of business of the association other than the home office authorized by the board of directors and approved by the department, at which savings accounts and loan payments may be accepted, application for loans may be received, account books and membership certificates may be issued, and loans may be closed.

(2) SUBJECT TO HOME OFFICE.—Each association shall be operated from the home office. All branch offices shall be subject to direction from the home office.

(3) APPROVAL OF ESTABLISHMENT.—Each application for approval of the establishment and maintenance of a branch office shall state the proposed location thereof, the need therefor, the functions to be performed therein, the estimated volume of business thereof, the estimated annual expense thereof, and the mode of payment therefor. Each such application shall be accompanied by a budget of the association for the current earnings period and for the next succeeding semiannual period, which reflects the estimated additional expense of the maintenance of such a branch office. Upon the receipt by the department of such an application, it shall determine whether the establishment and maintenance of such office will unduly injure any properly conducted existing association or federal association in the community where such branch office is proposed to be established. If it finds that no undue injury is likely to result and that the establishment and maintenance of such branch office is advisable, it may approve the application.

(4) REVOCATION OF APPROVAL.—The department may for reasonable cause revoke its approval of the maintenance of any branch office by an order to the association fixing a reasonable time after which the association shall cease to use and maintain such branch office.

History.—s. 44, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 73-285; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 7, ch. 78-95.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1665.442 Facilities.—With the exception of a home office, principal place of business, or branch office, an association organized under or subject to this chapter may with the prior approval of the department, and pursuant to rules promulgated hereunder, establish and operate facilities authorized by the department which will increase the viability of such association in promoting thrift and home financing.

History.—s. 7, ch. 73-285; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1665.445 Saturday closing.—Any building and loan association or savings and loan association lawfully doing business in the state, whether chartered under state or federal statutes, may be closed on any one or more Saturdays upon the adoption of a resolution to such effect by a majority vote of the board of directors. Any one or more of such Saturdays shall, with respect to any such building and loan association or savings and loan association which shall be closed thereon in accordance with the provisions of this section, constitute a legal holiday for all purposes whatsoever.

History.—s. 1, ch. 59-49; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Former s. 665.072.

1665.451 Reports and examinations.—

(1) ANNUAL REPORT.—On or before the last day of the first month of the fiscal year, every association shall make an annual written report to the department, upon a form to be prescribed and furnished by the department, of its affairs and operations, which shall include a complete statement of its financial condition, including a statement of income and expense since its last previous similar report, for the 12 months ending on December 31 of the previous year. Every such report shall be verified by the president and treasurer.

(2) OTHER REPORTS.—Every association also shall make such other reports as the department may from time to time require, which shall be in such form and filed on such date as it may prescribe and shall, if required by it, be verified in the same manner as the annual report.

(3) ANNUAL AUDIT AND EXAMINATION.—The department shall, at least once each year, without previous notice, examine or cause an examination to be made into the affairs of every association subject to this chapter. If an association is not audited at least once each year in a manner satisfactory to the department, the examination of such association shall include an audit.

(4) EXAMINATIONS BY FEDERAL AGENCIES.—In lieu of such examination, the department may accept any examination made by a Federal Home Loan Bank, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, or by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. Two copies of any audit, signed and certified by the auditor making such audit, shall be filed promptly with the department.

(5) ADDITIONAL EXAMINATIONS; REPORTS.—Whenever, in the judgment of the department, the condition of any association renders it necessary or expedient to make an extra examination or audit or to devote any extraordinary attention to affairs of the association, the department shall cause the same to be done. A full and complete copy of the report of all examinations and audits shall be furnished to the association examined. Such report of examination or audit shall be presented by the president to the board of directors at its next regular or special meeting.

(6) APPRAISALS BY DEPARTMENT.—The department is authorized in connection with any examination or audit of any association to cause to be made appraisals of real estate held by the association or securing the association's assets when specific facts or information with respect to real estate held, secured loans or lending, or when in its opinion the association's policies, practices, operating results and trends, give evidence that an association's appraisals may be excessive, that lending or investment may be of a marginal nature, that appraisal policies and practices may not conform with generally accepted and established professional standards, or that real estate held by the association or assets secured by real estate are overvalued. In lieu of causing such appraisals to be made, the department may accept any appraisal caused to be made by a Federal Home Loan Bank, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, or by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation or other insuring agency of an insured association. Unless otherwise ordered by the department, appraisal of real estate in connection with any examination or audit pursuant to this section shall be made by a professional appraiser or appraisers selected by the department, and the cost of such appraisal shall be paid promptly by such association directly to such appraiser or appraisers upon receipt by the association of a statement of such cost bearing the written approval of the department. A copy of the report of each appraisal caused to be made by the department pursuant to this subsection shall be furnished to the association within a reasonable time, not to exceed 60 days, following the completion of such appraisals, and may in the case of an insured association be furnished to the insuring agency.

(7) ACCESSIBILITY OF RECORDS TO DEPARTMENT; ISSUANCE OF SUMMONS, ADMINISTRATION OF OATHS, EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES.—The department, or its examiners or auditors shall have free access to all books and papers of an association or a service organization the principal office of which is located in this state and which is principally owned by one or more thrift institutions, which relate to its business and books and papers kept by any officer, agent, or employee, relating to or upon which any record of its business is kept, and may summon witnesses and administer oaths or affirmations in the examination of the directors, officers, agents, or employees of any such association, service organization or any other person in relation to its affairs, transactions, and conditions, and may require and compel the production of records, books, papers, contracts, or other documents by court order, if not voluntarily produced.

History.—s. 45, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 73-49; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'665.461 Enforcement and conservatorship.—

(1) DEPARTMENT'S ORDER TO DISCONTINUE ILLEGAL PRACTICES.—If the department, as a result of any examination or from any report made to it, shall find that any association is violating the provisions of its certificate of incorporation or bylaws, or the laws of this state or of the United States, or any lawful order or regulation of the department, it shall order discontinuance of such violation and conformance with all requirements of law. Such order shall specify the effective date thereof, which may be immediate or at a later date, and such order shall remain in effect until withdrawn by the department, or until terminated by a court order. Such order of the department, upon application made on or after the effective date thereof by the department to a court of general jurisdiction in the county in which the home office of the association is located, shall be enforced ex parte and without notice by an order to comply entered by said court. Such proceedings shall be given precedence over other cases pending in such court, and shall in every way be expedited. Any association affected by such order of the department shall, after receipt thereof, have the right to apply within 30 days to any such court for an immediate hearing and order suspending the order of the department until such time as the hearing has been completed. The hearing of such application to the court shall be upon such notice to the department as the court shall provide. Whether upon application by the department or by the association, the court shall have power to and shall adjudicate the question and enter the proper order or orders and enforce the same.

(2) CONSERVATOR.—If the department, as a result of any examination or from any report made to it believes that the public interest may be served by the appointment of a conservator, and if it shall find that any association:

- (a) Is in an impaired condition;
- (b) Is engaging in practices which threaten to result in an impaired condition; or
- (c) Is in violation of an order or injunction, as authorized by this section, which has become final in that time to appeal has expired without appeal or a final order entered from which there can be no appeal, the department may appoint a conservator for such association, which may be the department, or its agent or any other person, and upon such appointment shall apply immediately to a court of general jurisdiction in the county in which the home office of the association is located for confirmation of such appointment, and such court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine the issues and all related matters. Such proceedings shall be given precedence over other cases pending in such court and shall in every way be expedited. Such court shall confirm such appointment if it shall find that one or more such grounds exist, and a certified copy of the order of the court confirming such appointment shall be evidence thereof. The conservator shall have the power and authority provided in this chapter and such other power and authority as may be expressed in the order of the court. The conservator shall endeavor promptly to remedy the situation complained of by the department in its application for confirmation of such appointment. Within 6 months of the date of such appointment, or within 12 months if the court shall extend such 6 months' period, such association shall be returned to the board of directors thereof and thereafter shall be managed and operated as if no conservator had been appointed, or a receiver shall be appointed as hereinafter provided.

If the department, or its agent, or examiner is appointed conservator it shall receive no additional compensation, but if another person is appointed, then the compensation of the conservator, as determined by the court, shall be paid by the association. A certified copy of the order of the court discharging such conservator and returning such association to the directors thereof shall be sufficient evidence thereof.

(3) CONSERVATOR; POWERS OF DIRECTORS, OFFICERS AND MEMBERS.—Any conservator appointed shall have all the right, powers, and privileges possessed by the officers, board of directors, and members of the association.

(4) SPECIAL COUNSEL OR EXPERTS; SPECIAL EXPENSES.—The conservator shall not retain special counsel or other experts, incur any expense other than normal operating expenses, or liquidate assets except in the ordinary course of operations.

(5) REMOVAL OF OFFICERS OR DIRECTORS.—The directors and officers shall remain in office and the employees shall remain in their respective positions, but the conservator may remove any director, officer, or employee, providing the order of removal of a director or officer shall be approved in writing by the department.

(6) OPERATION OF BUSINESS CONTINUED.—While the association is in the charge of a conservator, members of such association shall continue to make payments to the association in accordance with the terms and conditions of their contracts, and the conservator, in his discretion, may permit savings account members to withdraw their accounts from the association pursuant to the provisions of this chapter or under and subject to such rules and regulations as the department may prescribe. The conservator shall have power to accept savings accounts and additions to savings accounts, but any such amounts received by the conservator may be segregated if the department shall so order in writing. If so ordered, such amounts shall not be subject to offset and shall not be used to liquidate any indebtedness of such association existing at the time the conservator was appointed for it or any subsequent indebtedness incurred for the purposes of liquidating the indebtedness of any such association existing at the time such conservator was appointed. All expenses of the association during such conservatorship shall be paid by the association.

History.—s. 46, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 7, ch. 78-95.

665.471 Receivership.—

(1) APPOINTMENT OF RECEIVER.—If the department shall find that any association:

- (a) Is in an impaired condition;
- (b) Is engaging in practices which threaten to result in an impaired condition; or
- (c) Is in violation of an order or injunction, as provided in s. 665.461, which has become final in that the time to appeal has expired without appeal or a final order entered from which there can be no appeal,

the department may appoint a receiver for such association, which may be the department, its agent or any other person, and upon such appointment shall apply immediately to a court of general jurisdiction in the county in which the home office of the association is located for confirmation of such appointment, and such court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to determine the issues and all related matters. Such proceedings shall be given precedence over other cases pending in such court, and shall in every way be expedited. The court shall confirm the appointment if it shall find that one or more such grounds exist. A certified copy of the order of the court confirming such appointment shall be evidence thereof. In the case of an insured association, the appointment by the department of a receiver under this section shall constitute an official determination of a public authority of this state pursuant to which a receiver is appointed for the purpose of liquidation as contemplated by and within the meaning of s. 401(d) of the National Housing Act of 1934, as amended, if, within 10 days after the date the application of the department is filed, confirmation of such appointment or denial of appointment has not been issued by the court. Such receiver shall have all the powers and authority of a conservator plus the power to liquidate, and shall have such other powers and authority as may be expressed in the order of the court. If the department, or its agent, or examiner is appointed receiver, it shall receive no additional compensation, but if another person is appointed, then the compensation of the receiver, as determined by the court, shall be paid from the assets of the association.

(2) APPOINTMENT OF FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN INSURANCE CORPORATION AS RECEIVER OR CORECEIVER.—If the association is an institution insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation shall be tendered appointment as receiver or coreceiver. If it accepts such appointment, it may, nevertheless, make loans on the security of or purchase at public or private sale any part or all of the assets of the association of which it is receiver or coreceiver, provided such loan or purchase is approved by such court.

(3) PROCEDURE.—The procedure in such receivership action shall be in all other respects in accordance with the practice in such court, including all rights of appeal and review. The directors, officers and attorneys of an association in office at the time of the initiation of any proceeding under s. 665.461 or this section are expressly authorized to contest any such proceeding and shall be reimbursed for reasonable expenses and attorney fees by the association or from its assets. Any court having any such proceeding before it shall allow and order the payment of reasonable expenses and attorney's fees for such directors, officers and attorneys.

History.—s. 47, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1665.481 Correction of wrongdoings by unimpaired institution.—No conservator or receiver shall be appointed, or private property seized, with respect to an association which is not in an impaired condition if the alleged wrongdoing can be otherwise corrected as provided in this chapter or otherwise as provided by law.

History.—s. 48, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.491 Right to declaratory judgment.—At any time after any controversy has arisen between the department and an association with respect to any question of law or regulation, or with respect to any question involving immeasurable or irreparable damage to the association, and prior to an administrative or a judicial hearing, the association or the department may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction in the county in which the home office of the association is located for a declaratory judgment as to such question, and such court shall have and shall take jurisdiction and decide the controversy on its merits in accordance with the weight of the evidence, and such court shall have full power to enforce its orders.

History.—s. 49, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.501 Foreign associations.—

(1) DEFINED.—For the purposes of this section, the term "foreign association" shall include any person, firm, company, association, fiduciary, partnership or corporation, by whatever name called, actually engaged in the business of a savings association, which is not organized under the provisions of this chapter or the laws of the United States, as now or hereafter amended, the principal business office of which is located outside the territorial limits of this state.

(2) DOING BUSINESS.—No foreign association shall do any business of a savings association within this state or maintain an office in this state for the purpose of doing such business unless an application is made to the department for permission to do such business in this state which is approved by it.

(3) UNAPPROVED FOREIGN ASSOCIATIONS.—The department is authorized, empowered and directed to obtain an injunction or to take any other action necessary to prevent any foreign association from doing any business of a savings association in this state without its approval.

(4) ACTIVITIES NOT CONSIDERED "DOING BUSINESS."—For the purposes of this section and any other law of this state prohibiting, limiting, or regulating the doing of business in this state by foreign associations or foreign corporations of any type, any federal association the principal office of which is located outside this state, and any foreign association which is subject to state or federal supervision, or both, which by law is subject to periodic examination by such supervisory authority and to a requirement of periodic audit, shall not be considered to be doing business in this state by reason of engaging in any of the following activities:

(a) The purchase, acquisition, holding, sale, assignment, transfer, collecting and enforcement of obligations or any interest therein secured by real estate mortgages or other instruments in the nature of a mortgage, covering real property located in this state, or the foreclosure of such instruments, or the acquisition of title to such property by foreclosure, or otherwise, as a result of default under such instruments, or the holding, protection, rental, maintenance and operation of said property so acquired, or the disposition thereof; provided that such associations shall not hold, own or operate said property for a period exceeding 5 years without securing the department's approval.

(b) The advertising or solicitation of savings accounts, or the making of any representations with respect thereto in this state through the media of the mail, radio, television, magazines, newspapers or any other media which are published or circulated within this state, provided that such advertising, solicitation or the making of such representations shall be accurately descriptive of the fact, and provided further, that if such advertising, solicitation or the making of such representations shall contain any reference to insurance or guaranty of accounts, such shall comply with the provisions of s. 665.214(6).

(5) SERVICE OF PROCESS AND SUIT.—Any foreign association or federal association described in subsection (4) which engages in any of the activities described in paragraph (a) thereof pursuant to the provisions of this section shall in any connection therewith be subject to suit in the courts of this state by this state and the citizens of this state, and service on such association shall be effected by serving the secretary of state of this state, provided that the provisions of this section shall have no other application to the question of whether any foreign association or federal association is subject to service of process and suit in this state as a result of the transaction of business or other activities in this state.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1665.511 Federal savings associations.—Federal savings associations or federal savings and loan associations, incorporated pursuant to the laws of the United States, as now or hereafter amended, are not foreign corporations or foreign associations. Unless federal laws or regulations provide otherwise, federal associations and the members thereof shall possess all of the rights, powers, privileges, benefits, immunities and exemptions that are now provided or that hereafter may be provided by the laws of this state for associations organized under the laws of this state and for the members thereof. This provision is additional and supplemental to any provision which, by specific reference, is applicable to federal associations and the members thereof.

History.—s. 51, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1665.53 Grandfather clause.—This chapter shall not impair or affect any act done, offense committed or right accruing, accrued, or acquired, or liability, penalty, forfeiture or punishment incurred prior to June 2, 1969, but the same may be enjoyed, asserted, enforced, prosecuted or inflicted, as fully and to the same extent as if this chapter had not been passed.

History.—s. 53, ch. 69-39; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.54 Conformity.—

(1) ALL THRIFT AND HOME-FINANCING ORGANIZATIONS SUBJECT TO PROVISIONS OF ACT.—All persons accepting moneys from the public and engaged in home financing, whether or not incorporated, and every corporation heretofore incorporated under the statutes of this state which has for its purpose the promotion of thrift and the financing of homes, by whatever name known, as defined in s. 665.021(23), shall at the time this act becomes effective be subject to the provisions of the chapter and shall be deemed to exist hereunder. However, nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to require any building and loan association heretofore organized under the laws of this state and existing on June 2, 1969, to become an insured association as herein defined or to change its name.

(2) CORPORATIONS HERETOFORE INCORPORATED; CONFORMANCE TO CH. 665.—The name, rights, powers, privileges, and immunities of every such corporation heretofore incorporated in this state shall be governed, controlled, construed, extended, limited and determined by the provisions of this chapter to the same extent and effect as if such corporation had been incorporated pursuant hereto. The articles of association, certificate of incorporation, or charter, however entitled, bylaws and constitution, or other rules of every such corporation heretofore made or existing are hereby modified, altered, and amended to conform to the provisions of the chapter, with or without the issuance or approval by the department of conformed copies of such documents, and the same are declared void to the extent that the same are inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter; except that the obligations of any such existing corporation, whether between such corporation and its members, or any of them, or any other person or persons, or any valid contract between the members of any such corporation, or between such corporation and any other person or persons, existing on June 2, 1969, shall not be in any way impaired by the provisions of this chapter, and, with such exception, every such corporation shall possess the rights, powers, privileges, and immunities and shall be subject to the duties, liabilities, disabilities, and restrictions conferred and imposed by this chapter, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in its certificate of incorporation, bylaws, constitution, or rules.

History.—s. 54, ch. 69-39; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 165, ch. 71-355; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

Note.—Repealed by s. 3, ch. 76-168, as amended by s. 1, ch. 77-457, effective

July 1, 1980, except for the possible effect of laws affecting this section prior to that date.

1665.55 Definitions for ss. 665.56-665.64.—As used in ss. 665.56-665.64:

(1) "Lessee" means a person contracting with a lessor for the use of a safe-deposit box.

(2) "Lessor" means a building and loan association or savings and loan association renting safe-deposit facilities.

(3) "Safe-deposit box" means a safe-deposit box, vault, or other safe-deposit receptacle maintained by a lessor, and the rules relating thereto apply to property or documents kept in the building and loan association's or savings and loan association's vault.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-295; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.56 Authority to engage in leasing safe-deposit facilities.—A building and loan association or savings and loan association may maintain and lease safe-deposit boxes and may accept property or documents for safekeeping if, except in the case of night depositories, it issues a receipt therefor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-295; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.57 Access by fiduciaries.—When a safe-deposit box is made available by a lessor to one or more persons acting as fiduciaries, the lessor may, except as otherwise expressly provided in the lease or the writings pursuant to which such fiduciaries are acting, allow access thereto as follows:

(1) By any one or more of the persons acting as executors or administrators.

(2) By any one or more of the persons otherwise acting as fiduciaries, when authorized in writing signed by all other persons so acting.

(3) By any agent authorized in writing signed by all of the persons acting as fiduciaries.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-295; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.58 Effect of lessee's death or incompetence.—When a lessor without knowledge of the death or of an adjudication of legal incompetence of the lessee deals with his agent pursuant to a written power of attorney signed by such lessee, the transaction binds the lessee's estate and the lessee.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-295; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.59 Search procedure on death of lessee.—If satisfactory proof of the death of the lessee is presented, a lessor shall permit the person named in a court order for the purpose or, if no order has been served upon the lessor, the spouse, a parent, an adult descendant, or a person named as an executor in a copy of a purported will produced by him to open and examine the contents of a safe-deposit box leased by a decedent, or any documents delivered by a decedent for safekeeping, in the presence of an officer of the lessor; and the lessor, if so requested by such person, must deliver:

(1) Any writing purporting to be a will of the decedent to the court having probate jurisdiction in the county wherein the building and loan association or savings and loan association is located;

(2) Any writing purporting to be a deed to a burial plot or give burial instructions to the person making the request for a search; and

(3) Any document purporting to be an insurance policy on the life of the decedent to the beneficiary named therein;

but no other contents shall be removed pursuant to this section.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-295; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.60 Lease to minor.—A building and loan association or savings and loan association may lease a safe-deposit box to, and in connection therewith deal with, a minor with the same effect as if leasing to and dealing with a person of full legal capacity.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-295; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

cf.—s. 1.01 Definition of minor.

1665.61 Delivery of safe-deposit box contents or property held in safekeeping to personal representative.—

(1) The lessor shall immediately deliver to a resident personal representative, upon presentation of a certified copy of his letters of authority, all property deposited with it by the decedent for safekeeping, and it shall grant him access to any safe-deposit box in the decedent's name and permit him to remove from such box any part or all of the contents thereof.

(2) If a personal foreign representative of a deceased lessee has been appointed by a court of any other state, a lessor may, at its discretion, after 3 months from the issuance to such foreign personal representative of his letters of authority, deliver to such foreign personal representative all properties deposited with it for safekeeping and the contents of any safe-deposit box in the name of the decedent, if at such time the lessor has not received written notice of the appointment of a personal representative in this state, and such delivery shall be a valid discharge of the lessor for all property or contents so delivered. Such foreign personal representative shall furnish the lessor with an affidavit setting forth facts showing the domicile of the deceased lessee to be other than this state and stating that there are no unpaid creditors of the deceased lessee in this state, together with a certified copy of his letters of authority. A lessor making delivery pursuant to this subsection shall maintain in its files a receipt executed by such foreign personal representative which itemizes in detail all property so delivered.

(3) No lessor shall be liable for damages or penalty by reason of any delivery made pursuant to this section.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-295; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

to that date.

1665.62 Access to safe-deposit boxes leased in two or more names.—

(1) When specifically provided in the lease or rental agreement covering safe-deposit boxes heretofore or hereafter rented or leased in the names of two or more lessees that access to said safe-deposit box shall be granted to either lessee, or to either or the survivor, access to said safe-deposit box shall be granted to:

(b) The executor or administrator of the estate of either or any of said lessees who is deceased or the guardian of the property of either or any of said lessees who is incompetent, and in either such case, the provisions of s. 665.57 shall apply, and the signature on the safe-deposit entry or access record (or the receipt of acquittance, in the case of property or documents otherwise held for safekeeping) shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge to the lessor for granting access to such safe-deposit box or for the delivery of such property or documents otherwise held for safekeeping.

(2) No lessor shall be held liable for damages or penalty by reason of any access granted or delivery made pursuant to this section.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-295; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.63 Adverse claims to contents of safe-deposit box.—

(1) An adverse claim to the contents of a safe-deposit box or to property held in safekeeping is not sufficient to require the lessor to deny access to its lessee unless:

(a) The lessor is directed to do so by a court order issued in an action in which the lessee is served with process and named as a party by a name which identifies him with the name in which the safe-deposit box is leased or the property held; or

(b) The safe-deposit box is leased or the property is held in the name of a lessee with the addition of words indicating that the contents or property are held in a fiduciary capacity, and the adverse claim is supported by a written statement of facts disclosing that it is made by or on behalf of a beneficiary and that there is reason to know that the fiduciary will misappropriate the trust property.

(2) A claim is an adverse claim when:

(a) One of several lessees claims, contrary to the terms of the lease, an exclusive right of access;

(b) One or more persons claim a right of access as agents or officers of a lessee to the exclusion of others as agents or officers; or

(c) It is claimed that a lessee is the same person as one using another name.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-295; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.64 Special remedies for nonpayment of rent.—

(1) If the rental due on a safe-deposit box has not been paid for 6 months, the lessor may send a notice by registered mail to the last known address of the lessee stating that the safe-deposit box will be opened and its contents stored at the expense of the lessee unless payment of the rental is made within 30 days. If the rental is not paid within 30 days from the mailing of the notice, the box may be opened in the presence of an officer of the lessor and a notary public who is not a director, officer, employee, or stockholder of the lessor. The contents shall be sealed in a package by a notary public who shall write on the outside the name of the lessee and the date of the opening. The notary public shall execute a certificate reciting the name of the lessee, the date of the opening of the box, and a list of its contents. The certificate shall be included in the package, and a copy of the certificate shall be sent by registered mail to the last known address of the lessee. The package shall then be placed in the general vaults of the lessor at a rental not exceeding the rental previously charged for the box.

(2) If the contents of the safe-deposit box have not been claimed within 1 year of the mailing of the certificate, the lessor may send a further notice to the last known address of the lessee stating that, unless the accumulated charges are paid within 30 days, the contents of the box will be sold at public auction at a specified time and place or, in the case of securities listed on a stock exchange, will be sold upon the exchange on or after a specified date and that unsalable items will be destroyed. The time, place, and manner of sale shall also be posted conspicuously on the premises of the lessor and advertised once in a newspaper of general circulation in the community. If the articles are not claimed, they may then be sold in accordance with the notice. The balance of the proceeds, after deducting accumulated charges, including the expenses of advertising and conducting the sale, shall be deposited to the credit of the lessee in any account maintained by him. If no account is maintained, said balance shall be deemed a deposit account with the bank or trust company operating the safe-deposit facility, and shall be identified on the books of the bank as arising from the sale of contents of a safe-deposit box.

(3) Any documents or writings of a private nature having little or no apparent value need not be offered for sale, but, unless claimed by the owner, shall be retained for the period specified for unclaimed contents, after which they may be destroyed.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-295; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.701 Capital stock associations; power and limitations on sale and issuance of stock; characteristics of capital stock; loans secured by capital stock prohibited.—

(1) CAPITAL STOCK ASSOCIATIONS; GENERAL PURPOSE AND POWERS.—A capital stock savings and loan association, hereinafter referred to as a "capital stock association," is a financial institution incorporated under the provisions of ss. 665.701-665.717, having for its purposes the encouragement of thrift and home financing, the accumulation of funds through the issuance and sale of its capital stock, the acceptance of savings deposits and such other accounts as may be authorized by the department for mutual savings and loan associations, hereinafter referred to as "mutual associations," and the loaning of funds so accumulated in accordance with the powers conveyed by this chapter.

(2) CAPITAL STOCK.—

(a) Common stock.—A capital stock association may issue the shares of stock authorized by its articles of incorporation and none other. Capital stock shall have the par value stated in the articles of incorporation and, with the prior approval of the department, may consist of common stock and preferred stock, which may be divided into classes and classes into series. Each kind, class, and series may have such distinguishing characteristics, including designations, preferences, or restrictions as regards dividends, redemption, voting powers, or restrictions or qualifications of voting powers, as are imposed in the articles of incorporation. Such provisions of the articles of incorporation which shall control in any case in which any vote or consent of stockholders is now or hereafter required by statute unless such statute shall expressly provide to the contrary.

(b) Preferred stock.—With the prior approval of the department, shares of preferred or special stock of any class may be divided by number from time to time into, and issued in, designated series. Such shares of preferred or special stock of any class or series thereof shall have such relative rights and preferences with regard to dividend rates, redemption rights, conversion privileges, voting power, and other distinguishing characteristics, as shall be stated and expressed with respect to such class or series, either in the articles of incorporation or in the resolution or resolutions providing for the issue of such stock adopted by the board of directors of the corporation.

(c) Consideration for issuance of stock.—Except for stock issued pursuant to a plan of merger, consolidation, or conversion from a mutual to a stock association or other type of reorganization which has been approved by the department, the consideration for the issuance of voting common capital stock shall be paid in cash. The par value thereof shall be maintained as the permanent capital of the association, and any excess shall be credited to paid-in surplus which shall not be available for dividends or other distribution to stockholders, except upon liquidation.

(d) Permanent capital.—Except as provided herein, the total of the par values of all outstanding shares of voting common capital stock shall be the permanent capital of the association and shall not be retired until final liquidation of the association. No association shall reduce its outstanding voting common capital stock without first obtaining the consent of the department. Such consent shall be withheld if the reduction will cause the par value of outstanding voting common capital stock to be less than the minimum required by this chapter or result in less than adequate net worth, as provided in s. 665.707(3).

(e) Preemptive rights.—Unless otherwise provided by the articles of incorporation, every stockholder, upon the sale for cash of any new stock of the same kind, class, or series as that which he already holds, shall have the right to purchase his pro rata share thereof, as nearly as may be done without issuance of fractional shares, at the price at which it is offered to others, which price must be in excess of par.

(f) Capital stock as security for loan prohibited.—An association shall not make a loan secured by the pledge of its capital stock.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.702 Stockholders' meetings; notice; voting rights; quorum; proxy.—

(1) ANNUAL MEETING; NOTICE; PLACE OF HOLDING MEETINGS.—The annual meeting of stockholders shall be held during the time prescribed in s. 665.091(1). Whenever the provisions of this chapter, the articles of incorporation, or the bylaws require or authorize the stockholders to take any action at an annual or special meeting, a notice of such meeting, signed by the secretary or other officer permitted by the bylaws, shall be mailed to each stockholder entitled to vote at such meeting, at his address as it appears on the records of the corporation, not less than 10 or more than 60 days before the date set for such meeting. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may require that such notice also be published in one or more newspapers. The notice shall state the purpose of the meeting and the time and place it is to be held. Such notice shall be sufficient for said meeting and any adjournment thereof unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws. If any stockholder shall transfer any of his stock after notice, it shall not be necessary to notify the transferee. Such meetings shall be held within the state and within the county in which the home office of the association is located. Any stockholder may waive notice of any meeting either before, at, or after the meeting.

(2) STOCKHOLDERS' RECORD DATE.—The directors may, unless prohibited by the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, fix a date not more than 60 days prior to the date set for such meetings as the record date as of which the stockholders of record who have the right to and are entitled to notice of and to vote at such meeting and any adjournment thereof shall be determined.

(3) VOTING RIGHTS.—Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, every such stockholder shall be entitled at such meeting, and upon each proposal presented at such meeting, to one vote for each share of voting stock recorded in his name on the books of the corporation on the record date fixed as above provided or, if no such record date was fixed, on the day of meeting. The books of record of stockholders shall be produced at any stockholders' meeting upon the request of any stockholder.

(4) QUORUM.—Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws otherwise provide for a larger number to constitute a quorum, the stockholders entitled to vote a majority of the stock shall constitute a quorum at any stockholders' meeting.

(5) PROXY.—At any meeting of said stockholders or any adjournment thereof, any stockholder of record having the right and entitled to vote thereat may be represented and vote by a proxy appointed by an instrument in writing. In the event that any such instrument shall designate two or more persons to act as proxies, a majority of such persons present at the meeting or, if only one be present, that one, shall have all of the powers conferred by the instrument upon all the persons so designated unless the instrument shall otherwise provide.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

1665.703 Directors.—

(1) NUMBER.—The business of the corporation shall be managed and its corporate powers exercised by a board of directors. The board shall consist of not less than 5 or more than 15 adult natural persons who shall be elected by a plurality of the votes cast at the annual meeting of stockholders.

(2) TERM OF OFFICE.—At the first annual meeting, the stockholders shall by majority vote divide the directors into three classes of as nearly equal numbers as possible. The term of office of directors of the first class shall expire at the annual meeting next after the first election; of the second class, 1 year thereafter; and of the third class, 2 years thereafter. At each annual election thereafter directors shall be chosen for a full term of 3 years to succeed those whose terms expire.

(3) QUALIFICATIONS; CITIZENSHIP AND RESIDENCY REQUIREMENTS; AUTOMATIC REMOVAL FROM OFFICE.—Every director must, during his whole term of service, be a citizen of the United States, and at least three-fifths of the directors must have resided in this state for at least 1 year preceding their election and must be residents therein during their continuance in office. Except with the written consent of the department, no person shall be eligible for election or serve as a director or officer of a capital stock association who has been adjudicated a bankrupt or convicted of a criminal offense involving dishonesty or a breach of trust. A director or officer shall automatically cease to be a director when he is adjudicated a bankrupt or convicted of a criminal offense involving dishonesty or a breach of trust. However, no action of the board of directors shall be invalidated through the participation of such director in such action.

(4) DIRECTOR'S OATH.—Each director, upon assuming office, shall take an oath that he will, so far as the duty devolves on him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of such capital stock association and will not knowingly violate, or willfully permit to be violated, any of the provisions of this chapter.

(5) DIRECTORS' MEETINGS.—The board of directors of each capital stock association shall hold a meeting at least once every 2 months at such time and place in the county in which the home office is located as shall be fixed by the bylaws of such association or by a majority vote of the board of directors.

(6) VACANCIES ON BOARD.—Vacancies on the board of directors may be filled as provided in s. 665.131(5), (7).

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 5, ch. 78-40.

to that date.

'665.704 Power to incorporate capital stock association; organizational requirements; application; minimum capital; departmental action on application.—

(1) POWER TO ORGANIZE CAPITAL STOCK ASSOCIATION.—When authorized by the Department of Banking and Finance as provided herein, a capital stock association may be incorporated under the laws of this state by five or more adult natural persons, a majority of whom are residents of this state, for the purpose of promoting thrift and home finance.

(2) APPLICATION TO ORGANIZE.—The written application for authority to organize a capital stock association shall be filed with the department and shall include:

(a) The name and the proposed location of the principal office of the proposed association.

(b) Such detailed financial and biographical information for each incorporator and subscriber as the department may require.

(c) The total amount of capital stock proposed and subscribed together with the name and address of each subscriber.

(d) Such economic data, projections of business volume, and income, expense, and other information as the department may require.

(e) A complete set of fingerprints taken by an authorized law enforcement officer of each organizing incorporator, proposed director, and proposed managing officer and each person subscribing to 5 percent or more of the voting stock. Such fingerprints shall be submitted by the department to appropriate law enforcement agencies for processing.

The application for authority to organize shall be filed with the department in triplicate and shall be accompanied by a filing fee in the same amount required for organization of a mutual association pursuant to this chapter.

(3) DEPARTMENTAL ACTION ON APPLICATION.—Upon receipt of an application to organize a capital stock association the department shall proceed as provided in s. 665.031.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 4, ch. 79-144.

'665.705 Authorization to engage in savings and loan business required.—

(1) After approval by the department of the application for authority to organize, the proposed capital stock association shall:

(a) File with the department its articles of incorporation and bylaws for approval.

(b) File with the department a statement in such form and with such supporting data and proof as it may require, showing that the entire capital, including paid-in surplus has been fully and unconditionally paid in lawful money and that the funds representing such capital and paid-in surplus, less sums spent with the approval of the department for land, building, supplies, fixtures, equipment, and organization, are on hand and that it has acquired insurance of accounts as provided in this chapter.

(2) If the department finds that the proposed savings and loan corporation has in good faith complied with all the requirements of law, it shall, within 30 days after the filing of the statement specified in paragraph (b) of subsection (1), issue, in duplicate, under its official seal, a certificate of authorization to transact a general savings and loan business, transmitting one copy to the savings and loan association and placing one copy in the department file. Said certificate shall state that the association named therein is authorized to transact a general savings and loan business. The savings and loan association shall cause said certificate to be published one time in some newspaper of general circulation published in the city or county where the savings and loan company is located.

(3) No savings and loan association shall, until it has received its certificate of authorization:

(a) Transact any savings and loan business.

(b) Incur any indebtedness except that allowed under paragraph (b) of subsection (1).

(4) Upon failure to comply with subsection (1) within 12 months after the approval of the application for authority to organize, such right shall automatically terminate. However, the department, for good cause, on written application filed before the expiration of said 12 months' period, may extend the time within which the savings and loan corporation may be organized for a period not exceeding 12 months.

(5) Upon the failure to open for business within 30 days after the issuance of the certificate of authorization, the right to transact business will automatically terminate. However, the department may for good cause extend such period for a reasonable time.

(6) Upon opening for business, a savings and loan association shall have the power to engage in a general savings and loan business and to exercise, subject to law and the approval of the department, all such incidental powers as may reasonably promote its general savings and loan business.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

'665.706 Articles of incorporation, content; approval by department; filing; bylaws.—

(1) ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION, CONTENTS.—The articles of incorporation shall contain:

(a) The name of the proposed association which shall comply with s. 665.051.

(b) The general nature of the business to be transacted or a statement that the corporation may engage in any activity or business permitted under this chapter. Such statement shall authorize all such activities and business by the corporation.

(c) The amount of capital stock authorized, showing the maximum number of shares of par value common stock and of preferred stock, and of every kind, class, or series of each, together with the distinguishing characteristics and the par value of all shares.

(d) The amount of capital with which the corporation will begin business, which shall not be less than the amount required by the department pursuant to s. 665.707.

(e) A provision that the corporation is to have perpetual existence unless existence is terminated pursuant to this chapter.

(f) The initial street address of the home office of the corporation, which shall be in this state.

(g) The number of directors, which shall not be less than 5 or more than 15, and the names and street addresses of the members of the first board of directors who, unless otherwise provided by the articles of incorporation, the bylaws, or this chapter, shall hold office for the term set forth in s. 665.703(2) or until their successors are elected or appointed and have qualified.

(h) The name and street address of each person signing the articles of incorporation as a subscriber and the number of shares subscribed.

(i) Any provision which the incorporators may choose to insert for the regulation of the business and for the conduct of affairs of the corporation and any provision creating, dividing, limiting, or regulating the powers of the corporation, the directors, and the stockholders or any class of the stockholders, including, but not limited to, provisions for cumulative voting for directors, provisions governing the issuance of stock certificates to replace lost or destroyed certificates, and a list of officers.

(2) ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION MUST BE APPROVED BEFORE FILING.—The articles of incorporation shall be in writing, subscribed to by five or more persons competent to contract, acknowledged by all of the subscribers before an officer authorized to take acknowledgments, and submitted to the Department of Banking and Finance for its approval. Upon approval, the department shall place the following legend upon the articles of incorporation and affix the seal of the Office of the Comptroller of Florida thereto. The legend shall in substance read: "Approved by the Department of Banking and Finance this ..... day of ....., ..... (herein the name and signature of the head of the department)." Thereafter the articles of incorporation shall be filed with the Department of State.

(3) BYLAWS.—Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the board of directors shall have authority to adopt or amend bylaws that do not conflict with bylaws that may have been adopted by the stockholders. The bylaws shall be for the government of the corporation, subordinate only to the articles of incorporation and the laws of the United States and of this state. No bylaws or amendments thereto shall be adopted until approved by the department.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.707 Minimum capital; adequate net worth.

(1) MINIMUM CAPITAL.—The minimum capital of a capital stock association shall be the sum of the par value of all shares of voting common capital stock and shall not be less than:

(a) One hundred and fifty thousand dollars in communities having not more than 10,000 inhabitants.

(b) Four hundred and fifty thousand dollars in communities having more than 10,000 but not more than 100,000 inhabitants.

(c) Seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars in communities having more than 100,000 inhabitants.

However, the department may in its discretion require a larger amount. The population of the community shall be determined by the department based upon the latest federal census.

(2) PAID-IN SURPLUS.—In addition to the minimum capital required by subsection (1), the subscribers shall pay an additional amount equal to not less than 20 percent of the par value of the stock subscribed, which shall be credited to paid-in surplus and may be used to offset losses from operations. Such minimum capital and surplus may be used for the reserves required by law as permitted by the department.

(3) ADEQUATE NET WORTH.—After organization or conversion, each capital stock association shall maintain an adequate net worth structure appropriate for the conduct of its business and the protection of its depositors. The net worth adequacy of a capital stock association shall be determined by the department after evaluating the character of management, the liquidity or quality of assets, history of earnings and the retention thereof, the potential volatility of the deposit structure, and the association's capacity to furnish the broadest service to the public.

§665.708 Power to accept savings deposits.

In addition to the capital stock provided for in its articles of incorporation, a capital stock association may accept such savings deposits or other accounts as are authorized by its board of directors and approved by the department. The deposits and other accounts may be used for fixed, minimum, or indefinite periods of time of not less than 30 days and may be classified by the board of directors so that different rates of interest are payable on different classes of deposits or other accounts according to the character, amount, duration, required notice of intention to withdraw, or the regularity of additions required to be made on the deposits or other accounts. The department shall not permit a corporation organized pursuant to ss. 665.701-665.717 to pay a higher rate of interest than the rates permissible for mutual associations to pay on classified accounts pursuant to s. 665.331. The savings deposits or other accounts may be evidenced by certificates of deposit, passbooks, or such other evidence of deposit or account as the board of directors prescribes. A capital stock association may pay interest on its deposits or other accounts from any sources available for such payment at such rate and at such times and for such time or notice periods as are determined by resolution of its board of directors. The board of directors shall determine by resolution the method of calculating the interest on deposits or other accounts and the time when, and manner in which, interest is to be paid or credited.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.709 Dividend limitations.—Before and following the declaration of any dividend to holders of capital stock, a capital stock association shall have net worth totaling at least 5 percent of the outstanding amount of its savings deposits. If a capital stock association results from conversion of an association pursuant to s. 665.710, a dividend shall not be declared during the 2-year period immediately following the conversion if payment of the dividend would result in the reduction of net worth below the amount which existed at the time of conversion. Unless the department issues its approval in writing, no dividend shall be declared or paid for an accounting period unless the allocation to the general reserve, required by s. 665.201, for the preceding accounting period has been made.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.710 Power of state or federal mutual association to convert to capital stock association; procedure; approval of department required; minutes of meeting; succession.—

(1) POWER TO CONVERT; PROCEDURES; APPROVAL OF PLAN OF CONVERSION BY DEPARTMENT AND MEMBERS.—If the board of directors determines, and the department concurs, that a substantial business benefit to the association will or may result, and if federal law, regulations, or administrative rulings authorize federal associations to convert to capital stock associations, the voting members of a mutual association organized pursuant to this chapter, or otherwise subject to the provisions of this chapter, or a federal mutual association located in Florida may vote to convert the association into a total or partial capital stock association by adopting a plan of conversion which is approved by the department. The plan of conversion must be approved at a meeting of voting members called to consider such action by a vote of 51 percent or more of the total number of votes eligible to be cast, unless federal law permits a lesser percentage of votes for a federal mutual association to convert, in which case that percentage shall control. The department may approve or disapprove the plan of conversion in its discretion, but it shall not approve the plan unless it finds that the plan is fair and equitable to members of the association and that the interest of the savings account holders and the public are adequately protected. Notice of the meeting, giving the time, place, and purpose thereof, together with a proxy statement and proxy form approved by the department covering all matters to be brought before the meeting shall be mailed at least 30 days prior thereto to the department and to each voting member at his last address as shown on the books of the association.

(2) MINUTES OF MEETING.—Copies of the minutes of the meeting of members, verified by the affidavit of the secretary or assistant secretary of the association, shall be filed in the office of the department and with the Federal Home Loan Bank Board within a reasonable time after the meeting. When so filed, the verified copies of the minutes are presumptive evidence of the holding of the meeting and of the action taken.

(3) FILING OF ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION AND COMMITMENT FOR INSURANCE OF ACCOUNTS.—The directors of the association shall execute and file with the supervisory authority proposed articles of incorporation as provided for in s. 665.706, together with an application for conversion and a firm commitment for, or evidence of, insurance of deposits and other accounts of a withdrawable type. The articles shall contain a statement that the corporation resulted from the conversion of a state or federal mutual association to a capital stock association. Approval by the department shall be affixed to the articles of incorporation. An authenticated copy of the articles of incorporation shall be filed in the Department of State and one copy of the articles of incorporation and the certificate of incorporation shall be returned to the association. The association shall cease to be a mutual association at the time and on the date specified in the approved articles of incorporation.

(4) SUCCESSION.—Upon conversion of a mutual association, the legal existence of the association shall not terminate, but the capital stock association shall be a continuation of the entity of the mutual association, and all property of the mutual association, including its rights, titles, and interests in and to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal, or mixed, things in action, and every right, privilege, interest, and asset of every conceivable value or benefit then existing or pertaining to it, or which would inure to it, immediately, by act of law and without any conveyance or transfer and without any further act or deed, shall vest and remain in the capital stock association into which the mutual association has converted itself. The capital stock association shall have, hold, and enjoy the same in its own right as fully and to the same extent as the same was possessed, held, and enjoyed by the mutual association. The capital stock association, upon the taking effect of the conversion, shall continue to have and succeed to all the rights, obligations, and relations of the mutual association. All pending actions and other judicial proceedings to which the mutual association is a party shall not be abated or discontinued by reason of the conversion but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order, or decree in the same manner as if the conversion had not been made, and the capital stock association resulting from the conversion may continue the actions in its corporate name as a mutual association. Any judgment, order, or decree may be rendered for or against it which might have been rendered for or against the mutual association theretofore involved in the proceedings.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 7, ch. 78-95; s. 172, ch. 79-164.

to that date.

§665.711 Conversion of stock association to federal association; procedure.—

(1) POWER TO CONVERT; PROCEDURE.—A capital stock association may vote to convert itself into a federal savings and loan association at any legal meeting called to consider the action. The required vote to effect the conversion shall be not less than 51 percent of all the votes cast in person or by proxy at the meeting of stockholders. Notice of the meeting, giving the time, place and purpose thereof, together with a proxy statement and proxy form, covering all matters properly brought before the meeting shall be mailed at least 30 days prior thereto to the department and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and to each stockholder at his last address as shown on the books of the association. A copy of the minutes of the proceedings of the meeting, verified by the affidavit of the secretary or an assistant secretary of the association, shall be filed in the office of the department within ten days after the date of the meeting. When filed, a verified copy of the proceedings of the meeting is presumptive evidence of the holding of the meeting and of the action taken.

(2) COMPLETION OF CONVERSION.—Within 3 months after the date of the meeting, the association shall take such further action, in the manner prescribed and authorized by the laws of the United States, as shall make it a federal savings and loan association. Three copies of the charter issued by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, or three copies of a certificate showing the organization of the association as a federal association, certified by the secretary or an assistant secretary of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board shall be filed with the department. Upon the payment of the fees prescribed by law, the department shall note the filing upon each of the copies and shall retain one copy in its office, file one copy in the Department of State, and return one copy to the association. The failure to file the instruments with the department shall not affect the validity of the conversion. Upon the grant to any association of a charter by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the association shall cease to be an association incorporated under this act and shall no longer be subject to the supervision and control of the department. All the provisions regarding property and other rights contained in s. 665.710(4) apply to the conversion of a capital stock association into a federal savings and loan association.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.712 Plan of conversion; mandatory and permissive requirements.—

(1) MANDATORY PROVISIONS.—The plan of conversion must provide:

- (a) That each savings account holder of the mutual association will receive a withdrawable account in the capital stock association equal in amount to his withdrawable account in the mutual association.
- (b) That each savings account holder of record as provided in paragraph (c) will be entitled to receive voting common stock or rights to purchase voting common stock.

(c) If the department fixes a record date, that the record date for determining savings account holders is used.

(d) With particularity, the business purpose to be accomplished by the conversion.

The plan shall contain such other information and be in such form as required by the department to enable it to determine whether the plan is fair and equitable to members of the association and that the interest of the savings account holders and the public is adequately protected.

(2) PERMISSIVE CONTENTS OF PLAN OF CONVERSION.—A plan of conversion will not be considered unfair or inequitable merely because it contains provisions which provide:

(a) That shares of stock will be issued to savings account holders with or without cost.

(b) That shares of stock will be issued with cost to all savings account holders and that no stock will be issued without cost.

(c) That savings account holders, including or excluding past savings account holders, will have a right to purchase shares of voting common stock at the fair market value thereof.

(d) That savings account holders will or will not have preemptive rights to all stock proposed to be issued.

(e) That those persons who were savings account holders during a particular number of years have preemptive rights to purchase voting common stock at the fair market value thereof.

(f) That employment contracts are provided for officers and employees of the association.

(g) That not more than 15 percent of the voting common stock proposed to be issued pursuant to the plan of conversion is reserved by the association for stock options for officers and employees.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-174; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.713 Record date.—Annually, during the month of January, a statewide record date for determining the respective interests of account holders may be published by the department. Such date shall be not more than 18 months prior to its publication.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457.

§665.714 Hearings on conversion plans; costs.

—All costs to the department resulting from hearings on conversion plans shall be paid by the association making application for conversion.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 7, ch. 78-95.

§665.715 Acquisition of control over an existing association.

—In any case in which a person or group of persons propose to purchase or acquire voting common stock of any capital stock association, which purchase or acquisition would cause such person or group of persons to have control, as defined in

s. 665.716(2), of said association, such person or group of persons shall first make application to the department for a certificate of approval of such purchase or acquisition. The application shall contain the name and address of the proposed new owner or owners of voting common stock, and the department shall issue said certificate of approval only after it has become satisfied that the proposed new owner or owners of voting common stock are qualified by character, experience, and financial responsibility to control said association in a legal and proper manner and that the interest of the stockholders, depositors, and creditors of the association and the interest of the public generally will not be jeopardized by the proposed purchase or acquisition of voting common stock. Any such person or persons required to submit an application pursuant to this section shall file with the department a complete set of fingerprints taken by an authorized law enforcement officer, and such fingerprints shall be submitted by the department to appropriate law enforcement agencies for processing.

History.—s. 2, ch. 73-224; s. 3, ch. 76-168; s. 1, ch. 77-457; s. 5, ch. 79-144.

§665.716 Restrictions on acquisition of control of capital stock associations.—

(1) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) “Business organization” or “company” means any corporation, partnership, trust, joint stock company, or similar organization, but does not include any company the majority of the stock of which is owned by the United States or this state, by an officer of the United States or this state in his official capacity, or by an instrumentality of the United States or this state.

(b) “Savings and loan holding company” means any company which directly or indirectly controls a savings and loan association or controls any other company which is a savings and loan holding company by virtue of this section.

(c) “Person” means an individual or company.

(d) “Subsidiary” of a person means any company which is controlled by such person or by a company which is a subsidiary of such person by virtue of this section.

(2) CONTROL DEEMED TO EXIST.—For purposes of this section, a business organization shall be deemed to have control of a savings and loan association or any other business organization if the business organization:

(a) Directly or indirectly, or acting in concert with one or more persons or through one or more subsidiaries, owns, controls, holds with powers to vote, or holds proxies representing, more than 25 percent of the voting common stock of such savings and loan association or other business organization.

(b) Controls in any manner the election of a majority of the directors of such savings and loan association or other business organization.

(c) Exercises a controlling influence over the management or policies of such savings and loan association or other business organization.

(3) RESTRICTIONS ON OWNERSHIP OR CONTROL.—

(a) Unless organized pursuant to the laws of Florida and not controlled by a business organization organized under the laws of another jurisdiction, no business organization shall, either directly or indirectly, control any savings and loan association located in Florida.

(b) No business organization which is a bank or trust company or subsidiary of a bank or trust company or a bank holding company according to federal law or regulation or a subsidiary of a bank holding company shall, either directly or indirectly, acquire or own any of the capital stock of any savings and loan association located in Florida. However, a bank or trust company located within or without the territorial boundaries of Florida may accept capital stock of a capital stock savings and loan association as collateral for a loan and may acquire said stock to satisfy the loan. If a bank or trust company acquires the capital stock of a savings and loan association in partial or complete satisfaction of a loan it shall divest itself of the stock within a reasonable period of time which shall not exceed 2 years unless a longer period of time is approved by the department. However, if a law regulating banks fixes a shorter period of time, then the shorter period shall prevail.

(c) No business organization which controls or seeks to control any capital stock association located in Florida shall engage in any business activity which has not been determined by the department or prescribed by regulation to be a proper incident to the operation of a capital stock association and which is, or may be deemed to be, detrimental to savings account holders by the department, nor shall it control or be controlled by any business organization whose business activities have not been determined by the department or prescribed by regulation to be a proper incident to the operation of a capital stock association and which is, or may be deemed to be, detrimental to savings account holders by the department.

(d) The following are deemed to be proper incidents to the operation of a capital stock association:

1. Furnishing or performing management services for a subsidiary savings and loan association.

2. Holding, managing, or liquidating assets owned by, or acquired from, a subsidiary savings and loan association.

3. Holding or managing properties used or occupied by a subsidiary savings and loan association.

(e) Such business organizations may furnish or perform such other services or engage in such other activities as the department may approve or prescribe by regulation as being proper incidents to the operation of capital stock associations and not detrimental to the interests of savings account holders therein.

(f) No business organization shall acquire control of a capital stock association located in Florida without first obtaining the prior written approval of the department. Prior to such acquisitions, such business organization shall file an application with the department containing such information as the department may require and as will aid it in determining that the acquisition will not be detrimental to the public interest.

(g) Each savings and loan holding company and each subsidiary thereof shall file such reports as the department may require from time to time. Each savings and loan holding company and each subsidiary thereof shall be subject to such examinations as the department shall prescribe. The cost of such examinations shall be assessed against such holding company and paid to the state treasurer who shall credit such amount to a special bank and trust company trust fund to be used to administer this chapter.

<sup>1</sup>665.717 Inconsistent provisions of this chapter.—In the event of inconsistency between the provisions of ss. 665.701-665.717, and other provisions of this chapter, such other provisions, to the extent of the inconsistency, shall be construed to be applicable to mutual associations. The department shall resolve all ambiguities, inconsistencies, or omissions by rules or regulations which will provide maximum safety to savings account holders or depositors.

TITLE XXXIX

COMMERCIAL RELATIONS

CHAPTER 671

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE: GENERAL PROVISIONS

ARTICLE 1

Note.—Pursuant to s. 69, ch. 69-353, the editors have altered the numbers of all sections making up this chapter by deleting the digit and hyphen immediately following the decimal point. The purpose is to conform the numbering of the Code sections with the decimal numbering system used in other chapters of the Florida Statutes. The visual relationship between Florida Statutes section numbers and Code section number is not destroyed by this alteration; the digit preceding the decimal point coincides with the Code article number, and the digits following the decimal point coincide with the Code section numbers.

PART I SHORT TITLE, CONSTRUCTION, APPLICATION, AND SUBJECT MATTER (ss. 671.101-671.109)

PART II GENERAL DEFINITIONS AND PRINCIPLES OF INTERPRETATION (ss. 671.201-671.208)

PART I

SHORT TITLE, CONSTRUCTION, APPLICATION, AND SUBJECT MATTER

- 671.101 Short title.
- 671.102 Purposes; rules of construction; variation by agreement.
- 671.103 Supplementary general principles of law applicable.
- 671.104 Construction against implicit repeal.
- 671.105 Territorial application of the code; parties' power to choose applicable law.
- 671.106 Remedies to be liberally administered.
- 671.107 Waiver or renunciation of claim or right after breach.
- 671.108 Severability.
- 671.109 Section captions.

671.101 Short title.—Chapters 671-679 shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform Commercial Code."

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 1-101, U.C.C.

671.102 Purposes; rules of construction; variation by agreement.—

(1) This code shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying purposes and policies.

(2) Underlying purposes and policies of this code are:

(a) To simplify, clarify and modernize the law governing commercial transactions;

(b) To permit the continued expansion of commercial practices through custom, usage and agreement of the parties;

(c) To make uniform the law among the various jurisdictions.

(3) The effect of provisions of this code may be varied by agreement, except as otherwise provided in this code and except that the obligations of good faith, diligence, reasonableness and care prescribed by this code may not be disclaimed by agreement but the parties may by agreement determine the standards by which the performance of such obligations is to be measured if such standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

(4) The presence in certain provisions of this code of the words "unless otherwise agreed" or words of similar import does not imply that the effect of other provisions may not be varied by agreement under subsection (3).

(5) In this code unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) Words in the singular number include the plural, and in the plural include the singular;

(b) Words of the masculine gender include the feminine and the neuter, and when the sense so indicates words of the neuter gender may refer to any gender.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-102, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.53, 614.31.

671.103 Supplementary general principles of law applicable.—Unless displaced by the particular provisions of this code, the principles of law and equity, including the law merchant and the law relative to capacity to contract, principal and agent, estoppel, fraud, misrepresentation, duress, coercion, mistake, bankruptcy, or other validating or invalidating cause shall supplement its provisions.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-103, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.52, 673.17, 614.20.

671.104 Construction against implicit repeal.

—This code being a general act intended as a unified coverage of its subject matter, no part of it shall be deemed to be impliedly repealed by subsequent legislation if such construction can reasonably be avoided.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-104, U.C.C.

671.105 Territorial application of the code; parties' power to choose applicable law.—

(1) Except as provided hereafter in this section, when a transaction bears a reasonable relation to this state and also to another state or nation the parties may agree that the law either of this state or of such other state or nation shall govern their rights and duties. Failing such agreement this code applies to transactions bearing an appropriate relation to this state.

(2) Where one of the following provisions of this code specifies the applicable law, that provision governs and a contrary agreement is effective only to the extent permitted by the law (including the conflict of laws rules) so specified:

(a) Rights of sellers' creditors against sold goods. (s. 672.402)

(b) Applicability of the chapter on bank deposits and collections. (s. 674.102)

(c) Bulk transfers subject to the chapter on bulk transfers. (s. 676.102)

(d) Applicability of the chapter on investment securities. (s. 678.106)

<sup>1</sup>(e) Perfection provisions of the chapter on secured transactions. (s. 679.103)

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 79-398.

Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 1-105, U.C.C.

671.106 Remedies to be liberally administered.—

(1) The remedies provided by this code shall be liberally administered to the end that the aggrieved party may be put in as good a position as if the other party had fully performed but neither consequential or special nor penal damages may be had except as specifically provided in this code or by other rule of law.

(2) Any right or obligation declared by this code is enforceable by action unless the provision declaring it specifies a different and limited effect.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-106, U.C.C.

671.107 Waiver or renunciation of claim or right after breach.—Any claim or right arising out of an alleged breach can be discharged in whole or in part without consideration by a written waiver or renunciation signed and delivered by the aggrieved party.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-107, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 675.28, 675.30.

671.108 Severability.—If any provision or clause of this code or application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the code which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this code are declared to be severable.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-108, U.C.C.

671.109 Section captions.—Section captions are parts of this code.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-109, U.C.C.

PART II

GENERAL DEFINITIONS AND PRINCIPLES OF INTERPRETATION

671.201 General definitions.

671.202 Prima facie evidence by third-party documents.

671.203 Obligation of good faith.

671.204 Time; reasonable time; "seasonably."

671.205 Course of dealing and usage of trade.

671.206 Statute of frauds for kinds of personal property not otherwise covered.

671.207 Performance or acceptance under reservation of rights.

671.208 Option to accelerate at will.

671.201 General definitions.—Subject to additional definitions contained in the subsequent chapters of this code which are applicable to specific chapters or parts thereof, and unless the context otherwise requires, in this code:

(1) "Action" in the sense of a judicial proceeding includes recoupment, counterclaim, setoff, suit in equity and any other proceedings in which rights are determined.

(2) "Aggrieved party" means a party entitled to resort to a remedy.

(3) "Agreement" means the bargain of the parties in fact as found in their language or by implication from other circumstances including course of dealing or usage of trade or course of performance as provided in this code (ss. 671.205 and 672.208). Whether an agreement has legal consequences is determined by the provisions of this code, if applicable; otherwise by the law of contracts (s. 671.103). (Compare "Contract.")

(4) "Bank" means any person engaged in the business of banking.

(5) "Bearer" means the person in possession of an instrument, document of title, or security payable to bearer or indorsed in blank.

(6) "Bill of lading" means a document evidencing the receipt of goods for shipment issued by a person engaged in the business of transporting or forwarding goods, and includes an airbill. "Airbill" means a document serving for air transportation as a bill of lading does for marine or rail transportation, and includes an air consignment note or air waybill.

(7) "Branch" includes a separately incorporated foreign branch of a bank.

(8) "Burden of establishing" a fact means the burden of persuading the triers of fact that the existence of the fact is more probable than its nonexistence.

a person who in good faith and without knowledge that the sale to him is in violation of the ownership rights or security interest of a third party in the goods buys in ordinary course from a person in the business of selling goods of that kind but does not include a pawnbroker. All persons who sell minerals or the like (including oil and gas) at wellhead or minehead shall be deemed to be persons in the business of selling goods of that kind. "Buying" may be for cash or by exchange of other property or on secured or unsecured credit and includes receiving goods or documents of title under a preexisting contract for sale but does not include a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt.

(10) A term or clause is "conspicuous" when it is so written that a reasonable person against whom it is to operate ought to have noticed it. A printed heading in capitals (as: NON-NEGOTIABLE BILL OF LADING) is conspicuous. Language in the body of a form is conspicuous if it is in larger or other contrasting type or color. But in a telegram any stated term is conspicuous. Whether a term or clause is conspicuous or not is for decision by the court.

(11) "Contract" means the total legal obligation which results from the parties' agreement as affected by this code and any other applicable rules of law. (Compare "Agreement.")

(12) "Creditor" includes a general creditor, a secured creditor, a lien creditor and any representative of creditors, including an assignee for the benefit of creditors, a trustee in bankruptcy, a receiver in equity and an executor or administrator of an insolvent debtor's or assignor's estate.

(13) "Defendant" includes a person in the position of defendant in a cross-action or counterclaim.

(14) "Delivery" with respect to instruments, documents of title, chattel paper or securities means voluntary transfer of possession.

(15) "Document of title" includes bill of lading, dock warrant, dock receipt, warehouse receipt or order for the delivery of goods, and also any other document which in the regular course of business or financing is treated as adequately evidencing that the person in possession of it is entitled to receive, hold and dispose of the document and the goods it covers. To be a document of title a document must purport to be issued by or addressed to a bailee and purport to cover goods in the bailee's possession which are either identified or are fungible portions of an identified mass.

(16) "Fault" means wrongful act, omission or breach.

(17) "Fungible" with respect to goods or securities means goods or securities of which any unit is, by nature or usage of trade, the equivalent of any other like unit. Goods which are not fungible shall be deemed fungible for the purposes of this code to the extent that under a particular agreement or document unlike units are treated as equivalents.

(18) "Genuine" means free of forgery or counterfeiting.

(19) "Good faith" means honesty in fact in the conduct or transaction concerned.

(20) "Holder" means a person who is in possession of a document of title or an instrument or an investment security drawn, issued or indorsed to him or to his order or to bearer or in blank.

(21) To "honor" is to pay or to accept and pay, or where a credit so engages to purchase or discount a draft complying with the terms of the credit.

(22) "Insolvency proceedings" includes any assignment for the benefit of creditors or other proceedings intended to liquidate or rehabilitate the estate of the person involved.

(23) A person is "insolvent" who either has ceased to pay his debts in the ordinary course of business or cannot pay his debts as they become due or is insolvent within the meaning of the Federal Bankruptcy Law.

(24) "Money" means a medium of exchange authorized or adopted by a domestic or foreign government as a part of its currency.

(25) A person has "notice" of a fact when

(a) He has actual knowledge of it; or

(b) He has received a notice or notification of it; or

(c) From all the facts and circumstances known to him at the time in question he has reason to know that it exists.

A person "knows" or has "knowledge" of a fact when he has actual knowledge of it. "Discover" or "learn" or a word or phrase of similar import refers to knowledge rather than to reason to know. The time and circumstances under which a notice or notification may cease to be effective are not determined by this code.

(26) A person "notifies" or "gives" a notice or notification to another by taking such steps as may be reasonably required to inform the other in ordinary course whether or not such other actually comes to know of it. A person "receives" a notice or notification when

(a) It comes to his attention; or

(b) It is duly delivered at the place of business through which the contract was made or at any other place held out by him as the place for receipt of such communications.

(27) Notice, knowledge or a notice or notification received by an organization is effective for a particular transaction from the time when it is brought to the attention of the individual conducting that transaction, and in any event from the time when it would have been brought to his attention if the organization had exercised due diligence. An organization exercises due diligence if it maintains reasonable routines for communicating significant information to the person conducting the transaction and there is reasonable compliance with the routines. Due diligence does not require an individual acting for the organization to communicate information unless such communication is part of his regular duties or unless he has reason to know of the transaction and that the transaction would be materially affected by the information.

(28) "Organization" includes a corporation, government or governmental subdivision or agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership or association, two or more persons having a joint or common interest, or any other legal or commercial entity.

(29) "Party," as distinct from "third party," means a person who has engaged in a transaction or made an agreement within this code.

(30) "Person" includes an individual or an organization (See s. 671.102).

(31) "Presumption" or "presumed" means that the trier of fact must find the existence of the fact presumed unless and until evidence is introduced which would support a finding of its nonexistence.

(32) "Purchase" includes taking by sale, discount, negotiation, mortgage, pledge, lien, issue or reissue, gift or any other voluntary transaction creating an interest in property.

(33) "Purchaser" means a person who takes by purchase.

(34) "Remedy" means any remedial right to which an aggrieved party is entitled with or without resort to a tribunal.

(35) "Representative" includes an agent, an officer of a corporation or association, and a trustee, executor or administrator of an estate, or any other person empowered to act for another.

(36) "Rights" includes remedies.

(37) "Security interest" means an interest in personal property or fixtures which secures payment or performance of an obligation. The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer (s. 672.401) is limited in effect to a reservation of a security interest. The term also includes any interest of a buyer of accounts or chattel paper which is subject to chapter 679. The special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of such goods to a contract for sale under s. 672.401 is not a security interest, but a buyer may also acquire a security interest by complying with chapter 679. Unless a lease or consignment is intended as security, reservation of title thereunder is not a security interest, but a consignment is in any event subject to the provisions on consignment sales (s. 672.326). Whether a lease is intended as security is to be determined by the facts of each case; however, (a) the inclusion of an option to purchase does not of itself make the lease one intended for security, and (b) an agreement that upon compliance with the terms of the lease the lessee shall become or has the option to become the owner of the property for no additional consideration or for a nominal consideration does make the lease one intended for security.

(38) "Send" in connection with any writing or notice means to deposit in the mail or deliver for transmission by any other usual means of communication with postage or cost of transmission provided for and properly addressed and in the case of an instrument to an address specified thereon or otherwise agreed, or if there be none to any address reasonable under the circumstances. The receipt of any writing or notice within the time at which it would have arrived if properly sent has the effect of a proper sending.

(39) "Signed" includes any symbol executed or adopted by a party with present intention to authenticate a writing.

(40) "Surety" includes guarantor.

(41) "Telegram" includes a message transmitted by radio, teletype, cable, any mechanical method of transmission, or the like.

(42) "Term" means that portion of an agreement which relates to a particular matter.

(43) "Unauthorized" signature or indorsement means one made without actual, implied or apparent authority and includes a forgery.

(44) "Value." Except as otherwise provided with respect to negotiable instruments and bank collections (ss. 673.303, 674.208 and 674.209), a person gives value for rights if he acquires them:

(a) In return for a binding commitment to extend credit or for the extension of immediately available credit whether or not drawn upon and whether or not a charge-back is provided for in the event of difficulties in collection; or

(b) As security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a preexisting claim; or

(c) By accepting delivery pursuant to a preexisting contract for purchase; or

(d) Generally, in return for any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract.

(45) "Warehouse receipt" means a receipt issued by a person engaged in the business of storing goods for hire.

(46) "Written" or "writing" includes printing, typewriting or any other intentional reduction to tangible form.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 78-222; s. 2, ch. 79-398.

Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 1-201, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 614.02, 673.01, 674.01, 674.07, 674.28, 674.29, 674.30, 678.54.

671.202 Prima facie evidence by third-party documents.—A document in due form purporting to be a bill of lading, policy or certificate of insurance, official weigher's or inspector's certificate, consular invoice, or any other document authorized or required by the contract to be issued by a third party shall be prima facie evidence of its own authenticity and genuineness and of the facts stated in the document by the third party.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-202, U.C.C.

671.203 Obligation of good faith.—Every contract or duty within this code imposes an obligation of good faith in its performance or enforcement.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-203, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.54, 614.02(11).

671.204 Time; reasonable time; "seasonably."—

(1) Whenever this code requires any action to be taken within a reasonable time, any time which is not manifestly unreasonable may be fixed by agreement.

(2) What is a reasonable time for taking any action depends on the nature, purpose and circumstances of such action.

(3) An action is taken "seasonably" when it is taken at or within the time agreed or if no time is agreed at or within a reasonable time.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-204, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.01.

671.205 Course of dealing and usage of trade.—

(1) A "course of dealing" is a sequence of previous conduct between the parties to a particular transaction which is fairly to be regarded as establishing a common basis of understanding for interpreting their expressions and other conduct.

(2) A "usage of trade" is any practice or method of dealing having such regularity of observance in a place, vocation or trade as to justify an expectation that it will be observed with respect to the transaction in question. The existence and scope of such a usage are to be proved as facts. If it is established that such a usage is embodied in a written trade code or similar writing the interpretation of the writing is for the court.

(3) A course of dealing between parties and any usage of trade in the vocation or trade in which they are engaged or of which they are or should be aware give particular meaning to and supplement or qualify terms of an agreement.

(4) The express terms of an agreement and an applicable course of dealing or usage of trade shall be construed wherever reasonable as consistent with each other; but when such construction is unreasonable express terms control both course of dealing and usage of trade and course of dealing controls usage of trade.

(5) An applicable usage of trade in the place where any part of performance is to occur shall be used in interpreting the agreement as to that part of the performance.

(6) Evidence of a relevant usage of trade offered by one party is not admissible unless and until he has given the other party such notice as the court finds sufficient to prevent unfair surprise to the latter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-205, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.01.

671.206 Statute of frauds for kinds of personal property not otherwise covered.—

(1) Except in the cases described in subsection (2) of this section a contract for the sale of personal property is not enforceable by way of action or defense beyond $5,000 in amount or value of remedy unless there is some writing which indicates that a contract for sale has been made between the parties at a defined or stated price, reasonably identifies the subject matter, and is signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent.

(2) Subsection (1) of this section does not apply to contracts for the sale of goods (s. 672.201) nor of securities (s. 678.319) nor to security agreements (s. 679.203).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-206, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 725.02.

671.207 Performance or acceptance under reservation of rights.—A party who with explicit reservation of rights performs or promises performance or assents to performance in a manner demanded or offered by the other party does not thereby prejudice the rights reserved. Such words as "without prejudice," "under protest" or the like are sufficient.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-207, U.C.C.

671.208 Option to accelerate at will.—A term providing that one party or his successor in interest may accelerate payment or performance or require collateral or additional collateral "at will" or "when he deems himself insecure" or in words of similar import shall be construed to mean that he shall have power to do so only if he in good faith believes that the prospect of payment or performance is impaired. The burden of establishing lack of good faith is on the party against whom the power has been exercised.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 1-208, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.03(3).

CHAPTER 672

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE: SALES

ARTICLE 2

Note.—Pursuant to s. 69, ch. 69-353, the editors have altered the numbers of all sections making up this chapter by deleting the digit and hyphen immediately following the decimal point. The purpose is to conform the numbering of the Code sections with the decimal numbering system used in other chapters of the Florida Statutes. The visual relationship between Florida Statutes section numbers and Code section number is not destroyed by this alteration; the digit preceding the decimal point coincides with the Code article number, and the digits following the decimal point coincide with the Code section numbers.

672.101 Short title.—Chapter 672 shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform Commercial Code—Sales."

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-101, U.C.C.

672.102 Scope; certain security and other transactions excluded from this chapter.—Unless the context otherwise requires, this chapter applies to transactions in goods; it does not apply to any transaction which although in the form of an unconditional contract to sell or present sale is intended to operate only as a security transaction nor does this chapter impair or repeal any statute regulating sales to consumers, farmers or other specified classes of buyers.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-102, U.C.C.

672.103 Definitions and index of definitions.—

(1) In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Buyer" means a person who buys or contracts to buy goods.

(b) "Good faith" in the case of a merchant means honesty in fact and the observance of reasonable commercial standards of fair dealing in the trade.

(c) "Receipt" of goods means taking physical possession of them.

(d) "Seller" means a person who sells or contracts to sell goods.

(2) Other definitions applying to this chapter, or to specified parts thereof, and the sections in which they appear are:

"Acceptance," s. 672.606.

"Banker's credit," s. 672.325.

(3) The following definitions in other chapters apply to this chapter:

"Check," s. 673.104.

"Consignee," s. 677.102.

"Consignor," s. 677.102.

"Consumer goods," s. 679.109.

"Dishonor," s. 673.507.

"Draft," s. 673.104.

(4) In addition chapter 671 contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-103, U.C.C.

672.104 Definitions: "merchant"; "between merchants"; "financing agency."—

(1) "Merchant" means a person who deals in goods of the kind or otherwise by his occupation holds himself out as having knowledge or skill peculiar to the practices or goods involved in the transaction or to whom such knowledge or skill may be attributed by his employment of an agent or broker or other intermediary who by his occupation holds himself out as having such knowledge or skill.

(2) "Financing agency" means a bank, finance company or other person who in the ordinary course of business makes advances against goods or documents of title or who by arrangement with either the seller or the buyer intervenes in ordinary course to make or collect payment due or claimed under the contract for sale, as by purchasing or paying the seller's draft or making advances against it or by merely taking it for collection whether or not documents of title accompany the draft. "Financing agency" includes also a bank or other person who similarly intervenes between persons who are in the position of seller and buyer in respect to the goods (s. 672.707).

(3) "Between merchants" means in any transaction with respect to which both parties are chargeable with the knowledge or skill of merchants.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-104, U.C.C.

672.105 Definitions: transferability; "goods"; "future" goods; "lot"; "commercial unit."—

(1) "Goods" means all things (including specially manufactured goods) which are movable at the time of identification to the contract for sale other than the money in which the price is to be paid, investment securities (chapter 678) and things in action. "Goods" also includes the unborn young of animals and growing crops and other identified things attached to realty as described in the section on goods to be severed from realty (s. 672.107).

(2) Goods must be both existing and identified before any interest in them can pass. Goods which are not both existing and identified are "future" goods. A purported present sale of future goods or of any interest therein operates as a contract to sell.

(3) There may be a sale of a part interest in existing identified goods.

(4) An undivided share in an identified bulk of fungible goods is sufficiently identified to be sold although the quantity of the bulk is not determined. Any agreed proportion of such a bulk or any quantity thereof agreed upon by number, weight or other measure may to the extent of the seller's interest in the bulk be sold to the buyer who then becomes an owner in common.

(5) "Lot" means a parcel or a single article which is the subject matter of a separate sale or delivery, whether or not it is sufficient to perform the contract.

(6) "Commercial unit" means such a unit of goods as by commercial usage is a single whole for purposes of sale and division of which materially impairs its character or value on the market or in use. A commercial unit may be a single article (as a machine) or a set of articles (as a suite of furniture or an assortment of sizes) or a quantity (as a bale, gross, or carload) or any other unit treated in use or in the relevant market as a single whole.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-105, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.54.

672.106 Definitions: "contract"; "agreement"; "contract for sale"; "sale"; "present sale"; "conforming" to contract; "termination"; "cancellation."—

(1) In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires "contract" and "agreement" are limited to those relating to the present or future sale of goods. "Contract for sale" includes both a present sale of goods and a contract to sell goods at a future time. A "sale" consists in the passing of title from the seller to the buyer for a price (s. 672.401). A "present sale" means a sale which is accomplished by the making of the contract.

(2) Goods or conduct including any part of a performance are "conforming" or conform to the contract when they are in accordance with the obligations under the contract.

(3) "Termination" occurs when either party pursuant to a power created by agreement or law puts an end to the contract otherwise than for its breach. On termination, all obligations which are still executory on both sides are discharged but any right based on prior breach or performance survives.

(4) "Cancellation" occurs when either party puts an end to the contract for breach by the other and its effect is the same as that of "termination" except that the canceling party also retains any remedy for breach of the whole contract or any unperformed balance.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-106, U.C.C.

672.107 Goods to be severed from realty; recording.—

<sup>1</sup>(1) A contract for the sale of minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or a structure or its materials to be removed from realty is a contract for the sale of goods within this chapter if they are to be severed by the seller, but until severance a purported present sale thereof which is not effective as a transfer of an interest in land is effective only as a contract to sell.

<sup>1</sup>(2) A contract for the sale apart from the land of growing crops or other things attached to realty and capable of severance without material harm thereto but not described in subsection (1) or of timber to be cut is a contract for the sale of goods within this chapter whether the subject matter is to be severed by the buyer or by the seller even though it forms part of the realty at the time of contracting, and the parties can by identification effect a present sale before severance.

(3) The provisions of this section are subject to any third-party rights provided by the law relating to realty records, and the contract for sale may be executed and recorded as a document transferring an interest in land and shall then constitute notice to third parties of the buyer's rights under the contract for sale.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 3, ch. 79-398.

Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 2-107; U.C.C.

PART II

FORM, FORMATION, AND READJUSTMENT OF CONTRACT

- 672.201 Formal requirements; statute of frauds.
- 672.202 Final written expression; parol or extrinsic evidence.
- 672.203 Seals inoperative.
- 672.204 Formation in general.
- 672.205 Firm offers.
- 672.206 Offer and acceptance in formation of contract.
- 672.207 Additional terms in acceptance or confirmation.
- 672.208 Course of performance or practical construction.
- 672.209 Modification, rescission and waiver.
- 672.210 Delegation of performance; assignment of rights.

672.201 Formal requirements; statute of frauds.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this section a contract for the sale of goods for the price of $500 or more is not enforceable by way of action or defense unless there is some writing sufficient to indicate that a contract for sale has been made between the parties and signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent or broker. A writing is not insufficient because it omits or incorrectly states a term agreed upon but the contract is not enforceable under this paragraph beyond the quantity of goods shown in such writing.

(2) Between merchants if within a reasonable time a writing in confirmation of the contract and sufficient against the sender is received and the party receiving it has reason to know its contents, it satisfies the requirements of subsection (1) against such party unless written notice of objection to its contents is given within 10 days after it is received.

(3) A contract which does not satisfy the requirements of subsection (1) but which is valid in other respects is enforceable:

(a) If the goods are to be specially manufactured for the buyer and are not suitable for sale to others in the ordinary course of the seller's business and the seller, before notice of repudiation is received and under circumstances which reasonably indicate that the goods are for the buyer, has made either a substantial beginning of their manufacture or commitments for their procurement; or

(b) If the party against whom enforcement is sought admits in his pleading, testimony or otherwise in court that a contract for sale was made, but the contract is not enforceable under this provision beyond the quantity of goods admitted; or

(c) With respect to goods for which payment has been made and accepted or which have been received and accepted (s. 672.606).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-201, U.C.C.

672.202 Final written expression; parol or extrinsic evidence.—Terms with respect to which the confirmatory memoranda of the parties agree or which are otherwise set forth in a writing intended by the parties as a final expression of their agreement with respect to such terms as are included therein may not be contradicted by evidence of any prior agreement or of a contemporaneous oral agreement but may be explained or supplemented:

(1) By course of dealing or usage of trade (s. 671.205) or by course of performance (s. 672.208); and

(2) By evidence of consistent additional terms unless the court finds the writing to have been intended also as a complete and exclusive statement of the terms of the agreement.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-202, U.C.C.

672.203 Seals inoperative.—The affixing of a seal to a writing evidencing a contract for sale or an offer to buy or sell goods does not constitute the writing a sealed instrument and the law with respect to sealed instruments does not apply to such a contract or offer.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-203, U.C.C.

672.204 Formation in general.—

(1) A contract for sale of goods may be made in any manner sufficient to show agreement, including conduct by both parties which recognizes the existence of such a contract.

(2) An agreement sufficient to constitute a contract for sale may be found even though the moment of its making is undetermined.

(3) Even though one or more terms are left open a contract for sale does not fail for indefiniteness if the parties have intended to make a contract and there is a reasonably certain basis for giving an appropriate remedy.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-204, U.C.C.

672.205 Firm offers.—An offer by a merchant to buy or sell goods in a signed writing which by its terms gives assurance that it will be held open is not revocable, for lack of consideration, during the time stated or if no time is stated for a reasonable time, but in no event may such period of irrevocability exceed 3 months; but any such term of assurance on a form supplied by the offeree must be separately signed by the offeror.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-205, U.C.C.

672.206 Offer and acceptance in formation of contract.—

(1) Unless otherwise unambiguously indicated by the language or circumstances:

(a) An offer to make a contract shall be construed as inviting acceptance in any manner and by any medium reasonable in the circumstances;

(b) An order or other offer to buy goods for prompt or current shipment shall be construed as inviting acceptance either by a prompt promise to ship or by the prompt or current shipment of conforming or nonconforming goods, but such a shipment of nonconforming goods does not constitute an acceptance if the seller seasonably notifies the buyer that the shipment is offered only as an accommodation to the buyer.

(2) Where the beginning of a requested performance is a reasonable mode of acceptance an offeror who is not notified of acceptance within a reasonable time may treat the offer as having lapsed before acceptance.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-206, U.C.C.

672.207 Additional terms in acceptance or confirmation.—

(1) A definite and seasonable expression of acceptance or a written confirmation which is sent within a reasonable time operates as an acceptance even though it states terms additional to or different from those offered or agreed upon, unless acceptance is expressly made conditional on assent to the additional or different terms.

(2) The additional terms are to be construed as proposals for addition to the contract. Between merchants such terms become part of the contract unless:

(a) The offer expressly limits acceptance to the terms of the offer;

(b) They materially alter it; or

(c) Notification of objection to them has already been given or is given within a reasonable time after notice of them is received.

(3) Conduct by both parties which recognizes the existence of a contract is sufficient to establish a contract for sale although the writings of the parties do not otherwise establish a contract. In such case the terms of the particular contract consist of those terms on which the writings of the parties agree, together with any supplementary terms incorporated under any other provisions of this code.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-207, U.C.C.

672.208 Course of performance or practical construction.—

(1) Where the contract for sale involves repeated occasions for performance by either party with knowledge of the nature of the performance and opportunity for objection to it by the other, any course of performance accepted or acquiesced in without objection shall be relevant to determine the meaning of the agreement.

(2) The express terms of the agreement and any such course of performance, as well as any course of dealing and usage of trade, shall be construed whenever reasonable as consistent with each other; but when such construction is unreasonable, express terms shall control course of performance and course of performance shall control both course of dealing and usage of trade (s. 671.205).

(3) Subject to the provisions of the next section on modification and waiver, such course of performance shall be relevant to show a waiver or modification of any term inconsistent with such course of performance.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-208, U.C.C.

672.209 Modification, rescission and waiver.—

(1) An agreement modifying a contract within this chapter needs no consideration to be binding.

(2) A signed agreement which excludes modification or rescission except by a signed writing cannot be otherwise modified or rescinded, but except as between merchants such a requirement on a form supplied by the merchant must be separately signed by the other party.

(3) The requirements of the statute of frauds section of this chapter (s. 672.201) must be satisfied if the contract as modified is within its provisions.

(4) Although an attempt at modification or rescission does not satisfy the requirements of subsection (2) or (3) it can operate as a waiver.

(5) A party who has made a waiver affecting an executory portion of the contract may retract the waiver by reasonable notification received by the other party that strict performance will be required of any term waived, unless the retraction would be unjust in view of a material change of position in reliance on the waiver.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-209, U.C.C.

672.210 Delegation of performance; assignment of rights.—

(1) A party may perform his duty through a delegate unless otherwise agreed or unless the other party has a substantial interest in having his original promisor perform or control the acts required by the contract. No delegation of performance relieves the party delegating of any duty to perform or any liability for breach.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed all rights of either seller or buyer can be assigned except where the assignment would materially change the duty of the other party, or increase materially the burden or risk imposed on him by his contract, or impair materially his chance of obtaining return performance. A right to damages for breach of the whole contract or a right arising out of the assignor's due performance of his entire obligation can be assigned despite agreement otherwise.

(3) Unless the circumstances indicate the contrary a prohibition of assignment of "the contract" is to be construed as barring only the delegation to the assignee of the assignor's performance.

(4) An assignment of "the contract" or of "all my rights under the contract" or an assignment in similar general terms is an assignment of rights and unless the language or the circumstances (as in an assignment for security) indicate the contrary, it is a delegation of performance of the duties of the assignor and its acceptance by the assignee constitutes a promise by him to perform those duties. This promise is enforceable by either the assignor or the other party to the original contract.

(5) The other party may treat any assignment which delegates performance as creating reasonable grounds for insecurity and may without prejudice to his rights against the assignor demand assurances from the assignee (s. 672.609).

- 672.325 "Letter of credit" term; "confirmed credit."
- 672.326 Sale on approval and sale or return; consignment sales and rights of creditors.

- 672.327 Special incidents of sale on approval and sale or return.
- 672.328 Sale by auction.

672.301 General obligations of parties.—The obligation of the seller is to transfer and deliver and that of the buyer is to accept and pay in accordance with the contract.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-301, U.C.C.

672.302 Unconscionable contract or clause.—

(1) If the court as a matter of law finds the contract or any clause of the contract to have been unconscionable at the time it was made the court may refuse to enforce the contract, or it may enforce the remainder of the contract without the unconscionable clause, or it may so limit the application of any unconscionable clause as to avoid any unconscionable result.

(2) When it is claimed or appears to the court that the contract or any clause thereof may be unconscionable the parties shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to present evidence as to its commercial setting, purpose and effect to aid the court in making the determination.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-302, U.C.C.

672.303 Allocation or division of risks.—Where this chapter allocates a risk or a burden as between the parties "unless otherwise agreed," the agreement may not only shift the allocation but may also divide the risk or burden.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-303, U.C.C.

672.304 Price payable in money, goods, realty, or otherwise.—

(1) The price can be made payable in money or otherwise. If it is payable in whole or in part in goods each party is a seller of the goods which he is to transfer.

(2) Even though all or part of the price is payable in an interest in realty the transfer of the goods and the seller's obligations with reference to them are subject to this chapter, but not the transfer of the interest in realty or the transferor's obligations in connection therewith.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-304, U.C.C.

672.305 Open price term.—

(1) The parties if they so intend can conclude a contract for sale even though the price is not settled. In such a case the price is a reasonable price at the time for delivery if:

- (a) Nothing is said as to price; or
- (b) The price is left to be agreed by the parties and they fail to agree; or
- (c) The price is to be fixed in terms of some agreed market or other standard as set or recorded by a third person or agency and it is not so set or recorded.

(2) A price to be fixed by the seller or by the buyer means a price for him to fix in good faith.

(3) When a price left to be fixed otherwise than by agreement of the parties fails to be fixed through fault of one party the other may at his option treat the contract as canceled or himself fix a reasonable price.

(4) Where, however, the parties intend not to be bound unless the price be fixed or agreed and it is not fixed or agreed there is no contract. In such a case the buyer must return any goods already received or if unable so to do must pay their reasonable value at the time of delivery and the seller must return any portion of the price paid on account.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-305, U.C.C.

672.306 Output, requirements and exclusive dealings.—

(1) A term which measures the quantity by the output of the seller or the requirements of the buyer means such actual output or requirements as may occur in good faith, except that no quantity unreasonably disproportionate to any stated estimate or in the absence of a stated estimate to any normal or otherwise comparable prior output or requirements may be tendered or demanded.

(2) A lawful agreement by either the seller or the buyer for exclusive dealing in the kind of goods concerned imposes unless otherwise agreed an obligation by the seller to use best efforts to supply the goods and by the buyer to use best efforts to promote their sale.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-306, U.C.C.

672.307 Delivery in single lot or several lots.—Unless otherwise agreed all goods called for by a contract for sale must be tendered in a single delivery and payment is due only on such tender but where the circumstances give either party the right to make or demand delivery in lots the price if it can be apportioned may be demanded for each lot.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-307, U.C.C.

672.308 Absence of specified place for delivery.—Unless otherwise agreed:

(1) The place for delivery of goods is the seller's place of business or if he has none his residence; but

(2) In a contract for sale of identified goods which to the knowledge of the parties at the time of contracting are in some other place, that place is the place for their delivery; and

(3) Documents of title may be delivered through customary banking channels.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-308, U.C.C.

672.309 Absence of specific time provisions; notice of termination.—

(1) The time for shipment or delivery or any other action under a contract if not provided in this chapter or agreed upon shall be a reasonable time.

(2) Where the contract provides for successive performances but is indefinite in duration it is valid for a reasonable time but unless otherwise agreed may be terminated at any time by either party.

(3) Termination of a contract by one party except on the happening of an agreed event requires that reasonable notification be received by the other party and an agreement dispensing with notification is invalid if its operation would be unconscionable.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-309, U.C.C.

672.310 Open time for payment or running of credit; authority to ship under reservation.—Unless otherwise agreed:

(1) Payment is due at the time and place at which the buyer is to receive the goods even though the place of shipment is the place of delivery; and

(2) If the seller is authorized to send the goods he may ship them under reservation, and may tender the documents of title, but the buyer may inspect the goods after their arrival before payment is due unless such inspection is inconsistent with the terms of the contract (s. 672.513); and

(3) If delivery is authorized and made by way of documents of title otherwise than by subsection (2) then payment is due at the time and place at which the buyer is to receive the documents regardless of where the goods are to be received; and

(4) Where the seller is required or authorized to ship the goods on credit the credit period runs from the time of shipment but post-dating the invoice or delaying its dispatch will correspondingly delay the starting of the credit period.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-310, U.C.C.

672.311 Options and cooperation respecting performance.—

(1) An agreement for sale which is otherwise sufficiently definite (s. 672.204(3)) to be a contract is not made invalid by the fact that it leaves particulars of performance to be specified by one of the parties. Any such specification must be made in good faith and within limits set by commercial reasonableness.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed specifications relating to assortment of the goods are at the buyer's option and except as otherwise provided in s. 672.319(1)(c) and (3) specifications or arrangements relating to shipment are at the seller's option.

(3) Where such specification would materially affect the other party's performance but is not seasonably made or where one party's cooperation is necessary to the agreed performance of the other but is not seasonably forthcoming, the other party in addition to all other remedies:

(a) Is excused for any resulting delay in his own performance; and

(b) May also either proceed to perform in any reasonable manner or after the time for a material part of his own performance treat the failure to specify or to cooperate as a breach by failure to deliver or accept the goods.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-311, U.C.C.

672.312 Warranty of title and against infringement; buyer's obligation against infringement.—

(1) Subject to subsection (2) there is in a contract for sale a warranty by the seller that:

(a) The title conveyed shall be good, and its transfer rightful; and

(b) The goods shall be delivered free from any security interest or other lien or encumbrance of which the buyer at the time of contracting has no knowledge.

(2) A warranty under subsection (1) will be excluded or modified only by specific language or by circumstances which give the buyer reason to know that the person selling does not claim title in himself or that he is purporting to sell only such right or title as he or a third person may have.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed a seller who is a merchant regularly dealing in goods of the kind warrants that the goods shall be delivered free of the rightful claim of any third person by way of infringement or the like but a buyer who furnishes specifications to the seller must hold the seller harmless against any such claim which arises out of compliance with the specifications.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-312, U.C.C.

672.313 Express warranties by affirmation, promise, description, sample.—

(1) Express warranties by the seller are created as follows:

(a) Any affirmation of fact or promise made by the seller to the buyer which relates to the goods and becomes part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the goods shall conform to the affirmation or promise.

(b) Any description of the goods which is made part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the goods shall conform to the description.

(c) Any sample or model which is made part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the whole of the goods shall conform to the sample or model.

(2) It is not necessary to the creation of an express warranty that the seller use formal words such as "warrant" or "guarantee" or that he have a specific intention to make a warranty, but an affirmation merely of the value of the goods or a statement purporting to be merely the seller's opinion or commendation of the goods does not create a warranty.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-313, U.C.C.

672.314 Implied warranty; merchantability; usage of trade.—

(1) Unless excluded or modified (s. 672.316), a warranty that the goods shall be merchantable is implied in a contract for their sale if the seller is a merchant with respect to goods of that kind. Under this section the serving for value of food or drink to be consumed either on the premises or elsewhere is a sale.

(2) Goods to be merchantable must be at least such as:

(a) Pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; and

(b) In the case of fungible goods, are of fair average quality within the description; and

(c) Are fit for the ordinary purposes for which such goods are used; and

(d) Run, within the variations permitted by the agreement, of even kind, quality and quantity within each unit and among all units involved; and

(e) Are adequately contained, packaged, and labeled as the agreement may require; and

(f) Conform to the promises or affirmations of fact made on the container or label if any.

(3) Unless excluded or modified (s. 672.316) other implied warranties may arise from course of dealing or usage of trade.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-314, U.C.C.

672.315 Implied warranty; fitness for particular purpose.—

Where the seller at the time of contracting has reason to know any particular purpose for which the goods are required and that the buyer is relying on the seller's skill or judgment to select or furnish suitable goods, there is unless excluded or modified under the next section an implied warranty that the goods shall be fit for such purpose.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-315, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 578.13.

672.316 Exclusion or modification of warranties.—

(1) Words or conduct relevant to the creation of an express warranty and words or conduct tending to negate or limit warranty shall be construed wherever reasonable as consistent with each other; but subject to the provisions of this chapter on parol or extrinsic evidence (s. 672.202) negation or limitation is inoperative to the extent that such construction is unreasonable.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), to exclude or modify the implied warranty of merchantability or any part of it the language must mention merchantability and in case of a writing must be conspicuous, and to exclude or modify any implied warranty of fitness the exclusion must be by a writing and conspicuous. Language to exclude all implied warranties of fitness is sufficient if it states, for example, that "There are no warranties which extend beyond the description on the face hereof."

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2):

(a) Unless the circumstances indicate otherwise, all implied warranties are excluded by expressions like "as is," "with all faults" or other language which in common understanding calls the buyer's attention to the exclusion of warranties and makes plain that there is no implied warranty; and

(b) When the buyer before entering into the contract has examined the goods or the sample or model as fully as he desired or has refused to examine the goods there is no implied warranty with regard to defects which an examination ought in the circumstances to have revealed to him; and

(c) An implied warranty can also be excluded or modified by course of dealing or course of performance or usage of trade.

(d) In a transaction involving the sale of cattle or hogs, there shall be no implied warranty that the cattle or hogs are free from sickness or disease. However, no exemption shall apply in cases where the seller knowingly sells cattle or hogs that are diseased.

(4) Remedies for breach of warranty can be limited in accordance with the provisions of this chapter on liquidation or limitation of damages and on contractual modification of remedy (ss. 672.718 and 672.719).

(5) The procurement, processing, storage, distribution, or use of whole blood, plasma, blood products, and blood derivatives for the purpose of injecting or transfusing the same, or any of them, into the human body for any purpose whatsoever is declared to be the rendering of a service by any person participating therein and does not constitute a sale, whether or not any consideration is given therefor, and the implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose shall not be applicable as to a defect that cannot be detected or removed by a reasonable use of scientific procedures or techniques.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 69-157; s. 1, ch. 79-141.

Note.—s. 2-316, U.C.C.

672.317 Cumulation and conflict of warranties express or implied.—Warranties whether express or implied shall be construed as consistent with each other and as cumulative, but if such construction is unreasonable the intention of the parties shall determine which warranty is dominant. In ascertaining that intention the following rules apply:

(1) Exact or technical specifications displace an inconsistent sample or model or general language of description.

(2) A sample from an existing bulk displaces inconsistent general language of description.

(3) Express warranties displace inconsistent implied warranties other than an implied warranty of fitness for a particular purpose.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-317, U.C.C.

672.318 Third-party beneficiaries of warranties express or implied.—A seller's warranty whether express or implied extends to any natural person who is in the family or household of his buyer, who is a guest in his home or who is an employee, servant or agent of his buyer if it is reasonable to expect that such person may use, consume or be affected by the goods and who is injured in person by breach of the warranty. A seller may not exclude nor limit the operation of this section.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 67-574.

Note.—s. 2-318, U.C.C.

672.319 "F.O.B." and "F.A.S." terms.—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed the term "F.O.B." (which means "free on board") at a named place, even though used only in connection with the stated price, is a delivery term under which:

(a) When the term is "F.O.B. the place of shipment," the seller must at that place ship the goods in the manner provided in this chapter (s. 672.504) and bear the expense and risk of putting them into the possession of the carrier; or

(b) When the term is "F.O.B. the place of destination," the seller must at his own expense and risk transport the goods to that place and there tender delivery of them in the manner provided in this chapter (s. 672.503);

(c) When under either (a) or (b) the term is also "F.O.B. vessel, car or other vehicle," the seller must in addition at his own expense and risk load the goods on board. If the term is "F.O.B. vessel" the buyer must name the vessel and in an appropriate case the seller must comply with the provisions of this chapter on the form of bill of lading (s. 672.323).

(2) Unless otherwise agreed the term "F.A.S. vessel" (which means "free alongside") at a named port, even though used only in connection with the stated price, is a delivery term under which the seller must:

(a) At his own expense and risk deliver the goods alongside the vessel in the manner usual in that port or on a dock designated and provided by the buyer; and

(b) Obtain and tender a receipt for the goods in exchange for which the carrier is under a duty to issue a bill of lading.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed in any case falling within subsection (1)(a) or (c) or subsection (2) the buyer must seasonably give any needed instructions for making delivery, including when the term is "F.A.S." or "F.O.B. the loading berth of the vessel" and in an appropriate case its name and sailing date. The seller may treat the failure of needed instructions as a failure of cooperation under this chapter (s. 672.311). He may also at his option move the goods in any reasonable manner preparatory to delivery or shipment.

(4) Under the term "F.O.B. vessel" or "F.A.S." unless otherwise agreed the buyer must make payment against tender of the required documents and the seller may not tender nor the buyer demand delivery of the goods in substitution for the documents.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-319, U.C.C.

672.320 C.I.F. and C.&F. terms.—

(1) The term "C.I.F." means that the price includes in a lump sum the cost of the goods and the insurance and freight to the named destination. The term "C. & F." or "C.F." means that the price so includes cost and freight to the named destination.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed and even though used only in connection with the stated price and destination, the term C.I.F. destination or its equivalent requires the seller at his own expense and risk to:

(a) Put the goods into the possession of a carrier at the port for shipment and obtain a negotiable bill or bills of lading covering the entire transportation to the named destination; and

(b) Load the goods and obtain a receipt from the carrier (which may be contained in the bill of lading) showing that the freight has been paid or provided for; and

(c) Obtain a policy or certificate of insurance, including any war risk insurance, of a kind and on terms then current at the port of shipment in the usual amount, in the currency of the contract, shown to cover the same goods covered by the bill of lading and providing for payment of loss to the order of the buyer or for the account of whom it may concern; but the seller may add to the price the amount of the premium for any such war risk insurance; and

(d) Prepare an invoice of the goods and procure any other documents required to effect shipment or to comply with the contract; and

(e) Forward and tender with commercial promptness all the documents in due form and with any indorsement necessary to perfect the buyer's rights.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed the term C. & F. or its equivalent has the same effect and imposes upon the seller the same obligations and risks as a C.I.F. term except the obligation as to insurance.

(4) Under the term C.I.F. or C. & F. unless otherwise agreed the buyer must make payment against tender of the required documents and the seller may not tender nor the buyer demand delivery of the goods in substitution for the documents.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-320, U.C.C.

672.321 C.I.F. or C. & F.; "net landed weights"; "payment on arrival"; warranty of condition on arrival.—Under a contract containing a term C.I.F. or C. & F.:

(1) Where the price is based on or is to be adjusted according to "net landed weights," "delivered weights," "out turn" quantity or quality or the like, unless otherwise agreed the seller must reasonably estimate the price. The payment due on tender of the documents called for by the contract is the amount so estimated, but after final adjustment of the price a settlement must be made with commercial promptness.

(2) An agreement described in subsection (1) or any warranty of quality or condition of the goods on arrival places upon the seller the risk of ordinary deterioration, shrinkage and the like in transportation but has no effect on the place or time of identification to the contract for sale or delivery or on the passing of the risk of loss.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed where the contract provides for payment on or after arrival of the goods the seller must before payment allow such preliminary inspection as is feasible; but if the goods are lost delivery of the documents and payment are due when the goods should have arrived.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-321, U.C.C.

672.322 Delivery "ex-ship."—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed a term for delivery of goods "ex-ship" (which means from the carrying vessel) or in equivalent language is not restricted to a particular ship and requires delivery from a ship which has reached a place at the named port of destination where goods of the kind are usually discharged.

(2) Under such a term unless otherwise agreed:

(a) The seller must discharge all liens arising out of the carriage and furnish the buyer with a direction which puts the carrier under a duty to deliver the goods; and

(b) The risk of loss does not pass to the buyer until the goods leave the ship's tackle or are otherwise properly unloaded.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-322, U.C.C.

672.323 Form of bill of lading required in overseas shipment; "overseas."—

(1) Where the contract contemplates overseas shipment and contains a term "C.I.F." or "C. & F. or F.O.B. vessel," the seller unless otherwise agreed must obtain a negotiable bill of lading stating that the goods have been loaded on board or, in the case of a term "C.I.F." or "C. & F.," received for shipment.

(2) Where in a case within subsection (1) a bill of lading has been issued in a set of parts, unless otherwise agreed if the documents are not to be sent from abroad the buyer may demand tender of the full set; otherwise only one part of the bill of lading need be tendered. Even if the agreement expressly requires a full set:

(a) Due tender of a single part is acceptable within the provisions of this chapter on cure of improper delivery (s. 672.508(1)); and

(b) Even though the full set is demanded, if the documents are sent from abroad the person tendering an incomplete set may nevertheless require payment upon furnishing an indemnity which the buyer in good faith deems adequate.

(3) A shipment by water or by air or a contract contemplating such shipment is "overseas" insofar as by usage of trade or agreement it is subject to the commercial, financing or shipping practices characteristic of international deep-water commerce.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-323, U.C.C.

672.324 "No arrival, no sale" term.—Under a term "no arrival, no sale" or terms of like meaning, unless otherwise agreed:

(1) The seller must properly ship conforming goods and if they arrive by any means he must tender them on arrival but he assumes no obligation that the goods will arrive unless he has caused the nonarrival; and

(2) Where without fault of the seller the goods are in part lost or have so deteriorated as no longer to conform to the contract or arrive after the contract time, the buyer may proceed as if there had been casualty to identified goods (s. 672.613).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-324, U.C.C.

672.325 "Letter of credit" term; "confirmed credit."—

(1) Failure of the buyer seasonably to furnish an agreed letter of credit is a breach of the contract for sale.

(2) The delivery to seller of a proper letter of credit suspends the buyer's obligation to pay. If the letter of credit is dishonored, the seller may on seasonable notification to the buyer require payment directly from him.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed the term "letter of credit" or "banker's credit" in a contract for sale means an irrevocable credit issued by a financing agency of good repute and, where the shipment is overseas, of good international repute. The term "confirmed credit" means that the credit must also carry the direct obligation of such an agency which does business in the seller's financial market.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-325, U.C.C.

672.326 Sale on approval and sale or return; consignment sales and rights of creditors.—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed, if delivered goods may be returned by the buyer even though they conform to the contract, the transaction is:

(a) A "sale on approval" if the goods are delivered primarily for use, and

(b) A "sale or return" if the goods are delivered primarily for resale.

(2) Except as provided in subsection (3), goods held on approval are not subject to the claims of the buyer's creditors until acceptance; goods held on sale or return are subject to such claims while in the buyer's possession.

(3) Where goods are delivered to a person for sale and such person maintains a place of business at which he deals in goods of the kind involved, under a name other than the name of the person making delivery, then with respect to claims of creditors of the person conducting the business the goods are deemed to be on sale or return. The provisions of this subsection are applicable even though an agreement purports to reserve title to the person making delivery until payment or resale or uses such words as "on consignment" or "on memorandum." However, this subsection is not applicable if the person making delivery:

(a) Complies with an applicable law providing for a consignor's interest or the like to be evidenced by a sign, or

(b) Establishes that the person conducting the business is generally known by his creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others, or

(c) Complies with the filing provisions of the chapter on secured transactions (chapter 679).

(4) Any "or return" term of a contract for sale is to be treated as a separate contract for sale within the statute of frauds section of this chapter (s. 672.201) and as contradicting the sale aspect of the contract within the provisions of this chapter on parol or extrinsic evidence (s. 672.202).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-326, U.C.C.

672.327 Special incidents of sale on approval and sale or return.—

(1) Under a sale on approval unless otherwise agreed:

(a) Although the goods are identified to the contract the risk of loss and the title do not pass to the buyer until acceptance; and

(b) Use of the goods consistent with the purpose of trial is not acceptance but failure seasonably to notify the seller of election to return the goods is acceptance, and if the goods conform to the contract acceptance of any part is acceptance of the whole; and

(c) After due notification of election to return, the return is at the seller's risk and expense but a merchant buyer must follow any reasonable instructions.

(2) Under a sale or return unless otherwise agreed:

(a) The option to return extends to the whole or any commercial unit of the goods while in substantially their original condition, but must be exercised seasonably; and

(b) The return is at the buyer's risk and expense.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-327, U.C.C.

672.328 Sale by auction.—

(1) In a sale by auction if goods are put up in lots each lot is the subject of a separate sale.

(2) A sale by auction is complete when the auctioneer so announces by the fall of the hammer or in other customary manner. Where a bid is made while the hammer is falling in acceptance of a prior bid the auctioneer may in his discretion reopen the bidding or declare the goods sold under the bid on which the hammer was falling.

(3) Such a sale is with reserve unless the goods are in explicit terms put up without reserve. In an auction with reserve the auctioneer may withdraw the goods at any time until he announces completion of the sale. In an auction without reserve, after the auctioneer calls for bids on an article or lot, that article or lot cannot be withdrawn unless no bid is made within a reasonable time. In either case a bidder may retract his bid until the auctioneer's announcement of completion of the sale, but a bidder's retraction does not revive any previous bid.

(4) If the auctioneer knowingly receives a bid on the seller's behalf or the seller makes or procures such a bid, and notice has not been given that liberty for such bidding is reserved, the buyer may at his option avoid the sale or take the goods at the price of the last good faith bid prior to the completion of the sale. This subsection shall not apply to any bid at a forced sale.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

PART IV

TITLE, CREDITORS, AND GOOD FAITH PURCHASERS

672.401 Passing of title; reservation for security; limited application of this section.

672.402 Rights of seller's creditors against sold goods.

672.403 Power to transfer; good faith purchase of goods; "entrusting."

672.401 Passing of title; reservation for security; limited application of this section.—Each provision of this chapter with regard to the rights, obligations and remedies of the seller, the buyer, purchasers or other third parties applies irrespective of title to the goods except where the provision refers to such title. Insofar as situations are not covered by the other provisions of this chapter and matters concerning title become material the following rules apply:

(1) Title to goods cannot pass under a contract for sale prior to their identification to the contract (s. 672.501), and unless otherwise explicitly agreed the buyer acquires by their identification a special property as limited by this code. Any retention or reservation by the seller of the title (property) in goods shipped or delivered to the buyer is limited in effect to a reservation of a security interest. Subject to these provisions and to the provisions of the chapter on secured transactions (chapter 679), title to goods passes from the seller to the buyer in any manner and on any conditions explicitly agreed on by the parties.

(2) Unless otherwise explicitly agreed title passes to the buyer at the time and place at which the seller completes his performance with reference to the physical delivery of the goods, despite any reservation of a security interest and even though a document of title is to be delivered at a different time or place; and in particular and despite any reservation of a security interest by the bill of lading:

(a) If the contract requires or authorizes the seller to send the goods to the buyer but does not require him to deliver them at destination, title passes to the buyer at the time and place of shipment; but

(b) If the contract requires delivery at destination, title passes on tender there.

(3) Unless otherwise explicitly agreed where delivery is to be made without moving the goods:

(a) If the seller is to deliver a document of title, title passes at the time when and the place where he delivers such documents; or

(b) If the goods are at the time of contracting already identified and no documents are to be delivered, title passes at the time and place of contracting.

(4) A rejection or other refusal by the buyer to receive or retain the goods, whether or not justified, or a justified revocation of acceptance reverts title to the goods in the seller. Such reversion occurs by operation of law and is not a "sale."

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-401, U.C.C.

672.402 Rights of seller's creditors against sold goods.—

(1) Except as provided in subsections (2) and (3), rights of unsecured creditors of the seller with respect to goods which have been identified to a contract for sale are subject to the buyer's rights to recover the goods under this chapter (ss. 672.502 and 672.716).

(2) A creditor of the seller may treat a sale or an identification of goods to a contract for sale as void if as against him a retention of possession by the seller is fraudulent under any rule of law of the state where the goods are situated, except that retention of possession in good faith and current course of trade by a merchant-seller for a commercially reasonable time after a sale or identification is not fraudulent.

(3) Nothing in this chapter shall be deemed to impair the rights of creditors of the seller:

(a) Under the provisions of the chapter on secured transactions (chapter 679); or

(b) Where identification to the contract or delivery is made not in current course of trade but in satisfaction of or as security for a preexisting claim for money, security or the like and is made under circumstances which under any rule of law of the state where the goods are situated would apart from this chapter constitute the transaction a fraudulent transfer or voidable preference.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-402, U.C.C.

672.403 Power to transfer; good faith purchase of goods; "entrusting."—

(1) A purchaser of goods acquires all title which his transferor had or had power to transfer except that a purchaser of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest purchased. A person with voidable title has power to transfer a good title to a good faith purchaser for value. When goods have been delivered under a transaction of purchase the purchaser has such power even though:

(a) The transferor was deceived as to the identity of the purchaser, or

(b) The delivery was in exchange for a check which is later dishonored, or

(c) It was agreed that the transaction was to be a "cash sale," or

(d) The delivery was procured through fraud punishable as larcenous under the criminal law.

(2) Any entrusting of possession of goods to a merchant who deals in goods of that kind gives him power to transfer all rights of the entruster to a buyer in ordinary course of business.

(3) "Entrusting" includes any delivery and any acquiescence in retention of possession regardless of any condition expressed between the parties to the delivery or acquiescence and regardless of whether the procurement of the entrusting or the possessor's disposition of the goods have been such as to be larcenous under the criminal law.

(4) The rights of other purchasers of goods and of lien creditors are governed by the chapters on secured transactions (chapter 679), bulk transfers (chapter 676) and documents of title (chapter 677).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-403, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 673.09.

PART V

PERFORMANCE

672.501 Insurable interest in goods; manner of identification of goods.

672.502 Buyer's right to goods on seller's insolvency.

672.503 Manner of seller's tender of delivery.

672.504 Shipment by seller.

672.505 Seller's shipment under reservation.

672.506 Rights of financing agency.

672.507 Effect of seller's tender; delivery on condition.

672.508 Cure by seller of improper tender or delivery; replacement.

672.509 Risk of loss in the absence of breach.

672.510 Effect of breach on risk of loss.

672.511 Tender of payment by buyer; payment by check.

672.512 Payment by buyer before inspection.

672.513 Buyer's right to inspection of goods.

672.514 When documents deliverable on acceptance; when on payment.

672.515 Preserving evidence of goods in dispute.

672.501 Insurable interest in goods; manner of identification of goods.—

(1) The buyer obtains a special property and an insurable interest in goods by identification of existing goods as goods to which the contract refers even though the goods so identified are nonconforming and he has an option to return or reject them. Such identification can be made at any time and in any manner explicitly agreed to by the parties. In the absence of explicit agreement identification occurs:

(a) When the contract is made if it is for the sale of goods already existing and identified;

(b) If the contract is for the sale of future goods other than those described in paragraph (c), when goods are shipped, marked or otherwise designated by the seller as goods to which the contract refers;

(c) When the crops are planted or otherwise become growing crops or the young are conceived if the contract is for the sale of unborn young to be born within 12 months after contracting or for the sale of crops to be harvested within 12 months or the next normal harvest season after contracting whichever is longer.

(2) The seller retains an insurable interest in goods so long as title to or any security interest in the goods remains in him and where the identification is by the seller alone he may until default or insolvency or notification to the buyer that the identification is final substitute other goods for those identified.

(3) Nothing in this section impairs any insurable interest recognized under any other statute or rule of law.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-501, U.C.C.

672.502 Buyer's right to goods on seller's insolvency.—

(1) Subject to subsection (2) and even though the goods have not been shipped a buyer who has paid a part or all of the price of goods in which he has a special property under the provisions of the immediately preceding section may on making and keeping good a tender of any unpaid portion of their price recover them from the seller if the seller becomes insolvent within ten days after receipt of the first installment on their price.

(2) If the identification creating his special property has been made by the buyer he acquires the right to recover the goods only if they conform to the contract for sale.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-502, U.C.C.

672.503 Manner of seller's tender of delivery.—

(1) Tender of delivery requires that the seller put and hold conforming goods at the buyer's disposition and give the buyer any notification reasonably necessary to enable him to take delivery. The manner, time and place for tender are determined by the agreement and this chapter, and in particular:

(a) Tender must be at a reasonable hour, and if it is of goods they must be kept available for the period reasonably necessary to enable the buyer to take possession; but

(b) Unless otherwise agreed the buyer must furnish facilities reasonably suited to the receipt of the goods.

(2) Where the case is within the next section respecting shipment tender requires that the seller comply with its provisions.

(3) Where the seller is required to deliver at a particular destination tender requires that he comply with subsection (1) and also in any appropriate case tender documents as described in subsections (4) and (5) of this section.

(4) Where goods are in the possession of a bailee and are to be delivered without being moved:

(a) Tender requires that the seller either tender a negotiable document of title covering such goods or procure acknowledgment by the bailee of the buyer's right to possession of the goods; but

(b) Tender to the buyer of a nonnegotiable document of title or of a written direction to the bailee to deliver is sufficient tender unless the buyer seasonably objects, and receipt by the bailee of notification of the buyer's rights fixes those rights as against the bailee and all third persons; but risk of loss of the goods and of any failure by the bailee to honor the nonnegotiable document of title or to obey the direction remains on the seller until the buyer has had a reasonable time to present the document or direction, and a refusal by the bailee to honor the document or to obey the direction defeats the tender.

(5) Where the contract requires the seller to deliver documents:

(a) He must tender all such documents in correct form, except as provided in this chapter with respect to bills of lading in a set (s. 672.323(2)); and

(b) Tender through customary banking channels is sufficient and dishonor of a draft accompanying the documents constitutes nonacceptance or rejection.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-503, U.C.C.

672.504 Shipment by seller.—Where the seller is required or authorized to send the goods to the buyer and the contract does not require him to deliver them at a particular destination, then unless otherwise agreed he must:

(1) Put the goods in the possession of such a carrier and make such a contract for their transportation as may be reasonable having regard to the nature of the goods and other circumstances of the case; and

(2) Obtain and promptly deliver or tender in due form any document necessary to enable the buyer to obtain possession of the goods or otherwise required by the agreement or by usage of trade; and

(3) Promptly notify the buyer of the shipment.

Failure to notify the buyer under subsection (3) or to make a proper contract under subsection (1) is a ground for rejection only if material delay or loss ensues.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-504, U.C.C.

672.505 Seller's shipment under reservation.—

(1) Where the seller has identified goods to the contract by or before shipment:

(a) His procurement of a negotiable bill of lading to his own order or otherwise reserves in him a security interest in the goods. His procurement of the bill to the order of a financing agency or of the buyer indicates in addition only the seller's expectation of transferring that interest to the person named.

(b) A nonnegotiable bill of lading to himself or his nominee reserves possession of the goods as security but except in a case of conditional delivery (s. 672.507(2)) a nonnegotiable bill of lading naming the buyer as consignee reserves no security interest even though the seller retains possession of the bill of lading.

(2) When shipment by the seller with reservation of a security interest is in violation of the contract for sale it constitutes an improper contract for transportation within the preceding section but impairs neither the rights given to the buyer by shipment and identification of the goods to the contract nor the seller's powers as a holder of a negotiable document.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-505, U.C.C.

672.506 Rights of financing agency.—

(1) A financing agency by paying or purchasing for value a draft which relates to a shipment of goods acquires to the extent of the payment or purchase and in addition to its own rights under the draft and any document of title securing it any rights of the shipper in the goods including the right to stop delivery and the shipper's right to have the draft honored by the buyer.

(2) The right to reimbursement of a financing agency which has in good faith honored or purchased the draft under commitment to or authority from the buyer is not impaired by subsequent discovery of defects with reference to any relevant document which was apparently regular on its face.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-506, U.C.C.

672.507 Effect of seller's tender; delivery on condition.—

(1) Tender of delivery is a condition to the buyer's duty to accept the goods and, unless otherwise agreed, to his duty to pay for them. Tender entitles the seller to acceptance of the goods and to payment according to the contract.

(2) Where payment is due and demanded on the delivery to the buyer of goods or documents of title, his right as against the seller to retain or dispose of them is conditional upon his making the payment due.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-507, U.C.C.

672.508 Cure by seller of improper tender or delivery; replacement.—

(1) Where any tender or delivery by the seller is rejected because nonconforming and the time for performance has not yet expired, the seller may seasonably notify the buyer of his intention to cure and may then within the contract time make a conforming delivery.

(2) Where the buyer rejects a nonconforming tender which the seller had reasonable grounds to believe would be acceptable with or without money allowance the seller may if he seasonably notifies the buyer have a further reasonable time to substitute a conforming tender.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-508, U.C.C.

672.509 Risk of loss in the absence of breach.—

(1) Where the contract requires or authorizes the seller to ship the goods by carrier:

(a) If it does not require him to deliver them at a particular destination, the risk of loss passes to the buyer when the goods are duly delivered to the carrier even though the shipment is under reservation (s. 672.505); but

(b) If it does require him to deliver them at a particular destination and the goods are there duly tendered while in the possession of the carrier, the risk of loss passes to the buyer when the goods are there duly so tendered as to enable the buyer to take delivery.

(2) Where the goods are held by a bailee to be delivered without being moved, the risk of loss passes to the buyer:

(a) On his receipt of a negotiable document of title covering the goods; or

(b) On acknowledgment by the bailee of the buyer's right to possession of the goods; or

(c) After his receipt of a nonnegotiable document of title or other written direction to deliver, as provided in s. 672.503(4)(b).

(3) In any case not within subsection (1) or (2), the risk of loss passes to the buyer on his receipt of the goods if the seller is a merchant; otherwise the risk passes to the buyer on tender of delivery.

(4) The provisions of this section are subject to contrary agreement of the parties and to the provisions of this chapter on sale on approval (s. 672.327) and on effect of breach on risk of loss (s. 672.510).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-509, U.C.C.

672.510 Effect of breach on risk of loss.—

(1) Where a tender or delivery of goods so fails to conform to the contract as to give a right of rejection the risk of their loss remains on the seller until cure or acceptance.

(2) Where the buyer rightfully revokes acceptance he may to the extent of any deficiency in his effective insurance coverage treat the risk of loss as having rested on the seller from the beginning.

(3) Where the buyer as to conforming goods already identified to the contract for sale repudiates or is otherwise in breach before risk of their loss has passed to him, the seller may to the extent of any deficiency in his effective insurance coverage treat the risk of loss as resting on the buyer for a commercially reasonable time.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-510, U.C.C.

672.511 Tender of payment by buyer; payment by check.—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed tender of payment is a condition to the seller's duty to tender and complete any delivery.

(2) Tender of payment is sufficient when made by any means or in any manner current in the ordinary course of business unless the seller demands payment in legal tender and gives any extension of time reasonably necessary to procure it.

(3) Subject to the provisions of this code on the effect of an instrument on an obligation (s. 673.802), payment by check is conditional and is defeated as between the parties by dishonor of the check on due presentment.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-511, U.C.C.

672.512 Payment by buyer before inspection.—

(1) Where the contract requires payment before inspection nonconformity of the goods does not excuse the buyer from so making payment unless:

(a) The nonconformity appears without inspection; or

(b) Despite tender of the required documents the circumstances would justify injunction against honor under the provisions of this code (s. 675.114).

(2) Payment pursuant to subsection (1) does not constitute an acceptance of goods or impair the buyer's right to inspect or any of his remedies.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-512, U.C.C.

672.513 Buyer's right to inspection of goods.—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed and subject to subsection (3), where goods are tendered or delivered or identified to the contract for sale, the buyer has a right before payment or acceptance to inspect them at any reasonable place and time and in any reasonable manner. When the seller is required or authorized to send the goods to the buyer, the inspection may be after their arrival.

(2) Expenses of inspection must be borne by the buyer but may be recovered from the seller if the goods do not conform and are rejected.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed and subject to the provisions of this chapter on C.I.F. contracts (s. 672.321(3)), the buyer is not entitled to inspect the goods before payment of the price when the contract provides:

(a) For delivery "C.O.D." or on other like terms; or

(b) For payment against documents of title, except where such payment is due only after the goods are to become available for inspection.

(4) A place or method of inspection fixed by the parties is presumed to be exclusive but unless otherwise expressly agreed it does not postpone identification or shift the place for delivery or for passing the risk of loss. If compliance becomes impossible, inspection shall be as provided in this section unless the place or method fixed was clearly intended as an indispensable condition failure of which avoids the contract.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-513, U.C.C.

672.514 When documents deliverable on acceptance; when on payment.—Unless otherwise agreed documents against which a draft is drawn are to be delivered to the drawee on acceptance of the draft if it is payable more than 3 days after presentment; otherwise, only on payment.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-514, U.C.C.

672.515 Preserving evidence of goods in dispute.—In furtherance of the adjustment of any claim or dispute:

(1) Either party on reasonable notification to the other and for the purpose of ascertaining the facts and preserving evidence has the right to inspect, test and sample the goods including such of them as may be in the possession or control of the other; and

(2) The parties may agree to a third-party inspection or survey to determine the conformity or condition of the goods and may agree that the findings shall be binding upon them in any subsequent litigation or adjustment.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-515, U.C.C.

BREACH, REPUDIATION, AND EXCUSE

- 672.601 Buyer's rights on improper delivery.
- 672.602 Manner and effect of rightful rejection.
- 672.603 Merchant buyer's duties as to rightfully rejected goods.
- 672.604 Buyer's options as to salvage of rightfully rejected goods.

- 672.606 What constitutes acceptance of goods.
- 672.607 Effect of acceptance; notice of breach; burden of establishing breach after acceptance; notice of claim or litigation to person answerable over.
- 672.608 Revocation of acceptance in whole or in part.
- 672.609 Right to adequate assurance of performance.
- 672.610 Anticipatory repudiation.
- 672.611 Retraction of anticipatory repudiation.
- 672.612 "Installment contract"; breach.
- 672.613 Casualty to identified goods.
- 672.614 Substituted performance.
- 672.615 Excuse by failure of presupposed conditions.
- 672.616 Procedure on notice claiming excuse.

672.601 Buyer's rights on improper delivery.
—Subject to the provisions of this chapter on breach in installment contracts (s. 672.612) and unless otherwise agreed under the sections on contractual limitations of remedy (ss. 672.718 and 672.719), if the goods or the tender of delivery fail in any respect to conform to the contract, the buyer may:

- (1) Reject the whole; or
- (2) Accept the whole; or
- (3) Accept any commercial unit or units and reject the rest.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-601, U.C.C.

672.602 Manner and effect of rightful rejection.—

(1) Rejection of goods must be within a reasonable time after their delivery or tender. It is ineffective unless the buyer seasonably notifies the seller.

(2) Subject to the provisions of the two following sections on rejected goods (ss. 672.603 and 672.604):

(a) After rejection any exercise of ownership by the buyer with respect to any commercial unit is wrongful as against the seller; and

(b) If the buyer has before rejection taken physical possession of goods in which he does not have a security interest under the provisions of this chapter (s. 672.711(3)), he is under a duty after rejection to hold them with reasonable care at the seller's disposition for a time sufficient to permit the seller to remove them; but

(c) The buyer has no further obligations with regard to goods rightfully rejected.

(3) The seller's rights with respect to goods wrongfully rejected are governed by the provisions of this chapter on seller's remedies in general (s. 672.703).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-602, U.C.C.

672.603 Merchant buyer's duties as to rightfully rejected goods.—

(1) Subject to any security interest in the buyer (s. 672.711(3)) when the seller has no agent or place of business at the market of rejection a merchant buyer is under a duty after rejection of goods in his possession or control to follow any reasonable instructions received from the seller with respect to the goods and in the absence of such instructions to make reasonable efforts to sell them for the seller's account if they are perishable or threaten to decline in value speedily. Instructions are not reasonable if on demand indemnity for expenses is not forthcoming.

(2) When the buyer sells goods under subsection (1), he is entitled to reimbursement from the seller or out of the proceeds for reasonable expenses of caring for and selling them, and if the expenses include no selling commission then to such commission as is usual in the trade or if there is none to a reasonable sum not exceeding 10 percent on the gross proceeds.

(3) In complying with this section the buyer is held only to good faith and good faith conduct hereunder is neither acceptance nor conversion nor the basis of an action for damages.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-603, U.C.C.

672.604 Buyer's options as to salvage of rightfully rejected goods.—Subject to the provisions of the immediately preceding section on perishables if the seller gives no instructions within a reasonable time after notification of rejection the buyer may store the rejected goods for the seller's account or reship them to him or resell them for the seller's account with reimbursement as provided in the preceding section. Such action is not acceptance or conversion.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-604, U.C.C.

672.605 Waiver of buyer's objections by failure to particularize.—

(1) The buyer's failure to state in connection with rejection a particular defect which is ascertainable by reasonable inspection precludes him from relying on the unstated defect to justify rejection or to establish breach:

(a) Where the seller could have cured it if stated seasonably; or

(b) Between merchants when the seller has after rejection made a request in writing for a full and final written statement of all defects on which the buyer proposes to rely.

(2) Payment against documents made without reservation of rights precludes recovery of the payment for defects apparent on the face of the documents.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-605, U.C.C.

672.606 What constitutes acceptance of goods.—

(1) Acceptance of goods occurs when the buyer:

(a) After a reasonable opportunity to inspect the goods signifies to the seller that the goods are conforming or that he will take or retain them in spite of their nonconformity; or

(b) Fails to make an effective rejection (s. 672.602(1)), but such acceptance does not occur until the buyer has had a reasonable opportunity to inspect them; or

(c) Does any act inconsistent with the seller's ownership; but if such act is wrongful as against the seller it is an acceptance only if ratified by him.

(2) Acceptance of a part of any commercial unit is acceptance of that entire unit.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-606, U.C.C.

672.607 Effect of acceptance; notice of breach; burden of establishing breach after acceptance; notice of claim or litigation to person answerable over.—

(1) The buyer must pay at the contract rate for any goods accepted.

(2) Acceptance of goods by the buyer precludes rejection of the goods accepted and if made with knowledge of a nonconformity cannot be revoked because of it unless the acceptance was on the reasonable assumption that the nonconformity would be seasonably cured but acceptance does not of itself impair any other remedy provided by this chapter for nonconformity.

(3) Where a tender has been accepted:

(a) The buyer must within a reasonable time after he discovers or should have discovered any breach notify the seller of breach or be barred from any remedy; and

(b) If the claim is one for infringement or the like (s. 672.312(3)) and the buyer is sued as a result of such a breach he must so notify the seller within a reasonable time after he receives notice of the litigation or be barred from any remedy over for liability established by the litigation.

(4) The burden is on the buyer to establish any breach with respect to the goods accepted.

(5) Where the buyer is sued for breach of a warranty or other obligation for which his seller is answerable over:

(a) He may give his seller written notice of the litigation. If the notice states that the seller may come in and defend and that if the seller does not do so he will be bound in any action against him by his buyer by any determination of fact common to the two litigations, then unless the seller after seasonable receipt of the notice does come in and defend he is so bound.

(b) If the claim is one for infringement or the like (s. 672.312(3)) the original seller may demand in writing that his buyer turn over to him control of the litigation including settlement or else be barred from any remedy over and if he also agrees to bear all expense and to satisfy any adverse judgment, then unless the buyer after seasonable receipt of the demand does turn over control the buyer is so barred.

(6) The provisions of subsections (3), (4) and (5) apply to any obligation of a buyer to hold the seller harmless against infringement or the like (s. 672.312(3)).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-607, U.C.C.

672.608 Revocation of acceptance in whole or in part.—

(1) The buyer may revoke his acceptance of a lot or commercial unit whose nonconformity substantially impairs its value to him if he has accepted it:

(a) On the reasonable assumption that its nonconformity would be cured and it has not been seasonably cured; or

(b) Without discovery of such nonconformity if his acceptance was reasonably induced either by the difficulty of discovery before acceptance or by the seller's assurances.

(2) Revocation of acceptance must occur within a reasonable time after the buyer discovers or should have discovered the ground for it and before any substantial change in condition of the goods which is not caused by their own defects. It is not effective until the buyer notifies the seller of it.

(3) A buyer who so revokes has the same rights and duties with regard to the goods involved as if he had rejected them.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-608, U.C.C.

672.609 Right to adequate assurance of performance.—

(1) A contract for sale imposes an obligation on each party that the other's expectation of receiving due performance will not be impaired. When reasonable grounds for insecurity arise with respect to the performance of either party the other may in writing demand adequate assurance of due performance and until he receives such assurance may if commercially reasonable suspend any performance for which he has not already received the agreed return.

(2) Between merchants the reasonableness of grounds for insecurity and the adequacy of any assurance offered shall be determined according to commercial standards.

(3) Acceptance of any improper delivery or payment does not prejudice the aggrieved party's right to demand adequate assurance of future performance.

(4) After receipt of a justified demand failure to provide within a reasonable time not exceeding 30 days such assurance of due performance as is adequate under the circumstances of the particular case is a repudiation of the contract.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-609, U.C.C.

672.610 Anticipatory repudiation.—When either party repudiates the contract with respect to a performance not yet due the loss of which will substantially impair the value of the contract to the other, the aggrieved party may:

(1) For a commercially reasonable time await performance by the repudiating party; or

(2) Resort to any remedy for breach (s. 672.703 or s. 672.711), even though he has notified the repudiating party that he would await the latter's performance and has urged retraction; and

(3) In either case suspend his own performance or proceed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter on the seller's right to identify goods to the contract notwithstanding breach or to salvage unfinished goods (s. 672.704).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-610, U.C.C.

672.611 Retraction of anticipatory repudiation.—

(1) Until the repudiating party's next performance is due he can retract his repudiation unless the aggrieved party has since the repudiation canceled or materially changed his position or otherwise indicated that he considers the repudiation final.

(2) Retraction may be by any method which clearly indicates to the aggrieved party that the repudiating party intends to perform, but must include any assurance justifiably demanded under the provisions of this chapter (s. 672.609).

(3) Retraction reinstates the repudiating party's rights under the contract with due excuse and allowance to the aggrieved party for any delay occasioned by the repudiation.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-611, U.C.C.

672.612 "Installment contract"; breach.—

(1) An "installment contract" is one which requires or authorizes the delivery of goods in separate lots to be separately accepted, even though the contract contains a clause "each delivery is a separate contract" or its equivalent.

(2) The buyer may reject any installment which is nonconforming if the nonconformity substantially impairs the value of that installment and cannot be cured or if the nonconformity is a defect in the required documents; but if the nonconformity does not fall within subsection (3) and the seller gives adequate assurance of its cure the buyer must accept that installment.

(3) Whenever nonconformity or default with respect to one or more installments substantially impairs the value of the whole contract there is a breach of the whole. But the aggrieved party reinstates the contract if he accepts a nonconforming installment without seasonably notifying of cancellation or if he brings an action with respect only to past installments or demands performance as to future installments.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-612, U.C.C.

672.613 Casualty to identified goods.—Where the contract requires for its performance goods identified when the contract is made, and the goods suffer casualty without fault of either party before the risk of loss passes to the buyer, or in a proper case under a "no arrival, no sale" term (s. 672.324) then:

(1) If the loss is total the contract is avoided; and

(2) If the loss is partial or the goods have so deteriorated as no longer to conform to the contract the buyer may nevertheless demand inspection and at his option either treat the contract as avoided or accept the goods with due allowance from the contract price for the deterioration or the deficiency in quantity but without further right against the seller.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-613, U.C.C.

672.614 Substituted performance.—

(1) Where without fault of either party the agreed berthing, loading, or unloading facilities fail or an agreed type of carrier becomes unavailable or the agreed manner of delivery otherwise becomes commercially impracticable but a commercially reasonable substitute is available, such substitute performance must be tendered and accepted.

(2) If the agreed means or manner of payment fails because of domestic or foreign governmental regulation, the seller may withhold or stop delivery unless the buyer provides a means or manner of payment which is commercially a substantial equivalent. If delivery has already been taken, payment by the means or in the manner provided by the regulation discharges the buyer's obligation unless the regulation is discriminatory, oppressive or predatory.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-614, U.C.C.

672.615 Excuse by failure of presupposed conditions.—Except so far as a seller may have assumed a greater obligation and subject to the preceding section on substituted performance:

(1) Delay in delivery or nondelivery in whole or in part by a seller who complies with subsections (2) and (3) is not a breach of his duty under a contract for sale if performance as agreed has been made impracticable by the occurrence of a contingency the nonoccurrence of which was a basic assumption on which the contract was made or by compliance in good faith with any applicable foreign or domestic governmental regulation or order whether or not it later proves to be invalid.

(2) Where the causes mentioned in subsection (1) affect only a part of the seller's capacity to perform, he must allocate production and deliveries among his customers but may at his option include regular customers not then under contract as well as his own requirements for further manufacture. He may so allocate in any manner which is fair and reasonable.

(3) The seller must notify the buyer seasonably that there will be delay or nondelivery and, when allocation is required under subsection (2), of the estimated quota thus made available for the buyer.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-615, U.C.C.

672.616 Procedure on notice claiming excuse.—

(1) Where the buyer receives notification of a material or indefinite delay or an allocation justified under the preceding section he may by written notification to the seller as to any delivery concerned, and where the prospective deficiency substantially impairs the value of the whole contract under the provisions of this chapter relating to breach of installment contracts (s. 672.612), then also as to the whole:

(a) Terminate and thereby discharge any unexe-cuted portion of the contract; or

(b) Modify the contract by agreeing to take his available quota in substitution.

(2) If after receipt of such notification from the seller the buyer fails so to modify the contract within a reasonable time not exceeding 30 days the contract lapses with respect to any deliveries affected.

(3) The provisions of this section may not be negated by agreement except in so far as the seller has assumed a greater obligation under the preceding section.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-616, U.C.C.

PART VII

REMEDIES

- 672.701 Remedies for breach of collateral contracts not impaired.
- 672.702 Seller's remedies on discovery of buyer's insolvency.
- 672.703 Seller's remedies in general.
- 672.704 Seller's right to identify goods to the contract notwithstanding breach or to salvage unfinished goods.
- 672.705 Seller's stoppage of delivery in transit or otherwise.
- 672.706 Seller's resale including contract for resale.
- 672.707 "Person in the position of a seller."
- 672.708 Seller's damages for nonacceptance or repudiation.
- 672.709 Action for the price.
- 672.710 Seller's incidental damages.
- 672.711 Buyer's remedies in general; buyer's security interest in rejected goods.
- 672.712 "Cover"; buyer's procurement of substitute goods.
- 672.713 Buyer's damages for nondelivery or repudiation.
- 672.714 Buyer's damages for breach in regard to accepted goods.
- 672.715 Buyer's incidental and consequential damages.
- 672.716 Buyer's right to specific performance or replevin.
- 672.717 Deduction of damages from the price.
- 672.718 Liquidation or limitation of damages; deposits.
- 672.719 Contractual modification or limitation of remedy.
- 672.720 Effect of "cancellation" or "rescission" on claims for antecedent breach.
- 672.721 Remedies for fraud.
- 672.722 Who can sue third parties for injury to goods.
- 672.723 Proof of market price; time and place.
- 672.724 Admissibility of market quotations.

672.701 Remedies for breach of collateral contracts not impaired.—Remedies for breach of any obligation or promise collateral or ancillary to a contract for sale are not impaired by the provisions of this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-701, U.C.C.

672.702 Seller's remedies on discovery of buyer's insolvency.—

(1) Where the seller discovers the buyer to be insolvent he may refuse delivery except for cash including payment for all goods theretofore delivered under the contract, and stop delivery under this chapter (s. 672.705).

(2) Where the seller discovers that the buyer has received goods on credit while insolvent he may reclaim the goods upon demand made within 10 days after the receipt, but if misrepresentation of solvency has been made to the particular seller in writing within 3 months before delivery the 10-day limitation does not apply. Except as provided in this subsection the seller may not base a right to reclaim goods on the buyer's fraudulent or innocent misrepresentation of solvency or of intent to pay.

(3) The seller's right to reclaim under subsection (2) is subject to the rights of a buyer in ordinary course or other good faith purchaser under this chapter (s. 672.403). Successful reclamation of goods excludes all other remedies with respect to them.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 4, ch. 79-398.

Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 2-702, U.C.C.

672.703 Seller's remedies in general.—Where the buyer wrongfully rejects or revokes acceptance of goods or fails to make a payment due on or before delivery or repudiates with respect to a part or the whole, then with respect to any goods directly affected and, if the breach is of the whole contract (s. 672.612), then also with respect to the whole undelivered balance, the aggrieved seller may:

- (1) Withhold delivery of such goods;
- (2) Stop delivery by any bailee as hereafter provided (s. 672.705);
- (3) Proceed under the next section respecting goods still unidentified to the contract;
- (4) Resell and recover damages as hereafter provided (s. 672.706);
- (5) Recover damages for nonacceptance (s. 672.708) or in a proper case the price (s. 672.709);
- (6) Cancel.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-703, U.C.C.

672.704 Seller's right to identify goods to the contract notwithstanding breach or to salvage unfinished goods.—

(1) An aggrieved seller under the preceding section may:

- (a) Identify to the contract conforming goods not already identified if at the time he learned of the breach they are in his possession or control;
- (b) Treat as the subject of resale goods which have demonstrably been intended for the particular contract even though those goods are unfinished.

(2) Where the goods are unfinished an aggrieved seller may in the exercise of reasonable commercial judgment for the purposes of avoiding loss and of effective realization either complete the manufacture and wholly identify the goods to the contract or cease manufacture and resell for scrap or salvage value or proceed in any other reasonable manner.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-704, U.C.C.

672.705 Seller's stoppage of delivery in transit or otherwise.—

(1) The seller may stop delivery of goods in the possession of a carrier or other bailee when he discovers the buyer to be insolvent (s. 672.702) and may stop delivery of carload, truckload, planeload or larger shipments of express or freight when the buyer repudiates or fails to make a payment due before delivery or if for any other reason the seller has a right to withhold or reclaim the goods.

(2) As against such buyer the seller may stop delivery until:

- (a) Receipt of the goods by the buyer; or
- (b) Acknowledgment to the buyer by any bailee of the goods except a carrier that the bailee holds the goods for the buyer; or
- (c) Such acknowledgment to the buyer by a carrier by reshipment or as warehouseman; or
- (d) Negotiation to the buyer of any negotiable document of title covering the goods.

(3)(a) To stop delivery the seller must so notify as to enable the bailee by reasonable diligence to prevent delivery of the goods.

(b) After such notification the bailee must hold and deliver the goods according to the directions of the seller but the seller is liable to the bailee for any ensuing charges or damages.

(c) If a negotiable document of title has been issued for goods the bailee is not obliged to obey a notification to stop until surrender of the document.

(d) A carrier who has issued a nonnegotiable bill of lading is not obliged to obey a notification to stop received from a person other than the consignor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-705, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.51.

672.706 Seller's resale including contract for resale.—

(1) Under the conditions stated in s. 672.703 on seller's remedies, the seller may resell the goods concerned or the undelivered balance thereof. Where the resale is made in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the seller may recover the difference between the resale price and the contract price together with any incidental damages allowed under the provisions of this chapter (s. 672.710), but less expenses saved in consequence of the buyer's breach.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (3) or unless otherwise agreed resale may be at public or private sale including sale by way of one or more contracts to sell or of identification to an existing contract of the seller. Sale may be as a unit or in parcels and at any time and place and on any terms but every aspect of the sale including the method, manner, time, place and terms must be commercially reasonable. The resale must be reasonably identified as referring to the broken contract, but it is not necessary that the goods be in existence or that any or all of them have been identified to the contract before the breach.

(3) Where the resale is at private sale the seller must give the buyer reasonable notification of his intention to resell.

(4) Where the resale is at public sale:

(a) Only identified goods can be sold except where there is a recognized market for a public sale of futures in goods of the kind; and

(b) It must be made at a usual place or market for public sale if one is reasonably available and except in the case of goods which are perishable or threaten to decline in value speedily the seller must give the buyer reasonable notice of the time and place of the resale; and

(c) If the goods are not to be within the view of those attending the sale the notification of sale must state the place where the goods are located and provide for their reasonable inspection by prospective bidders; and

(d) The seller may buy.

(5) A purchaser who buys in good faith at a resale takes the goods free of any rights of the original buyer even though the seller fails to comply with one or more of the requirements of this section.

(6) The seller is not accountable to the buyer for any profit made on any resale. A person in the position of a seller (s. 672.707) or a buyer who has rightfully rejected or justifiably revoked acceptance must account for any excess over the amount of his security interest, as hereinafter defined (s. 672.711(3)).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-706, U.C.C.

672.707 "Person in the position of a seller."—

(1) A "person in the position of a seller" includes as against a principal an agent who has paid or become responsible for the price of goods on behalf of his principal or anyone who otherwise holds a security interest or other right in goods similar to that of a seller.

(2) A person in the position of a seller may as provided in this chapter withhold or stop delivery (s. 672.705) and resell (s. 672.706) and recover incidental damages (s. 672.710).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-707, U.C.C.

672.708 Seller's damages for nonacceptance or repudiation.—

(1) Subject to subsection (2) and to the provisions of this chapter with respect to proof of market price (s. 672.723), the measure of damages for nonacceptance or repudiation by the buyer is the difference between the market price at the time and place for tender and the unpaid contract price together with any incidental damages provided in this chapter (s. 672.710), but less expenses saved in consequence of the buyer's breach.

(2) If the measure of damages provided in subsection (1) is inadequate to put the seller in as good a position as performance would have done then the measure of damages is the profit (including reasonable overhead) which the seller would have made from full performance by the buyer, together with any incidental damages provided in this chapter (s. 672.710), due allowance for costs reasonably incurred and due credit for payments or proceeds of resale.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-708, U.C.C.

672.709 Action for the price.—

(1) When the buyer fails to pay the price as it becomes due the seller may recover, together with any incidental damages under the next section, the price:

(a) Of goods accepted or of conforming goods lost or damaged within a commercially reasonable time after risk of their loss has passed to the buyer; and

(b) Of goods identified to the contract if the seller is unable after reasonable effort to resell them at a reasonable price or the circumstances reasonably indicate that such effort will be unavailing.

(2) Where the seller sues for the price he must hold for the buyer any goods which have been identified to the contract and are still in his control except that if resale becomes possible he may resell them at any time prior to the collection of the judgment. The net proceeds of any such resale must be credited to the buyer and payment of the judgment entitles him to any goods not resold.

(3) After the buyer has wrongfully rejected or revoked acceptance of the goods or has failed to make a payment due or has repudiated (s. 672.610), a seller who is held not entitled to the price under this section shall nevertheless be awarded damages for nonacceptance under the preceding section.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-709, U.C.C.

672.710 Seller's incidental damages.—Incidental damages to an aggrieved seller include any commercially reasonable charges, expenses or commissions incurred in stopping delivery, in the transportation, care and custody of goods after the buyer's breach, in connection with return or resale of the goods or otherwise resulting from the breach.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-710, U.C.C.

672.711 Buyer's remedies in general; buyer's security interest in rejected goods.—

(1) Where the seller fails to make delivery or repudiates or the buyer rightfully rejects or justifiably revokes acceptance then with respect to any goods involved, and with respect to the whole if the breach goes to the whole contract (s. 672.612), the buyer may cancel and whether or not he has done so may in addition to recovering so much of the price as has been paid:

(a) "Cover" and have damages under the next section as to all the goods affected whether or not they have been identified to the contract; or

(b) Recover damages for nondelivery as provided in this chapter (s. 672.713).

(2) Where the seller fails to deliver or repudiates the buyer may also:

(a) If the goods have been identified recover them as provided in this chapter (s. 672.502); or

(b) In a proper case obtain specific performance or replevy the goods as provided in this chapter (s. 672.716).

(3) On rightful rejection or justifiable revocation of acceptance a buyer has a security interest in goods in his possession or control for any payments made on their price and any expenses reasonably incurred in their inspection, receipt, transportation, care and custody and may hold such goods and resell them in like manner as an aggrieved seller (s. 672.706).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-711, U.C.C.

672.712 "Cover"; buyer's procurement of substitute goods.—

(1) After a breach within the preceding section the buyer may "cover" by making in good faith and without unreasonable delay any reasonable purchase of or contract to purchase goods in substitution for those due from the seller.

(2) The buyer may recover from the seller as damages the difference between the cost of cover and the contract price together with any incidental or consequential damages as hereinafter defined (s. 672.715), but less expenses saved in consequence of the seller's breach.

(3) Failure of the buyer to effect cover within this section does not bar him from any other remedy.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-712, U.C.C.

672.713 Buyer's damages for nondelivery or repudiation.—

(1) Subject to the provisions of this chapter with respect to proof of market price (s. 672.723), the measure of damages for nondelivery or repudiation by the seller is the difference between the market price at the time when the buyer learned of the breach and the contract price together with any incidental and consequential damages provided in this chapter (s. 672.715), but less expenses saved in consequence of the seller's breach.

(2) Market price is to be determined as of the place for tender or, in cases of rejection after arrival or revocation of acceptance, as of the place of arrival.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-713, U.C.C.

672.714 Buyer's damages for breach in regard to accepted goods.—

(1) Where the buyer has accepted goods and given notification (s. 672.607(3)) he may recover as damages for any nonconformity of tender the loss resulting in the ordinary course of events from the seller's breach as determined in any manner which is reasonable.

(2) The measure of damages for breach of warranty is the difference at the time and place of acceptance between the value of the goods accepted and the value they would have had if they had been as warranted, unless special circumstances show proximate damages of a different amount.

(3) In a proper case any incidental and consequential damages under the next section may also be recovered.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-714, U.C.C.

672.715 Buyer's incidental and consequential damages.—

(1) Incidental damages resulting from the seller's breach include expenses reasonably incurred in inspection, receipt, transportation and care and custody of goods rightfully rejected, any commercially reasonable charges, expenses or commissions in connection with effecting cover and any other reasonable expense incident to the delay or other breach.

(2) Consequential damages resulting from the seller's breach include:

(a) Any loss resulting from general or particular requirements and needs of which the seller at the time of contracting had reason to know and which could not reasonably be prevented by cover or otherwise; and

(b) Injury to person or property proximately resulting from any breach of warranty.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-715, U.C.C.

672.716 Buyer's right to specific performance or replevin.—

(1) Specific performance may be decreed where the goods are unique or in other proper circumstances.

(2) The decree for specific performance may include such terms and conditions as to payment of the price, damages, or other relief as the court may deem just.

(3) The buyer has a right of replevin for goods identified to the contract if after reasonable effort he is unable to effect cover for such goods or the circumstances reasonably indicate that such effort will be unavailing or if the goods have been shipped under reservation and satisfaction of the security interest in them has been made or tendered.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-716, U.C.C.

672.717 Deduction of damages from the price.—The buyer on notifying the seller of his intention to do so may deduct all or any part of the damages resulting from any breach of the contract from any part of the price still due under the same contract.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 2-717, U.C.C.

672.718 Liquidation or limitation of damages; deposits.—

(1) Damages for breach by either party may be liquidated in the agreement but only at an amount which is reasonable in the light of the anticipated or actual harm caused by the breach, the difficulties of proof of loss, and the inconvenience or nonfeasibility of otherwise obtaining an adequate remedy. A term fixing unreasonably large liquidated damages is void as a penalty.

(2) Where the seller justifiably withholds delivery of goods because of the buyer's breach, the buyer is entitled to restitution of any amount by which the sum of his payments exceeds:

(a) The amount to which the seller is entitled by virtue of terms liquidating the seller's damages in accordance with subsection (1), or

(b) In the absence of such terms, 20 percent of the value of the total performance for which the buyer is obligated under the contract or $500, whichever is smaller.

(3) The buyer's right to restitution under subsection (2) is subject to offset to the extent that the seller establishes:

(a) A right to recover damages under the provisions of this chapter other than subsection (1), and

(b) The amount or value of any benefits received by the buyer directly or indirectly by reason of the contract.

(4) Where a seller has received payment in goods their reasonable value or the proceeds of their resale shall be treated as payments for the purposes of subsection (2); but if the seller has notice of the buyer's breach before reselling goods received in part performance, his resale is subject to the conditions laid down in this chapter on resale by an aggrieved seller (s. 672.706).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-718, U.C.C.

672.719 Contractual modification or limitation of remedy.—

(1) Subject to the provisions of subsections (2) and (3) of this section and of the preceding section on liquidation and limitation of damages:

(a) The agreement may provide for remedies in addition to or in substitution for those provided in this chapter and may limit or alter the measure of damages recoverable under this chapter, as by limiting the buyer's remedies to return of the goods and repayment of the price or to repair and replacement of nonconforming goods or parts; and

(b) Resort to a remedy as provided is optional unless the remedy is expressly agreed to be exclusive, in which case it is the sole remedy.

(2) Where circumstances cause an exclusive or limited remedy to fail of its essential purpose, remedy may be had as provided in this code.

(3) Consequential damages may be limited or excluded unless the limitation or exclusion is unconscionable. Limitation of consequential damages for injury to the person in the case of consumer goods is prima facie unconscionable but limitation of damages where the loss is commercial is not.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-719, U.C.C.

672.720 Effect of "cancellation" or "rescission" on claims for antecedent breach.—Unless the contrary intention clearly appears, expressions of "cancellation" or "rescission" of the contract or the like shall not be construed as a renunciation or discharge of any claim in damages for an antecedent breach.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-720, U.C.C.

672.721 Remedies for fraud.—Remedies for material misrepresentation or fraud include all remedies available under this chapter for nonfraudulent breach. Neither rescission or a claim for rescission of the contract for sale nor rejection or return of the goods shall bar or be deemed inconsistent with a claim for damages or other remedy.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-721, U.C.C.

672.722 Who can sue third parties for injury to goods.—Where a third party so deals with goods which have been identified to a contract for sale as to cause actionable injury to a party to that contract:

(1) A right of action against the third party is in either party to the contract for sale who has title to or a security interest or a special property or an insurable interest in the goods; and if the goods have been destroyed or converted a right of action is also in the party who either bore the risk of loss under the contract for sale or has since the injury assumed that risk as against the other;

(2) If at the time of the injury the party plaintiff did not bear the risk of loss as against the other party to the contract for sale and there is no arrangement between them for disposition of the recovery, his suit or settlement is, subject to his own interest, as a fiduciary for the other party to the contract;

(3) Either party may with the consent of the other sue for the benefit of whom it may concern.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-722, U.C.C.

672.723 Proof of market price; time and place.—

(1) If an action based on anticipatory repudiation comes to trial before the time for performance with respect to some or all of the goods, any damages based on market price (s. 672.708 or s. 672.713) shall be determined according to the price of such goods prevailing at the time when the aggrieved party learned of the repudiation.

(2) If evidence of a price prevailing at the times or places described in this chapter is not readily available the price prevailing within any reasonable time before or after the time described or at any other place which in commercial judgment or under usage of trade would serve as a reasonable substitute for the one described may be used, making any proper allowance for the cost of transporting the goods to or from such other place.

(3) Evidence of a relevant price prevailing at a time or place other than the one described in this chapter offered by one party is not admissible unless and until he has given the other party such notice as the court finds sufficient to prevent unfair surprise.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-723, U.C.C.

672.724 Admissibility of market quotations.—Whenever the prevailing price or value of any goods regularly bought and sold in any established commodity market is in issue, reports in official publications or trade journals or in newspapers or periodicals of general circulation published as the reports of such market shall be admissible in evidence. The circumstances of the preparation of such a report may be shown to affect its weight but not its admissibility.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 2-724, U.C.C.

CHAPTER 673

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE: COMMERCIAL PAPER

ARTICLE 3

Note.—Pursuant to s. 69, ch. 69-353, the editors have altered the numbers of all sections making up this chapter by deleting the digit and hyphen immediately following the decimal point. The purpose is to conform the numbering of the Code sections with the decimal numbering system used in other chapters of the Florida Statutes. The visual relationship between Florida Statutes section numbers and Code section number is not destroyed by this alteration; the digit preceding the decimal point coincides with the Code article number, and the digits following the decimal point coincide with the Code section numbers.

673.101 Short title.—Chapter 673 shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform Commercial Code—Commercial Paper."

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-101, U.C.C.

673.102 Definitions and index of definitions.—

(1) In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Issue" means the first delivery of an instrument to a holder or a remitter.

(b) An "order" is a direction to pay and must be more than an authorization or request. It must identify the person to pay with reasonable certainty. It may be addressed to one or more such persons jointly or in the alternative but not in succession.

(c) A "promise" is an undertaking to pay and must be more than an acknowledgment of an obligation.

(d) "Secondary party" means a drawer or endorser.

(e) "Instrument" means a negotiable instrument.

(2) Other definitions applying to this chapter and the sections in which they appear are:

"Acceptance," s. 673.410.

"Accommodation party," s. 673.415.

"Alteration," s. 673.407.

"Certificate of deposit," s. 673.104.

"Certification," s. 673.411.

"Check," s. 673.104.

"Item," s. 674.104.

"Midnight deadline," s. 674.104.

"Payor bank," s. 674.105.

(4) In addition chapter 671 contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-102, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.02(5), 676.01, 674.01.

673.103 Limitations on scope of chapter.—

(1) This chapter does not apply to money, documents of title or investment securities.

(2) The provisions of this chapter are subject to the provisions of the chapter on bank deposits and collections (chapter 674) and secured transactions (chapter 679).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-103, U.C.C.

673.104 Form of negotiable instruments; "draft"; "check"; "certificate of deposit"; "note."—

(1) Any writing to be a negotiable instrument within this chapter must:

(a) Be signed by the maker or drawer; and

(b) Contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money and no other promise, order, obligation or power given by the maker or drawer except as authorized by this chapter; and

(c) Be payable on demand or at a definite time; and

(d) Be payable to order or to bearer.

(2) A writing which complies with the requirements of this section is:

(a) A "draft" ("bill of exchange") if it is an order;

(b) A "check" if it is a draft drawn on a bank and payable on demand;

(c) A "certificate of deposit" if it is an acknowledgment by a bank of receipt of money with an engagement to repay it;

(d) A "note" if it is a promise other than a certificate of deposit.

(3) As used in other chapters of this code, and as the context may require, the terms "draft," "check," "certificate of deposit" and "note" may refer to instruments which are not negotiable within this chapter as well as to instruments which are so negotiable.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-104, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.02, 674.06, 674.12, 676.01, 676.47, 676.48.

673.105 When promise or order unconditional.—

(1) A promise or order otherwise unconditional is not made conditional by the fact that the instrument:

(a) Is subject to implied or constructive conditions; or

(b) States its consideration, whether performed or promised, or the transaction which gave rise to the instrument, or that the promise or order is made or the instrument matures in accordance with or "as per" such transaction; or

(c) Refers to or states that it arises out of a separate agreement or refers to a separate agreement for rights as to prepayment or acceleration; or

(d) States that it is drawn under a letter of credit; or

(e) States that it is secured, whether by mortgage, reservation of title or otherwise; or

(f) Indicates a particular account to be debited or any other fund or source from which reimbursement is expected; or

(g) Is limited to payment out of a particular fund or the proceeds of a particular source, if the instrument is issued by a government or governmental agency or unit; or

(h) Is limited to payment out of the entire assets of a partnership, unincorporated association, trust or estate by or on behalf of which the instrument is issued.

(2) A promise or order is not unconditional if the instrument:

(a) States that it is subject to or governed by any other agreement; or

(b) States that it is to be paid only out of a particular fund or source except as provided in this section.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-105, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 675.04.

673.106 Sum certain.—

(1) The sum payable is a sum certain even though it is to be paid:

(a) With stated interest or by stated installments; or

(b) With stated different rates of interest before and after default or a specified date; or

(c) With a stated discount or addition if paid before or after the date fixed for payment; or

(d) With exchange or less exchange, whether at a fixed rate or at the current rate; or

(e) With costs of collection or an attorney's fee or both upon default.

(2) Nothing in this section shall validate any term which is otherwise illegal.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-106, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.03, 674.07(5).

673.107 Money.—

(1) An instrument is payable in money if the medium of exchange in which it is payable is money at the time the instrument is made. An instrument payable in "currency" or "current funds" is payable in money.

(2) A promise or order to pay a sum stated in a foreign currency is for a sum certain in money and, unless a different medium of payment is specified in the instrument, may be satisfied by payment of that number of dollars which the stated foreign currency will purchase at the buying sight rate for that currency on the day on which the instrument is payable or, if payable on demand, on the day of demand. If such an instrument specifies a foreign currency as the medium of payment the instrument is payable in that currency.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-107, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.07(5).

673.108 Payable on demand.—Instruments payable on demand include those payable at sight or on presentation and those in which no time for payment is stated.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-108, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.09.

673.109 Definite time.—

(1) An instrument is payable at a definite time if by its terms it is payable:

(a) On or before a stated date or at a fixed period after a stated date; or

(b) At a fixed period after sight; or

(c) At a definite time subject to any acceleration; or

(d) At a definite time subject to extension at the option of the holder, or to extension to a further definite time at the option of the maker or acceptor or automatically upon or after a specified act or event.

(2) An instrument which by its terms is otherwise payable only upon an act or event uncertain as to time of occurrence is not payable at a definite time even though the act or event has occurred.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-109, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.05, 674.19(3).

673.110 Payable to order.—

(1) An instrument is payable to order when by its terms it is payable to the order or assigns of any person therein specified with reasonable certainty, or to him or his order, or when it is conspicuously designated on its face as "exchange" or the like and names a payee. It may be payable to the order of:

(a) The maker or drawer; or

(b) The drawee; or

(c) A payee who is not maker, drawer or drawee; or

(d) Two or more payees together or in the alternative; or

(e) An estate, trust or fund, in which case it is payable to the order of the representative of such estate, trust or fund or his successors; or

(f) An office, or an officer by his title as such in which case it is payable to the principal but the incumbent of the office or his successors may act as if he or they were the holder; or

(g) A partnership or unincorporated association, in which case it is payable to the partnership or association and may be indorsed or transferred by any person thereto authorized.

(2) An instrument not payable to order is not made so payable by such words as "payable upon return of this instrument properly indorsed."

(3) An instrument made payable both to order and to bearer is payable to order unless the bearer words are handwritten or typewritten.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-110, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.10.

673.111 Payable to bearer.—An instrument is payable to bearer when by its terms it is payable to:

(1) Bearer or the order of bearer; or

(2) A specified person or bearer; or

(3) "Cash" or the order of "cash," or any other indication which does not purport to designate a specific payee.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-111, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.11.

673.112 Terms and omissions not affecting negotiability.—

(1) The negotiability of an instrument is not affected by:

(a) The omission of a statement of any consideration or of the place where the instrument is drawn or payable; or

(b) A statement that collateral has been given to secure obligations either on the instrument or otherwise of an obligor on the instrument or that in case of default on those obligations the holder may realize on or dispose of the collateral; or

(c) A promise or power to maintain or protect collateral or to give additional collateral; or

(d) A term authorizing a confession of judgment on the instrument if it is not paid when due; or

(e) A term purporting to waive the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of any obligor; or

(f) A term in a draft providing that the payee by indorsing or cashing it acknowledges full satisfaction of an obligation of the drawer; or

(g) A statement in a draft drawn in a set of parts (s. 673.801) to the effect that the order is effective only if no other part has been honored.

(2) Nothing in this section shall validate any term which is otherwise illegal.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-112, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.06, 674.07.

673.113 Seal.—An instrument otherwise negotiable is within this chapter even though it is under a seal.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-113, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.07(4).

673.114 Date, antedating, postdating.—

(1) The negotiability of an instrument is not affected by the fact that it is undated, antedated or postdated.

(2) Where an instrument is antedated or postdated the time when it is payable is determined by the stated date if the instrument is payable on demand or at a fixed period after date.

(3) Where the instrument or any signature thereon is dated, the date is presumed to be correct.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-114, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.07(1), 674.13, 674.14, 674.19.

673.115 Incomplete instruments.—

(1) When a paper whose contents at the time of signing show that it is intended to become an instrument is signed while still incomplete in any necessary respect it cannot be enforced until completed, but when it is completed in accordance with authority given it is effective as completed.

(2) If the completion is unauthorized the rules as to material alteration apply (s. 673.407), even though the paper was not delivered by the maker or drawer; but the burden of establishing that any completion is unauthorized is on the party so asserting.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-115, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.15-674.17.

673.116 Instruments payable to two or more persons.—An instrument payable to the order of two or more persons:

(1) If in the alternative is payable to any one of them and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced by any of them who has possession of it;

(2) If not in the alternative is payable to all of them and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced only by all of them.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-116, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.44.

673.117 Instruments payable with words of description.—An instrument made payable to a named person with the addition of words describing him:

(1) As agent or officer of a specified person is payable to his principal but the agent or officer may act as if he were the holder;

(2) As any other fiduciary for a specified person or purpose is payable to the payee and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced by him;

(3) In any other manner is payable to the payee unconditionally and the additional words are without effect on subsequent parties.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-117, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.45.

673.118 Ambiguous terms and rules of construction.—The following rules apply to every instrument:

(1) Where there is doubt whether the instrument is a draft or a note the holder may treat it as either. A draft drawn on the drawer is effective as a note.

(2) Handwritten terms control typewritten and printed terms, and typewritten control printed.

(3) Words control figures except that if the words are ambiguous figures control.

(4) Unless otherwise specified a provision for interest means interest at the judgment rate at the place of payment from the date of the instrument, or if it is undated from the date of issue.

(5) Unless the instrument otherwise specifies two or more persons who sign as maker, acceptor or drawer or indorser and as a part of the same transaction are jointly and severally liable even though the instrument contains such words as "I promise to pay."

(6) Unless otherwise specified consent to extension authorizes a single extension for not longer than the original period. A consent to extension, expressed in the instrument, is binding on secondary parties and accommodation makers. A holder may not exercise his option to extend an instrument over the objection of a maker or acceptor or other party who in accordance with s. 673.604 tenders full payment when the instrument is due.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-118, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.19, 674.70.

673.119 Other writings affecting instrument.—

(1) As between the obligor and his immediate obligee or any transferee the terms of an instrument may be modified or affected by any other written agreement executed as a part of the same transaction, except that a holder in due course is not affected by any limitation of his rights arising out of the separate written agreement if he had no notice of the limitation when he took the instrument.

(2) A separate agreement does not affect the negotiability of an instrument.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-119, U.C.C.

673.120 Instruments "payable through" bank.—An instrument which states that it is "payable through" a bank or the like designates that bank as a collecting bank to make presentment but does not of itself authorize the bank to pay the instrument.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-120, U.C.C.

673.121 Instruments payable at bank.—A note or acceptance which states that it is payable at a bank is not of itself an order or authorization to the bank to pay it.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—The official 1962 text was drafted in two alternatives (A and B). Alternative B was adopted in Florida.

Note.—s. 3-121, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 675.04.

673.122 Accrual of cause of action.—

(1) A cause of action against a maker or an acceptor accrues:

(a) In the case of a time instrument on the day after maturity;

(b)1. In the case of a demand instrument other than a note payable on demand, upon its date or, if no date is stated, on the date of issue.

2. In the case of a note payable on demand, as provided in s. 95.031(1).

(2) A cause of action against the obligor of a demand or time certificate of deposit accrues upon demand, but demand on a time certificate may not be made until on or after the date of maturity.

(3) A cause of action against a drawer of a draft or an indorser of any instrument accrues upon demand following dishonor of the instrument. Notice of dishonor is a demand.

(4) Unless an instrument provides otherwise, interest runs at the rate provided by law for a judgment:

(a) In the case of a maker, acceptor or other primary obligor of a demand instrument, from the date of demand;

(b) In all other cases from the date of accrual of the cause of action.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 77-54.

Note.—s. 3-122, U.C.C.

PART II

TRANSFER AND NEGOTIATION

- 673.201 Transfer; right to indorsement.
- 673.202 Negotiation.
- 673.203 Wrong or misspelled name.
- 673.204 Special indorsement; blank indorsement.
- 673.205 Restrictive indorsements.
- 673.206 Effect of restrictive indorsement.
- 673.207 Negotiation effective although it may be rescinded.
- 673.208 Reacquisition.

673.201 Transfer; right to indorsement.—

(1) Transfer of an instrument vests in the transferee such rights as the transferor has therein, except that a transferee who has himself been a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument or who as a prior holder had notice of a defense or claim against it cannot improve his position by taking from a later holder in due course.

(2) A transfer of a security interest in an instrument vests the foregoing rights in the transferee to the extent of the interest transferred.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed any transfer for value of an instrument not then payable to bearer gives the transferee the specifically enforceable right to have the unqualified indorsement of the transferor. Negotiation takes effect only when the indorsement is made and until that time there is no presumption that the transferee is the owner.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-201, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.30, 674.51, 674.60.

673.202 Negotiation.—

(1) Negotiation is the transfer of an instrument in such form that the transferee becomes a holder. If the instrument is payable to order it is negotiated by delivery with any necessary indorsement; if payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery.

(2) An indorsement must be written by or on behalf of the holder and on the instrument or on a paper so firmly affixed thereto as to become a part thereof.

(3) An indorsement is effective for negotiation only when it conveys the entire instrument or any unpaid residue. If it purports to be of less it operates only as a partial assignment.

(4) Words of assignment, condition, waiver, guaranty, limitation or disclaimer of liability and the like accompanying an indorsement do not affect its character as an indorsement.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-202, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.33-674.35.

673.203 Wrong or misspelled name.—Where an instrument is made payable to a person under a misspelled name or one other than his own he may indorse in that name or his own or both; but signature in both names may be required by a person paying or giving value for the instrument.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-203, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.46.

673.204 Special indorsement; blank indorsement.—

(1) A special indorsement specifies the person to whom or to whose order it makes the instrument payable. Any instrument specially indorsed becomes payable to the order of the special indorsee and may be further negotiated only by his indorsement.

(2) An indorsement in blank specifies no particular indorsee and may consist of a mere signature. An instrument payable to order and indorsed in blank becomes payable to bearer and may be negotiated by delivery alone until specially indorsed.

(3) The holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the indorsement.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-204, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.12, 674.36-674.39, 674.44.

673.205 Restrictive indorsements.—An indorsement is restrictive which either:

- (1) Is conditional; or
- (2) Purports to prohibit further transfer of the instrument; or
- (3) Includes the words "for collection," "for deposit," "pay any bank," or like terms signifying a purpose of deposit or collection; or
- (4) Otherwise states that it is for the benefit or use of the indorser or of another person.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-205, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.39, 674.42.

673.206 Effect of restrictive indorsement.—

(1) No restrictive indorsement prevents further transfer or negotiation of the instrument.

(2) An intermediary bank, or a payor bank which is not the depositary bank, is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by a restrictive indorsement of any person except the bank's immediate transferor or the person presenting for payment.

(3) Except for an intermediary bank, any transferee under an indorsement which is conditional or includes the words "for collection," "for deposit," "pay any bank," or like terms (s. 673.205(1),(3)) must pay or apply any value given by him for or on the security of the instrument consistently with the indorsement and to the extent that he does so he becomes a holder for value. In addition such transferee is a holder in due course if he otherwise complies with the requirements of s. 673.302 on what constitutes a holder in due course.

(4) The first taker under an indorsement for the benefit of the indorser or another person (s. 673.205(4)) must pay or apply any value given by him for or on the security of the instrument consistently with the indorsement and to the extent that he does so he becomes a holder for value. In addition such taker is a holder in due course if he otherwise complies with the requirements of s. 673.302 on what constitutes a holder in due course. A later holder for value is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by such restrictive indorsement unless he has knowledge that a fiduciary or other person has negotiated the instrument in any transaction for his own benefit or otherwise in breach of duty (s. 673.304(2)).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-206, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.39, 674.40, 674.42, 674.49.

673.207 Negotiation effective although it may be rescinded.—

(1) Negotiation is effective to transfer the instrument although the negotiation is:

- (a) Made by an infant, a corporation exceeding its powers, or any other person without capacity; or
- (b) Obtained by fraud, duress or mistake of any kind; or
- (c) Part of an illegal transaction; or
- (d) Made in breach of duty.

(2) Except as against a subsequent holder in due course such negotiation is in an appropriate case subject to rescission, the declaration of a constructive trust or any other remedy permitted by law.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-207, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.24, 674.60, 674.61.

673.208 Reacquisition.—Where an instrument is returned to or reacquired by a prior party he may cancel any indorsement which is not necessary to his title and reissue or further negotiate the instrument, but any intervening party is discharged as against the reacquiring party and subsequent holders not in due course and if his indorsement has been canceled is discharged as against subsequent holders in due course as well.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-208, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.50, 674.52, 675.29.

PART III

RIGHTS OF A HOLDER

673.301 Rights of a holder.

673.302 Holder in due course.

673.303 Taking for value.

673.304 Notice to purchaser.

673.305 Rights of a holder in due course.

673.306 Rights of one not holder in due course.

673.307 Burden of establishing signatures, defenses and due course.

673.301 Rights of a holder.—The holder of an instrument whether or not he is the owner may transfer or negotiate it and, except as otherwise provided in s. 673.603 on payment or satisfaction, discharge it or enforce payment in his own name.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-301, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.53.

673.302 Holder in due course.—

(1) A holder in due course is a holder who takes the instrument:

- (a) For value; and
- (b) In good faith; and
- (c) Without notice that it is overdue or has been dishonored or of any defense against or claim to it on the part of any person.

(2) A payee may be a holder in due course.

(3) A holder does not become a holder in due course of an instrument:

- (a) By purchase of it at judicial sale or by taking it under legal process; or

- (b) By acquiring it in taking over an estate; or
- (c) By purchasing it as part of a bulk transaction not in regular course of business of the transferor.

(4) A purchaser of a limited interest can be a holder in due course only to the extent of the interest purchased.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-302, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.54.

673.303 Taking for value.—A holder takes the instrument for value:

- (1) To the extent that the agreed consideration has been performed or that he acquires a security interest in or a lien on the instrument otherwise than by legal process; or
- (2) When he takes the instrument in payment of or as security for an antecedent claim against any person whether or not the claim is due; or

(3) When he gives a negotiable instrument for it or makes an irrevocable commitment to a third person.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-303, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.28-674.30, 674.56.

673.304 Notice to purchaser.—

(1) The purchaser has notice of a claim or defense if:

- (a) The instrument is so incomplete, bears such visible evidence of forgery or alteration, or is otherwise so irregular as to call into question its validity, terms or ownership or to create an ambiguity as to the party to pay; or
- (b) The purchaser has notice that the obligation of any party is voidable in whole or in part, or that all parties have been discharged.

(2) The purchaser has notice of a claim against the instrument when he has knowledge that a fiduciary has negotiated the instrument in payment of or as security for his own debt or in any transaction for his own benefit or otherwise in breach of duty.

(3) The purchaser has notice that an instrument is overdue if he has reason to know:

- (a) That any part of the principal amount is overdue or that there is an uncured default in payment of another instrument of the same series; or
- (b) That acceleration of the instrument has been made; or

(c) That he is taking a demand instrument after demand has been made or more than a reasonable length of time after its issue. A reasonable time for a check drawn and payable within the states and territories of the United States and the District of Columbia is presumed to be 30 days.

(4) Knowledge of the following facts does not of itself give the purchaser notice of a defense or claim:

- (a) That the instrument is antedated or postdated;

(b) That it was issued or negotiated in return for an executory promise or accompanied by a separate agreement, unless the purchaser has notice that a defense or claim has arisen from the terms thereof;

(c) That any party has signed for accommodation;

(d) That an incomplete instrument has been completed, unless the purchaser has notice of any improper completion;

(e) That any person negotiating the instrument is or was a fiduciary;

(f) That there has been default in payment of interest on the instrument or in payment of any other instrument, except one of the same series.

(5) The filing or recording of a document does not of itself constitute notice within the provisions of this chapter to a person who would otherwise be a holder in due course.

(6) To be effective notice must be received at such time and in such manner as to give a reasonable opportunity to act on it.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-304, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.48, 674.54, 674.55, 674.57, 674.58.

673.305 Rights of a holder in due course.—To the extent that a holder is a holder in due course he takes the instrument free from:

(1) All claims to it on the part of any person; and

(2) All defenses of any party to the instrument with whom the holder has not dealt except:

(a) Infancy, to the extent that it is a defense to a simple contract; and

(b) Such other incapacity, or duress, or illegality of the transaction, as renders the obligation of the party a nullity; and

(c) Such misrepresentation as has induced the party to sign the instrument with neither knowledge nor reasonable opportunity to obtain knowledge of its character or its essential terms; and

(d) Discharge in insolvency proceedings; and

(e) Any other discharge of which the holder has notice when he takes the instrument.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-305, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.17, 674.18, 674.59.

673.306 Rights of one not holder in due course.—Unless he has the rights of a holder in due course any person takes the instrument subject to:

(1) All valid claims to it on the part of any person; and

(2) All defenses of any party which would be available in an action on a simple contract; and

(3) The defenses of want or failure of consideration, nonperformance of any condition precedent, nondelivery, or delivery for a special purpose (s. 673.408); and

(4) The defense that he or a person through whom he holds the instrument acquired it by theft, or that payment or satisfaction to such holder would be inconsistent with the terms of a restrictive indorsement. The claim of any third person to the instrument is not otherwise available as a defense to any party liable thereon unless the third person himself defends the action for such party.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-306, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.18, 674.31, 674.60, 674.61.

673.307 Burden of establishing signatures, defenses and due course.—

(1) Unless specifically denied in the pleadings each signature on an instrument is admitted. When the effectiveness of a signature is put in issue:

(a) The burden of establishing it is on the party claiming under the signature; but

(b) The signature is presumed to be genuine or authorized except where the action is to enforce the obligation of a purported signer who has died or become incompetent before proof is required.

(2) When signatures are admitted or established, production of the instrument entitles a holder to recover on it unless the defendant establishes a defense.

(3) After it is shown that a defense exists a person claiming the rights of a holder in due course has the burden of establishing that he or some person under whom he claims is in all respects a holder in due course.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-307, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.61.

PART IV

LIABILITY OF PARTIES

673.401 Signature.

673.402 Signature in ambiguous capacity.

673.403 Signature by authorized representative.

673.404 Unauthorized signatures.

673.405 Impostors; signature in name of payee.

673.406 Negligence contributing to alteration or unauthorized signature.

673.407 Alteration.

673.408 Consideration.

673.409 Draft not an assignment.

673.410 Definition and operation of acceptance.

673.411 Certification of a check.

673.412 Acceptance varying draft.

673.413 Contract of maker, drawer and acceptor.

673.414 Contract of indorser; order of liability.

673.415 Contract of accommodation party.

673.416 Contract of guarantor.

673.417 Warranties on presentment and transfer.

673.418 Finality of payment or acceptance.

673.419 Conversion of instrument; innocent representative.

673.401 Signature.—

(1) No person is liable on an instrument unless his signature appears thereon.

(2) A signature is made by use of any name, including any trade or assumed name, upon an instrument, or by any word or mark used in lieu of a written signature.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-401, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.20.

673.402 Signature in ambiguous capacity.—

Unless the instrument clearly indicates that a signature is made in some other capacity it is an indorsement.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-402, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.19(6), 674.65.

673.403 Signature by authorized representative.—

(1) A signature may be made by an agent or other representative, and his authority to make it may be established as in other cases of representation. No particular form of appointment is necessary to establish such authority.

(2) An authorized representative who signs his own name to an instrument:

(a) Is personally obligated if the instrument neither names the person represented nor shows that the representative signed in a representative capacity;

(b) Except as otherwise established between the immediate parties, is personally obligated if the instrument names the person represented but does not show that the representative signed in a representative capacity, or if the instrument does not name the person represented but does show that the representative signed in a representative capacity.

(3) Except as otherwise established the name of an organization preceded or followed by the name and office of an authorized individual is a signature made in a representative capacity.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-403, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.21-674.23.

673.404 Unauthorized signatures.—

(1) Any unauthorized signature is wholly inoperative as that of the person whose name is signed unless he ratifies it or is precluded from denying it; but it operates as the signature of the unauthorized signer in favor of any person who in good faith pays the instrument or takes it for value.

(2) Any unauthorized signature may be ratified for all purposes of this chapter. Such ratification does not of itself affect any rights of the person ratifying against the actual signer.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-404, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.25.

673.405 Impostors; signature in name of payee.—

(1) An indorsement by any person in the name of a named payee is effective if:

(a) An impostor by use of the mails or otherwise has induced the maker or drawer to issue the instrument to him or his confederate in the name of the payee; or

(b) A person signing as or on behalf of a maker or drawer intends the payee to have no interest in the instrument; or

(c) An agent or employee of the maker or drawer has supplied him with the name of the payee intending the latter to have no such interest.

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect the criminal or civil liability of the person so indorsing.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-405, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.11(3).

673.406 Negligence contributing to alteration or unauthorized signature.—Any person who by his negligence substantially contributes to a material alteration of the instrument or to the making of an unauthorized signature is precluded from asserting the alteration or lack of authority against a holder in due course or against a drawee or other payor who pays the instrument in good faith and in accordance with the reasonable commercial standards of the drawee's or payor's business.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-406, U.C.C.

673.407 Alteration.—

(1) Any alteration of an instrument is material which changes the contract of any party thereto in any respect, including any such change in:

(a) The number or relations of the parties; or

(b) An incomplete instrument, by completing it otherwise than as authorized; or

(c) The writing as signed, by adding to it or by removing any part of it.

(2) As against any person other than a subsequent holder in due course:

(a) Alteration by the holder which is both fraudulent and material discharges any party whose contract is thereby changed unless that party assents or is precluded from asserting the defense;

(b) No other alteration discharges any party and the instrument may be enforced according to its original tenor, or as to incomplete instruments according to the authority given.

(3) A subsequent holder in due course may in all cases enforce the instrument according to its original tenor, and when an incomplete instrument has been completed, he may enforce it as completed.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-407, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.16, 674.17, 675.32.

673.408 Consideration.—Want or failure of consideration is a defense as against any person not having the rights of a holder in due course (s. 673.305), except that no consideration is necessary for an instrument or obligation thereon given in payment of or as security for an antecedent obligation of any kind. Nothing in this section shall be taken to displace any statute outside this code under which a promise is enforceable notwithstanding lack or failure of consideration. Partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto whether or not the failure is in an ascertained or liquidated amount.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-408, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.27, 674.28, 674.31.

673.409 Draft not an assignment.—

(1) A check or other draft does not of itself operate as an assignment of any funds in the hands of the drawee available for its payment, and the drawee is not liable on the instrument until he accepts it.

(2) Nothing in this section shall affect any liability in contract, tort or otherwise arising from any letter of credit or other obligation or representation which is not an acceptance.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-409, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 676.01, 676.52.

673.410 Definition and operation of acceptance.—

(1) Acceptance is the drawee's signed engagement to honor the draft as presented. It must be written on the draft, and may consist of his signature alone. It becomes operative when completed by delivery or notification.

(2) A draft may be accepted although it has not been signed by the drawer or is otherwise incomplete or is overdue or has been dishonored.

(3) Where the draft is payable at a fixed period after sight and the acceptor fails to date his acceptance the holder may complete it by supplying a date in good faith.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

673.411 Certification of a check.—

(1) Certification of a check is acceptance. Where a holder procures certification the drawer and all prior indorsers are discharged.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed a bank has no obligation to certify a check.

(3) A bank may certify a check before returning it for lack of proper indorsement. If it does so the drawer is discharged.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-411, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 676.50, 676.51.

673.412 Acceptance varying draft.—

(1) Where the drawee's proffered acceptance in any manner varies the draft as presented the holder may refuse the acceptance and treat the draft as dishonored in which case the drawee is entitled to have his acceptance canceled.

(2) The terms of the draft are not varied by an acceptance to pay at any particular bank or place in the United States, unless the acceptance states that the draft is to be paid only at such bank or place.

(3) Where the holder assents to an acceptance varying the terms of the draft each drawer and indorser who does not affirmatively assent is discharged.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-412, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 676.10, 676.11.

673.413 Contract of maker, drawer and acceptor.—

(1) The maker or acceptor engages that he will pay the instrument according to its tenor at the time of his engagement or as completed pursuant to s. 673.115 on incomplete instruments.

(2) The drawer engages that upon dishonor of the draft and any necessary notice of dishonor or protest he will pay the amount of the draft to the holder or to any indorser who takes it up. The drawer may disclaim this liability by drawing without recourse.

(3) By making, drawing or accepting the party admits as against all subsequent parties including the drawee the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-413, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.62-674.64.

673.414 Contract of indorser; order of liability.—

(1) Unless the indorsement otherwise specifies (as by such words as "without recourse") every indorser engages that upon dishonor and any necessary notice of dishonor and protest he will pay the instrument according to its tenor at the time of his indorsement to the holder or to any subsequent indorser who takes it up, even though the indorser who takes it up was not obligated to do so.

(2) Unless they otherwise agree indorsers are liable to one another in the order in which they indorse, which is presumed to be the order in which their signatures appear on the instrument.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-414, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.41, 674.47, 674.68, 674.69.

673.415 Contract of accommodation party.—

(1) An accommodation party is one who signs the instrument in any capacity for the purpose of lending his name to another party to it.

(2) When the instrument has been taken for value before it is due the accommodation party is liable in the capacity in which he has signed even though the taker knows of the accommodation.

(3) As against a holder in due course and without notice of the accommodation oral proof of the accommodation is not admissible to give the accommodation party the benefit of discharges dependent on his character as such. In other cases the accommodation character may be shown by oral proof.

(4) An indorsement which shows that it is not in the chain of title is notice of its accommodation character.

(5) An accommodation party is not liable to the party accommodated, and if he pays the instrument has a right of recourse on the instrument against such party.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-415, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.31, 674.32, 674.66.

673.416 Contract of guarantor.—

(1) "Payment guaranteed" or equivalent words added to a signature mean that the signer engages that if the instrument is not paid when due he will pay it according to its tenor without resort by the holder to any other party.

(2) "Collection guaranteed" or equivalent words added to a signature mean that the signer engages that if the instrument is not paid when due he will pay it according to its tenor, but only after the holder has reduced his claim against the maker or acceptor to judgment and execution has been returned unsatisfied, or after the maker or acceptor has become insolvent or it is otherwise apparent that it is useless to proceed against him.

(3) Words of guaranty which do not otherwise specify guarantee payment.

(4) No words of guaranty added to the signature of a sole maker or acceptor affect his liability on the instrument. Such words added to the signature of one of two or more makers or acceptors create a presumption that the signature is for the accommodation of the others.

(5) When words of guaranty are used presentment, notice of dishonor and protest are not necessary to charge the user.

(6) Any guaranty written on the instrument is enforceable notwithstanding any statute of frauds.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-416, U.C.C.

673.417 Warranties on presentment and transfer.—

(1) Any person who obtains payment or acceptance and any prior transferor warrants to a person who in good faith pays or accepts that:

(a) He has a good title to the instrument or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title; and

(b) He has no knowledge that the signature of the maker or drawer is unauthorized, except that this warranty is not given by a holder in due course acting in good faith:

1. To a maker with respect to the maker's own signature; or

2. To a drawer with respect to the drawer's own signature, whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

3. To an acceptor of a draft if the holder in due course took the draft after the acceptance or obtained the acceptance without knowledge that the drawer's signature was unauthorized; and

(c) The instrument has not been materially altered, except that this warranty is not given by a holder in due course acting in good faith:

1. To the maker of a note; or

2. To the drawer of a draft whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

3. To the acceptor of a draft with respect to an alteration made prior to the acceptance if the holder in due course took the draft after the acceptance, even though the acceptance provided "payable as originally drawn" or equivalent terms; or

4. To the acceptor of a draft with respect to an alteration made after the acceptance.

(2) Any person who transfers an instrument and receives consideration warrants to his transferee and if the transfer is by indorsement to any subsequent holder who takes the instrument in good faith that:

(a) He has a good title to the instrument or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and the transfer is otherwise rightful; and

(b) All signatures are genuine or authorized; and

(c) The instrument has not been materially altered; and

(d) No defense of any party is good against him; and

(e) He has no knowledge of any insolvency proceeding instituted with respect to the maker or acceptor or the drawer of an unaccepted instrument.

(3) By transferring "without recourse" the transferor limits the obligation stated in subsection (2)(d) to a warranty that he has no knowledge of such a defense.

(4) A selling agent or broker who does not disclose the fact that he is acting only as such gives the warranties provided in this section, but if he makes such disclosure warrants only his good faith and authority.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-417, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.67, 674.71.

673.418 Finality of payment or acceptance.—

Except for recovery of bank payments as provided in the chapter on bank deposits and collections (chapter 674) and except for liability for breach of warranty on presentment under the preceding section, payment or acceptance of any instrument is final in favor of a holder in due course, or a person who has in good faith changed his position in reliance on the payment.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-418 U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.64.

673.419 Conversion of instrument; innocent representative.—

(1) An instrument is converted when:

(a) A drawee to whom it is delivered for acceptance refuses to return it on demand; or

(b) Any person to whom it is delivered for payment refuses on demand either to pay or to return it; or

(c) It is paid on a forged indorsement.

(2) In an action against a drawee under subsection (1) the measure of the drawee's liability is the face amount of the instrument. In any other action under subsection (1) the measure of liability is presumed to be the face amount of the instrument.

(3) Subject to the provisions of this code concerning restrictive indorsements a representative, including a depositary or collecting bank, who has in good faith and in accordance with the reasonable commercial standards applicable to the business of such representative dealt with an instrument or its proceeds on behalf of one who was not the true owner is not liable in conversion or otherwise to the true owner beyond the amount of any proceeds remaining in his hands.

(4) An intermediary bank or payor bank which is not a depositary bank is not liable in conversion solely by reason of the fact that proceeds of an item indorsed restrictively (ss. 673.205 and 673.206) are not paid or applied consistently with the restrictive indorsement of an indorser other than its immediate transferor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-419, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 676.08.

PART V

PRESENTMENT, NOTICE OF DISHONOR, AND PROTEST

673.501 When presentment, notice of dishonor, and protest necessary or permissible.

673.502 Unexcused delay; discharge.

673.503 Time of presentment.

673.504 How presentment made.

673.505 Rights of party to whom presentment is made.

673.506 Time allowed for acceptance or payment.

673.507 Dishonor; holder's right of recourse; term allowing re-presentment.

673.508 Notice of dishonor.

673.509 Protest; noting for protest.

673.510 Evidence of dishonor and notice of dishonor.

673.511 Waived or excused presentment, protest, or notice of dishonor, or delay therein.

673.501 When presentment, notice of dishonor, and protest necessary or permissible.—

(1) Unless excused (s. 673.511) presentment is necessary to charge secondary parties as follows:

(a) Presentment for acceptance is necessary to charge the drawer and indorsers of a draft where the draft so provides, or is payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee, or its date of payment depends upon such presentment. The holder may at his option present for acceptance any other draft payable at a stated date;

(b) Presentment for payment is necessary to charge any indorser;

(c) In the case of any drawer, the acceptor of a draft payable at a bank or the maker of a note payable at a bank, presentment for payment is necessary, but failure to make presentment discharges such drawer, acceptor or maker only as stated in s. 673.502(1)(b).

(2) Unless excused (s. 673.511):

(a) Notice of any dishonor is necessary to charge any indorser;

(b) In the case of any drawer, the acceptor of a draft payable at a bank or the maker of a note payable at a bank, notice of any dishonor is necessary, but failure to give such notice discharges such drawer, acceptor or maker only as stated in s. 673.502(1)(b).

(3) Unless excused (s. 673.511) protest of any dishonor is necessary to charge the drawer and indorsers of any draft which on its face appears to be drawn or payable outside of the states and territories of the United States and the District of Columbia. The holder may at his option make protest of any dishonor of any other instrument and in the case of a foreign draft may on insolvency of the acceptor before maturity make protest for better security.

(4) Notwithstanding any provision of this section, neither presentment nor notice of dishonor nor protest is necessary to charge an indorser who has indorsed an instrument after maturity.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

673.502 Unexcused delay; discharge.—

(1) Where without excuse any necessary presentment or notice of dishonor is delayed beyond the time when it is due:

(a) Any indorser is discharged; and

(b) Any drawer or the acceptor of a draft payable at a bank or the maker of a note payable at a bank who because the drawee or payor bank becomes insolvent during the delay is deprived of funds maintained with the drawee or payor bank to cover the instrument may discharge his liability by written assignment to the holder of his rights against the drawee or payor bank in respect of such funds, but such drawer, acceptor or maker is not otherwise discharged.

(2) Where without excuse a necessary protest is delayed beyond the time when it is due any drawer or indorser is discharged.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-502, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.09, 674.72, 675.06, 676.13, 676.17, 676.19, 676.49.

673.503 Time of presentment.—

(1) Unless a different time is expressed in the instrument the time for any presentment is determined as follows:

(a) Where an instrument is payable at or a fixed period after a stated date any presentment for acceptance must be made on or before the date it is payable;

(b) Where an instrument is payable after sight it must either be presented for acceptance or negotiated within a reasonable time after date or issue whichever is later;

(c) Where an instrument shows the date on which it is payable presentment for payment is due on that date;

(d) Where an instrument is accelerated presentment for payment is due within a reasonable time after the acceleration;

(e) With respect to the liability of any secondary party presentment for acceptance or payment of any other instrument is due within a reasonable time after such party becomes liable thereon.

(2) A reasonable time for presentment is determined by the nature of the instrument, any usage of banking or trade and the facts of the particular case.

In the case of an uncertified check which is drawn and payable within the United States and which is not a draft drawn by a bank the following are presumed to be reasonable periods within which to present for payment or to initiate bank collection:

(a) With respect to the liability of the drawer, 30 days after date or issue whichever is later; and

(b) With respect to the liability of an indorser, 7 days after his indorsement.

(3) Where any presentment is due on a day which is not a full business day for either the person making presentment or the party to pay or accept, presentment is due on the next following day which is a full business day for both parties.

(4) Presentment to be sufficient must be made at a reasonable hour, and if at a bank during its banking day.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

673.504 How presentment made.—

(1) Presentment is a demand for acceptance or payment made upon the maker, acceptor, drawee or other payor by or on behalf of the holder.

(2) Presentment may be made:

(a) By mail, in which event the time of presentment is determined by the time of receipt of the mail; or

(b) Through a clearinghouse; or

(c) At the place of acceptance or payment specified in the instrument or if there be none at the place of business or residence of the party to accept or pay. If neither the party to accept or pay nor anyone authorized to act for him is present or accessible at such place presentment is excused.

(3) It may be made:

(a) To any one of two or more makers, acceptors, drawees or other payors; or

(b) To any person who has authority to make or refuse the acceptance or payment.

(4) A draft accepted or a note made payable at a bank in the United States must be presented at such bank.

(5) In the cases described in s. 674.210 presentment may be made in the manner and with the result stated in that section.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-504, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.75, 674.76, 674.80, 674.81, 676.14.

673.505 Rights of party to whom presentment is made.—

(1) The party to whom presentment is made may without dishonor require:

(a) Exhibition of the instrument; and

(b) Reasonable identification of the person making presentment and evidence of his authority to make it if made for another; and

(c) That the instrument be produced for acceptance or payment at a place specified in it, or if there be none at any place reasonable in the circumstances; and

(d) A signed receipt on the instrument for any partial or full payment and its surrender upon full payment.

(2) Failure to comply with any such requirement invalidates the presentment but the person presenting has a reasonable time in which to comply and the time for acceptance or payment runs from the time of compliance.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-505, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.77.

673.506 Time allowed for acceptance or payment.—

(1) Acceptance may be deferred without dishonor until the close of the next business day following presentment. The holder may also in a good faith effort to obtain acceptance and without either dishonor of the instrument or discharge of secondary parties allow postponement of acceptance for an additional business day.

(2) Except as a longer time is allowed in the case of documentary drafts drawn under a letter of credit, and unless an earlier time is agreed to by the party to pay, payment of an instrument may be deferred without dishonor pending reasonable examination to determine whether it is properly payable, but payment must be made in any event before the close of business on the day of presentment.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-506, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 676.07.

673.507 Dishonor; holder's right of recourse; term allowing re-presentment.—

(1) An instrument is dishonored when:

(a) A necessary or optional presentment is duly made and due acceptance or payment is refused or cannot be obtained within the prescribed time or in case of bank collections the instrument is seasonably returned by the midnight deadline (s. 674.301); or

(b) Presentment is excused and the instrument is not duly accepted or paid.

(2) Subject to any necessary notice of dishonor and protest, the holder has upon dishonor an immediate right of recourse against the drawers and indorsers.

(3) Return of an instrument for lack of proper indorsement is not dishonor.

(4) A term in a draft or an indorsement thereof allowing a stated time for re-presentment in the event of any dishonor of the draft by nonacceptance if a time draft or by nonpayment if a sight draft gives the holder as against any secondary party bound by the term an option to waive the dishonor without affecting the liability of the secondary party and he may present again up to the end of the stated time.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-507, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 675.01, 676.17.

673.508 Notice of dishonor.—

(1) Notice of dishonor may be given to any person who may be liable on the instrument by or on behalf of the holder or any party who has himself received notice, or any other party who can be compelled to pay the instrument. In addition an agent or bank in whose hands the instrument is dishonored may give notice to his principal or customer or to another agent or bank from which the instrument was received.

(2) Any necessary notice must be given by a bank before its midnight deadline and by any other person before midnight of the third business day after dishonor or receipt of notice of dishonor.

(3) Notice may be given in any reasonable manner. It may be oral or written and in any terms which identify the instrument and state that it has been dishonored. A misdescription which does not mislead the party notified does not vitiate the notice. Sending the instrument bearing a stamp, ticket or writing stating that acceptance or payment has been refused or sending a notice of debit with respect to the instrument is sufficient.

(4) Written notice is given when sent although it is not received.

(5) Notice to one partner is notice to each although the firm has been dissolved.

(6) When any party is in insolvency proceedings instituted after the issue of the instrument notice may be given either to the party or to the representative of his estate.

(7) When any party is dead or incompetent notice may be sent to his last known address or given to his personal representative.

(8) Notice operates for the benefit of all parties who have rights on the instrument against the party notified.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-508, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 675.07-675.21.

673.509 Protest; noting for protest.—

(1) A protest is a certificate of dishonor made under the hand and seal of a United States consul or vice consul or a notary public or other person authorized to certify dishonor by the law of the place where dishonor occurs. It may be made upon information satisfactory to such person.

(2) The protest must identify the instrument and certify either that due presentment has been made or the reason why it is excused and that the instrument has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment.

(3) The protest may also certify that notice of dishonor has been given to all parties or to specified parties.

(4) Subject to subsection (5) any necessary protest is due by the time that notice of dishonor is due.

(5) If, before protest is due, an instrument has been noted for protest by the officer to make protest, the protest may be made at any time thereafter as of the date of the noting.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-509, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 676.20, 676.21, 676.23, 676.25.

673.510 Evidence of dishonor and notice of dishonor.—The following are admissible as evidence and create a presumption of dishonor and of any notice of dishonor therein shown:

(1) A document regular in form as provided in the preceding section which purports to be a protest;

(2) The purported stamp or writing of the drawee, payor bank or presenting bank on the instrument or accompanying it stating that acceptance or payment has been refused for reasons consistent with dishonor;

(3) Any book or record of the drawee, payor bank, or any collecting bank kept in the usual course of business which shows dishonor, even though there is no evidence of who made the entry.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-510, U.C.C.

673.511 Waived or excused presentment, protest, or notice of dishonor, or delay therein.—

(1) Delay in presentment, protest or notice of dishonor is excused when the party is without notice that it is due or when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond his control and he exercises reasonable diligence after the cause of the delay ceases to operate.

(2) Presentment or notice or protest as the case may be is entirely excused when:

(a) The party to be charged has waived it expressly or by implication either before or after it is due; or

(b) Such party has himself dishonored the instrument or has countermanded payment or otherwise has no reason to expect or right to require that the instrument be accepted or paid; or

(c) By reasonable diligence the presentment or protest cannot be made or the notice given.

(3) Presentment is also entirely excused when:

(a) The maker, acceptor or drawee of any instrument except a documentary draft is dead or in insolvency proceedings instituted after the issue of the instrument; or

(b) Acceptance or payment is refused but not for want of proper presentment.

(4) Where a draft has been dishonored by nonacceptance a later presentment for payment and any notice of dishonor and protest for nonpayment are excused unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted.

(5) A waiver of protest is also a waiver of presentment and of notice of dishonor even though protest is not required.

(6) Where a waiver of presentment or notice or protest is embodied in the instrument itself it is binding upon all parties; but where it is written above the signature of an indorser it binds him only.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-511, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.82-674.84, 675.22, 675.23-675.25, 676.03, 676.16-676.18, 676.24.

PART VI*DISCHARGE

673.601 Discharge of parties.

673.602 Effect of discharge against holder in due course.

673.603 Payment or satisfaction.

673.604 Tender of payment.

673.605 Cancellation and renunciation.

673.606 Impairment of recourse or of collateral.

673.601 Discharge of parties.—

(1) The extent of the discharge of any party from liability on an instrument is governed by the sections on:

(a) Payment or satisfaction (s. 673.603); or

(b) Tender of payment (s. 673.604); or

(c) Cancellation or renunciation (s. 673.605); or

(d) Impairment of right of recourse or of collateral (s. 673.606); or

(e) Reacquisition of the instrument by a prior party (s. 673.208); or

(f) Fraudulent and material alteration (s. 673.407); or

(g) Certification of a check (s. 673.411); or

(h) Acceptance varying a draft (s. 673.412); or

(i) Unexcused delay in presentment or notice of dishonor or protest (s. 673.502).

(2) Any party is also discharged from his liability on an instrument to another party by any other act or agreement with such party which would discharge his simple contract for the payment of money.

(3) The liability of all parties is discharged when any party who has himself no right of action or recourse on the instrument:

(a) Reacquires the instrument in his own right; or

(b) Is discharged under any provision of this chapter, except as otherwise provided with respect to discharge for impairment of recourse or of collateral (s. 673.606).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-601, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 675.28, 675.29.

673.602 Effect of discharge against holder in due course.—No discharge of any party provided by this chapter is effective against a subsequent holder in due course unless he has notice thereof when he takes the instrument.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-602, U.C.C.

673.603 Payment or satisfaction.—

(1) The liability of any party is discharged to the extent of his payment or satisfaction to the holder even though it is made with knowledge of a claim of another person to the instrument unless prior to such payment or satisfaction the person making the claim either supplies indemnity deemed adequate by the party seeking the discharge or enjoins payment or satisfaction by order of a court of competent jurisdiction in an action in which the adverse claimant and the holder are parties. This subsection does not, however, result in the discharge of the liability:

(a) Of a party who in bad faith pays or satisfies a holder who acquired the instrument by theft or who (unless having the rights of a holder in due course) holds through one who so acquired it; or

(b) Of a party (other than an intermediary bank or a payor bank which is not a depository bank) who pays or satisfies the holder of an instrument which has been restrictively indorsed in a manner not consistent with the terms of such restrictive indorsement.

(2) Payment or satisfaction may be made with the consent of the holder by any person including a stranger to the instrument. Surrender of the instrument to such a person gives him the rights of a transferee (s. 673.201).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-603, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.53, 675.05, 675.28, 675.29, 676.36-676.40.

673.604 Tender of payment.—

(1) Any party making tender of full payment to a holder when or after it is due is discharged to the extent of all subsequent liability for interest, costs and attorney's fees.

(2) The holder's refusal of such tender wholly discharges any party who has a right of recourse against the party making the tender.

(3) Where the maker or acceptor of an instrument payable otherwise than on demand is able and ready to pay at every place of payment specified in the instrument when it is due, it is equivalent to tender.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-604, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.72, 675.28.

673.605 Cancellation and renunciation.—

(1) The holder of an instrument may even without consideration discharge any party:

(a) In any manner apparent on the face of the instrument or the indorsement, as by intentionally canceling the instrument or the party's signature by destruction or mutilation, or by striking out the party's signature; or

(b) By renouncing his rights by a writing signed and delivered or by surrender of the instrument to the party to be discharged.

(2) Neither cancellation nor renunciation without surrender of the instrument affects the title thereto.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-605, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.50, 675.28, 675.30, 675.31.

673.606 Impairment of recourse or of collateral.—

(1) The holder discharges any party to the instrument to the extent that without such party's consent the holder:

(a) Without express reservation of rights releases or agrees not to sue any person against whom the party has to the knowledge of the holder a right of recourse or agrees to suspend the right to enforce against such person the instrument or collateral or otherwise discharges such person, except that failure or delay in effecting any required presentment, protest or notice of dishonor with respect to any such person does not discharge any party as to whom presentment, protest or notice of dishonor is effective or unnecessary; or

(b) Unjustifiably impairs any collateral for the instrument given by or on behalf of the party or any person against whom he has a right of recourse.

(2) By express reservation of rights against a party with a right of recourse the holder preserves:

(a) All his rights against such party as of the time when the instrument was originally due; and

(b) The right of the party to pay the instrument as of that time; and

(c) All rights of such party to recourse against others.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-606, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 675.28.

PART VII

ADVICE OF INTERNATIONAL SIGHT DRAFT

673.701 Letter of advice of international sight draft.

673.701 Letter of advice of international sight draft.—

(1) A "letter of advice" is a drawer's communication to the drawee that a described draft has been drawn.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed when a bank receives from another bank a letter of advice of an international sight draft the drawee bank may immediately debit the drawer's account and stop the running of interest pro tanto. Such a debit and any resulting credit to any account covering outstanding drafts leaves in the drawer full power to stop payment or otherwise dispose of the amount and creates no trust or interest in favor of the holder.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed and except where a draft is drawn under a credit issued by the drawee, the drawee of an international sight draft owes the drawer no duty to pay an unadvised draft but if it does so and the draft is genuine, may appropriately debit the drawer's account.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-701, U.C.C.

PART VIII

MISCELLANEOUS

673.801 Drafts in a set.

673.802 Effect of instrument on obligation for which it is given.

673.803 Notice to third party.

673.804 Lost, destroyed or stolen instruments.

673.805 Instruments not payable to order or to bearer.

673.801 Drafts in a set.—

(1) Where a draft is drawn in a set of parts, each of which is numbered and expressed to be an order only if no other part has been honored, the whole of the parts constitutes one draft but a taker of any part may become a holder in due course of the draft.

(2) Any person who negotiates, indorses or accepts a single part of a draft drawn in a set thereby becomes liable to any holder in due course of that part as if it were the whole set, but as between different holders in due course to whom different parts have been negotiated the holder whose title first accrues has all rights to the draft and its proceeds.

(3) As against the drawee the first presented part of a draft drawn in a set is the part entitled to payment, or if a time draft to acceptance and payment. Acceptance of any subsequently presented part renders the drawee liable thereon under subsection (2). With respect both to a holder and to the drawer payment of a subsequently presented part of a draft payable at sight has the same effect as payment of a check notwithstanding an effective stop-order (s. 674.407).

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this section, where any part of a draft in a set is discharged by payment or otherwise the whole draft is discharged.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-801, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 676.41-676.46.

673.802 Effect of instrument on obligation for which it is given.—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed where an instrument is taken for an underlying obligation:

(a) The obligation is pro tanto discharged if a bank is drawer, maker or acceptor of the instrument and there is no recourse on the instrument against the underlying obligor; and

(b) In any other case the obligation is suspended pro tanto until the instrument is due or if it is payable on demand until its presentment. If the instrument is dishonored action may be maintained on either the instrument or the obligation; discharge of the underlying obligor on the instrument also discharges him on the obligation.

(2) The taking in good faith of a check which is not postdated does not of itself so extend the time on the original obligation as to discharge a surety.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-802, U.C.C.

673.803 Notice to third party.—Where a defendant is sued for breach of an obligation for which a third person is answerable over under this chapter he may give the third person written notice of the litigation, and the person notified may then give similar notice to any other person who is answerable over to him under this chapter. If the notice states that the person notified may come in and defend and that if the person notified does not do so he will in any action against him by the person giving the notice be bound by any determination of fact common to the 2 litigations, then unless after reasonable receipt of the notice the person notified does come in and defend he is so bound.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-803, U.C.C.

673.804 Lost, destroyed or stolen instruments.—The owner of an instrument which is lost, whether by destruction, theft or otherwise, may maintain an action in his own name and recover from any party liable thereon upon due proof of his ownership, the facts which prevent his production of the instrument and its terms. The court may require security indemnifying the defendant against loss by reason of further claims on the instrument.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-804, U.C.C.

673.805 Instruments not payable to order or to bearer.—This chapter applies to any instrument whose terms do not preclude transfer and which is otherwise negotiable within this chapter but which is not payable to order or to bearer, except that there can be no holder in due course of such an instrument.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 3-805, U.C.C.

CHAPTER 674

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE: BANK DEPOSITS AND COLLECTIONS

ARTICLE 4

Note.—Pursuant to s. 69, ch. 69-353, the editors have altered the numbers of all sections making up this chapter by deleting the digit and hyphen immediately following the decimal point. The purpose is to conform the numbering of the Code sections with the decimal numbering system used in other chapters of the Florida Statutes. The visual relationship between Florida Statutes section numbers and Code section number is not destroyed by this alteration; the digit preceding the decimal point coincides with the Code article number, and the digits following the decimal point coincide with the Code section numbers.

PART I GENERAL PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS (ss. 674.101-674.109)

PART II COLLECTION OF ITEMS; DEPOSITARY AND COLLECTING BANKS
(ss. 674.201-674.214)

PART III COLLECTION OF ITEMS; PAYOR BANKS (ss. 674.301-674.303)

PART IV RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN PAYOR BANK AND ITS CUSTOMER
(ss. 674.401-674.407)

PART V COLLECTION OF DOCUMENTARY DRAFTS (ss. 674.501-674.504)

PART I

GENERAL PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS

- 674.101 Short title.
- 674.102 Applicability.
- 674.103 Variation by agreement; measure of damages; certain action constituting ordinary care.
- 674.104 Definitions and index of definitions.
- 674.105 "Depositary bank"; "Intermediary bank"; "Collecting bank"; "Payor bank"; "Presenting bank"; "Remitting bank".
- 674.106 Separate office of a bank.
- 674.107 Time of receipt of items.
- 674.108 Delays.
- 674.109 Process of posting.

674.101 Short title.—Chapter 674 shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform Commercial Code—Bank Deposits and Collections."

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-101, U.C.C.

674.102 Applicability.—

(1) To the extent that items within this chapter are also within the scope of chapters 673 and 678, they are subject to the provisions of those chapters. In the event of conflict the provisions of this chapter govern those of chapter 673 but the provisions of chapter 678 govern those of this chapter.

(2) The liability of a bank for action or nonaction with respect to any item handled by it for purposes of presentment, payment or collection is governed by the law of the place where the bank is located. In the case of action or nonaction by or at a branch or separate office of a bank, its liability is governed by the law of the place where the branch or separate office is located.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-102, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 659.33.

674.103 Variation by agreement; measure of damages; certain action constituting ordinary care.—

(1) The effect of the provisions of this chapter may be varied by agreement except that no agreement can disclaim a bank's responsibility for its own lack of good faith or failure to exercise ordinary care or can limit the measure of damages for such lack or failure; but the parties may by agreement determine the standards by which such responsibility is to be measured if such standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

(2) Federal reserve regulations and operating letters, clearinghouse rules, and the like, have the effect of agreements under subsection (1), whether or not specifically assented to by all parties interested in items handled.

(3) Action or nonaction approved by this chapter or pursuant to federal reserve regulations or operating letters constitutes the exercise of ordinary care and, in the absence of special instructions, action or nonaction consistent with clearinghouse rules and the like or with a general banking usage not disapproved by this chapter, prima facie constitutes the exercise of ordinary care.

(4) The specification or approval of certain procedures by this chapter does not constitute disapproval of other procedures which may be reasonable under the circumstances.

(5) The measure of damages for failure to exercise ordinary care in handling an item is the amount of the item reduced by an amount which could not have been realized by the use of ordinary care, and where there is bad faith it includes other damages, if any, suffered by the party as a proximate consequence.

674.104 Definitions and index of definitions.—

(1) In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Account" means any account with a bank and includes a checking, time, interest or savings account;

(b) "Afternoon" means the period of a day between noon and midnight;

(c) "Banking day" means that part of any day on which a bank is open to the public for carrying on substantially all of its banking functions;

(d) "Clearinghouse" means any association of banks or other payors regularly clearing items;

(e) "Customer" means any person having an account with a bank or for whom a bank has agreed to collect items and includes a bank carrying an account with another bank;

(f) "Documentary draft" means any negotiable or nonnegotiable draft with accompanying documents, securities or other papers to be delivered against honor of the draft;

(g) "Item" means any instrument or electronically recorded, stored, or transmitted message for the payment of money even though it is not negotiable, but does not include money, and a photographic or other similar reproduction of an item may be treated in all respects as the original item by any payor bank or nonbank payor of the item upon being furnished with an affidavit that the original item has been lost or destroyed and upon being furnished with security satisfactory to such payor;

(h) "Midnight deadline" with respect to a bank is midnight on its next banking day following the banking day on which it receives the relevant item or notice or from which the time for taking action commences to run, whichever is later;

(i) "Properly payable" includes the availability of funds for payment at the time of decision to pay or dishonor;

(j) "Settle" means to pay in cash, by clearinghouse settlement, in a charge or credit or by remittance, or otherwise as instructed. A settlement may be either provisional or final;

(k) "Suspends payments" with respect to a bank means that it has been closed by order of the supervisory authorities, that a public officer has been appointed to take it over or that it ceases or refuses to make payments in the ordinary course of business.

674.105 "Depository bank"; "Intermediary bank"; "Collecting bank"; "Payor bank"; "Presenting bank"; "Remitting bank".—In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Depository bank" means the first bank to which an item is transferred for collection even though it is also the payor bank;

(2) "Payor bank" means a bank by which an item is payable as drawn or accepted;

(3) "Intermediary bank" means any bank to which an item is transferred in course of collection except the depository or payor bank;

(4) "Collecting bank" means any bank handling the item for collection except the payor bank;

(5) "Presenting bank" means any bank presenting an item except a payor bank;

(6) "Remitting bank" means any payor or intermediary bank remitting for an item.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-105, U.C.C.

674.106 Separate office of a bank.—A branch or separate office of a bank is a separate bank for the purpose of computing the time within which, and determining the place at or to which, action may be taken or notices or orders shall be given under this chapter and under chapter 673. The receipt of any notice or order by, or the knowledge of, one branch or separate office of a bank is not actual or constructive notice to, or knowledge of, any other branch or separate office of the same bank and does not impair the right of such other branch or separate office to be a holder in due course of an item.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 77-384; s. 173, ch. 79-164.

Note.—s. 4-106, U.C.C.

674.107 Time of receipt of items.—

(1) For the purpose of allowing time to process items, prove balances and make the necessary entries on its books to determine its position for the day, a bank may fix an afternoon hour of 2 p.m. or later as a cutoff hour for the handling of money and items and the making of entries on its books.

(2) Any item or deposit of money received on any day after a cutoff hour so fixed or after the close of the banking day may be treated as being received at the opening of the next banking day.

674.108 Delays.—

(1) Unless otherwise instructed, a collecting bank in a good faith effort to secure payment may, in the case of specific items and with or without the approval of any person involved, waive, modify or extend time limits imposed or permitted by this code for a period not in excess of an additional banking day without discharge of secondary parties and without liability to its transferor or any prior party.

(2) Delay by a collecting bank or payor bank beyond time limits prescribed or permitted by this code or by instructions is excused if caused by interruption of communication facilities, suspension of payments by another bank, war, emergency conditions or other circumstances beyond the control of the bank provided it exercises such diligence as the circumstances require.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-108, U.C.C.

674.109 Process of posting.—The “process of posting” means the usual procedure followed by a payor bank in determining to pay an item and in recording the payment including one or more of the following or other steps as determined by the bank:

- (1) Verification of any signature;
- (2) Ascertaining that sufficient funds are available;
- (3) Affixing a “paid” or other stamp;
- (4) Entering a charge or entry to a customer’s account;
- (5) Correcting or reversing an entry or erroneous action with respect to the item.

PART II

COLLECTION OF ITEMS; DEPOSITARY AND COLLECTING BANKS

- 674.201 Presumption and duration of agency status of collecting banks and provisional status of credits; applicability of chapter; item indorsed “pay any bank.”
- 674.202 Responsibility for collection; when action seasonable.
- 674.203 Effect of instructions.
- 674.204 Methods of sending and presenting; sending direct to payor bank.
- 674.205 Supplying missing indorsement; no notice from prior indorsement.
- 674.206 Transfer between banks.
- 674.207 Warranties of customer and collecting bank on transfer or presentment of items; time for claims.
- 674.208 Security interest of collecting bank in items, accompanying documents and proceeds.
- 674.209 When bank gives value for purposes of holder in due course.
- 674.210 Presentment by notice of item not payable by, through or at a bank; liability of secondary parties.
- 674.211 Media of remittance; provisional and final settlement in remittance cases.
- 674.212 Right of charge-back or refund.
- 674.213 Final payment of item by payor bank; when provisional debits and credits become final; when certain credits become available for withdrawal.
- 674.214 Insolvency and preference.

674.201 Presumption and duration of agency status of collecting banks and provisional status of credits; applicability of chapter; item indorsed “pay any bank.”—

- (1) Unless a contrary intent clearly appears and prior to the time that a settlement given by a collecting bank for an item is or becomes final (s. 674.211(3) and ss. 674.212 and 674.213) the bank is an agent or subagent of the owner of the item and any settlement given for the item is provisional. This provision applies regardless of the form of indorsement or lack of indorsement and even though credit given for the item is subject to immediate withdrawal as of right or is in fact withdrawn; but the continuance of ownership of an item by its owner and any rights of the owner to proceeds of the item are subject to rights of a collecting bank such as those resulting from outstanding advances on the item and valid rights of setoff. When an item is handled by banks for purposes of presentment, payment and collection, the relevant provisions of this chapter apply even though action of parties clearly establishes that a particular bank has purchased the item and is the owner of it.

(2) After an item has been indorsed with the words “pay any bank” or the like, only a bank may acquire the rights of a holder:

(a) Until the item has been returned to the customer initiating collection; or

(b) Until the item has been specially indorsed by a bank to a person who is not a bank.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-201, U.C.C.

674.202 Responsibility for collection; when action seasonable.—

(1) A collecting bank must use ordinary care in:

- (a) Presenting an item or sending it for presentment; and

(b) Sending notice of dishonor or nonpayment or returning an item other than a documentary draft to the bank’s transferor or directly to the depositary bank under s. 674.212(2) after learning that the item has not been paid or accepted, as the case may be; and

(c) Settling for an item when the bank receives final settlement; and

(d) Making or providing for any necessary protest; and

(e) Notifying its transferor of any loss or delay in transit within a reasonable time after discovery thereof.

(2) A collecting bank taking proper action before its midnight deadline following receipt of an item, notice or payment acts seasonably; taking proper action within a reasonably longer time may be seasonable but the bank has the burden of so establishing.

(3) Subject to subsection (1)(a), a bank is not liable for the insolvency, neglect, misconduct, mistake or default of another bank or person or for loss or destruction of an item in transit or in the possession of others.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-202, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.74.

674.203 Effect of instructions.—Subject to the provisions of chapter 673 concerning conversion of instruments (s. 673.419) and the provisions of both chapter 673 and this chapter concerning restrictive indorsements only a collecting bank’s transferor can give instructions which affect the bank or constitute notice to it and a collecting bank is not liable to prior parties for any action taken pursuant to such instructions or in accordance with any agreement with its transferor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 4-203, U.C.C.

674.204 Methods of sending and presenting; sending direct to payor bank.—

(1) A collecting bank must send items by reasonably prompt method taking into consideration any relevant instructions, the nature of the item, the number of such items on hand, and the cost of collection involved and the method generally used by it or others to present such items.

(2) A collecting bank may send:

(a) Any item direct to the payor bank;
(b) Any item to any nonbank payor if authorized by its transferor; and

(c) Any item other than documentary drafts to any nonbank payor, if authorized by federal reserve regulation or operating letter, clearinghouse rule, or the like.

(3) Presentment may be made by a presenting bank at a place where the payor bank has requested that presentment be made.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 4-204, U.C.C.

674.205 Supplying missing indorsement; no notice from prior indorsement.—

(1) A depository bank which has taken an item for collection may supply any indorsement of the customer which is necessary to title unless the item contains the words "payee's indorsement required" or the like. In the absence of such a requirement a statement placed on the item by the depository bank to the effect that the item was deposited by a customer or credited to his account is effective as the customer's indorsement.

(2) An intermediary bank, or payor bank which is not a depository bank, is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by a restrictive indorsement of any person except the bank's immediate transferor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 4-205, U.C.C.

674.206 Transfer between banks.—Any agreed method which identifies the transferor bank is sufficient for the item's further transfer to another bank.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 4-206, U.C.C.

674.207 Warranties of customer and collecting bank on transfer or presentment of items; time for claims.—

(1) Each customer or collecting bank who obtains payment or acceptance of an item and each prior customer and collecting bank warrants to the payor bank or other payor who in good faith pays or accepts the item that:

(a) He has a good title to the item or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title; and

(b) He has no knowledge that the signature of the maker or drawer is unauthorized, except that this warranty is not given by any customer or collecting bank that is a holder in due course and acts in good faith:

1. To a maker with respect to the maker's own signature; or

2. To a drawer with respect to the drawer's own signature, whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

3. To an acceptor of an item if the holder in due course took the item after the acceptance or obtained the acceptance without knowledge that the drawer's signature was unauthorized; and

(c) The item has not been materially altered, except that this warranty is not given by any customer or collecting bank that is a holder in due course and acts in good faith:

1. To the maker of a note; or

2. To the drawer of a draft whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

3. To the acceptor of an item with respect to an alteration made prior to the acceptance if the holder in due course took the item after the acceptance, even though the acceptance provided "payable as originally drawn" or equivalent terms; or

4. To the acceptor of an item with respect to an alteration made after the acceptance.

(2) Each customer and collecting bank who transfers an item and receives a settlement or other consideration for it warrants to his transferee and to any subsequent collecting bank who takes the item in good faith that:

(a) He has a good title to the item or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and the transfer is otherwise rightful; and

(b) All signatures are genuine or authorized; and

(c) The item has not been materially altered; and

(d) No defense of any party is good against him; and

(e) He has no knowledge of any insolvency proceeding instituted with respect to the maker or acceptor or the drawer of an unaccepted item.

In addition each customer and collecting bank so transferring an item and receiving a settlement or other consideration engages that upon dishonor and any necessary notice of dishonor and protest he will take up the item.

(3) The warranties and the engagement to honor set forth in the two preceding subsections arise notwithstanding the absence of indorsement or words of guaranty or warranty in the transfer or presentment and a collecting bank remains liable for their breach despite remittance to its transferor. Damages for breach of such warranties or engagement to honor shall not exceed the consideration received by the customer or collecting bank responsible plus finance charges and expenses related to the item, if any.

(4) Unless a claim for breach of warranty under this section is made within a reasonable time after the person claiming learns of the breach, the person liable is discharged to the extent of any loss caused by the delay in making claim.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-207, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.67, 674.71.

674.208 Security interest of collecting bank in items, accompanying documents and proceeds.—

(1) A bank has a security interest in an item and any accompanying documents or the proceeds of either:

(a) In case of an item deposited in an account to the extent to which credit given for the item has been withdrawn or applied;

(b) In case of an item for which it has given credit available for withdrawal as of right, to the extent of the credit given whether or not the credit is drawn upon and whether or not there is a right of charge-back; or

(c) If it makes an advance on or against the item.

(2) When credit which has been given for several items received at one time or pursuant to a single agreement is withdrawn or applied in part the security interest remains upon all the items, any accompanying documents or the proceeds of either. For the purpose of this section, credits first given are first withdrawn.

(3) Receipt by a collecting bank of a final settlement for an item is a realization on its security interest in the item, accompanying documents and proceeds. To the extent and so long as the bank does not receive final settlement for the item or give up possession of the item or accompanying documents for purposes other than collection, the security interest continues and is subject to the provisions of chapter 679 except that:

(a) No security agreement is necessary to make the security interest enforceable (s. 679.203(1)(b)); and

(b) No filing is required to perfect the security interest; and

(c) The security interest has priority over conflicting perfected security interests in the item, accompanying documents or proceeds.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-208, U.C.C.

674.209 When bank gives value for purposes of holder in due course.—For purposes of determining its status as a holder in due course, the bank has given value to the extent that it has a security interest in an item provided that the bank otherwise complies with the requirements of s. 673.302 on what constitutes a holder in due course.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-209, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.30.

674.210 Presentment by notice of item not payable by, through or at a bank; liability of secondary parties.—

(1) Unless otherwise instructed, a collecting bank may present an item not payable by, through or at a bank by sending to the party to accept or pay a written notice that the bank holds the item for acceptance or payment. The notice must be sent in time to be received on or before the day when presentment is due and the bank must meet any requirement of the party to accept or pay under s. 673.505 by the close of the bank's next banking day after it knows of the requirement.

(2) Where presentment is made by notice and neither honor nor request for compliance with a requirement under s. 673.505 is received by the close of business on the day after maturity or in the case of demand items by the close of business on the third banking day after notice was sent, the presenting bank may treat the item as dishonored and charge any secondary party by sending him notice of the facts.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-210, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.77.

674.211 Media of remittance; provisional and final settlement in remittance cases.—

(1) A collecting bank may take in settlement of an item:

(a) A check of the remitting bank or of another bank on any bank except the remitting bank; or

(b) A cashier's check or similar primary obligation of a remitting bank which is a member of or clears through a member of the same clearinghouse or group as the collecting bank; or

(c) Appropriate authority to charge an account of the remitting bank or of another bank with the collecting bank; or

(d) If the item is drawn upon or payable by a person other than a bank, a cashier's check, certified check or other bank check or obligation.

(2) If before its midnight deadline the collecting bank properly dishonors a remittance check or authorization to charge on itself or presents or forwards for collection a remittance instrument of or on another bank which is of a kind approved by subsection (1) or has not been authorized by it, the collecting bank is not liable to prior parties in the event of the dishonor of such check, instrument, or authorization.

(3) A settlement for an item by means of a remittance instrument or authorization to charge is or becomes a final settlement as to both the person making and the person receiving the settlement:

(a) If the remittance instrument or authorization to charge is of a kind approved by subsection (1) or has not been authorized by the person receiving the settlement and in either case the person receiving the settlement acts seasonably before its midnight deadline in presenting, forwarding for collection or paying the instrument or authorization—at the time the remittance instrument or authorization is finally paid by the payor by which it is payable;

(b) If the person receiving the settlement has authorized remittance by a nonbank check or obligation or by a cashier's check or similar primary obligation of or a check upon the payor or other remitting bank which is not of a kind approved by subsection (1)(b)—at the time of the receipt of such remittance check or obligation; or

(c) If in a case not covered by paragraphs (a) or (b) the person receiving the settlement fails to seasonably present, forward for collection, pay or return a remittance instrument or authorization to it to charge before its midnight deadline—at such midnight deadline.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-211, U.C.C.

674.212 Right of charge-back or refund.—

(1) If a collecting bank has made provisional settlement with its customer for an item and itself fails by reason of dishonor, suspension of payments by a bank or otherwise to receive a settlement for the item which is or becomes final, the bank may revoke the settlement given by it, charge back the amount of any credit given for the item to its customer's account or obtain refund from its customer whether or not it is able to return the items if by its midnight deadline or within a longer reasonable time after it learns the facts it returns the item or sends notification of the facts. These rights to revoke, charge back and obtain refund terminate if and when a settlement for the item received by the bank is or becomes final (ss. 674.211(3) and 674.213(2), (3)).

(2) Within the time and manner prescribed by this section and s. 674.301, an intermediary or payor bank, as the case may be, may return an unpaid item directly to the depository bank and may send for collection a draft on the depository bank and obtain reimbursement. In such case, if the depository bank has received provisional settlement for the item, it must reimburse the bank drawing the draft and any provisional credits for the item between banks shall become and remain final.

(3) A depository bank which is also the payor may charge back the amount of an item to its customer's account or obtain refund in accordance with the section governing return of an item received by a payor bank for credit on its books (s. 674.301).

(4) The right to charge back is not affected by:

(a) Prior use of the credit given for the item; or
(b) Failure by any bank to exercise ordinary care with respect to the item but any bank so failing remains liable.

(5) A failure to charge back or claim refund does not affect other rights of the bank against the customer or any other party.

(6) If credit is given in dollars as the equivalent of the value of an item payable in a foreign currency the dollar amount of any charge-back or refund shall be calculated on the basis of the buying sight rate for the foreign currency prevailing on the day when the person entitled to the charge-back or refund learns that it will not receive payment in ordinary course.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 4-212, U.C.C.

674.213 Final payment of item by payor bank; when provisional debits and credits become final; when certain credits become available for withdrawal.—

(1) An item is finally paid by a payor bank when the bank has done any of the following, whichever happens first:

(a) Paid the item in cash; or
(b) Settled for the item without reserving a right to revoke the settlement and without having such right under statute, clearinghouse rule or agreement; or

(c) Completed the process of posting the item to the indicated account of the drawer, maker or other person to be charged therewith; or

(d) Made a provisional settlement for the item and failed to revoke the settlement in the time and manner permitted by statute, clearinghouse rule or agreement and has not returned the item directly to the depository bank within the time and manner provided in s. 674.212(2). Upon a final payment under paragraphs (b), (c) or (d) the payor bank shall be accountable for the amount of the item.

(2) If provisional settlement for an item between the presenting and payor banks is made through a clearinghouse or by debits or credits in an account between them, then to the extent that provisional debits or credits for the item are entered in accounts between the presenting and payor banks or between the presenting and successive prior collecting banks seriatim, they become final upon final payment of the item by the payor bank.

(3) If a collecting bank receives a settlement for an item which is or becomes final (ss. 674.211(3), 674.213(2)) the bank is accountable to its customer for the amount of the item and any provisional credit given for the item in an account with its customer becomes final.

(4) Subject to any right of the bank to apply the credit to an obligation of the customer, credit given by a bank for an item in an account with its customer becomes available for withdrawal as of right:

(a) In any case where the bank has received a provisional settlement for the item—when such settlement becomes final and the bank has had a reasonable time to learn that the settlement is final;

(b) In any case where the bank is both a depository bank and a payor bank and the item is finally paid—at the opening of the bank's second banking day following receipt of the item.

(5) A deposit of money in a bank is final when made but, subject to any right of the bank to apply the deposit to an obligation of the customer, the deposit becomes available for withdrawal as of right at the opening of the bank's next banking day following receipt of the deposit.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 67-172.
Note.—s. 4-213, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 676.55.

674.214 Insolvency and preference.—

(1) Any item in or coming into the possession of a payor or collecting bank which suspends payment and which item is not finally paid shall be returned by the receiver, trustee or agent in charge of the closed bank to the presenting bank or the closed bank's customer.

(2) If a payor bank finally pays an item and suspends payments without making a settlement for the item with its customer or the presenting bank which settlement is or becomes final, the owner of the item has a preferred claim against the payor bank.

(3) If a payor bank gives or a collecting bank gives or receives a provisional settlement for an item and thereafter suspends payments, the suspension does not prevent or interfere with the settlement becoming final if such finality occurs automatically upon the lapse of certain time or the happening of certain events (ss. 674.211(3), 674.213(1)(d), (2), (3)).

(4) If a collecting bank receives from subsequent parties settlement for an item which settlement is or becomes final and suspends payments without making a settlement for the item with its customer which is or becomes final, the owner of the item has a preferred claim against such collecting bank.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

PART III

COLLECTION OF ITEMS; PAYOR BANKS

- 674.301 Deferred posting; recovery of payment by return of items; time of dishonor.
- 674.302 Payor bank's responsibility for late return of item.
- 674.303 When items subject to notice, stop-order, legal process or setoff; order in which items may be charged or certified.

674.301 Deferred posting; recovery of payment by return of items; time of dishonor.—

(1) Where an authorized settlement for a demand item (other than a documentary draft) received by a payor bank otherwise than for immediate payment over the counter has been made before midnight of the banking day of receipt the payor bank may revoke the settlement and recover any payment if before it has made final payment (s. 674.213(1)) and before its midnight deadline it:

- (a) Returns the item; or
- (b) Sends written notice of dishonor or nonpayment if the item is held for protest or is otherwise unavailable for return.

(2) If a demand item is received by a payor bank for credit on its books it may return such item or send notice of dishonor and may revoke any credit given or recover the amount thereof withdrawn by its customer, if it acts within the time limit and in the manner specified in the preceding subsection.

(3) Unless previous notice of dishonor has been sent an item is dishonored at the time when for purposes of dishonor it is returned or notice sent in accordance with this section.

(4) An item is returned:

(a) As to an item received through a clearinghouse, when it is delivered to the presenting or last collecting bank or to the clearinghouse or is sent or delivered in accordance with its rules; or

(b) In all other cases, when it is sent or delivered to the bank's customer or transferor or pursuant to his instructions.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-301, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 676.55.

674.302 Payor bank's responsibility for late return of item.—In the absence of a valid defense such as breach of a presentment warranty (s. 674.207(1)), settlement effected or the like, if an item is presented on and received by a payor bank the bank is accountable for the amount of:

(1) A demand item other than a documentary draft whether properly payable or not if the bank, in any case where it is not also the depository bank, retains the item beyond midnight of the banking day of receipt without settling for it or, regardless of whether it is also the depository bank, does not pay or return the item or send notice of dishonor until after its midnight deadline; or

(2) Any other properly payable item unless within the time allowed for acceptance or payment of that item the bank either accepts or pays the item or returns it and accompanying documents.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-302, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 676.55.

(1) Any knowledge, notice or stop-order received by, legal process served upon or setoff exercised by a payor bank, whether or not effective under other rules of law to terminate, suspend or modify the bank's right or duty to pay an item or to charge its customer's account for the item, comes too late to so terminate, suspend or modify such right or duty if the knowledge, notice, stop-order or legal process is received or served and a reasonable time for the bank to act thereon expires or the setoff is exercised after the bank has done any of the following:

- (a) Accepted or certified the item;
- (b) Paid the item in cash;
- (c) Settled for the item without reserving a right to revoke the settlement and without having such right under statute, clearinghouse rule or agreement;

(d) Completed the process of posting the item to the indicated account of the drawer, maker or other person to be charged therewith or otherwise has evidenced by examination of such indicated account and by action its decision to pay the item; or

(e) Become accountable for the amount of the item under s. 674.213(1)(d) and s. 674.302 dealing with the payor bank's responsibility for late return of items.

(2) Subject to the provisions of subsection (1) items may be accepted, paid, certified or charged to the indicated account of its customer in any order convenient to the bank.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-303, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 676.55, 659.26.

PART IV

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN PAYOR BANK AND ITS CUSTOMER

- 674.401 When bank may charge customer's account.
- 674.402 Bank's liability to customer for wrongful dishonor.
- 674.403 Customer's right to stop payment; burden of proof of loss.
- 674.404 Bank not obligated to pay check more than 6 months old.
- 674.405 Death or incompetence of customer.
- 674.406 Customer's duty to discover and report unauthorized signature or alteration.
- 674.407 Payor bank's right to subrogation on improper payment.

674.401 When bank may charge customer's account.—

(1) As against its customer, a bank may charge against his account any item which is otherwise properly payable from that account even though the charge creates an overdraft.

(2) A bank which in good faith makes payment to a holder may charge the indicated account of its customer according to:

- (a) The original tenor of his altered item; or
- (b) The tenor of his completed item, even though the bank knows the item has been completed unless the bank has notice that the completion was improper.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-401, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.15-674.17, 675.32.

674.402 Bank's liability to customer for wrongful dishonor.—A payor bank is liable to its customer for damages proximately caused by the wrongful dishonor of an item. When the dishonor occurs through mistake liability is limited to actual damages proved. If so proximately caused and proved damages may include damages for an arrest or prosecution of the customer or other consequential damages. Whether any consequential damages are proximately caused by the wrongful dishonor is a question of fact to be determined in each case.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-402, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 659.33.

674.403 Customer's right to stop payment; burden of proof of loss.—

(1) A customer, or any person authorized to sign checks or make withdrawals on or from an account, may stop payment of any item payable, for or drawn against such customer's or customers' account but the same shall not be effective and the bank may disregard the same unless the order is in writing, is signed by such customer or authorized person, describes with certainty the item on which payment is to be stopped, and is served upon and received by an officer of the bank at the bankinghouse during regular banking hours and in such time and in such manner as to afford the bank a reasonable opportunity to act on it prior to the happening of any of the events described in s. 674.303, and in any event no bank shall be responsible or liable for failure to comply with any such order on the day the same is served upon or received by such bank unless such omission or failure to comply with the same on the day received result from the willful and intentional disregard of such order.

(2) An order may be disregarded by the bank 6 months after its receipt unless renewed in writing.

(3) The bank may be liable to its customer for the actual loss incurred by the customer resulting from the wrongful payment of an item contrary to a valid and binding stop-payment order, not exceeding the amount of the item unless the bank is guilty of gross negligence or unless such wrongful payment was made as a result of the willful and intentional disregard by the bank of such order. The burden of establishing the fact and amount of loss resulting from the wrongful payment of an item contrary to a binding stop-payment order is on the customer.

History.—Art. 10, s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—The above section is not identical with the 1962 official U.C.C. text.

Note.—s. 4-403, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 659.32.

674.404 Bank not obligated to pay check more than 6 months old.—A bank is under no obligation to a customer having a checking account to pay a check, other than a certified check, which is presented more than 6 months after its date, but it may charge its customer's account for a payment made thereafter in good faith.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-404, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 659.31.

674.405 Death or incompetence of customer.—

(1) A payor or collecting bank's authority to accept, pay or collect an item or to account for proceeds of its collection if otherwise effective is not rendered ineffective by incompetence of a customer of either bank existing at the time the item is issued or its collection is undertaken if the bank does not know of an adjudication of incompetence. Neither death nor incompetence of a customer revokes such authority to accept, pay, collect or account until the bank knows of the fact of death or of an adjudication of incompetence and has reasonable opportunity to act on it.

(2) Even with knowledge a bank may for 10 days after the date of death pay or certify checks drawn on or prior to that date unless ordered to stop payment by a person claiming an interest in the account.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-405, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 659.39, 659.40.

674.406 Customer's duty to discover and report unauthorized signature or alteration.—

(1) When a bank sends to its customer a statement of account accompanied by items paid in good faith in support of the debit entries or holds the statement and items pursuant to a request or instructions of its customer or otherwise in a reasonable manner makes the statement and items available to the customer, the customer must exercise reasonable care and promptness to examine the statement and items to discover his unauthorized signature or any alteration on an item and must notify the bank promptly after discovery thereof.

(2) If the bank establishes that the customer failed with respect to an item to comply with the duties imposed on the customer by subsection (1) the customer is precluded from asserting against the bank:

(a) His unauthorized signature or any alteration on the item if the bank also establishes that it suffered a loss by reason of such failure; and

(b) An unauthorized signature or alteration by the same wrongdoer on any other item paid in good faith by the bank after the first item and statement was available to the customer for a reasonable period not exceeding 14 calendar days and before the bank receives notification from the customer of any such unauthorized signature or alteration.

(3) The preclusion under subsection (2) does not apply if the customer establishes lack of ordinary care on the part of the bank in paying the item(s).

(4) Without regard to care or lack of care of either the customer or the bank a customer who does not within 1 year from the time the statement and items are made available to the customer (subsection (1)) discover and report his unauthorized signature or any alteration on the face or back of the item or does not within 3 years from that time discover and report any unauthorized indorsement is precluded from asserting against the bank such unauthorized signature or indorsement or such alteration.

(5) If under this section a payor bank has a valid defense against a claim of a customer upon or resulting from payment of an item and waives or fails upon request to assert the defense the bank may not assert against any collecting bank or other prior party presenting or transferring the item a claim based upon the unauthorized signature or alteration giving rise to the customer's claim.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-406, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 659.37, cf.—s. 659.35 Limitations; statements as correct.

674.407 Payor bank's right to subrogation on improper payment.—If a payor bank has paid an item over the stop-payment order of the drawer or maker or otherwise under circumstances giving a basis for objection by the drawer or maker, to prevent unjust enrichment and only to the extent necessary to prevent loss to the bank by reason of its payment of the item, the payor bank shall be subrogated to the rights:

(1) Of any holder in due course on the item against the drawer or maker; and

(2) Of the payee or any other holder of the item against the drawer or maker either on the item or under the transaction out of which the item arose; and

(3) Of the drawer or maker against the payee or any other holder of the item with respect to the transaction out of which the item arose.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-407, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 659.34.

PART V

COLLECTION OF DOCUMENTARY DRAFTS

674.501 Handling of documentary drafts; duty to send for presentment and to notify customer of dishonor.

674.502 Presentment of "on arrival" drafts.

674.503 Responsibility of presenting bank for documents and goods; report of reasons for dishonor; referee in case of need.

674.504 Privilege of presenting bank to deal with goods; security interest for expenses.

674.501 Handling of documentary drafts; duty to send for presentment and to notify customer of dishonor.—A bank which takes a documentary draft for collection must present or send the draft and accompanying documents for presentment and upon learning that the draft has not been paid or accepted in due course must seasonably notify its customer of such fact even though it may have discounted or bought the draft or extended credit available for withdrawal as of right.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-501, U.C.C.

674.502 Presentment of "on arrival" drafts.

When a draft or the relevant instructions require presentment "on arrival," "when goods arrive" or the like, the collecting bank need not present until in its judgment a reasonable time for arrival of the goods has expired. Refusal to pay or accept because the goods have not arrived is not dishonor; the bank must notify its transferor of such refusal but need not present the draft again until it is instructed to do so or learns of the arrival of the goods.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-502, U.C.C.

674.503 Responsibility of presenting bank for documents and goods; report of reasons for dishonor; referee in case of need.—Unless otherwise instructed and except as provided in chapter 675 a bank presenting a documentary draft:

(1) Must deliver the documents to the drawee on acceptance of the draft if it is payable more than 3 days after presentment; otherwise, only on payment; and

(2) Upon dishonor, either in the case of presentment for acceptance or presentment for payment, may seek and follow instructions from any referee in case of need designated in the draft or if the presenting bank does not choose to utilize his services it must use diligence and good faith to ascertain the reason for dishonor, must notify its transferor of the dishonor and of the results of its effort to ascertain the reasons therefor and must request instructions.

But the presenting bank is under no obligation with respect to goods represented by the documents except to follow any reasonable instructions seasonably received; it has a right to reimbursement for any expense incurred in following instructions and to prepayment of or indemnity for such expenses.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 4-503, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 676.04.

674.504 Privilege of presenting bank to deal with goods; security interest for expenses.

(1) A presenting bank which, following the dishonor of a documentary draft, has seasonably requested instructions but does not receive them within a reasonable time may store, sell, or otherwise deal with the goods in any reasonable manner.

(2) For its reasonable expenses incurred by action under subsection (1) the presenting bank has a lien upon the goods or their proceeds, which may be foreclosed in the same manner as an unpaid seller's lien.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

CHAPTER 675

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE: LETTERS OF CREDIT

ARTICLE 5

Note.—Pursuant to s. 69, ch. 69-353, the editors have altered the numbers of all sections making up this chapter by deleting the digit and hyphen immediately following the decimal point. The purpose is to conform the numbering of the Code sections with the decimal numbering system used in other chapters of the Florida Statutes. The visual relationship between Florida Statutes section numbers and Code section number is not destroyed by this alteration; the digit preceding the decimal point coincides with the Code article number, and the digits following the decimal point coincide with the Code section numbers.

675.101 Short title.—Chapter 675 shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform Commercial Code—Letters of Credit."

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 5-101, U.C.C.

675.102 Scope.—

- (1) This chapter applies:
  - (a) To a credit issued by a bank if the credit requires a documentary draft or a documentary demand for payment; and
  - (b) To a credit issued by a person other than a bank if the credit requires that the draft or demand for payment be accompanied by a document of title; and
  - (c) To a credit issued by a bank or other person if the credit is not within paragraphs (a) or (b) but conspicuously states that it is a letter of credit or is conspicuously so entitled.
- (2) Unless the engagement meets the requirements of subsection (1), this chapter does not apply to engagements to make advances or to honor drafts or demands for payment, to authorities to pay or purchase, to guarantees or to general agreements.
- (3) This chapter deals with some but not all of the rules and concepts of letters of credit as such rules or concepts have developed prior to this act or may hereafter develop. The fact that this chapter states a rule does not by itself require, imply or negate application of the same or a converse rule to a situation not provided for or to a person not specified by this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 5-102, U.C.C.

675.103 Definitions.—

(1) In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Credit" or "letter of credit" means an engagement by a bank or other person made at the request of a customer and of a kind within the scope of this chapter (s. 675.102) that the issuer will honor drafts or other demands for payment upon compliance with the conditions specified in the credit. A credit shall clearly state whether it is revocable or irrevocable and in the absence of such statement shall be presumed to be irrevocable. The engagement may be either an agreement to honor or a statement that the bank or other person is authorized to honor.

(b) A "documentary draft" or a "documentary demand for payment" is one honor of which is conditioned upon the presentation of a document or documents. "Document" means any paper including document of title, security, invoice, certificate, notice of default and the like.

(c) An "issuer" is a bank or other person issuing a credit.

(d) A "beneficiary" of a credit is a person who is entitled under its terms to draw or demand payment.

(e) An "advising bank" is a bank which gives notification of the issuance of a credit by another bank.

(f) A "confirming bank" is a bank which engages either that it will itself honor a credit already issued by another bank or that such a credit will be honored by the issuer or a third bank.

(g) A "customer" is a buyer or other person who causes an issuer to issue a credit. The term also includes a bank which procures issuance or confirmation on behalf of that bank's customer.

(2) Other definitions applying to this chapter and the sections in which they appear are:

"Notation of credit," s. 675.108.

"Presenter," s. 675.112(3).

(3) Definitions in other chapters applying to this chapter and the sections in which they appear are:

"Accept" or "Acceptance," s. 673.410.

"Contract for sale," s. 672.106.

"Draft," s. 673.104.

"Holder in due course," s. 673.302.

"Midnight deadline," s. 674.104.

"Security," s. 678.102.

(4) In addition, chapter 671 contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—The above section is not identical with the 1962 official U.C.C. text.

Note.—s. 5-103, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 676.06.

675.104 Formal requirements; signing.—

(1) Except as otherwise required in s. 675.102(1)(c) on scope, no particular form of phrasing is required for a credit. A credit must be in writing and signed by the issuer and a confirmation must be in writing and signed by the confirming bank. A modification of the terms of a credit or confirmation must be signed by the issuer or confirming bank.

(2) A telegram may be a sufficient signed writing if it identifies its sender by an authorized authentication. The authentication may be in code and the authorized naming of the issuer in an advice of credit is a sufficient signing.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 5-104, U.C.C.

675.105 Consideration.—No consideration is necessary to establish a credit or to enlarge or otherwise modify its terms.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 5-105, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.27, 674.31.

675.106 Time and effect of establishment of credit.—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed a credit is established:

(a) As regards the customer as soon as a letter of credit is sent to him or the letter of credit or an authorized written advice of its issuance is sent to the beneficiary; and

(b) As regards the beneficiary when he receives a letter of credit or an authorized written advice of its issuance.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed once an irrevocable credit is established as regards the customer it can be modified or revoked only with the consent of the customer and once it is established as regards the beneficiary it can be modified or revoked only with his consent.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed after a revocable credit is established it may be modified or revoked by the issuer without notice to or consent from the customer or beneficiary.

(4) Notwithstanding any modification or revocation or a revocable credit any person authorized to honor or negotiate under the terms of the original credit is entitled to reimbursement for or honor of any draft or demand for payment duly honored or negotiated before receipt of notice of the modification or revocation and the issuer in turn is entitled to reimbursement from its customer.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 5-106, U.C.C.

675.107 Advice of credit; confirmation; error in statement of terms.—

(1) Unless otherwise specified an advising bank by advising a credit issued by another bank does not assume any obligation to honor drafts drawn or demands for payment made under the credit but it does assume obligation for the accuracy of its own statement.

(2) A confirming bank by confirming a credit becomes directly obligated on the credit to the extent of its confirmation as though it were its issuer and acquires the rights of an issuer.

(3) Even though an advising bank incorrectly advises the terms of a credit it has been authorized to advise the credit is established as against the issuer to the extent of its original terms.

(4) Unless otherwise specified the customer bears as against the issuer all risks of transmission and reasonable translation or interpretation of any message relating to a credit.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 5-107, U.C.C.

675.108 "Notation credit"; exhaustion of credit.—

(1) A credit which specifies that any person purchasing or paying drafts drawn or demands for payment made under it must note the amount of the draft or demand on the letter or advice of credit is a "notation credit."

(2) Under a notation credit:

(a) A person paying the beneficiary or purchasing a draft or demand for payment from him acquires a right to honor only if the appropriate notation is made and by transferring or forwarding for honor the documents under the credit such a person warrants to the issuer that the notation has been made; and

(b) Unless the credit or a signed statement that an appropriate notation has been made accompanies the draft or demand for payment the issuer may delay honor until evidence of notation has been procured which is satisfactory to it but its obligation and that of its customer continue for a reasonable time not exceeding 30 days to obtain such evidence.

(3) If the credit is not a notation credit:

(a) The issuer may honor complying drafts or demands for payment presented to it in the order in which they are presented and is discharged pro tanto by honor of any such draft or demand;

(b) As between competing good faith purchasers of complying drafts or demands the person first purchasing has priority over a subsequent purchaser even though the later purchased draft or demand has been first honored.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 5-108, U.C.C.

675.109 Issuer's obligation to its customer.—

(1) An issuer's obligation to its customer includes good faith and observance of any general banking usage but unless otherwise agreed does not include liability or responsibility:

(a) For performance of the underlying contract for sale or other transaction between the customer and the beneficiary; or

(b) For any act or omission of any person other than itself or its own branch or for loss or destruction of a draft, demand or document in transit or in the possession of others; or

(c) Based on knowledge or lack of knowledge of any usage of any particular trade.

(2) An issuer must examine documents with care so as to ascertain that on their face they appear to comply with the terms of the credit but unless otherwise agreed assumes no liability or responsibility for the genuineness, falsification or effect of any document which appears on such examination to be regular on its face.

(3) A nonbank issuer is not bound by any banking usage of which it has no knowledge.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 5-109, U.C.C.

675.110 Availability of credit in portions; presenter's reservation of lien or claim.—

(1) Unless otherwise specified a credit may be used in portions in the discretion of the beneficiary.

(2) Unless otherwise specified a person by presenting a documentary draft or demand for payment under a credit relinquishes upon its honor all claims to the documents and a person by transferring such draft or demand or causing such presentment authorizes such relinquishment. An explicit reservation of claim makes the draft or demand noncomplying.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 5-110, U.C.C.

675.111 Warranties on transfer and presentment.—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed the beneficiary by transferring or presenting a documentary draft or demand for payment warrants to all interested parties that the necessary conditions of the credit have been complied with. This is in addition to any warranties arising under chapters 673, 674, 677 and 678.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed a negotiating, advising, confirming, collecting or issuing bank presenting or transferring a draft or demand for payment under a credit warrants only the matters warranted by a collecting bank under chapter 674 and any such bank transferring a document warrants only the matters warranted by an intermediary under chapters 677 and 678.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 5-111, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 675.32.

675.112 Time allowed for honor or rejection; withholding honor or rejection by consent; "presenter."—

(1) A bank to which a documentary draft or demand for payment is presented under a credit may without dishonor of the draft, demand or credit:

(a) Defer honor until the close of the third banking day following receipt of the documents; and

(b) Further defer honor if the presenter has expressly or impliedly consented thereto.

Failure to honor within the time here specified constitutes dishonor of the draft or demand and of the credit.

(2) Upon dishonor the bank may unless otherwise instructed fulfill its duty to return the draft or demand and the documents by holding them at the disposal of the presenter and sending him an advice to that effect.

(3) "Presenter" means any person presenting a draft or demand for payment for honor under a credit even though that person is a confirming bank or other correspondent which is acting under an issuer's authorization.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 5-112, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 676.07.

675.113 Indemnities.—

(1) A bank seeking to obtain (whether for itself or another) honor, negotiation or reimbursement under a credit may give an indemnity to induce such honor, negotiation or reimbursement.

(2) An indemnity agreement inducing honor, negotiation or reimbursement:

(a) Unless otherwise explicitly agreed applies to defects in the documents but not in the goods; and

(b) Unless a longer time is explicitly agreed expires at the end of 10 business days following receipt of the documents by the ultimate customer unless notice of objection is sent before such expiration date. The ultimate customer may send notice of objection to the person from whom he received the documents and any bank receiving such notice is under a duty to send notice to its transferor before its midnight deadline.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 5-113, U.C.C.

675.114 Issuer's duty and privilege to honor; right to reimbursement.—

(1) An issuer must honor a draft or demand for payment which complies with the terms of the relevant credit regardless of whether the goods or documents conform to the underlying contract for sale or other contract between the customer and the beneficiary. The issuer is not excused from honor of such a draft or demand by reason of an additional general term that all documents must be satisfactory to the issuer, but an issuer may require that specified documents must be satisfactory to it.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed when documents appear on their face to comply with the terms of a credit but a required document does not in fact conform to the warranties made on negotiation or transfer of a document of title (s. 677.507) or of a security (s. 678.306) or is forged or fraudulent or there is fraud in the transaction:

(a) The issuer must honor the draft or demand for payment if honor is demanded by a negotiating bank or other holder of the draft or demand which has taken the draft or demand under the credit and under circumstances which would make it a holder in due course (s. 673.302) and in an appropriate case would make it a person to whom a document of title has been duly negotiated (s. 677.502) or a bona fide purchaser of a security (s. 678.302); and

(b) In all other cases as against its customer, an issuer acting in good faith may honor the draft or demand for payment despite notification from the customer of fraud, forgery or other defect not apparent on the face of the documents but a court of appropriate jurisdiction may enjoin such honor.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed an issuer which has duly honored a draft or demand for payment is entitled to immediate reimbursement of any payment made under the credit and to be put in effectively available funds not later than the day before maturity of any acceptance made under the credit.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—The above section is not identical with the 1962 official U.C.C. text.

Note.—s. 5-114, U.C.C.

675.115 Remedy for improper dishonor or anticipatory repudiation.—

(1) When an issuer wrongfully dishonors a draft or demand for payment presented under a credit the person entitled to honor has with respect to any documents the rights of a person in the position of a seller (s. 672.707) and may recover from the issuer the face amount of the draft or demand together with incidental damages under s. 672.710 on seller's incidental damages and interest but less any amount realized by resale or other use or disposition of the subject matter of the transaction. In the event no resale or other utilization is made the documents, goods or other subject matter involved in the transaction must be turned over to the issuer on payment of judgment.

(2) When an issuer wrongfully cancels or otherwise repudiates a credit before presentment of a draft or demand for payment drawn under it the beneficiary has the rights of a seller after anticipatory repudiation by the buyer under s. 672.610 if he learns of the repudiation in time reasonably to avoid procurement of the required documents. Otherwise the beneficiary has an immediate right of action for wrongful dishonor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 5-115, U.C.C.

675.116 Transfer and assignment.—

(1) The right to draw under a credit can be transferred or assigned only when the credit is expressly designated as transferable or assignable.

(2) Even though the credit specifically states that it is nontransferable or nonassignable, the beneficiary may before performance of the conditions of the credit assign his right to proceeds. Such an assignment is an assignment of an account under chapter 679 on secured transactions and is governed by that chapter except that:

(a) The assignment is ineffective until the letter of credit or advice of credit is delivered to the assignee which delivery constitutes perfection of the security interest under chapter 679; and

(b) The issuer may honor drafts or demands for payment drawn under the credit until it receives a notification of the assignment signed by the beneficiary which reasonably identifies the credit involved in the assignment and contains a request to pay the assignee; and

(c) After what reasonably appears to be such a notification has been received, the issuer may without dishonor refuse to accept or pay even to a person otherwise entitled to honor until the letter of credit or advice of credit is exhibited to the issuer.

(3) Except where the beneficiary has effectively assigned his right to draw or his right to proceeds, nothing in this section limits his right to transfer or negotiate drafts or demands drawn under the credit.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 5, ch. 79-398.

Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 5-116, U.C.C.

675.117 Insolvency of bank holding funds for documentary credit.—

(1) Where an issuer or an advising or confirming bank or a bank which has for a customer procured issuance of a credit by another bank becomes insolvent before final payment under the credit and the credit is one to which this chapter is made applicable by s. 675.102(1)(a) or (b) on scope, the receipt or allocation of funds or collateral to secure or meet obligations under the credit shall have the following results:

(a) To the extent of any funds or collateral turned over after or before the insolvency as indemnity against or specifically for the purpose of payment of drafts or demands for payment drawn under the designated credit, the drafts or demands are entitled to payment in preference over depositors or other general creditors of the issuers or bank; and

(b) On expiration of the credit or surrender of the beneficiary's rights under it unused any person who has given such funds or collateral is similarly entitled to return thereof; and

(c) A change to a general or current account with a bank if specifically consented to for the purpose of indemnity against or payment of drafts or demands for payment drawn under the designated credit falls under the same rules as if the funds had been drawn out in cash and then turned over with specific instructions.

(2) After honor or reimbursement under this section the customer or other person for whose account the insolvent bank has acted is entitled to receive the documents involved.

CHAPTER 676

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE: BULK TRANSFERS

ARTICLE 6

Note.—Pursuant to s. 69, ch. 69-353, the editors have altered the numbers of all sections making up this chapter by deleting the digit and hyphen immediately following the decimal point. The purpose is to conform the numbering of the Code sections with the decimal numbering system used in other chapters of the Florida Statutes. The visual relationship between Florida Statutes section numbers and Code section number is not destroyed by this alteration; the digit preceding the decimal point coincides with the Code article number, and the digits following the decimal point coincide with the Code section numbers.

- 676.101 Short title.
- 676.102 "Bulk transfers"; transfers of equipment; enterprises subject to this chapter; bulk transfers subject to this chapter.
- 676.103 Transfers excepted from this chapter.
- 676.104 Schedule of property, list of creditors.
- 676.105 Notice to creditors.
- 676.106 Application of the proceeds.
- 676.107 The notice.
- 676.108 Auction sales; "auctioneer."
- 676.109 What creditors protected; credit for payment to particular creditors.
- 676.110 Subsequent transfers.

676.101 Short title.—Chapter 676 shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform Commercial Code—Bulk Transfers."

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 6-101, U.C.C.

676.102 "Bulk transfers"; transfers of equipment; enterprises subject to this chapter; bulk transfers subject to this chapter.—

(1) A "bulk transfer" is any transfer in bulk and not in the ordinary course of the transferor's business of a major part of the materials, supplies, merchandise or other inventory (s. 679.109) of an enterprise subject to this chapter.

(2) A transfer of a substantial part of the equipment (s. 679.109) of such an enterprise is a bulk transfer if it is made in connection with a bulk transfer of inventory, but not otherwise.

(3) The enterprises subject to this chapter are all those whose principal business is the sale of merchandise from stock, including those who manufacture what they sell, and those enterprises doing business as restaurants that are licensed by the Division of Hotels and Restaurants of the Department of Business Regulation.

(4) Except as limited by the following section all bulk transfers of goods located within this state are subject to this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 75-216.

Note.—s. 6-102, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 726.05.

676.103 Transfers excepted from this chapter.—The following transfers are not subject to this chapter:

- (1) Those made to give security for the performance of an obligation;
- (2) General assignments for the benefit of all the creditors of the transferor, and subsequent transfers by the assignee thereunder;
- (3) Transfers in settlement or realization of a lien or other security interest;
- (4) Sales by executors, administrators, receivers, trustees in bankruptcy, or any public officer under judicial process;

(5) Sales made in the course of judicial or administrative proceedings for the dissolution or reorganization of a corporation and of which notice is sent to the creditors of the corporation pursuant to order of the court or administrative agency;

(6) Transfers to a person maintaining a known place of business in this state who becomes bound to pay the debts of the transferor in full and gives public notice of that fact, and who is solvent after becoming so bound;

(7) A transfer to a new business enterprise organized to take over and continue the business, if public notice of the transaction is given and the new enterprise assumes the debts of the transferor and he receives nothing from the transaction except an interest in the new enterprise junior to the claims of creditors;

(8) Transfers of property which is exempt from execution.

Public notice under subsection (6) or subsection (7) may be given by publishing once a week for 2 consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation where the transferor had its principal place of business in this state an advertisement including the names and addresses of the transferor and transferee and the effective date of the transfer.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 6-103, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 726.05.

676.104 Schedule of property, list of creditors.—

(1) Except as provided with respect to auction sales (s. 676.108), a bulk transfer subject to this chapter is ineffective against any creditor of the transferor unless:

(a) The transferee requires the transferor to furnish a list of his existing creditors prepared as stated in this section; and

(b) The parties prepare a schedule of the property transferred sufficient to identify it; and

(c) The transferee preserves the list and schedule for 6 months next following the transfer and permits inspection of either or both and copying therefrom at all reasonable hours by any creditor of the transferor or files the list and schedule in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county where the transferor had his principal place of business.

(2) The list of creditors must be signed and sworn to or affirmed by the transferor or his agent. It must contain the names and business addresses of all creditors of the transferor, with the amounts when known, and also the names of all persons who are known to the transferor to assert claims against him even though such claims are disputed. If the trans-feror is the obligor of an outstanding issue of bonds, debentures or the like as to which there is an indenture trustee, the list of creditors need include only the name and address of the indenture trustee and the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the issue.

(3) Responsibility for the completeness and accuracy of the list of creditors rests on the transferor, and the transfer is not rendered ineffective by errors or omissions therein unless the transferee is shown to have had knowledge.

(4) Any transferor who shall, concerning the list of creditors prescribed in subsection (1), knowingly or willfully make or deliver or cause to be made or delivered any statement of which any portion is false, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 70-288; s. 675, ch. 71-136.

Note.—The above section is not identical with the 1962 official U.C.C. text.

Note.—s. 6-104, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 726.06.

676.105 Notice to creditors.—In addition to the requirements of the preceding section, any bulk transfer subject to this chapter except one made by auction sale (s. 676.108) is ineffective against any creditor of the transferor unless at least 10 days before he takes possession of the goods or pays for them, whichever happens first, the transferee gives notice of the transfer in the manner and to the persons hereafter provided (s. 676.107).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 6-105, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 726.03.

676.106 Application of the proceeds.—In addition to the requirements of the two preceding sections:

(1) Upon every bulk transfer subject to this chapter for which new consideration becomes payable except those made by sale at auction it is the duty of the transferee to assure that such consideration is applied so far as necessary to pay those debts of the transferor which are either shown on the list furnished by the transferor (s. 676.104) or filed in writing in the place stated in the notice (s. 676.107) within 30 days after the mailing of such notice. This duty of the transferee runs to all the holders of such debts, and may be enforced by any of them for the benefit of all.

(2) If any of said debts are in dispute the necessary sum may be withheld from distribution until the dispute is settled or adjudicated.

(3) If the consideration payable is not enough to pay all of the said debts in full distribution shall be made pro rata.

(4) A transferee may within 10 days after taking possession of the goods, discharge his obligations under this section by an action in the circuit court for the county where the transferor had his principal place of business in this state interpleading all creditors in the list of creditors required by s. 676.104. In such event the court shall require the consideration to be deposited into the registry of the court and thereupon shall decree the goods to be free and clear of the claims of such creditors and that such creditors should file their claims with the court.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 6-106, U.C.C.

676.107 The notice.—

(1) The notice to creditors (s. 676.105) shall state:

- (a) That a bulk transfer is about to be made; and
- (b) The names and business addresses of the transferor and transferee, and all other business names and addresses used by the transferor within 3 years last past so far as known to the transferee; and

(c) Whether or not all the debts of the transferor are to be paid in full as they fall due as a result of the transaction, and if so, the address to which creditors should send their bills.

(2) If the debts of the transferor are not to be paid in full as they fall due or if the transferee is in doubt on that point then the notice shall state further:

(a) The location and general description of the property to be transferred and the estimated total of the transferor's debts;

(b) The address where the schedule of property and list of creditors (s. 676.104) may be inspected;

(c) Whether the transfer is to pay existing debts and if so the amount of such debts and to whom owing;

(d) Whether the transfer is for new consideration and if so the amount of such consideration and the time and place of payment; and

(e) If for new consideration the time and place where creditors of the transferor are to file their claims.

(3) The notice in any case shall be to all persons shown on the list of creditors furnished by the transferor (s. 676.104) and to all other persons who are known by the transferee to hold or assert claims against the transferor, and shall be:

(a) Delivered personally or by registered or certified mail, and

(b) If the county in which the transferor resides has a population in excess of 200,000 persons according to the latest statewide decennial census, published one time in a daily newspaper of general circulation in such county.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 40, ch. 69-353; s. 2, ch. 70-288; s. 168, ch. 73-333.

Note.—The above section is not identical with the 1962 official U.C.C. text.

Note.—s. 6-107, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 726.03.

676.108 Auction sales; "auctioneer."—

(1) A bulk transfer is subject to this chapter even though it is by sale at auction, but only in the manner and with the results stated in this section.

(2) The transferor shall furnish a list of his creditors and assist in the preparation of a schedule of the property to be sold, both prepared as before stated (s. 676.104).

(3) The person or persons other than the transferor who direct, control or are responsible for the auction are collectively called the "auctioneer." The auctioneer shall:

(a) Receive and retain the list of creditors and prepare and retain the schedule of property for the period stated in this chapter (s. 676.104);

(b) Give notice of the auction personally or by registered or certified mail at least 10 days before it occurs to all persons shown on the list of creditors and to all other persons who are known to him to hold or assert claims against the transferor; and

(c) Assure that the net proceeds of the auction are applied as provided in this chapter (s. 676.106).

(4) Failure of the auctioneer to perform any of these duties does not affect the validity of the sale or the title of the purchasers, but if the auctioneer knows that the auction constitutes a bulk transfer such failure renders the auctioneer liable to the creditors of the transferor as a class for the sums owing to them from the transferor up to but not exceeding the net proceeds of the auction. If the auctioneer consists of several persons their liability is joint and several.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 6-108, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 726.05.

676.109 What creditors protected; credit for payment to particular creditors.—

(1) The creditors of the transferor mentioned in this chapter are those holding claims based on transactions or events occurring before the bulk transfer, but creditors who become such after notice to creditors is given (ss. 676.105 and 676.107) are not entitled to notice.

(2) Against the aggregate obligation imposed by the provisions of this chapter concerning the application of the proceeds (ss. 676.106 and 676.108(3)(c)) the transferee or auctioneer is entitled to credit for sums paid to particular creditors of the transferor, not exceeding the sums believed in good faith at the time of the payment to be properly payable to such creditors.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 6-109, U.C.C.

676.110 Subsequent transfers.—When the title of a transferee to property is subject to a defect by reason of his noncompliance with the requirements of this chapter, then:

(1) A purchaser of any of such property from such transferee who pays no value or who takes with notice of such noncompliance takes subject to such defect, but

(2) A purchaser for value in good faith and without such notice takes free of such defect.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 6-110, U.C.C.

The purpose is to conform the numbering of the Code sections with the decimal numbering system used in other chapters of the Florida Statutes. The visual relationship between Florida Statutes section numbers and Code section number is not destroyed by this alteration; the digit preceding the decimal point coincides with the Code article number, and the digits following the decimal point coincide with the Code section numbers.

GENERAL

- 677.101 Short title.
 677.102 Definitions and index of definitions.
 677.103 Relation of chapter to treaty, statute, tariff, classification or regulation.
 677.104 Negotiable and nonnegotiable warehouse receipt, bill of lading or other document of title.
 677.105 Construction against negative implication.

677.101 Short title.—Chapter 677 shall be known and may be cited as the "Uniform Commercial Code—Documents of Title."

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
 Note.—s. 7-101, U.C.C.

677.102 Definitions and index of definitions.—

(1) In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Bailee" means the person who by a warehouse receipt, bill of lading or other document of title acknowledges possession of goods and contracts to deliver them.

(b) "Consignee" means the person named in a bill to whom or to whose order the bill promises delivery.

(c) "Consignor" means the person named in a bill as the person from whom the goods have been received for shipment.

(d) "Delivery order" means a written order to deliver goods directed to a warehouseman, carrier or other person who in the ordinary course of business issues warehouse receipts or bills of lading.

(e) "Document" means document of title as defined in the general definitions in chapter 671 (s. 671.201).

(f) "Goods" means all things which are treated as movable for the purposes of a contract of storage or transportation.

(g) "Issuer" means a bailee who issues a document except that in relation to an unaccepted delivery order it means the person who orders the possessor of goods to deliver. Issuer includes any person for whom an agent or employee purports to act in issuing a document if the agent or employee has real or apparent authority to issue documents, notwithstanding that the issuer received no goods or that the goods were misdescribed or that in any other respect the agent or employee violated his instructions.

(h) "Warehouseman" is a person engaged in the business of storing goods for hire.

(2) Other definitions applying to this chapter or to specified parts thereof, and the sections in which they appear are:

"Duly negotiate," s. 677.501.

"Person entitled under the document," s. 677.403(4).

(3) Definitions in other chapters applying to this chapter and the sections in which they appear are:

"Contract for sale," s. 672.106.

"Overseas," s. 672.323.

"Receipt" of goods, s. 672.103.

(4) In addition chapter 671 contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-102, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.54.

677.103 Relation of chapter to treaty, statute, tariff, classification or regulation.—To the extent that any treaty or statute of the United States, regulatory statute of this state or tariff, classification or regulation filed or issued pursuant thereto is applicable, the provisions of this chapter are subject thereto.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 7-103, U.C.C.

677.104 Negotiable and nonnegotiable warehouse receipt, bill of lading or other document of title.—

(1) A warehouse receipt, bill of lading or other document of title is negotiable:

(a) If by its terms the goods are to be delivered to bearer or to the order of a named person; or

(b) Where recognized in overseas trade, if it runs to a named person or assigns.

(2) Any other document is nonnegotiable. A bill of lading in which it is stated that the goods are consigned to a named person is not made negotiable by a provision that the goods are to be delivered only against a written order signed by the same or another named person.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 7-104, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.02-678.05.

677.105 Construction against negative implication.—The omission from either part II or part III of this chapter of a provision corresponding to a provision made in the other part does not imply that a corresponding rule of law is not applicable.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 7-105, U.C.C.

PART II

WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS: SPECIAL PROVISIONS

677.201 Who may issue a warehouse receipt; storage under government bond.

677.202 Form of warehouse receipt; essential terms; optional terms.

677.203 Liability of nonreceipt or misdescription.

677.204 Duty of care; contractual limitation of warehouseman's liability.

677.205 Title under warehouse receipt defeated in certain cases.

677.206 Termination of storage at warehouseman's option.

677.207 Goods must be kept separate; fungible goods.

677.208 Altered warehouse receipts.

677.209 Lien of warehouseman.

677.210 Enforcement of warehouseman's lien.

677.201 Who may issue a warehouse receipt; storage under government bond.—

(1) A warehouse receipt may be issued by any warehouseman.

(2) Where goods including distilled spirits and agricultural commodities are stored under a statute requiring a bond against withdrawal or a license for the issuance of receipts in the nature of warehouse receipts, a receipt issued for the goods has like effect as a warehouse receipt even though issued by a person who is the owner of the goods and is not a warehouseman.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 7-201, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.01.

677.202 Form of warehouse receipt; essential terms; optional terms.—

(1) A warehouse receipt need not be in any particular form.

(2) Unless a warehouse receipt embodies within its written or printed terms each of the following, the warehouseman is liable for damages caused by the omission to a person injured thereby:

(a) The location of the warehouse where the goods are stored;

(b) The date of issue of the receipt;

(c) The consecutive number of the receipt;

(d) A statement whether the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, to a specified person, or to a specified person or his order;

(e) The rate of storage and handling charges, except that where goods are stored under a field warehousing arrangement a statement of that fact is sufficient on a nonnegotiable receipt;

(f) A description of the goods or of the packages containing them;

(g) The signature of the warehouseman, which may be made by his authorized agent;

(h) If the receipt is issued for goods of which the warehouseman is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, the fact of such ownership; and

(i) A statement of the amount of advances made and of liabilities incurred for which the warehouseman claims a lien or security interest (s. 677.209). If the precise amount of such advances made or of such liabilities incurred is, at the time of the issue of the receipt, unknown to the warehouseman or to his agent who issues it, a statement of the fact that advances have been made or liabilities incurred and the purpose thereof is sufficient.

(3) A warehouseman may insert in his receipt any other terms which are not contrary to the provisions of this code and do not impair his obligation of delivery (s. 677.403) or his duty of care (s. 677.204). Any contrary provisions shall be ineffective.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 7-202, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.02.

677.203 Liability of nonreceipt or misdescription.—

A party to or purchaser for value in good faith of a document of title other than a bill of lading relying in either case upon the description therein of the goods may recover from the issuer damages caused by the nonreceipt or misdescription of the goods, except to the extent that the document conspicuously indicates that the issuer does not know whether any part or all of the goods in fact were received or conform to the description, as where the description is in terms of marks or labels or kind, quantity or condition, or the receipt or description is qualified by "contents, condition and quality unknown," "said to contain" or the like, if such indication be true, or the party or purchaser otherwise has notice.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 7-203, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.20.

677.204 Duty of care; contractual limitation of warehouseman's liability.—

(1) A warehouseman is liable for damages for loss of or injury to the goods caused by his failure to exercise such care in regard to them as a reasonably careful man would exercise under like circumstances but unless otherwise agreed he is not liable for damages which could not have been avoided by the exercise of such care.

(2) Damages may be limited by a term in the warehouse receipt or storage agreement limiting the amount of liability in case of loss or damage, and setting forth a specific liability per article or item, or value per unit of weight, beyond which the warehouseman shall not be liable; provided, however, that such liability may on written request of the bailor at the time of signing such storage agreement or within a reasonable time after receipt of the warehouse receipt be increased on part or all of the goods thereunder, in which event increased rates may be charged based on such increased valuation, but that no such increase shall be permitted contrary to a lawful limitation of liability contained in the warehouseman's tariff, if any. No such limitation is effective with respect to the warehouseman's liability for conversion to his own use.

(3) This section does not impair or repeal any statute which imposes a higher responsibility upon the warehouseman or invalidates contractual limitations which would be permissible under this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—The above section is not identical with the 1962 official U.C.C. text.

Note.—s. 7-204, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.03, 678.20.

677.205 Title under warehouse receipt defeated in certain cases.—A buyer in the ordinary course of business of fungible goods sold and delivered by a warehouseman who is also in the business of buying and selling such goods takes free of any claim under a warehouse receipt even though it has been duly negotiated.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-205, U.C.C.

677.206 Termination of storage at warehouseman's option.—

(1) A warehouseman may on notifying the person on whose account the goods are held and any other person known to claim an interest in the goods require payment of any charges and removal of the goods from the warehouse at the termination of the period of storage fixed by the document, or, if no period is fixed, within a stated period not less than 30 days after the notification. If the goods are not removed before the date specified in the notification, the warehouseman may sell them in accordance with the provisions of the section on enforcement of a warehouseman's lien (s. 677.210).

(2) If a warehouseman in good faith believes that the goods are about to deteriorate or decline in value to less than the amount of his lien within the time prescribed in subsection (1) for notification, advertisement and sale, the warehouseman may specify in the notification any reasonable shorter time for removal of the goods and in case the goods are not removed, may sell them at public sale held not less than 1 week after a single advertisement or posting.

(3) If as a result of a quality or condition of the goods of which the warehouseman had no notice at the time of deposit the goods are a hazard to other property or to the warehouse or to persons, the warehouseman may sell the goods at public or private sale without advertisement on reasonable notification to all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. If the warehouseman after a reasonable effort is unable to sell the goods he may dispose of them in any lawful manner and shall incur no liability by reason of such disposition.

(4) The warehouseman must deliver the goods to any person entitled to them under this chapter upon due demand made at any time prior to sale or other disposition under this section.

(5) The warehouseman may satisfy his lien from the proceeds of any sale or disposition under this section but must hold the balance for delivery on the demand of any person to whom he would have been bound to deliver the goods.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-206, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.34.

677.207 Goods must be kept separate; fungible goods.—

(1) Unless the warehouse receipt otherwise provides, a warehouseman must keep separate the goods covered by each receipt so as to permit at all times identification and delivery of those goods except that different lots of fungible goods may be commingled.

(2) Fungible goods so commingled are owned in common by the persons entitled thereto and the warehouseman is severally liable to each owner for that owner's share. Where because of overissue a mass of fungible goods is insufficient to meet all the receipts which the warehouseman has issued against it, the persons entitled include all holders to whom overissued receipts have been duly negotiated.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-207, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.22, 678.23.

677.208 Altered warehouse receipts.—Where a blank in a negotiable warehouse receipt has been filled in without authority, a purchaser for value and without notice of the want of authority may treat the insertion as authorized. Any other unauthorized alteration leaves any receipt enforceable against the issuer according to its original tenor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-208, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.13.

677.209 Lien of warehouseman.—

(1) A warehouseman has a lien against the bailor on the goods covered by a warehouse receipt or on the proceeds thereof in his possession for charges for storage or transportation (including demurrage and terminal charges), insurance, labor, or charges present or future in relation to the goods, and for expenses necessary for preservation of the goods or reasonably incurred in their sale pursuant to law. If the person on whose account the goods are held is liable for like charges or expenses in relation to other goods whenever deposited and it is stated in the receipt that a lien is claimed for charges and expenses in relation to other goods, the warehouseman also has a lien against him for such charges and expenses whether or not the other goods have been delivered by the warehouseman. But against a person to whom a negotiable warehouse receipt is duly negotiated a warehouseman's lien is limited to charges in an amount or at a rate specified on the receipt or if no charges are so specified then to a reasonable charge for storage of the goods covered by the receipt subsequent to the date of the receipt.

(2) The warehouseman may also reserve a security interest against the bailor for a maximum amount specified on the receipt for charges other than those specified in subsection (1), such as for money advanced and interest. Such a security interest is governed by the chapter on secured transactions (chapter 679).

(3) A warehouseman's lien for charges and expenses under subsection (1) or a security interest under subsection (2) is also effective against any person who so entrusted the bailor with possession of the goods that a pledge of them by him to a good faith purchaser for value would have been valid but is not effective against a person as to whom the document confers no right in the goods covered by it under s. 677.503.

(4) A warehouseman loses his lien on any goods which he voluntarily delivers or which he unjustifiably refuses to deliver.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-209, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.27-678.32.

677.210 Enforcement of warehouseman's lien.—

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2), a warehouseman's lien may be enforced by public or private sale of the goods in block or in parcels, at any time or place and on any terms which are commercially reasonable, after notifying all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. Such notification must include a statement of the amount due, the nature of the proposed sale and the time and place of any public sale. The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the warehouseman is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner. If the warehouseman either sells the goods in the usual manner in any recognized market therefor, or if he sells at the price current in such market at the time of his sale, or if he has otherwise sold in conformity with commercially reasonable practices among dealers in the type of goods sold, he has sold in a commercially reasonable manner. A sale of more goods than apparently necessary to be offered to insure satisfaction of the obligation is not commercially reasonable except in cases covered by the preceding sentence.

(2) A warehouseman's lien on goods other than goods stored by a merchant in the course of his business may be enforced only as follows:

(a) All persons known to claim an interest in the goods must be notified.

(b) The notification must be delivered in person or sent by registered or certified letter to the last known address of any person to be notified.

(c) The notification must include an itemized statement of the claim, a description of the goods subject to the lien, a demand for payment within a specified time not less than 10 days after receipt of the notification, and a conspicuous statement that unless the claim is paid within that time the goods will be advertised for sale and sold by auction at a specified time and place.

(d) The sale must conform to the terms of the notification.

(e) The sale must be held at the nearest suitable place to that where the goods are held or stored.

(f) After the expiration of the time given in the notification, an advertisement of the sale must be published once a week for 2 weeks consecutively in a newspaper of general circulation where the sale is to be held. The advertisement must include a description of the goods, the name of the person on whose account they are being held, and the time and place of the sale. The sale must take place at least 15 days after the first publication. If there is no newspaper of general circulation where the sale is to be held, the advertisement must be posted at least 10 days before the sale in not less than 6 conspicuous places in the neighborhood of the proposed sale.

(3) Before any sale pursuant to this section any person claiming a right in the goods may pay the amount necessary to satisfy the lien and the reasonable expenses incurred under this section. In that event the goods must not be sold, but must be retained by the warehouseman subject to the terms of the receipt and this chapter.

(4) The warehouseman may buy at any public sale pursuant to this section.

(5) A purchaser in good faith of goods sold to enforce a warehouseman's lien takes the goods free of any rights of persons against whom the lien was valid, despite noncompliance by the warehouseman with the requirements of this section.

(6) The warehouseman may satisfy his lien from the proceeds of any sale pursuant to this section but must hold the balance, if any, for delivery on demand to any person to whom he would have been bound to deliver the goods.

(7) The rights provided by this section shall be in addition to all other rights allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor.

(8) Where a lien is on goods stored by a merchant in the course of his business the lien may be enforced in accordance with either subsection (1) or subsection (2).

(9) The warehouseman is liable for damages caused by failure to comply with the requirements for sale under this section and in case of willful violation is liable for conversion.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-210, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.33.

PART III

BILLS OF LADING: SPECIAL PROVISIONS

- 677.301 Liability for nonreceipt or misdescription; "Said to contain"; "Shipper's load and count"; improper handling.
- 677.302 Through bills of lading and similar documents.
- 677.303 Diversion; reconsignment; change of instructions.

- 677.304 Bills of lading in a set.
- 677.305 Destination bills.
- 677.306 Altered bills of lading.
- 677.307 Lien of carrier.
- 677.308 Enforcement of carrier's lien.
- 677.309 Duty of care; contractual limitation of carrier's liability.

677.301 Liability for nonreceipt or misdescription; "Said to contain"; "Shipper's load and count"; improper handling.—

(1) A consignee of a nonnegotiable bill who has given value in good faith or a holder to whom a negotiable bill has been duly negotiated relying in either case upon the description therein of the goods, or upon the date therein shown, may recover from the issuer damages caused by the misdating of the bill or the nonreceipt or misdescription of the goods, except to the extent that the document indicates that the issuer does not know whether any part or all of the goods in fact were received or conform to the description, as where the description is in terms of marks or labels or kind, quantity, or condition or the receipt or description is qualified by "contents or condition of contents of packages unknown," "said to contain," "shipper's weight, load and count" or the like, if such indication be true.

(2) When goods are loaded by an issuer who is a common carrier, the issuer must count the packages of goods if package freight and ascertain the kind and quantity if bulk freight. In such cases "shipper's weight, load and count" or other words indicating that the description was made by the shipper are ineffective except as to freight concealed by packages.

(3) When bulk freight is loaded by a shipper who makes available to the issuer adequate facilities for weighing such freight, an issuer who is a common carrier must ascertain the kind and quantity within a reasonable time after receiving the written request of the shipper to do so. In such cases "shipper's weight" or other words of like purport are ineffective.

(4) The issuer may by inserting in the bill the words "shipper's weight, load and count" or other words of like purport indicate that the goods were loaded by the shipper; and if such statement be true the issuer shall not be liable for damages caused by the improper loading. But their omission does not imply liability for such damages.

(5) The shipper shall be deemed to have guaranteed to the issuer the accuracy at the time of shipment of the description, marks, labels, number, kind, quantity, condition and weight, as furnished by him; and the shipper shall indemnify the issuer against damage caused by inaccuracies in such particulars. The right of the issuer to such indemnity shall in no way limit his responsibility and liability under the contract of carriage to any person other than the shipper.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-301, U.C.C.

cf.—s. 352.25 To receive, transport and deliver freight.

s. 352.26 Freight to be delivered according to terms and direction.

677.302 Through bills of lading and similar documents.—

(1) The issuer of a through bill of lading or other document embodying an undertaking to be performed in part by persons acting as its agents or by connecting carriers is liable to anyone entitled to recover on the document for any breach by such other persons or by a connecting carrier of its obligation under the document but to the extent that the bill covers an undertaking to be performed overseas or in territory not contiguous to the continental United States or an undertaking including matters other than transportation this liability may be varied by agreement of the parties.

(2) Where goods covered by a through bill of lading or other document embodying an undertaking to be performed in part by persons other than the issuer are received by any such person, he is subject with respect to his own performance while the goods are in his possession to the obligation of the issuer. His obligation is discharged by delivery of the goods to another such person pursuant to the document, and does not include liability for breach by any other such persons or by the issuer.

(3) The issuer of such through bill of lading or other document shall be entitled to recover from the connecting carrier or such other person in possession of the goods when the breach of the obligation under the document occurred, the amount it may be required to pay to anyone entitled to recover on the document therefor, as may be evidenced by any receipt, judgment, or transcript thereof, and the amount of any expense reasonably incurred by it in defending any action brought by anyone entitled to recover on the document therefor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-302, U.C.C.

677.303 Diversion; reconsignment; change of instructions.—

(1) Unless the bill of lading otherwise provides, the carrier may deliver the goods to a person or destination other than that stated in the bill or may otherwise dispose of the goods on instructions from:

(a) The holder of a negotiable bill; or

(b) The consignor on a nonnegotiable bill notwithstanding contrary instructions from the consignee; or

(c) The consignee on a nonnegotiable bill in the absence of contrary instructions from the consignor, if the goods have arrived at the billed destination or if the consignee is in possession of the bill; or

(d) The consignee on a nonnegotiable bill if he is entitled as against the consignor to dispose of them.

(2) Unless such instructions are noted on a negotiable bill of lading, a person to whom the bill is duly negotiated can hold the bailee according to the original terms.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-303, U.C.C.

677.304 Bills of lading in a set.—

(1) Except where customary in overseas transportation, a bill of lading must not be issued in a set of parts. The issuer is liable for damages caused by violation of this subsection.

(2) Where a bill of lading is lawfully drawn in a set of parts, each of which is numbered and expressed to be valid only if the goods have not been delivered against any other part, the whole of the parts constitute one bill.

(3) Where a bill of lading is lawfully issued in a set of parts and different parts are negotiated to different persons, the title of the holder to whom the first due negotiation is made prevails as to both the document and the goods even though any later holder may have received the goods from the carrier in good faith and discharged the carrier's obligation by surrender of his part.

(4) Any person who negotiates or transfers a single part of a bill of lading drawn in a set is liable to holders of that part as if it were the whole set.

(5) The bailee is obliged to deliver in accordance with part IV of this chapter against the first presented part of a bill of lading lawfully drawn in a set. Such delivery discharges the bailee's obligation on the whole bill.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 7-304, U.C.C.

677.305 Destination bills.—

(1) Instead of issuing a bill of lading to the consignor at the place of shipment a carrier may at the request of the consignor procure the bill to be issued at destination or at any other place designated in the request.

(2) Upon request of anyone entitled as against the carrier to control the goods while in transit and on surrender of any outstanding bill of lading or other receipt covering such goods, the issuer may procure a substitute bill to be issued at any place designated in the request.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 7-305, U.C.C.

677.306 Altered bills of lading.—An unauthorized alteration or filling in of a blank in a bill of lading leaves the bill enforceable according to its original tenor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 7-306, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.13.

677.307 Lien of carrier.—

(1) A carrier has a lien on the goods covered by a bill of lading for charges subsequent to the date of its receipt of the goods for storage or transportation (including demurrage and terminal charges) and for expenses necessary for preservation of the goods incident to their transportation or reasonably incurred in their sale pursuant to law. But against a purchaser for value of a negotiable bill of lading a carrier's lien is limited to charges stated in the bill or the applicable tariffs, or if no charges are stated then to a reasonable charge.

(2) A lien for charges and expenses under subsection (1) on goods which the carrier was required by law to receive for transportation is effective against the consignor or any person entitled to the goods unless the carrier had notice that the consignor lacked authority to subject the goods to such charges and expenses. Any other lien under subsection (1) is effective against the consignor and any person who permitted the bailor to have control or possession of the goods unless the carrier had notice that the bailor lacked such authority.

(3) A carrier loses his lien on any goods which he voluntarily delivers or which he unjustifiably refuses to deliver.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 7-307, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.27-678.32.

677.308 Enforcement of carrier's lien.—

(1) A carrier's lien may be enforced by public or private sale of the goods, in block or in parcels, at any time or place and on any terms which are commercially reasonable, after notifying all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. Such notification must include a statement of the amount due, the nature of the proposed sale and the time and place of any public sale. The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the carrier is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner. If the carrier either sells the goods in the usual manner in any recognized market therefor or if he sells at the price current in such market at the time of his sale or if he has otherwise sold in conformity with commercially reasonable practices among dealers in the type of goods sold he has sold in a commercially reasonable manner. A sale of more goods than apparently necessary to be offered to ensure satisfaction of the obligation is not commercially reasonable except in cases covered by the preceding sentence.

(2) Before any sale pursuant to this section any person claiming a right in the goods may pay the amount necessary to satisfy the lien and the reasonable expenses incurred under this section. In that event the goods must not be sold, but must be retained by the carrier subject to the terms of the bill and this chapter.

(3) The carrier may buy at any public sale pursuant to this section.

(4) A purchaser in good faith of goods sold to enforce a carrier's lien takes the goods free of any rights of persons against whom the lien was valid, despite noncompliance by the carrier with the requirements of this section.

(5) The carrier may satisfy his lien from the proceeds of any sale pursuant to this section but must hold the balance, if any, for delivery on demand to any person to whom he would have been bound to deliver the goods.

(6) The rights provided by this section shall be in addition to all other rights allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor.

(7) A carrier's lien may be enforced in accordance with either subsection (1) or the procedure set forth in s. 677.210(2).

(8) The carrier is liable for damages caused by failure to comply with the requirements for sale under this section and in case of willful violation is liable for conversion.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 7-308, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.33.

677.309 Duty of care; contractual limitation of carrier's liability.—

(1) A carrier who issues a bill of lading whether negotiable or nonnegotiable must exercise the degree of care in relation to the goods which a reasonably careful man would exercise under like circumstances. This subsection does not repeal or change any law or rule of law which imposes liability upon a common carrier for damages not caused by its negligence.

(2) Damages may be limited by a provision that the carrier's liability shall not exceed a value stated in the document if the carrier's rates are dependent upon value and the consignor by the carrier's tariff is afforded an opportunity to declare a higher value or a value as lawfully provided in the tariff, or where no tariff is filed he is otherwise advised of such opportunity; but no such limitation is effective with respect to the carrier's liability for conversion to its own use.

(3) Reasonable provisions as to the time and manner of presenting claims and instituting actions based on the shipment may be included in the bill of lading or tariff.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-309, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.03, 678.20.

PART IV

WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: GENERAL OBLIGATIONS

677.401 Irregularities in issue of receipt or bill or conduct of issuer.

677.402 Duplicate receipt or bill; overissue.

677.403 Obligation of warehouseman or carrier to deliver; excuse.

677.404 No liability for good-faith delivery pursuant to receipt or bill.

677.401 Irregularities in issue of receipt or bill or conduct of issuer.—The obligations imposed by this chapter on an issuer apply to a document of title regardless of the fact that:

(1) The document may not comply with the requirements of this chapter or of any other law or regulation regarding its issue, form or content; or

(2) The issuer may have violated laws regulating the conduct of his business; or

(3) The goods covered by the document were owned by the bailee at the time the document was issued; or

(4) The person issuing the document does not come within the definition of warehouseman if it purports to be a warehouse receipt.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-401, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.20.

677.402 Duplicate receipt or bill; overissue.—Neither a duplicate nor any other document of title purporting to cover goods already represented by an outstanding document of the same issuer confers any right in the goods, except as provided in the case of bills in a set, overissue of documents for fungible goods and substitutes for lost, stolen or destroyed documents. But the issuer is liable for damages caused by his overissue or failure to identify a duplicate document as such by conspicuous notation on its face.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-402, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.06.

677.403 Obligation of warehouseman or carrier to deliver; excuse.—

(1) The bailee must deliver the goods to a person entitled under the document who complies with subsections (2) and (3), unless and to the extent that the bailee establishes any of the following:

(a) Delivery of the goods to a person whose receipt was rightful as against the claimant;

(b) Damage to or delay, loss or destruction of the goods for which the bailee is not liable, but the burden of establishing negligence in such cases when value of such damage, delay, loss, or destruction exceeds $10,000 is on the person entitled under the document.

(c) Previous sale or other disposition of the goods in lawful enforcement of a lien or on warehouseman's lawful termination of storage;

(d) The exercise by a seller of his right to stop delivery pursuant to the provisions of the chapter on sales (s. 672.705);

(e) A diversion, reconsignment or other disposition pursuant to the provisions of this chapter (s. 677.303) or tariff regulating such right;

(f) Release, satisfaction or any other fact affording a personal defense against the claimant;

(g) Any other lawful excuse.

(2) A person claiming goods covered by a document of title must satisfy the bailee's lien where the bailee so requests or where the bailee is prohibited by law from delivering the goods until the charges are paid.

(3) Unless the person claiming is one against whom the document confers no right under s. 677.503(1), he must surrender for cancellation or notation of partial deliveries any outstanding negotiable document covering the goods, and the bailee must cancel the document or conspicuously note the partial delivery thereon or be liable to any person to whom the document is duly negotiated.

(4) "Person entitled under the document" means holder in the case of a negotiable document, or the person to whom delivery is to be made by the terms of or pursuant to written instructions under a non-negotiable document.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 71-292.

Note.—s. 7-403, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.08-678.12, 678.16, 678.19.

677.404 No liability for good-faith delivery pursuant to receipt or bill.—A bailee who in good faith including observance of reasonable commercial standards has received goods and delivered or otherwise disposed of them according to the terms of the document of title or pursuant to this chapter is not liable therefor. This rule applies even though the person from whom he received the goods had no authority to procure the document or to dispose of the goods and even though the person to whom he delivered the goods had no authority to receive them.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-404, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.10.

PART V

WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: NEGOTIATION AND TRANSFER

- 677.501 Form of negotiation and requirements of "Due negotiation."
 677.502 Rights acquired by due negotiation.
 677.503 Document of title to goods defeated in certain cases.
 677.504 Rights acquired in the absence of due negotiation; effect of diversion; seller's stoppage of delivery.
 677.505 Indorser not a guarantor for other parties.
 677.506 Delivery without indorsement; right to compel indorsement.
 677.507 Warranties on negotiation or transfer of receipt or bill.
 677.508 Warranties of collecting bank as to documents.
 677.509 Receipt or bill; when adequate compliance with commercial contract.

677.501 Form of negotiation and requirements of "Due negotiation."

(1) A negotiable document of title running to the order of a named person is negotiated by his indorsement and delivery. After his indorsement in blank or to bearer any person can negotiate it by delivery alone.

(2)(a) A negotiable document of title is also negotiated by delivery alone when by its original terms it runs to bearer.

(b) When a document running to the order of a named person is delivered to him the effect is the same as if the document had been negotiated.

(3) Negotiation of a negotiable document of title after it has been indorsed to a specified person requires indorsement by the special indorsee as well as delivery.

(4) A negotiable document of title is "duly negotiated" when it is negotiated in the manner stated in this section to a holder who purchases it in good faith without notice of any defense against or claim to it on the part of any person and for value, unless it is established that the negotiation is not in the regular course of business or financing or involves receiving the document in settlement or payment of a money obligation.

(5) Indorsement of a nonnegotiable document neither makes it negotiable nor adds to the transferor's rights.

(6) The naming in a negotiable bill of a person to be notified of the arrival of the goods does not limit the negotiability of the bill nor constitute notice to a purchaser thereof of any interest of such person in the goods.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-501, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.39-678.42, 678.49.

677.502 Rights acquired by due negotiation.

(1) Subject to the following section and to the provisions of s. 677.205 on fungible goods, a holder to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated acquires thereby:

- (a) Title to the document;
- (b) Title to the goods;
- (c) All rights accruing under the law of agency or estoppel, including rights to goods delivered to the bailee after the document was issued; and
- (d) The direct obligation of the issuer to hold or deliver the goods according to the terms of the document free of any defense or claim by him except those arising under the terms of the document or under this chapter. In the case of a delivery order the bailee's obligation accrues only upon acceptance and the obligation acquired by the holder is that the issuer and any indorser will procure the acceptance of the bailee.

(2) Subject to the following section, title and rights so acquired are not defeated by any stoppage of the goods represented by the document or by surrender of such goods by the bailee, and are not impaired even though the negotiation or any prior negotiation constituted a breach of duty or even though any person has been deprived of possession of the document by misrepresentation, fraud, accident, mistake, duress, loss, theft or conversion, or even though a previous sale or other transfer of the goods or document has been made to a third person.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-502, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.43, 678.49-678.51.

677.503 Document of title to goods defeated in certain cases.

(1) A document of title confers no right in goods against a person who before issuance of the document had a legal interest or a perfected security interest in them and who neither:

(a) Delivered or entrusted them or any document of title covering them to the bailor or his nominee with actual or apparent authority to ship, store or sell or with power to obtain delivery under this chapter (s. 677.403) or with power of disposition under this code (ss. 672.403 and 679.307) or other statute or rule of law; nor

(b) Acquiesced in the procurement by the bailor or his nominee of any document of title.

(2) Title to goods based upon an unaccepted delivery order is subject to the rights of anyone to whom a negotiable warehouse receipt or bill of lading covering the goods has been duly negotiated. Such a title may be defeated under the next section to the same extent as the rights of the issuer or a transferee from the issuer.

(3) Title to goods based upon a bill of lading issued to a freight forwarder is subject to the rights of anyone to whom a bill issued by the freight forwarder is duly negotiated; but delivery by the carrier in accordance with part IV of this chapter pursuant to its own bill of lading discharges the carrier's obligation to deliver.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-503, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.43.

677.504 Rights acquired in the absence of due negotiation; effect of diversion; seller's stoppage of delivery.

(1) A transferee of a document, whether negotiable or nonnegotiable, to whom the document has been delivered but not duly negotiated, acquires the title and rights which his transferor had or had actual authority to convey.

(2) In the case of a nonnegotiable document, until but not after the bailee receives notification of the transfer, the rights of the transferee may be defeated:

(a) By those creditors of the transferor who could treat the sale as void under s. 672.402; or

(b) By a buyer from the transferor in ordinary course of business if the bailee has delivered the goods to the buyer or received notification of his rights; or

(c) As against the bailee by good faith dealings of the bailee with the transferor.

(3) A diversion or other change of shipping instructions by the consignor in a nonnegotiable bill of lading which causes the bailee not to deliver to the consignee defeats the consignee's title to the goods if they have been delivered to a buyer in ordinary course of business and in any event defeats the consignee's rights against the bailee.

(4) Delivery pursuant to a nonnegotiable document may be stopped by a seller under s. 672.705, and subject to the requirement of due notification there provided. A bailee honoring the seller's instructions is entitled to be indemnified by the seller against any resulting loss or expense.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-504, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.43, 678.44.

677.505 Indorser not a guarantor for other parties.—The indorsement of a document of title issued by a bailee does not make the indorser liable for any default by the bailee or by previous indorsers.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-505, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.47.

677.506 Delivery without indorsement; right to compel indorsement.—The transferee of a negotiable document of title has a specifically enforceable right to have his transferor supply any necessary indorsement but the transfer becomes a negotiation only as of the time the indorsement is supplied.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-506, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.45.

677.507 Warranties on negotiation or transfer of receipt or bill.—Where a person negotiates or transfers a document of title for value otherwise than as a mere intermediary under the next following section, then unless otherwise agreed he warrants to his immediate purchaser only in addition to any warranty made in selling the goods:

(1) That the document is genuine; and
(2) That he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair its validity or worth; and

(3) That his negotiation or transfer is rightful and fully effective with respect to the title to the document and the goods it represents.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-507, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.46.

677.508 Warranties of collecting bank as to documents.—A collecting bank or other intermediary known to be entrusted with documents on behalf of another or with collection of a draft or other claim against delivery of documents warrants by such delivery of the documents only its own good faith and authority. This rule applies even though the intermediary has purchased or made advances against the claim or draft to be collected.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-508, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 685.01.

677.509 Receipt or bill; when adequate compliance with commercial contract.—The question whether a document is adequate to fulfill the obligations of a contract for sale or the conditions of a credit is governed by the chapters on sales (chapter 672) and on letters of credit (chapter 675).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-509, U.C.C.

PART VI

WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

677.601 Lost and missing documents.

677.602 Attachment of goods covered by a negotiable document.

677.603 Conflicting claims; interpleader.

677.601 Lost and missing documents.—

(1) If a document has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a court may order delivery of the goods or issuance of a substitute document and the bailee may without liability to any person comply with such order. If the document was negotiable the claimant must post security approved by the court to indemnify any person who may suffer loss as a result of nonsurrender of the document. If the document was not negotiable, such security may be required at the discretion of the court. The court may also in its discretion order payment of the bailee's reasonable costs and counsel fees.

(2) A bailee who without court order delivers goods to a person claiming under a missing negotiable document is liable to any person injured thereby, and if the delivery is not in good faith becomes liable for conversion. Delivery in good faith is not conversion if made in accordance with a filed classification or tariff or, where no classification or tariff is filed, if the claimant posts security with the bailee in an amount at least double the value of the goods at the time of posting to indemnify any person injured by the delivery who files a notice of claim within 1 year after the delivery.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-601, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.14.

677.602 Attachment of goods covered by a negotiable document.—Except where the document was originally issued upon delivery of the goods by a person who had no power to dispose of them, no lien attaches by virtue of any judicial process to goods in the possession of a bailee for which a negotiable document of title is outstanding unless the document be first surrendered to the bailee or its negotiation enjoined, and the bailee shall not be compelled to deliver the goods pursuant to process until the document is surrendered to him or impounded by the court. One who purchases the document for value without notice of the process or injunction takes free of the lien imposed by judicial process.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-602, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 678.25.

677.603 Conflicting claims; interpleader.—If more than one person claims title or possession of the goods, the bailee is excused from delivery until he has had a reasonable time to ascertain the validity of the adverse claims or to bring an action to compel all claimants to interplead and may compel such interpleader, either in defending an action for nondelivery of the goods, or by original action, whichever is appropriate.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 7-603, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 678.16, 678.17.

CHAPTER 678

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE: INVESTMENT SECURITIES

ARTICLE 8

Note.—Pursuant to s. 69, ch. 69-353, the editors have altered the numbers of all sections making up this chapter by deleting the digit and hyphen immediately following the decimal point. The purpose is to conform the numbering of the Code sections with the decimal numbering system used in other chapters of the Florida Statutes. The visual relationship between Florida Statutes section numbers and Code section number is not destroyed by this alteration; the digit preceding the decimal point coincides with the Code article number, and the digits following the decimal point coincide with the Code section numbers.

PART I

SHORT TITLE AND GENERAL MATTERS

- 678.101 Short title.
- 678.102 Definitions and index of definitions.
- 678.103 Issuer's lien.
- 678.104 Effect of overissue; "overissue."
- 678.105 Securities negotiable; presumptions.
- 678.106 Applicability.
- 678.107 Securities deliverable; action for price.

678.101 Short title.—Chapter 678 shall be known and may be cited as "Uniform Commercial Code—Investment Securities."

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-101, U.C.C.

678.102 Definitions and index of definitions.—

(1) In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

- (a) A "security" is an instrument which:
  - 1. Is issued in bearer or registered form; and
  - 2. Is of a type commonly dealt in upon securities exchanges or markets or commonly recognized in any area in which it is issued or dealt in as a medium for investment; and
  - 3. Is either one of a class or series or by its terms is divisible into a class or series of instruments; and
  - 4. Evidences a share, participation or other interest in property or in an enterprise or evidences an obligation of the issuer.

(b) A writing which is a security is governed by this chapter and not by Uniform Commercial Code-Commercial Paper even though it also meets the requirements of that chapter. This chapter does not apply to money.

(c) A security is in "registered form" when it specifies a person entitled to the security or to the rights it evidences and when its transfer may be registered upon books maintained for that purpose by or on behalf of an issuer or the security so states.

(d) A security is in "bearer form" when it runs to bearer according to its terms and not by reason of any indorsement.

(2) A "subsequent purchaser" is a person who takes other than by original issue.

(3) A "clearing corporation" is a corporation:

(a) At least 90 percent of the capital stock of which is held by or for one or more persons, (other than individuals), each of whom:

1. Is subject to supervision or regulation pursuant to the provisions of federal or state banking laws or state insurance laws;

2. Is a broker, dealer, or investment company registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or the Investment Company Act of 1940; or

3. Is a national securities exchange or association registered under a statute of the United States such as the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and none of whom, other than a national securities exchange or association, holds in excess of 20 percent of the capital stock of such corporation; and

(b) Any remaining capital stock of which is held by individuals who have purchased such capital stock at or prior to the time of their taking office as directors of such corporation and who have purchased only so much of such capital stock as may be necessary to permit them to qualify as such directors.

(4) A "custodian bank" is any bank or trust company which is supervised and examined by state or federal authority having supervision over banks and which is acting as custodian for a clearing corporation.

(5) Other definitions applying to this chapter or to specified parts thereof and the sections in which they appear are:

"Adverse claim," s. 678.301.

"Bona fide purchaser," s. 678.302.

"Broker," s. 678.303.

"Guarantee of the signature," s. 678.402.

"Intermediary bank," s. 674.105.

"Issuer," s. 678.201.

"Overissue," s. 678.104.

(6) In addition chapter 671 contains general definitions and principles of construction and interpretation applicable throughout this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 74-222.

Note.—s. 8-102, U.C.C.

cf.—s. 710.02 Definitions.

678.103 Issuer's lien.—A lien upon a security in favor of an issuer thereof is valid against a purchaser only if the right of the issuer to such lien is noted conspicuously on the security.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-103, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 614.17.

678.104 Effect of overissue; "overissue."—

(1) The provisions of this chapter which validate a security or compel its issue or reissue do not apply to the extent that validation, issue or reissue would result in overissue; but:

(a) If an identical security which does not constitute an overissue is reasonably available for purchase, the person entitled to issue or validation may compel the issuer to purchase and deliver such a security to him against surrender of the security, if any, which he holds; or

(b) If a security is not so available for purchase, the person entitled to issue or validation may recover from the issuer the price he or the last purchaser for value paid for it with interest from the date of his demand.

(2) "Overissue" means the issue of securities in excess of the amount which the issuer has corporate power to issue.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-104, U.C.C.

678.105 Securities negotiable; presumptions.—

(1) Securities governed by this chapter are negotiable instruments.

(2) In any action on a security:

(a) Unless specifically denied in the pleadings, each signature on the security or in a necessary indorsement is admitted;

(b) When the effectiveness of a signature is put in issue the burden of establishing it is on the party claiming under the signature but the signature is presumed to be genuine or authorized;

(c) When signatures are admitted or established production of the instrument entitles a holder to recover on it unless the defendant establishes a defense or a defect going to the validity of the security; and

(d) After it is shown that a defense or defect exists the plaintiff has the burden of establishing that he or some person under whom he claims is a person against whom the defense or defect is ineffective (s. 678.202).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-105, U.C.C.

678.106 Applicability.—The validity of a security and the rights and duties of the issuer with respect to registration of transfer are governed by the law (including the conflict of laws rules) of the jurisdiction of organization of the issuer.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-106, U.C.C.

cf.—s. 610.091 Territorial application.

678.107 Securities deliverable; action for price.—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed and subject to any applicable law or regulation respecting short sales, a person obligated to deliver securities may deliver any security of the specified issue in bearer form or registered in the name of the transferee or indorsed to him or in blank.

(2) When the buyer fails to pay the price as it comes due under a contract of sale the seller may recover the price:

(a) Of securities accepted by the buyer; and

(b) Of other securities if efforts at their resale would be unduly burdensome or if there is no readily available market for their resale.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-107, U.C.C.

PART II

ISSUE—ISSUER

678.201 "Issuer."

678.202 Issuer's responsibility and defenses; notice of defect or defense.

678.203 Staleness as notice of defects or defenses.

678.204 Effect of issuer's restrictions on transfer.

678.205 Effect of unauthorized signature on issue.

678.206 Completion or alteration of instrument.

678.207 Rights of issuer with respect to registered owners.

678.208 Effect of signature of authenticating trustee, registrar or transfer agent.

678.201 "Issuer."—

(1) With respect to obligations on or defenses to a security "issuer" includes a person who:

(a) Places or authorizes the placing of his name on a security (otherwise than as authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent or the like) to evidence that it represents a share, participation or other interest in his property or in an enterprise or to evidence his duty to perform an obligation evidenced by the security; or

(b) Directly or indirectly creates fractional interests in his rights or property which fractional interests are evidenced by securities; or

(c) Becomes responsible for or in place of any other person described as an issuer in this section.

(2) With respect to obligations on or defenses to a security a guarantor is an issuer to the extent of his guaranty whether or not his obligation is noted on the security.

(3) With respect to registration of transfer (part IV of this chapter) "issuer" means a person on whose behalf transfer books are maintained.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-201, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.32, 674.62-674.64.

cf.—s. 710.02 Definitions.

678.202 Issuer's responsibility and defenses; notice of defect or defense.—

(1) Even against a purchaser for value and without notice, the terms of a security include those stated on the security and those made part of the security by reference to another instrument, indenture or document or to a constitution statute, ordinance, rule, regulation, order or the like to the extent that the terms so referred to do not conflict with the stated terms. Such a reference does not of itself charge a purchaser for value with notice of a defect going to the validity of the security even though the security expressly states that a person accepting it admits such notice.

(2)(a) A security other than one issued by a government or governmental agency or unit even though issued with a defect going to its validity is valid in the hands of a purchaser for value and without notice of the particular defect unless the defect involves a violation of constitutional provisions in which case the security is valid in the hands of a subsequent purchaser for value and without notice of the defect.

(b) The rule of (a) applies to an issuer which is a government or governmental agency or unit only if either there has been substantial compliance with the legal requirements governing the issue or the issuer has received a substantial consideration for the issue as a whole or for the particular security and a stated purpose of the issue is one for which the issuer has power to borrow money or issue the security.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in the case of certain unauthorized signatures on issue (s. 678.205), lack of genuineness of a security is a complete defense even against a purchaser for value and without notice.

(4) All other defenses of the issuer including non-delivery and conditional delivery of the security are ineffective against a purchaser for value who has taken without notice of the particular defense.

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the right of a party to a "when, as and if issued" or a "when distributed" contract to cancel the contract in the event of a material change in the character of the security which is the subject of the contract or in the plan or arrangement pursuant to which such security is to be issued or distributed.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-202, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.18, 674.25, 674.31, 674.58, 674.59, 674.62-674.64.

678.203 Staleness as notice of defects or defenses.—

(1) After an act or event which creates a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation evidenced by the security or which sets a date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange, a purchaser is charged with notice of any defect in its issue or defense of the issuer:

(a) If the act or event is one requiring the payment of money or the delivery of securities or both on presentation or surrender of the security and such funds or securities are available on the date set for payment or exchange and he takes the security more than 1 year after that date; and

(b) If the act or event is not covered by paragraph (a) and he takes the security more than 2 years after the date set for surrender or presentation or the date on which such performance became due.

(2) A call which has been revoked is not within subsection (1).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-203, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.54(2), 674.55.

678.204 Effect of issuer's restrictions on transfer.—Unless noted conspicuously on the security a restriction on transfer imposed by the issuer

even though otherwise lawful is ineffective except against a person with actual knowledge of it.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-204, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 614.17.

678.205 Effect of unauthorized signature on issue.—An unauthorized signature placed on a security prior to or in the course of issue is ineffective except that the signature is effective in favor of a purchaser for value and without notice of the lack of authority if the signing has been done by:

(1) An authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent or other person entrusted by the issuer with the signing of the security or of similar securities or their immediate preparation for signing; or

(2) An employee of the issuer or of any of the foregoing entrusted with responsible handling of the security.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-205, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.25.

678.206 Completion or alteration of instrument.—

(1) Where a security contains the signatures necessary to its issue or transfer but is incomplete in any other respect:

(a) Any person may complete it by filling in the blanks as authorized; and

(b) Even though the blanks are incorrectly filled in, the security as completed is enforceable by a purchaser who took it for value and without notice of such incorrectness.

(2) A complete security which has been improperly altered even though fraudulently remains enforceable but only according to its original terms.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-206, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.16, 674.17, 675.32, 614.18.

678.207 Rights of issuer with respect to registered owners.—

(1) Prior to due presentment for registration of transfer of a security in registered form the issuer or indenture trustee may treat the registered owner as the person exclusively entitled to vote, to receive notifications and otherwise to exercise all the rights and powers of an owner.

(2) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to affect the liability of the registered owner of a security for calls, assessments or the like.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-207, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 614.05.

678.208 Effect of signature of authenticating trustee, registrar or transfer agent.—

(1) A person placing his signature upon a security as authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent or the like warrants to a purchaser for value without notice of the particular defect that:

(a) The security is genuine; and

(b) His own participation in the issue of the security is within his capacity and within the scope of the authorization received by him from the issuer; and

(c) He has reasonable grounds to believe that the security is in the form and within the amount the issuer is authorized to issue.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed, a person by so placing his signature does not assume responsibility for the validity of the security in other respects.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-208, U.C.C.

PART III

PURCHASE

- 678.301 Rights acquired by purchaser; "Adverse claim"; title acquired by bona fide purchaser.
- 678.302 "Bona fide purchaser."
- 678.303 "Broker."
- 678.304 Notice to purchaser of adverse claims.
- 678.305 Staleness as notice of adverse claims.
- 678.306 Warranties on presentment and transfer.
- 678.307 Effect of delivery without indorsement; right to compel indorsement.
- 678.308 Indorsement, how made; special indorsement; indorser not a guarantor; partial assignment.
- 678.309 Effect of indorsement without delivery.
- 678.310 Indorsement of security in bearer form.
- 678.311 Effect of unauthorized indorsement.
- 678.312 Effect of guaranteeing signature or indorsement.
- 678.313 When delivery to the purchaser occurs; purchaser's broker as holder.
- 678.314 Duty to deliver, when completed.
- 678.315 Action against purchaser based upon wrongful transfer.
- 678.316 Purchaser's right to requisites for registration of transfer on books.
- 678.317 Attachment or levy upon security.
- 678.318 No conversion by good faith delivery.
- 678.319 Statute of frauds.
- 678.320 Transfer or pledge within a central depository system.

678.301 Rights acquired by purchaser; "Adverse claim"; title acquired by bona fide purchaser.—

(1) Upon delivery of a security the purchaser acquires the rights in the security which his transferor had or had actual authority to convey except that a purchaser who has himself been a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the security or who as a prior holder had notice of an adverse claim cannot improve his position by taking from a later bona fide purchaser. "Adverse claim" includes a claim that a transfer was or would be wrongful or that a particular adverse person is the owner of or has an interest in the security.

(2) A bona fide purchaser in addition to acquiring the rights of a purchaser also acquires the security free of any adverse claim.

(3) A purchaser of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest purchased.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-301, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.54, 674.59-674.61, 614.09.

678.302 "Bona fide purchaser."—A "bona fide purchaser" is a purchaser for value in good faith and without notice of any adverse claim who takes delivery of a security in bearer form or of one in registered form issued to him or indorsed to him or in blank.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-302, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.54.

678.303 "Broker."—"Broker" means a person engaged for all or part of his time in the business of buying and selling securities, who in the transaction concerned acts for, or buys a security from or sells a security to a customer. Nothing in this chapter determines the capacity in which a person acts for purposes of any other statute or rule to which such person is subject.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-303, U.C.C.
cf.—s. 710.03 Manner of making gifts.

678.304 Notice to purchaser of adverse claims.—

(1) A purchaser (including a broker for the seller or buyer but excluding an intermediary bank) of a security is charged with notice of adverse claims if:

(a) The security whether in bearer or registered form has been indorsed "for collection" or "for surrender" or for some other purpose not involving transfer; or

(b) The security is in bearer form and has on it an unambiguous statement that it is the property of a person other than the transferor. The mere writing of a name on a security is not such a statement.

(2) The fact that the purchaser (including a broker for the seller or buyer) has notice that the security is held for a third person or is registered in the name of or indorsed by a fiduciary does not create a duty of inquiry into the rightfulness of the transfer or constitute notice of adverse claims. If, however, the purchaser (excluding an intermediary bank) has knowledge that the proceeds are being used or that the transaction is for the individual benefit of the fiduciary or otherwise in breach of duty, the purchaser is charged with notice of adverse claims.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-304, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.40, 674.58.

678.305 Staleness as notice of adverse claims.—An act or event which creates a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation evidenced by the security or which sets a date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange does not of itself constitute any notice of adverse claims except in the case of a purchaser:

(1) After 1 year from any date set for such presentment or surrender for redemption or exchange; or

(2) After 6 months from any date set for payment of money against presentation or surrender of the security if funds are available for payment on that date.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-305, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.54(2), 674.55.

678.306 Warranties on presentment and transfer.—

(1) A person who presents a security for registration of transfer or for payment or exchange warrants to the issuer that he is entitled to the registration, payment or exchange. But a purchaser for value without notice of adverse claims who receives a new, reissued or reregistered security on registration of transfer warrants only that he has no knowledge of any unauthorized signature (s. 678.311) in a necessary indorsement.

(2) A person by transferring a security to a purchaser for value warrants only that:

- (a) His transfer is effective and rightful; and
- (b) The security is genuine and has not been materially altered; and
- (c) He knows no fact which might impair the validity of the security.

(3) Where a security is delivered by an intermediary known to be entrusted with delivery of the security on behalf of another or with collection of a draft or other claim against such delivery, the intermediary by such delivery warrants only his own good faith and authority even though he has purchased or made advances against the claim to be collected against the delivery.

(4) A pledgee or other holder for security who redelivers the security received, or after payment and on order of the debtor delivers that security to a third person makes only the warranties of an intermediary under subsection (3).

(5) A broker gives to his customer and to the issuer and a purchaser the warranties provided in this section and has the rights and privileges of a purchaser under this section. The warranties of and in favor of the broker acting as an agent are in addition to applicable warranties given by and in favor of his customer.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-306, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.67-674.69, 674.71, 614.13, 614.14.

678.307 Effect of delivery without indorsement; right to compel indorsement.—Where a security in registered form has been delivered to a purchaser without a necessary indorsement he may become a bona fide purchaser only as of the time the indorsement is supplied, but against the transferor the transfer is complete upon delivery and the purchaser has a specifically enforceable right to have any necessary indorsement supplied.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-307, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.51, 614.11.

678.308 Indorsement, how made; special indorsement; indorser not a guarantor; partial assignment.—

(1) An indorsement of a security in registered form is made when an appropriate person signs on it or on a separate document an assignment or transfer of the security or a power to assign or transfer it or when the signature of such person is written without more upon the back of the security.

(2) An indorsement may be in blank or special. An indorsement in blank includes an indorsement to bearer. A special indorsement specifies the person to whom the security is to be transferred, or who has power to transfer it. A holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement.

(3) "An appropriate person" in subsection (1) means:

- (a) The person specified by the security or by special indorsement to be entitled to the security; or

(b) Where the person so specified is described as a fiduciary but is no longer serving in the described capacity,—either that person or his successor; or

(c) Where the security or indorsement so specifies more than one person as fiduciaries and one or more are no longer serving in the described capacity,—the remaining fiduciary or fiduciaries, whether or not a successor has been appointed or qualified; or

(d) Where the person so specified is an individual and is without capacity to act by virtue of death, incompetence, infancy or otherwise,—his executor, administrator, guardian or like fiduciary; or

(e) Where the security or indorsement so specifies more than one person as tenants by the entirety or with right of survivorship and by reason of death all cannot sign,—the survivor or survivors; or

(f) A person having power to sign under applicable law or controlling instrument; or

(g) To the extent that any of the foregoing persons may act through an agent,—his authorized agent.

(4) Unless otherwise agreed the indorser by his indorsement assumes no obligation that the security will be honored by the issuer.

(5) An indorsement purporting to be only of part of a security representing units intended by the issuer to be separately transferable is effective to the extent of the indorsement.

(6) Whether the person signing is appropriate is determined as of the date of signing and an indorsement by such a person does not become unauthorized for the purposes of this chapter by virtue of any subsequent change of circumstances.

(7) Failure of a fiduciary to comply with a controlling instrument or with the law of the state having jurisdiction of the fiduciary relationship, including any law requiring the fiduciary to obtain court approval of the transfer, does not render his indorsement unauthorized for the purposes of this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-308, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.34-674.38, 674.40, 674.66, 674.71, 614.22.

cf.—s. 610.021 Definitions.

678.309 Effect of indorsement without delivery.—An indorsement of a security whether special or in blank does not constitute a transfer until delivery of the security on which it appears or if the indorsement is on a separate document until delivery of both the document and the security.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-309, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.33, 614.03, 614.12.

678.310 Indorsement of security in bearer form.—An indorsement of a security in bearer form may give notice of adverse claims (s. 678.304) but does not otherwise affect any right to registration the holder may possess.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-310, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.43.

678.311 Effect of unauthorized indorsement.—Unless the owner has ratified an unauthorized indorsement or is otherwise precluded from asserting its ineffectiveness:

- (1) He may assert its ineffectiveness against the issuer or any purchaser other than a purchaser for value and without notice of adverse claims who has

in good faith received a new, reissued or reregistered security on registration of transfer; and

(2) An issuer who registers the transfer of a security upon the unauthorized indorsement is subject to liability for improper registration (s. 678.404).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-311, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 674.25.

678.312 Effect of guaranteeing signature or indorsement.—

(1) Any person guaranteeing a signature of an indorser of a security warrants that at the time of signing:

- (a) The signature was genuine; and
- (b) The signer was an appropriate person to indorse (s. 678.308); and
- (c) The signer had legal capacity to sign.

But the guarantor does not otherwise warrant the rightfulness of the particular transfer.

(2) Any person may guarantee an indorsement of a security and by so doing warrants not only the signature (subsection (1)) but also the rightfulness of the particular transfer in all respects. But no issuer may require a guarantee of indorsement as a condition to registration of transfer.

(3) The foregoing warranties are made to any person taking or dealing with the security in reliance on the guarantee and the guarantor is liable to such person for any loss resulting from breach of the warranties.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-312, U.C.C.

678.313 When delivery to the purchaser occurs; purchaser's broker as holder.—

(1) Delivery to a purchaser occurs when:

- (a) He or a person designated by him acquires possession of a security; or
- (b) His broker acquires possession of a security specially indorsed to or issued in the name of the purchaser; or
- (c) His broker sends him confirmation of the purchase and also by book entry or otherwise identifies a specific security in the broker's possession as belonging to the purchaser; or
- (d) With respect to an identified security to be delivered while still in the possession of a third person when that person acknowledges that he holds for the purchaser; or
- (e) Appropriate entries on the books of a clearing corporation are made under s. 678.320.

(2) The purchaser is the owner of a security held for him by his broker, but is not the holder except as specified in subsection (1)(b)-(c) and (e). Where a security is part of a fungible bulk the purchaser is the owner of a proportionate property interest in the fungible bulk.

(3) Notice of an adverse claim received by the broker or by the purchaser after the broker takes delivery as a holder for value is not effective either as to the broker or as to the purchaser. However, as between the broker and the purchaser the purchaser may demand delivery of an equivalent security as to which no notice of an adverse claim has been received.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-313, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 674.01, 614.02(2).

678.314 Duty to deliver, when completed.—

(1) Unless otherwise agreed where a sale of a security is made on an exchange or otherwise through brokers:

(a) The selling customer fulfills his duty to deliver when he places such a security in the possession of the selling broker or of a person designated by the broker or if requested causes an acknowledgment to be made to the selling broker that it is held for him; and

(b) The selling broker including a correspondent broker acting for a selling customer fulfills his duty to deliver by placing the security or a like security in the possession of the buying broker or a person designated by him or by effecting clearance of the sale in accordance with the rules of the exchange on which the transaction took place.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section and unless otherwise agreed, a transferor's duty to deliver a security under a contract of purchase is not fulfilled until he places the security in form to be negotiated by the purchaser in the possession of the purchaser or of a person designated by him or at the purchaser's request causes an acknowledgment to be made to the purchaser that it is held for him. Unless made on an exchange a sale to a broker purchasing for his own account is within this subsection and not within subsection (1).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-314, U.C.C.

678.315 Action against purchaser based upon wrongful transfer.—

(1) Any person against whom the transfer of a security is wrongful for any reason, including his incapacity, may against anyone except a bona fide purchaser reclaim possession of the security or obtain possession of any new security evidencing all or part of the same rights or have damages.

(2) If the transfer is wrongful because of an unauthorized indorsement, the owner may also reclaim or obtain possession of the security or new security even from a bona fide purchaser if the ineffectiveness of the purported indorsement can be asserted against him under the provisions of this chapter on unauthorized indorsements (s. 678.311).

(3) The right to obtain or reclaim possession of a security may be specifically enforced and its transfer enjoined and the security impounded pending the litigation.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-315, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 614.09.

678.316 Purchaser's right to requisites for registration of transfer on books.—

Unless otherwise agreed the transferor must on due demand supply his purchaser with any proof of his authority to transfer or with any other requisite which may be necessary to obtain registration of the transfer of the security but if the transfer is not for value a transfer-or need not do so unless the purchaser furnishes the necessary expenses. Failure to comply with a demand made within a reasonable time gives the purchaser the right to reject or rescind the transfer.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 8-316, U.C.C.

678.317 Attachment or levy upon security.—

(1) No attachment or levy upon a security or any share or other interest evidenced thereby which is outstanding shall be valid until the security is actually seized by the officer making the attachment or levy but a security which has been surrendered to the issuer may be attached or levied upon at the source.

(2) A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a security shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction, by injunction or otherwise, in reaching such security or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity in regard to property which cannot readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 8-317, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 614.15, 614.16.
cf.—s. 56.061 Property subject to execution.

678.318 No conversion by good faith delivery.—An agent or bailee who in good faith (including observance of reasonable commercial standards if he is in the business of buying, selling or otherwise dealing with securities) has received securities and sold, pledged or delivered them according to the instructions of his principal is not liable for conversion or for participation in breach of fiduciary duty although the principal had no right to dispose of them.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 8-318, U.C.C.
cf.—s. 610.071 Nonliability of corporation or transfer agent.

678.319 Statute of frauds.—A contract for the sale of securities is not enforceable by way of action or defense unless:

(1) There is some writing signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent or broker sufficient to indicate that a contract has been made for sale of a stated quantity of described securities at a defined or stated price; or

(2) Delivery of the security has been accepted or payment has been made but the contract is enforceable under this provision only to the extent of such delivery or payment; or

(3) Within a reasonable time a writing in confirmation of the sale or purchase and sufficient against the sender under subsection (1) has been received by the party against whom enforcement is sought and he has failed to send written objection to its contents within 10 days after its receipt; or

(4) The party against whom enforcement is sought admits in his pleading, testimony or otherwise in court that a contract was made for sale of a stated quantity of described securities at a defined or stated price.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 8-319, U.C.C.

678.320 Transfer or pledge within a central depository system.—

(1) If a security:

(a) Is in the custody of a clearing corporation or of a custodian bank or a nominee of either subject to the instructions of the clearing corporation; and

(b) Is in bearer form or indorsed in blank by an appropriate person or registered in the name of the clearing corporation or custodian bank or a nominee of either; and

(c) Is shown on the account of a transferor or pledgor on the books of the clearing corporation;

then, in addition to other methods, a transfer or pledge of the security or any interest therein may be effected by the making of appropriate entries on the books of the clearing corporation reducing the account of the transferor or pledgor and increasing the account of the transferee or pledgee by the amount of the obligation or the number of shares or rights transferred or pledged.

(2) Under this section entries may be with respect to like securities or interests therein as a part of a fungible bulk and may refer merely to a quantity of a particular security without reference to the name of the registered owner, certificate or bond number or the like and, in appropriate cases, may be on a net basis taking into account other transfers or pledges of the same security.

(3) A transfer or pledge under this section has the effect of a delivery of a security in bearer form or duly indorsed in blank (s. 678.301) representing the amount of the obligation or the number of shares or rights transferred or pledged. If a pledge or the creation of a security interest is intended, the making of entries has the effect of a taking of delivery by the pledgee or a secured party (ss. 679.304 and 679.305). A transferee or pledgee under this section is a holder.

(4) A transfer or pledge under this section does not constitute a registration of transfer under part IV of this chapter.

(5) That entries made on the books of the clearing corporation as provided in subsection (1) are not appropriate does not affect the validity or effect of the entries nor the liabilities or obligations of the clearing corporation to any person adversely affected thereby.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 8-320, U.C.C.

PART IV

REGISTRATION

678.401 Duty of issuer to register transfer.

678.402 Assurance that indorsements are effective.

678.403 Limited duty of inquiry.

678.404 Liability and nonliability for registration.

678.405 Lost, destroyed and stolen securities.

678.406 Duty of authenticating trustee, transfer agent or registrar.

678.401 Duty of issuer to register transfer.—

(1) Where a security in registered form is presented to the issuer with a request to register transfer, the issuer is under a duty to register the transfer as requested if:

(a) The security is indorsed by the appropriate person or persons (s. 678.308); and

(b) Reasonable assurance is given that those indorsements are genuine and effective (s. 678.402); and

(c) The issuer has no duty to inquire into adverse claims or has discharged any such duty (s. 678.403); and

(d) Any applicable law relating to the collection of taxes has been complied with; and

(e) The transfer is in fact rightful or is to a bona fide purchaser.

(2) Where an issuer is under a duty to register a transfer of a security the issuer is also liable to the person presenting it for registration or his principal for loss resulting from any unreasonable delay in registration or from failure or refusal to register the transfer.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-401, U.C.C.

678.402 Assurance that indorsements are effective.—

(1) The issuer may require the following assurance that each necessary indorsement (s. 678.308) is genuine and effective:

(a) In all cases, a guarantee of the signature (s. 678.312(1)) of the person indorsing; and

(b) Where the indorsement is by an agent, appropriate assurance of authority to sign;

(c) Where the indorsement is by a fiduciary, appropriate evidence of appointment or incumbency;

(d) Where there is more than one fiduciary, reasonable assurance that all who are required to sign have done so;

(e) Where the indorsement is by a person not covered by any of the foregoing, assurance appropriate to the case corresponding as nearly as may be to the foregoing.

(2) A "guarantee of the signature" in subsection (1) means a guarantee signed by or on behalf of a person reasonably believed by the issuer to be responsible. The issuer may adopt standards with respect to responsibility provided such standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

(3) "Appropriate evidence of appointment or incumbency" in subsection (1) means:

(a) In the case of a fiduciary appointed or qualified by a court, a certificate issued by or under the direction or supervision of that court or an officer thereof and dated within 60 days before the date of presentation for transfer; or

(b) In any other case, a copy of a document showing the appointment or a certificate issued by or on behalf of a person reasonably believed by the issuer to be responsible or in the absence of such a document or certificate other evidence reasonably deemed by the issuer to be appropriate. The issuer may adopt standards with respect to such evidence provided such standards are not manifestly unreasonable. The issuer is not charged with notice of the contents of any document obtained pursuant to this paragraph (b) except to the extent that the contents relate directly to the appointment or incumbency.

(4) The issuer may elect to require reasonable assurance beyond that specified in this section but if it does so and for a purpose other than that specified in subsection (3)(b) both requires and obtains a copy of a will, trust, indenture, articles of copartnership, bylaws or other controlling instrument it is charged with notice of all matters contained therein affecting the transfer.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-402, U.C.C.

cf.—s. 610.051 Evidence of appointment or incumbency.

678.403 Limited duty of inquiry.—

(1) An issuer to whom a security is presented for registration is under a duty to inquire into adverse claims if:

(a) A written notification of an adverse claim is received at a time and in a manner which affords the issuer a reasonable opportunity to act on it prior to the issuance of a new, reissued or reregistered security and the notification identifies the claimant, the registered owner and the issue of which the security is a part and provides an address for communications directed to the claimant; or

(b) The issuer is charged with notice of an adverse claim from a controlling instrument which it has elected to require under s. 678.402(4).

(2) The issuer may discharge any duty of inquiry by any reasonable means, including notifying an adverse claimant by registered or certified mail at the address furnished by him or if there be no such address at his residence or regular place of business that the security has been presented for registration of transfer by a named person, and that the transfer will be registered unless within 30 days from the date of mailing the notification, either:

(a) An appropriate restraining order, injunction or other process issues from a court of competent jurisdiction; or

(b) An indemnity bond sufficient in the issuer's judgment to protect the issuer and any transfer agent, registrar or other agent of the issuer involved, from any loss which it or they may suffer by complying with the adverse claim is filed with the issuer.

(3) Unless an issuer is charged with notice of an adverse claim from a controlling instrument which it has elected to require under s. 678.402(4) or receives notification of an adverse claim under subsection (1), where a security presented for registration is indorsed by the appropriate person or persons the issuer is under no duty to inquire into adverse claims. In particular:

(a) An issuer registering a security in the name of a person who is a fiduciary or who is described as a fiduciary is not bound to inquire into the existence, extent, or correct description of the fiduciary relationship and thereafter the issuer may assume without inquiry that the newly registered owner continues to be the fiduciary until the issuer receives written notice that the fiduciary is no longer acting as such with respect to the particular security;

(b) An issuer registering transfer on an indorsement by a fiduciary is not bound to inquire whether the transfer is made in compliance with a controlling instrument or with the law of the state having jurisdiction of the fiduciary relationship, including any law requiring the fiduciary to obtain court approval of the transfer; and

(c) The issuer is not charged with notice of the contents of any court record or file or other recorded or unrecorded document even though the document is in its possession and even though the transfer is made on the indorsement of a fiduciary to the fiduciary himself or to his nominee.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-403, U.C.C.

cf.—s. 610.031 Registration in the name of a fiduciary.

s. 610.041 Assignment by a fiduciary.

s. 610.081 Nonliability of third persons.

678.404 Liability and nonliability for registration.—

(1) Except as otherwise provided in any law relating to the collection of taxes, the issuer is not liable to the owner or any other person suffering loss as a result of the registration of a transfer of a security if:

(a) There were on or with the security the necessary indorsements (s. 678.308); and

(b) The issuer had no duty to inquire into adverse claims or has discharged any such duty (s. 678.403).

(2) Where an issuer has registered a transfer of a security to a person not entitled to it the issuer on demand must deliver a like security to the true owner unless:

(a) The registration was pursuant to subsection (1); or

(b) The owner is precluded from asserting any claim for registering the transfer under s. 678.405(1); or

(c) Such delivery would result in overissue, in which case the issuer's liability is governed by s. 678.104.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-404, U.C.C.

cf.—s. 610.071 Nonliability of corporation or transfer agent.

678.405 Lost, destroyed and stolen securities.—

(1) Where a security has been lost, apparently destroyed or wrongfully taken and the owner fails to notify the issuer of that fact within a reasonable time after he has notice of it and the issuer registers a transfer of the security before receiving such a notification, the owner is precluded from asserting against the issuer any claim for registering the transfer under the preceding section or any claim to a new security under this section.

(2) Where the owner of a security claims that the security has been lost, destroyed or wrongfully taken, the issuer must issue a new security in place of the original security if the owner:

(a) So requests before the issuer has notice that the security has been acquired by a bona fide purchaser; and

(b) Files with the issuer a sufficient indemnity bond; and

(c) Satisfies any other reasonable requirements imposed by the issuer.

(3) If, after the issue of the new security, a bona fide purchaser of the original security presents it for registration of transfer, the issuer must register the transfer unless registration would result in overissue, in which event the issuer's liability is governed by s. 678.104. In addition to any rights on the indemnity bond, the issuer may recover the new security from the person to whom it was issued or any person taking under him except a bona fide purchaser.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 8-405, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 614.19.

678.406 Duty of authenticating trustee, transfer agent or registrar.—

(1) Where a person acts as authenticating trustee, transfer agent, registrar, or other agent for an issuer in the registration of transfers of its securities or in the issue of new securities or in the cancellation of surrendered securities:

(a) He is under a duty to the issuer to exercise good faith and due diligence in performing his functions; and

(b) He has with regard to the particular functions he performs the same obligation to the holder or owner of the security and has the same rights and privileges as the issuer has in regard to those functions.

(2) Notice to an authenticating trustee, transfer agent, registrar or other such agent is notice to the issuer with respect to the functions performed by the agent.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

CHAPTER 679

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE: SECURED TRANSACTIONS

ARTICLE 9

Note.—Pursuant to s. 69, ch. 69-353, the editors have altered the numbers of all sections making up this chapter by deleting the digit and hyphen immediately following the decimal point. The purpose is to conform the numbering of the Code sections with the decimal numbering system used in other chapters of the Florida Statutes. The visual relationship between Florida Statutes section numbers and Code section number is not destroyed by this alteration; the digit preceding the decimal point coincides with the Code article number, and the digits following the decimal point coincide with the Code section numbers.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.
Note.—s. 9-101, U.C.C.

679.102 Policy and subject matter of chapter.—

<sup>1</sup>(1) Except as otherwise provided in s. 679.104 on excluded transactions, this chapter applies:

(a) To any transaction (regardless of its form) which is intended to create a security interest in personal property or fixtures including goods, documents, instruments, general intangibles, chattel paper, or accounts; and also

(b) To any sale of accounts or chattel paper.

(2) This chapter applies to security interests created by contract including pledge, assignment, chattel mortgage, chattel trust, trust deed, factor's lien, equipment trust, conditional sale, trust receipt, other lien or title retention contract and lease or consignment intended as security. This chapter does not apply to statutory liens except as provided in s. 679.310.

(3) The application of this chapter to a security interest in a secured obligation is not affected by the fact that the obligation is itself secured by a transaction or interest to which this chapter does not apply.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 6, ch. 79-398.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-102, U.C.C.

679.103 Perfection of security interests in multiple state transactions.—

(1) DOCUMENTS, INSTRUMENTS, AND ORDINARY GOODS.—

(a) This subsection applies to documents and instruments and to goods other than those covered by a certificate of title described in subsection (2), mobile goods described in subsection (3), and minerals described in subsection (5).

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, perfection and the effect of perfection or non-perfection of a security interest in collateral are governed by the law of the jurisdiction where the collateral is when the last event occurs on which is based the assertion that the security interest is perfected or unperfected.

(c) If the parties to a transaction creating a purchase money security interest in goods in one jurisdiction understand at the time that the security interest attaches that the goods will be kept in another jurisdiction, then the law of the other jurisdiction governs the perfection and the effect of perfection or non-perfection of the security interest from the time it attaches until 30 days after the debtor receives possession of the goods and thereafter if the goods are taken to the other jurisdiction before the end of the 30-day period.

(d) When collateral is brought into and kept in this state while subject to a security interest perfected under the law of the jurisdiction from which the collateral was removed, the security interest remains perfected, but if action is required by part III of this chapter to perfect the security interest:

1. If the action is not taken before the expiration of the period of perfection in the other jurisdiction or the end of 4 months after the collateral is brought into this state, whichever period first expires, the security interest becomes unperfected at the end of that period and is thereafter deemed to have been unperfected as against a person who became a purchaser after removal; or

2. If the action is taken before the expiration of the period specified in subparagraph 1., the security interest continues perfected thereafter;

3. For the purpose of priority over a buyer of consumer goods (subsection (2) of s. 679.307), the period of the effectiveness of a filing in the jurisdiction from which the collateral is removed is governed by the rules with respect to perfection in subparagraphs 1. and 2.

(2) CERTIFICATE OF TITLE.—

(a) This subsection applies to goods covered by a certificate of title issued under a statute of this state or of another jurisdiction under the law of which indication of a security interest on the certificate is required as a condition of perfection.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, perfection and the effect of perfection or nonperfection of the security interest are governed by the law (including the conflict of laws rules) of the jurisdiction issuing the certificate until 4 months after the goods are removed from that jurisdiction and thereafter until the goods are registered in another jurisdiction, but in any event not beyond surrender of the certificate. After the expiration of that period, the goods are not covered by the certificate of title within the meaning of this section.

(c) Except with respect to the rights of a buyer described in the next paragraph, a security interest, perfected in another jurisdiction otherwise than by notation on a certificate of title, in goods brought into this state and thereafter covered by a certificate of title issued by this state is subject to the rules stated in paragraph (d) of subsection (1).

(d) If goods are brought into this state while a security interest therein is perfected in any manner under the law of the jurisdiction from which the goods are removed and a certificate of title is issued by this state and the certificate does not show that the goods are subject to the security interest or that they may be subject to security interests not shown on the certificate, the security interest is subordinate to the rights of a buyer of the goods who is not in the business of selling goods of that kind to the extent that he gives value and receives delivery of the goods after issuance of the certificate and without knowledge of the security interest.

(3) ACCOUNTS, GENERAL INTANGIBLES AND MOBILE GOODS.—

(a) This subsection applies to accounts (other than an account described in subsection (5) on minerals) and general intangibles and to goods which are mobile and which are of a type normally used in more than one jurisdiction, such as motor vehicles, trailers, rolling stock, airplanes, shipping containers, road building and construction machinery and commercial harvesting machinery and the like, if the goods are equipment or are inventory leased or held for lease by the debtor to others, and are not covered by a certificate of title described in subsection (2).

(b) The law (including the conflict of laws rules) of the jurisdiction in which the debtor is located governs the perfection and the effect of perfection or nonperfection of the security interest.

(c) If, however, the debtor is located in a jurisdiction which is not a part of the United States, and which does not provide for perfection of the security interest by filing or recording in that jurisdiction, the law of the jurisdiction in the United States in which the debtor has its major executive office in the United States governs the perfection and the effect of perfection or nonperfection of the security interest through filing. In the alternative, if the debtor is located in a jurisdiction which is not a part of the United States or Canada and the collateral is accounts or general intangibles for money due or to become due, the security interest may be perfected by notification to the account debtor. As used in this paragraph, "United States" includes its territories and possessions and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(d) A debtor shall be deemed located at his place of business if he has one, at his chief executive office if he has more than one place of business, otherwise at his residence. If, however, the debtor is a foreign air carrier under the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, it shall be deemed located at the designated office of the agent upon whom service of process may be made on behalf of the foreign air carrier.

(e) A security interest perfected under the law of the jurisdiction of the location of the debtor is perfected until the expiration of 4 months after a change of the debtor's location to another jurisdiction, or until perfection would have ceased by the law of the first jurisdiction, whichever period first expires. Unless perfected in the new jurisdiction before the end of that period, it becomes unperfected thereafter and is deemed to have been unperfected as against a person who became a purchaser after the change.

(4) CHATTEL PAPER.—The rules stated for goods in subsection (1) apply to a possessory security interest in chattel paper. The rules stated for accounts in subsection (3) apply to a nonpossessory security interest in chattel paper, but the security interest may not be perfected by notification to the account debtor.

(5) MINERALS.—Perfection and the effect of perfection or nonperfection of a security interest which is created by a debtor who has an interest in minerals or the like (including oil and gas) before extraction and which attaches thereto as extracted, or which attaches to an account resulting from the sale thereof at the wellhead or minehead are governed by the law (including the conflict of laws rules) of the jurisdiction wherein the wellhead or minehead is located.

679.104 Transactions excluded from chapter.

—This chapter does not apply:

<sup>1</sup>(1) To a security interest subject to any statute of the United States to the extent that such statute governs the rights of parties to and third parties affected by transactions in particular types of property; or

(2) To a landlord's lien; or

(3) To a lien given by statute or other rule of law for services or materials except as provided in s. 679.310 on priority of such liens; or

(4) To a transfer of a claim for wages, salary or other compensation of an employee; or

<sup>1</sup>(5) To a transfer by a government or governmental subdivision or agency; or

<sup>1</sup>(6) To a sale of accounts or chattel paper as part of a sale of the business out of which they arose, or an assignment of accounts or chattel paper which is for the purpose of collection only, or a transfer of a right to payment under a contract to an assignee who is also to do the performance under the contract or a transfer of a single account to an assignee in whole or partial satisfaction of a preexisting indebtedness; or

<sup>1</sup>(7) To a transfer of an interest or claim in or under any policy of insurance except as provided with respect to proceeds (s. 679.306) and priorities in proceeds (s. 679.312); or

<sup>1</sup>(8) To a right represented by a judgment (other than a judgment taken on a right to payment which was collateral); or

(9) To any right of setoff; or

(10) Except to the extent that provision is made for fixtures in s. 679.313, to the creation or transfer of an interest in or lien on real estate, including a lease or rents thereunder; or

<sup>1</sup>(11) To a transfer in whole or in part of any claim arising out of tort; or

<sup>1</sup>Note.—Subsections (1), (5)-(8), and (11), as amended, and subsection (12), as created, effective January 1, 1980.

679.105 Definitions and index of definitions.—

<sup>1</sup>(1) In this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Account debtor" means the person who is obligated on an account, chattel paper or general intangible;

(b) "Chattel paper" means a writing or writings which evidence both a monetary obligation and a security interest in or a lease of specific goods, but a charter or other contract involving the use or hire of a vessel is not chattel paper. When a transaction is evidenced both by such a security agreement or a lease and by an instrument or a series of instruments, the group of writings taken together constitutes chattel paper;

(c) "Collateral" means the property subject to a security interest, and includes accounts and chattel paper which have been sold;

(d) "Debtor" means the person who owes payment or other performance of the obligation secured, whether or not he owns or has rights in the collateral, and includes the seller of accounts or chattel paper. Where the debtor and the owner of the collateral are not the same person, the term "debtor" means the owner of the collateral in any provision of the chapter dealing with the collateral, the obligor in any provision dealing with the obligation, and may include both where the context so requires;

(e) "Deposit account" means a demand, time, savings, passbook, or like account maintained with a bank, savings and loan association, credit union, or like organization, other than an account evidenced by a certificate of deposit;

(f) "Document" means document of title as defined in the general definitions of chapter 671 (s. 671.201) and a receipt of the kind described in s. 677.201(2);

(g) "Encumbrance" includes real estate mortgages and other liens on real estate and all other rights in real estate that are not ownership interests;

(h) "Goods" includes all things which are movable at the time the security interest attaches or which are fixtures (s. 679.313), but does not include money, documents, instruments, accounts, chattel paper, general intangibles, or minerals or the like (including oil and gas) before extraction. "Goods" also includes standing timber which is to be cut and removed under a conveyance or contract for sale, the unborn young of animals, and growing crops;

(i) "Instrument" means a negotiable instrument (defined in s. 673.104), or a security (defined in s. 678.102), or any other writing which evidences a right to the payment of money and is not itself a security agreement or lease and is of a type which is in ordinary course of business transferred by delivery with any necessary indorsement or assignment;

(j) "Mortgage" means an instrument deemed such under chapter 697;

(k) An advance is made "pursuant to a commitment" if the secured party has bound himself to make it, whether or not a subsequent event of default or other event not within his control has relieved or may relieve him from his obligation;

(l) "Security agreement" means an agreement which creates or provides for a security interest;

(m) "Secured party" means a lender, seller, or other person in whose favor there is a security interest, including a person to whom accounts or chattel paper have been sold. When the holders of obligations issued under an indenture of trust, equipment trust agreement, or the like are represented by a trustee or other person, the representative is the secured party;

(n) "Transmitting utility" means any person primarily engaged in the railroad, street railway or trolley bus business, the electric or electronics communications transmission business, the transmission of goods by pipeline, or the transmission or the production and transmission of electricity, steam, gas, or water, or the provision of sewer service.

<sup>1</sup>(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter, modify, or repeal any provision of the taxing laws of this state.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 9, ch. 79-398.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—Subsections (1)-(3), as amended, and subsection (5), as created, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-105, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 673.01.

679.106 Definitions: "Account"; "General intangibles."—"Account" means any right to payment for goods sold or leased or for services rendered which is not evidenced by an instrument or chattel paper whether or not it has been earned by performance. "General intangibles" means any personal property (including things in action) other than goods, accounts, chattel paper, documents, instruments and money. All rights to payment earned or unearned under a charter or other contract involving the use or hire of a vessel and all rights incident to the charter or contract are accounts.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-106, U.C.C.

679.107 Definitions: "Purchase money security interest."—A security interest is a "purchase money security interest" to the extent that it is:

(1) Taken or retained by the seller of the collateral to secure all or part of its price; or

(2) Taken by a person who by making advances or incurring an obligation gives value to enable the debtor to acquire rights in or the use of collateral if such value is in fact so used.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-107, U.C.C.

679.108 When after-acquired collateral not security for antecedent debt.—Where a secured party makes an advance, incurs an obligation, releases a perfected security interest, or otherwise gives new value which is to be secured in whole or in part by after-acquired property his security interest in the after-acquired collateral shall be deemed to be taken for new value and not as security for an antecedent debt if the debtor acquires his rights in such collateral either in the ordinary course of his business or under a contract or purchase made pursuant to the security agreement within a reasonable time after new value is given.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-108, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 85.30.

679.109 Classification of goods; "Consumer Goods"; "Equipment"; "Farm Products"; "Inventory."—Goods are:

(1) "Consumer goods" if they are used or bought for use primarily for personal, family or household purposes;

(2) "Equipment" if they are used or bought for use primarily in business (including farming or a profession) or by a debtor who is a nonprofit organization or a governmental subdivision or agency or if the goods are not included in the definitions of inventory, farm products or consumer goods;

(3) "Farm products" if they are crops or livestock or supplies used or produced in farming operations or if they are products of crops or livestock in their unmanufactured states (such as ginned cotton, wool-clip, maple syrup, milk and eggs), and if they are in the possession of a debtor engaged in raising, fattening, grazing or other farming operations. If goods are farm products they are neither equipment nor inventory;

(4) "Inventory" if they are held by a person who holds them for sale or lease or to be furnished under contracts of service or if he has so furnished them, or if they are raw materials, work in process or materials used or consumed in a business. Inventory of a person is not to be classified as his equipment.

Note.—s. 9-109, U.C.C.

679.110 Sufficiency of description.—For the purposes of this chapter any description of personal property or real estate is sufficient whether or not it is specific if it reasonably identifies what is described; except that a description of real estate in an instrument filed to perfect a security interest in crops growing or to be grown or goods which are or are to become fixtures shall be sufficient only if the filing or recording of the same constitutes constructive notice under the laws of this state, other than this chapter, which are applicable to the filing or recording of real estate mortgages, and a mailing or street address alone shall not be sufficient.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 67-264.

Note.—s. 9-110, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 700.01, 85.30(1)(c), 699.08, 673.09.

679.111 Applicability of bulk transfer laws.—The creation of a security interest is not a bulk transfer under chapter 676 (see s. 676.103).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-111, U.C.C.; supersedes Ch. 726.

679.112 Where collateral is not owned by debtor.—Unless otherwise agreed, when a secured party knows that collateral is owned by a person who is not the debtor, the owner of the collateral is entitled to receive from the secured party any surplus under s. 679.502(2) or under s. 679.504(1), and is not liable for the debt or for any deficiency after resale, and he has the same right as the debtor:

- (1) To receive statements under s. 679.208;
- (2) To receive notice of and to object to a secured party's proposal to retain the collateral in satisfaction of the indebtedness under s. 679.505;
- (3) To redeem the collateral under s. 679.506;
- (4) To obtain injunctive or other relief under s. 679.507(1); and
- (5) To recover losses caused to him under s. 679.208(2).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-112, U.C.C.

679.113 Security interests arising under article on sales.—A security interest arising solely under the chapter on sales (chapter 672) is subject to the provisions of this chapter except that to the extent that and so long as the debtor does not have or does not lawfully obtain possession of the goods:

- (1) No security agreement is necessary to make the security interest enforceable; and
- (2) No filing is required to perfect the security interest; and
- (3) The rights of the secured party on default by the debtor are governed by the chapter on sales (chapter 672).

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-113, U.C.C.

679.114 Consignment.—

(1) A person who delivers goods under a consignment which is not a security interest and who would be required to file under this chapter by s. 672.326(3)(c) has priority over a secured party who is or becomes a creditor of the consignee and who would have a perfected security interest in the goods if they were the property of the consignee, and also has priority with respect to identifiable cash proceeds received on or before delivery of the goods to a buyer, if:

- (a) The consignor complies with the filing provision of the chapter on sales with respect to consignments (s. 672.326(3)(c)) before the consignee receives possession of the goods; and
- (b) The consignor gives notification in writing to the holder of the security interest if the holder has filed a financing statement covering the same types of goods before the date of the filing made by the consignor; and
- (c) The holder of the security interest receives the notification within 5 years before the consignee receives possession of the goods; and
- (d) The notification states that the consignor expects to deliver goods on consignment to the consignee, describing the goods by item or type.

(2) In the case of a consignment which is not a security interest and in which the requirements of the preceding subsection have not been met, a person who delivers goods to another is subordinate to a person who would have a perfected security interest in the goods if they were the property of the debtor.

PART II

VALIDITY OF SECURITY AGREEMENT AND RIGHTS OF PARTIES THERETO

- 679.201 General validity of security agreement.
- 679.202 Title to collateral immaterial.
- 679.203 Enforceability of security interest; proceeds, formal requisites.
- 679.204 After-acquired property; future advances.
- 679.205 Use or disposition of collateral without accounting permissible.
- 679.206 Agreement not to assert defenses against assignee; modification of sales warranties where security agreement exists.
- 679.207 Rights and duties when collateral is in secured party's possession.
- 679.208 Request for statement of account or list of collateral.

679.201 General validity of security agreement.—Except as otherwise provided by this code a security agreement is effective according to its terms between the parties, against purchasers of the collateral and against creditors. Nothing in this chapter validates any charge or practice illegal under any statute or regulation thereunder governing usury, small loans, retail installment sales, or the like, or extends the application of any such statute or regulation to any transaction not otherwise subject thereto.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-201, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 673.03.

679.202 Title to collateral immaterial.—Each provision of this chapter with regard to rights, obligations and remedies applies whether title to collateral is in the secured party or in the debtor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-202, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 673.02, 698.03, 698.05.

679.203 Enforceability of security interest; proceeds, formal requisites.—

(1) Subject to the provisions of s. 674.208 on the security interest of a collecting bank and s. 679.113 on a security interest arising under the chapter on sales, a security interest is not enforceable against the debtor or third parties with respect to the collateral and does not attach unless:

(a) The collateral is in the possession of the secured party pursuant to agreement, or the debtor has signed a security agreement which contains a description of the collateral and in addition, when the security interest covers crops growing or to be grown or timber to be cut, a description of the land concerned; and

(b) Value has been given; and

(c) The debtor has rights in the collateral.

(2) A security interest attaches when it becomes enforceable against the debtor with respect to the collateral. Attachment occurs as soon as all of the events specified in subsection (1) have taken place unless explicit agreement postpones the time of attaching.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed, a security agreement gives the secured party the rights to proceeds provided by s. 679.306.

(4) A transaction, although subject to this chapter, is also subject to chapters 516 and 520, and in the case of conflict between the provisions of this chapter and any such statute, the provisions of such statute control. Failure to comply with any applicable statute has only the effect which is specified therein.

1679.204 After-acquired property; future advances.—

(1) Except as provided in subsection (2), a security agreement may provide that any or all obligations covered by the security agreement are to be secured by after-acquired collateral.

(2) No security interest attaches under an after-acquired property clause to consumer goods other than accessions (s. 679.314) when given as additional security unless the debtor acquires rights in them within 10 days after the secured party gives value.

(3) Obligations covered by a security agreement may include future advances or other value whether or not the advances or value are given pursuant to commitment (s. 679.105(1)).

cf.—s. 697.04 Future advances may be secured.

679.206 Agreement not to assert defenses against assignee; modification of sales warranties where security agreement exists.—

(1) Subject to any statute or decision which establishes a different rule for buyers or lessees of consumer goods, an agreement by a buyer or lessee that he will not assert against an assignee any claim or defense which he may have against the seller or lessor is enforceable by an assignee who takes his assignment for value, in good faith and without notice of a claim or defense, except as to defenses of a type which may be asserted against a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument under the chapter on commercial paper (chapter 673). A buyer who as part of one transaction signs both a negotiable instrument and a security agreement makes such an agreement.

(2) When a seller retains a purchase money security interest in goods the chapter on sales (chapter 672) governs the sale and any disclaimer, limitation or modification of the seller's warranties.

<sup>1</sup>History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

679.207 Rights and duties when collateral is in secured party's possession.—

(1) A secured party must use reasonable care in the custody and preservation of collateral in his possession. In the case of an instrument or chattel paper reasonable care includes taking necessary steps to preserve rights against prior parties unless otherwise agreed.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed, when collateral is in the secured party's possession:

(a) Reasonable expenses (including the cost of any insurance and payment of taxes or other charges) incurred in the custody, preservation, use or operation of the collateral are chargeable to the debtor and are secured by the collateral;

(b) The risk of accidental loss or damage is on the debtor to the extent of any deficiency in any effective insurance coverage;

(c) The secured party may hold as additional security any increase or profits (except money) received from the collateral, but money so received, unless remitted to the debtor, shall be applied in reduction of the secured obligation;

(d) The secured party must keep the collateral identifiable but fungible collateral may be commingled;

(e) The secured party may repledge the collateral upon terms which do not impair the debtor's right to redeem it.

(3) A secured party is liable for any loss caused by his failure to meet any obligation imposed by the preceding subsections but does not lose his security interest.

(4) A secured party may use or operate the collateral for the purpose of preserving the collateral or its value or pursuant to the order of a court of appropriate jurisdiction or, except in the case of consumer goods, in the manner and to the extent provided in the security agreement.

<sup>1</sup>History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

cf.—s. 818.04 Selling collateral security before debt due.

679.208 Request for statement of account or list of collateral.—

(1) A debtor may sign a statement indicating what he believes to be the aggregate amount of unpaid indebtedness as of a specified date and may send it to the secured party with a request that the statement be approved or corrected and returned to the debtor. When the security agreement or any other record kept by the secured party identifies the collateral a debtor may similarly request the secured party to approve or correct a list of the collateral.

(2) The secured party must comply with such a request within 2 weeks after receipt by sending a written correction or approval. If the secured party claims a security interest in all of a particular type of collateral owned by the debtor he may indicate that fact in his reply and need not approve or correct an itemized list of such collateral. If the secured party without reasonable excuse fails to comply he is liable for any loss caused to the debtor thereby; and if the debtor has properly included in his request a good faith statement of the obligation or a list of the collateral or both the secured party may claim a security interest only as shown in the statement against persons misled by his failure to comply. If he no longer has an interest in the obligation or collateral at the time the request is received he must disclose the name and address of any successor in interest known to him and he is liable for any loss caused to the debtor as a result of failure to disclose. A successor in interest is not subject to this section until a request is received by him.

(3) A debtor is entitled to such a statement once every 6 months without charge. The secured party may require payment of a charge not exceeding $10 for each additional statement furnished.

Note.—s. 9-208, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 698.03.

PART III

RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES; PERFECTED AND UNPERFECTED SECURITY INTERESTS; RULES OF PRIORITY

- 679.301 Persons who take priority over unperfected security interests; right of "lien creditor."
- 679.302 When filing is required to perfect security interest; security interests to which filing provisions of this chapter do not apply.
- 679.303 When security interest is perfected; continuity of perfection.
- 679.304 Perfection of security interest in instruments, documents, and goods covered by documents; perfection by permissive filing; temporary perfection without filing or transfer of possession.
- 679.305 When possession by secured party perfects security interest without filing.
- 679.306 "Proceeds"; secured party's rights on disposition of collateral.
- 679.307 Protection of buyers of goods.
- 679.308 Purchase of chattel paper and instruments.
- 679.309 Protection of purchasers of instruments and documents.
- 679.310 Priority of certain liens arising by operation of law.
- 679.311 Alienability of debtor's rights; judicial process.
- 679.312 Priorities among conflicting security interests in the same collateral.
- 679.313 Priority of security interests in fixtures.
- 679.314 Accessions.
- 679.315 Priority when goods are commingled or processed.
- 679.316 Priority subject to subordination.
- 679.317 Secured party not obligated on contract of debtor.
- 679.318 Defenses against assignee; modification of contract after notification of assignment; term prohibiting assignment ineffective; identification and proof of assignment.

679.301 Persons who take priority over unperfected security interests; right of "lien creditor."

(1) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (2), an unperfected security interest is subordinate to the rights of:

(a) Persons entitled to priority under s. 679.312;
(b) A person who becomes a lien creditor before the security interest is perfected;

(c) In the case of goods, instruments, documents, and chattel paper, a person who is not a secured party and who is a transferee in bulk or other buyer not in ordinary course of business, or is a buyer of farm products in ordinary course of business, to the extent that he gives value and receives delivery of the collateral without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected;

(d) In the case of accounts and general intangibles, a person who is not a secured party and who is a transferee to the extent that he gives value without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected.

(2) If the secured party files with respect to a purchase money security interest before or within 10 days after the debtor receives possession of the collateral, he takes priority over the rights of a transferee in bulk or of a lien creditor which arise between the time the security interest attaches and the time of filing.

(3) A "lien creditor" means a creditor who has acquired a lien on the property involved by attachment, levy, or the like and includes an assignee for benefit of creditors from the time of assignment, and a trustee in bankruptcy from the date of the filing of the petition or a receiver in equity from the time of appointment.

679.302 When filing is required to perfect security interest; security interests to which filing provisions of this chapter do not apply.

(1) A financing statement must be filed to perfect all security interests except the following:

(a) A security interest in collateral in possession of the secured party under s. 679.305;

(b) A security interest temporarily perfected in instruments or documents without delivery under s. 679.304 or in proceeds for a 10-day period under s. 679.306;

<sup>1</sup>(c) A security interest created by an assignment of a beneficial interest in a decedent's estate;

(d) A purchase money security interest in consumer goods; but filing is required for a fixture under s. 679.313;

<sup>1</sup>(e) An assignment of accounts which does not alone or in conjunction with other assignments to the same assignee transfer a significant part of the outstanding accounts of the assignor;

(f) A security interest of a collecting bank (s. 674.208) or arising under the chapter on sales (see s. 679.113) or covered in subsection (3) of this section.

<sup>1</sup>(g) An assignment for the benefit of all the creditors of the transferor, and subsequent transfers by the assignee thereunder.

(2) If a secured party assigns a perfected security interest, no filing under this chapter is required in order to continue the perfected status of the security interest against creditors of and transferees from the original debtor.

<sup>1</sup>(3) The filing of a financing statement otherwise required by this chapter is not necessary or effective to perfect a security interest in property subject to:

(a) A statute or treaty of the United States which provides for a national or international registration or a national or international certificate of title or which specifies a place of filing different from that specified in this chapter for filing of the security interest; or

(b) The following statutes of this state: chapters 319 and 371; but during any period in which collateral is inventory held for sale by a person who is in the business of selling goods of that kind, the filing provisions of this chapter (part IV) apply to a security interest in that collateral created by him as debtor; or

(c) A certificate of title statute of another jurisdiction under the law of which indication of a security interest on the certificate is required as a condition of perfection (s. 679.103(2)).

<sup>1</sup>(4) Compliance with a statute or treaty described in subsection (3) is equivalent to the filing of a financing statement under this chapter, and a security interest in property subject to the statute or treaty can be perfected only by compliance therewith except as provided in s. 679.103 on multiple state transactions. Duration and renewal of perfection of a security interest perfected by compliance with the statute or treaty are governed by the provisions of the statute or treaty; in other respects the security interest is subject to this chapter.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—Paragraphs (1)(c) and (e), as amended, paragraph (1)(g), as created, and subsections (3) and (4), as amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-302, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 673.08, 28.22.

679.303 When security interest is perfected; continuity of perfection.—

(1) A security interest is perfected when it has attached and when all of the applicable steps required for perfection have been taken. Such steps are specified in ss. 679.302, 679.304-679.306. If such steps are taken before the security interest attaches, it is perfected at the time when it attaches.

(2) If a security interest is originally perfected in any way permitted under this chapter and is subsequently perfected in some other way under this chapter, without an intermediate period when it was unperfected, the security interest shall be deemed to be perfected continuously for the purposes of this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-303, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 698.01, 85.30, 700.02, 699.07, 673.08, 28.221, 698.09.

679.304 Perfection of security interest in instruments, documents, and goods covered by documents; perfection by permissive filing; temporary perfection without filing or transfer of possession.—

tiable documents may be perfected by filing. A security interest in money or instruments (other than instruments which constitute part of chattel paper) can be perfected only by the secured party's taking possession, except as provided in subsections (4) and (5) of this section and subsections (2) and (3) of s. 679.306 on proceeds.

(2) During the period that goods are in the possession of the issuer of a negotiable document therefor, a security interest in the goods is perfected by perfecting a security interest in the document, and any security interest in the goods otherwise perfected during such period is subject thereto.

(3) A security interest in goods in the possession of a bailee other than one who has issued a negotiable document therefor is perfected by issuance of a document in the name of the secured party or by the bailee's receipt of notification of the secured party's interest or by filing as to the goods.

(4) A security interest in instruments or negotiable documents is perfected without filing or the taking of possession for a period of 21 days from the time it attaches to the extent that it arises for new value given under a written security agreement.

(5) A security interest remains perfected for a period of 21 days without filing where a secured party having a perfected security interest in an instrument, a negotiable document, or goods in possession of a bailee other than one who has issued a negotiable document therefor:

<sup>1</sup>(a) Makes available to the debtor the goods or documents representing the goods for the purpose of ultimate sale or exchange or for the purpose of loading, unloading, storing, shipping, transshipping, manufacturing, processing, or otherwise dealing with them in a manner preliminary to their sale or exchange but priority between conflicting security interests in the goods is subject to s. 679.312(3); or

(b) Delivers the instrument to the debtor for the purpose of ultimate sale or exchange or of presentation, collection, renewal or registration of transfer.

(6) After the 21-day period in subsections (4) and (5) perfection depends upon compliance with applicable provisions of this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 17, ch. 79-398.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-304, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 673.03, 673.08(1), 698.01, 678.33.

679.305 When possession by secured party perfects security interest without filing.—A security interest in letters of credit and advices of credit (s. 675.116(2)(a)), goods, negotiable documents, or chattel paper may be perfected by the secured party's taking possession of the collateral. If such collateral other than goods covered by a negotiable document is held by a bailee, the secured party is deemed to have possession from the time the bailee receives notification of the secured party's interest. A security interest is perfected by possession from the time possession is taken without relation back and continues only so long as possession is retained, unless otherwise specified in this chapter. The security interest may be otherwise perfected as provided in this chapter before or after the period of possession by the secured party.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 18, ch. 79-398.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-305, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 698.01, 678.44.

679.306 "Proceeds"; secured party's rights on disposition of collateral.—

<sup>1</sup>(1) "Proceeds" includes whatever is received upon the sale, exchange, collection, or other disposition of collateral or proceeds. Insurance payable by reason of loss or damage to the collateral is proceeds, except to the extent that it is payable to a person other than a party to the security agreement. Money, checks, deposit accounts, and the like are "cash proceeds." All other proceeds are "noncash proceeds."

<sup>1</sup>(2) Except where this chapter otherwise provides, a security interest continues in collateral notwithstanding sale, exchange, or other disposition thereof unless the disposition was authorized by the secured party in the security agreement or otherwise, and also continues in any identifiable proceeds including collections received by the debtor.

<sup>1</sup>(3) The security interest in proceeds is a continuously perfected security interest if the interest in the original collateral was perfected, but it ceases to be a perfected security interest and becomes unperfected 10 days after receipt of the proceeds by the debtor unless:

(a) A filed financing statement covers the original collateral and the proceeds are collateral in which a security interest may be perfected by filing in the office or offices where the financing statement has been filed and, if the proceeds are acquired with cash proceeds, the description of collateral in the financing statement indicates the types of property constituting the proceeds; or

(b) A filed financing statement covers the original collateral and the proceeds are identifiable cash proceeds; or

(c) The security interest in the proceeds is perfected before the expiration of the 10-day period.

Except as provided in this section, a security interest in proceeds can be perfected only by the methods or under the circumstances permitted in this chapter for original collateral of the same type.

<sup>1</sup>(4) In the event of insolvency proceedings instituted by or against a debtor, a secured party with a perfected security interest in proceeds has a perfected security interest only in the following proceeds:

(a) In identifiable noncash proceeds and in separate deposit accounts containing only proceeds;

(b) In identifiable cash proceeds in the form of money which is neither commingled with other money nor deposited in a deposit account prior to the insolvency proceedings;

(c) In identifiable cash proceeds in the form of checks and the like which are not deposited in a deposit account prior to the insolvency proceedings; and

(d) In all cash and deposit accounts of the debtor, in which proceeds have been commingled with other funds, but the perfected security interest under this paragraph (d) is:

1. Subject to any right of setoff; and

2. Limited to an amount not greater than the amount of any cash proceeds received by the debtor within 10 days before the institution of the insolvency proceedings less the sum of:

a. The payments to the secured party on account of cash proceeds received by the debtor during such period; and

b. The cash proceeds received by the debtor during such period to which the secured party is entitled under paragraphs (a) through (c) of this subsection.

(5) If a sale of goods results in an account or chattel paper which is transferred by the seller to a secured party, and if the goods are returned to or are repossessed by the seller or the secured party, the following rules determine priorities:

(a) If the goods were collateral at the time of sale for an indebtedness of the seller which is still unpaid, the original security interest attaches again to the goods and continues as a perfected security interest if it was perfected at the time when the goods were sold. If the security interest was originally perfected by a filing which is still effective, nothing further is required to continue the perfected status; in any other case, the secured party must take possession of the returned or repossessed goods or must file.

(b) An unpaid transferee of the chattel paper has a security interest in the goods against the transferor. Such security interest is prior to a security interest asserted under paragraph (a) to the extent that the transferee of the chattel paper was entitled to priority under s. 679.308.

(c) An unpaid transferee of the account has a security interest in the goods against the transferor. Such security interest is subordinate to a security interest asserted under paragraph (a).

(d) A security interest of an unpaid transferee asserted under paragraph (b) or (c) must be perfected for protection against creditors of the transferor and purchasers of the returned or repossessed goods.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 19, ch. 79-398.

cf.—Ch. 818 Sale of mortgaged personal property; similar offenses.

679.307 Protection of buyers of goods.—

(1) A buyer in ordinary course of business (s. 671.201(9)) other than a person buying farm products from a person engaged in farming operations takes free of a security interest created by his seller even though the security interest is perfected and even though the buyer knows of its existence.

<sup>1</sup>(2) In the case of consumer goods, a buyer takes free of a security interest even though perfected if he buys without knowledge of the security interest, for value and for his own personal, family, or household purposes unless prior to the purchase the secured party has filed a financing statement covering such goods.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-307, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 673.09(2), 85.30.

<sup>1</sup>679.308 Purchase of chattel paper and instruments.—A purchaser of chattel paper or an instrument who gives new value and takes possession of it in the ordinary course of his business has priority over a security interest in the chattel paper or instrument:

(1) Which is perfected under s. 679.304 (permissive filing and temporary perfection) or under s. 679.306 (perfection as to proceeds) if he acts without knowledge that the specific paper or instrument is subject to a security interest; or

(2) Which is claimed merely as proceeds of inventory subject to a security interest (s. 679.306) even though he knows that the specific paper or instrument is subject to the security interest.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 21, ch. 79-398.

Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-308, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 673.09(1)(a), 673.10.

679.309 Protection of purchasers of instruments and documents.—Nothing in this chapter limits the rights of a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument (s. 673.302) or a holder to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated (s. 677.501) or a bona fide purchaser of a security (s. 678.301) and such holders or purchasers take priority over an earlier security interest even though perfected. Filing under this chapter does not constitute notice of the security interest to such holders or purchasers.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-309, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 673.09(1)(a).

679.310 Priority of certain liens arising by operation of law.—When a person in the ordinary course of his business furnishes services or materials with respect to goods subject to a security interest, a lien upon goods in the possession of such person given by statute or rule of law for such materials or services takes priority over a perfected security interest unless the lien is statutory and the statute expressly provides otherwise.

Note.—s. 9-310, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 673.11.

cf.—s. 713.74 Acquisition of liens by persons in privity with the owner—as to personal property.

679.311 Alienability of debtor's rights; judicial process.—The debtor's rights in collateral may be voluntarily or involuntarily transferred (by way of sale, creation of a security interest, attachment, levy, garnishment or other judicial process) notwithstanding a provision in the security agreement prohibiting any transfer or making the transfer constitute a default.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-311, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 699.09.

cf.—s. 56.061 Property subject to execution.

679.312 Priorities among conflicting security interests in the same collateral.—

<sup>1</sup>(1) The rules of priority stated in other sections of this part and in the following sections shall govern when applicable: s. 674.208 with respect to the security interests of collecting banks in items being collected, accompanying documents and proceeds; s. 679.103 on security interests related to other jurisdictions; s. 679.114 on consignments.

(2) A perfected security interest in crops for new value given to enable the debtor to produce the crops during the production season and given not more than 3 months before the crops become growing crops by planting or otherwise takes priority over an earlier perfected security interest to the extent that such earlier interest secures obligations due more than 6 months before the crops become growing crops by planting or otherwise, even though the person giving new value had knowledge of the earlier security interest.

in inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same inventory and also has priority in identifiable cash proceeds received on or before the delivery of the inventory to a buyer if:

(a) The purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the inventory; and

(b) The purchase money secured party gives notification in writing to the holder of the conflicting security interest if the holder had filed a financing statement covering the same types of inventory:

1. Before the date of the filing made by the purchase money-secured party; or

2. Before the beginning of the 21-day period when the purchase money security interest is temporarily perfected without filing or possession (see s. 679.304(5)); and

(c) The holder of the conflicting security interest receives the notification within 5 years before the debtor receives possession of the inventory; and

(d) The notification states that the person giving the notice has or expects to acquire a purchase money security interest in inventory of the debtor, describing such inventory by time or type.

If any of the foregoing four requirements are not met, the priority of said purchase money security interest shall be determined under subsection (5).

<sup>1</sup>(4) A purchase money security interest in collateral other than inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral or its proceeds if the purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the collateral or within 10 days thereafter. Failure to so perfect shall cause the priority of said purchase money security interest to be determined under subsection (5).

<sup>1</sup>(5) In all cases not governed by other rules stated in this section (including cases of purchase money security interests which do not qualify for the special priorities set forth in subsections (3) and (4)), priority between conflicting security interests in the same collateral shall be determined according to the following rules:

(a) Conflicting security interests rank according to priority in time of filing or perfection. Priority dates from the time a filing is first made covering the collateral or the time the security interest is first perfected, whichever is earlier, provided that there is no period thereafter when there is neither filing nor perfection.

(b) So long as conflicting security interests are unperfected, the first to attach has priority.

<sup>1</sup>(6) For the purposes of subsection (5), a date of filing or perfection as to collateral is also a date of filing or perfection as to proceeds.

<sup>1</sup>(7) If future advances are made while a security interest is perfected by filing or the taking of possession, the security interest has the same priority for the purposes of subsection (5) with respect to the future advances as it does with respect to the first advance. If a commitment is made before or while the security interest is so perfected, the security interest has the same priority with respect to advances made pursuant thereto; in other cases a perfected security interest has priority from the date the advance is made.

Note.—s. 9-312, U.C.C.; supersedes chs. 700, 698.

679.313 Priority of security interests in fixtures.—

(1) The rules of this section do not apply to goods incorporated into a structure in the manner of lumber, bricks, tile, cement, glass, metal work and the like and no security interest in them exists under this chapter unless the structure remains personal property under applicable law. The law of this state other than this code determines whether and when other goods become fixtures. This code does not prevent creation of an encumbrance upon fixtures or real estate pursuant to the law applicable to real estate.

(2)(a) A security interest which attaches to goods which are or become fixtures is invalid against any person with an interest in the real estate at the time the security interest in the goods is perfected or at the time the goods are affixed to the real estate, whichever occurs later, who has not in writing consented to the security interest or disclaimed an interest in the goods as fixtures.

(b) A security interest in goods which are or become fixtures takes priority as to the goods over the claims of all persons acquiring interests in the real estate subsequent to the perfection of such security interest or the affixing of the goods to the real estate, whichever occurs later.

(3)(a) When under subsections (2) or (3) a secured party has priority over the claims of all persons who have interests in the real estate, he may, on default, subject to the provisions of part V, remove his collateral from the real estate but he must reimburse any encumbrancer or owner of the real estate who is not the debtor and who has not otherwise agreed for the cost of repair of any physical injury, but not for any diminution in value of the real estate caused by the absence of the goods removed or by any necessity for replacing them. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate security for the performance of this obligation.

(b) The secured party shall give reasonable notification of his intention to remove the collateral to all persons entitled to reimbursement.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 2, ch. 67-264.

Note.—s. 9-313, U.C.C.

cf.—s. 56.061 Property subject to execution.

s. 520.31 Definitions.

s. 713.15 Repossession of materials not used.

679.314 Accessions.—

(1) A security interest in goods which attaches before they are installed in or affixed to other goods takes priority as to the goods installed or affixed (called in this section "accessions") over the claims of all persons to the whole except as stated in subsection (3) and subject to s. 679.315(1).

(2) A security interest which attaches to goods after they become part of a whole is valid against all persons subsequently acquiring interests in the whole except as stated in subsection (3) but is invalid against any person with an interest in the whole at the time the security interest attaches to the goods who has not in writing consented to the security interest or disclaimed an interest in the goods as part of the whole.

(3) The security interests described in subsections (1) and (2) do not take priority over:

(a) A subsequent purchaser for value of any interest in the whole; or

(b) A creditor with a lien on the whole subsequently obtained by judicial proceedings; or

(c) A creditor with a prior perfected security interest in the whole to the extent that he makes subsequent advances, if the subsequent purchase is made, the lien by judicial proceedings obtained or the subsequent advance under the prior perfected security interest is made or contracted for without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected. A purchaser of the whole at a foreclosure sale other than the holder of a perfected security interest purchasing at his own foreclosure sale is a subsequent purchaser within this section.

(4) When under subsections (1) or (2) and (3) a secured party has an interest in accessions which has priority over the claims of all persons who have interests in the whole, he may on default subject to the provisions of part V remove his collateral from the whole but he must reimburse any encumbrancer or owner of the whole who is not the debtor and who has not otherwise agreed for the cost of repair of any physical injury but not for any diminution in value of the whole caused by the absence of the goods removed or by any necessity for replacing them. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate security for the performance of this obligation.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-314, U.C.C.

679.315 Priority when goods are commingled or processed.—

(1) If a security interest in goods was perfected and subsequently the goods or a part thereof have become part of a product or mass, the security interest continues in the product or mass if:

(a) The goods are so manufactured, processed, assembled or commingled that their identity is lost in the product or mass; or

(b) A financing statement covering the original goods also covers the product into which the goods have been manufactured, processed or assembled.

In a case to which paragraph (b) applies, no separate security interest in that part of the original goods which has been manufactured, processed or assembled into the product may be claimed under s. 679.314.

(2) When under subsection (1) more than one security interest attaches to the product or mass, they rank equally according to the ratio that the cost of the goods to which each interest originally attached bears to the cost of the total product or mass.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-315, U.C.C.

679.316 Priority subject to subordination.—

Nothing in this chapter prevents subordination by agreement by any person entitled to priority.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-316, U.C.C.

679.317 Secured party not obligated on contract of debtor.—The mere existence of a security interest or authority given to the debtor to dispose of or use collateral does not impose contract or tort liability upon the secured party for the debtor's acts or omissions.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-317, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 673.12.

679.318 Defenses against assignee; modification of contract after notification of assignment; term prohibiting assignment ineffective; identification and proof of assignment.—

(1) Unless an account debtor has made an enforceable agreement not to assert defenses or claims arising out of a sale as provided in s. 679.206 the rights of an assignee are subject to:

(a) All the terms of the contract between the account debtor and assignor and any defense or claim arising therefrom; and

(b) Any other defense or claim of the account debtor against the assignor which accrues before the account debtor receives notification of the assignment.

<sup>1</sup>(2) So far as the right to payment or a part thereof under an assigned contract has not been fully earned by performance, and notwithstanding notification of the assignment, any modification of or substitution for the contract made in good faith and in accordance with reasonable commercial standards is effective against an assignee unless the account debtor has otherwise agreed but the assignee acquires corresponding rights under the modified or substituted contract. The assignment may provide that such modification or substitution is a breach by the assignor.

<sup>1</sup>(3) The account debtor is authorized to pay the assignor until the account debtor receives notification that the amount due or to become due has been assigned and that payment is to be made to the assignee. A notification which does not reasonably identify the rights assigned is ineffective. If requested by the account debtor, the assignee must seasonably furnish reasonable proof that the assignment has been made and unless he does so the account debtor may pay the assignor.

<sup>1</sup>(4) A term in any contract between an account debtor and an assignor is ineffective if it prohibits assignment of an account or prohibits creation of a security interest in a general intangible for money due or to become due or requires the account debtor's consent to such assignment or security interest.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 23, ch. 79-398.

Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-318, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 673.09(3).

PART IV

FILING

- 679.401 Place of filing; erroneous filing; removal of collateral.
- 679.4011 Filing and recording with clerk of circuit court in Florida.
- 679.402 Formal requisites of financing statement; amendments.
- 679.403 What constitutes filing; duration of filing; effect of lapsed filing; duties of filing officer.
- 679.404 Termination statement.
- 679.405 Assignment of security interest; duties of filing officer; fees.
- 679.406 Release of collateral; duties of filing officer; fees.
- 679.407 Information from filing officer.
- 679.408 Consignor or lessor filing.

(1) The proper place to file in order to perfect a security interest is as follows:

(a) When the collateral is crops, growing or to be grown, by recording in the office of the clerk of the circuit court in the county where the land on which the crops are growing or to be grown is located, and by filing in the office of the Department of State; provided that the filing in the office of the Department of State need not include a legal description of the real estate pursuant to <sup>2</sup>ss. 679.402(1)(b) and 679.110 if:

1. Such filing designates the county where the land is located and includes a reference to the book and page of the filing in the office of the clerk of the circuit court; or

2. Such filing initially designates the county where the land is located and is thereafter amended within 30 days after the date of the original filing in the office of the Department of State to include the information required in paragraph (a).

(b) When the collateral is timber to be cut or is minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or is accounts subject to s. 679.103(5), or is goods which are or are to become fixtures, then in the office where a mortgage on the real estate would be filed or recorded.

(c) In all other cases, by filing in the office of the Department of State.

(2) Except as provided in s. 679.313(2), a filing which is made in good faith in an improper place or in fewer than all of the places required by this section is nevertheless effective with regard to any collateral as to which the filing complied with the requirements of this chapter, and such filing is also effective with regard to collateral covered by the financing statement against any person who has knowledge of the contents of such financing statement.

(3) Except as provided in s. 679.313(2), a filing which is made in the proper place in this state prior to January 1, 1980, continues effective even though the debtor's residence or place of business or the location of the collateral or its use, whichever controlled the original filing, is thereafter changed.

(4) The rules stated in s. 679.103 determine whether filing is necessary in this state.

(5) Notwithstanding the preceding subsections, and subject to s. 679.302(3), the proper place to file in order to perfect a security interest in collateral, including fixtures, of a transmitting utility is the office of the Department of State.

679.4011 Filing and recording with clerk of circuit court in Florida.—The filing of a writing in the office of a clerk of the circuit court under this chapter shall be complete and sufficient only if the writing is recorded in the office of the appropriate clerk of the circuit court, in the official records book of such office or in such record book as shall be designated by the clerk of the circuit court for such purpose. Any writing required or permitted to be filed in such office by any provisions of this chapter shall be entitled to be recorded without oath, acknowledgment or proof of its execution. In all other respects such recording shall be in the manner provided in chapter 695, F. S., for recording of conveyances of real property, and in the manner and upon payment of fees as provided in chapter 28, F. S. The record of such writing shall be held for public inspection in lieu of the original. No writing under this chapter shall be deemed filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court unless such writing shall be recorded as provided in this section.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—New section added, applicable in Florida only.

679.402 Formal requisites of financing statement; amendments.—

(1) A financing statement is sufficient if it gives the names of the debtor and the secured party, is signed by the debtor, gives an address of the secured party from which information concerning the security interest may be obtained, gives a mailing address of the debtor, and contains a statement indicating the types, or describing the items, of collateral. A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made or a security interest otherwise attaches. When the financing statement covers crops growing or to be grown or timber to be cut or minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to s. 679.103(5), or goods which are or are to become fixtures, the statement must also comply with subsection (5). A copy of the security agreement is sufficient if it contains the above information and is signed by the debtor. A carbon, photographic, or other reproduction of a security agreement or a financing statement is sufficient as a financing statement if the security agreement so provides, or if the original has been filed in this state.

(2) A financing statement which otherwise complies with subsection (1) is sufficient when it is signed by the secured party alone, or together with the debtor, if it is filed to perfect a security interest in:

(a) Collateral already subject to a security interest in another jurisdiction when it is brought into this state or when the debtor's location is changed to this state. Such a financing statement must state that the collateral was brought into this state under such circumstances; or

(b) Proceeds under s. 679.306 if the security interest in the original collateral was perfected. Such a financing statement must describe the original collateral; or

(c) Collateral as to which the filing has lapsed; or

(d) Collateral acquired after a change of name, identity, or corporate structure of the debtor; or

(e) Collateral acquired after a change of name, identity, or corporate structure of the secured party (but such a filing shall be optional with the secured party).

(3) After January 1, 1980, a form substantially as follows is sufficient to comply with subsection (1):

Name of debtor (or assignor) .....

Address.....

Name of secured party (or assignee) .....

Address .....

(a) This financing statement covers the following types (or items) of property:

(Describe) .....

(b) (If collateral is crops) The above-described crops are growing or are to be grown on:

(Describe real estate by legal description; a mailing or street address is not sufficient.) Record owner (or record lessee) of said real estate.....

(c) (If applicable) The above goods are or are to become fixtures on (or, when appropriate, substitute, "The above timber is standing on ...." or "The above minerals or the like (including oil and gas), or accounts will be financed at the wellhead or minehead of the well or mine located on ...."):

(Describe real estate by legal description; a mailing or street address is not sufficient.) .....

and this financing statement is to be filed for record in the real estate records. If the debtor does not have an <sup>2</sup>interest of record in the real estate, the name of a record owner is .....

(d) (If proceeds or products of collateral are claimed) Proceeds or products of the collateral are also covered.

Signature of debtor (or assignor) .....

Signature of secured party (or assignee) .....

(4) A financing statement may be amended by filing a writing signed by both the debtor and the secured party. An amendment does not extend the period of effectiveness of a financing statement. If any amendment adds collateral, it is effective as to the added collateral only from the filing date of the amendment. In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the term "financing statement" means the original financing statement and any amendments.

(5) A financing statement covering timber to be cut or minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to s. 679.103(5), or goods which are or are to become fixtures where the debtor is not a transmitting utility, must show that it covers this type of collateral and must recite that it is to be filed for record in the real estate records, and the financing statement must contain a legal description of the real estate. If the debtor does not have an interest of record in the real estate, the financing statement must show the name of the record owner.

(6) A financing statement sufficiently shows the name of the debtor if it gives the individual, partnership, or corporate name of the debtor, whether or not it adds other trade names or names of partners. Where the debtor so changes his name or in the case of an organization its name, identity, or corporate structure that a filed financing statement becomes seriously misleading, the filing is not effective to perfect a security interest in collateral acquired by the debtor more than 4 months after the change, unless a new appropriate financing statement is filed before the expiration of that time, in which case the new filing shall continue the priority of the original filing.

(7) A financing statement substantially complying with the requirements of this section is effective even though it contains minor errors which are not seriously misleading.

(8) The Department of State may promulgate approved and uniform forms of financing statements and other instruments to be filed with the Department of State pursuant to this chapter. Any person filing any instrument permitted or required to be filed under this chapter with the Department of State on a form other than the approved or uniform form of the Department of State shall pay a fee of $3 in addition to the fee required by s. 15.091.

<sup>2</sup>Note.—The words "interest of record in the real estate" were substituted for the words "interest in the real estate records" by the editors.

679.403 What constitutes filing; duration of filing; effect of lapsed filing; duties of filing officer.—

(1) Presentation for filing of a financing statement and tender of the filing fee or acceptance of the statement by the filing officer and recording in compliance with section 679.4011, where required, constitutes filing under this chapter.

<sup>1</sup>(2) Except as provided in subsection (6), a filed financing statement is effective for a period of 5 years from the date of filing. The effectiveness of a filed financing statement lapses on the expiration of the 5-year period, unless a continuation statement is filed prior to the lapse. If a security interest perfected by filing exists at the time insolvency proceedings are commenced by or against the debtor, the security interest remains perfected until termination of the insolvency proceedings and thereafter for a period of 60 days or until expiration of the 5-year period, whichever occurs later. Upon lapse, the security interest becomes unperfected unless it is perfected without filing. If the security interest becomes unperfected upon lapse, it is deemed to have been unperfected as against a person who became a purchaser or lien creditor before lapse.

<sup>1</sup>(3) A continuation statement may be filed by the secured party within 6 months prior to the expiration of the 5-year period specified in subsection (2). Any such continuation statement must be signed by the secured party, identify the original statement by file number, and state that the original statement is still effective. A continuation statement signed by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and comply with s. 679.405(2), including payment of the required fee. Upon timely filing of the continuation statement, the effectiveness of the original statement is continued for 5 years after the last date to which the filing was effective whereupon it lapses in the same manner as provided in subsection (2) unless another continuation statement is filed prior to such lapse. Succeeding continuation statements may be filed in the same manner to continue the effectiveness of the original statement. Unless a statute on disposition of public records provides otherwise, the filing officer may remove a lapsed statement from the files and destroy it immediately if he has retained a microfilm or other photographic record, or in other cases, 1 year after the lapse. The filing officer shall so arrange matters by physical annexation of financing statements to continuation statements or other related filings, or by other means, that if he physically destroys the financing statements of a period more than 5 years past, those which have been continued by a continuation statement or which are still effective under subsection (6) shall be retained.

<sup>1</sup>(4) Except as provided in subsection (7), a filing officer shall mark each statement with a file number and with the date and time of filing and, if applicable, the official records book and page <sup>2</sup>numbers for filings in the office of a clerk of the circuit court and shall hold the statement or a microfilm or other photographic copy thereof for public inspection. In addition the filing officer shall index the statements according to the name of the debtor and shall note in the index the file number and the address of the debtor given in the statement.

<sup>1</sup>(5) The uniform fee for filing, indexing, and stamping a copy furnished by the secured party to show the date and place of filing for an original financing statement or for a continuation statement shall be as provided in chapter 15 or chapter 28. The secured party may, at his option, show a trade name for any person, or for more than one name, but an additional fee may be charged with respect thereto.

<sup>1</sup>(6) If the debtor is a transmitting utility (s. 679.401(5)) and a filed financing statement so states, it is effective until a termination statement is filed.

<sup>1</sup>(7) When a financing statement covers crops growing or to be grown, timber to be cut, minerals or the like (including oil and gas), accounts subject to s. 679.103(5), or goods which are or are to become fixtures, the filing officer shall index it under the names of the debtor and any owner of record shown on the financing statement in the same fashion as if they were the mortgagors in a mortgage of the real estate described and, to the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing of mortgages under the name of the mortgagee, under the name of the secured party as if he were the mortgagee thereunder.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 26, ch. 79-398.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—Subsections (2)-(5), as amended, and subsections (6) and (7), as created, effective January 1, 1980.

<sup>2</sup>Note.—The word "numbers" was inserted by the editors.
 Note.—s. 9-403, U.C.C.

679.404 Termination statement.—

(1) If a financing statement is filed on or after January 1, 1980, then within 10 days following written demand by the debtor after there is no outstanding secured obligation and no commitment to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value, the secured party must on written demand by the debtor send the debtor, for each filing officer with whom the financing statement was filed, a termination statement to the effect that he no longer claims a security interest under the financing statement, which shall be identified by file number, or official records book and page number, if applicable. Except for termination statements of financing statements filed under s. 679.402(2) and (5), a termination statement signed by a person other than the secured party of record must include or be accompanied by the assignment or a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record complying with s. 679.405(2), including payment of the required fee. If the affected secured party fails to send such a termination statement within 10 days after proper written demand therefor or written notice that the filing has been assigned to another party, together with such party's address, he shall be liable to the debtor for $100, and in addition for any loss caused to the debtor by such failure.

(2) On presentation to the filing officer of such a termination statement, the officer must note it in the index and, if applicable, record it in the office where a mortgage on the real estate concerned would be filed or recorded. If he has received the termination statement in duplicate, he shall return one copy of the termination statement to the secured party stamped to show the time of receipt thereof. If the filing officer has a microfilm or other photographic record of the financing statement, and of any related continuation statement, statement of assignment, and statement of release, he may remove the originals from the files at any time after receipt of the termination statement or if he has no such record, he may remove them from the files at any time after 1 year after receipt of the termination statement.

(3) The uniform fee for filing and indexing a termination statement shall be as provided in chapter 15 or chapter 28. An additional fee may be charged for each name, more than one, against which the termination statement is required to be indexed.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 27, ch. 79-398.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-404, U.C.C.

679.405 Assignment of security interest; duties of filing officer; fees.—

<sup>1</sup>(1) A financing statement may disclose an assignment of a security interest in the collateral described in the financing statement by indication in the financing statement of the name and address of the assignee or by an assignment itself or a copy thereof on the face of the statement or annexed thereto. On presentation to the filing officer of such a financing statement, the filing officer shall mark the same as provided in s. 679.403(4). The uniform fee for filing, indexing, and furnishing data for a financing statement so indicating an assignment shall be as provided in chapter 15 or chapter 28. An additional fee may be charged for each name, more than one, against which the financing statement is required to be indexed.

<sup>1</sup>(2) A secured party may assign of record all or a part of his rights under a financing statement by the filing, in the place where the original financing statement was filed, of a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and setting forth the name of the secured party of record and the debtor, the file number and the date of filing of the financing statement, and the name and address of the assignee and containing a description of the collateral assigned. A copy of the assignment is sufficient as a separate statement if it complies with the preceding sentence. On presentation to the filing officer of such a separate statement, the filing officer shall mark such separate statement with the date and time of the filing, and shall file and index same. He shall note the assignment on the index of the financing statement, or in the case of a filing on goods which are or are to become fixtures, filing on crops or timber to be cut under s. 679.402(5), or covering minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to s. 679.103(5), he shall index the assignment under the name of the assignor as grantor, and, to the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing the assignment of a mortgage under the name of the assignee, he shall index the assignment of the financing statement under the name of the assignee. The uniform fee for filing, indexing, and furnishing data about such a separate statement of assignment shall be as provided in chapter 15 or chapter 28. An additional fee may be charged for each name, more than one, against which the statement of assignment is required to be indexed. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, an assignment of record of a security interest in a fixture contained in a mortgage may be made only by an assignment of the mortgage in the manner provided by the law of this state, other than this code.

(3) After the disclosure or filing of an assignment under this section, the assignee is the secured party of record.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 28, ch. 79-398.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-405, U.C.C.

679.406 Release of collateral; duties of filing officer; fees.—

A secured party of record may by his signed statement release all or a part of any collateral described in a filed financing statement. The statement of release is sufficient if it contains a description of the collateral being released, the name and address of the debtor, the name and address of the secured party, and the file number of the financing statement. Except for statements of release of financing statements filed under s. 679.402(4) and (5), a statement of release signed by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and complying with s. 679.405(2), including payment of the required fee, except that in the case of statements of release of financing statements filed under s. 679.402(4) and (5), a separate written statement of assignment shall not be required. Upon presentation of such a statement of release to the filing officer, he shall mark the statement with the time and date of filing and note the same upon the margin of the index of the filing of the financing statement. The uniform fee for filing and indexing such a statement of release shall be as provided in chapter 15 or chapter 28. An additional fee may be charged for each name, more than one, against which the statement of release is required to be indexed.

679.407 Information from filing officer.—

<sup>1</sup>(1) If the person filing any financing statement, termination statement, statement of assignment, or statement of release, furnishes the filing officer a copy thereof, the filing officer shall note upon the copy the file number and date and time of the filing of the original and deliver or send the copy to such person. The Department of State shall charge no additional fee for such service. The fee to be charged by a clerk of the circuit court shall be as provided in chapter 28.

(2) Upon request of any person, the filing officer shall provide a certified copy of any filed instrument under this chapter. The fee for such service shall be as provided in chapters 15 or 28, F. S.

679.408 Consignor or lessor filing.—A consignor or lessor of goods may file a financing statement using the terms "consignor," "consignee," "lessor," "lessee," or the like instead of the terms specified in s. 679.402. The provisions of this part shall apply as appropriate to such a financing statement, but its filing shall not of itself be a factor in determining whether or not the consignment or lease is intended as security (s. 671.201(37)). However, if it is determined for other reasons that the consignment or lease is so intended, a security interest of the consignor or lessor which attaches to the consigned or leased goods is perfected by such filing.

<sup>1</sup>History.—s. 31, ch. 79-398.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—Effective January 1, 1980.

PART V

DEFAULT

- 679.501 Default; procedure when security agreement covers both real and personal property.
- 679.502 Collection rights of secured party.
- 679.503 Secured party's right to take possession after default.
- 679.504 Secured party's right to dispose of collateral after default; effect of disposition.
- 679.505 Compulsory disposition of collateral; acceptance of the collateral as discharge of obligation.
- 679.506 Debtor's right to redeem collateral.
- 679.507 Secured party's liability for failure to comply with this part.

679.501 Default; procedure when security agreement covers both real and personal property.—

(1) When a debtor is in default under a security agreement, a secured party has the rights and remedies provided in this part, and except as limited by subsection (3) those provided in the security agreement. He may reduce his claim to judgment, foreclose or otherwise enforce the security interest by any available judicial procedure. If the collateral is documents the secured party may proceed either as to the documents or as to the goods covered thereby. A secured party in possession has the rights, remedies and duties provided in s. 679.207. The rights and remedies referred to in this subsection are cumulative.

(2) After default, the debtor has the rights and remedies provided in this part, those provided in the security agreement and those provided in s. 679.207.

<sup>1</sup>(3) To the extent that they give rights to the debtor and impose duties on the secured party, the rules stated in the subsections referred to below may not be waived or varied except as provided with respect to compulsory disposition of collateral (s. 679.504(3) and s. 679.505) and with respect to redemption of collateral (s. 679.506) but the parties may by agreement determine the standards by which the fulfillment of these rights and duties is to be measured if such standards are not manifestly unreasonable:

(a) Sections 679.502(2) and 679.504(2) insofar as they require accounting for surplus proceeds of collateral;

(b) Sections 679.504(3) and 679.505(1) which deal with disposition of collateral;

(c) Section 679.505(2) which deals with acceptance of collateral as discharge of obligation;

(d) Section 679.506 which deals with redemption of collateral; and

(e) Section 679.507(1) which deals with the secured party's liability for failure to comply with this part.

(4) If the security agreement covers both real and personal property, the secured party may proceed under this part as to the personal property or he may proceed as to both the real and the personal property in accordance with his rights and remedies in respect of the real property, in which case the provisions of this part do not apply.

(5) When a secured party has reduced his claim to judgment the lien of any levy which may be made upon his collateral by virtue of any execution based upon the judgment shall relate back to the date of the perfection of the security interest in such collateral. A judicial sale, pursuant to such execution, is a foreclosure of the security interest by judicial procedure within the meaning of this section, and the secured party may purchase at the sale and thereafter hold the collateral free of any other requirements of this chapter.

679.502 Collection rights of secured party.—

(1) When so agreed and in any event on default the secured party is entitled to notify an account debtor or the obligor on an instrument to make payment to him whether or not the assignor was therefore making collections on the collateral, and also to take control of any proceeds to which he is entitled under s. 679.306.

<sup>1</sup>(2) A secured party who by agreement is entitled to charge back uncollected collateral or otherwise to full or limited recourse against the debtor and who undertakes to collect from the account debtors or obligors must proceed in a commercially reasonable manner and may deduct his reasonable expenses of realization from the collections. If the security agreement secures an indebtedness, the secured party must account to the debtor for any surplus, and unless otherwise agreed, the debtor is liable for any deficiency. But, if the underlying transaction was a sale of accounts or chattel paper, the debtor is entitled to any surplus or is liable for any deficiency only if the security agreement so provides.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-502, U.C.C.; supersedes s. 698.03.

679.503 Secured party's right to take possession after default.—Unless otherwise agreed a secured party has on default the right to take possession of the collateral. In taking possession a secured party may proceed without judicial process if this can be done without breach of the peace or may proceed by action. If the security agreement so provides the secured party may require the debtor to assemble the collateral and make it available to the secured party at a place to be designated by the secured party which is reasonably convenient to both parties. Without removal a secured party may render equipment unusable, and may dispose of collateral on the debtor's premises under s. 679.504.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-503, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 698.03, 673.06.

679.504 Secured party's right to dispose of collateral after default; effect of disposition.—

(1) A secured party after default may sell, lease or otherwise dispose of any or all of the collateral in its then condition or following any commercially reasonable preparation or processing. Any sale of goods is subject to chapter 672. The proceeds of disposition shall be applied in the order following to:

<sup>1</sup>(a) The reasonable expenses of retaking, holding, preparing for sale or lease, selling, leasing, and the like and, to the extent provided for in the agreement and not prohibited by law, the reasonable attorneys' fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party;

(b) The satisfaction of indebtedness secured by the security interest under which the disposition is made;

(c) The satisfaction of indebtedness secured by any subordinate security interest in the collateral if written notification of demand therefor is received before distribution of the proceeds is completed. If requested by the secured party, the holder of a subordinate security interest must seasonably furnish reasonable proof of his interest, and unless he does so, the secured party need not comply with his demand.

<sup>1</sup>(2) If the security interest secures an indebtedness, the secured party must account to the debtor for any surplus, and, unless otherwise agreed, the debtor is liable for any deficiency. But if the underlying transaction was a sale of accounts or chattel paper, the debtor is entitled to any surplus or is liable for any deficiency only if the security agreement so provides.

<sup>1</sup>(3) Disposition of the collateral may be by public or private proceedings and may be made by way of one or more contracts. Sale or other disposition may be as a unit or in parcels and at any time and place and on any terms, but every aspect of the disposition including the method, manner, time, place, and terms must be commercially reasonable. Unless collateral is perishable or threatens to decline speedily in value or is of a type customarily sold on a recognized market, reasonable notification of the time and place of any public sale or reasonable notification of the time after which any private sale or other intended disposition is to be made shall be sent by the secured party to the debtor if he has not signed after default a conspicuous statement renouncing or modifying his right to notification of sale and, except in the case of consumer goods, to any other person who has a security interest in the collateral and who has duly filed a financing statement indexed in the name of the debtor in this state. The secured party may buy at any public sale and, if the collateral is of a type customarily sold in a recognized market or is of a type which is the subject of widely distributed standard price quotations, he may buy at private sale.

(4) When collateral is disposed of by a secured party after default, the disposition transfers to a purchaser for value all of the debtor's rights therein, discharges the security interest under which it is made and any security interest or lien subordinate thereto. The purchaser takes free of all such rights and interests even though the secured party fails to comply with the requirements of this part or of any judicial proceedings:

(a) In the case of a public sale, if the purchaser has no knowledge of any defects in the sale and if he does not buy in collusion with the secured party, other bidders or the person conducting the sale; or

(b) In any other case, if the purchaser acts in good faith.

(5) A person who is liable to a secured party under a guaranty, indorsement, repurchase agreement or the like and who receives a transfer of collateral from the secured party or is subrogated to his rights has thereafter the rights and duties of the secured party. Such a transfer of collateral is not a sale or disposition of the collateral under this chapter.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 34, ch. 79-398.

<sup>1</sup>Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-504, U.C.C.; supersedes ss. 673.06, 698.03.

679.505 Compulsory disposition of collateral; acceptance of the collateral as discharge of obligation.—

(1) If the debtor has paid 60 percent of the cash price in the case of a purchase money security interest in consumer goods or 60 percent of the loan in the case of another security interest in consumer goods, and has not signed after default a statement renouncing or modifying his rights under this part a secured party who has taken possession of collateral must dispose of it under s. 679.504 and if he fails to do so within 90 days after he takes possession the debtor at his option may recover in conversion or under s. 679.507(1) on secured party's liability.

<sup>1</sup>(2) In any other case involving consumer goods or any other collateral, a secured party in possession may, after default, propose to retain the collateral in satisfaction of the obligation. Written notice of such proposal shall be sent to the debtor and, except in the case of consumer goods, to any other secured party who has a security interest in the collateral and who has duly filed a financing statement indexed in the name of the debtor in this state. If the debtor or other person entitled to receive notification objects in writing within 30 days from the date the notification is sent by the secured party or if any other secured party objects in writing within 30 days after the secured party obtains possession, the secured party must dispose of the collateral under s. 679.504 if the debtor or such other person has not signed after default a conspicuous statement renouncing or modifying his rights under this subsection. In the absence of such written objection, the secured party may retain the collateral in satisfaction of the debtor's obligation.

Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

Note.—s. 9-505, U.C.C.

679.506 Debtor's right to redeem collateral.—

At any time before the secured party has disposed of collateral or entered into a contract for its disposition under s. 679.504 or before the obligation has been discharged under s. 679.505(2) the debtor or any other secured party may unless otherwise agreed in writing after default redeem the collateral by tendering fulfillment of all obligations secured by the collateral as well as the expenses reasonably incurred by the secured party in retaking, holding and preparing the collateral for disposition, in arranging for the sale, and to the extent provided in the agreement and not prohibited by law, his reasonable attorneys' fees and legal expenses.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

Note.—s. 9-506, U.C.C.

679.507 Secured party's liability for failure to comply with this part.—

(1) If it is established that the secured party is not proceeding in accordance with the provisions of this part disposition may be ordered or restrained on appropriate terms and conditions. If the disposition has occurred the debtor or any person entitled to notification or whose security interest has been made known to the secured party prior to the disposition has a right to recover from the secured party any loss caused by a failure to comply with the provisions of this part. If the collateral is consumer goods the debtor has a right to recover in any event an amount not less than the credit service charge plus 10 percent of the principal amount of the debt or the time price differential plus 10 percent of the cash price.

(2) The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the secured party is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner. If the secured party either sells the collateral in the usual manner in any recognized market therefor or if he sells at the price current in such market at the time of his sale or if he has otherwise sold in conformity with reasonable commercial practices among dealers in the type of property sold he has sold in a commercially reasonable manner. The principles stated in the two preceding sentences with respect to sales also apply as may be appropriate to other types of disposition. A disposition which has been approved in any judicial proceeding or by any bona fide creditors' committee or representative of creditors shall conclusively be deemed to be commercially reasonable, but this sentence does not indicate that any such approval must be obtained in any case nor does it indicate that any disposition not so approved is not commercially reasonable.

CHAPTER 680

UNIFORM COMMERCIAL CODE: EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEALER

ARTICLE 10

Note.—Pursuant to s. 69, ch. 69-353, the editors have altered the numbers of all sections making up this chapter by deleting the digit and hyphen immediately following the decimal point. The purpose is to conform the numbering of the Code sections with the decimal numbering system used in other chapters of the Florida Statutes.

- 680.101 Effective date; provision for transition; preservation of old transition provision.
 680.103 General repealer.
 680.104 Laws not repealed; precedence where code provisions in conflict therewith; certain statutory remedies retained.
 680.105 Severability.
 680.108 Transition provisions on place of filing.
 680.109 Required refilings.
 680.11 Transition provisions as to priorities.
 680.111 Presumption that rule of law continues unchanged.

680.101 Effective date; provision for transition; preservation of old transition provision.—

(1) This act shall take effect at 12:01 a.m. on January 1, 1980.

(2) Transactions validly entered into after January 1, 1967, and before the effective date of this act, and which were subject to the provisions of chapter 65-254, Laws of Florida, as amended, and which would be subject to this act as amended if they had been entered into after the effective date of this act and the rights, duties, and interests flowing from such transactions remain valid after the latter date and may be terminated, completed, consummated, or enforced as required or permitted by this act. Security interests arising out of such transactions which are perfected when this act becomes effective shall remain perfected until they lapse as provided in this act and may be continued as permitted by this act, except as stated in s. 680.108.

(3) The provisions of s. 680.101 shall continue to apply to this act and for this purpose the two statutes shall be considered one continuous statute.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 1, ch. 69-218; s. 36, ch. 79-398.

Note.—As amended, effective January 1, 1980.

680.103 General repealer.—Except as provided in s. 680.104, all laws and parts of laws inconsistent with this code are repealed.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

680.104 Laws not repealed; precedence where code provisions in conflict therewith; certain statutory remedies retained.—

(1) The article on documents of title (Art. 7) does not repeal or modify any laws prescribing the form or contents of documents of title or the services or facilities to be afforded by bailees, or otherwise regulating bailees' businesses in respects not specifically dealt with herein; but the fact that such laws are violated does not affect the status of a document of title which otherwise complies with the definition of a document of title (s. 671.201).

(2) The following laws and parts of laws are specifically not repealed and shall take precedence over any provisions of this code which may be inconsistent or in conflict therewith:

(a) Chapter 517—Sale of securities.

(b) Chapter 610—Uniform act for simplification of fiduciary security transfers.

(c) Chapter 687—Interest and usury.

(d) Chapter 516—Small loan business.

(e) Chapter 520—Retail installment sales (Part I, Motor Vehicle Sales Finance Act; Part II, Retail Installment Sales Act; Part III, Installment Sales Finance Act).

(f) Chapter 665—Savings Association Act.

(g) Chapter 657—Credit unions.

(h) Chapter 319—Title certificates (motor vehicle).

(i) Section 715.04—Pawnbrokers, disposition of pledged property for nonpayment of principal or interest.

(j) Chapters 658, 659, 660 and 661—Florida Banking Code, except those sections in chapter 659 enumerated in s. 680.102.

(3) The following laws or parts of laws, although not repealed, shall yield to and be superseded by any provisions of the code which may be inconsistent or in conflict therewith:

(a) Chapter 697—Instruments deemed mortgages and the nature of a mortgage.

(b) Chapter 701—Assignment and cancellation of mortgages.

(c) Chapter 702—Foreclosure of mortgages.

(d) Chapter 727—General assignments.

(4) Notwithstanding any provisions to the contrary in any of the following Florida Statutes, the remedies provided by such statutes shall not restrict the remedies otherwise available to a secured party under this code, but all such remedies shall be cumulatively available in accordance with their respective terms to a secured party under this code:

Chapter 76—Attachment.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254; s. 174, ch. 79-164.

680.105 Severability.—If any provision of this code or the application of such provision to any circumstance is held invalid for any reason whatsoever, the remainder of the code or the application of the provision to other circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

680.108 Transition provisions on place of filing.—

(1) A financing statement or continuation statement filed prior to the effective date of this act which shall not have lapsed prior to the effective date of this act shall remain effective for the period provided in chapter 65-254, Laws of Florida, as amended, but not less than 5 years after the filing.

(2) With respect to any collateral acquired by the debtor subsequent to the effective date of this act, any effective financing statement or continuation statement described in this section shall apply only if the filing or filings are in the office or offices that would be appropriate to perfect the security interests in the new collateral under this act.

(3) The effectiveness of any financing statement or continuation statement filed prior to the effective date of this act may be continued by a continuation statement as permitted by this act, except that if this act requires a filing in an office where there was no previous financing statement, a new financing statement conforming to s. 680.109(4) shall be filed in that office.

History.—s. 37, ch. 79-398.

Note.—Effective January 1, 1980.

680.109 Required refilings.—

(1) If a security interest is perfected or has priority when this act takes effect as to all persons or as to certain persons without any filing or recording, and if the filing of a financing statement would be required for the perfection or priority of the security interest against those persons under this act, the perfection and priority rights of the security interest continue until 3 years after the effective date of this act. The perfection will then lapse unless a financing statement is filed as provided in subsection (4) or unless the security interest is perfected otherwise than by filing.

(2) If a security interest is perfected when this act takes effect under a law other than the Uniform Commercial Code which requires no further filing, refiling, or recording to continue its perfection, perfection continues until and will lapse 3 years after this act takes effect, unless:

(a) A financing statement is filed as provided in subsection (4);

(b) The security interest is perfected otherwise than by filing; or

(c) Under s. 679.302(3) the other law continues to govern filing.

(3) If a security interest is perfected by a filing, refiling, or recording under a law repealed by this act which required further filing, refiling, or recording to continue its perfection, perfection continues and will lapse on the date provided by the law so repealed for such further filing, refiling, or recording unless a financing statement is filed as provided in subsection (4) or unless the security interest is perfected otherwise than by filing.

(4) A financing statement may be filed within 6 months before the perfection of a security interest would otherwise lapse. Any such financing statement may be signed by either the debtor or the secured party. It must identify the security agreement, statement, or notice (however denominated in any statute or other law repealed or modified by this act), state the office where and the date when the last filing, refiling, or recording, if any, was made with respect thereto and the filing number, if any, or book and page, if any, of recording and further state that the security agreement, statement, or notice, however denominated, in another filing office under the Uniform Commercial Code or under any statute or other law repealed or modified by this act is still effective. Sections 679.103 and 679.401 determine the proper place to file such a financing statement. Except as specified in this subsection, the provisions of s. 679.403(3) for continuation statements apply to such a financing statement.

History.—s. 38, ch. 79-398.

Note.—Effective January 1, 1980.

680.11 Transition provisions as to priorities.

—Except as otherwise provided in chapter 680, chapter 65-254, Laws of Florida, as amended, shall apply to any questions of priority if the positions of the parties were fixed prior to the effective date of this act. In other cases, questions of priority shall be determined by this act.

History.—s. 39, ch. 79-398.

Note.—Effective January 1, 1980.

680.111 Presumption that rule of law continues unchanged.—Unless a change in law has clearly been made, the provisions of this act shall be deemed declaratory of the meaning of chapter 65-254, Laws of Florida, as amended.

History.—s. 40, ch. 79-398.

Note.—Effective January 1, 1980.

CHAPTER 682

ARBITRATION CODE

- 682.01 Florida arbitration code.
- 682.02 Arbitration agreements made valid, irrevocable, and enforceable; scope.
- 682.03 Proceedings to compel and to stay arbitration.
- 682.04 Appointment of arbitrators by court.

- 682.08 Witnesses, subpoenas, depositions.
- 682.09 Award.
- 682.10 Change of award by arbitrators or umpire.
- 682.11 Fees and expenses of arbitration.
- 682.12 Confirmation of an award.
- 682.13 Vacating an award.
- 682.14 Modification or correction of award.
- 682.15 Judgment or decree on award.
- 682.16 Judgment roll, docketing.
- 682.17 Application to court.
- 682.18 Court, jurisdiction.
- 682.19 Venue.
- 682.20 Appeals.
- 682.21 Law not retroactive.
- 682.22 Severability.

682.01 Florida arbitration code.—Sections 682.01-682.22 may be cited as the "Florida Arbitration Code."

History.—s. 22, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.10.

682.02 Arbitration agreements made valid, irrevocable, and enforceable; scope.—Two or more parties may agree in writing to submit to arbitration any controversy existing between them at the time of the agreement, or they may include in a written contract a provision for the settlement by arbitration of any controversy thereafter arising between them relating to such contract or the failure or refusal to perform the whole or any part thereof. Such agreement or provision shall be valid, enforceable, and irrevocable without regard to the justiciable character of the controversy; provided that this act shall not apply to any such agreement or provision to arbitrate in which it is stipulated that this law shall not apply or to any arbitration or award thereunder.

History.—s. 1, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.11.

682.03 Proceedings to compel and to stay arbitration.—

(1) A party to an agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law claiming the neglect or refusal of another party thereto to comply therewith may make application to the court for an order directing the parties to proceed with arbitration in accordance with the terms thereof. If the court is satisfied that no substantial issue exists as to the making of the agreement or provision, it shall grant the application. If the court shall find that a substantial issue is raised as to the making of the agreement or provision, it shall summarily hear and determine the issue and, according to its determination, shall grant or deny the application.

(2) If an issue referable to arbitration under an agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law becomes involved in an action or proceeding pending in a court having jurisdiction to hear an application under subsection (1), such application shall be made in said court. Otherwise and subject to s. 682.19, such application may be made in any court of competent jurisdiction.

(3) Any action or proceeding involving an issue subject to arbitration under this law shall be stayed if an order for arbitration or an application therefor has been made under this section or, if the issue is severable, the stay may be with respect thereto only. When the application is made in such action or proceeding, the order for arbitration shall include such stay.

(4) On application the court may stay an arbitration proceeding commenced or about to be commenced, if it shall find that no agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law exists between the party making the application and the party causing the arbitration to be had. The court shall summarily hear and determine the issue of the making of the agreement or provision and, according to its determination, shall grant or deny the application.

(5) An order for arbitration shall not be refused on the ground that the claim in issue lacks merit or bona fides or because any fault or grounds for the claim sought to be arbitrated have not been shown.

History.—s. 2, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.12.

682.04 Appointment of arbitrators by court.—If an agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law provides a method for the appointment of arbitrators or an umpire, this method shall be followed. In the absence thereof, or if the agreed method fails or for any reason cannot be followed, or if an arbitrator or umpire who has been appointed fails to act and his successor has not been duly appointed, the court, on application of a party to such agreement or provision shall appoint one or more arbitrators or an umpire. An arbitrator or umpire so appointed shall have like powers as if named or provided for in the agreement or provision.

History.—s. 3, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.13.

682.05 Majority action by arbitrators.—The powers of the arbitrators may be exercised by a majority of their number unless otherwise provided in the agreement or provision for arbitration.

History.—s. 4, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.14.

682.06 Hearing.—Unless otherwise provided by the agreement or provision for arbitration:

(1)(a) The arbitrators shall appoint a time and place for the hearing and cause notification to the parties to be served personally or by registered or certified mail not less than 5 days before the hearing. Appearance at the hearing waives a party's right to such notice. The arbitrators may adjourn their hearing from time to time upon their own motion and shall do so upon the request of any party to the arbitration for good cause shown, provided that no adjournment or postponement of their hearing shall extend beyond the date fixed in the agreement or provision for making the award unless the parties consent to a later date. An umpire authorized to hear and decide the cause upon failure of the arbitrators to agree upon an award shall, in the course of his jurisdiction, have like powers and be subject to like limitations thereon.

(b) The arbitrators, or umpire in the course of his jurisdiction, may hear and decide the controversy upon the evidence produced notwithstanding the failure or refusal of a party duly notified of the time and place of the hearing to appear. The court on application may direct the arbitrators, or the umpire in the course of his jurisdiction, to proceed promptly with the hearing and making of the award.

(2) The parties are entitled to be heard, to present evidence material to the controversy and to cross-examine witnesses appearing at the hearing.

(3) The hearing shall be conducted by all of the arbitrators but a majority may determine any question and render a final award. An umpire authorized to hear and decide the cause upon the failure of the arbitrators to agree upon an award shall sit with the arbitrators throughout their hearing but shall not be counted as a part of their quorum or in the making of their award. If, during the course of the hearing, an arbitrator for any reason ceases to act, the remaining arbitrator, arbitrators or umpire appointed to act as neutrals may continue with the hearing and determination of the controversy.

History.—s. 5, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.15.

682.07 Representation by attorney.—A party has the right to be represented by an attorney at any arbitration proceeding or hearing under this law. A waiver thereof prior to the proceeding or hearing is ineffective.

History.—s. 6, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.16.

682.08 Witnesses, subpoenas, depositions.—

(1) Arbitrators, or an umpire authorized to hear and decide the cause upon failure of the arbitrators to agree upon an award, in the course of his jurisdiction, may issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and for the production of books, records, documents and other evidence, and shall have the power to administer oaths. Subpoenas so issued shall be served, and upon application to the court by a party to the arbitration or the arbitrators, or the umpire, enforced in the manner provided by law for the service and enforcement of subpoenas in a civil action.

(2) On application of a party to the arbitration and for use as evidence, the arbitrators, or the umpire in the course of his jurisdiction, may permit a deposition to be taken, in the manner and upon the terms designated by them or him of a witness who cannot be subpoenaed or is unable to attend the hearing.

(3) All provisions of law compelling a person under subpoena to testify are applicable.

(4) Fees for attendance as a witness shall be the same as for a witness in the circuit court.

History.—s. 7, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.17.

682.09 Award.—

(1) The award shall be in writing and shall be signed by the arbitrators joining in the award or by the umpire in the course of his jurisdiction. They or he shall deliver a copy to each party to the arbitration either personally or by registered or certified mail, or as provided in the agreement or provision.

(2) An award shall be made within the time fixed therefor by the agreement or provision for arbitration or, if not so fixed, within such time as the court may order on application of a party to the arbitration. The parties may, by written agreement, extend the time either before or after the expiration thereof. Any objection that an award was not made within the time required is waived unless the objecting party notifies the arbitrators or umpire in writing of his objection prior to the delivery of the award to him.

History.—s. 8, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.18.

682.10 Change of award by arbitrators or umpire.—On application of a party to the arbitration, or if an application to the court is pending under ss. 682.12, 682.13 or 682.14, on submission to the arbitrators, or to the umpire in the case of an umpire's award, by the court under such conditions as the court may order, the arbitrators or umpire may modify or correct the award upon the grounds stated in s. 682.14(1)(a) and (c) or for the purpose of clarifying the award. The application shall be made within 20 days after delivery of the award to the applicant. Written notice thereof shall be given forthwith to the other party to the arbitration, stating that he must serve his objections thereto, if any, within 10 days from the notice. The award so modified or corrected is subject to the provisions of ss. 682.12-682.14.

History.—s. 9, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.19.

682.11 Fees and expenses of arbitration.—Unless otherwise provided in the agreement or provision for arbitration, the arbitrators' and umpire's expenses and fees, together with other expenses, not including counsel fees, incurred in the conduct of the arbitration, shall be paid as provided in the award.

History.—s. 10, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.20.

682.12 Confirmation of an award.—Upon application of a party to the arbitration, the court shall confirm an award, unless within the time limits hereinafter imposed grounds are urged for vacating or modifying or correcting the award, in which case the court shall proceed as provided in ss. 682.13 and 682.14.

History.—s. 11, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.21.

682.13 Vacating an award.—

(1) Upon application of a party, the court shall vacate an award when:

(a) The award was procured by corruption, fraud or other undue means.

(b) There was evident partiality by an arbitrator appointed as a neutral or corruption in any of the arbitrators or umpire or misconduct prejudicing the rights of any party.

(c) The arbitrators or the umpire in the course of his jurisdiction exceeded their powers.

(d) The arbitrators or the umpire in the course of his jurisdiction refused to postpone the hearing upon sufficient cause being shown therefor or refused to hear evidence material to the controversy or otherwise so conducted the hearing, contrary to the provisions of s. 682.06, as to prejudice substantially the rights of a party.

(e) There was no agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law, unless the matter was determined in proceedings under s. 682.03 and unless the party participated in the arbitration hearing without raising the objection.

But the fact that the relief was such that it could not or would not be granted by a court of law or equity is not ground for vacating or refusing to confirm the award.

(2) An application under this section shall be made within 90 days after delivery of a copy of the award to the applicant, except that, if predicated upon corruption, fraud or other undue means, it shall be made within 90 days after such grounds are known or should have been known.

(3) In vacating the award on grounds other than those stated in subsection (1)(e), the court may order a rehearing before new arbitrators chosen as provided in the agreement or provision for arbitration or by the court in accordance with s. 682.04, or, if the award is vacated on grounds set forth in subsection (1)(c) and (d), the court may order a rehearing before the arbitrators or umpire who made the award or their successors appointed in accordance with s. 682.04. The time within which the agreement or provision for arbitration requires the award to be made is applicable to the rehearing and commences from the date of the order therefor.

(4) If the application to vacate is denied and no motion to modify or correct the award is pending, the court shall confirm the award.

History.—s. 12, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.22.

682.14 Modification or correction of award.—

(1) Upon application made within 90 days after delivery of a copy of the award to the applicant, the court shall modify or correct the award when:

(a) There is an evident miscalculation of figures or an evident mistake in the description of any person, thing or property referred to in the award.

(b) The arbitrators or umpire have awarded upon a matter not submitted to them or him and the award may be corrected without affecting the merits of the decision upon the issues submitted.

(c) The award is imperfect as a matter of form, not affecting the merits of the controversy.

(2) If the application is granted, the court shall modify and correct the award so as to effect its intent and shall confirm the award as so modified and corrected. Otherwise, the court shall confirm the award as made.

(3) An application to modify or correct an award may be joined in the alternative with an application to vacate the award.

History.—s. 13, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.23.

682.15 Judgment or decree on award.—Upon the granting of an order confirming, modifying or correcting an award, judgment or decree shall be entered in conformity therewith and be enforced as any other judgment or decree. Costs of the application and of the proceedings subsequent thereto, and disbursements may be awarded by the court.

History.—s. 14, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.24.

682.16 Judgment roll, docketing.—

(1) On entry of judgment or decree, the clerk shall prepare the judgment roll consisting, to the extent filed, of the following:

(a) The agreement or provision for arbitration and each written extension of the time within which to make the award;

(b) The award;

(c) A copy of the order confirming, modifying or correcting the award; and

(d) A copy of the judgment or decree.

(2) The judgment or decree may be docketed as if rendered in a civil action.

History.—s. 15, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.25.

682.17 Application to court.—Except as otherwise provided, an application to the court under this law shall be by motion and shall be heard in the manner and upon the notice provided by law or rule of court for the making and hearing of motions. Unless the parties have agreed otherwise, notice of an initial application for an order shall be served in the manner provided by law for the service of a summons in an action.

History.—s. 16, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.26.

682.18 Court, jurisdiction.—

(1) The term "court" means any court of competent jurisdiction of this state. The making of an agreement or provision for arbitration subject to this law and providing for arbitration in this state shall, whether made within or outside this state, confer jurisdiction on the court to enforce the agreement or provision under this law, to enter judgment on an award duly rendered in an arbitration thereunder and to vacate, modify or correct an award rendered thereunder for such cause and in the manner provided in this law.

(2) Any judgment entered upon an award by a court of competent jurisdiction of any state, territory, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico or foreign country shall be enforceable by application as provided in s. 682.17 and regardless of the time when said award may have been made.

History.—s. 17, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.
Note.—Former s. 57.27.

682.19 Venue.—Any application under this law may be made to the court of the county in which the other party to the agreement or provision for arbitration resides or has a place of business, or, if he has no residence or place of business in this state, then to the court of any county. All applications under this law subsequent to an initial application shall be made to the court hearing the initial application unless it shall order otherwise.

History.—s. 18, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.

Note.—Former s. 57.28.

682.20 Appeals.—

- (1) An appeal may be taken from:
  - (a) An order denying an application to compel arbitration made under s. 682.03.
  - (b) An order granting an application to stay arbitration made under s. 682.03(2)-(4).
  - (c) An order confirming or denying confirmation of an award.
  - (d) An order modifying or correcting an award.
  - (e) An order vacating an award without directing a rehearing.
  - (f) A judgment or decree entered pursuant to the provisions of this law.
- (2) The appeal shall be taken in the manner and to the same extent as from orders or judgments in a civil action.

History.—s. 19, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.

Note.—Former s. 57.29.

682.21 Law not retroactive.—This law applies only to agreements and provisions for arbitration made subsequent to the taking effect of this law.

History.—s. 20, ch. 57-402; s. 12, ch. 67-254.

Note.—Former s. 57.30.

682.22 Severability.—If any provision of this chapter or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this chapter. In any action or proceeding in any state or territory of the United States, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or any foreign country, this chapter and any agreement or provision to arbitrate made thereunder shall be classified as substantive within the meaning of that term in the conflict of laws; provided, however, that such substantive classification shall never be intended to derogate the public policy of such other jurisdiction.

CHAPTER 687

INTEREST AND USURY

- 687.01 Rate of interest in absence of contract.
- 687.02 "Usurious contracts" defined.
- 687.03 "Unlawful rates of interest" defined; proviso.
- 687.031 Construction, ss. 687.02 and 687.03.
- 687.04 Penalty for usury; not to apply in certain situations.
- 687.05 Provisions for payment of attorney's fees.
- 687.06 Attorney's fee in enforcing nonusurious contracts; proviso; insurance premiums; attorney's fee provided in note.
- 687.071 Criminal usury, loan sharking; shylocking.
- 687.08 Persons lending money to give borrower receipt for payments; contents of receipt; penalty for violation.
- 687.09 Persons accepting chattel mortgage as security for loans under $100 to cause amount as principal, etc., to be inserted.
- 687.10 Not applicable to chartered banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, or insurance companies.
- 687.12 Interest rates; parity among licensed lenders or creditors.
- 687.13 Alien borrowers.

687.01 Rate of interest in absence of contract.

—In all cases where interest shall accrue without a special contract for the rate thereof, the rate shall be 6 percent per annum, but parties may contract for a lesser or greater rate by contract in writing.

History.—s. 1, ch. 1483, 1866; ss. 1, 2, ch. 1562, 1866; RS 2320; GS 3103; RGS 4849; CGL 6936; s. 1, ch. 22745, 1945. cf.—ss. 55.03, 55.04 Judgments.

687.02 "Usurious contracts" defined.—All contracts for the payment of interest upon any loan, advance of money, or forbearance to enforce the collection of any debt, or upon any contract whatever, at a higher rate of interest than the equivalent of 18 percent per annum simple interest are hereby declared usurious. However, if such loan, advance of money, forbearance to enforce the collection of any debt, or contract exceeds $500,000 in amount or value, then no contract to pay interest thereon is usurious unless the rate of interest exceeds the rate prescribed in s. 687.071.

History.—s. 1, ch. 4022, 1891; GS 3104; s. 1, ch. 5960, 1909; RGS 4850; CGL 6937; s. 1, ch. 29705, 1955; s. 1, ch. 73-298; s. 12, ch. 79-274.

Note.—Section 15, ch. 79-274, provides that ch. 79-274 shall apply only to loans or advances of credit made on or subsequent to July 1, 1979, and "shall not be construed as diminishing the force and effect of any laws applying to loans or advances of credit completed prior to that date."

cf.—Ch. 516 Florida Consumer Finance Act.

s. 665.395 Collection of fines, interest or premium on loans made by building and loan associations.

687.03 "Unlawful rates of interest" defined; proviso.

<sup>1</sup>(1) Except as provided herein, it shall be usury and unlawful for any person, or for any agent, officer, or other representative of any person, to reserve, charge, or take for any loan, advance of money, or forbearance to enforce the collection of any sum of money a rate of interest greater than the equivalent of 18 percent per annum simple interest, either directly or indirectly, by way of commission for advances, discounts, or exchange, or by any contract, contrivance, or device whereby the debtor is required or obligated to pay a sum of money greater than the actual principal sum received, together with interest at the rate of the equivalent of 18 percent per annum simple interest. However, if any loan, advance of money, forbearance to enforce the collection of any debt, or contract exceeds $500,000 in amount or value, it shall not be usury or unlawful to reserve, charge, or take interest thereon unless the rate of interest exceeds the rate prescribed in s. 687.071. The provisions of this section shall not apply to sales of bonds in excess of $100 and mortgages securing the same, or money loaned on bonds.

(2)(a) The provisions of this section and of s. 687.02 shall not apply to loans or other advances of credit made pursuant to:

1. A commitment to insure by the Federal Housing Administration.

2. A commitment to guarantee by the Veterans Administration.

3. A commitment to purchase a loan issued by the Federal National Mortgage Association; Government National Mortgage Association; Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation; any department, agency, or instrumentality of the Federal Government; or any successor of any of them, pursuant to any provision of the acts of Congress or federal regulations.

(b) This act shall apply only to loans or advances of credit made subsequent to the effective date of this act. All present laws shall remain in full force and effect as to loans or advances of credit made prior to the effective date of this act.

(3) For the purpose of this chapter, the rate of interest on any loan of money shall be determined and computed upon the assumption that the debt will be paid according to the agreed terms, whether or not said loan is paid or collected by court action prior to the term of said loan, and any payment or property charged, reserved, or taken as an advance or forbearance, which is in the nature of, and taken into account in the calculation of, interest shall be valued as of the date received and shall be spread over the stated term of the loan for the purpose of determining the rate of interest. The spreading of any such advance or forbearance for the purpose of computing the rate of interest shall be calculated by first computing the advance or forbearance as a percentage of the total stated amount of the loan. This percentage shall then be divided by the number of years, and fractions thereof, of the loan according to its stated maturity date, without regard to early maturity in the event of default. The resulting annual percentage rate shall then be added to the stated annual percentage rate of interest to produce the effective rate of interest for purposes of this chapter. Moreover, for the purposes of this chapter, a loan shall be deemed a loan which exceeds $500,000 in amount or value if:

(a) The outstanding principal indebtedness thereunder initially exceeds $500,000; or

(b) The parties thereto agree that the principal indebtedness will exceed $500,000 at some time during the term of the loan and, when the agreement was made, the principal indebtedness was reasonably expected to exceed that amount, notwithstanding the fact that less than that amount in the aggregate was initially or later advanced.

(4) If a loan exceeds $500,000, then, for the purposes of this chapter, interest on that loan shall not include the value of property charged, reserved, or taken as an advance or forbearance, the value of which substantially depends on the success of the venture in which are used the proceeds of that loan. Stock options and interests in profits, receipts, or residual values are examples of the type of property the value of which would be excluded from calculation of interest under the preceding sentence.

History.—s. 2, ch. 4022, 1891; GS 3105; s. 2, ch. 5960, 1909; RGS 4851; CGL 6938; s. 2, ch. 29705, 1955; s. 1, ch. 70-331; s. 2, ch. 73-298; s. 1, ch. 74-232; ss. 1, 2, ch. 76-124; s. 1, ch. 77-374; s. 1, ch. 78-211; s. 13, ch. 79-274; s. 258, ch. 79-400.

Note.—Section 15, ch. 79-274, provides that ch. 79-274 shall apply only to loans or advances of credit made on or subsequent to July 1, 1979, and "shall not be construed as diminishing the force and effect of any laws applying to loans or advances of credit completed prior to that date."

687.031 Construction, ss. 687.02 and 687.03.—Sections 687.02 and 687.03 shall not be construed to repeal, modify or limit any or either of the special provisions of existing statutory law creating exceptions to the general law governing interest and usury and specifying the interest rates and charges which may be made pursuant to such exceptions, including but not limited to those exceptions which relate to banks, Morris Plan banks, discount consumer financing, small loan companies and domestic building and loan associations.

History.—s. 3, ch. 29705, 1955.

687.04 Penalty for usury; not to apply in certain situations.—Any person, or any agent, officer, or other representative of any person, willfully violating the provisions of s. 687.03 shall forfeit the entire interest so charged, or contracted to be charged or reserved, and only the actual principal sum of such usurious contract can be enforced in any court in this state, either at law or in equity; and when said usurious interest is taken or reserved, or has been paid, then and in that event the person who has taken or reserved, or has been paid, either directly or indirectly, such usurious interest shall forfeit to the party from whom such usurious interest has been reserved, taken, or exacted in any way double the amount of interest so reserved, taken, or exacted. However, the penalties provided for by this section shall not apply:

(1) To a bona fide endorsee or transferee of negotiable paper purchased before maturity, unless the usurious character should appear upon its face, or unless the said endorsee or transferee shall have had actual notice of the same before the purchase of such paper, but in such event double the amount of such usurious interest may be recovered after payment, by action against the party originally exacting the same, in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state, together with an attorney's fee, as provided in s. 687.06; or

(2) If, prior to the institution of an action by the borrower or the filing of a defense under this chapter by the borrower or receipt of written notice by the lender from the borrower that usury has been charged or collected, the lender notifies the borrower of the usurious overcharge and refunds the amount of any overcharge taken, plus interest on the overcharge taken at the maximum lawful rate in effect at the time the usurious interest was taken, to the borrower and makes whatever adjustments in the appropriate contract or account as are necessary to ensure that the borrower will not be required to pay further interest in excess of the amount permitted by s. 687.03.

History.—s. 3, ch. 4022, 1891; GS 3106; s. 3, ch. 5960, 1909; RGS 4852; CGL 6939; s. 1, ch. 79-90.

687.05 Provisions for payment of attorney's fees.—No provision for the payment of attorney's fees, or charge for exchange or similar charge shall render such instrument subject to the terms of any statute of this state, limiting the amount of interest which shall be charged on such instrument.

History.—s. 2, ch. 4374, 1895; GS 3107; RGS 4853; CGL 6940.

687.06 Attorney's fee in enforcing nonusurious contracts; proviso; insurance premiums; attorney's fee provided in note.—This chapter shall not be so construed as to prevent provision for the payment of such attorney's fees as the court may determine in cases brought before the court to be reasonable and just for legal services rendered in enforcing nonusurious contracts, either at law or in equity. This chapter shall not be construed so as to prohibit mortgagees from contracting for or collecting premiums for insurance actually issued on the property mortgaged, with the usual loss payable or mortgage clause attached thereto; provided further, that it shall not be necessary for the court to adjudge an attorney's fee, provided in any note or other instrument of writing, to be reasonable and just, when such fee does not exceed 10 percent of the principal sum named in said note, or other instrument in writing.

History.—s. 4, ch. 5960, 1909; s. 1, ch. 6870, 1915; RGS 4854; CGL 6941; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

687.071 Criminal usury, loan sharking; shylocking.—

(1) DEFINITIONS.—The following words and phrases, as used in this section, shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Person" shall be construed to be defined as provided in s. 1.01.

(b) "Creditor" means any person who makes an extension of credit or any person claiming by, under, or through such person.

(c) "Debtor" means any person who receives an extension of credit or any person who guarantees the repayment of a loan of money for another person.

(d) "Extension of credit" means to make or renew a loan of money or any agreement for forbearance to enforce the collection of such loan.

(e) "Extortionate extension of credit" means any extension of credit whereby it is the understanding of the creditor and the debtor at the time an extension of credit is made that delay in making repayment or failure to make repayment could result in the use of violence or other criminal means to cause harm to the person, reputation, or property of any person.

(f) "Loan shark" or "shylock" means any person as defined herein who lends money unlawfully under subsections (2), (3), or (4).

(g) "Loan sharking" or "shylocking" means the act of any person as defined herein lending money unlawfully under subsections (2), (3), or (4).

(2) Unless otherwise specifically allowed by law, any person making an extension of credit to any person, who shall willfully and knowingly charge, take, or receive interest thereon at a rate exceeding 25 percent per annum but not in excess of 45 percent per annum, or the equivalent rate for a longer or shorter period of time, whether directly or indirectly, or conspires so to do, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(3) Unless otherwise specifically allowed by law, any person making an extension of credit to any person, who shall willfully and knowingly charge, take or receive interest thereon at a rate exceeding 45 percent per annum or the equivalent rate for a longer or shorter period of time, whether directly or indirectly or conspire so to do, shall be guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

(4) Any person who shall knowingly and willfully make an extortionate extension of credit to any person or conspire so to do shall be guilty of a felony of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084. In any prosecution under this subsection, evidence that the creditor then had a reputation in the debtor's community for the use or threat of use of violence or other criminal means to cause harm to the person, reputation, or property of any person to collect extensions of credit or to punish the nonrepayment thereof shall be admissible.

(5) Books of account or other documents recording extensions of credit in violation of subsections (3) or (4) are declared to be contraband, and any person, other than a public officer in the performance of his duty, and other than the person charged such usurious interest and person acting on his behalf, who shall knowingly and willfully possess or maintain such books of account or other documents, or conspire so to do, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(6) No person shall be excused from attending and testifying or producing any books, paper, or other document before any court upon any investigation, proceeding, or trial, for any violation of this section upon the ground or for the reason that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to convict him of a crime or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture, but no person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he may so testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, and no testimony so given or produced shall be received against him upon any criminal investigation or proceeding.

(7) No extension of credit made in violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be an enforceable debt in the courts of this state.

History.—s. 1, ch. 69-135; s. 676, ch. 71-136.

687.08 Persons lending money to give borrower receipt for payments; contents of receipt; penalty for violation.—Every person, or the agent, officer, or other representative of any person, lending money in this state upon security shall, whenever the borrower of such money makes payment of any money, either principal or interest, immediately upon such payment being made, give to said borrower, a receipt, dated of the date of such payment, which receipt shall state the amount paid and for what such payment is made. If such payment is for interest on the sum borrowed, the receipt shall so state. If the sum so paid is to be applied to the payment of the principal sum borrowed, the receipt shall so state. All such receipts shall be duly and properly signed by the person, or the agent, officer or other representative of the person, to whom such money is paid. Whoever refuses, upon demand, to give a receipt complying with the requirements of this section shall forfeit the entire interest upon said principal sum to the borrower.

History.—s. 6, ch. 5960, 1909; RGS 4856; CGL 6943.

687.09 Persons accepting chattel mortgage as security for loans under $100 to cause amount as principal, etc., to be inserted.—Every mortgagee accepting a mortgage on personal property as security for the repayment of a loan of money less than $100 shall cause to be stated in such mortgage, separately and distinctly, the several amounts secured as principal, interest and fees, and any mortgagee willfully violating the provisions of this section shall forfeit all interest and fees secured by such mortgage, and be entitled to recover only the principal sum.

History.—s. 7, ch. 5960, 1909; RGS 4857; CGL 6944.

687.10 Not applicable to chartered banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, or insurance companies.—The provisions of ss. 687.08 and 687.09 shall not apply to chartered banks, state or national, trust companies, building and loan associations or to savings and loan associations, whether chartered under state or federal statutes, or insurance companies.

History.—s. 8, ch. 5960, 1909; RGS 4858; CGL 6945; s. 1, ch. 59-50.

687.12 Interest rates; parity among licensed lenders or creditors.—

(1) Any lender or creditor licensed or chartered under the provisions of chapters 516, 520, 654, 656, 657, 659, or 665 or of part XIV of chapter 627; any lender or creditor located in the State of Florida and licensed or chartered under the laws of the United States and authorized to conduct a lending business; or any lender or creditor lending through a licensee under Chapter 494, shall be authorized to charge interest on loans or extensions of credit to any person as defined in s. 1.01(3), or to any firm or corporation, at the maximum rate of interest permitted by law to be charged on similar loans or extensions of credit made by any lender or creditor in the State of Florida, except that the statutes governing the maximum permissible interest rate on any loan or extension of credit, and other statutory restrictions relating thereto, shall also govern the amount, term, permissible charges, rebate requirements, and restrictions for a similar loan or extension of credit made by any lender or creditor.

(2) This section shall be construed to permit any lender or creditor which is otherwise authorized to make a particular loan or extension of credit to charge interest at a rate permitted to be charged by other lenders or creditors on similar loans or extensions of credit, but shall not be construed to grant any lender or creditor the power or authority to make any particular type of loan or extension of credit which it is not otherwise authorized to make. For purposes of this section, direct loans for the purchase of goods or services, and extensions of credit for the acquisition of goods or services by the seller or provider thereof, shall be deemed to be similar loans or extensions of credit.

(3) In making loans or extensions of credit, lenders or creditors shall be subject only to the licenses, examinations, regulations, documents, procedures, and disclosures required by the respective laws under which each lender or creditor is licensed or organized, and not to those required by laws governing other lenders or creditors.

(4) In making loans or extensions of credit at a rate of interest that, but for this section, would not be authorized, lenders or creditors shall indicate on the promissory note or other instrument evidencing the loan or extension of credit the specific chapter of the Florida Statutes authorizing the interest rate charged.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-371; s. 259, ch. 79-400.

687.13 Alien borrowers.—The provisions of this chapter, other than s. 687.071, shall not apply to any loan made by any international bank agency or any bank, including an Edge Act corporation, organized under the laws of the United States or this state to borrowers who are neither residents nor citizens of the United States if such loan is clearly related to, and usual in, international or foreign business.

History.—s. 1, ch. 79-138.

689.01 How real estate conveyed.—No estate or interest of freehold, or for a term of more than 1 year, or any uncertain interest of, in or out of any messuages, lands, tenements or hereditaments shall be created, made, granted, transferred or released in any other manner than by instrument in writing, signed in the presence of two subscribing witnesses by the party creating, making, granting, conveying, transferring or releasing such estate, interest, or term of more than 1 year, or by his agent thereunto lawfully authorized, unless by will and testament, or other testamentary appointment, duly made according to law; and no estate or interest, either of freehold, or of term of more than 1 year, or any uncertain interest of, in, to or out of any messuages, lands, tenements or hereditaments, shall be assigned or surrendered unless it be by instrument signed in the presence of two subscribing witnesses by the party so assigning or surrendering, or by his agent thereunto lawfully authorized, or by the act and operation of law. No seal shall be necessary to give validity to any instrument executed in conformity with this section. Corporations may convey in accordance with the provisions of this section or in accordance with the provisions of ss. 692.01 and 692.02.

History.—s. 1, Nov. 15, 1828; RS 1950; GS 2448; RGS 3787; CGL 5660; s. 4, ch. 20954, 1941.

s. 726.01 Fraudulent sales.
s. 727.01 et seq. General assignment.

689.02 Form of warranty deed prescribed.—Warranty deeds of conveyance to land may be in the following form, viz.:

"This indenture, made this ..... day of ..... A.D....., between ....., of the County of ..... in the State of ....., party of the first part, and ....., of the County of ....., in the State of ....., party of the second part, witnesseth: That the said party of the first part, for and in consideration of the sum of ..... dollars, to him in hand paid by the said party of the second part, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, has granted, bargained and sold to the said party of the second part, his heirs and assigns forever, the following described land, to wit: .....

.....
.....
.....

And the said party of the first part does hereby fully warrant the title to said land, and will defend the same against the lawful claims of all persons whomsoever."

History.—s. 1, ch. 4038, 1891; GS 2449; RGS 3788; CGL 5661.

689.03 Effect of such deed.—A conveyance executed substantially in the foregoing form shall be held to be a warranty deed with full common law covenants, and shall just as effectually bind the grantor, and his heirs, as if said covenants were specifically set out therein. And this form of conveyance when signed by a married woman shall be held to convey whatever interest in the property conveyed which she may possess.

History.—s. 2, ch. 4038, 1891; GS 2450; RGS 3789; CGL 5662; s. 5, ch. 20954, 1941.

689.04 How executed.—Such deeds shall be executed and acknowledged as is now or may hereafter be provided by the law regulating conveyances of realty by deed.

History.—s. 3, ch. 4038, 1891; GS 2451; RGS 3790; CGL 5663.

cf.—s. 695.03 Acknowledgment.

s. 695.031 Acknowledgments by members of Armed Forces.

689.05 How declarations of trust proved.—All declarations and creations of trust and confidence of or in any messuages, lands, tenements or hereditaments shall be manifested and proved by some writing, signed by the party authorized by law to declare or create such trust or confidence, or by his last will and testament, or else they shall be utterly void and of none effect; provided, always, that where any conveyance shall be made of any lands, messuages or tenements by which a trust or confidence shall or may arise or result by the implication or construction of law, or be transferred or extinguished by the act and operation of law, then, and in every such case, such trust or confidence shall be of the like force and effect as the same would have been if this section had not been made, anything herein contained to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding.

History.—s. 2, Nov. 15, 1828; RS 1951; GS 2452; RGS 3791; CGL 5664.

689.06 How trust estate conveyed.—All grants, conveyances or assignments of trust or confidence of or in any lands, tenements or hereditaments, or of any estate or interest therein, shall be by deed signed, sealed and delivered, in the presence of two subscribing witnesses, by the party granting, conveying or assigning, or by his attorney or agent thereunto lawfully authorized, or by last will and testament duly made and executed, or else the same shall be void and of none effect.

History.—s. 3, Nov. 15, 1828; RS 1952; GS 2453; RGS 3792; CGL 5665.

689.07 "Trustee" or "as trustee" added to name of grantee, transferee, assignee or mortgagee transfers interest or creates lien as if additional word or words not used.—

(1) Every deed or conveyance of real estate heretofore or hereafter made or executed, in which the words "trustee" or "as trustee" are added to the name of the grantee, and in which no beneficiaries are named nor the nature and purposes of the trust, if any, are set forth, shall grant and is hereby declared to have granted a fee simple estate with full power and authority in and to the grantee in such deed to sell, convey and grant and encumber both the legal and beneficial interest in the real estate conveyed, unless a contrary intention shall appear in the deed or conveyance; provided, that there shall not appear of record among the public records of the county in which the real property is situate at the time of recording of such deed or conveyance, a declaration of trust by the grantee so described declaring the purposes of such trust, if any, declaring that the real estate is held other than for the benefit of the grantee.

(2) Every instrument heretofore or hereafter made or executed transferring or assigning an interest in real property in which the words "trustee" or "as trustee" are added to the name of the transferee or assignee, and in which no beneficiaries are named nor the nature and purposes of the trust, if any, are set forth, shall transfer and assign, and is hereby declared to have transferred and assigned, the interest of the transferor or assignor to the transferee or assignee with full power and authority to transfer, assign, and encumber such interest, unless a contrary intention shall appear in the instrument; provided that there shall not appear of record among the public records of the county in which the real property is situate at the time of the recording of such instrument, a declaration of trust by the assignee or transferee so described declaring the purposes of such trust, if any, or declaring that the interest in real property is held other than for the benefit of the transferee or assignee.

(3) Every mortgage of any interest in real estate or assignment thereof heretofore or hereafter made or executed in which the words "trustee" or "as trustee" are added to the name of the mortgagee or assignee and in which no beneficiaries are named nor the nature and purposes of the trust, if any, are set forth, shall vest and is hereby declared to have vested full rights of ownership to such mortgage or assignment and the lien created thereby with full power in such mortgagee or assignee to assign, hypothecate, release, satisfy, or foreclose such mortgage unless a contrary intention shall appear in the mortgage or assignment; provided that there shall not appear of record among the public records of the county in which the property constituting security is situate at the time of recording of such mortgage or assignment, a declaration of trust by such mortgagee or assignee declaring the purposes of such trust, if any, or declaring that such mortgage is held other than for the benefit of the mortgagee or assignee.

(4) Nothing herein contained shall prevent any person from causing any declaration of trust to be recorded before or after the recordation of the instrument evidencing title or ownership of property in a trustee; nor shall this section be construed as preventing any beneficiary under an unrecorded declaration of trust from enforcing the terms thereof against the trustee; provided, however, that any grantee, transferee, assignee or mortgagee, or person obtaining a release or satisfaction of mortgage from such trustee for value prior to the placing of record of such declaration of trust among the public records of the county in which such real property is situate, shall take such interest or hold such previously mortgaged property free and clear of the claims of the beneficiaries of such declaration of trust and of anyone claiming by, through or under such beneficiaries, and such person need not see to the application of funds furnished to obtain such transfer of interest in property or assignment or release or satisfaction of mortgage thereon.

(5) In all cases in which tangible personal property is or has been sold, transferred or mortgaged in a transaction in conjunction with and subordinate to the transfer or mortgage of real property, and the personal property so transferred or mortgaged is physically located on and used in conjunction with such real property, the prior provisions of this section are applicable to the transfer or mortgage of such personal property, and, where the prior provisions of this section in fact apply to a transfer or mortgage of personal property, then any transferee or mortgagee of such tangible personal property shall take such personal property free and clear of the claims of the beneficiaries under such declaration of trust (if any), and of the claims of anyone claiming by, through or under such beneficiaries, and the release or satisfaction of a mortgage on such personal property by such trustee shall release or satisfy such personal property from the claims of the beneficiaries under such declaration of trust, if any, and from the claims of anyone claiming by, through, or under such beneficiaries.

History.—s. 1, ch. 6925, 1915; s. 10, ch. 7838, 1919; RGS 3793; CGL 5666; s. 1, ch. 59-251.

689.071 Land trusts transferring interests in real estate; ownership vests in trustee.—

(1) Every conveyance, deed, mortgage, lease assignment or other instrument heretofore or hereafter made, hereinafter referred to as the recorded instrument, transferring any interests in real property in this state including but not limited to leasehold and mortgagee interests to any person, corporation, bank, or trust company, qualified to act as a fiduciary in this state, in which said recorded instrument said person, corporation, bank, or trust company is designated "trustee," or, "as trustee," without therein naming the beneficiaries of such trust, whether or not reference is made in said recorded instrument to any separate collateral unrecorded declarations or agreements, shall be effective to vest and is hereby declared to have vested in such trustee full rights of ownership over said real property or interest therein, with full power and authority as granted and provided in said recorded instrument to deal in and with said property or interest therein or any part thereof: provided, said recorded instrument shall confer on the trustee the power and authority either to protect, conserve and to sell, or to lease, or to encumber, or otherwise to manage and dispose of the real property described in said recorded instrument.

(2) Any grantee, mortgagee, lessee, transferee, assignee, or person obtaining satisfactions, releases, or otherwise in any way dealing with the trustee with respect to said real properties held in trust under said recorded instrument, as hereinabove provided for, shall not be obligated to inquire into the identification or status of any named or unnamed beneficiaries, or their heirs or assigns to whom a trustee may be accountable under the terms of said recorded instrument, or under any unrecorded separate declarations or agreements collateral to said recorded instrument whether or not such declarations or agreements are referred to therein, nor to inquire into or ascertain the authority of such trustee to act within and exercise the powers granted under said recorded instrument, nor to inquire into the adequacy or disposition of any consideration, if any is paid or delivered to such trustee in connection with any interest so acquired from such trustee, nor to inquire into any of the provisions of any said unrecorded declarations or agreements.

(3) All persons dealing with the trustee under said recorded instrument as hereinabove provided shall take any interest transferred by the trustee thereunder within the power and authority as granted and provided therein, free and clear of the claims of all the named or unnamed beneficiaries of such trust, and of any unrecorded declarations or agreements collateral thereto whether referred to in said recorded instrument or not, and of anyone claiming by, through or under said beneficiaries including and without limiting the foregoing to any claim arising out of any dower or curtesy interest of the spouse of any beneficiary thereof; provided, nothing herein contained shall prevent a beneficiary of any said unrecorded collateral declarations or agreements from enforcing the terms thereof against the trustee.

(4) In all cases where said recorded instrument, as hereinabove provided, contains a provision defining and declaring the interests of beneficiaries thereunder to be personal property only, such provision shall be controlling for all purposes where such determination shall become an issue under the laws or in the courts of this state.

(5) This act is remedial in nature and shall be given a liberal interpretation to effectuate the intent and purposes hereinabove expressed.

(6) This act shall not apply to any deed, mortgage, or other instrument to which s. 689.07 applies.

History.—ss. 1-6, ch. 63-468.
cf.—s. 732.111 Dower and curtesy abolished.

689.075 Inter vivos trusts; powers retained by settlor.—

(1) A trust which is otherwise valid, including, but not limited to, a trust the principal of which is composed of real property, intangible personal property, tangible personal property, the possible expectancy of receiving as a named beneficiary death benefits as described in s. 733.808, or any combination thereof, and which has been created by a written instrument shall not be held invalid or an attempted testamentary disposition for any one or more of the following reasons:

(a) Because the settlor or another person or both possess the power to revoke, amend, alter, or modify the trust in whole or in part;

(b) Because the settlor or another person or both possess the power to appoint by deed or will the persons and organizations to whom the income shall be paid or the principal distributed;

(c) Because the settlor or another person or both possess the power to add to, or withdraw from, the trust all or any part of the principal or income at one time or at different times;

(d) Because the settlor or another person or both possess the power to remove the trustee or trustees and appoint a successor trustee or trustees;

(e) Because the settlor or another person or both possess the power to control the trustee or trustees in the administration of the trust;

(f) Because the settlor has retained the right to receive all or part of the income of the trust during his life or for any part thereof;

(g) Because the settlor is, at the time of the execution of the instrument, or thereafter becomes, sole trustee; provided that at the time the trust instrument is executed it is either valid under the laws of the jurisdiction in which it is executed or it is executed in accordance with the formalities for the execution of wills required in such jurisdiction.

(2) Nothing contained herein shall affect the validity of those accounts, including but not limited to bank accounts, share accounts, deposits, certificates of deposit, savings certificates, and other similar arrangements, heretofore or hereafter established at any bank, savings and loan association, or credit union by one or more persons, in trust for one or more other persons, which arrangements are, by their terms, revocable by the person making the same until his death or incompetency.

(3) The fact that any one or more of the powers specified in subsection (1) are in fact exercised once, or more than once, shall not affect the validity of the trust or its nontestamentary character.

(4) This section shall be applicable to trusts executed before or after July 1, 1969 by persons who are living on or after said date. However, the requirement of conformity with the formalities for the execution of wills as found in paragraph (1)(g) shall not be imposed upon any trust executed prior to July 1, 1969.

(5) The amendment of this section, by chapter 75-74, Laws of Florida, is intended to clarify the legislative intent of this section at the time of its original enactment that it apply to all otherwise valid trusts which are created by written instrument and which are not expressly excluded by the terms of this section and that no such trust shall be declared invalid for any of the reasons stated in subsections (1) and (3) regardless of whether the trust involves or relates to an interest in real property.

689.08 Fines and common recoveries.—Conveyance by fine or by common recovery shall never be used in this state.

History.—s. 2, Feb. 4, 1835; RS 1953; GS 2454; RGS 3794; CGL 5667.

689.09 Deeds under statute of uses.—By deed of bargain and sale, or by deed of lease and release, or of covenant to stand seized to the use of any other person, or by deed operating by way of covenant to stand seized to the use of another person, of or in any lands or tenements in this state, the possession of the bargainor, releasor or covenantor shall be deemed and adjudged to be transferred to the bargainee, releasee or person entitled to the use as perfectly as if such bargainee, releasee or person entitled to the use had been enfeoffed by livery of seizin of the land conveyed by such deed of bargain and sale, release or covenant to stand seized; provided, that livery of seizin can be lawfully made of the lands or tenements at the time of the execution of the said deeds or any of them.

History.—s. 12, Nov. 15, 1828; RS 1954; GS 2455; RGS 3795; CGL 5668.

689.10 Words of limitation and the words "fee simple" dispensed with.—Where any real estate has heretofore been conveyed or granted or shall hereafter be conveyed or granted without there being used in the said deed or conveyance or grant any words of limitation, such as heirs or successors, or similar words, such conveyance or grant, whether heretofore made or hereafter made, shall be construed to vest the fee simple title or other whole estate or interest which the grantor had power to dispose of at that time in the real estate conveyed or granted, unless a contrary intention shall appear in the deed, conveyance or grant.

History.—s. 1, ch. 5145, 1903; GS 2456; RGS 3796; s. 1, ch. 10170, 1925; CGL 5669.

689.11 Conveyances between husband and wife direct; homestead.—

(1) A conveyance of real estate, including homestead, made by one spouse to the other shall convey the legal title to the grantee spouse in all cases in which it would be effectual if the parties were not married, and the grantee need not execute the conveyance. An estate by the entirety may be created by the action of the spouse holding title:

(a) Conveying to the other by a deed in which the purpose to create the estate is stated; or

(b) Conveying to both spouses.

(2) All deeds heretofore made by a husband direct to his wife or by a wife direct to her husband are hereby validated and made as effectual to convey the title as they would have been were the parties not married;

(3) Provided, that nothing herein shall be construed as validating any deed made for the purpose, or that operates to defraud any creditor or to avoid payment of any legal debt or claim; and

(4) Provided further that this section shall not apply to any conveyance heretofore made, the validity of which shall be contested by suit commenced within 1 year of the effective date of this law.

History.—s. 1, ch. 5147, 1903; GS 2457; RGS 3797; CGL 5670; s. 6, ch. 20954, 1941; s. 1, ch. 23964, 1947; s. 1, ch. 71-54.

689.111 Conveyances of homestead; power of attorney.—

(1) A deed or mortgage of homestead realty owned by an unmarried person may be executed by virtue of a power of attorney executed in the same manner as a deed.

(2) A deed or mortgage of homestead realty owned by a married person, or owned as an estate by the entirety, may be executed by virtue of a power of attorney executed solely by one spouse to the other, or solely by one spouse or both spouses to a third party, provided the power of attorney is executed in the same manner as a deed. Nothing in this section shall be construed as dispensing with the requirement that husband and wife join in the conveyance or mortgage of homestead realty, but the joinder may be accomplished through the exercise of a power of attorney.

History.—s. 1, ch. 71-27.

689.12 How state lands conveyed for educational purposes.—

(1) The title to all lands granted to or held by the state for educational purposes shall be conveyed by deed executed by the members of the State Board of Education, with an impression of the seal of the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement

Trust Fund of the state thereon and when so impressed by this seal deeds shall be entitled to be recorded in the public records and to be received in evidence in all courts and judicial proceedings.

(2) Lands held for any tuberculosis hospital and declared to be surplus to the needs of such hospital may be conveyed to the district school board in which said lands are located for educational purposes.

History.—s. 1, ch. 4999, 1901; GS 2458; RGS 3798; CGL 5671; ss. 1, 2, ch. 67-191; ss. 27, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 1, ch. 69-300.

689.13 Rule against perpetuities not applicable to dispositions of property for private cemeteries, etc.—No disposition of property, or the income thereof, hereafter made for the maintenance or care of any public or private burying ground, churchyard, or other place for the burial of the dead, or any portion thereof, or grave therein, or monument or other erection in or about the same, shall fail by reason of such disposition having been made in perpetuity; but such disposition shall be held to be made for a charitable purpose or purposes.

History.—s. 1, ch. 14655, 1931; CGL 1936 Supp. 5671(1).

689.14 Entailed estates.—No property, real or personal, shall be entailed in this state. Any instrument purporting to create an estate tail, express or implied, shall be deemed to create an estate for life in the first taker with remainder per stirpes to the lineal descendants of the first taker in being at the time of his death. If the remainder fails for want of such remainderman, then it shall vest in any other remaindermen designated in such instrument, or, if there is no such designation, then it shall revert to the original donor or to his heirs.

History.—s. 20, Nov. 17, 1829; RS 1818; GS 2293; RGS 3616; CGL 5481; s. 2, ch. 20954, 1941; s. 1, ch. 23126, 1945.

cf.—s. 689.17 Rule in Shelley's Case abolished.

689.15 Estates by survivorship.—The doctrine of the right of survivorship in cases of real estate and personal property held by joint tenants shall not prevail in this state; that is to say, except in cases of estates by entirety, a devise, transfer or conveyance heretofore or hereafter made to two or more shall create a tenancy in common, unless the instrument creating the estate shall expressly provide for the right of survivorship; and in cases of estates by entirety, the tenants, upon dissolution of marriage, shall become tenants in common.

History.—s. 20, Nov. 17, 1829; RS 1819; GS 2294; RGS 3617; CGL 5482; s. 3, ch. 20954, 1941; s. 1, ch. 73-300.

689.17 Rule in Shelley's Case abolished.—The rule in Shelley's Case is hereby abolished. Any instrument purporting to create an estate for life in a person with remainder to his heirs, lawful heirs, heirs of his body or to his heirs described by words of similar import, shall be deemed to create an estate for life with remainder per stirpes to the life tenant's lineal descendants in being at the time said life estate commences, but said remainder shall be subject to open and to take in per stirpes other lineal descendants of the life tenant who come into being during the continuance of said life estate.

History.—s. 2, ch. 23126, 1945.

cf.—s. 689.14 Entailed estates.

689.18 Reverter or forfeiture provisions, limitations; exceptions.—

(1) It is hereby declared by the Legislature of the state that reverter or forfeiture provisions of unlimited duration in the conveyance of real estate or any interest therein in the state constitute an unreasonable restraint on alienation and are contrary to the public policy of the state.

(2) All reverter or forfeiture provisions of unlimited duration embodied in any plat or deed executed more than 21 years prior to the passage of this law conveying real estate or any interest therein in the state, be and the same are hereby canceled and annulled and declared to be of no further force and effect.

(3) All reverter provisions in any conveyance of real estate or any interest therein in the state, now in force, shall cease and terminate and become null, void and unenforceable 21 years from the date of the conveyance embodying such reverter or forfeiture provision.

(4) No reverter or forfeiture provision contained in any deed conveying real estate or any interest therein in the state, executed on and after July 1, 1951, shall be valid and binding more than 21 years from the date of such deed, and upon the expiration of such period of 21 years, the reverter or forfeiture provision shall become null, void and unenforceable.

(5) Any and all conveyances of real property in this state heretofore or hereafter made to any governmental, educational, literary, scientific, religious, public utility, public transportation, charitable or nonprofit corporation or association are hereby excepted from the provisions of this section.

(6) Any holder of a possibility of reverter who claims title to any real property in the state, or any interest therein by reason of a reversion or forfeiture under the terms or provisions of any deed heretofore executed and delivered containing such reverter or forfeiture provision shall have 1 year from July 1, 1951, to institute suit in a court of competent jurisdiction in this state to establish or enforce such right, and failure to institute such action within said time shall be conclusive evidence of the abandonment of any such right, title, or interest, and all right of forfeiture or reversion shall thereupon cease and determine, and become null, void, and unenforceable.

(7) This section shall not vary, alter, or terminate the restrictions placed upon said real estate, contained either in restrictive covenants or reverter or forfeiture clauses, and all said restrictions may be enforced and violations thereof restrained by a court of competent jurisdiction whenever any one of said restrictions or conditions shall be violated, or threat to violate the same be made by owners or parties in possession or control of said real estate, by an injunction which may be issued upon petition of any person adversely affected, mandatorily requiring the abatement of such violations or threatened violation and restraining any future violation of said restrictions and conditions.

History.—ss. 1-7, ch. 26927, 1951; s. 218, ch. 77-104.

689.19 Variances of names in recorded instruments.—

(1) The word "instrument" as used in this section shall be construed to mean and include not only instruments voluntarily executed but also papers filed or issued in or in connection with actions and other proceedings in court and orders, judgments and decrees entered therein and transcripts of such judgments and proceedings in foreclosure of mortgage or other liens.

(2) Variances between any two instruments affecting the title to the same real property both of which shall have been spread on the record for the period of more than 10 years among the public records of the county in which such real property is situated, with respect to the names of persons named in the respective instruments or in acknowledgments thereto arising from the full Christian name appearing in one and only the initial letter of that Christian name appearing in the other or from a full middle name appearing in one and only the initial letter of that middle name appearing in the other or from the initial letter of a middle name appearing in one and not appearing in the other, irrespective of which one of the two instruments in which any such variance occurred was prior in point of time to the other and irrespective of whether the instruments were executed or originated before or after August 5, 1953, shall not destroy or impair the presumption that the person so named in one of said instruments was the same person as the one so named in the other of said instruments which would exist if the names in the two instruments were identical; and, in spite of any such variance, the person so named in one of said instruments shall be presumed to be the same person as the one so named in the other until such time as the contrary appears and, until such time, either or both of such instruments or the record thereof or certified copy or copies of the record thereof shall be admissible in evidence in the same manner as though the names in the two instruments were identical.

History.—s. 1, ch. 28208, 1953.

689.20 Limitation on use of word "minerals."

—Whenever the word "minerals" is hereafter used in any deed, lease or other contract in writing, said word or term shall not include any of the following: topsoil, muck, peat, humus, sand and common clay, unless expressly provided in said deed, lease or other contract in writing.

History.—s. 1, ch. 59-375.

689.21 Disclaimer of interests in property passing under certain nontestamentary instruments or under certain powers of appointment.—*(1) DEFINITIONS.—

(a) "Beneficiary" means any person who becomes entitled to an interest in property in any manner described in subsection (2).

(b) "Grantor" means the person by whom an interest in property was created.

(c) "Power of appointment" means any power described in subparagraph (d) 3.

(d) An "interest in property" which may be disclaimed shall include:

1. The whole of any property, real or personal, legal or equitable, or any fractional part, share, or portion of property, or specific assets thereof;

2. Any estate in such property; or

3. Any power to appoint, consume, apply, or expend property or any other right, power, privilege, or immunity relating thereto.

(2) SCOPE OF RIGHT TO DISCLAIM.—

(a) A beneficiary may disclaim any interest in property which would pass (unless disclaimed) to the beneficiary:

1. As donee;

2. As grantee;

3. Under any deed, assignment, or other nontestamentary instrument of conveyance or transfer;

4. As beneficiary of an inter vivos trust;

5. As beneficiary of an insurance contract;

6. Through exercise or nonexercise of a power of appointment exercisable by deed;

7. Through nontestamentary exercise of a power of appointment exercisable by deed or will;

8. As donee of a power of appointment created by a nontestamentary instrument;

9. By succession in any manner described in this subsection to a disclaimed interest; or

10. In any other manner not specifically enumerated herein under a nontestamentary instrument.

(b) Disclaimer may be made for a minor, incompetent, or deceased beneficiary by the guardian or personal representative if the circuit court having jurisdiction of the estate of such minor, incompetent, or deceased beneficiary, after hearing upon petition filed by the guardian, personal representative, or other interested person and served upon such persons and in such manner as the judge shall direct, finds that it is in the best interests of those interested in the estate of such beneficiary, and of those who take the beneficiary's interest by virtue of the disclaimer, and not detrimental to the best interests of the beneficiary, to make the disclaimer. If so ordered by the circuit court, the guardian or personal representative shall execute and file the disclaimer on behalf of the beneficiary within the time and in the manner in which the beneficiary himself could disclaim if he were living, of legal age, and competent.

(3) DISPOSITION OF DISCLAIMED INTERESTS.—

(a) Unless the grantor, or a donee of a power of appointment, has otherwise provided by a nontestamentary instrument with reference to the possibility of a disclaimer by the beneficiary, the interest disclaimed shall descend, be distributed, or otherwise be disposed of in the same manner as if the disclaimant had died immediately preceding the death or other event which causes him to become finally ascertained as a beneficiary and his interest to become indefeasibly fixed both in quality and quantity, and, in any case, the disclaimer shall relate for all purposes to such date, whether filed before or after such death or other event. An interest in property disclaimed shall never vest in the disclaimant.

(b) A beneficiary who disclaims any interest which would pass to him in any manner described in paragraph (2)(a) shall not be excluded, unless his disclaimer instrument so provides, from sharing in any other interest to which he may be entitled in any manner described in this section, including subparagraph (2)(a)9., even though such interest includes, by virtue of the beneficiary's disclaimer, disclaimed assets.

(4) FORM, FILING, RECORDING, AND SERVICE OF DISCLAIMER INSTRUMENTS.—

(a) Any writing to be a disclaimer shall:

1. Declare the disclaimer and its extent;

2. Describe the interest in property disclaimed; and

3. Be signed, witnessed, and acknowledged in the manner provided for deeds of real estate.

(b) A disclaimer shall be effective and irrevocable when the instrument is filed for recording in the office of any circuit court in this state.

(c) A copy of the disclaimer instrument shall be delivered by hand or by certified mail to the personal representative, trustee, or other person having legal title to or possession of the property in which the disclaimed interest exists. No such representative, trustee, or other person shall be liable for any otherwise proper distribution or other disposition made without actual notice of the disclaimer, or, in the event such disclaimer is waived or barred as herein-after provided, for any otherwise proper distribution or other disposition made in reliance on such disclaimer, provided such distribution or disposition is made without actual notice of the facts constituting the waiver or barring the right to disclaim.

(d) If an interest in or relating to real estate is disclaimed, a certified copy of the disclaimer instrument shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county or counties wherein the real estate is located for recording, and shall constitute notice to all persons from the time of filing.

(5) TIME IN WHICH DISCLAIMER SHALL BE MADE.—A disclaimer shall be filed at any time after the creation of the interest but, in any event, within 12 months after the effective date of the non-testamentary instrument creating the interest, or, if the disclaimant is not then finally ascertained as a beneficiary or his interest has not then become indefeasibly fixed both in quality and quantity, such disclaimer shall be filed not later than 12 months after the event which would cause him so to become finally ascertained and his interest to become indefeasibly fixed both in quality and quantity.

(6) WAIVER OR BAR TO RIGHT TO DISCLAIM.—The right to disclaim otherwise conferred by this section shall be barred if the beneficiary is insolvent at the time of the event giving rise to the right to disclaim. Any voluntary assignment or transfer of, or contract to assign or transfer, or encumbrance of, an interest in real or personal property, or written waiver of the right to disclaim an interest in real or personal property, by any beneficiary, or any sale or other disposition of an interest in real or personal property pursuant to judicial process, made before he has filed a disclaimer as herein provided bars the right otherwise hereby conferred on such beneficiary to disclaim as to such interest. The acceptance, assignment, transfer, encumbrance, or written waiver of the right to disclaim, or sale pursuant to judicial process, of a part of an interest in property shall not bar the right to disclaim any other part of the interest in property.

(7) EFFECT OF RESTRAINTS; SPOUSE'S CONSENT.—The right to disclaim granted by this section shall exist irrespective of any limitation imposed on the interest of the disclaimant in the nature of an express or implied spendthrift provision or similar restriction. If an interest in real estate is disclaimed, the wife of the disclaimant, if such wife has consented to the disclaimer in writing, shall thereupon be automatically debarred from dower in such real estate. Disclaimer by a married woman shall be effective without the joinder or consent of her husband.

(8) EFFECT ON RIGHTS OUTSIDE THIS SECTION.—This section shall not abridge the right of any person, apart from this section, to disclaim, renounce, alienate, release, or otherwise transfer or dispose of any interest in property under any existing or future rule of law.

(9) EFFECTIVE DATE.—Any interest in property coming into existence after October 1, 1971 and any interest in property which exists on October 1, 1971 but which has not then become indefeasibly fixed both in quality and quantity, or the beneficiary of which has not then become finally ascertained, may be disclaimed in the manner provided herein.

History.—s. 1, ch. 71-31; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

689.22 Rule against perpetuities.—

(1) STATEMENT OF THE RULE.—No interest in real or personal property is valid unless it must vest, if at all, not later than 21 years after one or more lives in being at the creation of the interest and any period of gestation involved. The lives measuring the permissible period of vesting must not be so numerous or be designated in such a manner as to make proof of their end unreasonably difficult.

(2) BASIS FOR DETERMINING VALIDITY OF INTEREST.—

(a) Except as provided in sub-subparagraph (5)(d) 1.a., in determining whether an interest violates the rule against perpetuities, the validity of the interest is determined on the basis of facts existing at the end of the lives in being used to measure the permissible period or, if no life in being is used, the facts existing at the end of the 21-year period.

(b) For the purposes of the rule against perpetuities, every interest created through the exercise, by will, deed, or other instrument, of a power of appointment, irrespective of whether the power is limited or unlimited as to appointees, the manner in which the power was created or may be exercised, or whether the power was created before or after this section takes effect, is considered to have been created at the time of the exercise, and not at the time of the creation, of the power of appointment. No such interest is void because of the rule unless the interest would be void had it been created at the date of the exercise of the power of appointment otherwise than through the exercise of a power of appointment, except that no power may be exercised so as to create another power, limited as to appointees or as to the manner in which such second power may be exercised.

(3) APPLICATION OF RULE.—

(a) The rule against perpetuities does not apply to:

1. Any disposition of property or interest therein, which disposition, as of the effective date of this section, does not violate, or is exempted by statute from the operation of, the common-law rule against perpetuities.

2. Powers of a trustee to sell, lease, or mortgage property or which relate to the administration or management of trust assets, including, without limitation, discretionary powers to determine which receipts constitute principal and which receipts constitute income and powers to appoint a successor trustee.

3. Mandatory powers of a trustee to distribute income, or discretionary powers of a trustee to distribute principal, prior to termination of the trust, to a beneficiary having an interest in the principal, which interest is irrevocably vested in quality and quantity.

4. Discretionary powers of a trustee to allocate income and principal among beneficiaries, except that any exercise of such power after the expiration of the period of the rule against perpetuities is void.

5. Leases to commence in the future or upon the happening of a future event, but no such lease is valid unless the term thereof actually commences in possession within 40 years from the date of execution of the lease.

6. Commitments by a lessor to enter into a lease with a subtenant or with the holder of a leasehold mortgage or to commitments by a lessee or sublessee to enter into a lease with the holder of a leasehold mortgage.

7. Options to purchase in gross or in a lease or preemptive rights in the nature of a right of first refusal, but no option in gross is valid for more than 40 years from the date of its creation.

(b) The period of perpetuities does not commence to run in connection with any disposition of property or interest therein, no instrument is considered to be effective for purposes of the rule against perpetuities, and no interest or power is considered to be created for purposes of the rule against perpetuities so long as, under the instrument, the maker of the instrument has the power to revoke the instrument or to transfer or direct transfer to himself of the entire legal and equitable ownership of the property or interest therein.

(4) REDUCTION OF AGE CONTINGENCY.—If, except for this subsection, an interest in property would be invalid because it depends for its vesting upon any person attaining or failing to attain an age in excess of 21 years, the age contingency is reduced to 21 years with respect to each person subject to the contingency.

(5) RULES OF CONSTRUCTION.—Unless a contrary intent appears, the rules of construction provided in this subsection govern with respect to any matter concerning the rule against perpetuities.

(a) It shall be presumed that the creator of an interest intended that the interest be valid.

(b) If, except for this paragraph, an interest would be invalid because of the possibility that the person to whom it is given or limited may be a person not in being at the time of the creation of the estate, and such person is referred to in the instrument creating the interest as the spouse of another without further identification, it is presumed that such reference is to a person in being on the effective date of the instrument.

(c) If the duration or vesting of an interest is contingent upon the probate of a will, the appointment of a fiduciary, the location of a distributee, the payment of debts, the sale of assets, the settlement of an estate, the determination of questions relating to an estate or transfer tax, or the occurrence of any specified contingency, it is presumed that the creator of such interest intended that the contingency occur, if at all, within 21 years from the effective date of the instrument creating the interest.

(d)1. If the validity of a disposition depends upon the ability of a person to have a child at some future time, it is presumed, subject to subparagraph 2., that a male can have a child at 14 years of age or older, but not younger than age 14, and that a female can have a child at 12 years of age or older, but not older than age 55 or younger than age 12. However, in the case of a living person, evidence may be given to establish whether such person can have a child at the time in question. The possibility that a person may have a child by adoption is disregarded.

a. A determination of the validity of a disposition under the rule against perpetuities by the application of this paragraph is not affected by the later occurrence of facts in contradiction to the facts presumed or determined or the possibility of adoption disregarded under this paragraph.

b. Any invalidity because of the ability of a person to have a child at some future time shall be determined in accordance with paragraph (2)(a).

2. This paragraph does not apply for any purpose other than that of determining the validity of a disposition under the rule against perpetuities when such validity depends on the ability of a person to have a child at some future time.

(6) ACQUISITION OF REAL PROPERTY BY FOREIGN TRUST.—If real property situated in this state is acquired by a trust validly created under the law of another jurisdiction, the law of this state in effect at the time of the acquisition of such property determines whether there is a violation of the rule against perpetuities or whether a direction for the accumulation of rents and profits is valid.

(7) TRUST WITH TRANSFERABLE CERTIFICATES.—A trust with transferable certificates, heretofore or hereafter created, is not invalid as violating the rule against perpetuities, but such trust may continue for such time as is necessary to accomplish the purpose for which the trust was created if the instrument creating the trust provides that the trust may be terminated at any time by action of the trustees or by affirmative vote of the beneficiaries having a specified percentage of interest in the trust. This subsection applies to an investment trust, which is an unincorporated trust or association managed by trustees, and which does not hold any property for sale to customers in the ordinary course of its trade or business, and the beneficial ownership of which trust is evidenced by transferable shares or by transferable certificates of beneficial interest, which shares or certificates are offered for sale to the public.

CHAPTER 692

CONVEYANCES BY CORPORATIONS

- 692.01 Conveyances by corporations.
- 692.02 Validation of conveyances.
- 692.03 Validity of conveyances by certain foreign corporations recorded for 7 years; limitation.
- 692.04 Validation of deeds, etc., executed by corporations.

692.01 Conveyances by corporations.—Any corporation may execute instruments conveying, mortgaging, or affecting any interest in its lands by instruments sealed with the common or corporate seal and signed in its name by its president or any vice president or chief executive officer. Assignments, satisfactions, or partial releases of mortgages and acquittances for debts may be similarly executed by any corporate officer. No corporate resolution need be recorded to evidence the authority of the person executing the deed, mortgage, or other instrument for the corporation, and an instrument so executed shall be valid whether or not the officer signing for the corporation was authorized to do so by the board of directors, in the absence of fraud in the transaction by the person receiving it. In cases of fraud, subsequent transactions with good faith purchasers for value and without notice of the fraud shall be valid and binding on the corporation.

History.—RS 1955; GS 2459; s. 1, ch. 6183, 1911; RGS 3799; CGL 5672; s. 1, ch. 71-10; s. 1, ch. 79-290.

692.02 Validation of conveyances.—Conveyances by corporations of lands in this state, heretofore executed, which have been sealed with the common or corporate seal of such corporation and signed in its name by a vice president or the chief executive officer thereof, shall be as valid and effective and shall bear the same presumptions as if signed in the name of such corporation by its president.

History.—s. 2, ch. 6183, 1911; RGS 3800; CGL 5673.

692.03 Validity of conveyances by certain foreign corporations recorded for 7 years; limitation.—

(1) Whenever any conveyance, by the surviving directors or trustees of a foreign corporation, which has been dissolved for any cause, or which has had its permit to transact business in the state canceled for failure to pay fees due the Department of State, or which has failed to comply with the provisions of laws of this state, has been executed and delivered to any grantee or grantees, and has for a period of 7 years or more been spread upon the records of a county wherein the land therein described is situated, the same shall be taken and held by all the courts of this state in the absence of any showing of fraud, adverse possession, or pending litigation, to have authorized the conveyance of, or to have conveyed, the fee simple title, or any interest therein, of the corporation on whose behalf said instrument has been executed to the land therein described.

(2) This section shall not apply to any conveyance, the validity of which shall be contested or shall have been contested by suit commenced heretofore or prior to July 1, 1954.

History.—ss. 1, 2, ch. 28078, 1953; ss. 10, 35, ch. 69-106.

692.04 Validation of deeds, etc., executed by corporations.—All deeds and other instruments relating to the conveyance, transfer, lease, assignment, release, subordination, encumbrance, or satisfaction of any right, title, interest, claim, lien, or demand in, to, or upon real property, heretofore made or hereafter made, and in all other respects executed in due form, by a corporation, not dissolved or expired, but delinquent for 6 months or more as to payment of capital stock taxes at the time of the making or executing of such deed or other instrument, are, notwithstanding said delinquency, hereby validated.

History.—s. 1, ch. 57-264.

CHAPTER 694

CERTAIN CONVEYANCES MADE VALID

- 694.01 Those executed between 1817 and 1822.
- 694.02 Married women's conveyances validated.
- 694.03 Married women's conveyances by attorney validated.
- 694.04 Conveyances of married women; defective acknowledgments validated.
- 694.05 Certain other conveyances validated.
- 694.06 Deeds executed by State Board of Education.
- 694.07 Certain grant of lands confirmed.
- 694.08 Certain instruments validated, notwithstanding lack of seals or witnesses, or defect in acknowledgment, etc.
- 694.09 Certified copies admissible in evidence.
- 694.10 Certain titles not affected.
- 694.11 Certain deeds of county commissioners validated.
- 694.12 Validation of instruments in which name of corporation is incorrectly set out.
- 694.13 Ratifying, validating and confirming conveyances of real estate by county commissioners, etc.
- 694.14 Validation of deeds executed by guardians appointed under Uniform Veterans' Guardianship Law.
- 694.15 Validation of conveyances by Board of Trustees.

694.01 Those executed between 1817 and 1822.—All deeds of conveyance, bills of sale, mortgages or other transfers of property, either real or personal, within the limits of this state, made and received bona fide and upon good consideration at any time between January 17, 1817, and October 1, 1822, shall be as good and efficient in law and equity as if the same had been made and executed according to the formalities of the Spanish law as against the maker or makers thereof, and every person or persons claiming by, through, or under him, her, or them; provided, that nothing in this section contained shall be so construed as to affect the interest of persons not parties to any of the contracts aforesaid; and provided, also, that the said deeds of conveyance, bills of sale, mortgages and other transfers were recorded agreeably to the laws of the state within 6 months from June 24, 1823.

History.—June 21, 1823; RS 1968; GS 2474; RGS 3815; CGL 5688.

694.02 Married women's conveyances validated.—All sales, conveyances, transfers, or mortgages made prior to February 14, 1835, by married women of their real estate of inheritance where the husbands of such married women have joined therein shall be as valid as if the same had been conveyed by fine as at common law.

History.—s. 2, Feb. 4, 1835; RS 1969; GS 2475; RGS 3816; CGL 5689.

694.03 Married women's conveyances by attorney validated.—Any deed, release or conveyance executed and acknowledged before the passage of the act approved February 20, 1875, entitled, "An Act to authorize married women to convey their separate estate and release dower by attorney," yet in the manner therein provided, shall have the same force and effect and be as valid as if the same had been executed and acknowledged after the passage of the said act.

History.—RS 1970; GS 2476; RGS 3817; CGL 5690.

694.04 Conveyances of married women; defective acknowledgments validated.—All conveyances, contracts, transfers, or mortgages of real property or of any interest in it, including relinquishments of dower, executed by a married woman before May 13, 1943, that were not acknowledged separate from her husband or in which the separate acknowledgment was defective for any other reason are as valid and effective as though the acknowledgment had been properly made.

History.—Ch. 5412, 1905; s. 1, ch. 6217, 1911; RGS 3818; CGL 5691; s. 9, ch. 20954, 1941; s. 1, ch. 70-4.

694.05 Certain other conveyances validated.—Any deed or conveyance heretofore executed and acknowledged in accordance with the provisions of the act approved February 24, 1873, entitled "An Act providing for the acknowledgment of deeds and other conveyances of lands," shall be held good and valid.

History.—s. 2, ch. 2069, 1875; RS 1971; GS 2477; RGS 3819; CGL 5692.

694.06 Deeds executed by State Board of Education.—All deeds conveying lands granted to or held by the state for educational purposes heretofore executed by the members of the State Board of Education are hereby confirmed and declared to be valid and binding as conveyances of the title to such lands.

History.—s. 2, ch. 4999, 1901; GS 2478; RGS 3820; CGL 5693.

694.07 Certain grant of lands confirmed.—The state does hereby grant and confirm to purchasers, grantees and assigns of the several railroad companies which accepted the provisions of the act entitled, "An Act to provide for and encourage a liberal system of internal improvements in this state," approved January 6, 1855, and their assigns, the lands and titles thereto which were granted to the state by the United States to aid in the construction of certain railroads in the state, by Act of Congress, approved May 17, 1856, which said land has been selected and located for the several railroad companies accepting the provisions of said act along the line of their respective roads, to the extent and proportion to which they severally became entitled under said act to provide for and encourage a liberal system of internal improvements in this state and the Act of Congress granting the same above referred to. And to confirm and convey the title to any lands which may hereafter be selected and approved to the state for the use of the several railroads as aforesaid, to the purchasers, grantees and assigns of said railroads.

History.—s. 1, ch. 4707, 1899; GS 2479; RGS 3821; CGL 5694.

(1) Whenever any power of attorney has been executed and delivered, or any conveyance has been executed and delivered to any grantee by the person owning the land therein described, or conveying the same in an official or representative capacity, and has, for a period of 7 years or more been spread upon the records of the county wherein the land therein described has been or was at the time situated, and one or more subsequent conveyances of said land or parts thereof have been made, executed, delivered and recorded by parties claiming under such instrument or instruments, and such power of attorney or conveyance, or the public record thereof, shows upon its face a clear purpose and intent of the person executing the same to authorize the conveyance of said land or to convey the said land, the same shall be taken and held by all the courts of this state, in the absence of any showing of fraud, adverse possession, or pending litigation, to have authorized the conveyance of, or to have conveyed, the fee simple title, or any interest therein, of the person signing such instruments, or the person in behalf of whom the same was conveyed by a person in an official or representative capacity, to the land therein described as effectively as if there had been no defect in the acknowledgment or the certificate of acknowledgment, if acknowledged, or the relinquishment of dower, and as if there had been no lack of the word "as" preceding the title of the person conveying in an official or representative capacity, of any seal or seals, or of any witness or witnesses, and shall likewise be taken and held by all the courts of this state to have been duly recorded so as to be admissible in evidence;

(2) Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to any conveyance the validity of which shall be contested or have been contested by suit commenced heretofore or within 1 year of the effective date of this law.

History.—s. 1, ch. 10169, 1925; CGL 5695; s. 15, ch. 20954, 1941; s. 1, ch. 25277, 1949; s. 1, ch. 26957, 1951; s. 35, ch. 69-216.

cf.—s. 95.231 Limitations where deed or will of record for 10 or 20 years or more.

s. 732.111 Dower and curtesy abolished.

694.09 Certified copies admissible in evidence.—A copy of any of the instruments referred to in s. 694.08 duly certified, under the hand and seal of office of the officer in whose office the same may be recorded, to be a true and correct copy of the original, on file or of record in his office, shall in all cases and in all courts be admitted and received in evidence with the like effect and force as the original thereof might be.

History.—s. 2, ch. 10169, 1925; CGL 5696.

694.10 Certain titles not affected.—Nothing in s. 694.08 contained shall be taken or held to validate or perfect any title to any land as against one or more in adverse possession thereof or holding or claiming title under a different or adverse chain of title from either a common or different source.

History.—s. 3, ch. 10169, 1925; CGL 5697.

694.11 Certain deeds of county commissioners validated.—All deeds of conveyance of lands in this state heretofore made and executed prior to the year 1915 by the board of county commissioners of any county in this state of lands lying and being within such county, or that were made and executed by someone acting by or under the authority of any such board of county commissioners, of any such lands, be and the same are hereby ratified, validated and confirmed, and declared to convey such title, right or interest therein as such county may have had or held at the time of the conveyance, and as was expressed in any such deed of conveyance, and intended to be conveyed thereby. Provided, that nothing in this section shall validate any deed that was fraudulently obtained or that is now in litigation.

History.—s. 1, ch. 13622, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 5697(1).

694.12 Validation of instruments in which name of corporation is incorrectly set out.—All deeds of conveyance, bills of sale, mortgages, or other transfers of real or personal property within the limits of this state, heretofore made and received bona fide and upon good consideration by any corporation, or to any corporation, in which the name of said corporation shall be incorrectly set out in such deed, bill of sale, mortgage or other instrument by omitting a word from the corporate name, or by adding a word thereto, or by misspelling any part of the name of said corporation, and the identity of said corporation shall plainly appear from the contents of said instrument, or otherwise, such deed, bill of sale, mortgage or other instrument, shall be taken and deemed valid and effectual as though the name of said corporation were correctly set out in said deed, bill of sale, mortgage or other instrument, and the same shall, notwithstanding such irregularity or defect, be deemed and taken as properly executed.

History.—s. 1, ch. 14838, 1931; CGL 1936 Supp. 5673(1); s. 7, ch. 22858, 1945.

694.13 Ratifying, validating and confirming conveyances of real estate by county commissioners, etc.—

(1) All conveyances of real estate heretofore made by any of the several counties of the state or the county commissioners thereof, or any district school board, or any board of bond trustees or commissioners or supervisors of a drainage or other special improvement district, be and the same are hereby ratified, validated, and confirmed; provided, however, that this section shall not ratify, validate, or confirm any such conveyances which are the subject of litigation on June 16, 1947, or any tax deed, or title acquired by failure of the owner of lands to pay taxes or assessments.

(2) The several counties of the state by a majority of the county commissioners thereof or any school board or any board of bond trustees or commissioners or supervisors of a drainage or other special improvement district or a majority of the members thereof, are hereby authorized to execute and deliver deed to real property in which any such county, school board, board of bond trustees or commissioners or supervisors of a drainage or other special improvement district may have been interested.

History.—ss. 1, 2, ch. 24307, 1947; s. 11, ch. 25035, 1949; s. 1, ch. 69-300.

694.14 Validation of deeds executed by guardians appointed under Uniform Veterans' Guardianship Law.—Any deed of conveyance, executed bona fide and for a valuable consideration authorized and approved by order of the probate court, by any limited guardian, who was appointed as guardian under the Uniform Veterans' Guardianship Law of Florida and who acted under that law and the order of the probate court in the execution of the deed of conveyance, the said deed is hereby cured and it shall be deemed and taken as if properly executed notwithstanding the fact said deed was executed to property that said mentally incompetent veteran did not directly or otherwise acquire with money received by the veteran from the Veterans' Administration and notwithstanding the fact the conveyance is to property acquired by the mentally incompetent veteran before he or she became a veteran or was declared insane; and notwithstanding the fact that some of the information required by said Uniform Veterans' Guardianship Law was not set out in the petition for appointment of the guardian; and notwithstanding the fact the guardian did not publish the notice of application for an order of sale as required by s. 294.10; and notwithstanding any other defect in any part of the said guardianship proceeding that resulted in said court-authorized and court-approved proceeding that resulted in the execution of such guardians' deed as aforesaid.

History.—ss. 1, 2, ch. 57-341; s. 1, ch. 73-304; s. 170, ch. 73-333.

694.15 Validation of conveyances by Board of Trustees.—All conveyances and releases of any interest in lands, title to which was vested in the Board of Trustees of the Internal Improvement Trust Fund under chapter 253, made by the Board of Trustees after June 30, 1975, and prior to July 1, 1977, are hereby ratified, confirmed, and validated in all respects.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-385.

695.01 Conveyances to be recorded.—

(1) No conveyance, transfer or mortgage of real property, or of any interest therein, nor any lease for a term of 1 year or longer, shall be good and effectual in law or equity against creditors or subsequent purchasers for a valuable consideration and without notice, unless the same be recorded according to law; nor shall any such instrument made or executed by virtue of any power of attorney be good or effectual in law or in equity against creditors or subsequent purchasers for a valuable consideration and without notice unless the power of attorney be recorded before the accruing of the right of such creditor or subsequent purchaser.

(2) Grantees by quitclaim, heretofore or hereafter made, shall be deemed and held to be bona fide purchasers without notice within the meaning of the recording acts;

(3) Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to quitclaims heretofore made, the priority of which shall be contested by suit commenced within 1 year of the effective date of this law.

History.—ss. 4, 9, Nov. 15, 1828; RS 1972; GS 2480; RGS 8822; CGL 5698; s. 10, ch. 20954, 1941.

695.015 Conveyances by law between governmental agencies, recording.—All laws which purport to convey title to real property from one governmental agency or political subdivision to another shall be recorded in the public records of the county or counties in which the property is located, and such laws shall contain a provision requiring such recording.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-103.

695.02 Blank or master form of instruments may be recorded.—

(1) Any person may have a blank or master form of mortgage or other instrument conveying, transferring or reserving an interest in, or creating a lien on, real or personal property, filed, indexed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court.

(2) When any such blank or master form is filed with the clerk of the circuit court, he shall record and index the same in the manner provided by law for recording and indexing mortgages and such other instruments respectively, except that the name of the person whose name appears on such blank or master form shall be inserted in the indexes as grantor and also as grantee.

(3) When any instrument conveying, transferring or reserving an interest in, or creating a lien on, real or personal property, incorporates by reference the provisions, terms, covenants, conditions, obligations, powers and other contents, or any of them, set forth in any such recorded blank or master form, such incorporation by reference, for all purposes, shall be equivalent to setting forth in extenso in such instrument that which is incorporated by reference.

History.—ss. 1-4, ch. 17109, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5698(1); s. 219, ch. 77-104. cf.—s. 1.01 "Person" defined.

695.03 Acknowledgment and proof; validation of certain acknowledgments.—To entitle any instrument concerning real property to be recorded, the execution must be acknowledged by the party executing it or the execution must be proved by a subscribing witness to it before the officers and in the form and manner following:

(1) IN THIS STATE.—An acknowledgment or proof made within this state may be made before any judge, clerk, or deputy clerk of any court, a United States Commissioner or magistrate, or a notary public, and the certificate of acknowledgment or proof shall be under the seal of the court or officer, as the case may be. All affidavits and acknowledgments heretofore made or taken in this manner are hereby validated.

(2) WITHOUT THIS STATE BUT WITHIN THE UNITED STATES.—An acknowledgment or proof made out of this state but within the United States may be made before a commissioner of deeds appointed by the governor of this state; a judge or clerk of any court of the United States or of any state, territory, or district; a United States Commissioner or Magistrate; or a notary public, justice of the peace, master in chancery, or registrar or recorder of deeds of any state, territory, or district having a seal, and the certificate of acknowledgment or proof shall be under the seal of the court or officer, as the case may be. If the acknowledgment or proof is made before a notary public who does not have or does not affix a seal, the instrument shall have affixed a certificate by the clerk of a court having a seal under the seal to the effect that the notary public was duly authorized by the laws of the state to take the acknowledgment or proof of the instrument to which the certificate is affixed. All affidavits and acknowledgments heretofore made or taken in this manner are hereby validated.

(3) IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.—If the acknowledgment or proof be made in any foreign country, it may be made before any commissioner of deeds appointed by the governor of this state to reside in such country, or before any notary public of such foreign country having an official seal, or before any ambassador, envoy extraordinary, minister plenipotentiary, minister, commissioner, charge d'affaires, consul general, consul, vice consul, consular agent, or any other diplomatic or consular officer of the United States appointed to reside in such country, military or naval officer authorized by the Laws or Articles of War of the United States to perform the duties of notary public, and the certificate of acknowledgment or proof shall be under the seal of the officer.

All affidavits and acknowledgments heretofore made or taken in the manner set forth above are hereby validated.

History.—RS 1973; ch. 5404, 1905; GS 2481; ss. 1, 2, ch. 7849, 1919; RGS 3823; CGL 5699; s. 7, ch. 22858, 1945; s. 1, ch. 28225, 1953; s. 1, ch. 69-79; s. 1, ch. 71-53; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

695.031 Affidavits and acknowledgments by members of armed forces and their spouses.—

(1) In addition to the manner, form and proof of acknowledgment of instruments as now provided by law, any person serving in or with the Armed Forces of the United States, including the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, or any component or any arm or service of any thereof, including any female auxiliary of any thereof, and any person whose duties require his or her presence with the Armed Forces of the United States, as herein designated, or otherwise designated by law or military or naval command, may acknowledge any instrument, wherever located, either within or without the state, or without the United States, before any commissioned officer in active service of the Armed Forces of the United States, as herein designated, or otherwise designated by law, or military or naval command, or order, with the rank of second lieutenant or higher in the Army or Marine Corps, or of any component or any arm or service of either thereof, including any female auxiliary of any thereof, or ensign or higher in the Navy or United States Coast Guard, or of any component or any arm or service of either thereof, including any female auxiliary of any thereof.

(2) The instrument shall not be rendered invalid by the failure to state therein the place of execution or acknowledgment. No authentication of the officer's certificate of acknowledgment or otherwise shall be required, and no seal shall be necessary, but the officer taking the acknowledgment shall endorse thereon or attach thereto a certificate substantially in the following form:

On this ..... day of ....., 19....., before me ....., the undersigned officer, personally appeared ....., known to me (or satisfactorily proven) to be serving in or with, or whose duties require his presence with the Armed Forces of the United States, and to be the person whose name is subscribed to the within instrument, and acknowledged that he executed the same for the purposes therein contained, and the undersigned does further certify that he is at the date of this certificate a commissioned officer of the rank stated below and is in the active service of the Armed Forces of the United States.

.....(Signature of commissioned officer).....

.....(Rank of commissioned officer and command or branch of service to which officer is attached).....

(3) Such acknowledgments by a married woman, who is a member of the Armed Forces of the United States, shall be sufficient in all respects to bar the dower, homestead rights or separate property rights of such married woman in any real estate described in the instrument thus acknowledged by her, as fully and completely as though such married woman had acknowledged such instrument as now required by other statutes.

(4) An acknowledgment by the spouse of a member of the Armed Forces of the United States shall be sufficient in all respects if it is acknowledged in the manner and form herein provided and shall have the same force and effect as though the instrument had been acknowledged as now required by other statutes and such acknowledgment by a married woman who is a spouse of a member of the Armed Forces of the United States shall be sufficient in all respects to bar the dower, homestead rights or separate property rights of such married woman in any real estate described in the instrument thus acknowledged by her as fully and completely as though such married woman had acknowledged such instrument as now required by other statutes.

(5) Any instrument or document acknowledged in the manner and form herein provided shall be entitled to be recorded and shall be recorded as in the case of other instruments or documents properly acknowledged.

(6) This section is to be liberally construed in favor of the validity of any such acknowledgments by any such member of the Armed Forces of the United States and any acknowledgments heretofore taken, containing words of similar import, are hereby confirmed and declared to be valid and binding. This section shall be construed as an enabling act and as an exception to existing laws rather than, inferentially or otherwise, as a repeal of the same or any part of the same.

Note.—Former s. 120.08.

695.032 Provisions not applicable to transactions under chapter 679, Uniform Commercial Code.—Section 695.03 shall not apply to any of the transactions within the scope of chapter 679 of the Uniform Commercial Code.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

695.04 Requirements of certificate.—The certificate of the officer before whom the acknowledgment or proof shall be taken shall contain and set forth substantially the matter required to be done or proved to make such acknowledgment or proof effectual.

History.—RS 1974; GS 2482; RGS 3824; CGL 5700.

695.05 Certain defects cured as to acknowledgments and witnesses.—All deeds, conveyances, bills of sale, mortgages or other transfers of real or personal property within the limits of this state, heretofore or hereafter made and received bona fide and upon good consideration by any corporation, and acknowledged for record before some officer, stockholder or other person interested in the corporation, grantee, or mortgagee as a notary public or other officer authorized to take acknowledgments of instruments for record within this state, shall be held, deemed and taken as valid as if acknowledged by the proper notary public or other officer authorized to take acknowledgments of instruments for record in this state not so interested in said corporation, grantee or mortgagee; and said instrument whenever recorded shall be deemed notice to all persons; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to any instrument heretofore made, the validity of which shall be contested by suit commenced within 1 year of the effective date of this law.

History.—s. 1, ch. 4953, 1901; GS 2483; RGS 3825; s. 1, ch. 11991, 1927; CGL 5701, 5702; s. 1, ch. 14706, 1931; CGL 1936 Supp. 5702(1).

695.06 Certain irregularities as to venue validated.—Whenever, in the acknowledgment to any deed or other instrument relating to real estate, heretofore recorded in this state, it shall appear, either from the recitals in such acknowledgment, or following the signature of the officer taking the same, or from the seal of such officer that the said acknowledgment was not taken, or may not have been taken, in the place as stated in the caption or venue thereof, said deed or other instrument shall, notwithstanding such irregularity or defect, be deemed and taken as properly acknowledged and of record.

History.—s. 1, ch. 11990, 1927; CGL 5703.

695.07 Use of scrawl as seal.—A scrawl or scroll, printed or written, affixed as a seal to any written instrument shall be as effectual as a seal.

History.—s. 1, ch. 4148, 1893; GS 2484; RGS 3826; CGL 5704.

695.08 Prior use of scrawl as seal.—All written instruments heretofore or hereafter made with a scrawl or scroll, printed or written, affixed as a seal are declared to be sealed instruments, and shall be construed and received in evidence as such in all the courts of this state.

History.—s. 2, ch. 4148, 1893; GS 2485; RGS 3827; CGL 5705.

695.09 Identity of grantor.—No acknowledgment or proof shall be taken by any officer within or without the United States unless he shall know, or have satisfactory proof, that the person making the acknowledgment is the individual described in and who executed such instrument, or that the person offering to make proof is one of the subscribing witnesses to such instrument.

History.—RS 1975; GS 2486; RGS 3828; CGL 5706.

695.10 Proof by others.—Where the grantors and witnesses of any instrument which may be recorded are dead, or cannot be had, the judge of the circuit court, or the county court judge for the county wherein the real property is situated, may take the examination of any competent witness or witnesses, on oath, to prove the handwriting of the witness or witnesses, or where such proof cannot be had, then to prove the handwriting of the grantor or grantors, which shall be certified by the judge, and the instrument being thus proved may be recorded.

History.—RS 1976; GS 2487; RGS 3829; CGL 5707; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

695.11 Instruments deemed to be recorded from time of filing.—All instruments which are authorized or required to be recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of any county in the State of Florida, and which are to be recorded in the "Official Records" as provided for under s. 28.222, and which are filed for recording on or after the effective date of this act, shall be deemed to have been officially accepted by the said officer, and officially recorded, at the time he affixed thereon the consecutive official register numbers required under s. 28.222, and at such time shall be notice to all persons. The sequence of such official numbers shall determine the priority of recordation. An instrument bearing the lower number in the then current series of numbers shall have priority over any instrument bearing a higher number in the same series.

History.—s. 1, ch. 3592, 1885; RS 1977; GS 2488; RGS 3830; CGL 5708; s. 1, ch. 17217, 1935; s. 1, ch. 67-442.

695.12 Imperfect record.—Whenever any instrument authorized or required by law to be recorded in any county either has been or may be so imperfectly or erroneously recorded as to require a new record thereof, if the officer who so recorded the same be still in office, he shall, upon demand of the owner of such instrument, or person controlling the same, record it anew free of any charge or fee than the fee allowed by law for one perfect record thereof.

History.—s. 1, ch. 3896, 1889; RS 1978; GS 2489; RGS 3831; CGL 5709.

695.13 Want of certificate of record.—Whenever any instrument authorized or required by law to be recorded shall appear to be recorded in the appropriate record book in the proper office, whether the record shall be in the handwriting of the officer whose duty it was to record such instrument, or in the handwriting of any other person, the record shall be presumed to have been made by the officer whose duty it was to make it, and the absence of a certificate of such officer that such instrument was recorded by him shall in no wise affect the validity of the record.

History.—s. 1, ch. 3894, 1889; RS 1979; GS 2490; RGS 3832; CGL 5710.

695.14 Unsigned certificate of record.—

Whenever any unsigned certificate on such record of the instruments mentioned in s. 695.13 shall contain the date of filing or of recording such instrument, it shall be prima facie evidence of the time of filing or of recording such instrument.

History.—s. 2, ch. 3894, 1889; RS 1980; GS 2491; RGS 3833; CGL 5711.

695.15 Recording conveyances lost by fire.—

Whenever the record in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of any county in this state of any deed, conveyance, contract, mortgage, deed of trust, map or plat or other instrument in writing affecting real estate in such county has been heretofore destroyed by fire, any such instrument, or a copy thereof from such former record duly certified, may be rerecorded in such county, and in rerecording the same the officer shall record the certificate of the previous record, and the date of filing for record appearing in said original certificate so recorded shall be deemed and taken as the date of the record thereof. And copies of such record so authorized to be made hereunder, duly certified by said officer, under the seal of said court, shall be received in evidence under the same circumstances and conditions under which a certified copy of the original record would be so received, and shall have the same force and effect as a certified copy of the original record.

History.—s. 1, ch. 4950, 1901; GS 2492; RGS 3834; CGL 5712; s. 7, ch. 22858, 1945.

695.16 When mortgage or lien is destroyed.—

Whenever any mortgage or other lien required by law to be recorded, to be good and effectual against creditors or subsequent purchasers for a valuable consideration and without notice, has been heretofore recorded, and the record thereof has been destroyed by fire prior to May 30, 1901, such mortgage or other lien or a certified copy thereof, as aforesaid, shall be rerecorded within 9 months from said date, or such mortgage or other lien shall not be good or effectual in law or equity against a creditor or subsequent purchaser for valuable consideration and without notice; provided, however, that if the original instrument of mortgage or other lien has been lost or destroyed, the foregoing provision of this section shall not apply thereto, but such mortgage or other lien shall not be good or effectual in law or equity against creditors, or subsequent purchasers for a valuable consideration and without notice, unless legal proceedings to reestablish the same were begun in the proper court prior to March 3, 1902.

History.—s. 2, ch. 4950, 1901; GS 2493; RGS 3835; CGL 5713.

695.17 United States Deeds and Patents may be recorded.—

Deeds and patents issued by the United States Government and photographic copies made by authority of said government from its records thereof in the general land office, embracing lands within the state, shall be admitted to record in this state in the county or counties where the land lies, when presented to the clerk of the court of the county where same is to be recorded, and when said deeds, patents or photographic copies shall appear to him to be genuine.

History.—s. 1, ch. 8565, 1921; CGL 5714.

695.18 Indorsement by clerk.—Upon recording said deed, patent or certified copy, the clerk of the court shall indorse thereon and also upon the record made by him the following:

"This deed and patent (or certified copy as the case may be) having been presented to me on the ..... day of ..... for record, and same appearing to me to be genuine and to have been made and issued by the authority of the United States Government, I have duly recorded same in ..... on page ..... of the public records of my office.

Witness my hand and official seal at ..... Florida, this ..... day of .....

.....(Clerk.)"

History.—s. 2, ch. 8565, 1921; CGL 5715.

695.19 Certified copies of recorded instruments may be recorded.—

Certified copies of deeds, mortgages, powers of attorney and all other instruments of any kind which have been or may hereafter be duly recorded or filed among the public records of any county in this state may be recorded or rerecorded among the public records of any other county in this state as fully and in the same manner and with like effect as if such certified copy were the original instrument.

History.—s. 1, ch. 11989, 1927; CGL 5717.

695.20 Unperformed contracts of record.—

Whenever anyone shall have contracted to purchase real estate in the state, prior to January 1, 1930, by written agreement requiring all payments to be made within 10 years from the date of the contract, or has accepted an assignment of such an agreement, and the fact of the existence of such a contract of purchase, or assignment, appears of record from the instrument itself or by reference in some other recorded instrument, and shall not have obtained and placed of record a deed to the property or a decree of a court of competent jurisdiction recognizing his rights thereunto, and is not in actual possession of the property covered by the contract or by the assignment, as defined in s. 95.17, he, his widow, heirs, personal representatives, successors, and assigns, shall have no further interest in the property described in the contract, or the assignment, by virtue thereof, and the record of such contract, assignment or other record reference thereto, shall no longer constitute either actual or constructive notice to a purchaser, mortgagee, or other person acquiring an interest in the property, unless within 6 months after this law shall take effect, (approved April 26, 1941) he or some one claiming under him shall:

(1) Place on record a deed or other conveyance of the property from the holder of the record title; or

(2) Place on record a written instrument executed by the holder of the record title evidencing an extension or modification of the original contract and showing that the original contract remains in force and effect; or

(3) Institute, or have pending, in a court of competent jurisdiction a suit for the enforcement of his rights under such contract.

History.—s. 1, ch. 20235, 1941.

695.21 Instruments relating to real estate to contain post-office address of grantee; exceptions.—After October 1, 1945, it shall be the duty of the several clerks of the circuit courts to ascertain, of all persons presenting for public record any instrument other than mortgages conveying or purporting to convey any interest in real estate, the correct post-office address of the grantee or grantees named in such instrument, and it shall be the duty of the person presenting such instrument for recordation to furnish such information to said official.

History.—s. 1, ch. 23114, 1945.

695.22 Same; duties of clerks.—After October 1, 1945, the several clerks of the circuit courts shall keep and furnish to the respective county property appraisers in the counties where such instruments are recorded a daily schedule of the aforesaid deeds and conveyances so filed for recordation, in which schedule shall be set forth the name of the grantor or grantors, the names and addresses of each grantee and a description of the land as specified in each instrument so filed.

History.—s. 2, ch. 23114, 1945; s. 1, ch. 77-102.

695.24 Instruments required to reflect name and address of person by whom prepared.—

(1) No instrument by which the title to real estate or any interest in it or lien on it is conveyed, created, encumbered, assigned, or otherwise disposed of shall be recorded by the clerk of the circuit court unless the name and address of the natural person who prepared the instrument or under whose supervision it was prepared is printed, typewritten, or stamped on the face of it in a legible manner. An instrument complies with this section if it contains a statement in substantially the following form:

"Prepared by

.....(Name)....., .....(Address)....."

(2) This section does not apply to any instrument executed before the effective date of this section, nor to the following:

(a) A decree, order, judgment, or writ of any court.

(b) An instrument executed or acknowledged outside of this state.

(c) A plat.

(d) An instrument prepared or executed by any public officer except a notary public.

(3) The failure of the clerk of the circuit court to comply with the provisions of this section shall not impair the validity of the recordation or of the constructive notice imparted thereby.

(4) Recordation of all otherwise valid instruments made prior to April 28, 1971 without compliance with this section is hereby validated and all the instruments are declared to be record or constructive notice in the counties where they are recorded from the date of recordation.

History.—ss. 1, 2, ch. 67-53; s. 1, ch. 69-78; s. 1, ch. 71-11.

695.25 Short form of acknowledgment.—The forms of acknowledgment set forth in this section may be used, and are sufficient for their respective purposes, under any law of this state. The forms shall be known as "Statutory Short Forms of Acknowledgment" and may be referred to by that name. The authorization of the forms in this section does not preclude the use of other forms.

CHAPTER 696

RECORD OF CONTRACTS; PHOTOGRAPHIC RECORDING

- 696.01 Contracts for sale of realty must be acknowledged in order to be recorded.
- 696.02 Assignments of contracts for sale of realty not entitled to record unless original is recorded or entitled to record.
- 696.03 When agreement executed by agent or attorney may be recorded.
- 696.04 What instruments affected by ss. 696.01-696.03.
- 696.05 Photographic recording authorized; clerk circuit court.
- 696.06 Same; county court judges.

696.01 Contracts for sale of realty must be acknowledged in order to be recorded.—No contract, agreement, or other instrument purporting to contain an agreement to purchase or sell real estate shall be recorded in the public records of any county in the state, unless such contract, agreement or other instrument is acknowledged by the vendor in the manner provided by law for the acknowledgment of deeds; and where there is no acknowledgment on the part of the vendor, the recording officers in the various counties of this state shall refuse to accept such instrument for record.

History.—s. 1, ch. 11813, 1927; CGL 5719.

696.02 Assignments of contracts for sale of realty not entitled to record unless original is recorded or entitled to record.—No assignment of any contract, agreement, or other instrument purporting to contain an agreement to purchase or sell real estate shall be recorded in any of the public records of this state, unless the contract, agreement or other instrument sought to be assigned shall have been recorded, or is entitled to be recorded under the provisions of ss. 696.01-696.04.

History.—s. 2, ch. 11813, 1927; CGL 5720.

696.03 When agreement executed by agent or attorney may be recorded.—No contract or agreement or other instrument purporting to contain an agreement to sell or purchase real estate, which has been executed by an agent or attorney in fact shall be recorded in any of the public records of this state, unless the authority of such agent or attorney in fact to execute the instrument sought to be recorded is produced and recorded by the recording officer, or is already recorded in the county where such instrument is sought to be recorded; and for the purposes of ss. 696.01-696.04 no authority for the execution of instruments by an agent or attorney in fact shall be accepted which is not executed in the manner provided by law for the execution of deeds.

History.—s. 3, ch. 11813, 1927; CGL 5721.

696.04 What instruments affected by ss. 696.01-696.03.—Sections 696.01-696.03 shall apply to all contracts and instruments, which had not been recorded on June 6, 1927; but nothing therein contained shall enlarge, impair, alter, or diminish the obligation of any such contract or agreement affected thereby as between the parties privy thereto, or as to those who have actual notice thereof.

History.—s. 4, ch. 11813, 1927; CGL 5722.

696.05 Photographic recording authorized; clerk circuit court.—

(1) In every county in this state, the clerk of the circuit court may record any and all instruments filed for record by photographic process, this phrase being used in its most general sense and including miniature photographic, microfilming or microphotographic processes or any other photographic, mechanical or other process heretofore or hereafter devised, however designated, such as may be recommended by the clerk from time to time and approved by the board of county commissioners. The board of county commissioners shall provide out of the general revenue fund adequate equipment and supplies for making and preserving such records in accordance with the process so recommended and approved, and shall also provide adequate equipment for reproduction, and for viewing where said recording process is miniature photographic, microfilming or microphotographic, it being the intent hereof that such records shall be readily available for public inspection and copying. The clerk of the circuit court may note on the index to the photographic record of a mortgage or lien a note of assignment or a note of satisfaction of the mortgage or lien.

(2) All instruments heretofore recorded and all action of the boards of county commissioners and clerks of the circuit courts heretofore performed in the purchase of photographic equipment and its use in accordance with the provisions of this act are hereby validated and shall be held good and valid. All service charges shall be as provided in s. 28.24.

History.—s. 1, ch. 10300, 1925; CGL 1936 Supp. 5722(1); ss. 1-4, ch. 22051, 1943; s. 8, ch. 29749, 1955; s. 1, ch. 59-429; s. 1, ch. 61-186; s. 28, ch. 70-134.

696.06 Same; county court judges.—

(1) In every county in the state, the county court judge may record any and all instruments filed for record by photographic process, this phrase being used in its most general sense not excluding any photographic process heretofore or hereafter devised, however designated, such as may be recommended by the county court judge from time to time and approved by the board of county commissioners, and the board of county commissioners shall provide out of the general revenue fund adequate equipment and supplies for making and preserving such records in accordance with the process so recommended and approved.

(2) Any instrument heretofore recorded and any action of the boards of county commissioners or county court judges heretofore performed in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be held good and valid.

History.—s. 1, ch. 11382, 1925; CGL 5723; ss. 1, 2, ch. 21785, 1943; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

CHAPTER 697

INSTRUMENTS DEEMED MORTGAGES AND THE NATURE OF A MORTGAGE

- 697.01 Instruments deemed mortgages.
- 697.02 Nature of a mortgage.
- 697.03 Cooperative association mortgages.
- 697.04 Future advances may be secured.
- 697.05 Balloon mortgages; scope of law; definition; requirements as to contents; penalties for violations; exemptions.
- 697.06 Prepayment of note.

697.01 Instruments deemed mortgages.—

(1) All conveyances, obligations conditioned or defeasible, bills of sale or other instruments of writing conveying or selling property, either real or personal, for the purpose or with the intention of securing the payment of money, whether such instrument be from the debtor to the creditor or from the debtor to some third person in trust for the creditor, shall be deemed and held mortgages, and shall be subject to the same rules of foreclosure and to the same regulations, restraints and forms as are prescribed in relation to mortgages.

(2) Provided, however, that no such conveyance shall be deemed or held to be a mortgage, as against a bona fide purchaser or mortgagee, for value without notice, holding under the grantee.

History.—s. 1, Jan. 30, 1838; s. 1, ch. 525, 1853; RS 1981; GS 2494; RGS 3836; CGL 5724; s. 12, ch. 20954, 1941.

697.02 Nature of a mortgage.—A mortgage shall be held to be a specific lien on the property therein described, and not a conveyance of the legal title or of the right of possession.

History.—ss. 1, 2, ch. 525, 1853; RS 1982; GS 2495; RGS 3837; CGL 5725.

697.03 Cooperative association mortgages.—

(1) Hereafter, any mortgage or other instrument given by a cooperative association for the purpose of creating a lien on real or personal property, or both, may secure not only existing indebtedness, but also such future advances, whether obligatory or otherwise, as are made within 10 years from the date thereof. Such lien, as to third persons without actual notice thereof, shall be valid as to all such indebtedness and future advances from the time the mortgage or other instrument is filed for record as provided by law. The total amount of indebtedness that may be so secured may decrease or increase from time to time, but the total unpaid balance so secured at any one time shall not exceed a maximum principal amount which must be specified therein, plus interest thereon, and any disbursements made for the payment of taxes, levies, or insurance on the property covered by the lien, with interest on such disbursements.

(2) A "Cooperative association" within the meaning of this section means any corporation formed, reorganized or brought under any general or special law of this or any other state as a cooperative association.

(3)(a) A mortgage executed by a cooperative association may cover and create a valid mortgage lien upon stocks or inventories of farm supplies and processed agricultural products, which stocks and inventories the mortgagor may be permitted to retain in possession and sell in the usual course of business. The lien of such mortgage shall be lost on such of the mortgaged property as is sold in the usual course of business up to the time a receiver, who shall be appointed as a matter of right upon application of the mortgagee by the court having jurisdiction of a proceeding instituted to foreclose said mortgage, shall have taken possession of the mortgaged property, and shall without further act, writing or formality attach to any proceeds of the sale thereof, including but not limited to accounts receivable arising from sale of the mortgaged property, but a purchaser of mortgaged property from any such mortgagor, not having actual notice of the attaching of such lien to said proceeds, shall not be liable for any payments made to the person who, except for the provisions of this subsection, would be entitled thereto; provided, however, that such lien as to said accounts receivable shall be subject and subordinate to assignments of any such accounts receivable which are protected assignments under the provisions of chapter 679. If so provided in the mortgage, the lien thereof shall, in addition to the stocks and inventories originally mortgaged, attach to farm supplies and processed agricultural products acquired after the execution and delivery of such mortgage.

(b) If so stipulated therein, such mortgage may secure not only existing indebtedness of the mortgagor to the mortgagee but also such future advances, whether obligatory or otherwise, as are made by the mortgagee to the mortgagor within 10 years from the date of such mortgage to the same extent as if such future advances were made on the date of the execution of such mortgage although there may be no advance made at the time of the execution of such mortgage and although there may be no indebtedness outstanding at the time any advance is made. Such lien shall be valid as to all such indebtednesses and future advances from the time the mortgage is filed for record as provided by law whether such stocks and inventories shall be in existence at the time of the execution of the mortgage or at the time of filing such mortgage for record or shall come into existence subsequent thereto or shall be subsequently acquired by the mortgagor.

(c) The total amount of the indebtedness that may be so secured may decrease or increase from time to time but the total unpaid balance so secured at the time shall not exceed a maximum principal amount which must be specified in such mortgage, plus interest thereon, together with costs and attorney's fees, and any disbursements made for the payment of taxes, levies, assessments, or insurance on the property covered by the mortgage, with interest on such disbursements.

(d) Such mortgage shall not be invalid or fraudulent against creditors because the mortgagor is permitted to retain in possession and sell the mortgaged property in the usual course of business or by reason of liberty in the mortgagor to use, commingle, or dispose of any such stocks or inventories or the proceeds of the sale of such stocks or inventories or by reason of the failure of the mortgagee to require the mortgagor to account for such proceeds or to replace mortgaged property.

(e) The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed as impairing, limiting, or otherwise affecting the rights of a lender to, or other creditor of a mortgagor of such farm supplies or processed agricultural products, to deal with and make loans to such mortgagor upon the security of assignments of accounts receivable arising or to arise on account of the sale by the mortgagor of the mortgaged property.

(f) This subsection shall not apply to any mortgages made on or after the effective date in this state of the Uniform Commercial Code.

History.—ss. 1, 2, ch. 20248, 1941; s. 1, ch. 65-540; s. 167, ch. 71-355.

697.04 Future advances may be secured.—

(1) Hereafter, any mortgage or other instrument given for the purpose of creating a lien on real property may, and when so expressed therein shall, secure not only existing indebtedness, but also such future advances, whether such advances are obligatory or to be made at the option of the lender, or otherwise, as are made within 20 years from the date thereof, to the same extent as if such future advances were made on the date of the execution of such mortgage or other instrument, although there may be no advance made at the time of the execution of such mortgage or other instrument and although there may be no indebtedness outstanding at the time any advance is made. Such lien, as to third persons without actual notice thereof, shall be valid as to all such indebtedness and future advances from the time the mortgage or other instrument is filed for record as provided by law. The total amount of indebtedness that may be so secured may decrease or increase from time to time, but the total unpaid balance so secured at any one time shall not exceed a maximum principal amount which must be specified in such mortgage or other instrument, plus interest thereon, and any disbursements made for the payment of taxes, levies, or insurance on the property covered by the lien, with interest on such disbursements. This section shall not apply to any mortgages, shipping contracts, or other instruments made and given by naval stores operators and producers to secure existing loans and future advances by naval stores factors.

(2) As against the rights of creditors or subsequent purchasers for a valuable consideration, actual notice or record notice of advances to be made at the option of the lender, under the terms of such mortgage or other instrument, shall be valid only as to such advances as are to be made within 20 years from the date of such mortgage or other instrument; provided that this section shall not apply to any mortgages, shipping contracts, or other instruments made and given by naval stores operators and producers to secure existing loans and future advances by naval stores factors.

(3) Any such mortgage or other instrument shall be prior in dignity to all subsequent encumbrances, including statutory liens, except landlords' liens.

History.—ss. 1-3, ch. 20846, 1941; s. 1, ch. 28116, 1953; ss. 1, 2, ch. 61-135; s. 3, ch. 63-212; s. 1, ch. 70-34.

697.05 Balloon mortgages; scope of law; definition; requirements as to contents; penalties for violations; exemptions.—

(1) Any conveyance, obligation conditioned or de-feasible, bill of sale or other instrument of writing conveying or selling real property for the purpose or with the intention of securing the payment of money, whether such instrument be from the debtor to the creditor or from the debtor to some third person in trust for the creditor, shall be deemed and held to be a mortgage, and shall be subject to the provisions of this section.

(2)(a) Every mortgage in which the final payment or the balance due and payable upon maturity is greater than twice the amount of the regular monthly or periodic payment of the said mortgage shall be deemed a balloon mortgage, and shall have printed or clearly stamped on such mortgage:

THIS IS A BALLOON MORTGAGE AND THE FINAL PAYMENT OR THE BALANCE DUE UPON MATURITY IS ....., TOGETHER WITH ACCRUED INTEREST, IF ANY, AND ALL ADVANCEMENTS MADE BY THE MORTGAGEE UNDER THE TERMS OF THIS MORTGAGE.

(b) This legend including the total amount due upon maturity shall appear at the top of the first page or face sheet of the mortgage and also immediately above the place for signature of the mortgagor. The legend shall be conspicuously printed or stamped in type as large as the largest type used in the text of the instrument, either as an overprint or by a rubber stamp impression.

(3) Failure of a mortgagee, creditor or a third party in trust for a mortgagee or creditor to comply with the provisions of this section shall automatically extend the maturity date of such mortgage in the following manner: The final payment or the balance due and payable is to be divided by the regular monthly or periodic payment and the quotient so secured is to be the number of months or periods the maturity date of the mortgage is extended. The mortgagor shall continue to make such monthly or periodic payments until the principal of the mortgage is paid. All such payments shall be credited to the principal only.

(4) Any mortgagee, creditor, bona fide holder, assignee, transferee, endorsee, or any agent, officer, or other representative of any such person violating the provisions of this section shall forfeit the entire interest charged, contracted to be charged or reserved under any such mortgage written in violation of this section, and only the principal sum of such mortgage can be enforced in any court in this state, either at law or in equity. Any interest, collection charge or attorney fee that has been paid or reserved or contracted for, either directly or indirectly, shall be forfeited to the person or mortgagor presently obligated under such mortgage.

(5) This section does not apply to the following:

- (a) Any mortgage in effect prior to January 1, 1960;
- (b) Any first mortgage;
- (c) Any mortgage created for a term of more than 5 years;
- (d) Any mortgage, the periodic payments on which are to consist of interest payments only, with the entire original principal sum to be payable upon maturity.

History.—ss. 1-5, ch. 59-356; s. 1, ch. 61-472.

697.06 Prepayment of note.—Any note which is silent as to the right of the obligor to prepay the note in advance of the stated maturity date may be prepaid in full by the obligor or his successor in interest without penalty.

History.—s. 1, ch. 77-318.

CHAPTER 698

CHATTEL MORTGAGES

- 698.01 To be recorded.
- 698.02 Acknowledgment.
- 698.03 Power of sale may be included in certain mortgages; exercise of power.
- 698.04 Sale under power.
- 698.05 Remedy concurrent.
- 698.08 Notice given by filing for record of chattel mortgages generally, to extend 7 years.
- 698.09 Extension of period of notice.
- 698.10 Effect on certain existing instruments.
- 698.11 Duties of clerk in connection with extension.
- 698.12 Chapter not applicable to transactions under Uniform Commercial Code.

698.01 To be recorded.—No chattel mortgage shall be valid or effectual against creditors or subsequent purchasers for a valuable consideration and without notice unless it be recorded, or unless the property included in it be delivered to the mortgagee and continue to remain truly and bona fide in his possession.

History.—RS 1983; GS 2496; RGS 3833; CGL 5726.
cf.—s. 695.03 Acknowledgment.

698.02 Acknowledgment.—To entitle such mortgage to record, its execution must be acknowledged or proved in the manner provided for mortgages of real property.

History.—RS 1984; GS 2497; RGS 3839; CGL 5727.

698.03 Power of sale may be included in certain mortgages; exercise of power.—

(1) In all mortgages to, or in favor of, the Government of the United States or any agencies thereunder making agricultural loans, or to secure principal indebtedness not exceeding $500, bearing interest not in excess of the general legal rate, on farm machinery and equipment, and agricultural, horticultural, or fruit crops in being, it may be provided or covenanted that the mortgagee, his legal representatives or assigns, shall have the power to sell the mortgaged property upon any breach or default by the mortgagor of the terms, covenants, conditions, or stipulations of such mortgage or of the obligation thereby secured or upon nonpayment of the indebtedness secured by such mortgage or interest thereon, when due and payable in such manner and on such terms as may be provided in such mortgage, and all such provisions and covenants shall be valid, effectual, and enforceable, and every such sale thereunder shall vest in the purchaser, or purchasers, the title in and to the property mortgaged and described in such mortgage.

(2) In case of the exercise of such power of sale, written notice of such sale shall be given to the mortgagor and all persons claiming by, through, or under him by instrument duly recorded, not less than 15 days prior to such sale. Such notice may be served in the same manner as summons ad respondendum are served pursuant to the laws of Florida, and a copy of such notice shall be published at least twice, the first publication of which shall be not less than 20 days prior to such sale, in a newspaper published in the county where such sale shall occur, and another copy of such notice shall be served upon any person in charge, or having or taking part in the supervision or care of such mortgaged property, or any part thereof. If there be no newspaper published in such county, then such publication may be made in a newspaper published in any county adjoining that wherein such sale is to be made. Such notice may be served upon any of said parties wherever they may be within the state. If any person to whom notice is required to be given under this statute shall not reside in the state, or his residence be unknown to the mortgagee, his legal representatives or assigns, then it shall not be necessary to make personal service of such notice upon him, and in such case, the publication of such notice as above provided shall be sufficient; provided, that where the address of such non-resident be known to the mortgagee, his legal representative or assigns, a copy of such notice shall be mailed to him at such address, by registered mail.

(3) Every such sale shall occur during the hours prescribed for sheriffs' sales at the courthouse of the county where such property is situate at the time of the sale, and if the property is situate in more than one county, the sale may occur in any county where any part of such property is located. The actual possession of such mortgaged property, or its presence, at the place of sale shall be unnecessary to the validity of any such sale.

(4) Every such notice of sale shall describe the mortgaged property to be sold and state the time and place of sale, the name of the person who will conduct the sale, and the amount claimed to be due and secured by such mortgage and for the payment of which such sale is being held.

(5) The proceeds of every such sale shall be applied first to the payment of the costs and expenses of such sale, including the cost of advertising and serving notices and of the person conducting such sale (which shall be the same as the fees prescribed by law to be paid sheriffs for conducting sales and executing sheriffs' deeds under executions) and attorney's fees of 10 percent of the principal and accrued interest of the obligation secured by such mortgage, for the services of the attorney for the mortgagee or his assigns, and then to the payment of the obligation secured by such property mortgage, including unpaid interest, if any, and the balance or excess, if any, shall be paid to the owner of such mortgaged property if he be known; otherwise, such excess shall be paid by the person conducting such sale into the registry of the circuit court for such county to be there held for the benefit of the person lawfully entitled to the same.

History.—s. 1, ch. 17108, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5727(1); s. 168, ch. 71-355.

698.04 Sale under power.—In case of any sale of property under a power of sale as provided in s. 698.03, the sale may be conducted by the mortgagee or assignee, or by any person appointed by the mortgagee or as assignee, and the person conducting such sale shall execute a bill of sale to the purchaser or purchasers, which shall effectively transfer title to the property so sold. The mortgagee or assignee may bid and become the purchaser at any such sale. All rights and remedies of the mortgagee provided in ss. 698.03-698.05 shall extend to the mortgagee's legal representatives and assigns.

History.—s. 2, ch. 17108, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5727(2).

698.05 Remedy concurrent.—Nothing in ss. 698.03 and 698.04 shall prevent the holder of any such mortgage from foreclosing such mortgage in equity; the remedy by power of sale given in said sections being intended to be cumulative and concurrent, but not exclusive. In all other respects, the laws relating to chattel mortgages shall be applicable to such mortgages.

History.—s. 3, ch. 17108, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5727(3).

698.08 Notice given by filing for record of chattel mortgages generally, to extend 7 years.—

(1) The notice given to third persons by the filing for record of any mortgage or other security instrument, except mortgages or other instruments given to secure future advances, creating a lien on, or conveying or reserving an interest in, personal property, or agricultural, horticultural, or fruit crops planted, growing or to be planted, grown or raised, shall, unless otherwise provided by law, expire at the end of 7 years from the date of the filing thereof for record.

(2) The notice given to third persons by the filing for record of any mortgage or other security instrument given to secure future advances, creating a lien on, or conveying or reserving an interest in, personal property or agricultural, horticultural, or fruit crops planted, growing, or to be planted, grown, or raised, shall, unless otherwise provided by law, expire at the end of:

(a) Seven years from the date of maturity of the debts or obligations last maturing thereunder and secured by such mortgages or other security instruments, or

(b) Seven years from the last date an advance could validly be made thereunder so as to be secured thereby, whichever of said dates is later.

(3) Provided, however, that this law shall not apply to any mortgage or other security instrument creating a lien on, or conveying or reserving an interest in, or in respect of property owned by, or sold or leased to, or agreed to be sold or leased to, any railroad corporation, where such mortgage has been or shall be recorded in the county in the state in which the mortgaged property is situated or, in the case of such other instrument, where such other instrument has been or shall be recorded in the office of the department of state. Provided further, however, that this law shall not apply to any mortgage or other security instrument given to secure any indebtedness to the United States, or any agency or instrumentality thereof, incurred under the Rural Electrification Act of 1939, as amended.

History.—s. 1, ch. 17112, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5727(7); s. 1, ch. 20921, 1941; s. 1, ch. 26889, 1951; s. 4, ch. 63-212; ss. 10, 35, ch. 69-106.

698.09 Extension of period of notice.—The effect as to third persons of the filing of any such instrument for record, may, in all respects, including the preservation of priority thereof, be extended for successive additional periods, each not exceeding 7 years from the date of the filing in the office of the clerk of the circuit court, wherein any such instrument is recorded, upon the filing by the owner or holder thereof, of an affidavit identifying such instrument, stating his interest therein and the nature and amount unpaid on the obligation still secured thereby. Provided, however, that where a mortgage or other security instrument has been amended or supplemented one or more times and an identifying affidavit is so filed for record by the owner or holder thereof with respect to the original mortgage or other security instrument and mention is made in such affidavit of any instrument or instruments amendatory or supplemental thereto such identifying affidavit need not be filed with respect to such amendatory or supplemental instrument or instruments so mentioned therein and the effect of such amendatory or supplemental instrument or instruments and the preservation of any lien or priority thereof shall be extended along with the original mortgage or other security instrument as to which affidavit or affidavits have been filed in accordance with the requirements of this section.

History.—s. 2, ch. 17112, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5727(8); s. 1, ch. 28083, 1953.

698.10 Effect on certain existing instruments.—The notice given by the filing of any mortgage, or other security instrument creating a lien on, or conveying or reserving an interest in, personal property, or agricultural, horticultural, or fruit crops planted, growing or to be planted, grown, or raised, filed or recorded, prior to May 1, 1935, shall not extend more than 7 years from said date, unless within 7 years therefrom such an affidavit is so filed.

History.—s. 3, ch. 17112, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5727(9).

698.11 Duties of clerk in connection with extension.—The clerk of the circuit court shall file such affidavit, reindex the instrument mentioned therein, and enter on the index of such instrument a reference to the filing of such affidavit, stating thereon the date of filing of such affidavit and the amount unpaid on the obligation secured by such instrument, for which services the clerk of the circuit court shall be entitled to a service charge as provided in s. 28.24.

History.—s. 4, ch. 17112, 1935; CGL 1936 Supp. 5727(10); s. 29, ch. 70-134.

698.12 Chapter not applicable to transactions under Uniform Commercial Code.—The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to transactions governed by any of the provisions of the Uniform Commercial Code, but shall remain applicable to transactions to which that code does not apply.

History.—s. 1, ch. 65-254.

CHAPTER 701

ASSIGNMENT AND CANCELLATION OF MORTGAGES

- 701.01 Assignment.
- 701.02 Assignment not effectual against creditors unless recorded.
- 701.03 Cancellation.
- 701.04 Cancellation of mortgages, liens and judgments.
- 701.05 Failing or refusing to satisfy lien; punishment for.
- 701.06 Certain cancellations and satisfactions of mortgages validated.

701.01 Assignment.—Any mortgagee may assign and transfer any mortgage made to him, and the person to whom any mortgage may be assigned or transferred may also assign and transfer it, and he or his assigns or subsequent assignees may lawfully have, take and pursue the same means and remedies which the mortgagee may lawfully have, take or pursue for the foreclosure of a mortgage and for the recovery of the money secured thereby.

History.—s. 1, Dec. 11, 1834; RS 1985; GS 2498; RGS 3840; CGL 5743.

701.02 Assignment not effectual against creditors unless recorded.—

(1) No assignment of a mortgage upon real property or of any interest therein, shall be good or effectual in law or equity, against creditors or subsequent purchasers, for a valuable consideration, and without notice, unless the same be recorded according to law.

(2) The provisions of this section shall also extend to assignments of mortgages resulting from transfers of all or any part or parts of the debt, note or notes secured by mortgage, and none of same shall be effectual in law or in equity against creditors or subsequent purchasers for a valuable consideration without notice, unless a duly executed assignment be recorded according to law.

(3) Any assignment of a mortgage, duly executed and recorded according to law, purporting to assign the principal of the mortgage debt or the unpaid balance of such principal, shall, as against subsequent purchasers and creditors for value and without notice, be held and deemed to assign any and all accrued and unpaid interest secured by such mortgage, unless such interest shall be specifically and affirmatively reserved in such assignment by the assignor, and no reservation of such interest or any part thereof shall be implied.

History.—s. 1, ch. 6909, 1915; RGS 3841; CGL 5744; s. 13, ch. 20954, 1941. cf.—s. 695.01 et seq. Recordation of conveyances and mortgages of real estate.

701.03 Cancellation.—Whenever the amount of money due on any mortgage shall be fully paid, the mortgagee or assignee shall within 60 days thereafter cancel the same in the manner provided by law.

History.—RS 1986; GS 2499; RGS 3842; CGL 5745; s. 171, ch. 73-333.

701.04 Cancellation of mortgages, liens and judgments.—Whenever the amount of money due on any mortgage, lien or judgment shall be fully paid to the person or party entitled to the payment thereof, the mortgagee, creditor or assignee, or the attorney of record in the case of a judgment, to whom such payment shall have been made, shall enter on the margin of the record of such mortgage, notice of lien or judgment, in the presence of the custodian of such record, to be attested by said custodian, satisfaction of said mortgage, notice of lien or judgment, and sign the same with his, her, or their hand; or shall execute in writing an instrument acknowledging satisfaction of said mortgage, lien, or judgment, and have the same acknowledged or proven, and duly entered of record in the book provided by law for such purposes in the proper county.

History.—s. 1, ch. 4138, 1893; s. 1, ch. 4918, 1901; GS 2500; RGS 3843; CGL 5746.

701.05 Failing or refusing to satisfy lien; punishment for.—Any person entitled to and receiving the payment of the amount of money due upon any mortgage, lien, or judgment, who shall fail for 30 days after written demand made by the person paying the same, to cancel and satisfy of record, as provided by law, any such mortgage, lien or judgment so paid, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

History.—s. 2, ch. 4918, 1901; GS 3712; RGS 5663; CGL 7866; s. 677, ch. 71-136.

701.06 Certain cancellations and satisfactions of mortgages validated.—All cancellations or satisfactions of mortgages made prior to the enactment of chapter 4138, acts of 1893, by the mortgagee or assignee of record of such mortgage entering same on the margin of the record of such mortgage in the presence of the custodian of such record and attested by the said custodian and signed by said mortgagee or assignee of record of such mortgage, shall be valid and effectual for every purpose as if the same had been done subsequent to the enactment of chapter 4138, acts of 1893.

History.—s. 1, ch. 14763, 1931; CGL 1936 Supp. 5746(1).

CHAPTER 702

FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGES, AGREEMENTS FOR DEEDS, AND STATUTORY LIENS

- 702.01 Chancery.
- 702.03 Certain foreclosures validated.
- 702.04 Mortgaged lands in different counties.
- 702.05 Mortgaged lands sold for taxes.
- 702.06 Deficiency decree; common law suit to recover deficiency.
- 702.07 Power of courts and judges to set aside foreclosure decrees at any time before sale.
- 702.08 Effect of setting aside foreclosure decree.
- 702.09 Definitions.

702.01 Chancery.—All mortgages shall be foreclosed in chancery, unless otherwise provided by statute.

History.—RS 1987; GS 2501; RGS 3844; CGL 5747; s. 7, ch. 22858, 1945.

702.03 Certain foreclosures validated.—All mortgage foreclosures heretofore made, or now pending, wherein there has been annexed to the bill of complaint in such cause, an uncertified copy of the mortgage, as provided by chapter 12095, acts of 1927, entitled: "An act to amend section 3845 RGS relating to complaint in foreclosure of mortgages" are hereby validated and confirmed insofar as they relate to the copy of the mortgage attached to such complaint, to the same extent and effect as if section 3117, RGS, had been expressly repealed by chapter 12095, 1927, entitled: "An act to amend section 3845 RGS relating to complaint in foreclosure of mortgages."

History.—s. 1, ch. 13642, 1929; CGL 1936 Supp. 5748(1).

702.04 Mortgaged lands in different counties.—When a mortgage includes lands, railroad track, right-of-way, or terminal facilities and station grounds, lying in two or more counties, it may be foreclosed in any one of said counties, and all proceedings shall be had in that county as if all the mortgaged land, railroad track, right-of-way, or terminal facilities and station grounds lay therein, except that notice of the sale must be published in every county wherein any of the lands, railroad track, right-of-way, or terminal facilities and station grounds to be sold lie. After final disposition of the suit, the clerk of the circuit court shall prepare and forward a certified copy of the decree of foreclosure and sale and of the decree of confirmation of sale to the clerk of the circuit court of every county wherein any of the mortgaged lands, railroad tracks, right-of-way, or terminal facilities and station grounds lie, to be recorded in the foreign judgment book of each such county, and the costs of such copies and of the record thereof shall be taxed as costs in the cause.

History.—RS 1989; s. 1, ch. 4420, 1895; GS 2503; s. 1, ch. 7339, 1917; RGS 3846; CGL 5749.

702.05 Mortgaged lands sold for taxes.—Any person who has a lien by mortgage or otherwise upon lands sold for taxes may, within the time allowed by law for redemption, redeem such lands, and the receipt of the officer authorized to receive the amount paid for redemption money shall entitle the lien-holder to collect the said amount, with interest at the rate of 10 percent per annum, as a part of and in the same manner as the amount secured by his original lien.

History.—s. 1, ch. 3903, 1889; RS 1990; GS 2504; RGS 3847; CGL 5750.

702.06 Deficiency decree; common law suit to recover deficiency.—In all suits for the foreclosure of mortgages heretofore or hereafter executed the entry of a deficiency decree for any portion of a deficiency, should one exist, shall be within the sound judicial discretion of the court, but the complainant shall also have the right to sue at common law to recover such deficiency, provided no suit at law to recover such deficiency shall be maintained against the original mortgagor in cases where the mortgage is for the purchase price of the property involved and where the original mortgagee becomes the purchaser thereof at foreclosure sale and also is granted a deficiency decree against the original mortgagor.

History.—s. 1, ch. 11993, 1927; CGL 5751; s. 1, ch. 13625, 1929.

702.07 Power of courts and judges to set aside foreclosure decrees at any time before sale.—The circuit courts of this state, and the judges thereof at chambers, shall have jurisdiction, power, and authority to rescind, vacate, and set aside a decree of foreclosure of a mortgage of property at any time before the sale thereof has been actually made pursuant to the terms of such decree, and to dismiss the foreclosure proceeding upon the payment of all court costs.

History.—s. 1, ch. 11881, 1927; CGL 5752.

702.08 Effect of setting aside foreclosure decree.—Whenever a decree of foreclosure has been so rescinded, vacated, and set aside and the foreclosure proceedings dismissed as provided in s. 702.07, the mortgage, together with its lien and the debt thereby secured, shall be, both in law and equity, completely relieved of all effects of any kind whatsoever resulting from or on account of the foreclosure proceedings and the decree of foreclosure and fully restored in all respects to the original status of the same as it existed prior to the foreclosure proceedings and the decree of foreclosure, and thereafter the same shall be for all purposes whatsoever legally of force and effect just as if foreclosure proceeding had never been instituted and a decree of foreclosure had never been made.

History.—s. 2, ch. 11881, 1927; CGL 5753.

702.09 Definitions.—For the purposes of ss. 702.07 and 702.08 the words "decree of foreclosure" shall include a judgment or order rendered or passed in the foreclosure proceedings in which the decree of foreclosure shall be rescinded, vacated, and set aside; the word "mortgage" shall mean any written instrument securing the payment of money or advances; the word "debt" shall include promissory notes, bonds, and all other written obligations given for the payment of money; the words "foreclosure proceedings" shall embrace every action in the circuit courts of this state wherein it is sought to foreclose a mortgage and sell the property covered by the same; and the word "property" shall mean and include both real and personal property.

703.01 County commissioners authorized to require clerk to make abstracts.—The county commissioners in and for any county of this state, whenever the said board deems it advisable, may require the clerk of the circuit court in and for said county to abstract any or all instruments of writing affecting any real estate situated in the county as the same is recorded. For such services the clerk may collect a charge not to exceed 60 cents for each piece of property so abstracted, provided there are not more than two descriptions. In instruments to be recorded when there are more than two descriptions, the charge of the clerk shall not exceed 60 cents for each of the first two descriptions, and an additional charge of 20 cents for each of the others or a flat fee of $1 per instrument. In cases where instruments are to be recorded and real estate is described by reference only, a search and recording charge shall be as provided in s. 28.24.

History.—s. 1, ch. 5173, 1903; GS 2505; RGS 3848; CGL 5755; s. 1, ch. 61-386; s. 30, ch. 70-134.

703.02 Abstracts of real estate upon petition; service charge of clerk.—Upon a petition of a majority of the registered voters of any county of this state, the board of county commissioners of said county, if it deems it advisable, shall have abstracted, under the supervision of said clerk, any or all instruments of record relating to real estate situated in said county. For such services the clerk shall receive a service charge as provided in s. 28.24.

History.—s. 2, ch. 5173, 1903; GS 2506; RGS 3849; CGL 5756; s. 31, ch. 70-134.

703.03 What abstract to show.—The said abstract books shall be so ruled and headed as to show the description of the property, the names of the grantors and grantees, mortgagors and mortgagees, nature of the instrument, consideration, date, release of dower, number of witnesses, number of book and page of record, and such other information arranged in such order as the said board of commissioners may deem advisable.

History.—s. 3, ch. 5173, 1903; GS 2507; RGS 3850; CGL 5757. cf.—s. 732.111 Dower and curtesy abolished.

703.04 Abstracting tax sales.—Whenever the board of county commissioners deems it advisable, it shall have abstracted any or all of the tax sales relating to any real estate situated in the county. This shall be done under the supervision of the clerk, who shall receive service charges as provided in s. 28.24. The abstract books shall be so ruled and headed as to show number of certificate, date of sale, the year for which taxes were unpaid, number and page of book where recorded, date of redemption or cancellation, date of deed, number and page of book where recorded, and such other information and in such order as may be deemed advisable by the clerk.

History.—s. 4, ch. 5173, 1903; GS 2508; RGS 3851; CGL 5758; s. 32, ch. 70-134.

703.05 Service charge of clerk for furnishing abstract.—When the records of the county have been abstracted, the service charge of the clerk for making an abstract shall be as provided in s. 28.24.

History.—s. 5, ch. 5173, 1903; GS 2509; RGS 3852; CGL 5759; s. 33, ch. 70-134.

703.06 Board may purchase abstract books.—Upon a petition of a majority of the registered voters of any county in this state, the board of county commissioners of said county, if the said board deems it advisable, may purchase a set of abstract books, for whatever price, and on whatever terms, the board may deem expedient. The clerk of the court shall have custody of said books, and they shall be open to examination free of charge.

History.—s. 6, ch. 5173, 1903; GS 2510; RGS 3853; CGL 5760.

703.07 Abstracts of records destroyed by fire; purchase of abstract books by county; proceedings for.—

(1) When the records, or any material part thereof, in any county in this state, concerning the title to property have been heretofore destroyed by fire so that a connected chain of title cannot be taken therefrom, the judge of the circuit court of such county, if requested by the board of county commissioners of such county by resolution of such board, shall appoint three competent and trustworthy persons as commissioners to examine into the state of the records in such county, and in case they find any abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats from such records, existing after such destruction as aforesaid, and find that such abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats were fairly made before such destruction of the records by any person or persons in the ordinary course of business, and that they contain a material and substantial part of such records, they shall certify the facts found by them in respect to such copies, abstracts, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats, and also (if they are of that opinion) that such abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats tend to show a connected chain of title to the lands in said county, and shall file such certificates with the county clerk of the proper county, and the board of county commissioners thereof may, with the approval of the judge of the circuit court of the county, purchase from the owners thereof such abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats, or such parts thereof as may tend to constitute a connected chain of title to the lands in said county, including all judgments and decrees that form part of such chain of title, paying therefor such reasonable price as may be agreed upon between them and such owners; provided, that such price shall be approved by said board of three commissioners appointed by such circuit judge as aforesaid, and also by said circuit judge; or such board of county commissioners may, with such approval and upon such conditions, procure a copy of said abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats, instead of the originals, to be paid for in like manner, upon approval of the price thereof by said circuit judge and said board of three commissioners as aforesaid.

(2) The compensation of said three commissioners to be appointed by said circuit judge as aforesaid shall be fixed and allowed by the board of county commissioners and shall be paid by the county.

History.—s. 2, ch. 4951, 1901; GS 2511; RGS 3854; CGL 5761.

703.08 Copies of abstracts as evidence.—The abstracts, copies, minutes, maps, and plats of said county purchased under the provisions of s. 703.07 shall thereupon be placed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of said county, to be copied or arranged in such form as the board of county commissioners shall deem best for the public interest. And in case the originals have been lost or destroyed, and no certified copy from the records of the original papers shall be in the power, custody, or control of the party asking to use the same on any trial or other proceedings, copies of the same, or any part thereof, duly certified by the clerk of the circuit court of said county, shall be admitted in evidence in all courts of law and equity in this state. Such clerk shall furnish to any and all parties requesting it, upon being paid his proper fees, certified copies of the same, or parts thereof.

History.—s. 3, ch. 4951, 1901; GS 2512; RGS 3855; CGL 5762.

703.09 Condemnation of abstracts, maps, etc., by county where records have been destroyed.—When the records, or any material part thereof, in any county in this state, concerning the title to property, have been destroyed by fire or other causes so that a connected chain of title cannot be taken therefrom, and any person or corporation is possessed of any abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats, made from said records before such destruction, the board of county commissioners of any such county may acquire such abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats in whole or in part, as the board may determine, or copies thereof, to be placed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court for the use of the public as part of the public records, in the following manner:

(1) The said board shall determine, by an entry in their minutes, what abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats so owned by any person or corporation they desire to acquire for the use of the public;

(2) The said board of county commissioners shall thereupon cause a petition in the name of such county, to be presented to the judge of the circuit court of the circuit in which such county is situated, setting forth what abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats, so made from such burned records, are required, and giving the name of any person, persons, or corporation owning the same or in possession thereof, and praying that the said abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats, or copies thereof sworn to by the custodian thereof to be correct copies of the same, may be condemned and placed in the clerk's office for the use of the public as part of the public records.

History.—s. 1, ch. 5414, 1905; RGS 3856; CGL 5763.

703.10 Order to show cause; enjoining owners from removing abstracts, etc., beyond jurisdiction of court.—Upon the presentation of such petition to such judge, he shall make an order requiring the owner or custodian of such abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats to appear before him at a day by him fixed, not less than 10 nor more than 30 days from the date of such order, and show cause why the petition should not be granted, and the said judge shall at the time make an order enjoining the owners or persons in charge of such abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats from removing the same beyond the jurisdiction of the court pending the litigation.

History.—s. 2, ch. 5414, 1905; RGS 3857; CGL 5764.

703.11 Order granting petition; jury to assess compensation; copies of original abstracts, etc.—Upon the day fixed, or any day to which the hearing may be adjourned, if no person shall appear, or if no sufficient cause be shown why the prayer of the petition should not be granted, then the said judge shall make an order granting the prayer of the petition and issue an order to the sheriff to empanel a jury of 12 men to try what shall be just compensation for the said abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats, or copies thereof, sought to be taken for the county. If the defendant so appearing shall, in his return to such order, elect that the condemnation sought by the petitioner shall, if any such condemnation be allowed, be of copies of such abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats and not of the originals thereof, no condemnation shall be allowed of such originals, and the petition, in case it shall have sought a condemnation of such originals, shall thereupon be amended so as to seek only a condemnation of a copy of said abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats.

History.—s. 3, ch. 5414, 1905; RGS 3858; CGL 5765.

703.13 Payment of compensation and delivery of abstracts, etc.; petitioner to pay cost.—Upon the rendition of the verdict, the said judge shall make an order that, upon the payment into court for the use of the defendant, within 10 days, unless further time be allowed by the court, of the compensation ascertained by the jury, the prayer of the petition is granted, or else the proceedings shall be null and void, and the said judge shall fix a time within which, after such payment into court, the defendant shall place in the office of the clerk of the circuit court for said county, for the use of the public, such abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats, or copies thereof, sworn to by the custodian of the said abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats, in accordance with the prayer of said petition, and said judge shall render judgment against the petitioner for the cost.

History.—s. 5, ch. 5414, 1905; RGS 3860; CGL 5767.

703.14 Penalty for failure to deliver abstracts, etc.—Any person or the officers of any corporation in possession of, or having under their control such abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats who shall fail or refuse to comply with such order, shall be guilty of a contempt of court and may be imprisoned until such order is obeyed.

History.—s. 6, ch. 5414, 1905; RGS 3861; CGL 5768.

703.15 Abstracts, etc., acquired by condemnation.—Upon the filing of such abstracts, copies, minutes, maps, or plats, or such copies thereof, in the office of the clerk of the circuit court for such county, they shall have the same force and effect as is now provided in ss. 703.07 and 703.08 for those obtained and filed in such clerk's office under the provisions of said sections.

History.—s. 8, ch. 5414, 1905; RGS 3862; CGL 5769.

703.17 Alteration of abstracts condemned by county for use of the public.—Any person or persons making any erasure, alteration, interlineation, or interpolation in any abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats, or in any copies thereof filed in the clerk's office under the provisions of ss. 703.09-703.11 and 703.13-703.15 shall be guilty of the crime of forgery.

History.—s. 9, ch. 5414, 1905; RGS 5207; CGL 7325; s. 678, ch. 71-136.

703.18 Refusing to make abstract.—Any person or any employee thereof, who may be engaged in such business of making abstracts, writing, entries, or maps in any county in which the records have been destroyed, shall furnish such abstract or copy, or any portion thereof and a certificate and affidavit of the correctness thereof to any person from time to time applying therefor in the order of application, and without unnecessary delay, and for a reasonable consideration to be allowed therefor, which in no case shall exceed the sum of 60 cents for each deed, mortgage, or other instrument for which such abstract is furnished, and $5 for the certificate and affidavit, and only one certificate and affidavit shall be necessary or shall be charged to or for all the entries, instruments, or items of the abstract of any chain of title, and any and all persons so engaged, whose business is hereby declared to stand upon a like footing with that of common carriers, who shall refuse so to do, if tender or payment be made to him or them of the amount demanded for such abstract or copy, and not exceeding the amount aforesaid, as soon as such amount is made known and ascertained, or of a sum adequate to cover such amount before it is ascertained, shall be guilty of the crime of extortion, and shall also be liable in any action for any and all damages, loss or injury which any person applying therefor may suffer or incur by reason of such failure to furnish such abstract or copy, as aforesaid, and shall also be subject to be compelled to furnish such abstract by mandamus or other legal proceedings.

History.—s. 7, ch. 4951, 1901; GS 3484; RGS 5358; CGL 7493; s. 679, ch. 71-136.

cf.—s. 1.01 "Person" defined.

703.19 Filing untrue copies of abstracts ordered filed for use of public.—Any person making copies of abstracts, copies, minutes, extracts, maps, or plats, where copies are prayed for under the provisions of ss. 703.09-703.11 and 703.13-703.15 and ordered filed in the office of the clerk of the circuit court for the use of the public, who shall not make the same truly and without alteration or interpolation, shall be guilty of a felony of the third degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082, s. 775.083, or s. 775.084.

History.—s. 7, ch. 5414, 1905; RGS 5359; CGL 7494; s. 680, ch. 71-136.

CHAPTER 704

EASEMENTS

- 704.01 Common law, statutory easements defined and determined.
- 704.02 When lands enclosed, person using easement to maintain gates.
- 704.03 "Practicable" defined.
- 704.04 Judicial remedy and compensation to servient owner.
- 704.05 Easements and rights of entry.
- 704.06 Conservation easements; creation; acquisition; enforcement.
- 704.07 Solar easements; creation; remedies.

704.01 Common law, statutory easements defined and determined.—

(1) IMPLIED GRANT OF WAY OF NECESSITY.—The common law rule of an implied grant of a way of necessity is hereby recognized, specifically adopted, and clarified. Such an implied grant exists where a person has heretofore granted or hereafter grants lands to which there is no accessible right-of-way except over his land, or has heretofore retained or hereafter retains land which is inaccessible except over the land which he conveys. In such instances a right-of-way is presumed to have been granted or reserved. Such an implied grant or easement in lands or estates exists where there is no other reasonable and practicable way of egress, or ingress and same is reasonably necessary for the beneficial use or enjoyment of the part granted or reserved. An implied grant arises only where a unity of title exists from a common source other than the original grant from the state or United States; provided, however, that where there is a common source of title subsequent to the original grant from the state or United States, the right of the dominant tenement shall not be terminated if title of either the dominant or servient tenement has been or should be transferred for nonpayment of taxes either by foreclosure, reversion, or otherwise.

(2) STATUTORY WAY OF NECESSITY EXCLUSIVE OF COMMON LAW RIGHT.—Based on public policy, convenience, and necessity, a statutory way of necessity exclusive of any common law right exists when any land or portion thereof outside any municipality which is being used or desired to be used as a dwelling or for agricultural or for timber raising or cutting or stockraising purposes shall be shut off or hemmed in by lands, fencing, or other improvements of other persons so that no practicable route of egress or ingress shall be available therefrom to the nearest practicable public or private road. The owner or tenant thereof, or anyone in their behalf, lawfully may use and maintain an easement for persons, vehicles, stock, and electricity and telephone service over and upon the lands which lie between the said shut-off or hemmed-in lands and such public or private road by means of the nearest practical route, considering the use to which said lands are being put; and the use thereof, as aforesaid, shall not constitute a trespass; nor shall the party thus using the same be liable in damages for the use thereof; provided that such easement shall be used only in an orderly and proper manner.

History.—s. 1, ch. 7326, 1917; RGS 4999; CGL 7088; s. 1, ch. 28070, 1953; s. 220, ch. 77-104.

704.02 When lands enclosed, person using easement to maintain gates.—When the land on which the statutory easement referred to in s. 704.01(2) shall be in use, or afterwards put to the use of enclosing farm or grove products or livestock, the owner or tenant of the dominant tenement using the easement of the same shall, if no compensation is paid under s. 704.04, when requested by the owner of the servient tenement, erect and maintain either a cattle guard or a gate at each place where said easement intersects a fence. Any such gate is to be kept closed when not opened for passage, and any such cattle guard or gate so erected and maintained shall be in substantial conformity with the character of the fence at such intersection.

History.—s. 2, ch. 7326, 1917; RGS 5000; CGL 7089; s. 2, ch. 28070, 1953.

704.03 "Practicable" defined.—For the purposes of this chapter the word "practicable," as used in s. 704.01, shall be held and construed to mean "without the use of bridge, ferry, turnpike road, embankment, or substantial fill."

History.—s. 3, ch. 7326, 1917; RGS 5001; CGL 7090; s. 3, ch. 28070, 1953.

704.04 Judicial remedy and compensation to servient owner.—When the owner or owners of such lands across which a statutory way of necessity under s. 704.01(2) is claimed, exclusive of the common law right, objects or refuses to permit the use of such way under the conditions set forth herein or until he receives compensation therefor, either party or the board of county commissioners of such county may file suit in the circuit court of the county wherein the land is located in order to determine if the claim for said easement exists, and the amount of compensation to which said party is entitled for use of such easement. Where said easement is awarded to the owner of the dominant tenement, it shall be temporary and exist so long as such easement is reasonably necessary for the purposes stated herein. The court, in its discretion, shall determine all questions including the type, extent, and location of the easement and the amount of compensation, provided that if either of said parties so requests in his original pleadings, the amount of compensation may be determined by a jury trial. The easement shall date from the time the award is paid.

History.—s. 4, ch. 28070, 1953.

704.05 Easements and rights of entry.—

(1) The rights and interests in land which are subject to being extinguished by marketable record title pursuant to the provisions of s. 712.04 shall include rights of entry or of an easement, given or reserved in any conveyance or devise of realty, when given or reserved for the purpose of mining, drilling, exploring, or developing for oil, gas, minerals, or fissionable materials, unless those rights of entry or easement are excepted or not affected by the provisions of s. 712.03 or s. 712.04. However, the provisions of this section shall not apply to interests reserved or otherwise held by the state or by any of its agencies, boards, or departments.

(2) Any person claiming such a right of entry or easement may preserve and protect the same from extinguishment by the operation of this act by filing a notice in the form and in accordance with the procedures set forth in ss. 712.05 and 712.06. If the period for filing the notice would expire prior to January 1, 1977, the period shall be extended to January 1, 1977.

(3) This section is intended, and shall be deemed, to operate both prospectively and retrospectively.

(4) The provisions of this section shall not revive any right or interest that was extinguished by the operation of chapter 712 prior to June 6, 1975.

History.—s. 1, ch. 70-100; s. 1, ch. 73-140; s. 1, ch. 75-94.

704.06 Conservation easements; creation; acquisition; enforcement.—

(1) As used in this section, "conservation easement" means a right or interest in real property which is appropriate to retaining land or water areas predominantly in their natural, scenic, open, or wooded condition; retaining such areas as suitable habitat for fish, plants, or wildlife; or maintaining existing land uses and which prohibits or limits any or all of the following:

(a) Construction or placing of buildings, roads, signs, billboards or other advertising, utilities, or other structures on or above the ground.

(b) Dumping or placing of soil or other substance or material as landfill, or dumping or placing of trash, waste, or unsightly or offensive materials.

(c) Removal or destruction of trees, shrubs, or other vegetation.

(d) Excavation, dredging, or removal of loam, peat, gravel, soil, rock, or other material substance in such manner as to affect the surface.

(e) Surface use except for purposes that permit the land or water area to remain predominantly in its natural condition.

(f) Activities detrimental to drainage, flood control, water conservation, erosion control, soil conservation, or fish and wildlife habitat preservation.

(g) Acts or uses detrimental to such retention of land or water areas.

(2) Conservation easements are perpetual, undivided interests in property and may be created or stated in the form of a restriction, easement, covenant, or condition in any deed, will, or other instrument executed by or on behalf of the owner of the property, or in any order of taking. Such easements may be acquired in the same manner as other interests in property are acquired, except by condemnation or by other exercise of the power of eminent domain, and shall not be unassignable to other governmental bodies or agencies, charitable organizations, or trusts authorized to acquire such easements, for lack of benefit to a dominant estate.

(3) Conservation easements may be acquired by any governmental body or agency or by a charitable corporation or trust whose purposes include the conservation of land or water areas or the preservation of buildings or sites of historical or cultural significance.

(4) Conservation easements shall run with the land and be binding on all subsequent owners of the servient estate. No conservation easement shall be unenforceable on account of lack of privity of contract or lack of benefit to particular land or on account of the benefit being assignable. Conservation easements may be enforced by injunction or proceeding in equity or at law, and shall entitle the holder to enter the land in a reasonable manner and at reasonable times to assure compliance. A conservation easement may be released by the holder of the easement to the holder of the fee even though the holder of the fee may not be a governmental body or a charitable corporation or trust.

(5) All conservation easements shall be recorded and indexed in the same manner as any other instrument affecting the title to real property.

(6) The provisions of this section shall not be construed to imply that any restriction, easement, covenant, or condition which does not have the benefit of this section shall, on account of any provision hereof, be unenforceable.

History.—s. 1, ch. 76-169.

704.07 Solar easements; creation; remedies.—

(1) Easements obtained for the purpose of maintaining exposure of a solar energy device shall be created in writing and shall be subject to being recorded and indexed in the same manner as any other instrument affecting the title to real property. Solar easements may be preserved and protected from extinguishment by the filing of a notice in the form and in accordance with the provisions set forth in ss. 712.05 and 712.06.

(2) In addition to fulfilling the requirements of law relating to conveyance of interests in land, the instrument creating the solar easement shall include:

(a) A description of the properties, servient and dominant.

(b) The vertical and horizontal angles, expressed in degrees, at which the solar easement extends over the real property subject to the solar easement.

(c) A description of where the easement falls across the servient property in relation to existing boundaries and various setbacks established by the local zoning authority.

(d) The point on the dominant property from where the angles describing the solar easement are to be measured.

(e) Terms or conditions under which the solar easement is granted or will terminate.

(f) Any provisions for compensation of the owner of the property benefiting from the solar easement in the event of interference with the enjoyment of the solar easement or compensation of the owner of the property subject to the solar easement for maintaining the solar easement.

(3) No structure under construction on October 1, 1978, shall be subject to any solar easement recorded pursuant to this section.

History.—ss. 2, 3, ch. 78-309.

705.01 County court judge to order sale.—

(1) Whenever any wrecked derelict goods or abandoned motor vehicle shall be found in any county in this state, the county court judge shall ascertain the amount and situation of the same and by his written order shall cause the sheriff to take charge thereof and sell the same at public outcry, after giving a reasonable public notice of the time and place of such sale.

(2) Whenever any confiscated or contraband personal property of any description shall come into the possession or custody of the sheriff by seizure in the performance of his duty or otherwise which is subject to forfeiture and sale under any provision of the state constitution or statutes, such property shall be disposed of as hereinafter provided.

History.—s. 1, ch. 1005, 1859; RS 2010; GS 2532; RGS 3887; CGL 5794; s. 1, ch. 22031, 1943; s. 1, ch. 63-267; s. 26, ch. 73-334; s. 2, ch. 78-150.

705.02 Mode of ascertaining salvage.—In order to ascertain the quantum of salvage to be paid to the person finding and reporting such wrecked derelict goods, abandoned motor vehicle, or other personal property, the county court judge shall appoint two disinterested citizens of the county as arbitrators (who shall be authorized in case of disagreement to select an umpire), who shall determine the quantum of salvage, not to exceed one-half the proceeds of such goods, to be paid to the salvors or persons finding and reporting such goods, and the county court judge shall draw his order upon the sheriff, who shall pay the same for the amount so awarded in favor of the salvors or persons finding and reporting.

History.—s. 2, ch. 1005, 1859; RS 2011; GS 2533; RGS 3888; CGL 5795; s. 2, ch. 22031, 1943; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

705.03 Disposition of proceeds of sale.—The sheriff shall pay the balance of the proceeds of such sale, after paying to the county court judge 1 percent of the balance for his services, into the state treasury for the benefit of the state school fund and unless the same shall be claimed and proceedings initiated to validate said claim within 1 year and a day, the said proceeds shall be forever forfeited to the state school fund.

History.—s. 3, ch. 1005, 1859; RS 2012; GS 2534; RGS 3889; CGL 5796; s. 2, ch. 63-267; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

705.05 Sheriff to report to county court judge.—The sheriff shall place in the hands of the county court judge within 1 month of the time at which any money is received a statement of the amount of money received by him, the time at which, and the source from which, said money was received; which statement shall be kept by the county court judge, and a copy thereof forwarded without unnecessary delay to the Department of Banking and Finance.

History.—s. 6, ch. 344, 1850; RS 2014; GS 2536; RGS 3891; CGL 5798; ss. 12, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

705.06 Recovery from person wrongfully in possession.—Whenever any property described in this chapter, chapter 706, or chapter 707, is ascertained to be wrongfully withheld and the person in possession refuses to give it up to the sheriff on demand, the county attorney of the county in which the property is situated, or the city attorney, if within a municipality, when required to do so by the sheriff, shall enter a suit for said property and prosecute it to a final recovery. All moneys derived from these sources shall be paid by the sheriff into the state treasury for the benefit of the state school fund.

History.—ss. 4, 5, ch. 344, 1850; RS 2015; GS 2537; RGS 3892; CGL 5799; s. 4, ch. 63-267.

705.07 Finder of derelict goods failing to report.—Whoever finds wrecked or derelict goods and fails to report them to the county court judge of the county wherein the same are found shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.083.

History.—s. 4, ch. 1005, 1859; RS 2501; GS 3384; RGS 5232; CGL 7351; s. 681, ch. 71-136; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

705.08 Finder appropriating derelict goods.—Whoever finds wrecked or derelict goods and secretes or appropriates the same to his own use, or shall refuse to deliver the same when required, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.083.

History.—RS 2502; GS 3385; RGS 5233; CGL 7352; s. 682, ch. 71-136.

705.09 Disposition and appraisal of property seized by the sheriff or by any other officer.—

(1) When personal property not subject to be summarily destroyed is seized by the sheriff pursuant to any of the provisions of the law of this state permitting forfeiture thereof, or when property seized by any other officer is delivered to the sheriff under such provisions, the sheriff shall forthwith fix the approximate value thereof and make report thereof to the county court judge. The report shall contain a schedule of the property seized, a full statement of the facts giving cause for said seizure, the name and position of the person making the seizure, the name and address of the owners or persons having possession of the property seized, and names and addresses of all persons, firms, or corporations known to the sheriff to have an interest in the property seized.

(2) The sheriff shall hold the property seized pending an order of disposal by the court.

History.—s. 5, ch. 63-267; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

705.10 Notice of seizure and order to show cause.—

(1) The county court judge upon receiving the report and schedule of the sheriff shall treat it as a petition or libel in rem for the forfeiture of the property therein described. The report shall be sufficient as said petition or libel notwithstanding the fact that it may not contain a formal prayer or demand for forfeiture. The report shall be subject to amendment at any time before final hearing upon due notice to all interested parties.

(2) Upon the filing of the report, the county court judge shall cause to be issued a citation directed to all persons, firms, and corporations owning, having, or claiming any interest in or lien upon the seized property, giving notice of the seizure and directing all such persons, firms, and corporations to file their claims stating their particular interest in said property. All persons, firms, and corporations personally served shall file their claims within 20 days after receiving service of the citation. The citation shall set the time for filing a claim for interested parties not personally served not to exceed 30 days from the date the report was filed. Personal service shall be made on all parties in the state having liens noted upon a certificate of title as shown by the records of the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles.

History.—s. 5, ch. 63-267; s. 6, ch. 65-190; ss. 24, 35, ch. 69-106; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

705.11 Notice of seizure and order to show cause when owners of property are unknown.—

When personal property not subject to summary destruction is seized by the sheriff pursuant to any of the provisions of the law in this state permitting forfeiture of said property, or when property seized by any other officer is delivered to the sheriff, and the name of the owners of said property or the names of any person, firm, or corporation having an interest in or lien upon said property cannot be ascertained, the sheriff shall give notice of seizure and an order to show cause why the property should not be forfeited and sold by publication for a period of 30 days in the manner provided in chapter 50.

History.—s. 5, ch. 63-267.

705.12 Proceeding when claim filed.—When one or more claims are filed in the cause, the cause shall be tried upon the issues made thereby with the petition for forfeiture with any affirmative defenses being deemed denied without further pleading.

Judgment by default shall be entered against all other persons, firms, and corporations owning, claiming, or having an interest in and to the property seized, after which the cause shall proceed as in other common law cases; except any claimant shall prove to the satisfaction of the court that he did not know or have any reason to believe, at the time his right, title, interest, or lien arose, that the property was being used for, or in connection with, the violation of any of the statutes or laws of this state making such property subject to such forfeiture, and further, that at such time there was no reasonable reason to believe that said property might be used for such purpose. Where the owner of the property has been convicted of the violation of a statute or laws of the state which provide for the seizure and forfeiture of property, such conviction shall be prima facie evidence that each claimant had reason to believe that the property might be used for, or in connection with a violation of, such statutes and laws, and it shall be incumbent upon such claimant to satisfy the court that he was without knowledge of such conviction.

History.—s. 5, ch. 63-267.

705.13 Judgment of forfeiture.—On final hearing the report of the sheriff to the county court judge shall be taken as prima facie evidence that the property seized was, or had been, used in, or in connection with, the violation of the statutes and laws of this state subjecting the property involved to forfeiture and sale, and shall be sufficient predicate for a judgment of forfeiture in the absence of other proofs and evidence. The burden shall be upon the claimants to show that the property was not so used or, if so used, that they had no knowledge of such violation and no reason to believe that the seized property was or would be used for the violation of such statutes and laws. Where such properties are encumbered by a lien or retained title agreement under circumstances wherein the lienholder had no knowledge that the property was or would be used in violating such statutes and laws, and no reasonable reason to believe that it might be so used, then the court may declare a forfeiture of all the rights, titles, and interest, subject, however, to the lien of such innocent lienholder, or may direct the payment of such a lien from the proceeds of any sale of said property. The proceedings and judgment of forfeiture shall be in rem and shall be primarily against the property itself. Upon the entry of a judgment of forfeiture the court shall determine the disposition to be made of the property, which may include the destruction thereof, the sale thereof, the allocation thereof to some other governmental function or use, or otherwise, as the court may determine. If any of the property declared forfeited is of such a nature as to be readily adaptable for use in the office of sheriff, the sheriff of the county involved shall be allowed to requisition such items of the forfeited property before any other disposition is made under the judgment. The sheriff's requisition shall be filed before judgment, and the property requisitioned therein shall be allocated to the office of the sheriff in said judgment. The balance of the property shall be destroyed or sold or allocated to some other governmental function or use. Sales of such property shall be a public sale to the highest and best bidder for cash after 2 weeks' public notice as the court may direct. Upon the application of any claimant, the court may fix the value of a forfeitable interest in the seized property and permit such claimant to redeem the said property upon the payment of a sum equal to said value which sum shall be disposed of as would the proceeds of the sale of said property under a judgment of forfeiture.

History.—s. 5, ch. 63-267; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

705.14 Disposition of proceeds of forfeiture.

—All sums received from the sale or other disposition of the seized property shall be paid into the state treasury for the benefit of the state school fund and shall become a part thereof.

History.—s. 5, ch. 63-267.

705.15 Fees for services.—Fees for services required hereunder shall be the same as provided for sheriffs and clerks for like and similar services in other cases.

History.—s. 5, ch. 63-267.

705.16 Abandoned property; supplemental procedure for removal and destruction.—

(1) In any county in the state, the rights, powers, and procedures set forth in this section shall be supplemental to and cumulative to the rights, powers, and procedures set forth elsewhere in this chapter and any amendments thereto.

(2) DEFINITIONS.—As used in this section:

(a) "Local government" means the board of county commissioners or the commission or council of any municipality in the county.

(b) "Abandoned property" means wrecked or derelict property having no value other than nominal salvage value, if any, which has been left abandoned and unprotected from the elements and shall include wrecked, inoperative, or partially dismantled motor vehicles, trailers, boats, machinery, refrigerators, washing machines, plumbing fixtures, furniture, and any other similar article which has no value other than nominal salvage value, if any, and which has been left abandoned and unprotected from the elements.

(c) "Public property" means lands and improvements owned by the Federal Government, the State of Florida, the county, or municipalities lying within the county and includes buildings, grounds, parks, playgrounds, streets, sidewalks, parkways, rights-of-way, and other similar property.

(d) "Enforcement officer" means sheriff, director of public safety, police chief, marshal, or any other officer designated by law, charter, ordinance, or resolution of the governing body of the local government to enforce the provisions of this section.

(3)(a) Whenever the enforcement officer of any local government shall ascertain that an article of abandoned property is present on public property within the limits of such governmental unit, or unincorporated area of the county, if a county, he shall cause a notice to be placed upon such article in substantially the following form:

NOTICE TO THE OWNER AND ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN THE ATTACHED PROPERTY. This property, to wit: (setting forth brief description) is unlawfully upon public property known as (setting forth brief description of location) and must be removed within 10 days from date of this notice; otherwise it shall be presumed to be abandoned property and will be removed and destroyed by order of (setting forth name of local government). Dated this: (setting forth the date of posting of notice). Signed: (setting forth name, title, address, and telephone number of enforcement officer).

Such notice shall be not less than 8 inches by 10 inches and shall be sufficiently weatherproof to withstand normal exposure to the elements. In addition to posting, the enforcement officer shall make reasonable effort to ascertain the name and address of the owner, and if such is reasonably available to the enforcement officer he shall mail a copy of such notice to the owner on or before the date of posting.

(b) If at the end of 10 days after posting such notice the owner or any person interested in the abandoned article or articles described in such notice has not removed the article or articles from public property or shown reasonable cause for failure so to do, the enforcement officer may cause the article or articles of abandoned property to be removed and destroyed, and the salvage value, if any, of such article or articles shall be retained by the local government to be applied against the cost of removal and destruction thereof.

(4)(a) Whenever the enforcement officer of any local government shall ascertain that an article or articles of abandoned property are present on private property within the limits of such governmental unit, or unincorporated area of the county if a county, in violation of any zoning ordinance or regulation, antilitter ordinance or regulation, or other similar ordinance or regulation of such local government, the enforcement officer shall cause a notice to be placed upon such article in substantially the following form:

NOTICE TO THE OWNER AND ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN THE ATTACHED PROPERTY. This property, to wit: (setting forth brief description) located at (setting forth brief description of location) is improperly stored and is in violation of (setting forth ordinance or regulation violated) and must be removed within 10 days from date of this notice; otherwise it shall be presumed to be abandoned property and will be removed and destroyed by order of (setting forth name of local government). Dated this: (setting forth date of posting of notice). Signed: (setting forth name, title, address, and telephone number of enforcement officer).

Such notice shall not be less than 8 inches by 10 inches and shall be sufficiently weatherproof to withstand normal exposure to the elements for a period of 10 days. In addition to posting, the enforcement officer shall mail a copy of the notice to the owner of the real property upon which the abandoned articles are located, as shown by the real estate tax records used by the local government on or before the date of posting of such notice.

(b) If at the end of 10 days after posting such notice the owner or any person interested in the abandoned article or articles described in such notice has not removed the article or articles and complied with the ordinance or regulation cited in the notice, the enforcement officer may cause the article or articles of abandoned property to be removed and destroyed, and the salvage value, if any, of such article or articles shall be retained by the local government to be applied against the cost of removal and destruction thereof.

(5) Whoever opposes, obstructs, or resists any enforcement officer or any person authorized by the enforcement officer in the discharge of his duties as provided in this section upon conviction shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

(6) Any enforcement officer or any person authorized by the enforcement officer shall be immune from prosecution, civil or criminal, for reasonable, good faith trespass upon real property while in the discharge of duties imposed by this section.

(7) Any incorporated municipality in any county in the state may by ordinance adopt by reference any or all of the provisions of this section.

History.—ss. 1-7, ch. 69-324; s. 683, ch. 71-136.

705.17 Exceptions.—The provisions of ss. 705.01-705.16 of this chapter shall not be applied to any personal property lost or abandoned on the campus of any institution in the state university system.

History.—s. 1, ch. 71-75.

705.18 Disposal of personal property lost or abandoned on university or community college campuses; disposition of proceeds from sale thereof.—

(1) Whenever any lost or abandoned personal property shall be found on a campus of an institution in the state university system or a campus of a state-supported community college, the president of the institution or his designee shall take charge thereof and make a record of the date such property was found. If, within 30 days after such property is found, it is not claimed by the owner, the president shall order it sold at public outcry after giving notice of the time and place of sale in a publication of general circulation on the campus and written notice to the owner if known. The rightful owner of such property may reclaim same at any time prior to sale.

(2) All moneys realized from such sale shall be placed in an appropriate fund and used solely for student scholarship and loan purposes.

History.—s. 1, ch. 71-75; s. 1, ch. 77-131.

705.19 Abandonment of animals by owner; procedure for handling.—

(1) Any animal placed in the custody of a licensed veterinarian for treatment, boarding, or other care, which shall be abandoned by its owner or his agent for a period of more than 10 days after written notice is given to the owner or his agent, at his last known address, may be turned over to the custody of the nearest humane society or dog pound in the area for disposal as such custodian may deem proper.

(2) The giving of notice to the owner, or the agent of the owner, of such animal by the licensed veterinarian as provided in subsection (1) shall relieve the veterinarian and any custodian to whom such animal may be given of any further liability for disposal. Such procedure by the licensed veterinarian shall not constitute grounds for disciplinary procedure under chapter 474.

(3) For the purpose of this section, the term "abandonment" means to forsake entirely or to neglect or refuse to provide or perform the legal obligations for care and support of an animal by its owner or his agent. Such abandonment shall constitute the relinquishment of all rights and claim by the owner to such animal.

History.—ss. 1, 2, ch. 79-228.

CHAPTER 706

WRECKED COTTON; LUMBER ADRIFT; BOATS AND VESSELS ADRIFT

- 706.01 Finder of wrecked cotton to advertise.
- 706.02 Owner to pay expenses and salvage.
- 706.03 Sale.
- 706.04 Persons to adopt brand for lumber.
- 706.05 Damages for fraudulently using stamp.
- 706.06 Booms may be constructed.
- 706.07 Public custodian for certain ports.
- 706.08 To what ports ss. 706.04-706.15 apply.
- 706.09 Custodian; duties as to vessels.
- 706.10 Custodian; duties as to lost timber.
- 706.11 Notice of finding lost timber.
- 706.12 Stamp to be evidence.
- 706.13 Fees.
- 706.14 Sale of lost timber.
- 706.15 Picking up lumber adrift.
- 706.16 Ports having no public custodian; lumber, etc., not to be stayed before reaching the sea.
- 706.17 Lumber taken up in sea, etc., to be advertised.
- 706.18 Sale and disposition of proceeds.
- 706.19 Selling rafted lumber adrift.
- 706.20 Proceedings like those for estrays.

706.01 Finder of wrecked cotton to advertise.
—Persons taking up cotton afloat in the rivers of this state shall place it in a secure place out of the weather and give early notice, by advertisement at the port to which said cotton was destined, of the finding of the same, giving the marks or brands on said cotton, together with the place of finding and the name of the finder.

History.—s. 1, March 4, 1841; RS 2016; GS 2538; RGS 3893; CGL 5800.

706.02 Owner to pay expenses and salvage.
The person finding said cotton shall deliver it to the owner, on his paying the expense of advertisement and the sum of $5 for each bale so saved.

History.—s. 2, March 4, 1841; RS 2017; GS 2539; RGS 3894; CGL 5801.

706.03 Sale.—If no owner shall appear within 3 months after the time of such advertisement, the person finding shall expose the same at public auction to the highest bidder, and shall hold the proceeds, after the payment of proper costs and charges and the salvage aforesaid, for the benefit of the owner.

History.—s. 3, March 4, 1841; RS 2018; GS 2540; RGS 3895; CGL 5802.

706.04 Persons to adopt brand for lumber.
Any person floating lumber, logs, or timber down the current of rivers, streams, or watercourses in the state may adopt, to his exclusive use, a particular mark, brand, or stamp to be used and applied on all such lumber, logs, or timber, to distinguish and designate his ownership thereof; but such person adopting any such mark, brand, or stamp shall have it recorded in the office of the clerk of the circuit court, describing it particularly and its usual mode of application. The clerk shall receive a service charge as provided in s. 28.24.

History.—s. 2, ch. 507, 1853; RS 2019; s. 1, ch. 4174, 1893; GS 2541; RGS 3896; CGL 5803; s. 34, ch. 70-134.

706.05 Damages for fraudulently using stamp.—Any person who shall after such record knowingly use said mark, brand, or stamp shall be liable in double damages to the party aggrieved.

History.—RS 2020; s. 2, ch. 4174, 1893; GS 2542; RGS 3897; CGL 5804.

706.06 Booms may be constructed.—Owners of timber or lumber floating down rivers or watercourses may make use of floating booms on such streams for the purpose of securing such timber or lumber from loss, but such booms shall not be used in such manner as to cause any unnecessary delay to boats and vessels engaged in the navigation of such streams, nor shall they remain stretched out upon or across such streams any longer than is absolutely necessary to secure the timber or lumber from loss.

History.—s. 3, ch. 507, 1853; RS 2021; GS 2543; RGS 3898; CGL 5805.

706.07 Public custodian for certain ports.—The governor shall appoint, subject to confirmation by the Senate, for each port in the state into which have or shall come during any calendar year not fewer than 50 vessels of 500 tons burden each, a public custodian of lost timber and lumber, who shall give a bond in the sum of $1,000 to the governor for the faithful discharge of his duties, and shall hold his office for 4 years, unless sooner removed by the governor for good cause.

History.—s. 1, ch. 5171, 1903; GS 2544; RGS 3899; CGL 5806; s. 11, ch. 77-85.

706.08 To what ports ss. 706.04-706.15 apply.
—Sections 706.04-706.15 shall apply to all ports, and none other, into which have come during the past 5 years vessels of 500 tons burden and upwards, at the average of not less than 250 vessels per year, according to the records of the United States Customhouse at or nearest the port for which such appointment shall be made.

History.—s. 2, ch. 4803, 1899; GS 2552; RGS 3905; CGL 5812.

706.09 Custodian; duties as to vessels.—The said public custodian shall keep in his office a register book, wherein he shall immediately upon the arrival of any vessel record the name, date of arrival, master, nationality, and the tonnage thereof, and the cargo stamp to be furnished as hereinafter provided. The said public custodian of timber and lumber shall furnish to the master of each vessel loading cargo from the water a suitable stamp, with which the master of the said vessel shall cause to be stamped all timber and lumber immediately upon its receipt alongside to be loaded as above set forth.

History.—s. 2, ch. 3899, 1889; RS 2023; GS 2545; RGS 3900; CGL 5807.

706.10 Custodian; duties as to lost timber.—The said public custodian, either by himself or his agent, shall keep at all times a careful watch over the waters of his port, and shall recover and place in a boom to be kept by him for the purpose, convenient to the shipping, all timber and lumber that shall be found adrift in said waters, and safely keep the same until disposed of in the manner hereinafter provided; but nothing in this section contained shall authorize the public custodian, or his agent, or any other person, to take possession of any lumber or timber afloat upon the waters of such port, or its tributaries, when the owner thereof, on his bailee or agent, shall be in possession, view or immediate pursuit thereof.

History.—s. 3, ch. 3899, 1889; RS 2024; s. 2, ch. 5171, 1903; GS 2546; RGS 3901; CGL 5808.

706.11 Notice of finding lost timber.—The said public custodian of timber and lumber immediately upon the recovery of any timber or lumber shall give public notice for 5 days in some newspaper published at said port giving the description, quantity, and stamp of such timber or lumber, and stating that unless said timber or lumber be called for and identified by the owner within 5 days, the same will be sold as provided in s. 706.14, and that if the proceeds of such sale be not called for by the person lawfully entitled to the same within 90 days after such sale, the same will be forfeited and paid into the county treasury for the use of district schools; and the owners of any such timber or lumber shall be entitled to have the same delivered when at said boom upon paying to the said custodian the fees hereinafter provided.

History.—s. 4, ch. 3899, 1889; RS 2025; s. 3, ch. 5171, 1903; GS 2547; RGS 3902; CGL 5809; s. 1, ch. 69-300.

706.12 Stamp to be evidence.—The stamp furnished and used under the provisions of s. 706.09 when appearing upon timber or lumber adrift shall be, in the courts of the state, prima facie evidence of ownership.

History.—s. 5, ch. 3899, 1889; RS 2026; GS 2548; RGS 3903; CGL 5810.

706.13 Fees.—The said public custodian of lost timber and lumber shall be entitled to demand and receive from the master of each vessel using the stamp provided for in this chapter the sum of $2 for the use of the same while engaged in loading, and for each stick of sawn timber recovered and delivered the sum of 75 cents and for each stick of hewn timber recovered and delivered the sum of $1.50, and for lumber recovered and delivered the sum of $3 per thousand superficial feet measurement, $2.50 for each chain and 5 cents for each iron dog recovered and delivered, and $5 for each ship's boat or yawl recovered and delivered, and the said custodian shall have a first lien upon timber, lumber, chains, iron dogs, and boats or yawls so recovered by him for all his fees and dues for same until the same be fully paid, and he shall not be required to deliver any timber, lumber, chains, iron dogs, boats or yawls until such payment is made.

History.—s. 6, ch. 4044, 1891; s. 1, ch. 4803, 1899; GS 2549; RGS 3904; CGL 5811; am. s. 7, ch. 22858, 1945.

706.14 Sale of lost timber.—After any lost timber or lumber has been advertised as above required for the period of 5 days, and no owner or claimant has appeared, the custodian shall sell the same at public sale, after public notice as aforesaid, advertised for 5 days, for the benefit of whom it may concern, for which service he shall receive from the proceeds of such sale 5 percent on the gross amount of such sale; the net proceeds of such sales to be held and paid by him to such person as shall be lawfully entitled to the same.

History.—s. 7, ch. 3899, 1889; s. 3, ch. 4044, 1891; RS 2028; GS 2551; RGS 3906; CGL 5813.

706.15 Picking up lumber adrift.—No person other than the custodian of lost timber, or his agents, in ports where such custodian has been appointed, shall pick up, recover, or in any manner interfere with any timber or lumber found adrift in the waters of such port, which has been stamped as required by law or which has not been stamped. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable as provided in s. 775.082 or s. 775.083.

History.—s. 8, ch. 3899, 1889; RS 2503; s. 4, ch. 5171, 1903; GS 3386; RGS 5234; CGL 7353; s. 684, ch. 71-136.

706.16 Ports having no public custodian; lumber, etc., not to be stayed before reaching the sea.—In ports having no public custodian, no person other than the owner or his agents shall arrest, stay or take possession of any sawed lumber in rafts, hewed timber, round sawmill logs or spars adrift before the same shall have reached the mouths or outlets of the rivers and streams and have passed out into the open sea or bays where the said rivers or streams empty their waters.

History.—s. 1, ch. 507, 1853; RS 2030; GS 2552; RGS 3907; CGL 5814.

706.17 Lumber taken up in sea, etc., to be advertised.—Whenever any person shall find any rafts of the timber or lumber mentioned in s. 706.16 in the said open sea or bays, he shall secure it in the place where found, or in the nearest place of safety, and shall proceed to advertise it at the door of the courthouse of the county wherein it was found, stating the kind and probable quantity of lumber, the place where found and where deposited.

History.—s. 1, Feb. 10, 1834; RS 2031; GS 2553; RGS 3908; CGL 5815.

706.18 Sale and disposition of proceeds.—If after the expiration of 60 days from the date of the advertisement no person shall claim and establish his right of property to said timber or lumber to the satisfaction of the county court judge (to prove which right the person claiming to be the owner of said timber or lumber shall not be required to produce testimony upon oath to the identity thereof, but such circumstantial proof as the nature of the case admits) then the finder may take it to the nearest market and deliver it to the county court judge, who shall forthwith sell the same to the best advantage, pay to the finder all necessary and reasonable expenses, reserve to himself 5 percent as compensation for his services, and place the balance in the hands of the clerk of the circuit court, whose receipt he shall take. But if before the expiration of the 60 days the owner shall appear and establish his right to said lumber such owner shall pay all expenses and reasonable charges for securing the same, to be determined, in case of difference between the parties, by an arbitrator appointed by each; but if after the expiration of another term of 60 days no right shall have yet been established to said lumber, then the balance of said money remaining in the hands of the clerk shall be paid over, one-half to the finder and the other half to the county treasury, to be applied in common with other funds to county purposes.

History.—s. 2, Feb. 10, 1834; RS 2032; GS 2554; RGS 3909; CGL 5816; s. 26, ch. 73-334.

706.19 Selling rafted lumber adrift.—Whoever finding any timber or lumber adrift, outside of ports for which a public custodian for lost timber and lumber is appointed, sells it without complying with the law relative to lumber adrift, or disposes of it, in the place or places where found, as his timber or lumber, or appropriates it to his own use, shall be guilty of larceny.

History.—s. 3, Feb. 10, 1834; RS 2446; GS 3294; RGS 5128; CGL 7229; s. 685, ch. 71-136.

706.20 Proceedings like those for estrays.—If any person shall take up any boat or other vessel adrift, he shall as in the case of estrays, make application to the county court judge of the county where such boat or vessel was taken up for his warrant to have the same valued and described by her kind, burden, and build, and shall proceed in all other respects and shall have the same benefits as directed in the case of estrays.

History.—s. 8, Nov. 21, 1828; RS 2033; GS 2555; RGS 3910; CGL 5817; s. 26, ch. 73-334.
